Divorce while you wait will now cease to be either popular or profitable.

It is to be hoped, observes the Newport Mail, that this man Burbank will not take it into his head to get up a sour lemon.

The logic of the law of supply and demand is always with us, and while it gives us but little chance to dispute the issue with it upon moral or sentimental ground, it does at times provoke thoughts not on the whole, complimentary to its sense of justice, remarks the New Haven Register.

It is easy enough to cry out against the grafter in official position who puts his hand into the public treasury, says the Chicago Tribune. But the worst offender is the citizen who does not vote, who does not take a lively interest in the selection and election of his rulers, who fails to recognize the underlying obligations of service which his country has a just right to demand from him.

Different states view runaway husbands in various lights. In fire of them—Tennessee, Nevada, Oregon, Tennessee and Texas—the law does not regard the leaving of a wife and children as a crime. In forty others it is a misdemeanor, while in New York, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Nebraska it is a felony—in the first two for leaving children only and in the rest for both wife and children.

If Sir William Ramsay lives to see his advice and counsel followed, the commercial and manufacturing interests of Great Britain will have at their head men who have been scientifically trained, declares the New Haven Register. He is convinced that they are now suffering from incompetent leadership, not leadership that is lacking in enthusiasm and devotion to duty, but leadership that is handicapped because it has not been properly trained.

The irrationality of criminal procedure in this country is a cause of frequent and bitter complaint. This procedure has been so twisted and amplified as to offer an exaggerated protection to the criminal and to strip the community of a portion of its natural right to enforce justice against evildoers, says the New York Tribune. Delays, appeals, stays, rehearings and other legal weapons are put in the hands of a defendant who can pay the costs of a contest and technicalities are allowed to overshadow the real issue which courts are created to determine—the issue of actual wrongdoing or innocence.

Much has been said regarding the wonderful skill and attainments of the Japanese medical and surgical army service, but hardly anything regarding the condition of this service in the Russian army during the late war. In an address in Boston the other day Assistant Surgeon-General Valery Harvard of the United States Army, who was the medical representative of the United States with the Russian forces in Manchuria, said that the hygiene of the Russian camps was of a high order and the records show that one death by disease to seven by casualties was about the ratio, while the reverse was true in the Cuban campaign.

GEORGIA POPULIST CONVENTION

Called to Meet in Atlanta to Put Out Ticket for State Officers.

In accordance with the recent action of the Georgia populist state executive committee, Chairman J. J. Holloway Tuesday issued a call for a convention of the populists of Georgia to be held in the state capitol in Atlanta on July 4, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating and placing in the field candidates for governor and state house officers. In this call Chairman Holloway urges the populists of every county to assemble at the county seat before that date and to select delegates to this convention. Each county will be entitled to twice as many delegates as it has representatives in the lower house of the legislature.

The committee extends an invitation in this call to all white voters who favor an opposition ticket to the organized democracy to be present.

SETTLED AT LAST

Senate Follows House in Voting Lock Type of Canal.

PRESIDENT IS PLEASED

Orders to Begin Digging Great Ditch in Earnest Will Be Issued in a Matter of Days.

A Washington special says: The senate Thursday took a position in accord with the president and the house of representatives by declaring a lock canal across the isthmus of Panama. The result was reached a few minutes after three o'clock and, after a day's discussion, that was almost devoid of interesting incident—except of course the utterance of the usually acknowledged importance of the subject. There was only one recorded vote in connection with the disposition of the question, and that was negative in character, coming on a motion to lay on the table the lock type substitute for the sea level bill reported by the committee on inter-oceanic canals. This motion was made by Senator Kittredge, the committee champion of the sea level plan, and was voted down, 31 to 35.

