DON'T MISS THIS GREAT OPPORTUNITY.

Only five more days remain for you to grasp the benefit of Watson's Mill and Factory Syndicate Sale at E. C. Oliver's store. This sale has been a wonderful success on account of the fact that not one single promise made has not been carried out in every way. The Mill and Factory Syndicate has placed on sale here a stock of goods that is unmatched even in the larger cities. They have guaranteed our people bargains on every article in E. C. Oliver's store. Not in one instance has the values or prices been doubted by the hundreds upon hundreds of buyers since the opening day. Now, only five more days remain. New goods have been received to add new life to this big sale. These remaining days will be ones long to be remembered by all who attend; bargains that will be indisputable will be seen on every side. It is to your advantage to attend the Mill and Factory Syndicate Sale before it closes.

Case of Unusual Brutality

Quitman, Ga., 18.—An act of peculiar brutality was perpetrated here a night or two ago. There is a negro man living here who has lost both legs and who slides about the street on boards. A few nights ago he was thrown bodily into an old disused well in which there was many feet of water. He was tall enough to brace himself against the sides of the well and supported himself on the surface of the water. In the morning some persons were attracted by his cries for help, and got him out. He was in a state of terror and refused to tell who threw him in, or why.

County Officers to Serve Four Years.

Atlanta, July 17.—The senate today passed the bill by Senator Miller providing that the terms of all county officers shall hereafter be four years, instead of two. At present the only county officer who serves four years is the ordinary. The senate put the bill through practically without discussion by a vote of 22 to 6.

Effingham's Annual Dinner.

Guyton, Ga., July 18.—The annual county dinner of Effingham county was held at Springfield today. The Farmers' Institute, which has been in session for the last two days, joined with the picnic.

The exercises consisted of interesting and instructive talks on various subjects of interest to farmers. Mr. R. I. Smith, State Entomologist, delivered the first talk on the subject of "Cotton Insects and Diseases." He was followed by Prof. J. M. Johnson, professor of agriculture of the University of Georgia, who spoke on the "Improvement of plants by Seed Selection and Plant Breeding."

The society then adjourned for a basket dinner, and after dinner, Mr. R. Dixon Armstrong, of the Southern Cotton Growers Association, talked on the "Organization of the Southern Cotton Growers, and the Handling and Marketing of the Cotton Crop." He was followed by Mrs. Gerding, of Atlanta, who talked of "The Country Home as it is and as it should be."

Does evil still, your whole life fill? Does your life seem to be a hell? Your thoughts abide on suicide? You need a pill. Now for peace and facts—DeWitt's Little Early Riser are the most pleasant and reliable pills known today. They never gripe. Sold by all druggists.

Big Howell Club at Fitzgerald

Fitzgerald, Ga., July 17.—An enthusiastic Howell club was organized here the latter part of the week and already has a membership of over 200. Without doubt a canvas of the entire community will triple quadruple that number. Howell is gaining ground every day. Hoke Smith men are very quiet and since Mr. Smith's speech here have almost refused to be interviewed on the subject of politics. Estill has quite a following here, but his forces lack leadership, and no attempt has been made to organize a club.

North Georgia Peaches

Adairsville, Ga., July 18.—Grave fears are felt for North Georgia Elbertas. Wet weather in June and continuing in July has caused the brown rot to appear upon a large percentage of the fruit.

Growers are having a hard time getting the fruit picked and hauled. Fears are felt to its carrying qualities due to rain. The present outlook is bad for the growers.

Aged Man Killed by His Son-in-law.

McRae, Ga., July 18.—Kyle Cannon, a man 50 years old, was shot and instantly killed at East McRae, one mile distant, at 1 o'clock this morning, by his son-in-law, Julian Allgood. The trouble grew out of a fight yesterday between Allgood and a son of Cannon, in which the latter got the worst of it. Cannon leaves a family and Allgood had married his daughter only a few months ago. Allgood is in jail here.

Superior Advantages in Music.

The Cox College and Conservatory, at College Park, Ga., under the direction of Dr. J. Lewis Browne and Mrs. Alice Cox Grunshaw, has attracted the attention of music teachers and pupils throughout the south. Its well prepared instructors and well graded and through courses of instruction are features of its excellence. For many years this department of this famous college has enjoyed an enviable reputation.

Bradley Improving.

Mr. D. H. Bradley, who was accidentally shot at the picnic at Stillson on last Thursday, was taken to the hospital in Savannah on Friday morning where he has been under treatment ever since. The latest reports from the hospital are that he is getting along very nicely, considering the seriousness of the wound. The thigh bone was found to be fractured as was reported in these columns on Friday. It is thought that if blood poisoning can be averted that the wound will be healed without the necessity of amputating the limb. There has been no prosecution of Mr. Brown as yet and may not be as the shooting of Mr. Bradley was entirely unintentional.

