The Circus Comes Tomorrow

Van Amburg's big circus is billed for two performances here tomorrow. The show has been well advertised and comes at a time when people can spare the time to turn out, so we are expecting a big crowd. Of course, nearly all the men will have some other excuse. Nearly every son of a gun of 'em will say: "I didn't come to the show myself, I just wanted to see what cotton was worth or what gumbo would be worth year after next—then Salie and the children wanted to come and I just come along to be with them." Just wait though till the parade comes along and you will see 'em go wild. They will patronize every fake they have got, from red lemboase to the guessing machine.

No, none of the men will come to the show, they will all be caught here by accident. If it wasn't for the women and children the shows would have to go out of business as the men would be left without any excuse to come.

Hog Killing Time

The present cool spell has marked the finish of a many a porker in Bulloch county. The weather for the past day or two has been ideal for the slaying of meat hogs. Bulloch has been paying more attention to this industry for the past two or three years than she has ever done before. It is a fact that we produce more meat than we use—that is we sell more than we buy. We are absolutely independent to the western smoke house and corn crib. There will be thousands of pounds of bacon saved in this country this week.

King of All Cough Medicines.

Mr. E. G. Case, a mail carrier of Canton Center, Conn., who has been in the U S service for about sixteen years, says: "We have tried many cough medicines for cough, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is king of all and one to be relied upon every time. We also find it to be the best remedy for colds and coughs, giving certain results and leaving no bad after effects." For sale by all druggists.

Ticket Went Through.

The ticket named at the primary on Tuesday went through on Saturday at the regular election like greased lightning. There was not a scratched ballot and one ran as high as the other, though there were only twenty-eight votes polled. The reason for this was the total absence of all oppositions, and the fact that the primary was regarded as the election.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is no other medicine manufactured that has received so much praise and so many expressions of gratitude as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effective, and prompt relief follows its use. Grateful parents everywhere do not hesitate to testify to its merits for the benefit of others. It is a certain cure for croup and will prevent the attack if given at the first appearance of the disease. It is especially adapted to children as it is pleasant to take and contains nothing injurious. Mr. E. A. Humphreys, a well known resident and clerk in the store of Mr. E. Lock, of Alice, Cape Colony, South Africa, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to ward off croup and colds in my family. I found it to be very satisfactory and it gives me pleasure to recommend it." For sale by all druggists.

WANTED

Twenty-five laborers to get out stave and heading belts. Good price. Pay every two weeks.

The Cooperage Co.,
Statesboro, Ga.
J. M. Kellogg, Dist. Mgr.

Williams-Williams

On tomorrow morning at Matter the marriage of Mr. U. S. Williams to Miss Marie Williams will be solemnized. The young couple will leave on the morning train for Collins, the home of the groom, who is a prosperous business man of that thriving little city.

Rawlings Are Sentenced to Die

Valdosta, Ga., Dec. 1.—J. C. Rawlings and his two sons, Milton and Jesse, were again sentenced to hang this afternoon the date of the execution being fixed at January sixth. Rawlings protested the innocence of his sons, and they declared their own innocence. Alf Moore, the negro, was also sentenced to die at the same time. In his statement he declared that he had told the truth, that the boys were guilty, and that he was with them when the killing occurred, but that he killed nobody.

A Good Show.

The largest and smallest elephant. When a show of real merit comes to town it is always liberally patronized and the Great Van Amburg show which exhibits in Statesboro tomorrow is a show of this character. The very best performers which money can secure are with this show, nothing cheap and everything up-to-date. The Acrobats and trapeze performers, clowns and tumblers are all artists in their particular lines. Elephants, camels and a large number of trained horses, ponies and animals from all parts of the world are seen in the grand free street parade tomorrow afternoon. Two performances in the big tents—two o'clock in the afternoon and eight o'clock in the evening. Don't miss the big show.

Put On Regular Delivery.

The Southern Express Co. recognizing the growing business at this point has put on a special express wagon which delivers the packages in different sections of the city, and makes two regular trips for the purpose of picking up packages for the outgoing express. This is a great convenience and one that the people of Statesboro cannot but appreciate.

Don't Be Deceived

Do not be deceived by counterfeiters when you buy Witch Hazel Salve. The name E. C. DeWitt & Co. is on every box of the genuine. Piles in their worst form will soon pass away if you will apply DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve at night and morning. Best for cuts, burns, boils, tetter, eczema, etc. Miss H. M. Middleton, Thebes, Ill., says: "I was seriously afflicted with a fever sore that was very painful. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me in a few days." Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Thanksgiving Party

There was a happy Thanksgiving party that assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Richardson of Brooklet. While the cook was in the kitchen busily preparing dinner the merry party was out there syrup making was going on. Everyone had something to say and was very interested in the conversation. Many jokes were told. Soon they all entered the dining room where a delicious dinner had been prepared for them of which they heartily partook.

Cure for Sore Nipples.

As soon as the child is done nursing apply Chamberlain's salve. Wipe it off with a soft cloth before allowing the child to nurse. Many mothers nurse with this with the best results. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggists.

History of Thanksgiving Day.

Yesterday was Thanksgiving, wonder if your readers have ever stopped to think seriously of this day which in the evolution of time has grown to be a national holiday.

The day passed as usual here at Mill Ray, essentially a family. There is little formal entertaining done on the national or any other holiday. Old fashioned hospitality still prevails, and invitations to dine en famille are extended to bachelors and maids but society hostesses for the most part hold up their hands in dismay at the idea of a real dinner party or party of any sort on Thanksgiving day, one or two informal affairs marked yesterday's social and religious record. Except for these the day here was uneventful. A delightful program had been arranged at Macedonia Baptist church and at its conclusion there was a prayer meeting.

Thanksgiving as a custom is old, older than you would surmise at first thought. It dates back to the Hebrew feast of the tabernacle. In the history of England we see that September 8th 1658 was set apart as a day of national thanksgiving for the destruction of the Spanish Armada which was accomplished not so much by the weak English vessels as by the winds which the "Lord of glory blew."

