Judge J. K. Hines, of Atlanta, has been attending court this week.

Mr. T. J. Hendly, now of the blooming young city of Lyons was among those who came over to court this week.

Col. L. J. Cowart, of Lyons, was over this week. We observed that the colonel had thrown to the four winds the Hoke Smith button that he has been displaying on the lapel of his coat. He is admirer of the invincible Dick Russell now.

Mr. Lafayette Groover, living two miles from town, reports the first corn tassels of the season. The corn was planted on the 14th of February in the garden and is now in full tassel.

Judge M. E. Cannon, of the 1575th district, called in on Monday to renew his subscription. Judge Cannon is justice of the peace in his district and says that the civil case that has been placed on the docket in that district was last March a year ago. There had been one warrant issued since then, but the case was settled. This is a fine showing for the prosperity and morals of that good section of Bulloch.

Mr. J. C. Webb, Jr., of Garfield, brought down a fine load of bacou and hams this week and called in and renewed his subscription for another twelve months.

Mrs. E. B. Seckinger, of Mobile, Ala., is visiting at the home of her father, Eld. M. F. Stubbs.

The condition of Mr. W. L. Kennedy, who has been ill during the past two or three weeks, is unchanged.

Mr. J. E. Winski has been dangerously sick at his home about five miles from town for the past week or two.

Master Frank McCoy's condition is still very critical.

Mr. J. H. Roberts has been quite sick during this week.

Sick headache results from a derangement of the stomach and liver. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Sold by All Druggists.

L. R. Lanier Seriously Shot

On Monday night Mr. L. R. Lanier, of near Portal, was seriously wounded from a gun shot in the hands of a negro by the name of John Cunningham. It seems that the negro had deserted his wife, who lived on Mr. Lanier's place. He came back and raised a row with his wife and Mr. Lanier, in order to stop the disturbance on his farm, ordered Cunningham to leave, when the latter turned on him and shot him. While the wound is not fatal, yet it is very painful. A posse has been scouring the woods for the negro since that time but he had not been apprehended at last accounts.

Death of Dr. Edward W. Lane.

Dr. Edward W. Lane, who died at the home of his son, Dr. R. Y. Lane, on Winthrop street, April 15th, was a descendant of a famous old South-Irish family, who came to America from Queenstown, Cork county, Ireland, in 1783. Dr. Lane, the grandfather of the subject of this sketch, joined a colony from North Carolina, came to Georgia and settled in Emanuel county, crossing the Ogeechee river from the point where Milken now is. At the home made by Dr. Lane, Dr. E. W. Lane, their eldest son, was born on the 28th day of July, 1823. This portion of Georgia was very sparsely settled then, and Dr. Lane well remembers the building of the Central railroad.

In 1848 he was married to Miss Caroline Lane, a descendant of the North Carolina Huguenots. Eight children were born to them, six of whom survive: Dr. John L. Lane, of Brooklet; Dr. R. Y. Lane, of Metter; Mrs. Annie Branson, of Durdenville; Mrs. Susie Kemp, of McLeods; and Mrs. Fannie Johnson, of Summit.

Dr. Lane graduated from the Oglethorpe Medical college at Savannah in 1857, and then took a course at the University of Louisville, Ky., where he received a diploma the following year, 1858. He came back to his home county and took up the practice of medicine, and no physician in that country was more successful or more generally beloved than Dr. Lane.

His friends, not satisfied to let him lead a private life, elected him to the Georgia senate in 1860, where he served them faithfully and well.

The death of his beloved wife on March 12, 1861, seemed to have ended his aspirations as to a public career, and he retired from the practice of medicine after her death, and lived a quiet, peaceful life on his farm. But in the quietude of his family life he was ever alive to public welfare and enterprise. He was a strong advocate of a new county for Milken, and held to no old foggy ideas as to cutting up the counties.

Since the marriage of his daughters he has made his home with his son, Dr. R. Y. Lane, and moved with him to Milken only a few months ago.

Dr. Lane has been in a very feeble condition for some time, but was bright and cheerful to the last, and faced death with the calm fortitude and undaunted bravery that has characterized his whole life.

He was probably one of the oldest Masons in the state, having joined a lodge on Taylor's creek in his early life, when there was no means of transportation, and an attendant, upon a meeting entailed several days journey on horseback.

Dr. Lane was a man of remarkable intelligence, broad-minded and conservative, nothing grovelingly low or mean ever came near his head or heart. He enjoyed a wide popularity, and will be sorely missed by his friends and relatives.

The funeral services were conducted at the residence of his son, Dr. R. Y. Lane, by Rev. F. P. Singleton, who paid a beautiful tribute to the life just spent, and said he had only seen a few of the latest pages turned, but had learned to love and admire the character of the man.

The interment took place at the family burying ground with Masonic honors.

With loving hearts and tearful eyes we say farewell to this grand old man, and hope the world will see more like him.

