BIG SALE OF GROCERIES!

I have bought the stock of Groceries left by the death of Mr. W. E. Gould. I bought them cheap---yes, below what Mr. Gould paid for them, and I am going to sell them for what he paid for them. Didn't want to buy the stock, but made a bid on it just to get it started, and the auctioneer never got another bid. My bid was the only one so it was knocked off on me.

I had more goods than I could sell before I got these and in order to get rid of them I have put the prices down to what any merchant in Statesboro would have to pay for the goods and then pay freight on them here. Take our crackers and they can't buy them as cheap as we are selling them. And lots of other goods we are selling cheaper than they can be bought at wholesale.

These Prices Don't Last But

3 DAYS

Thursday, Friday and Saturday,
18th, 19th and 20th.

We will not charge goods at these prices. It is strictly a cash sale. The first shoppers get the fullest selection. Remember, only three days, 18, 19 and 20

REMEMBER, The sale begins Thursday and closes Saturday, only three days, 18, 19 and 20. The biggest part of these goods are put out in the middle of our store and kept to themselves. We can't carry this stock of goods in one house and we are making this sale to get rid of the Gould's Grocery stock. Remember these prices are not good longer than the above named time. Next week won't do to get in on these prices. Thanking the public for past favors and soliciting a continuance of same, I am,

YOURS VERY TRULY,

W. B. MARTIN

THE STATESBORO NEWS.

$1.00 A YEAR.

STATESBORO, GA., TUESDAY, JANUARY 23, 1906.

VOL. 5, NO. 46

SMALL TO MEET TOM HARDWICK.

Colonel Sam Small and Congressman Hardwick are to meet in joint debate in Barnesville on Friday, January 26, at night, and discuss the disfranchisement of the negro.

This will be one of the raciest debates of the campaign. Mr. Small is famous as a stump speaker and Congressman Hardwick is "hot stuff."

The congressman is the father of the disfranchisement idea and Colonel Small is on the other line. They have had some passages at arms already through the newspapers, with the result that this morning Colonel Small received a letter from Congressman Hardwick enclosing an invitation to address the citizens of Barnesville on the evening of the 26th.

Colonel Small invited Mr. Small to meet him in joint debate on that occasion and Colonel Small promptly accepted.

"I think I will bring back a few feathers," said Colonel Small, as he announced that he would meet the congressman.

The terms of the debate have not been arranged, but it is supposed that Congressman Hardwick will take the opening and conclusion and that Colonel Small will be sandwiched in between.

The debate will be snappy from the start, and sparklingly interspersed with witticisms and anecdotes. Neither could possibly make a dull speech and it is doubtful if Barnesville will be able to find a hall large enough to hold the crowd.

Colonel Small was asked today if the report was true that he would be campaign manager for Farmer Jim Smith. He replied that the matter had not been fully decided. He will go up to Smithson's tomorrow to talk over matters with the Oglethorpe candidate.—Atlanta News.

Lester Will Run

We are informed by the friends of Mr. R. F. Lester that it is extremely probable that he will be in the race for clerk of the superior court to succeed himself. With three candidates already in the field the entry of Mr. Lester will make four, and we still hear of others. It looks to us as if the office of clerk of the superior court was not going begging.

Brooklet to Have a Bank.

We learn that there is a well developed move on foot to start a bank at Brooklet. Such men as J. N. Shearouse, J. A. Warnock, Wayne Parish and others are back of the move and we understand that there is considerable stock already subscribed. There is no reason why a bank would not pay well at Brooklet, besides filling a long felt want to the business interests of that growing young city.

Some people say it will not pay, but remember that that same set said a few years ago that Statesboro could not afford a bank or a railroad. Now she has three banks and two railroads and could support as many more. This is a great county and Brooklet is located in the garden spot. Hurrah for Brooklet! and hurrah for Bulloch county, too!

Mr. J. P. Williams Closed Deal for Dwelling

Mr. J. P. Williams was up from Savannah on Saturday and closed a contract with Contractor A. J. Franklin for the erection of his handsome home on South Main street. The building will be on the old colonial style of architecture, and when completed with all its modern and up-to-date improvements and conveniences will be the best residence in Statesboro.

Mr. Williams will slip the present dwelling on the back of the lot and use it for a tenant house or rent it out.

We are pleased to know that Mr. Williams has decided to go ahead and build this handsome home in our city. We are sure that he could not have selected a better town in the state of Georgia to make his home, and we are sure that he could not have awarded the contract to a better man than Austin Franklin.

We learn that work will begin on the new building as soon as the material can be placed on the ground and the old house moved out of the way.

It is understood that the amount of Mr. Franklin's contract is $11,000.00. This is for the outside hull only, and does not even cover the putting in of the front door frames. The inside is to be finished up in Mahogany and other costly woods. The floor in the corridors and reception halls are to be of fancy marble tiling. It is pretty conservative to estimate the cost of the building when completed at not less than $25,000.00.

Hurrah for the swiftest runner in the lot, the devil catch the hindmost.

Col. Dillingham in The City.

Col. Dillingham, the famous orator, statesman and patent medicine man all combined about which our readers have heard so much lately, is in the city, and has his tent stretched on the public square. He promises that there will be something doing now.

Judge Hines in Town

Judge James K. Hines came down from Atlanta on Saturday morning and spent Saturday and Sunday in the city. Just what was the incentive for the judge's visit we are not in a position to say. He was in consultation with quite a number of his old friends here. His visit, however, was a very quiet one. It may have had a political end to it or it may not. There are those here who are inclined to think so.