The first Thanksgiving in America was Nov. 19, 1621, when Governor Bradford of the Plymouth Colony by a proclamation set aside that day as a day for giving thanks to the Lord for the good crops and for the variety of game with which the colony had been blessed.

The first Thanksgiving day we ever had in this country was during the Revolutionary war and was done in pursuance of a proclamation by congress.

Our present national Thanksgiving was instituted by Lincoln during the third year of the Confederate war, and has been kept up regularly by all the succeeding presidents.

Thanksgiving as a day off is nothing. It seems that most people look upon it only as a day of feasting with but little thanksgiving. But if we could only enter into the object of it what a great day for the country at large it is! When we consider that the first national Thanksgiving in this great country during the Revolutionary war, when at Valley Forge the patriots were making red the snow with their blood, when we consider that under such trying circumstances as these our nation was being born, we ought to catch the spirit of the thanks we ought to render.

Guano Factory Selects New Site.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Statesboro Guano Co. was held on yesterday and the matter of selecting a new site was settled. Owing to the fact that some of the neighbors in the vicinity of the old site were kicking at the erection of a fertilizer plant near them, it was decided to move it, and a site just north of the turntable on the tracks of the Central of Ga. Ry. was selected. Permission has been obtained from all property owners in the neighborhood, and it only remains for council to grant the permit which will be done without delay, then the work of constructing the factory will begin.

The many friends of Mr. Remer H. Warnock, of Brooklet, were glad to see him in town again after an illness of several weeks.

FLY

The farmers are all about done harvesting the entire crop. Hog killing is the next object in view.

Mr. Morgan Atkins has been very busy for the last few days looking over a fine track of land which he is very likely to purchase immediately. Mr. Atkins is a wealthy farmer of this section.

Mr. Horace Whitaker of this neighborhood said he expected to leave here the 20th of Dec. to take his first appointment as a minister in the Salvation Army. Mr. Whitaker has been a member of this organization for several years. He says he expects to spend the remainder of his days in the social work of the Salvation Army, for he believes the Lord who died to save him requires of him this same devotion of his life. He says he has the full assurance that the Lord has called him for this wonderful work. We regret to see him leave us, but wish him much success. We are thankful that this neighborhood affords some good people.

Cotton Jumps Four Dollars a Bale.

The United States government report was made public on yesterday, and the estimate of a crop of ten million and one hundred and sixty thousand bales. The market jumped three quarters of a cent on the pound in a few minutes sending January futures to 12.87.

The men who laughed at Harvie Jordan and the balance of the members of the Southern Cotton Association when they advised the farmers last September to hold for not less than 11 cents now have the laugh on the other side of their face. Harvie Jordan is advising the holding for 16 cents on short cotton and 22 cents on long cotton, and if the farmers have back bone enough to hold for that figure they will get it. The work of the Southern Cotton Association has saved the farmers of the south millions of dollars, and it will save them more if they will follow their advice.

PULASKI

All our stores were closed Thanksgiving and our merchants enjoyed a bird hunt.

Mr. J. K. Green and family, of Excelior, have become citizens of our bustling little town. We extend them a cordial welcome.

Misses Manie and Dora Williams, of Metter, and Miss Alma Kennedy, of Adabelle, visited relatives here Sunday.

Mrs. H. B. Williams and daughter, Miss Ruby, spent Thanksgiving in Statesboro the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Lester.

Mr. J. R. Morris and family will soon move to Vidalia. We regret to lose this estimable family from our midst but wish them success in their new home.

Our genial agent, Mr. J. C. Bland, visited Stillmore this week. Christmas will soon be here and the old year will soon be gone. Many of us will be making resolutions for a new one.

THE DISCOVERER

Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, inflammation, indigestion, falling and displacement of the womb, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the change of life.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Lumbago than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development.

Regular, Suppressed or Painful Menstruation, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Flatulence, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, quickly yield to it. Womb troubles, causing pain, weight and backache, usually relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it invigorates the female system, and is as harmless as water.

It quickly removes that bearing-down feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulence, melancholy or the blues, and restores the indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the uterus, which this medicine always cures. Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex, the Vegetable Compound always cures.

These women are cured of anything else are rewarded with a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—eure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

Company to Dinner

By Kate Thorn.

USUALLY have a faculty of bringing some friends to dinner, without giving notice to their wives, and if any remonstrance is offered on the part of the priestesses of the kitchen, these husbands assume a highly dignified and very much injured, and propose the countermand.

"Haven't I right to invite an old friend to my own house, I wonder?"

If you are a woman, and have "kept house," of course you are well aware that when your husband brings home an old friend at dinner time, he invariably selects a day when there is nothing new for dinner, and when that meal is to be made up from the odds and ends of yesterday. There will be cold greens, and a bread pudding, and potatoes warmed over, and a pie so small that it was a mathematical problem in your mind all the forenoon how it could be cut into eight pieces, and still leave enough to each place so that it might conscientiously be called a piece.

The "old friend" will enter, bland and smiling, and beg you not to make any change on his account. He sure and not put yourself out in the least. He isn't particular, not he! He came to see your husband, and talk over old times, not to get his dinner. Certainly not.

And you, in your soiled calico wrapper, which you neglected to change after breakfast, stand there and listen to him, and your face is crimson hot as you feel sure that you never looked worse, and you wished the "old friend" at the antipodes.

For you are painfully conscious that those cold greens are a little tough, and there isn't enough bread on the plate to look decent.

And these "old friends" are generally men with prodigious appetites. No dyspepsia for them.

You wonder if he will see that spot of gravy on the tablecloth, got on yesterday by the youngest boy, and you are in agony lest some of your hungry flock of youngsters may clamor for two pieces of the pie each, as they frequently do. You beg your guest to "make a dinner," and apologize by telling him that it is your training day, and you did not expect company to dinner.

And he will doubtless assure you that your dinner is excellent, and tell you that he doesn't know when he has eaten such a meal.