Dr. Lane is survived by one sister and one brother, Mrs. Annie Clifton of Bulloch county, and R. Y. Lane, president Merchants' Bank, Valdosta, Milken News.

To Have Re-Union.

The Confederate veterans of the county are planning for another re-union. The time and place has not been selected as yet. It has been suggested that, in event that it is held at Statesboro, a fund be raised and a magnificent banquet dinner be spread at the Hotel to the Veterans and their wives, admitting also the widows of Confederate veterans; that this spread be made as sumptuous as it is possible to make it, and that the balance of the crowd can be taken care of at a basket dinner in the grove at the park where the speaking will be made. The reason for this is that in the big crowds that swarm around these places the veterans, whose benefit the occasion is intended for, are often pushed aside by young men who rush up to the table and cut them out.

The above plan has a number of supporters around here.

Business Methods in Farming.

Thousands of farmers in the more opulent agricultural region of the country still conduct their farms in a haphazard way, but everywhere the advance and necessity of the business spirit are being recognized. The West has been warned, for example, that the fertilizer problem of the East and the South will have to be met before many decades unless the soils are put under better rotations and economy of land is being practiced. It is now generally accepted as a truism that the better the business man the agriculturist of to-day becomes, the more profitable will be found that occupation which once was described by a keen, though not wholly wise farmer, in the statement that "farmin' ain't all keepin' books, by a long shot."—Boston Globe.

Strawberries Come High

Mr. Remer Franklin brought in a large lot of fine strawberries on Wednesday and sold them here in a short time. They sold readily at 25 cents per quart. They were very fine, and the fact that the local berry is known to be much sweeter than the ones shipped in here, they demand a much better price.

VOL. 6, NO. 8

PRIMARY AUGUST 22.

The State Democratic Executive Committee which met in Atlanta yesterday fixed August 22nd as the date for the state primary. As we go to press the committee is still in session and the question of rules, place and date for convention had not been fixed, though it is believed that the convention will be held in Macon.

A Banner Month

The cash receipts of the News was more in the month of April than in any previous April since we have been in business. It is not a question of getting business with us but the question is collecting for it and making a fair profit on the business that we do. The margin of profit is so small when we give two papers a week for a dollar a year, and insert advertisements in 2700 papers, each issue, for ten cents an inch, that it makes it absolutely necessary for us to collect our bills 100 cents on the dollar, and get them promptly at that.

Rawlings Wants to Hang.

Valdosta, Ga., April 28.—The fact that a reprieve is again likely in the case of J. G. Rawlings and his two sons, Milton and Jesse, under sentence of death for the murder of the two Carter children, does not set well with the old man. Rawlings today wrote Attorney Cooper not to do anything more to defer the execution as he wants to be through with it. After citing a number of other reasons why he wanted to be hung, he added: "Passmore is elected sheriff again and I would rather contend with the devil than him."

Rawlings then wrote the Governor, asking him to let the execution take place on the day appointed, and not grant any more reprieves. In the jail today Rawlings said:

"There is neither rhyme nor reason making a man live when he wants to die. When life becomes so miserable that a man wants to die it is neither mercy nor justice to keep putting off his death. I have written the Governor twice, asking him not to grant any more reprieves, and I hope he will be kind enough to consider my wishes in the matter."

Rawlings pretends that he is mistreated in the jail by the sheriff, and he nor his lawyer hardly ever utters a good word for Sheriff Passmore. As a matter of fact, the sheriff has not been cruel nor unkind to the prisoners. He has treated them as other prisoners are treated and has been much more patient with Rawlings than many other men might have been.

I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence."

Rural Routes in Danger.

The several rural routes in Bulloch county are somewhat endangered. We are informed that an inspector will be here within the next few days to investigate their usefulness as well as the patronage they receive. If there are any that fall below a certain amount of patronage it may be that the service on them will be curtailed. While we are pretty sure that none of them will be found short of the required amount, yet this may prove to be true. We hope that our friends who want the mail carried to their door each and every day in the week will not fail to patronize the rural routes.

Sciatica Cured After Twenty Years of Torture.

For more than twenty years Mr. J. B. Massey, of 3222 Clinton St., Minneapolis, Minn., was tormented by sciatica. The pain and suffering which he endured during this time is beyond comprehension. Nothing gave him any permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. One application of that liniment relieved the pain and made sleep and rest possible. He has since used it for his sciatica, and it has cured him. He writes: "I would appreciate any information as to his whereabouts."

Judge Russell Gets Many Buttons.

Ashburn, Ga., April 28.—Judge Russell, candidate for governor, addressed a large and enthusiastic audience of Turner county voters here today. Judge Russell spoke for two hours and forty minutes, and was closely followed by his hearers. At the conclusion of his address some of the strongest supporters of Hoke Smith, men of standing and influence in the county, walked up to Mr. Russell, gave him their hand and assured him of their support, and those who had on Hoke Smith buttons also gave him their buttons. Judge Russell spoke to the voters of Worth yesterday at Sylvester. He says that he had 28 Hoke Smith buttons given him by Hoke Smith supporters.