In our opinion there is going to be some development in Georgia soon that will effect the situation no little. We shall see what we shall see.

Reason for Delay

The News comes to its readers a little late today. This is occasioned by the appearance of a double page advertisement for Messrs. Turner-Glendon Co. coming in at the eleventh hour. This big carnival sale had been previously announced in these columns, and owing to a delay in the arrival of Mr. S. B. Merrick from Omaha, Neb., who will have charge of it, the matter could not be handled in for the day, sooner.

If you get mad because we have delayed your paper, come around to the Big Carnival Sale and buy yourself rich. You may get good goods so cheap that you will get in a good humor with us for delaying the paper, and that you may know that the big sale is to be on.

Mrs. B. I. Swinson Is No More

On Friday night last the spirit of Mrs. Julia Swinson passed from earth to Eternity at her home about six miles west of the city.

The deceased had been a sufferer for several years and death came as a welcome visitor to her. She was a good christian lady and leaves a large number of friends and relatives to mourn her loss.

The remains were interred at the Brannen cemetery on Saturday afternoon.

Communicated

Bethel church has extended a call to Dr. Stapler of Metter, and he will serve them for the present year. There was a large congregation present to hear him last Sunday.

A large crowd of people from Bethel community attended the funeral services on Saturday afternoon of Mrs. B. I. Swinson at the Brannen cemetery. Sister Swinson was one of the choicest members of Bethel church and a faithful sister.

Spotted Her Beauty

Harriet Howard, of New York, at one time had her beauty spoiled with skin trouble. She writes: "I had Salt Rheum or eczema for years, but nothing would cure it, until I used Buckley's Arnica Salve." A quick and sure healer for cuts, burns and sores. 25c at W. H. Ellis's drug store.

The Home Fraternity Association of Bulloch County, Georgia.

The organizers of the Home Fraternity Association have cause to feel proud of the success they have achieved. They began business on July 17th 1905 under a charter obtained from the superior court of Bulloch county June 20, 1905, which was approved by the state insurance commissioner on June 29th and a license granted them to do business in the state of Georgia. They enrolled during the last six months of 1905 256 members, representing an aggregate of more than a quarter of a million of insurance.

Not only should the promoters of this organization feel proud of their success, but every loyal citizen of Bulloch county should feel an interest in it and lend their influence to make it a greater success.

Mr. B. E. Proctor, the organizer of this association has given his time and energy towards its advancement and we cannot commend too highly the merits of this company, affording as it does, an opportunity for persons to avail themselves of protection for their families without any speculative features being connected with their insurance.

Insurance for protection only is their motto.

The most attractive feature of the Home Fraternity Association is that every dollar that is paid by the members stays at home, not one cent goes out of the state; in fact, it is insurance for the people by the people, at a reasonable cost, not more than one-fourth of what the eastern companies charge.

Insure in the Home Fraternity. Do it now.

Death of Hubert

On yesterday morning at the home of her son, Mr. Thomas Brown, Mrs. Rebecca Rigdon passed away after an illness of a few days. She had passed the age of eighty years. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at Fellowship church.

Faithful Old Darkey Gone.

Friday morning Uncle Tom Ramsey, one of the best old negroes in Statesboro, took his axe on his shoulder and went out to cut wood. Shortly after he arrived on the scene of his work he was stricken with paralysis and was hauled home, and after suffering all day he passed away in the afternoon, going to that great unknown beyond where all good negroes go.

"Uncle" Tom, as he was always known, was honest, faithful and industrious. He belonged to that class of negroes that is fast becoming extinct in this section.

J. W. Olliff Buys Home. BROOKS SIMMONS TO BUILD HOME

One of the latest real estate deals was that made between Messrs. J. W. Olliff and R. M. Williams Saturday. Mr. Olliff becomes the owner of Mr. Williams' elegant home on South Main street, and will move into it this week.

The deal carried with it considerable other property, part of which was Mr. Williams' team and a block of stock in the oil mill and the hotel. The total sum paid for the property was $8500, so we are informed, and that the dwelling on South Main street was figured in at $6500. This is one of the many pretty homes in that section of the city, and goes to show that South Main street dirt carries with it some value.

Mr. Williams has not decided as yet what he will do. Mrs. Williams will visit relatives in North Carolina for the present. It may be that Mr. Williams will decide to buy other property and still remain with us.

On Sunday morning the infant of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Wilson died at the home of Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. J. D. Riggs on College street. The little fellow had been sick for several weeks and its death had been daily expected. The remains were interred in the cemetery at Lower Lotts Creek church on yesterday.

On Sunday night at her home near Eldora, Mrs. Mary Purvis passed away. She was the wife of Mr. J. L. Purvis of that place. The funeral was held at Fellowship church yesterday afternoon.

A Pretty Number.

The 1906 seed catalogue of T. W. Wood & Sons, just received, is far in advance of any previous issue. The value of this publication in giving full and up-to-date information in regard to both vegetable and farm crops for southern planting cannot be estimated. The annual issue of this catalogue have done more to aid in the diversification and growing of profitable crops in the South than any other similar publication in this country. This catalogue is mailed free to farmers and gardeners upon request to T. W. Wood & Sons, Richmond, Va.

School Opening at Pulaski.

The school opened at Pulaski on Monday with very flattering prospects.