And after he gets home he is in a position to tell his wife that he had a dinner, and he guesses Brown's wife must be a "poor soul," for such a dinner, for company, he never saw! Cold greens and bread pudding!—and there was a spot of gravy on the tablecloth as big as his hand.

If your family be a large one, your means abundant, and you have plenty of help, of course company at dinner is no trouble; but if we were a man, and our wife kept no servant, and our larder was not always filled with luxuries, we should think twice before we took home old friends to feed, without giving our wife due notice.—New York Weekly.

Advice on How to Sleep

By Dr. J. Madison Taylor.

URING childhood and exhaustive states too much sleep is rarely possible. For those in full tide of vigor too much sleep is often distinctly hurtful.

The action of narcotics presents none of the characteristics of normal sleep except the temporary arrest of consciousness. Hence narcotics is not true sleep.

The best position to assume in sleep to invite the least disturbance of the functions of the great organs is the abdomen or nearly so.

Many obscure forms of digestive or circulatory disorders may have been initiated in infancy through lying too long upon the back.

To secure the most perfect repose the temperature of all parts should be equalized before retiring. Cold feet induce sleep in securing sleep, and it is then shallow when awake.

It is most unwise to hug the stomach before retiring; this disturbs sleep almost as much as hunger, but moderate eating before sleeping is not hurtful, and is often salutary.

Body clothing at night should be loose, not dense, permitting the ready passage of air, never of wool next to the skin. Blankets being preferable to dense "comfortables" and not "tucked in" too closely. Air should be allowed to pass occasionally under the sides, at least as one turns about or less freely.

Early rising is a salutary custom, especially when the day comes early, not otherwise.

More sleep is required in winter than in summer. The best sleep is had during the hours of darkness.

The sleeping room should be cool, abundant air being always admitted. This should not be interpreted to mean that the room may safely remain intensely cold.

In the modern treatment of tuberculosis fresh air is recognized to be imperatively needed all day and all night. Artificial heat can, and should, be near 50 or 55 degrees Fahrenheit, for some even 60 degrees Fahrenheit.—Popular Science Monthly.

Life Insurance

Assets Doubled Since
1896.

By Vice-President Kingsley, of the New York Life.

THE fashion in these days to decry the great extent of American life insurance, to point to its size and success as in some way a menace and a danger. As a matter of fact, life insurance has barely kept pace with other branches of modern business; it is not singular in its enormous development. Let me give you some instructive comparisons:

The assets of the life companies reporting to New York state doubled between the close of 1896 and the close of 1904. They sprang from $1,225,000,000 to $2,450,000,000. At the close of the Spanish war the total national bank circulation was $240,000,000. In seven years this has expanded 110 percent. In the same time the resources of national banks have increased from $1,000,000,000 to $2,300,000,000. The resources of other banks increased from $1,500,000,000 to $3,000,000,000, while the cash holdings of all banks increased during that time $570,000,000.

There will be cold greens, and a bread pudding, and potatoes warmed over, and a pie so small that it was a mathematical problem in your mind all the forenoon how it could be cut into eight pieces, and still leave enough to each place so that it might conscientiously be called a piece.

The "old friend" will enter, bland and smiling, and beg you not to make any change on his account. He sure and not put yourself out in the least. He isn't particular, not he! He came to see your husband, and talk over old times, not to get his dinner. Certainly not.

And you, in your soiled calico wrapper, which you neglected to change after breakfast, stand there and listen to him, and your face is crimson hot as you feel sure that you never looked worse, and you wished the "old friend" at the antipodes.

For you are painfully conscious that those cold greens are a little tough, and there isn't enough bread on the plate to look decent.

And these "old friends" are generally men with prodigious appetites. No dyspepsia for them.

You wonder if he will see that spot of gravy on the tablecloth, got on yesterday by the youngest boy, and you are in agony lest some of your hungry flock of youngsters may clamor for two pieces of the pie each, as they frequently do. You beg your guest to "make a dinner," and apologize by telling him that it is your training day, and you did not expect company to dinner.

And he will doubtless assure you that your dinner is excellent, and tell you that he doesn't know when he has eaten such a meal.

And after he gets home he is in a position to tell his wife that he had a dinner, and he guesses Brown's wife must be a "poor soul," for such a dinner, for company, he never saw! Cold greens and bread pudding!—and there was a spot of gravy on the tablecloth as big as his hand.

If your family be a large one, your means abundant, and you have plenty of help, of course company at dinner is no trouble; but if we were a man, and our wife kept no servant, and our larder was not always filled with luxuries, we should think twice before we took home old friends to feed, without giving our wife due notice.—New York Weekly.

Advice on How to Sleep

By Dr. J. Madison Taylor.

URING childhood and exhaustive states too much sleep is rarely possible. For those in full tide of vigor too much sleep is often distinctly hurtful.

The action of narcotics presents none of the characteristics of normal sleep except the temporary arrest of consciousness. Hence narcotics is not true sleep.

The best position to assume in sleep to invite the least disturbance of the functions of the great organs is the abdomen or nearly so.

Many obscure forms of digestive or circulatory disorders may have been initiated in infancy through lying too long upon the back.

To secure the most perfect repose the temperature of all parts should be equalized before retiring. Cold feet induce sleep in securing sleep, and it is then shallow when awake.

It is most unwise to hug the stomach before retiring; this disturbs sleep almost as much as hunger, but moderate eating before sleeping is not hurtful, and is often salutary.

Body clothing at night should be loose, not dense, permitting the ready passage of air, never of wool next to the skin. Blankets being preferable to dense "comfortables" and not "tucked in" too closely. Air should be allowed to pass occasionally under the sides, at least as one turns about or less freely.

Early rising is a salutary custom, especially when the day comes early, not otherwise.

More sleep is required in winter than in summer. The best sleep is had during the hours of darkness.

The sleeping room should be cool, abundant air being always admitted. This should not be interpreted to mean that the room may safely remain intensely cold.