It is much better to have fifty acres worked well, declares the Weekly Witness, than one hundred acres allowed to practically grow up as it places. It is much better for you and much better for your neighbor as well.

The appearance of South African penches in American markets is another proof of the increasing littleness of the globe, thinks the Boston Transcript. They are still about as valuable, weight for weight, as the diamonds from the same district, but they will come down.

Thirty years ago a camera was a rarity, reflects the World's Work. The enthusiast who possessed one carried a mountain of traps and a smothered in a tent during the tedious manipulation of the wet plates. Last year the United States alone made 300,000 cameras, working with mere pressure of a bulb or button, and the respective commercial total of $20,000,000.

Man as a race is only a child, declares the Chicago Monist. He has been on the globe but a little while, long indeed compared with the fleeting evanescence that constitute the most of common life, but very short, the merest fraction of a second, in the infinite stretch of time. Circumstances have not, in general, favored the development of his higher potentialities. His chief occupation has been the destruction and evasion of his enemies, contention for mere existence against hostile environment.

The value of our college education is not the amount of raw knowledge which it gives us, declares G. H. Merriam. There are men whose minds are amazingly full of facts, yet not one would call them educated men. And there are others who have comparatively few facts at their command yet you instinctively recognize that they are educated. For true education is not meant to store up; true education is intended to awaken us; and the joy of the truly educated man is no poor pride in his superior knowledge; it is that he has been so awakened that in every realm and sphere he can see glories unobserved before.

The annual report of the savings banks of New York gives the aggregate of deposits in the 130 banks as $1,059,899,994, states the Boston Herald. This is a gain of $193,000,000 over last year, and reflects, the World thinks, "public distrust of life insurance management." Two dollars were deposited for every dollar drawn out, and the number of open accounts is now 2,569,779. The aggregate of deposits is equivalent to the saving of $1,000 by each average family, and is $200 apiece for every inhabitant of the State. "Notwithstanding the rigid restrictions of the savings bank law," says the World, "which prohibits all investments in stocks and restricts the investments in bonds to well-established, conservative securities, the savings banks earn a higher net percentage on their assets than did the three great life insurance companies."

TOWN TORNADOED

Bellevue, Texas, Wiped Out By a Cyclone.

ELEVEN KNOWN VICTIMS

Besides the Killed, Many Persons Are Seriously Hurt—Majority of the Citizens Sought Safe Refuge in Storm Pits.

A tornado which swept through Bellevue, Texas, Thursday destroyed everything in its path and as a result practically the entire town was a mass of ruins, only three buildings now standing, at least eleven persons are dead and a number are injured. The tornado was followed by fire, which consumed the wreckage.

This report was sent from the top of a telephone pole a mile from Bellevue, but it was as close as a wire could be had. The town of Bellevue consisted of over 200 houses.

Among those who are known to have been killed are: R. L. Russell, wife and four children, A. D. Card, Tom Mount, W. W. Bell, candidate for county treasurer of the Clay county, two sons of the Gray family. Seriously injured: Two daughters of N. E. Smith of Bowie, Mrs. Gault, Mr. Gray and seven members of his family, two of whom have since died; Mrs. McGraw.

The whole business section of the town and all stocks of merchandise were destroyed.

The tornado was a mile wide and traveled over the earth for a distance of eight miles, leveling everything in its path, ruining crops and destroying all farm houses and barns on the way. This section is thickly settled and it will be some time before there are complete reports of the dead.

The fact that so few were killed is accounted for by the fact that practically every house was equipped with a storm cellar and the people ran to them as soon as they saw the tornado approaching. Those who had no storm cellars or who could not reach them were the ones who suffered. Last winter many lives were lost in the same neighborhood by a tornado.

Conservative estimates place the loss between $150,000 and $175,000. The inhabitants of the town are not only homeless, but without food, clothing and shelter. All their possessions being swept away. Relief is being hastened to them from neighboring towns.

VETS CHOOSE RICHMOND

As Place of Next Confederate Reunion—Business Session Closes With Re-Election of Old Officers.

The formal business of the sixteenth reunion of the Confederate Veterans came to a close in New Orleans Thursday afternoon. One day of the reunion proper was left and that was devoted to the parade of the veterans Friday morning.

Richmond, Va., was selected as the place for holding the next reunion, the choice being made by acclamation. The only competitor of Richmond was Birmingham, Ala., but the sentiment in favor of Richmond was so strong that the advocates of Birmingham did not allow the matter to come to a vote and withdrew in favor of Richmond before a roll call was ordered. The fact that the monument of Jefferson Davis is to be unveiled in Richmond next year was a potent influence with many of the old soldiers, and they were all exceedingly anxious to hold their next meeting in that city.

