STATESBORO, GA. FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1906

VOL. 6, NO. 1

Big Day in Statesboro.

Hon. Hoke Smith, candidate for governor, addressed the voters of Bulloch county in the court house here last Friday. He arrived the night before from Savannah, where he had spoken the day before.

The Woodman's cornet band rendered three or four pieces of music for the occasion.

At eleven thirty Hon. A. M. Deal took the stand and in a few well chosen remarks introduced the speaker of the occasion. By this time the court room had been fairly well filled. The school here had been dismissed and the court house packed with about three hundred school children, the majority of whom didn't know or care what was said. About three hundred voters and one hundred ladies added to the school children succeeded in filling the court room.

Mr. Smith opened by thanking his "large and intelligent audience" for their presence and the interest manifested in his candidacy. He then proceeded to jump down on the negro, and for one hour by the watch he told of the shortcomings of the brother in black. He seemed to be laboring under the opinion that as much as a white county has to its credit a first-class negro lynching, recently pulled off, that the proper bait to fish with to catch suckers here was to cuss out the negro generally. He offered many reasons why a negro should not vote, and made an effort to show that this disfranchisement bill would not disfranchise the ignorant white man, but the ignorant negro. He along with the ignorant negro, admitted that the fifteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States stood squarely in his path along that line, but proposed to get around it by numerous schemes and subterfuges. He proposed an educational qualification before a man should be allowed to vote. He believed that the supreme court would uphold his grandfather clause and allow the registration officer to put it easy to the white man and hard to the negro. He proposed as one remedy that the questions could be propounded to the negro in Latin and the white man in English, notwithstanding the fact that the Constitution says plainly that "no discrimination shall be made on account of a man's color, race or previous condition of servitude." There were various other methods of trickery and chicanery that he proposed to keep the educated negro from coming in and voting; nearly all of which to be put in practice would require the registration, as well as the election holders, to perjure themselves.

Mr. Smith condemned the issuing of free passes, and then jumped into Clark Howell and

Young Lady Shot

On Saturday afternoon the daughter of Mr. Geo. W. Deal was seriously shot in the face and neck with a load of bird shot from a gun in the hands of a son of James H. Barnes. The boy was entering the gate at Mr. Deal's home and the young lady was sitting on the front porch. In a playful manner he pointed the gun toward the house, not thinking it was loaded and loaded the trigger. The result was explained above. A physician was summoned and the wounds are painful. While the wounds are painful they may not prove fatal.

Preacher-Editor Dies Suddenly

Birmingham, Ala., March 2.—J. Dudley Ellis, editor of the Alabama Christian Advocate, the official organ of the Methodist denomination in the state, dropped dead in the office of that publication yesterday afternoon. He had just left a room, where he had been chatting pleasantly with friends when tragedy occurred.

Dr. Ellis recently acquired considerable notoriety throughout the state by a sensational article which appeared in his last week's issue, in which he charged Justice Anderson, one of the supreme court, and several other state officials, with being drunk at the funeral of the late Chief Justice McCallan.

The article in question denounced the officials in most vitriolic terms, and demanded their resignations. In this week's issue Justice Anderson admitted that the charges against him were largely true, and asked the mercy of the people.

Dr. Ellis was actively in the ministry until five months ago.

AGENT WANTED FOR BULLOCH COUNTY

Thos. J. Arline, Gen. Agt., Savannah, Georgia.

IN MEMORIAM.

Miss DOLLIE HOWELL.

On Feb. 20, 1906, a sad accident happened near Fort. Mifflin. Miss Dollie Howell was burned to death. She lived about twelve hours after the accident occurred. She was the daughter of Mr. C. I. Howell. She leaves a father, stepmother, two brothers and a large number of other relatives and friends who mourn her tragic death.

Miss Dollie was a good girl. We never saw her with a frown on her face, but always a pleasant smile marked her countenance.

She was an industrious girl, in both earthly and spiritual affairs. She was a member of the Methodist church, and it was her will that all around her be done well. Would that all of us might, like her, live and die in the Lord; we could then brighten the gates of heaven.

The choicest flowers must be gathered first. This way it is in a flower garden, but why should life be made so short? For she was of much service.