In the modern treatment of tuberculosis fresh air is recognized to be imperatively needed all day and all night. Artificial heat can, and should, be near 50 or 55 degrees Fahrenheit, for some even 60 degrees Fahrenheit.—Popular Science Monthly.

Life Insurance

Assets Doubled Since
1896.

By Vice-President Kingsley, of the New York Life.

THE fashion in these days to decry the great extent of American life insurance, to point to its size and success as in some way a menace and a danger. As a matter of fact, life insurance has barely kept pace with other branches of modern business; it is not singular in its enormous development. Let me give you some instructive comparisons:

FEEDING OF CANAL MEN.

J. E. MARKEL TELLS ABOUT HIS BIG PANAMA CONTRACT.

As Expected to Provide Food for 23,000 Men at a Time—Board Will Cost from 45 Cents to $1 a Day—All Supplies to Be Shipped from New York, Direct.

J. E. Markel, who has just obtained the contract to feed the workmen on the Panama Canal, began the business of feeding people nearly fifty years ago when, as a boy, he took a contract to feed workmen on a big flatboat between St. Louis and New Orleans, on the Mississippi, writes the Omaha (Nebr.) correspondent of the New York Sun. He was raised on a farm near Mark Twain's place in eastern Missouri, and after his experience on the flatboat he settled down in St. Louis to become a baker.

Next he drifted to the West, and in 1872 began operating eating houses along the Union Pacific, with which he was continued for thirty years. In addition to his Panama interests, Mr. Markel at present operates the boarding and eating houses along the Union Pacific, the Illinois Central, the Denver and Rio Grande, the Rock Island, the Kansas City Southern, the Denver and North Western, and the Missouri Pacific, and manages a number of big hotels in Western cities.

His great experience in feeding crowds placed him in a position to bid intelligently for the Panama contract. Regarding the contract and his plans, Mr. Markel says:

"The contract is for a $20,000,000 one to feed any 23,000 men, as the newspapers have reported. I don't believe there will ever be more than 20,000 men employed at any one time. The contract runs for five years.

"I was first invited last March to go to the isthmus by Mr. Wallace, and I was studying the conditions when I left. I kept watch of the matter and continued my investigations until I found out just what was wanted.

"I spent a whole month down there, and when I finished I knew what was necessary and knew just what I got the contract.

"What the commission wanted and what I am going to furnish is a system of substantial meals at reasonable prices, so that the employees on the canal can afford to buy them and will be in a position to return to their homes with a good deal of their wages.

For instance, the Jamaica negroes, now about 4,000 employed on the canal are scattered along in camps from the isthmus to the Pacific. There are thirty shipkeepers along the forty-seven miles of canal. These camps have from 200 to 300 negroes.

The houses are built especially for the purpose and are thoroughly sanitary. There are strict rules for keeping them clean. The negroes have to keep their quarters clean and tidy, and have everything clean and tidy. The houses are thoroughly scrubbed once a week and fumigated every two weeks. They have comfortable canopies over the entrance, and the houses are kept cool by the use of fans.

DEAD SILENCE OF VOYAGE OF UPPER AIR.

Witnesses Feature of Voyage in Racing Balloon, Three Miles Above Earth.

The recent balloon voyage of two Englishmen in the "Vivienne III," when they won a race in the air from Liège, Belgium, was one of the most interesting of the season, and the altitude maintained being three miles.

"It was dry when we started," said one of the aeronauts, Stanley Spencer, "but when we reached a height of 3,000 feet rain began to fall heavily, sounding like the rattle of bullets on the case of the balloon. At 5,000 feet, however, we got above the clouds and out of the rain. Here the velocity of the wind was much greater, and we found that the higher we ascended the greater was the force, until, at a height of 7,000 feet, we were blown nearly fifty miles an hour.

The effect of the clouds below us as we ascended in the brilliant sunshine was marvelous. They stretched away as far as the eye could see, a striking panorama of snow-white billows. Far above us, again, was another stratum of clouds of soft, fleecy appearance.

The oldest part of the ascent was when they were passing through the masses of clouds, but as they got higher into the direct rays of the bright sunshine the clouds were blown to shreds and they were again able to throw off their fur coats.

As the balloon passed from one fiercely blowing current of wind into the opposite, the shock was such that the balloon swung violently, and it seemed as though the car must be overturned.

"As we were rushing along, the silence was intense," continued Mr. Spencer, "but as we passed over the Ironworks districts of Belgium and Germany we could distinctly hear the clatter of the blast furnaces, the hum of the steam engines, and the changing of the steam hammer, although we were three miles above them.

"For the first time in the history of ballooning we were able to enjoy hot food and drinks on this trip. We took up with us in prepared coffee, soups and meats, and we were able to eat and drink as we went along, the food being simply admitting the air through the holes made in an outer case."

Illiteracy

The latest federal statistics on the subject of illiteracy in this country present some unpleasant features. The most illiterate state in the Union is Washington, with Connecticut ranking next. North Carolina is in the lowest position.

For each 1,000 of population Tennessee has 116.4 illiterates over ten years of age; Florida 69.4; Georgia 104.8; Arkansas 110.8; Alabama 158.4; Louisiana 160.7.

But, as a matter of fact, the situation is not altogether as bad as it looks, for whereas the proportion in 1890 was 138.4, at the present time it has been reduced to 106.6. Much of the illiteracy is to be charged to the foreign-born population.

The native white proportion of illiteracy is 46.4 for every 1,000, while that of the foreign-born white proportion is 126.6, and the negro proportion 444.7. The figures for the North Atlantic states show that in cities of 25,000 or over in population there are 2.1 white children to every 1,000 who are illiterate. In the South Atlantic states 8.8; in the North Central, 1.9, and in the South Central 18.7.

In commenting upon these figures the Knoxville Sentinel says: "These conditions are due largely to the fact that the South has the greater percentage of the negro population to educate, and the relative wealth is smaller in the South than in the North. In spite of these facts, the sentiment for more and better schools is in the ascendancy throughout the South, and Tennessee is in the lead in that respect. The census five years hence will unquestionably show a very favorable change insofar as the South is concerned, judging from the educational campaigns that are now in progress."