The reunion, viewed from a business standpoint, was very uneventful. The chief new measures of importance to be adopted were one which will recommend to the different states that persons be paid to slaves now living, who followed their masters to the war, and one which declares in favor of the setting apart of one day in the year by each camp of the organization for memorial services in honor of the Confederate dead.

The day closed with a great ball in honor of the visiting veterans, which was held in the auditorium on Thursday night.

With the exception of the time consumed by the presentation to General W. L. Cabell of a gold medal by the veterans of Arkansas, the second day of the reunion was in its opening hours devoted strictly to business. The reports of the committee on credentials, the battle Abbey and historical committee being received and approved. The presentation of the medal to General Cabell was marked by a display of an enthusiastic outburst of affection and regard for that grizzled veteran, which deprived him of speech for a few moments, and nearly overmastered him entirely. Quickly recovered, however, he expressed his gratification, which was to the effect that in a few words of deep appreciation, which were to the effect that he valued the medal as a testimonial from his old comrades.

The following resolutions were reported and adopted: "That any camp which has failed to pay its per capita tax for five years may have its charter suspended after due notice has been given, provided that any member of a defunct camp may retain his membership by paying his annual dues to the camp nearest his place of residence."

"That all subordinate camps hold annually in the month of January memorial services in honor of the dead of the camp who have died in the preceding year."

"That all camps be urged to use every effort to raise funds for the monument to Confederate veterans in the department of Virginia, in attempting to preserve the earthworks in and around Petersburg be indorsed."

Less Stringent Exclusion Laws Favored by Cotton Mill Men. On the ground that annoyances to which Chinese merchants and other prominent Chinamen are subjected on arrival here, are directly responsible for the killing of American missionaries and the boycotting of American cotton exports in China, resolutions calling for a less stringent interpretation of the Chinese exclusion laws were adopted by the National Association of Manufacturers at their meeting in Boston Thursday.

VETERANS GATHER

Annual Reunion of Old Soldiers in New Orleans.

ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME

Host of Warrior-Heroes of the Lost Cause Meet to Fight Memorable Battles Over Again in Crescent City.

Under weather conditions that were ideal, attended by a multitude that tried to the utmost the great auditorium erected for the occasion, and with enthusiasm unbounded, the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans was called to order in New Orleans Wednesday morning.

In the heart of a city which has borne the brunt of battle, and worn the weeds of mourning for its sake, the confederacy was revived again by those who cherish it for everything that it was intended to be, and who it means to them and to the south.

The tales of the heroism, the sacrifice, the agony and the glory of the great days were told again to those who never wavered in their faith, and who cheered and wept by turns, as the bright or somber side of the picture was turned to view.

No reunion was ever held under fairer auspices. The arrangements of the temporary building erected for the reunion were unsurpassed, and the details of the vast work of handling the great throng of visitors was carried out with precision and care.

The first session of the day saw the reunion formally launched upon its career. General S. D. Lee, the commander-in-chief, Adjutant General Mickle and other officers of the order presided over the reports, and General Lee delivered his formal address. There were other speeches, almost without number. The veterans were welcomed by Mayor Blanchard for the city, by the Veterans of Louisiana, the Sons of Veterans of Louisiana, by the citizens of New Orleans, and by members of various affiliated societies.

There were songs by young women and reverent prayers by ministers of the gospel.

The afternoon was given over to the memory of the confederate dead. Addresses, extolling their valor, patriotism and devotion were cheered again and again. Beautiful women and stalwart men combined their voices in hymns of praise, and the whole service proved that while the men themselves are gone, the memory what they were and what they did will never be forgotten by those who have inherited the land they fought to save.

Every roof pillar was covered from top to bottom with white and red bunting wound in alternate bands and between the uprights hung, first, the confederate flag, then the national colors, then the stars and bars again, the spaces being filled in this manner from end to end of the hall. The roof was concealed by ropes of red and white tulle, caught up at regular intervals by small confederate flags.

Portraits of the leaders of the confederacy were placed at regular intervals throughout the hall.

BIGELOW SHIELDS CASHIER.

Convicted Banker Appears in Court at Milwaukee as a Witness. Frank G. Bigelow, president of the First National bank of Milwaukee, but now serving a ten years' sentence at Fort Leavenworth prison as a confessed defaulter to the extent of over a million dollars, was the star witness Wednesday in the trial of Henry G. Golt, former assistant cashier of the same bank, charged with making false entries and misapplying funds of the bank. Bigelow testified that many of the transactions with which Golt, the defendant, is charged were made with his knowledge and under his direction.

GALLOWS IS WOMAN'S DOOM. For Third Time Death Sentence is Imposed on Mrs. Valentina. At Hackensack, N. J., Wednesday, for the third time a death sentence was passed upon Mrs. Anna Valentina, convicted of the murder of Rosa Selza. Mrs. Valentina was saved from execution on her two previous sentences through the agency of petitions and by efforts of the Italian government which resulted finally in carrying her case to the supreme court of the United States. This court decided against her.