This vote was accepted as decisive, and no one asked for a division of the vote on the acceptance of the substitute, which read as follows: "That a lock canal be constructed across the isthmus of Panama connecting the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans of general type proposed by the minority of the board of consulting engineers, created by order of the president, dated June 24, 1905, in pursuance of an act entitled 'an act to provide for the construction of a canal connecting the waters of the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans,' approved June 28, 1902."

The vote is generally accepted as settling the type of the great waterway by which the two oceans are to be united. It terminates what at one time threatened to become a sharp difference between the senate and the house on the other, for there is no denying that when the bill was reported from committee the indications in the senate were all favorable to the sea level type.

There has recently, however, been a steady gain by the lock advocates, notwithstanding the report of the canal committee as well as the report of the board of consulting engineers reported favorably to a sea level canal, all of the five dissenters were American engineers, while the other eight were Europeans, some senators avowed their preference for the American report.

The president expressed his great gratification at the action of the senate in supporting his plan for the construction of a lock canal. He has been convinced for several days that the lock type of canal would be adopted by the senate, on its final vote, notwithstanding the report of the majority of the canal committee in favor of a sea level waterway.

The president regards the vote of the house and senate on the lock type of canal as a vote of confidence. Orders will be issued in a few days to press the work as rapidly as possible, and it is announced that before the house meets in the next session many men and as much machinery as can be profitably employed will be engaged in making the dirt dry on the canal route.

Secretary Taft and Chairman Shreve are also greatly pleased at the outcome of the struggle in the senate. For the past two weeks they have been exerting all their influence with individual senators to get them to favor the lock type of canal.

NORWAY'S RULERS CROWNED

King Haakon and Queen Maude Arrive in Oslo.

With a ceremony modified from the old Norse forms to meet the modern democratic spirit of the country King Haakon VII and Queen Maude arrived Friday in the old Trondheim cathedral were welcomed, blessed and given Norway's crown.

LIKE A GROCERY STORE.

Samples of Jellies, Canned Peas and Tomatoes and Fake Boose Are Arrayed in the House.

The space in front of the speaker's desk of the house resembled a small section of a corner grocery Thursday, with cereals, jams, jellies, tins of peas, tomatoes, corn, bottles of wine and wine, imported sausage and other edibles and drinkables scattered over two tables, and to complete the picture there were standard scales with weights, a graduate and funnel for the purpose of demonstrating the contention of the majority of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, that a pure food bill is necessary for the protection of the people.

The house went into committee of the whole for the consideration of the pure food bill. Mr. Mann, opening the discussion, said: "The house of the senate and house bills, remarking that it was not the aim of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce to recommend legislation as to what the people should eat or drink, but to call attention to what they are eating or drinking."

"Medicine now on the market advertised in the strongest terms to cure opium habit," said Mr. Mann, "show on investigation enough opium to develop the opium habit." Most of the foods are not adulterated, according to Mr. Mann, and since the pure food agitation, which began a number of years ago, there has been a decided reduction in adulterations. "Yet," he said, "everywhere the honest manufacturer or dealer goes, he is met by sharp and keen competition from adulterators or short weights."

He read a letter from the German-American Extract Works, in which they told how to make all kinds of liquors. They were especially interested, he said, in their Old Tom Gin extracts, which give the exact taste of the original article. Then to further interest the house, he said, that this firm claims to make any kind of liquor out of lethal alcohol with no liquor in it.

Black pepper, he said, is a fruitful source of adulteration, the "miller" being sold in five-ton weights, according to a letter which Mr. Mann read. Pepper berries, he said, were made out of tobacco, colored with lamp-black.

"The coffee that we drink, Mocha and Java," said Mann, "is generally adulterated with Brazil coffee, and ground coffee with sawdust, and even bread crumbs."

Taking his position behind the tables, Mr. Mann began a rapid explanation of every article there. Taking up a bottle of bright colored cherries marked "Marischin cherries," he explained that the cherries had been picked green; that they were then bleached and colored with aniline dye, and this bright colored bit of cloth, he said, "this cloth was dyed with the same dye."