That is all very well for Tennessee, but there is something due from North Carolina which is at the bottom of the list, and this is what the Charlotte Observer says: "Yes, the statistical report of illiteracy in the United States did show that North Carolina almost tailed the list. But don't stop there. If a report might be made of the educational growth the different states in the Union in the past five years there would not be another state in the entire Union that could show such a record as old North Carolina."

"During that time the advancement made in our state along educational lines is unprecedented. And we are still holding the blue ribbon for progress today."

"It will only be a matter of time when we can look any state in the Union in the face and exultantly compare records. This is not an iridescent prophecy, nor a self-satisfied fancy but it is corroborated by facts and figures."

Let us hope that the Observer's hope and prophecy may be realized during the next five years.

Torture of a Preacher.

The story of the torture of Rev. O. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church, of Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: "I suffered agonies, because of a persistent cough, resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up in bed. I tried many remedies, without relief, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds, which entirely cured my cough, and saved me from consumption."

The Savannah Press jumps on the Progress lightly for the part we are taking in the Congressional fight, saying in its article that we are trying to array the county against the city. In this statement Bro. Stovall is entirely wrong. We are certainly not trying to do this thing for it has already been done and the press had a hand in doing the work. It has not been many years since we read in the columns of our esteemed contemporary a short note saying that the Congressmen must or should come from Savannah, and we people of the country certainly believe that we at least deserve to be consulted.

The following from the Savannah Press of Oct. 9th, 1905, shows to some extent who started the city and county agitation: "It seems to be certain that Chatham county is not going to let of the country counties capture the congressional plum without a contest. The importance of Savannah makes it imperative that the congressman should come from this city to do the greatest good to the district." Now, Bro. Stovall, what do you call this? Is such a statement to be charged to the foreign-born population.

The native white proportion of illiteracy is 46.4 for every 1,000, while that of the foreign-born white proportion is 126.6, and the negro proportion 444.7. # THE NEWS.

A California bull-fight with beasts and matadors in football armor suggests a happy thought. Why not Tauromachy on the rush line to live on the American college game, suggests the New York World.

Bees are excellent weather prophets, asserts the New York Tribune. There is a common saying that "a bee was never caught in a shower." When rain is impending bees do not go far afield, but ply their labor in the immediate neighborhood of their hives.

In the eight months ending with August, 21,254 persons left Queens-town for America, compared with 21,441 in the same period last year, 65 percent of the total being Irish emigrants, states the London Mail. Most of them were young people, and scarcely a middle-aged man or woman is to be found among them.

"King Cholera," a medical authority has written, "is, in truth, a lazy and voluptuous potentate; unless he is carried by quick steamers, he will not travel far without a rest, and when he reaches his destination, he declines either to advance or show his power unless he is nourished and pampered." The discovery that cholera is really one of the easiest of infectious diseases to control, has changed completely the public attitude towards it. There is cholera at present in Germany, but her busy trade and exchange of passengers with this country continue undisturbed. Our public health authorities exhibit not the slightest alarm, and it is taken everywhere for granted that the disease will not reach our shores.

When the states of Oklahoma and Arizona were in 1906 or 1907 there were 21 states west of the Mississippi to 25 east of it. As the trans-Mississippi region has 60 percent of the area of the contiguous part of the United States, however, it must some day have more than half the population, and be the dominant section in the government, predicts the St. Louis Democrat. One of the trans-Mississippi states (Texas) is fifth on the roll of states, and another (Missouri) is sixth. Texas is first among the states in extent of miles of railway track, having passed Illinois by the beginning of 1905. Illinois had led in railway mileage since 1870 until this year. The trans-Mississippi region has the fourth city (St. Louis), some day to become the third city, and possibly the second or the first. The creation of the states of Oklahoma and Arizona will be an important step in the evolution of the west.

Because of its educational and social features the county fair has long enjoyed a high place in public favor, having amply justified its existence on the grounds of usefulness and by giving good returns for every dollar properly spent upon it. Of late years, however, observes the Agricultural Economist, what are known as special features have been introduced, until in some cases they seem almost to predominate, thus casting into the background the primary purpose of the fair, which was improvement in methods of crops and improvement in breeds of stock. In certain instances the educational features have even been dwarfed and the once glorious agricultural fair become a horse race with a side show annexed. Happily, such extreme development of the amusement side of the county fair is the exception, but in many parts of the country the tendency is in that direction.

Made Good Guide at Night. Jason Hoover, a farmer of Western Wisconsin, ventured out one very dark night to visit a sick neighbor. His wife followed. The man kept up an incessant conversation, not for amusement, but that his helpmeet might be guided by his sonorous voice along the treacherous and uncertain path. Suddenly Farmer Hoover stopped a warbling, stumbled and fell heavily. After some grumbling and much assistance from his sympathizer, who he continued the journey, limping painfully, and rubbing his bruised thigh. "Jason, you may stop talking," suggested his wife, considerably "it is easy to follow you now." Mr. Hoover became inquisitive, and was astonished to learn that his rubbing his thigh he had caused the shoe-phorus to glow, which for a long time had been accumulating on his trousers from the many matches struck there.—New York Herald.

SCIENCE NOTES.

The Australian jungle fowl, instead of a peafowl, builds a huge earth oven, often 15 feet in height, with a circumference of 150 feet.

Of the 15 long term Indian prisoners now incarcerated in the United States penitentiary at McAlester, Okla., 12 of whom have been there for less than three years are in the last stages of consumption.

Some expert botanists of Mexico believe they have discovered the oldest thing in the world in a cypress of Chalchicomula, the trunk of which is 118 feet in circumference, and the age of which is calculated as 6200 years.

A method of ascertaining the depth of water by means of the telephone is being employed in the German navy, says the Deutsches Oeffentliches. Sound waves are given out which disperse in all directions at a known rate of speed. Those which strike the bottom at the bottom of the water are reflected and the times of their dispatch and return to the instrument are recorded.