The trustees have secured the services of Prof. W. W. Hart of Barnesville, S. C., as principal and of his daughter, Miss Lillian Hart, as assistant, and also as teacher of elocution.

Mr. Hart is a teacher of more than thirty years experience and comes highly recommended. Miss Ruby Frontis of Ridge Spring, S. C., is our music teacher and is well known as an accomplished musician, having taught at Metter during the past term.

THIRTY DAYS.	We are going to do the Battle of Our Lives:	THIRTY DAYS.

We are going to do the battle for the masses and not the classes. THIRTY DAYS we want to make this the greatest Cash Gathering. Carnival that ever appeared within the history of this country, for with us it is cold cash we want and we must have it quick. All former attempts at merchandising by us or any other concern, within 50 miles of this city, will be eclipsed beyond all question. THE CITY WILL BE IN A STIR AS NEVER BEFORE. A hustle and a bustle throughout the big store that will wake mortal man from his slumbers and make competition howl until you can hear them for blocks around. It will be a wonderful gathering of the people. We want Cash and we are going to give the people the benefit. We will raise the roof if it is necessary. IT WILL BE A HOT TIME IN THE OLD TOWN people. We are going to pour shot and shell into the enemy's camp, until they will think they are once more storming Port Arthur. There will be cannonading all along the line, for with us it is cut loose and unload now, not later. Our loss will be the people's gain and we expect them for Fifty miles around to turn out to the harvest for all the people and not the favored few.

There never was such an undertaking in this city, and we do not believe there ever will be again. Absolutely $1.00 here will do the work of $1.50 to $2.00 elsewhere on many lines, and next Saturday morning, 9 a. m., Jan. 27th, when these doors open, you will see such a gathering of people as never appeared on the streets of this city before.

Rain or Shine the Battle Still Goes On.

We have put our word out to the people and you know how well we have kept it. Our word to you will be our bond, and there is not one item in this house, or half a dozen, going to be put out for bait, as you will find plenty trying to do, but over 49,000 items, all at a price that never met mortal man's eyes before. From one end to the other you will find the greatest fluttering of red tickets, with the price of reduction marked on them, staring you in the face—no matter which door you come in.

The Whole Shooting Match Goes to the People.

We want to do ten times the business of our lives, because we want cash. We expect multitudes standing in line and your share will be here for you. We have put on 15 extra sales-people, and no matter the sun shines or whether it is raining, it will pay you to gather up your gum coats and mackintoshes and umbrellas, and come down and see the greatest display of merchandise, sold for the least money, that ever appeared to your eyes, or any other person's eyes, since you were born.

Not one item will be held in reserve. You will see signs and you will hear signs of these war-priced merchants; but they will only be signs of distress. We know it is an immense undertaking and while other merchants tell you that the Turner-Glisson Co. is losing thousands of dollars in order to make this Carnival a success, that we cannot help. We are not trying to run their business, neither do we expect them to run ours. We are going out after cold Cash, and we are coming out and asking you to part with it at a season of the year when all men expect to make their 50 and 100 per cent profit; but with us profit is a thing of the past. Wholesale prices, and loss, reign throughout this entire big institution on many lines.

WE ARE GOING TO TALK DRESS GOODS

It matters not whether you want Henriettas, Melrose, Venetians, Serges, Silks or Satins, or anything that was ever made in the Dress Goods line, we carry nothing but fashion's latest and they will go at prices ranging from 9c up to 98c, absolutely worth two or three times these prices elsewhere. We have been buying them direct from the men who made them, and they are going out to you at the most ruinous prices you ever saw. In fact, we believe you will be down and buy half a dozen dress patterns for yourself and girls, because such an undertaking was never attempted before in this city or surrounding country. High Carnival will reign throughout the entire store. Our Cash Gathering must come and it must come fast.

We will talk Ladies Coats, Jackets and Furs

because we are going to talk them at prices never seen or heard of before. We have one lot of Ladies Coats at $2.48 absolutely worth double that in any other store in this town. Then we have another lot of Coats and Furs for the ladies at $5.89 that would be considered cheap in any of these war-priced stores at $8.00 to $10.00 and the kind we are selling for $9.89 are absolutely worth $12.00 to $15.00, and you are paying it elsewhere.

It is your dollar you have got, and it is the duty you owe yourself and your family in these times or any other times to place them where they will go the furthest. Remember you should have mansions instead of building them for the other fellow, and here is the opportunity you have to commence saving, in buying merchandise from us during our Sacrifice, Unloading, Cash Getting Carnival.

The whole house is topsy-turvy, everything is re-arranged. There never was such a change in any store in this community. The big red tickets will be on them, so your child as well as yourself can come here and buy with safety. Remember that any item got in this house that does not meet with your approval, and is not cut off a bolt, CAN BE RETURNED AND YOUR CASH WILL BE CHEERFULLY REFUNDED TO YOU AND NO QUESTIONS ASKED, if returned within 5 days.

No goods will be charged and nothing will go out on approval. It is all cash with us, and if you get what you don't want, return it and get your money back, provided it is not cut off a bolt. No goods will be taken back or exchanged on Saturdays.

LADIES PETTICOATS

Mercerized Petticoats. We are going to show you in plain words that you will find here an absolute saving of 50c to $1.00 on everyone in this house to what you have been paying for them elsewhere. The ones you buy here at 97c are the biggest values you ever saw in any of those war-priced stores at $1.25 to $1.50, and the ones you buy at $1.97 are worth 50% more in any other store in this town. Country Boys Beat Them All.