STROHBAR IS ACQUITTED.

Alleged Embezzler of Funds of A. C. L. Declared Not Guilty by Jury in Atlanta Court.

In the Fulton county superior court at Atlanta, Tuesday, J. N. Strohbar was acquitted of the charge of larceny after trial, in that he was charged with having fraudulently converted to his own use $1,708.18 of the funds of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad entrusted to him as agent of said railroad at Gainesville, Fla.

No sooner was the verdict in the superior court which restored him to liberty announced than Strohbar was taken in custody to await the determination by Governor Terrell of a request for extradition upon the charge of larceny after trust of some $20,000 of the funds of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, from the governor of Florida.

Strohbar was taken in custody by a deputy sheriff, and was committed to the Tower. Argument upon the requisition from the governor of Florida will be heard by Governor Terrell.

The application for requisition will be stubbornly opposed by Strohbar's counsel, it being alleged by them that he is ready to return to Florida and to face any charges own record may face any charges against him, but that he will resist any attempt to take him there under arrest.

The defense relied upon the establishment of an alibi. They introduced evidence to show that Strohbar left Jacksonville on the morning of August 30 arrived in Savannah at 12:50 p. m. of that day, and that it was physically impossible for him to have been in Atlanta on that day before the hour at which the banks close.

Strohbar's statement that he had paid out large sums for the railroad company, for which, according to their agent, he had taken no vouchers, created a sensation. He alleged that secret rebates paid to shippers of fruit, vegetables and phosphates, in violation of interstate commerce laws, would account for large sums of money which the road claimed that he had embezzled.

Immediately after the announcement of the jury's verdict of "not guilty," a crowd surrounded Strohbar, who has been all devotion during the trial, since he was extradited from Canada. Many shook hands with him and congratulated him, and Strohbar, who had maintained the utmost composure during his trial, broke down and wept.

Reverently attended by the official corps of the nation he loved and served so well, by the ambassadorial representatives of the land in which he died, by the chief executive of the state beneath whose soil his bones rest, and by the representatives of the men and women of the country whose first admiral he was, the remains of John Paul Jones were given sepulture in the crypt beneath the grand marble stairway of Bancroft hall at Annapolis, Tuesday, there to rest until the completion of the chapel in which they are to be deposited.

The president devoted his brief address to a tribute to John Paul Jones. Addresses were delivered by Ambassador Jusserand, representing France, General Horace Porter and Governor Edwin Warfield of Maryland.

WOMEN IN MEN'S CLOTHING.

Difficult to Distinguish Sexes in the Refugee Camps at 'Frisco. In some of the provisional camps established for refugees in San Francisco, it is now difficult to distinguish between men and women. Evidently the women from women's clothing had been exhausted, for many women could be seen dressed in soft shirts or overalls, and their faces, unconcerned, preparting breakfast. It was no time for false modesty, and those who were able to make themselves comfortable in any sort of clothing were indeed fortunate.

TENNESSEE MOST LUCKY.

The fellow who ran for Representative on the Hoke Smith ticket, in Fulton county, the home of Hoke, on last Friday, got beat by nearly 1,000 majority. His name was W. A. Sims. At last accounts he had gone towards the tall timbers to join Peek and Irwin, of Rockdale.

Wanted: Someone to accept the chairmanship of the Fulton county Hoke Smith club. Later: After three unsuccessful efforts a fellow from down about East Point finally agreed to be offered up as a sacrifice.

In Clarke county they are taking up a popular subscription to aid the getting up of a county exhibit at the state fair. It is proposed to raise $700, and near $500 has already been raised. In Bulloch county one man has always shouldered the entire burden and has never asked a single solitary pick of help. We spent $1,500 last year before we knew that we would get a cent back in return.

Unpopular At Home

We keep on saying that a man should have some standing at home before he goes out to ask other folks to endorse him. Some time ago, Mr. Clark Howell made the proposition to Hoke Smith, inasmuch as both lived in the same county, that they submit their claims to the voters in the local primary called for last Friday and if he failed to beat Hoke two to one in the county in which both lived and failed to carry Hoke Smith's own ward two to one he would get out of the race for governor.

The result of the Primary held on Friday shows why Hoke had the good sense to refuse the proposition. The ticket for representative headed by the Hoke Smith faction was defeated by nearly one thousand majority.

A Lazy Liver.

A torpid, inactive liver can produce more bodily ills than almost anything else. It is good to clean the system out occasionally. Stir the liver up, and get into shape generally. Will Build Hospital

We are informed that a stock company is being organized in the county to build a first class hospital in Statesboro. It is the intention of those who are back of the movement to equip it with all the latest appliances so that it will be absolutely unnecessary for any one to leave here to go to a hospital for treatment.

We learn that already twelve thousand dollars have been subscribed to this week. It is the intention of the promoters to raise $15,000.00 to build this sanitarium with.