Col. Saffold To Speak.

Col. F. H. Saffold will address the voters in the court house here on Friday night on the issues involved in the judgeship race. The ladies are invited to be present.

Was in Poor Health for Years

Joe W. Kelly, of Mansfield, Pa., writes: "I was in poor health for two years, suffering from kidney and bladder trouble, and spent considerable money consulting physicians without obtaining any marked benefit, but was cured by Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills. I am now in perfect health and desire to add my testimony that it is because of restoring the health of others. Refuse substitutes. Sold by W. H. Ellis."

SATURDAY A GREAT DAY

At the Mill and Factory Sale

Now On at the Store of E. C. Oliver.

Early Saturday morning the people began pouring into E. C. Oliver's and the store was crowded and running over all day until eleven o'clock Saturday night. Thousands of the very best people have taken this opportunity to buy their dry goods, clothing, shoes, and, in fact, everything one needs, at factory cost.

In securing this Mill and Factory Sale by Mr. Oliver, it has been a great money-saving to the people of Statesboro and Bulloch county. They still have thousands of goods there at Mill and Factory cost.

W. J. Strickland Dying.

News from the bedside of Mr. W. J. Strickland, who is in the hospital in Savannah, is not very encouraging to his relatives and friends here. Little hope is held out for his recovery and the end is expected at any time.

Educational Rally at Brooklet

The citizens of Brooklet and community will hold an educational rally at that place on August 10th. Hon. W. B. Merritt, state school commissioner, and others will be present and address the crowd. The object of the rally is to boom the Brooklet school and the town generally. There will be a fine basket dinner spread, and the event is looked forward to with a good deal of pleasure.

Ran Big Excursion

The Register and Glennville excursion to Tybee, which passed through the city last Thursday, was one of the largest ever carried over this branch of the Central. The train was labeled with streamers: "The Long Staple Route," "City of Glennville," "Claxton Old Fellows," etc. There were nine cars. The train had to be handled as a doubleheader on the R. & G., owing the grade, it taking two engines to pull it. The crowd which filled the long train to standing room was made up from Glennville, Claxton, Hagin and Adabelle.

Mr. Richardson's Side of It.

Mr. P. C. Richardson, of Hubert, was in the city yesterday and took the News to task for not printing the account of the shooting affair at Stillson as he saw it. Mr. Richardson insists that being strictly next to the guns he is in a better position to know how it came about than others who were not so close. Mr. Richardson says that he and two other gentlemen walked into Mr. Brown's store, and as he stepped inside he saw Mr. J. D. Strickland, with whom he previously had a difficulty, standing near one side of the store. Not caring to come in contact with him, he started to step across to the other side of the building. Just at this time Mr. Strickland stepped back and picked up an axe handle and held it up in a threatening manner. He asked Strickland if the handle was intended to be used on him, and the reply was that it was if he wanted it. He told Strickland then to go ahead and use it. Strickland, without replying, stepped back and disappeared in the crowd, and before he knew what was happening Mr. J. E. Brown, with whom he thought he was on the best of terms, leveled on him a forty-four calibre pistol. He states that he told Brown that he had nothing to shoot with, but if he wanted to shoot him to do so, pulling open his shirt as Brown fired. The ball missed its mark, as has been stated, and struck Mr. Bradley. Mr. Richardson says he then ran out of the store to get his gun, which was in his buggy, for the purpose of protecting himself against further attacks. Friends met him on the outside and persuaded him to go home, which he says he did.

The above is published inasmuch as Mr. Richardson thought that the former report was not straight. The News has no interest in this matter. Both parties are our friends and no one regrets the occurrence more than we, and it has been our purpose all the while to publish the truth of the matter as best we could get at it.

War Against Consumption

Aliterations are endeavoring to check the ravages of consumption, the claims so many victims each year. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds perfectly and you are in no danger of consumption. Do not risk your health by taking some unknown preparation when Foley's Honey and Tar is safe and certain in results. The genuine is in a yellow package. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Got Religion, Then Robbed Church.

Savannah, Ga., July 21.—Sheriff J. J. Edenfield of Millen was in Savannah yesterday morning with a warrant from Jenkins county for J. Johnson, a Savannah negro, who is wanted there on a larceny charge. The negro was placed under arrest by the police and was turned over to the visiting officer.

While Johnson was sojourning in Millen a few weeks ago, it is alleged, he underwent a change of heart and conscience and became a regular attendant upon a religious revival that was in progress.

He worked himself into the confidence of the church people and when everything was right he stole into the church and got away with two fine lamps. When the worshippers returned in the evening to sing their praises, the church was in darkness and Johnson was missing. The negro's usefulness in Jenkins county terminated very suddenly and he came to his native heath, he disposed of the lamps for $15. Trace chains, as well as handcuffs, were used in securing the accused.