How those who loved her make up their minds to live on earth without her? Life can no longer be a pleasure to them; but it is God's way—His will be done. He doeth all things well.

Oh, how we do miss her! It is very hard to give up one who always met us with a smile and cheerful words. These days are rather somber and melancholy to those she leaves behind but let's all watch and pray to meet her some sweet day, as she stands with outstretched arms to greet us on the other side of Jordan.

Her life was like a mountain railroad. With an engineer that's brave—She has made the run successful.

—Her friend, Bessie Welch.

Col. Estill in Thomas County.

Thomasville, Ga., March 6.—Col. J. H. Estill, South Georgia's candidate for governor, is visiting the town of Thomas county. He was here yesterday afternoon, went on to Meigs last night and left for Boston this afternoon.

Col. Estill did not make any speech here, but met many of the voters personally, and discussed the issues of the campaign informally with several hundred citizens. His coming cast a damper on the Hoke Smith club of Thomas county, which was organized last night. Out of 2,000 registered voters in the county thirty-two men and three little boys were at the court house to take part in the organization of the club. Not all of these were Smith men. The advocates of Mr. Smith have been claiming the county by 5 to 1, and the sorry showing made was very disappointing to them. They had advertised the meeting by handbills and through the newspapers for two weeks, had sent around lists in the hands of canvassers, and yet claim only ninety members of the club.

Col. Estill made a strong showing in Thomas county four years ago, and his friends believe he will do even better this time. He has many former supporters here, and made many new ones. This was not a formal visit to Thomasville. He will be here again later in the spring, and he will have an enthusiastic meeting whenever he does come.

City Court in Session

The regular term of the city court has been in session during the past two days. Owing to the illness of Judge Brannen Judge J. W. Overstreet, of Sylva, is presiding. There has been a number of non-contested judgments rendered that we do not publish. The following is the grind up to yesterday noon, when court adjourned for the term:

The following entered pleas of guilty: Bragdon, white, carrying concealed pistol, sentence $50 and costs or ten months on gang.

Manson Brown, white, shooting pistol on public highway, sentence $24 and costs or 6 mo. on gang.

Ben and George Gay, colored, selling liquor, each sentenced $1.0 and costs or 12 months on gang.

Jim Blocker, colored, adultery, sentence $30.00 and costs or six months on gang.

Dan Tillman, colored, was found guilty of cheating and swindling and sentenced $50 and costs or twelve months on the gang.

In the case against Mrs. Elizabeth Cason, white, charged with assault and battery, the jury could not agree and a mistrial ordered.

The case against Jack Moore, colored, for cheating and swindling, was allowed settled.

In two cases against Charles Chitty, white, Geo. R. Hagins, prosecutor, the jury returned verdicts of not guilty.

The Louisville Courier-Journal suggests that before we discover the north pole in an airship we would better first discover an airship.

The men who are trying to steal Niagara Falls, says the Pittsburgh Gazette, are the same kind of fellows who would cut down the giant redwoods for lumber or paste advertisements on Mr. Wellman's north pole.

One thing that M. Fallieres' election makes clear is that France is really republican at heart, asserts the New York World. It is not only a Government for the people, but a Government by men of the people. M. Loubet, the son of a humble peasant, gives way to a President, M. Fallieres, who is the grandson of a blacksmith.

The farmer folk of Iowa say that while Edwin H. Blashfield, the New York artist, may know all about painting, he evidently doesn't know much about driving a yoke of oxen, or he never would have put the driver on the right side, instead of the left, as he has done in the mural decoration he has just placed in the State Capitol at Des Moines. The commission which is in charge of the work is reported as being really in doubt as to whether it should attempt the work as it stands.

Professor Magee says: Comparing the measurements of the average University of California girl student with those taken at Wellesley, we find that the native California girl surpasses her Eastern sister in the matter of general symmetrical development. It is agreed that the climate is more responsible than any other factor in bringing about these results. California girls indulge in much more outdoor exercise than those of the Eastern States. The Wellesley girls' strength is rated at 206 pounds; that of the California girl at 241.9 pounds. The Raphael standard type of woman would have a lung capacity of 150.8 cubic inches, her height being five feet five inches. The California girl, whose average height is nearly two inches less, has a lung capacity of precisely the same volume, which is about ten cubic inches more than the lung capacity of the Wellesley girl.