It is also intended to add a free ward to it, so that those who are unable to pay for treatment can be treated any way. It may be that the county may be asked to help this feature along some, and it is hoped that the authorities may be induced to assist.

Letter From "Hayseed."

Editor News—I am afraid there is a very important question coming before the people of the south and Georgia in particular, in the near future, and it behooves us to take time by the forelock and stop the game, which is a short time ago I saw in this paper where a committee from an Ensign syndicate of cotton spinners are traveling over the south, spying out the land with the aim of buying up the water. John Bull tried directly to conquer the United States in 1770 and failed, and now he is trying indirectly to get what he failed to get then. Ever since our war, when cotton went sky high, he has tried to get the cotton for his spindles at starvation prices and failed, and he has found out that this is the country for cotton. He is aiming now, so the paper stated to buy up land here in Georgia in Laurens, Dodge and other counties, and if he succeeds, that land is gone forever from our posterity, for as long as the human family needs clothing just so long will they hold on to the land and make our people make cotton for him at starvation prices. It is up to our lawmakers to look into the matter and if they do buy up the land to levy such a heavy tax on land owned by aliens, so as to force them to sell for homes of our own people. I think such a law would be constitutional, but don't know whether it would interfere with treaty rights or not. Would like to hear from our legal friends about the matter.

Relief Is Possible.

It is possible to obtain relief from chronic indigestion and dyspepsia by the use of Kofol For Dyspepsia. Some of the most hopeless cases of long standing have yielded to it. It enables you to digest the food you eat and exercises a corrective influence, building up the efficiency of the digestive organs. The stomach is the boiler wherein the steam is made that keeps up your vitality, health and strength. Kofol digests what you eat. Makes the stomach sweet—puts the boiler in condition to do the work nature demands of it, gives you relief from digestive disorders, and puts you in hope to do your best, and feel your best. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

A Good Complexion.

A good complexion is impossible with the stomach out of order. If pasty sallow people would pay more attention to their stomachs and less to the skin on their faces, they would have better complexions. Kofol For Dyspepsia will digest what you eat and put your stomach back in right shape to do its own work. Kofol relieves palpitation of the heart, flatulence, sour stomach, heart burn, etc. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

TURNER-GLISSON CO.

Bowen's Guano Distributor

Is the latest and most successful machine of its kind ever used for distributing commercial fertilizers. It is provided with all the attachments necessary to produce a complete distributor; being attached to the Planet Jr. cultivator, which is still a cultivator endorsed by the leading farmers of the world.

The Bowen Distributor has many advantages over the average distributor, among which only a few are mentioned here:

1st. In covering the fertilizer, it makes a bed any width from 9 to 28 inches wide, and any height desired.
2nd. The hopper holds more than the average machines, hence it is not so filled so often. This is another time and labor saving advantage.
3rd. It distributes damp fertilizers more regularly than other machines because the bottom of the hopper is made of sheet iron, and the outlet larger than that of other machines.
4th. It is the only machine on the market that distributes all brands of commercial fertilizers, whether dry or moist, with an even distribution. Being constructed with an irregular feeding. The hopper is so constructed as to cause the guano to feed from the center, thereby feeding with the same uniformity when almost empty as when full.

TESTIMONIALS:

W. G. Raines, Statesboro, Ga., says: "I have sold your Guano Distributor two seasons and have not had a kick. I consider them O. K."
Hon. J. E. Anderson has used these Distributors and recommends them to the farmers of Bulloch county as the best guano distributor to be had.

We also have testimonials from others who have used and recommend these Distributors as follows: Jas. F. Olmstead, Register; J. W. Williams, Advertiser; M. J. Greene, Claxton; W. L. Street, Register; E. B. Simmons, Statesboro.

Gives Good Advice

Neuralgia is a disease of the nerve and muscles characterized by sharp, dull or lacerating pain and may attack any part of the body. It can be distinguished from inflammatory diseases by the absence of fever. It is one of the most painful, the most grievous of all maladies of the nerve; in fact it is one of the most painful and distressing disorders that afflict the human race. The very name sends a cold chill down one's back as one thinks of the savage twinges of pain the sharp thrusts of agony that have given the exact location of the affected nerves, and have made life so miserable at the same.

Neuralgia may affect one nerve or a set of nerves. Sharpe lacerating darting pain flash through that part of the body where Neuralgia is doing its tortuous and intolerable work of suffering. The head, face, heart, stomach and every part and organ of the body may be subject to the excruciating agonizing torments of this disease. With all these pains there is usually exceedingly extreme tenderness on pressure where the nerve reaches the skin.

Neuralgia is always caused by a depressed condition of the nervous system and a loss of nervous energy consequent upon poverty or impurity of the blood.

A great doctor once said: "Neuralgia is a shriek of a nerve for better nutrition." Certain forms of neuralgia comes from thin blood, others from indigestion, sometimes from diseased teeth. Scarcely the most severe form of neuralgia, and the pain is sometimes due to constipation.