Kingery-Wilson.

On Sunday, Mr. Benjamin Wilson and Miss Sarah Kingery were united in marriage. Mr. Wilson is one of Bulloch's solid farmers, and although he has seen more summers pass than the average candidate for matrimony, yet he is sufficiently young to get married.

Lee-Deal

On Sunday morning, at the home of Rev. T. J. Cobb, on South Main street, Mr. Thomas Deal and Miss Stella Lee were united in marriage. Rev. Mr. Cobb officiating. The young couple are residents of the Friendship church section and drove to town early Sunday morning and requested Mr. Cobb to tie the knot, which he did.

Owing to the scarcity of pickers, many growers are going out of small fruit. Thousands of crates of berries were left on the vines last year as it was utterly impossible to procure pickers enough. Even the "Hobo" is on the wane, declares the National Fruit Grower.

African's ungrateful blacks are showing signs of restlessness under the white rulers. And this despite the fact that the natives but for the aid of the whites, would never have had a gun or a Bible, a church bell or a bottle of gin, declares the New York American.

A physician who makes a specialty of modern nerves says that the sense of silence should be rigorously imposed on each patient daily. In serious cases it may even be desirable to enforce silence for two hours each day. It may be that a large part of this doctor's patients with "nerves" are women.

Exposure is not new. It is the logical ultimate result of the right to free speech. It has always been a recognized weapon of our newspapers, and, to a greater extent than is, perhaps, realized, of our magazines. Even the "Contemporary Review," over in England, says Success, went in, years ago, for an exhaustive and savage exposure of Lord Roberts and the authorized supplying of young girls to the army stations in India. The Credit Mobilier scandal, which followed the ground and lofty financing of the Union Pacific, was dragged mercilessly out into the light.

It is the opinion of Nature that "a strong man should come forward and by his influence compel all philologists, the whole world over, to adopt the Lepus alphabet (with two or three trifling changes) as the standard which all persons must adopt in transcribing the languages of the world not already and anciently expressed in Roman letters; nay, more, it is to be hoped one day that all the civilized tongues of the world—English, French, German, Russian, Greek, Arabic, and every other form of lettering, and according to one standard—perhaps the Lepus—of expressing sounds by letters."

Quite a little while ago Hannibal crossed the Alps, and the other day King Victor Emmanuel went through them. Of the two feats, King Victor's is the more wonderful. The Simpson tunnel, just opened for traffic, is an engineering triumph of the first magnitude. Said the liner, "It is a vast enterprise, the result of half a century of study, seven years of work and the expenditure of nearly $15,000,000." This generation will be known in history, maintains the Philadelphia Record, not from its weaknesses, but for its strength, as shown in such marvels as the Simpson tunnel and such monumental charities as that evoked by the San Francisco calamity.

Farmers' complaint of having many grievances against the automobile and its users, but there is another side to the story. There are some farmers who have been guilty of conduct calculated to cause harsh feelings toward the whole class of automobilists. Besides the timing, there are many instances of the unjust arrests and the punishments caused by new laws deliberately bent and strewn on the road, the motorists have been annoyed and imposed upon in many ways by some buccies. One interesting illustration of this comes in a story from lower California telling of how a thrifty farmer near Ventura adds to his income. His place is on the Mission road leading from Los Angeles to El Camino Real, a highway much in favor with tourists. There is a ford in the Ventura river near the farm house which is deeper than spring than it was last year, and in consequence the automobiles that attempt to ford it get stuck and have to be hauled out by a team of horses that the thrifty granger keeps in readiness. The cause for complaint is that there is no nature of reason or that fording having a hole in it which the engine of the motor cars get drowned out of action, while the ford yet remains safe for horses. The farmer does not explain. He grins and takes the money.

THE COVETED AND THE CARRION-CROW.

At the end of the barley-harvest, when the covetous and the carrion-crow are both busy, the covetous man is busy with his corn, and the carrion-crow is busy with his carrion.

Wing up, wing up, O carrion-crow, and tell me what you see.

Oh, below and about, and pouncing fast, And hovering round the barnyard, I see, Oh, how long, long is the northern trail, And how long, long is the southern trail.

There is only his titling shadow to temper the glare of the sun, and the carrion-crow is busy with his carrion.

Wing up, wing up, O carrion-crow, and tell me what you see.

Oh, below and about, and pouncing fast, And hovering round the barnyard, I see, Oh, how long, long is the northern trail, And how long, long is the southern trail.

There is only his titling shadow to temper the glare of the sun, and the carrion-crow is busy with his carrion.

The Statesboro News

(INCORPORATED.)

R. MILLER, Editor and Gen'l. Mgr.

Harm of the Joint Debates.