Admirable as is the hen in many respects—in breakfasts and certain mixed-potations the fruit of her industry is indispensable—her capacity is unlimited. If she has ever learned at all, she has learned slowly and against her will; she is wedded to tradition; she does things to-day in front of the incubator precisely as she did in the ark. The older and more active she grows the more foolish she becomes, declares the Providence Journal. She contemplates a collection of doorknobs with the same blind, complacent confidence with which her ancestors on the maternal side regarded their fifty years ago; she always doges in the wrong direction; she always escapes the missiles intended for her and usually succeeds in having her own insane, erratic way. It is impossible to deceive her, because she is a past mistress in the art of perpetrating mischief herself. When the Department of Agriculture educates, reforms and improves the hen it has earned the right to cackle.

In his remarks to the Commercial Club of St. Paul, James J. Hill declared that he was a prodigal nation. The phrase is one of such happy coincidence that it might be styled an inspiration, comments the New York World. The conditions which make it apt would be far from inspiring if we were forced to look upon them as enduring. For we are indeed a prodigal nation; not only of our natural resources, to which Mr. Hill referred and which we exploit without the slightest thought of what is to follow when the treasures are empty, but of our physical and mental energies as well. We are money-reckless, work-reckless, ambition-reckless, play-reckless, social-reckless, according to our spheres and our callings. We are cutting down our forests and our nerves, exhausting our mines and our mettle, piling our speculations and our aspirations to the towering point. Literally, in the heat of the day we take no thought for the morrow. As an exhibition rush it is superfluous. It is not the same life any more than it is the simple. The signs are out—when the graft exposures red-lettered among them—that it is time to slow up and sober up.

GEORGIA BRIEFS

Road is Not for Sale.

Colonel J. M. Williams of Savannah, president of the Georgia, Florida and Alabama railway, denies that the road is for sale. Several days ago a report was published that the property was on the market.

None But White Democrats.

The democratic executive committee of the county of Butts met in Jackson a few days ago and fixed the date of May as the date of the primary election for the county officers and representatives. They adopted a resolution which read as follows: "That none but registered white democrats be allowed to vote in the primary."

To Test Money Lending Act.

As a test of the new money lending act an Atlanta money lender has employed counsel, and will see whether the act of 1904 is constitutional. The constitution provides that all laws shall be uniform in their operation and effect, and shall not discriminate against any individual or set of individuals. The law will be argued in the supreme court shortly.

New Quota for Atlanta Pen.

It is stated that at an early date about 200 additional prisoners will be brought to Atlanta from various points and placed in the federal prison of which will be the total number of prisoners housed there about 700 and greatly assist in the building of the new cell block. When this new cell block has been completed, the federal prison will have a capacity of 2,400 prisoners.

Wanted for Stealing Watermelons.

Governor Terrell issued a rather unusual requisition a few days ago. He called upon the governor of Tennessee to turn over to the Georgia authorities a white man who is wanted in Walker county for stealing six watermelons. After making way with the six watermelons, the culprit escaped across the Georgia line and has finally been located in Tennessee, from where he will be brought back if the governor of Tennessee will give him up.

A New Railroad Chartered.

A charter has been issued to the Sparks Railway and Construction company by Secretary of State Philip Cook. This company has been organized with a capital stock of $150,000 for the purpose of building a railroad from some point on the Georgia Southern and Florida between Lenox and Adel, in Berrien county, west to a point on the line of the Atlantic and Birmingham at Moultrie or between Moultrie and Norman Park, a distance of about twenty-five miles.

Life Company for South.

The Southern State Life Insurance company, a big old-line organization, with prominent Atlanta headquarters, has begun business in the Gate City about April 1. This announcement will be received with the liveliest interest all over the south, for the south will be the southern territory of the new company. The capital stock of the company will be $100,000 with a $50,000 surplus. Capital and surplus are paid up and will probably be doubled in the next two months.

Pension Money Loaned the State.

In order that his loaned pension money to the state, a pensioner who fought for the south during the war between the states may receive their unpaid pensions which are in arrears by the last legislature without waiting until that body can authorize an additional appropriation, a former Confederate soldier and a pensioner, has written the beneficiary of the veterans to this effect. Under the terms of the loan, Governor Terrell is not at liberty to make known the name of the party.