In treatment of neuralgia and others chronic or nerve diseases, there is no remedy that acts so nicely and surely in removing impurities, not only from the blood, nerves and bones, but from the system generally, as the great restorative blood-builder and purifier.

Dillingham's Plant Juice is a quick and certain cure for every disorder of the nervous system and is proved to be such by thousands of the worst cases, in which the restoration to perfect health has been speedy and complete.

Claxton Crowd

Applauds Estill

Claxton, Ga., April 28.—Hon. J. H. Estill, South Georgia's candidate for Governor, last night addressed a monster audience here. The school house auditorium was completely filled by those who had gathered to hear Col. Estill and his speech was received with the greatest applause and the utmost enthusiasm.

Col. Estill was introduced by Hon. John P. Moore, Mayor of Claxton, who paid his respects to the five other candidates for Governor by fitting them up with jobs suitable to their callings, and closed by saying that Col. Estill is the logical candidate and should be elected.

Though tired from a long trip to Greenville, Col. Estill spoke for about one hour on his usual line, with the exception of refusing the charge that had been made against him relative to the wage of a laboring man.

From the commencement to the close of his address, Col. Estill received great applause. He can safely count upon the votes of seven-eighths of those who heard his speech.

THE PRIMARY RESOLUTIONS.

At a meeting of the state democratic committee, held in the city of Atlanta, this April 30, 1906, called for the purpose of fixing the time and prescribing the rules for a state democratic primary election, and fixing the time and place of holding a state democratic convention for nomination of democratic candidates for governor, state house officers, judge, solicitors general and such other officials as are to be elected by the people of the state, at the ensuing elections, it is ordered:

1. That a democratic primary election be held on the 22d day of August, 1906, in each of the 145 counties of the state, of which all white democratic voters who have registered in 1905 or 1906, not less than ten days before said primary, shall have an opportunity to cast their votes for democratic candidates for the following offices, to wit: Governor, attorney general, chief justice of the supreme court, treasurer, commissioner of agriculture, state school commissioner, three associate justices of the supreme court, one United States senator, one prison commissioner, judge of the superior court, solicitor general. And the democratic executive committee in each county is hereby directed to prepare and furnish to the managers of such democratic primary a list of the qualified voters in said county under the terms hereinafter provided.

2. The names of all democratic candidates for offices to be filed as stated above, shall appear upon the official ballot, and shall be voted for directly, the voter striking on said ballot the names of all those candidates for offices for whom he does not desire to vote, and leaving on said ballot the names of those candidates for whom he wishes his ballot to be counted.

3. That on August 23, 1906, at noon, the democratic executive committee of each county shall assemble in the county court house, and consolidate the vote and declare the result, and in each county where any candidate for office shall have received a plurality of the vote cast in that county for said office in said primary election, the delegates selection from such county to the state convention shall be considered as instructed to cast the votes of said county for such candidate in the state convention, and the chairman of the democratic executive committee of such county shall appoint as delegates from said county to the state convention such democrats as the candidate for governor entitled to the vote of such county shall designate in writing. Each county shall be entitled to delegates for each member that is entitled to in the house of representatives. All vacancies in delegations shall be filled in the same manner as prescribed above for the original appointment of delegates. But no county shall send more delegates than it is entitled to individual votes in said convention.

4. The state democratic convention composed of delegates selected in the manner aforesaid, shall assemble in the auditorium in the city of Macon on the fourth day of September, 1906, to nominate a state democratic ticket for the above named offices.

5. In each judicial circuit, where the judge or solicitor general is to be elected, the white democratic voters in the several counties shall express their choice on the same ballot as hereinbefore provided for, and under the same terms as to qualifications for electors. It is ordered further that the vote of the several counties in each circuit for judge and solicitor general shall be consolidated by the county executive committee of each circuit, forwarded to the chairman of the state democratic executive committee, whose duty it shall be to consolidate the vote of the several counties in each circuit for judge and solicitor, and to report the result of such consolidated vote to the state convention, which shall, in turn, declare the result and make nomination accordingly for the several circuits. All candidates for judge and solicitor general receiving the highest vote in their respective circuits shall be placed on the state ticket as the democratic nominees for said office.

6. The official ballot to be voted in said democratic primary election shall have printed thereon the following caption: "STATE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY ELECTION, 1906."

"By voting this ticket, I hereby declare that I am an organized democrat, and I hereby pledge myself to support the organized democracy, both state and national."

No ballot cast in said primary election without such caption and obligation shall be counted by the managers.

7. While white voters, without regard to past political affiliations, who desire to align themselves with the democratic party, are hereby invited, in good faith, to participate in said primary, this invitation is extended to only such voters as accept it in the same spirit of good faith in which it is extended.

Inasmuch as there has arisen a controversy as to the intent of the word "align" in the foregoing, we declare that, as herein used, it means to join the organized democratic party and become a democrat in good faith.

