THE YOKE OF DEBT,

THE heaviest yoke mankind has to bear is the Yoke of Debt. There really is but little excuse for this Yoke of Debt in the majority of cases. Debt is generally caused by living right up to every dollar of an income. When trouble, loss, sickness, death or some unusual expense occurs, there is nothing left to tide over.

It means so little to you now to save out a few dollars every week; so little that it seems trifling. But start. Make your first deposit—the account will grow, and you will never have to fear the Yoke of Debt.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. JULIA A. WILLIAMS, deceased of this life November 28th, 1905, at her home in Bulloch county, Ga., aged 70 years and 10 months.

Her sister Williams joined the Methodist church in her teens and lived a consistent Christian life until the day when God called her to the presence of her laborers and sing the praise of Him who brought them with his own precious blood.

On December 15th, 1850, she was married to Mr. Williams, who still lingers here below, waiting for that happy reunion on high. Ten children survive her, all of whom are consistent members of the church, and who can testify to the worth of a good mother.

This writer knew Mrs. Williams for more than thirty years, and can say without reservation that she was a good Christian, a kind neighbor, and one who was always ready to respond to every enterprise of the church which lay in her power to meet. While she made no great demonstration, she evinced to all that she was a true servant of her Lord. In all the relations of life, as wife, mother and neighbor, she acted her part well. While we mourn and weep over this dear one, the memory of her life still abides with us. She always took great delight in entertaining the itinerant preachers, and many were the recipients of her unbounded hospitality.

She suffered much during the long weary days that she lay upon her dying bed, as the disease beat with tempestuous force upon her frail form, but she bore it all with Christian patience and fortitude, and now she is hasting in resplendent glory, beckoning her kindred and friends to come to her, that beautiful home where suffering and sorrow are unknown. Mine Victims Number 1,212

Paris, March 18.—Hundreds of funerals are being held today at the town surrounding Courrières, where the mine disaster Saturday resulted in the loss more than a thousand lives. Snow has fallen, the lines of mourners fill every road, many of them carrying caskets, as the number of hearers obtainable are insufficient.

At Billy-Montagny a rough altar was erected in open air and funeral services were conducted over sixty bodies. Another and similar ceremony occurred at Mericourt over the unidentified dead.

The companies' latest figures show that there were 1,212 victims of the explosion.

Mine Director Meyer, Herrne Prussia with his rescue corps of Westphalians, recovered 26 more bodies this morning. The heroic efforts of the Germans are exciting admiration and praise.

Negro at Dance Shot to Death.

Franklin, Ga., March 12.—On J. J. Daniel's plantation near this place, Woody Lockett shot and instantly killed Shook Cowder at a negro dance. It appears that he had feelings against the negroes. Lockett sent Cowder word that if he came to the dance he would kill him, and when Cowder arrived at the dance Lockett walked up near him and fired his pistol in the air, then Crowder shot him in the jaw.

Lockett returned the fire, shooting him through the head, killing him instantly.

Lockett made his escape. He has only been out of the chain-gang about three weeks.

Fire at Gooding.

On Saturday night the planing mill of the Carleton Lumber Co., at Gooding, was burned. The night watchman had punched the clock where the fire originated, not ten minutes before the entire building was seen in flames. It is either the fault of the boiler or it originated from the watchman's lamp.

The entire mill force were out in a short time and by hard work the large sawmill plant was saved.

Besides the planing mill, two cars standing on the Central railroad tracks were also burned, one being loaded with guano.

The loss was partially covered by $2,000 insurance which was not half the real value.

The company has not decided whether they will put in another planing mill at that point or not.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for cough, croup and whooping cough. Knocked Columns From Under Shed

On Saturday night a crowd of unknown parties went to a house belonging to Mr. John T. Brannen and knocked the columns from under the front porch and let the roof fall to the floor. Who it was and what their object was is not known, though suspicion rests on several parties in the community. It is thought that the motive was robbery, and by others it is believed to have been pure hard down meanness on the part of some one who was his enemy.

The Sheriff went out with the blood hounds but failed to track up the guilty parties for the reason that the tracts led off through some plowed ground and the wind had blown a lot of sand in their trail, making it difficult for the dogs to trail several hours after the tracks were made.

Curs and Traitors

He Brands Them

Albany, N. Y., March 16.—Judge Andrew Hamilton appeared most unexpectedly, and dramatically before the insurance investigating committee late yesterday afternoon, and in a scathing and sensational speech defended his own acts, and attacked the trustees of the New York Life Insurance company, referring to persons among them unnamed as "curs and traitors," and as having betrayed the late President John McCall to his death.

He declared that every dollar ever spent by him on the account of the New York Life was with the full knowledge and approval of the proper officers of the company. He said a bill should be passed which would sweep out of office the present boards of control of the insurance companies.

His speech made a profound sensation and was frequently and warmly applauded.