The people who possess the best eyesight are those whose lands are vast and barren, and where obstacles tend to obstruct the sight are few. Eskimos will detect a white fox in the snow at a great distance, while the Arabs of the deserts have such extreme powers of vision that on the vast plains they will pick out objects invisible to the ordinary eye at ranges from one to 10 miles distant.

The baobab tree, which has been transplanted from Africa to Asia and America, has a fruit whose pulp—"monkey bread"—is eaten by natives of Madagascar for the oil that is extracted from them by crushing and boiling in water. The round seeds grow to a diameter of three-fourths of an inch, and their kernels contain 63 percent of oil, with much nitrogenous matter.

SHOWING WALL PAPERS.

Convenience Now for Exhibiting Them Under Artificial Light. Silks have long been shown in stores, when desired, by artificial light, so that the customer may see how they will look at night, how they will look in daylight. Nowdays wall papers are shown in wall papers that look well by day but not so well by night, and then there are wall papers handsome by day that are much handsomer under artificial light—papers that light up well. And it is a common thing now for purchasers in selecting wall papers to look at them by daylight and also by artificial light.

Purchasers have, indeed, long done this in a way. The salesman would hold up for their inspection a roll of some wall paper establishments there are found electric lighted rooms in which wall papers can be shown as they would appear at night under artificial light on the wall. The rooms for which papers are thus selected are likely to be not sleeping rooms, but rooms that are occupied by night as well as by day. It is important that the papers should light up well and be gratifying to the eye—the parlor, the dining room and the library.—New York Sun.

Vaccinating Crayfish.

Alarmist doctors have made one more horrible discovery. Fresh water crayfish are a great, superb delicacy here. But it has been found that they are liable to a certain microbial disease. This does not appear to be serious, but it is a good chance, at the very least, of being seriously upset after eating a crayfish colonized by bacilli. However, the remedy has now been discovered. A serum has been compounded which kills the microbes and cures the crayfish. It must be administered to the latter at a tender age, that is, nine months old, vaccinated, and put back in the water, where it lives a happy life, impervious to microbes, until captured again for the supper table. The inoculation is made at the tip of the left claw. All crayfish thus treated are marked in a particular way on the tail, so that they may be easily distinguished afterwards. When having supper in Paris, therefore, order only vaccinated crayfish, and see that they bear the proper mark on the tail, unless, of course, you are a conscientious objector.—Paris correspondent London Telegraph.

The Smallest Coins.

The natives of the Malay Peninsula have in use the very smallest coins in the world. It is a sort of coin in the shape of a thin, round leaf, and is worth about one-tenth of a penny. The smallest coin in circulation is the five-pennistima piece of the Empire in circulation at the present day. It is the opposite of the penny, worth twelve-one-hundredths of a penny. The smallest coin circulating officially in any part of the British Empire is the five-pennistima piece of the Empire, worth about half a farthing.—Lahore Tribune.

In Anteduvian Times.

At the dawn of human existence Southern Germany had a climate suited to the reindeer. It was in the decline of the glacial epoch, and the British Empire is the geological epoch, decline. During the glacial epoch, and after man's appearance, occurred a great submergence of the land.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson Discusses Husbandry Affairs in His Ninth Annual Report.

Wealth production on the farms of the United States in 1905 reached the highest amount ever attained in this country—$4,615,000,000.

In the first annual report of his third term, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson presents an array of figures and statements representing the progress and condition of the farmers of the country, which, he admits, "dreams of wealth production could hardly equal."

Besides the enormous yield of wealth, the secretary estimates that the farms of the country have increased $6,134,000,000 in value during the past five years. In dealing with the crop report "leak," Secretary Wilson, after referring to the "gross breach of trust on the part of one of the employees of the bureau of statistics," says:

"This department acted with vigor and dispatch when it got evidence of wrong doing on the part of its own officials, but we have no evidence of disciplinary or preventive action at the hands of the line, where gamblers interested neither in the production nor consumption, disturb values to the injury of both, and make loud outcry when creatures of their own kind corrupt officials to betray confidence for the love of money."

"The responsibility for this 'leak' is shared by every one who, to get money without work, gambles in farm products. When this form of dishonesty ceases these parasites who tempt department officials will have to work for their bread."

Analyzing the principal crops for the year, the secretary says, corn produced the highest production with 2,769,000,000 bushels, a gain of 42,000,000 over the next highest year, 1899; hay is second in value, although cotton held second place during the two preceding years.

"The farmers' hen," the secretary says, "is becoming a worthy companion to his cow. The annual production of eggs is now a score of billions. Poultry products have climbed to a place of more than half a billion dollars in value, so the farmers' hen competes with wheat for precedence."

There are more horses and with a larger aggregate value than ever before, notwithstanding the secretary says, they were first threatened by the bicycle and later by the suburban trolley and the automobile. He estimates their value at $1,200,000,000, or nearly as much as the corn crop, and the value of mules at $250,000,000.

The exported products of the farm during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, had a value of $27,000,000. "During the last sixteen years," the secretary reports, the domestic sale of farm products have amounted to $12,000,000,000, or $1,000,000,000 more than enough to buy all the railroads of the country at their commercial valuation, and this with a mere surplus for food that there was no demand at home."

Secretary Wilson points out that the farmer in taking an important part in developing the manufacturing interests of the country by furnishing raw material and that he has also become a banker. The farm contributions to manufacturing during the year were $2,679,000,000. Under the recent amendment to the national banking act allowing the establishment of banks with a capitalization of less than $50,000, there have been 1,764 such banks established in the last year, nearly every one of which is located in a rural community and the capital furnished by farmers. Of these new banks 636 are located in the southern states and 792 in the north central states.

Public Printer Sworn In. Charles M. Stallings was sworn in as public printer at Washington Tuesday. His first official act was to appoint Oscar J. Ricketts foreman of printing and to appoint H. T. Bryan clerk of the office.

CLAIMED IT WAS SUICIDE.