In reading over our exchanges we notice that nearly every one of them have a notice stating that several young men of the community would attend college. Some to attend the medical college, others to the dental, some to the business where they can learn book-keeping, telegraphy, school teaching, preaching, singing and various other vocations in which there is not much hard work mixed up. But we never read anything about a boy going off to learn how to blow, spin rails or roll logs. No, these boys who could earn a good living on the farm, which by-the-way is the best occupation in this country, come flocking to Savannah, Atlanta, Macon or some other city, while many of them are going to the little villages and working in stores, law offices and doctor shops for $10 or $15 per month.

These little fellows who part their hair in the middle seem to be anxious to work in a store at any price. In fact the merchants, doctors and lawyers tell us the applications they have for the places are a burden, and yet there are farms right here in Tattnall county going to the bad for the want of help to till the soil. The boys and young men will do almost anything before they will walk the bell chord over a mule or pull the team behind the plow handles. If there is a needed reform in this country it is to keep the boys away from town and teach them that the best place in the world is at home on the farm. It is more honor to a boy to be called a plow hand than it is to be known as a shallow brained lawyer that loaf around the court house year in and year out and was never known to have a case and if he should happen to stumble upon one wouldn't have sense enough to get it before a jury—Tattnall Journal.

Our good friend, Mr. Joshua B. Lanier, is being called for all around to sell property at auction. The people in other counties have begun to recognize his ability as an auctioneer.

He goes over to Reidsville to conduct a three days auction sale, starting today. He has made a contract to conduct one of the big sales in Savannah on the first Tuesday in February. He is being called for on all hands. He is undoubtedly the best all-round auctioneer in this section of the country.

I have just read Mr. M. C. Jones' letter in today's News (Jan. 12th) I love to read such a letter, for it is so full of truth.

I believe, like Mr. Jones, that the sacred Scripture is being fulfilled among us today. "In the latter days perilous times shall come." Surely, these are the latter days. So many people seem unthoughtful, like Galio, caring for none of these things, but rioting seem to be the order of the day. It seems that there is no fear of God before their eyes.

Young men and young women, remember that the fear of God is the beginning of wisdom and the caving unto Him is the perfection thereof. The fool foldeth his hands and eateth his own flesh.

I would that I could print indelibly on every young heart the admonition of Solomon: "Remember, now, thy Creator in the days of thy youth, when the evil days come not," etc.

The reason some young people turn out bad is, that they have not been trained up in the way that they should go; because God says, "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it," and that is the truth of the matter.

I feel sad when I see so few young people take any interest in church. Indifference about religious matters, I think, is one of the greatest sins of the day.

Bro. Jones, you are right about children who are disobedient at school; children who are disobedient at home will be so everywhere; children who will not obey their parents will not regard God nor the laws of their country.

I hope all parents who read Bro. Jones' letter, will read it again and consider it well for it is well worth your consideration.

Write again, Bro. Jones, for words fitly spoken are like apples of gold in pictures of silver.

"Uncle Robert."

January 10th, 1807—almost a century ago—a little babe was born among the hills of old Virginia. Little did the fond parents think the name, Robert Edward Lee, would become immortalized when they gave it to him. To-day his name is familiar to every schoolboy; but very few of us fully understand the depths of the nobility of character of this man of men.

We speak with wonder and admiration of the great general, and are astonished at the wonderful manner in which he baffled Grant, and well we may, for the world has never known a greater general. But let us take a view of the man that was behind the general.

His amiable disposition is evidenced by the deep love manifested to him by his soldiers. Hundreds are living to-day who can testify that they went almost frantic at the sight of their old chieftain; and not simply because he was their chieftain, but because he was a man to be loved. He won military fame in more than one battle, but the thought of having spoken one kind word to a wounded soldier boy, away from home and mother, gave him a satisfaction that nothing else could.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee relates a conversation he had with an old farmer on his way home after the surrender. He stopped at the farm house for a drink of water, and the old farmer came out to learn the latest news. Gen. Lee answered:

"Gen. Lee has surrendered."

The old soldier, not knowing whom he spoke to, and with a face that showed nothing but disbelief, replied:

"That little old whipper-snapper, Fitzhugh Lee, might have surrendered, but 'Uncle Robert,' no, never."

Many romantic stories are told of the chivalry of the knights of old, but the followers of "Uncle Robert" were actuated by a deeper sense of a love almost divine, for it was the stimulus of the love of a great country and the affection of a noble man urged them on in their struggle for their just rights.

Boys and girls of Bulloch county, love the memory of Lee; emulate the example of his spotless life; study his career as general of a great army; view him upon his day of surrender, as Gen. Grant refuses to accept his sword, and then ask yourselves if he was a conquered general.

Honor to his fair memory. He has left behind him a memory to be cherished always by a free and unconquered people. Now that the dark clouds of the '00s have dispersed and all has passed into history; while we are enjoying the blessings of peace and posterity, let us not forget to do honor to the boys (now old boys) who loved and followed "Uncle Robert" to battle while their homes were almost desolate. Only a few of them are left, and their silvered heads remind us that they, too, will soon be no more. The coming generation will envy our opportunity in having those grand old warriors for our daily companions, and yet how little do we appreciate them. Crown their declining years with your gratification by making their tired, weary hearts happy by your love and respect. At the same time be loyal to the reunited country, but love the memory of the Southern Confederacy, for "No nation rose so white and fair, None fell so free of crime." —Hamilton Etheredge. Metter, Ga., Jan. 15 '06.