"What are these cherries for?" asked a member. "I understand they are used one at a time in a well known drink," replied Mr. Mann, amid laughter. Some of the members recognized the cocktail which goes with the cherry.

Holding up a bottle with a light colored liquid in it, Mr. Mann said it was honey. "Yet it never saw a hive, much less a comb. It is fresh from the glucose factory," he said. "This is a powder sold to preserve meat like cold storage. He admitted that it might keep meats from spoiling, but that it was most injurious to health, being composed of sulphates of soda and red ear tar dye. A fine grade of olive oil was a little turned out to be cotton seed oil, with an adulterant.

Measure Compels Roads to Check All the Way to Destination.

A bill of great importance to the railroads and to the traveling public was passed by the house Wednesday under suspension of the rules, regulating the checking of baggage by common carriers. The bill compels common carriers engaged in interstate commerce to check baggage to its destination on transportation offered whether in the form of what is known as "split tickets" or "rag" tickets, or other ticket on another line, to the destination where a ticket of one road ends and a ticket of another road begins, and a ticket of one road or other transportation on the connecting road to the destination of the baggage was effected. The bill makes a refusal on the part of the railroads to carry out its terms a misdemeanor and provides a penalty for its infraction.

CONVICTS KILLED

Three Life-Term Men Lose Life in Attempting Escape.

THEY FIRST SLEW GUARD

Break Made at Saw Mill Plant in Louisiana—All the Convicts Were Whites and Were Sent Up from New Orleans.

Four dead, and one dangerously, perhaps fatally wounded, all white men, is the result of an attempt by three life-term convicts to escape from Angola, La., state convict farm, on Wednesday, at one o'clock. The dead are: Captain J. W. Block, foreman of state convict; Jim Singleton, Byrd and David convicts. Wounded: J. W. Gibson, guard, shot through the body, the ball passing through the liver.

All of the convicts were sent up from New Orleans and were working in the sawmill. Wednesday morning at nine o'clock while Captain Block was reading a paper, Singleton secured his revolver and, in company with Dutch and Byrd, were making off, when the attention of the guard, Gibson, was attracted by the noise. Gibson fired on the party and Singleton returned the shot, shooting Gibson through the body, and as Gibson fell, Byrd secured his revolver. Compelling the forward Block to accompany them, the convicts started toward the river, and had placed their captive in a skiff when they were fired on by a trusty named Deleath. Singleton then shot and killed Block. Pay Guard J. T. Ogden fled Deleath and in the fusillade of shots that followed, the three convicts were killed.

Gibson was sent to Natchez, Miss., 72 miles up the river, on the mail steamer Betty Ann and conveyed to the Natchez charity hospital. Physicians declare his wound may prove fatal.

A report to the state penitentiary officials said that Captain Block was killed by the convicts after they had threatened to take his life if anyone fired on them, and after the threat had been disregarded.

IS GIVEN TWENTY YEARS

Arrested Monday and Little Over an Hour Occupied in His Trial Tuesday, When Kean Donned the Prison Stripes.

Twenty years of hard labor in solitary confinement in the Eastern penitentiary was the sentence pronounced at Philadelphia Tuesday on John Joseph Kean, the abductor of little Freddie Muth. The enormity of the man's crime, which had aroused the whole city, stirred the officers of the law to quick action, and the sentence with which justice moved has never been equalled in the community.

Kean fell into the clutches of the law Monday afternoon about the time the courts were closing. Promptly at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning he was photographed and measured by the jailers, and then he was taken to the jail where he had been arraigned before Magistrate Elsenborn and committed to court without bail. The grand jury quickly returned a bill at 11:20 a. m. he was in the criminal court awaiting his turn to face Judge Sultberger. Shortly after 12 o'clock the judge passed sentence upon him, to give him a life sentence. When he was taken before Judge Sultberger he requested that he be allowed to make a statement. He said there were mitigating circumstances in connection with the kidnapping, but the judge told the prisoner he must either plead guilty or not guilty. Kean then pleaded guilty.