Although Negro's Body Contained Just Thirty-Nine Bullet Holes. Jake Scott, colored, shot and mortally wounded John Walls, foreman of the tunnel gang on the Southern railway extension work near Jasper, Ind., Tuesday evening.

A posse, composed of the workmen associated with Walls, pursued Scott and later returned to town with the information that the body of the negro had been found in the woods and that he had committed suicide. There were thirty-nine bullet holes in the body.

COBB CASE GOES OVER.

Postponement Results from Failure to Secure a Judge. The trial of Mrs. William P. Cobb, accused of the killing of her husband, did not take place at Royston, Ga., Monday, as scheduled. It was found impossible to secure the services of a judge at this time, and the case went over until the regular term.

- 7 It is pleasant to take and at once produces a soothing and strengthening effect on the lungs.

A Sore Cold For Three Months. The following letter from A. J. Nussbaum, of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, and eight doses cured me."

A Chattanooga Druggist's Statement. Robert J. Miller, proprietor of the Read House Drug Store, of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: "There is more merit in FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR than in any other cough syrup. The calls for it multiply wonderfully and we sell more of it than all other cough syrups combined."

Our Minister to Cuba Forced Hurling Upon Sebastopol by Mutinous Warships.

OBJECTIONABLE TO PALMA TROOPS SHOW LOYALTY INDORSED UNANIMOUSLY

Complaints Were Made as to His Attitude in the Isle of Pines Secession Movement.

A Washington special says: Edward V. Morgan, just relieved from his post as American minister at Seoul, Korea, by reason of the establishment of a Japanese protectorate there, has been appointed minister to Havana to succeed Herbert G. Squiers, whose resignation has been received and accepted.

For a long time past the relations between Mr. Squiers and the Cuban government have not been thoroughly satisfactory to the state department, which regards it as essential to the conduct of business between the two governments that their respective ministers shall be thoroughly acceptable at their posts. It is said that in interviews in the Havana Telegraph and a leading New York newspaper the minister afforded much encouragement to the American colonists on the island of Pines and American writers, and these in other responsible positions understood that they could best meet the wishes of the department if they refrained from intervening in the internal politics of the country to which they are accredited.

The returning minister, Mr. Squiers, has an excellent service record, and it is with regret that the department permits his retirement from the diplomatic field. A St. Petersburg special says: So Sebastopol was the scene of a desperate battle Wednesday between the mutinous sailors and the troops in the forts on shore. During the battle the town and the forts were bombarded by the guns of the cruiser Otchakov, which shortly lay a burning wreck on Admiralty Point, its hull crisscrossed with shells and its flagging red ensign of revolution hauled down. Many of the crew of the Otchakov were killed or wounded. According to one report the barracks of the mutineers was carried by storm after the mutinous fleet, which is said to have numbered ten vessels, had surrendered, and the whole position is now in the hands of the troops, under the command of General Neupok.

POWERS DON'T WANT WAR.

Everybody Looking to Great Britain For a Cue.

While in official circles in London, it is admitted that the powers do not expect the Sultan to yield, as the result of the occupation of Mitleni, it was stated Thursday that plans for the next step had not yet been definitely arranged. The British powers are waiting the British proposal.

The foreign office states that the British government does not know exactly the extent of the coercion which the other powers are willing to employ, but it is a corollary that none of the powers is willing to resort to actual warfare in order to enforce the demands for the financial control of Macedonia.

This view of the situation makes it quite possible that demonstration by occupation may be postponed indefinitely. The present political situation in the United Kingdom naturally increases the reticence in official circles here, and, as Great Britain is taking the lead, the movement of the demonstration fleet may be delayed for some time pending the decision of the cabinet concerning the resignation or the dissolution of parliament.

The government has received information from Serbia, through official sources, that the Macedonian committee, has issued a practical ultimatum that unless the demonstration of the powers shall be carried to a successful issue, the revolutionaries are prepared to announce that they intend to create a situation which will be certain to result in a war between Turkey and Bulgaria.

BURIED ALIVE AND RESCUED.

Macon Negro Is Covered by Falling Earth. But Was Rescued. That he was buried alive and then disinterred alive was what Jim King of Macon, Ga., had to be thankful for Thanksgiving. King is a negro laborer on the new sewers being put down in the New York Typhoid, the morning he was caught under a big pile of earth, which caved in. By hard work he was dug out before life was extinct and was found to be suffering from a broken thigh. He was sent to the hospital.

PLEGGED TO HOLD COTTON.

Farmers of Alabama Reserve 25,000 Bales of the Staple. A convention of the Alabama division of the Southern Cotton Association was held at Montgomery a few days ago. Pledges were received for holding 25,000 bales of cotton for 15 cents a pound, and a campaign to remove from the market all cotton yet in the hands of the growers was started.

SOUTH GEORGIA CONFERENCE.

Of Methodist Episcopal Church Meets in America.

The South Georgia Methodist conference opened its thirty-ninth session at American Methodist church in the First Methodist church. An unusually full attendance at the opening session was recorded as the opening session was held on the morning of Tuesday. Bishop W. W. Duncan, D. D., of Spartanburg, S. C., who just came from holding the session of the North Georgia conference, opened the exercises of the morning. It is a fact worthy of note that the Georgia Methodist conference was the year 1886 divided into two conferences at the session held that year in the same church in which the South Georgia met on this occasion. The 21st hymn was sung. After prayer Bishop Duncan read a portion of scripture from Paul's Epistle.

BANK IN ILLINOIS LOOTED.

Robbers Got $1,000, But Overlooked More Valuable Package. The American Exchange Bank at Brown, Illinois, a village 14 miles west of Mt. Carmel, was burglarized early Tuesday morning. The burglars entered about 1:00 a. m., but overlooked $2,500 which was concealed under the carpet of the floor of the safe.

TWENTY-SIX GO TO BOTTOM.