Tempest at Washington.

The stress in the situation between the president and the congress seems to be approaching very rapidly the acute stage. The responsibility for it is attributed to the president's disposition to dictate rather than to suggest, to use the "big stick" rather than the kid-gloved hand. If the estimate be correct there is place for the reflection, what a difference there is between Roosevelt in his study and Roosevelt in the lobby. His most virulent critic would give him a large measure of justly due praise for his message, but, if reports are reliable, he is singularly wanting in the ability to use the persuasion of his literary effort in a face to face encounter. And yet it should be no great surprise to know that a crisis has come. The same happened to three of his predecessors and each one of them weathered the storm in tolerable security and emerged safe if somewhat battered.

Andrew Jackson, U. S. Grant and Grover Cleveland were each brought into sharp conflict with the legislative branch of government. With the first the opposition to him went the extreme of impeachment but he was vindicated. The second seemed to be rather the victim of vicious surroundings, an insatiable group of rapacious political buccaners. The third was a victim of his own self-importance affording an example of a president completely abandoned by his party in the congress.

It is certain that the railway and other interests that are in open hostility to Roosevelt are making hay while the sun shines. They have skillful agents on the ground and these latter will carefully foment the embers of discontent with a view to discrediting the president with the country and thus stave off rate legislation. It is certain that this will be done but it will be ineffective. It is more than probable that the president's discontent is due more to the wish of corporation agents and the industry of their press representatives than to an actual condition. If it exists in the mentioned form it represented it is concerned entirely with a manifestation not with a substance. The president's temper is the cause, not the measures he advocates. —Augusta Herald.

and is the synonym for strength and purity. It is sold in almost all the civilized countries of the globe.

If the cod fish became extinct it would be a world-wide calamity, because the oil that comes from its liver surpasses all other fats in nourishing and life-giving properties. Thirty years ago the proprietors of Scott's Emulsion found a way of preserving the cod liver oil so that everyone can take it and get the full value of the oil without the objectionable taste. Scott's Emulsion is the best thing in the world for weak, backward children, thin, delicate people, and all conditions of wasting and lost strength.

Tribute of Respect.

To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die. The angle of death is no respecter of persons. He visits alike the cottages of the poor and the palaces of the rich. His pathway is through the home, the church and the Sunday school and he walks with equal foot steps among them all.

He has invaded the precincts of our community and taken from us one of our brightest gems.

Britt Everett died Jan. 9, 1906, age eight years. He was just about the right age to be misad by his dear little play mates, but God wanted a flower in his garden and called the loved one home.

We miss our dear little friend but we hope our loss will be his gain. He left many friends to mourn with his dear father, mother, brothers and sisters.

We hope that we all may meet in this beautiful home beyond our home. In Heaven, we hope he is resting in that beautiful home, a holy mansion fair, a home not made with hands where the walls are of Jasper and the streets are pure gold.

Let us all remember and be ready, that some day soon or late we too, will have some debt to pay that dear little Britt has paid.

"The lives that make the world so sweet, are shy and hide like the humble flower, we pass them with our careless feet, nor dream that their fragrance fills the bowers and cheers and comforts us hour by hour."

Truly "in the midst of life we are in death." Britt has gone, but we are so happy to know that he has gone.

"Where no storm ever beat on the glittering strand, where the years of eternity roll." Let us sprinkle his grave with tears, mingle our sorrows and sympathies with the loved ones he has left behind.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the bereaved and we would that we could offer some consolation that would soften the anguish which rends their hearts, but in such an hour of sorrow consolation can come only from the promises of him who doeth all things well and who has blessed them by lending them such a precious jewel, though for a short time to bless their home here and draw them nearer the great throne where Britt joins in praise.

One precious to our hearts has gone. The voice we loved is still. The place made vacant in our home can never more be filled.

Our Father in His wisdom called the boon. His love had given And though on earth the bodies The soul is safe in Heaven.

FOR JUDGE OF MIDDLE CIRCUIT.

To the Voters of the Middle Circuit.

I am a candidate for Judge of the Middle Circuit. For eight years I served the people of the Circuit as a Justice of the Peace, endeavoring at all times to discharge the duties of that office with fairness, impartiality and courtesy. Upon the proposition of Judge Evans to the bench of our Superior Court I was an unopposed candidate before the people for the Judgeship to fill out the unexpired term of Judge Evans. My qualifications for the office necessitated a complete abandonment of my law practice. I stand as a party entitled to at least a full term, if in your judgment I have done for and impartially. For the subject of course, I can say nothing on my own behalf, but I have no doubt that I have done for and impartially to the people. Whether I have succeeded or not others must say. If so, I am fully entitled to an endorsement of my administration and of my record.

Yours very respectfully,

Hoke Smith and the Populist

After using the best years of his life fighting populism and the principles held dear to them, we find Mr. Hoke Smith in these latter days on his knees to the populist, crying, "save me or I perish."