WOMAN TO BE RESPIED.

Missouri Supreme Court Refuses Rehearing for Mrs. Myers. Division No. 2 of the Missouri supreme court Tuesday overruled a motion for a rehearing in the case of Mrs. Aggie Myers, sentenced to be hanged on June 29 for the murder of her husband in Kansas City two years ago.

Governor Folk said he would grant the condemned woman a respite of either thirty or sixty days to determine whether or not to commute her sentence to life imprisonment. The supreme court decision also affected the case of Frank Hoffman, the convicted accomplice of Aggie Myers, and he will be granted a respite by Governor Folk when the woman's sentence is respite.

Frank Hoffman was Mrs. Myers' lover, and he and the woman killed Myers while he was in bed half unconscious from effects of liquor.

A Lesson in Health

Healthy kidneys filter the impurities from the blood, and unless they do this good health is impossible. Foley's Kidney Cure makes sound kidneys and will positively cure all forms of kidney and bladder disease. It strengthens the whole system. W. H. Ellis.

Those who find that Baby Ease is a household necessity—and there are many such—will be interested to learn that the headquarters of the makers of this popular medicine have been moved from Macon to Atlanta. This change was made in order to be near the center of a larger territory.

If you will make inquiry it will be a revelation to you how many succumb to kidney or bladder troubles in one form or another. If the patient is not beyond medical aid, Foley's Kidney Cure will cure. It never disappoints. W. H. Ellis.

Exalted Lady Hastens to The Simmons Co., With Great Parasite.

Hundreds Hear Her Story.

Visitors at the stores of The Simmons Co., were electrified recently at the appearance of a very much excited lady who proved to be H. Howard who lives at Stillmore. She inquired eagerly for Mr. Simmons, and upon meeting him said:

"I have been a sufferer for several years and have never known what was the matter with me. I felt tired all the time and could not sleep at night. I had a very weak back, and use to have dizzy spells and would see spots before my eyes if I stooped to pick up anything. I felt blue and discouraged and did not seem to have any energy. My stomach troubled me a great deal and I had a very irregular appetite. I suspected that a great deal of my trouble came from a disordered stomach, and heard so much about Dillingham's Plant Juice medicine and what it was doing for other people that I purchased a bottle of it. I have taken three doses of the medicine, and this morning the thing I have in this tin passed from my system."

Mrs. H. Howard as she spoke, removed the cover from the basket, which contained an enormous tape-worm, which upon being measured, proved to be over 30 feet in length. The great parasite was placed in a glass bowl and allowed to remain on the center table in the offices, where it excited a great deal of attention from callers for the rest of the afternoon. Speaking about the matter somewhat later Mrs. Howard said:

"I am very grateful for what Plant Juice has done for me, as I might have gone on for years suffering terribly, and never suspected what was wrong with me. I have consulted a number of physicians, who either said I had stomach trouble or nervous trouble but never told me what was the matter. Dillingham is a wonderful man, and he has accomplished a great deal of good in this section."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitution remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

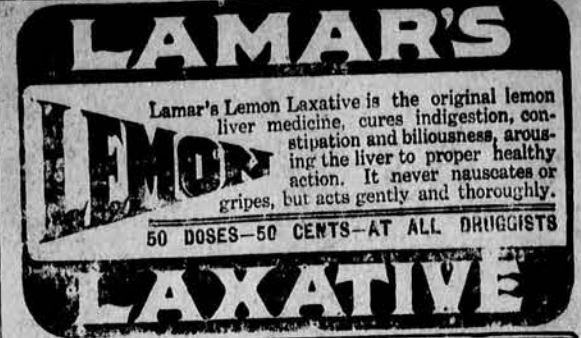

We will give you hundred dollars for any case of deafness (cause by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