Frightful Loss of Life Result of Storm on Great Lakes. A Chicago special says: Twenty-six lives are feared to have been lost, and nearly a score of vessels driven ashore by the hurricane that swept over the great lakes Monday night and Tuesday. Six vessels are missing and fears are entertained for their safety. The financial loss is estimated at possibly $2,000,000. No accurate figures of the loss of life are obtainable. With one exception, the crew were removed from all the wrecks reported.

CONVICT MAY BE A BANKRUPT.

Important Decision by Judge of the Federal Court in Tennessee. An interesting case has been decided in the federal court at Nashville, Tenn. It was declared, among other things, that a convict may become a bankrupt; that his domicile and jurisdiction are in the district in which he is imprisoned and a convict in Tennessee is entitled to homestead provided he is the head of a family.

BIG SHOW WAS A BIG FAKE.

The Biggest Aggregation of Thieves, Cut-throats and Gamblers That Ever Hit Town.

The Great Van Amburg circus has come and gone, and to put the matter as mildly as we can afford to express it, is that the show carried with it every type and form of a thief, pick pocket, cut throat, gambler, and thing that was ever seen under one circus tent.

From early morn till late at night the streets of the city were crowded so that it was next to impossibility to push through the great crowd who had gathered to be robbed and humbugged.

It is in the line of conservatism to say that there was at least 6,000 people here, and the tent was crowded to suffocation; in fact, it resembled a crowded tent at a circus in a big city. They, as predicted in these columns, brought the red lemmonade, not so much as we had expected, but the reason why the red water escaped was "the boys" had grown game and were playing bigger stakes.

The wheel of fortune, shell game, and various other devices for gambling and thievery were run wide open, and numerous were the victims that fell before them. One negro is said to have lost $125, a young white man $70, and so on, until the list would reach, the Lord knows how high.

The show itself was on the hog. It was the biggest affair that we ever saw going around charging fifty cents for admission tickets. The attractions shown would about fit a ten cent show.

There was also along a large number of the light fingered and short change gang. A pet scheme they had would be to ask a man if he could give them paper money for silver. The average fellow who had a five or ten dollar bill would tumble right away, for if there is anything these Bulloch county crooks like it is the single jungle of the merry silver dollar. The show man would always get his hand on the countryman's five to ten first, and then ask him if that is the biggest bill he's got, and then answered in the affirmative would hand back what was supposed to be the bill, and say, "Oh well, if that is all I had rather keep my silver."

The average fellow would stick the bill in his pocket supposing it to be the one he had parted with and on examination would find that it had been changed and was only a one dollar bill that he had a number caught on and went back and demanded their money, and in every case it was restored. Some got off though and failed to recover.

The show had along with it the famous hoochee coochee dancers and every other imaginable rotten features calculated to corrupt the morals and rob the pockets of the people who patronized them. It went from here to Sylvania and will tour this section of Georgia. The press of the counties in which they are advertised to show will do their section a vast amount of good by copying this article and giving them a warm reception wherever they hit.

Waters-Kelklighter
On Wednesday night at the home of Rev. T. J. Cobb, Mr. Frank Kelklighter and Miss Sallie Waters were united in marriage, Rev. Mr. Cobb officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millerton Waters of Brooklet, and the groom is a prosperous young farmer of the same community.

Candidates Spoke
In South Georgia.

Valdosta, Ga., Dec. 5. —Hon. Hoke Smith spoke here today to quite a large audience of men and ladies in the courthouse. The greater part of his speech was against what he called the railroad politicians and the railroads. He said the railroads charge rates based upon their watered stocks and pay taxes upon about a third of the amount.

He said the fight for port rates was merely to make the railroads allow shippers in the interior to cross their own boat line, as the railroads charged higher rates from one boat line than from the line owned by themselves or by the capitalists who own the roads. He said that Commissioner Joe Brown had tried to excuse the railroads in this particular, and that if he were governor, he would suspend Brown from office just as quick as he could sign his name to the order.

He declared that the constitution fixes the term of governors at four years, but that the railroads would change this by making Joe Terrell, Hamp McWorter, Clark and Albert Howell the governor for four years and then change the order to Clark, Joe Albert and Hamp the next four. He declared that they would not control him if he is elected, and that he favored a law making it a penitentiary offense for a corporation to contribute money to influence votes, and that he would not spend a cent in that way.

He spoke for about two hours and was frequently applauded, especially when he made his thrust at the "ring," the audience evidently being pleased at the warmth which he displayed in spite of the cold weather.

Judge Russell Heard in RAILRY.
Baxley, Ga., Dec. 5.—Judge Richard B. Russell, candidate for governor, made a speech to a large audience in the court house here today. From an early hour this morning every road leading into this town testified to the fact that there would be assembled a large audience to hear the speech of Judge Russell. At 11 o'clock, the hour set for the speech, standing room in the court house was at a premium, and during the speech people continued to come in.

Judge Russell appeared at his best and made a strong and forceful argument, setting forth why it would be to the interest of the people of Georgia to place him in the governor's chair. He paid his full respects to Hon. Hoke Smith and Hon. Clark Howell before he closed, claiming that he is the only real reformer in the race.

The speech seemed to have taken well with the audience, and it is claimed by friends of Judge Russell that he made many converts to his cause while here. Judge Russell already had many strong friends in this county and they are delighted at the present outlook here.

Statesboro Brought Big Price.
On Tuesday the estate lands of J. L. Olliff deceased were sold in front of the court house door. The Turner home on South Main street, now occupied by the family of Mr. J. B. Stamps, was bid in by Messrs W. H. Blitch Sr. and W. H. Blitch Jr. at $7,800.00. The lot contains about two and one half acres of land and is admirably situated, and while the price might seem high at first glance, yet when you take into consideration the class of property that it is, it is not so high after all. The farm near the city was bid in by Dr. J. E. Donebo at $25,500.00.

This Was a Good Pig.
Mr. H. B. Kennedy, who was in the city one day this week, reports the slaughter of a most hog by himself a few days ago that tipped the scales at 460 pounds. Mr. Kennedy has a large number of others, but not all as good as the one one that weighed 460.