The deficit in the pension appropriation is about $17,000 and affects principally the pensioners in Newton and Clarke counties.

Alleged Crackmen Jailed.

Dynamite cartridges, dynamite, nitro-glycerine and four big building pistols were discovered in a grip at the Cannon house in Atlanta a few days ago. As the grip had been found in a room which had been occupied by a gang of desperadoes who had been arrested and sent to the stockade, the officers at once concluded that the gang were burglars and safe blowers.

General Duvall Assigned.

To Command Department of Gulf With Headquarters in Atlanta. Formal announcement is made at the war department in Washington of the assignment of Brigadier General Duvall to the command of the department of the Gulf with headquarters at Atlanta. General Duvall, who has a splendid record in the army corps, in which he served many years, is one of the most popular officers of the army.

police decided that the best and safest place for men who had such an outfit was the tower. Accordingly, the nine men were taken from the stockade and placed in the tower. For some weeks past the police have received information of burglaries and safe blowing in the small towns near Atlanta.

James M. McMichael, night marshal of Forsyth, accompanied by D. G. Hunt of the same place, arrived in Atlanta shortly after the incarceration of the prisoners, and, going to the tower, took a look at them. McMichael identifies a pistol seized with the other plunder as one that was taken from him recently when he was bound and caged and a bank in Forsyth robbed. Hunt identified one of the men as one who had been in his store the day before the robbery was committed.

Georgia Boys' Corn and Cotton Contest.

Boys or girls desiring to enter the corn and cotton contest for prizes this year may obtain the conditions from the proper official in their own county. The contestants in the various counties must submit their specimens of corn and cotton to judges to be named by the commissioners, each county offering its own prizes to stimulate interest in its immediate territory.

The judges at the respective county seats are to award the local prizes, and their winners will then compete for the grand prizes offered by the State Fair Association, the exhibit of which will be held in Atlanta next fall. These state fair prizes are as follows:

First prize . . . $75
Second prize . . . 50
Third prize . . . 25
Four prizes at . . . 10
Five prizes at . . . 5

Not does this complete the large and attractive array of premiums.

In order to encourage the counties to secure as large a number of entries for the county contest, the State Fair Association, the exhibit of which will be held in Atlanta next fall, offers for the greatest number of entries of corn and cotton from the individual county: first prize $50, second prize $25. In addition, there will be a $1 prize to the best exhibit of either corn or cotton from counties not receiving one of the large twenty-four prizes.

Idle Cotton Mills Sold.

Under a foreclosure of the mortgage held by the United States Mortgage and Trust company, the Atlanta Cotton mills, which have been shut down for over a year, were bought in by the bondholders of the company at a recent sale conducted by the receiver.

The price paid for the property was $15,000, and was made by the trustees for the bondholders.

The plans of the bondholders who have secured the property, which are known, and it has not been learned whether the mills will be put in operation soon or not.

To Investigate Killing of Convict.

Warden Jake Moore of the state penitentiary went to Macon under instructions from the prison commission to investigate the recent killing of the convict, Wade Berry, who was shot by G. W. O'Leary, one of the guards.

The coroner's verdict was one of justifiable homicide, witnesses testifying that Berry was making an attempt to escape by the use of a piece of coal taken from the penitentiary.

The prison commission is determined, however, to get to the bottom of the matter.

These felony convicts, though worked by the counties, are still under the jurisdiction of the prison commission, and it must, therefore, look into this matter.

PRESIDENT CANNOT ATTEND.

Forests Invitation of Atlanta Wheeler Memorial Committee. Colonel Livingston and Senator Clay went to the white house Friday and presented to the president the memorial of the Wheeler Memorial committee relative to the proposed visit of a delegation to extend to President Roosevelt an invitation to be present.

The president told the Georgians that it would be absolutely impossible for him to leave Washington to attend the reunion and memorial exercises and discontinued the suggestion of sending a delegation to extend the formal invitation.

ENGINE CREW MEET DEATH.

Locomotive Turned Over and Three Men Were Killed Under It. Three men were killed by the engine of the Baltimore and Ohio short line at Smithfield, W. Va., Monday morning. A freight engine turned over and the engine crew were killed. The men were literally roasted by escaping steam.