8. In the case of a vacancy occurring in the office of judge or solicitor general in any circuit of the state, the chairman of the state democratic executive committee is hereby authorized to call for a nominating primary election in such circuit to fill the vacancy in ample time before the election shall be had.

9. The chairman of this committee shall prepare a form of official ballot to be used in said democratic primary election, containing the names of all candidates for offices named in paragraph 1, and shall furnish the same to the chairman of each county executive committee in the state at least ten days before said primary election.

10. In the event any ticket is voted in said primary election with the name of any candidate for any of the aforesaid offices omitted therefrom, such ticket or tickets shall be declared invalid, and shall not be counted.

11. No person shall have the right to vote in said democratic primary election whose vote has been purchased, and no candidate who buys or procures to be bought votes in said primary shall receive the nomination of his party, and the democratic executive committee of the county shall have the power, and it is hereby made its duty to throw out and take time to hear evidence, and to refuse to declare as nominee any candidate who purchases or procures to be purchased any votes at said primary election, and the county democratic executive committee, when notified of a contest for such purposes, or on other irregularities, which do not contain the caption and pledge hereinbefore prescribed, and also said purchased votes, also all ballots when the result is declared, either party interested shall have the right to appeal to the state democratic executive committee, which may adopt such rules to hear such appeal as to it may seem proper.

12. Each candidate for state house offices, supreme court judges and United States senator shall be assessed $50 to meet the expenses of said democratic primary, which sum shall include all assessments against such candidates for state and county primary elections, and the name of no candidate shall appear on the ticket who fails to pay the same thirty days before said primary.

13. The county democratic executive committee shall appoint the managers for said democratic election ten days before said primary, and, as far as practicable, shall give representation to contesting candidates in the selection of managers of said primary. Upon timely request and refusal of the county committee to comply with such requests, any candidate shall have the right to appeal to the state democratic executive committee.

14. It is ordered that upon a consolidation of the vote in each county the candidate for United States senate receiving the highest number of votes for that office shall be declared the democratic nominee from that county for said office, and the representative or representatives and senators from such counties, and the senatorial district including such counties, are considered instructed to vote for such nominee in the next general assembly.

Gov. Signs Respite For the Rawlings.

Atlanta, Ga., May 1.—Governor Terrell this morning issued respite to June 8 for J. G. Rawlings, his two sons, Milton and Jesse, and the negro, Alf Moore, all sentenced to die Friday for the murder of the Carter children.

This date was arrived at by the governor after consultation with Attorney-General Hart and careful computation of the time necessary for the decision of the United States supreme court to be made the decree of the Georgia courts.

As thirty days is necessary for the decision to arrive here from Washington that would throw the date to May 16, counting from the time the decision was handed down at the national capital. Some twelve days more will be necessary for the Georgia supreme court to pass on it, and send the remittitur to Lowndes county superior court.

As nearly as possible, Governor Terrell computed the time on this basis, arriving at the date of June 8. The respites went to Valdosta this afternoon.

As yet no formal petition has been presented to the prison commission asking for a commutation of sentence for the father and his two sons. Gen. Evans stated this morning that, inasmuch as the respite had been extended to June 8, the commission would not go into the case at the meeting next week, and probably not until early in June.

Rural Routes in Danger.

Statesboro, Ga., Apr. 30, '06.

To the Patrons of Rural Free Delivery.

There has been a recent ruling at headquarters whereby R. F. D. routes not doing a certain amount of business will either be made tri-weekly routes, going only three times a week, or be discontinued altogether. There are some routes in Bulloch county that are not handling the required amount of mail because of the lack of appreciation of certain patrons on these routes. They are served by faithful carriers who are anxious to give their people the best service possible and would hate to see the routes changed or discontinued, because they have their patrons' interests at heart; besides they make their living this way and would be very glad to see the people take more interest in their routes by writing and receiving more letters, taking more papers and increasing the mail deliveries and collections. The cost to each family would be very small, but in aggregate would amount to a great deal and likely keep the route in commission.

I hope the people will appreciate this and take more interest in and maintain our splendid system of rural free delivery. Let's don't go back; let's be progressive and keep abreast of the times in this fine old section of ours. The farmer has enjoyed no appropriation but rural free delivery; let's hold to it by building and keeping up the standard. Respectfully submitted by One Interested.

It Is Dangerous to Neglect a Cold.

"How often do we hear it remarked: 'It's only a cold,' and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by All Druggists."

Frank McCoy Dead

On Tuesday afternoon, after an illness of two or three weeks, Frank, the 15-year-old son of Mr. D. F. McCoy, died. About three weeks ago he was stricken with both typhoid fever and meningitis. Though he was given the best of medical attention, together with a trained nurse from Savannah, the dread disease claimed him as a victim.

The funeral was held at the Baptist church, where he was a member. Rev. Mr. Massey, the pastor, conducted the services on Wednesday morning in the presence of a large audience of friends and relatives. The interment was made in East Side cemetery.