It hasn't been many moons since Mr. Watson felt so outraged at the efforts of the Atlanta Journal to trail him down wherever he went, ordered that that paper be not allowed to enter his home. It hasn't been many other moons either since Mr. Watson was, upon a time, a candidate for the presidency, and while he was away from home assuring his friends in the West that his native state would cast aside political differences and for the sake of state and southern pride would give him its electoral vote. There was none other than Hoke Smith who invaded his home district and denounced him in a public speech in the city of Augusta as being a republican hireling and an enemy to his state. Yet, strange as it may seem, to-day we find Mr. Watson, after having one side of his face slapped, turning the other side to receive a blow as well.

Right here the question suggests itself. What is Watson's plan? In our opinion you will soon see those fellows who have always decried Watson until now they need to use him and his friends, the sickest set of politicians who ever kept at a political funeral in Georgia.

If there is anybody in Georgia who believes that Tom Watson ever forgot a wrong done him or ever loses an opportunity offered him to even up with an antagonist we have not heard of him yet. That opportunity now presents itself to Mr. Watson, in fact it has literally driven up to his front gate and hitched itself. Mr. Watson has lived to see the day come when his old-time enemies and defamers have exhausted the vocabulary of the human language in singling his praises. They have actually made themselves appear ridiculous telling of his virtues. Men who have formerly abused him are now singing his praises in the good old halcyon style.

The reason for all this is that they think they are using him. It "sorter" fits their case now to seek his assistance. They have abused about every democratic officeholder in Georgia, accusing them of everything that is mean with and without provocation until they find themselves cut off from much hope of democratic support, and believing that Mr. Watson carried in his vest pocket the votes of about 40,000 ex-politicians.

Now that Mr. Watson has his old-time enemy led up to the slaughter pen, what will he do? We find now the Dalton Post, the official organ of the populist party in Georgia, is demanding that the word "democratic" be left out of the provisions for the approaching primary, and that it shall read "white primary," and not "white democratic primary," as has been the case in the past few years. The Dalton paper asserts to speak for Mr. Watson when it says he will drop Hoke Smith good and hard if he refuses to stand for the elimination of the word "democratic" in the primary.

If you will read Watson's letter to John Temple Graves, in replying to his invitation to come back home, you will see that he will support no man in the democratic party, and he advises his followers not to do so either.

Now, if Hoke Smith backs on Watson, the latter will throw him hard, and the next question that suggests itself is, can he afford to follow Mr. Watson to the extent that the latter now demands?

In our opinion there is going to be a "drap" in Georgia soon, and a personage about the size of Hoke Smith will fall with a dull, sickening thud. We shall see what we shall see.

POLEYSHONEY AND LAR
Sole Sales Prevents Pneumonia

Strange But True

Several parties were seated around the fire in the well known drugstore of Mr. Ellis, when a gentleman came in and called for a bottle of Dillingham's Plant Juice. After he had been waited on by the clerk, one of the parties spoke and said it was strange how Col. Dillingham could arouse and create such a demand for his remedies. Mr. Ellis, our well known druggist, said that was easily explained. The first thing was that Col. Dillingham is a liberal advertiser, and the second that his remedies were just as represented and that Col. Dillingham stuck strictly to the law of nature in the manufacture of his Plant Juice medicine.

Mr. Ellis said: "Col. Dillingham once explained to me how he manufactured his remedies and it was to the letter. He said he watched everything and was sure it was done right and that it did not vary a hair's breadth. He explained to me a compass registers, a hair's breadth wrong, when a ship is put out to sea it will carry her a thousand miles out of her way in a few days and wreck her. So it is, said Col. Dillingham, with many medicines when first put on the market, there is some varying and finally there is loss of confidence. It is not so with Col. Dillingham's Plant Juice. It is kept up to the Standard, that is the reason I can guarantee his remedies to do all he claims for them."

And Mr. Ellis added "at this season of the year thousands of people are already showing the ill symptoms, that are sure to result from the unusual climate. Heavy food, lack of exercise, overwork and poor ventilation. These spell sickness and poor health. If the stomach cannot do its work properly ill health is sure to follow. Dillingham's Plant Juice is the one medicine that assures a natural digestion that strengthens the stomach and soothes and heals all irritation, congestion and inflammation in the stomach and bowels. It is this that makes it a certain and guaranteed cure for all stomach troubles.

"If the digestion is impaired the blood is impoverished and becomes filled with poisonous impurities deranging the whole system and causing sickness and suffering. Dillingham's Plant Juice acting upon the stomach and digestive organs cures sleeplessness, nervous troubles, headache, backache and general weakness and debility. If you are weak and ailing the chances are that it is due to a diseased stomach. But you can be cured by using Dillingham's Plant Juice. If it does not help you the price is absolutely nothing.

Ellis, The Druggist.

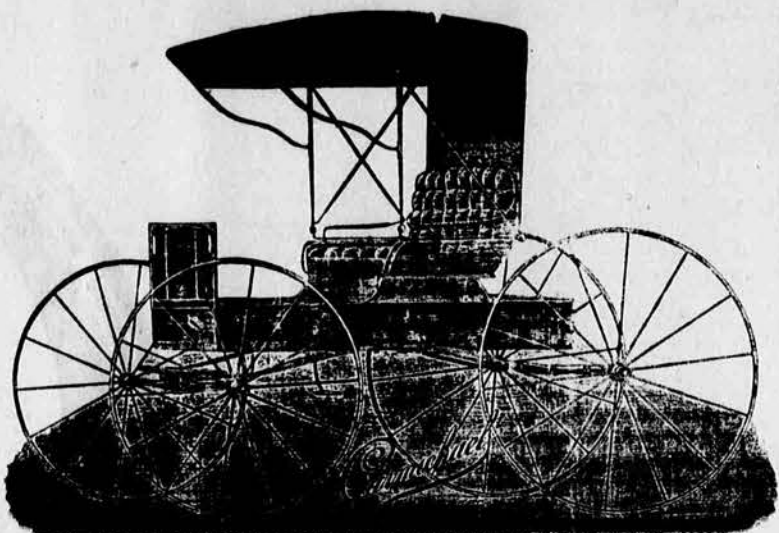

Dangers of a Cold and How to Avoid Them.
More fatalities have their origin in or result from a cold than from any other cause. This fact alone should make people more careful as there is no danger whatever from a cold when it is properly treated in the beginning. For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been recognized as the most prompt and effective medicine in use for this disease. It acts on nature's plan, loosens the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Sold by all druggists.

COL. DILLINGHAM SPOKE LAST NIGHT.

Address By Famous Advertiser Very Eloquent.

TOLD ABOUT HIS HAND AND DIAMONDS.

Lectures Again To-night on the Court House Square.

Col. F. A. Dillingham, the well known philanthropist and advertiser, who is to spend four weeks in this city introducing the remedies which have made him famous, gave his second lecture and entertainment last night before an audience of nearly 500 people, who listened to one of the most eloquent addresses that has ever been delivered in this city.

Col. Dillingham's ability to obtain perfect control over an audience was most perfectly demonstrated.

From the moment he appeared on the platform until the last sentence was spoken he obtained the most absolute and perfect attention from the people before him, a feat which is considered very difficult to accomplish when an address is delivered in the open air.

It did not seem to be so much what he said, although his lecture was interesting, but the earnest way in which he said it.

In addition, so evidently at home before an audience so perfectly at his case was he, that it was easy to secure the sympathy of his hearers and carry them with him, which is the principal object of all public speakers.

Dillingham looks to be about thirty-five on the platform and has a McKinley profile and a winning smile.

In his voice there is character and truthfulness, as it is powerful, ringing, and clear as a bell, and has a carrying quality to such a remarkable extent that every word spoken by him could be heard distinctly a block and a half away.

The place in front of the court house which he has chosen for his lectures is in the heart of the city and where Col. Dillingham insists on speaking most of his spare time. Col. Dillingham last night wore a magnificent semi-"Quaker" garb of imported Khaki cloth of QUAKER DRAB, broad brim Quaker hat of the same shade, long flowing coat, which reached far below his knees, cassock vest and the old fashioned broadfall Quaker trousers and this costume embellished by magnificent diamonds, made a very striking and imposing appearance. During his address last night Col. Dillingham referred in a humorous way to his reason for wearing so large an amount of diamonds and his conspicuous light colored garb, and said: "Some of you people may think I wear all of these diamonds because I like them. Some because I am especially vain."

"Well, my reason is this: I am an advertiser. I am to be in your city about four weeks, and my object is to get acquainted and become known to as many people in these four weeks' time as possible. Now, if I came into your city as an ordinary individual you would pass me by and never know me.

"As it is now, when you see me for the first time I have impressed you, and you say: 'There goes Col. Dillingham'—and you are right and I am satisfied."

The vaudeville entertainment given last night was high grade and seemed to please the large audience present. The performers are very fine in their different lines and placed on many different specialties and would be a credit to many dollar shows that play here. Henry Richardson was believed to be one of the best open air ventriloquists that ever visited this city. Tom Wright sang very sweetly and is a thorough artist on the banjo and guitar. Fred Regis the comedian and dancer, is a performer of rare ability who kept the audience in a roar of laughter whenever he was on the stage. The performance was closed with a very laughable afterpiece entitled "The Telephone", and the large audience dispersed in good humor. The third lecture and entertainment will be given this evening commencing at 8 o'clock.

The Grip.
"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves." No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy, not one case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that has not recovered. For sale by all druggists.

The writer was in Bryan county last week and heard many complementary expressions in behalf of Col. Brannen for congress.

In another column will be found the announcement of Mr. W. S. Lee, who offers his name for the office of tax collector in the approaching democratic primary. Mr. Lee is a good, solid citizen and will receive the support of a large number of friends.

One of our young men who has recently recovered from a protracted illness of typhoid was asked by a rural friend "how he is getting on" the young man replied that he was convalescing now, "better make your arrangements quick for the great beyond then for I never know any one to get well of convalescing yet, was his friends reply.

Mid scenes of prosperity and the general good feeling that pervades our community, our citizens are agitating of advisability of establishing a Bank at Brooklet. It can be truthfully said that no town was ever surrounded by a more thorough, wide-awake class of farmers and our merchants are up-to-date in every respect and the establishing of a bank here will meet with success and fill a long felt need. All the money necessary can and doubtless will be subscribed with a radius of eight miles.

Rev. Adams preached to a large and attentive audience at Harmony Sunday. A large crowd from Brooklet attended. His theme was "Put on the whole armor of God."

A few of our nemrods will leave Tuesday noon for the coast to shoot ducks.

Our town is steadily growing, four new houses are being built of the modern cottage plan.

The wise ones say that Mr. Averitt of Statesboro will in the near future move his family to Brooklet, we extend them a cordial welcome and congratulate Mr. Averitt upon his choice of a healthful location.

Judge Rountree has lots of friends throughout the county who will give him a cordial support. He is thoroughly competent to fill the position to which he aspires and should the people of Bulloch county decide to place him in this important office, we are sure they will have no cause to regret it.

Like a Child Who Follows Candy.

Atlanta Jan. 24.—Charles Daniel, general manager of the Atlanta News, made some sensational and interesting charges in his cross bill and answer to the recent suit of Hon. John Temple Graves, brought to restrain Mr. Daniel from forcing him out of the editorial chair.

Upon petition of Mr. Daniel Judge Pendleton, in Fulton Superior Court, today granted a temporary injunction restraining Mr. Graves from using the editorial columns of the Atlanta News for his personal enhancement or to aid him in his candidacy for United States Senator, restraining Mr. Graves from reproducing any laudatory comment on his candidacy from other papers of the state, and restraining him from taking editorial position in the paper either for or against any of the candidates for Governor of Georgia.

CANNOT PRAISE HIMSELF
Mr. Graves is thus restrained from praising himself in his own paper. This temporary injunction is to hold until after the hearing on Saturday, Jan. 27.

Mr. Daniel charges that Mr. Graves has violated his agreement to resign as editor of the paper within sixty days after his announcement as a candidate for United States Senator. He charges that Mr. Graves has injured the Atlanta News by his editorial policy in indorsing Tom Watson in praising President Roosevelt and in using the editorial columns solely for the furtherance of his own political and personal ends.

Mr. Daniel further charges that Mr. Graves has been "fed upon flattery." The diet is essential to his existence. This has become a disease with the plaintiff, and renders him through this avenue susceptible of approach. He follows one who flatters just as a little child follows a stick of candy.

Mr. M. B. Marsh is Dead.

On Tuesday afternoon at his home, about eight miles northwest of the city, Mr. M. B. Marsh passed quietly away after an illness covering several weeks. The remains were interred at the cemetery at Upper Mill Creek church on Tuesday morning. A large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives were out to pay their respects to his memory.

Mr. Marsh was one of Bulloch's solid citizens, farmers and merchants. He was noted for his honesty and upright life. He was a man whose loss will be felt in this section for some time to come.

Mrs. Sallie Rigdon Passes Away.

On Wednesday afternoon, at the home of her son, Mr. D. L. Rigdon near the city, Mrs. Sallie Rigdon fell asleep and awoke no more. She had been seriously ill for several months and her death came as no surprise to her family and friends. At the time of her death she was in her seventy-fifth year. She was the surviving widow of the late Mitchell Rigdon who preceded her to the Great Beyond some twenty years ago, and was the mother of Messrs. D. B. and D. L. Rigdon, Mesdames F. N. Fletcher and Mike Land. The remains were laid to rest in the family burial ground near the home where many other members of the family lay sleeping that long sleep.

"There's a Nigger in the Woodpile."

New York Jan. 17.—The Atlanta News correspondent, learning that Hon. John A. Sibley was in the city, called his attention to the controversy going on in Georgia over the now famous Sibley letter to Hon. Clark Howell.

Mr. Sibley states his position in the following card:

The votes of Georgia, especially those of Augusta and the tenth district, know full well my past loyalty to Mr. Watson. If he were a candidate for their suffering even at this late date there is not a political leader in the state but would place me as fighting under his banner. In his card which I have just read, even granting our conversation to have occurred exactly as he states, it was understood that I would write to Clark Howell and tell him the only way to beat Hoke Smith was to pass the word down the line and have the legislature enact such laws as Mr. Watson advocated.

"Naturally I concluded that if Mr. Howell did as suggested Mr. Watson would give his support, not as a trade or bribe, but in recognition of the great help done the reform forces by cutting the sand from under their feet."

"I knew Mr. Watson had been a contributor to the constitution. I knew that Mr. Smith and the Atlanta Journal never hesitated to vilify him on every occasion and therefore I could not for the life of me see what hold Mr. Smith could have over Mr. Watson if Howell told the sand from under the feet of the true reformer, and it puzzles me now how Mr. Watson can support Mr. Hardwick for congress in place of his friend Major McGreggor, who has always been a 'true reformer'."

There seems to have been a nigger in the woodpile that even my genial, suave, seductive nature could not unearth. When I recall the interview Major McGreggor and I had with Mr. Watson, when the Major read the Clark Howell letter that the McDuffie Journal seems to have known all about, though neither the major nor the writer divulged its contents this coupled with a subsequent conversation had with Mr. Watson in response to an urgent wire to go to see him, makes me now believe there were and are other reasons for his advocacy of Hoke Smith besides his natural antipathy to a fat, chubby politician.

However, this is another story, and as Mr. Watson, the McDuffie Journal and Hoke Smith have not mentioned the substance of this interview. I find it opportune for my genial, suave, seductive nature to discuss it at this writing.

A Grim Tragedy
is daily enacted, in thousands of homes, as death claims, in each one, another victim of consumption or pneumonia. But when coughs and colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oaklandon, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. The Storm Struck Us.
The storm from the great west has swooped down on us in great shape. It was scheduled to have struck us broadside on Tuesday, but the weather man says that owing to such a high pressure on the coast it was held back for twenty-four hours, but today we find ourselves in the hands of the blizzard king.

It will have the effect of holding back the buds on the fruit trees and thus prove a blessing to the fruit growers in middle Georgia, but we folks down here who are caught short on wood are rather slow to hail this blizzard as a genuine article of blessing.

All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