"Clark Howell" Again Meets

Crushing Defeat at the Hands of Hoke Smith in Albany Debate," voice the Atlanta Journal in double headlines that reach across the paper. "Clark Howell Smashes Hoke Smith at Albany," an-ounces the Atlanta Constitution in brief but equally conspicuous types, and the reports of the joint debate which follow are made doubtless in each case to support and corroborate fully the dictum of the caption. And what is the public, for which these two journals are news purveyors, to believe after reading these two di-metrically opposite accounts of the same event and its results?

There is no escape from one of two conclusions, namely: that one or the other paper has lied out of whole cloth, or that they have vised with each other in the effort to see which could outlie the other. If by any accident the Constitution should ever make its appearance in the morning with the statement that "Clark Howell

Meets Crushing Defeat at the Hands of Hoke Smith," or the Journal should come out in the afternoon with the news that

"Clark Howell Smashes Hoke

Smith," the confidence of the public might in some measure be restored in these two newspapers; but who would not as confidently look for water to run up hill or the sun to rise in the west as expect such a thing to happen?

The Telegraph has always opposed joint debates within the party. We contend, and we have always contended, that nothing good comes out of it. Nothing is ever proved by them and both sides claim the victory. The party is torn wide open in a family fight and the breach thus made is never fully closed. The Georgia democracy today bears the scars of former political campaigns conducted on these lines—campaigns of joint debate against which the editor of the Telegraph protested then as the Telegraph has from the first protest against the Smith-Howell debates. But, had as it is when the personal convey into which such campaigns develop is conducted between two or more men and their friends, it becomes infinitely worse when two widely circulated newspapers espouse the quarrel in a personal way and lose sight entirely of the public and their professional obligations to it in the sole effort to lambast one or the other of the candidates concerned. How one or two newspapers can so far forget the ethics of their great profession to prostitute their columns to such ends surpasses our comprehension.

A personal organ is a menace to its readers. When an editor goes to office-hunting there may be the slightest reason (in human weakness) for the partisan support of his own newspaper; but there are some newspapers in Georgia whose editors are not candidates that out-Herod the candidate-

Threw Bomb Into Camp.

The opposition to Hoke Smith caused consternation to reign in the Smith camp in this section last week, when every voter in the county received, through the mail all in one day, a copy of the famous Hoke Smith negro appointment circular.

It is a four-page, full newspaper size sheet, containing a list of the negro appointments made by the Hon. Hoke Smith while he was secretary of the interior in Cleveland's Cabinet. The list is a copy of the official records at Washington. In addition to the list is the photograph of a large number of the greatest and alike looking set of niggers that we have seen bunched in some time. In some quarters it is said that it was thought to be the photos of the famous "Fore Day Club." The list is headed,

"Some of the Negroes Appointed to Fat Offices by Hoke Smith,

While the White Farmers of Georgia were Making Cotton at 4 Cents."

Reports reaching the city from different sections of the county are to the effect that the circular has created quite a stir, in some sections bordering on a sensation. Members of the different

Hoke Smith Clubs have demanded that it be explained, and the hunt for some one to explain has gone on at a lively pace for the past few days. At last accounts it is said that a man had been located who could explain. He will undertake, this week, to tell the people that the circular was a very bad affair—"all lies and dirty politics," of course. Unfortunately, we understand the boys were unable to get a Bulloch county man to do the explaining and, but have employed the services of what is known as a new comer, one who has been here so short a time that the newness is not off of him yet—a sort of a squatter, if you please. From present indications the far will soon fly on the negro circular affair.

Thaw and "the Unwritten Law."

The Harry Thaw case is one in which "the unwritten law" can

Those who have been discussing the case in that light, including Thaw's latest attorney, evidently do not know what constitutes

"the unwritten law" in its extrajudicial sense, as defendants rely upon it, and pleaders appeal to it and juries give it precedence.

"The unwritten is not a statute of public opinion by which to justify murder, because of insult, jealousy, revenge, or malice of long duration. It is the higher law that acquits of crime the person who, in a sudden heat of passion produced by a great wrong irreparable by due process of law, and before reason can assert her sway over the mind, kills the offender upon the first opportunity offered.

If Harry Thaw married Evelyn

Nesbit, believing her to have been a pure woman and holding her to be such, and had Stanford

White sought by overt act to debauch her, or had actually succeeded in doing so, and upon suddenly learning the fact Thaw had sought him, there would be allowable room for setting up before a jury with human feelings and prejudices a plea of justification under "the unwritten law."

It was once held in Georgia that a man who should so invade the sanctity of the home and the married relation in such a way as is alleged against White, by his own act, becomes a social freebooted, raises a black flag of "no quarter over his own head, and becomes a proper victim of him who he wronged. That is not law in Georgia any longer, except as juries may elect to give it force when all the facts agree to warrant the justification.

Thaw's case is different. He nursed his jealousy and rage. He fed his fever for revenge. He deliberated over the wrong, if any, that White should have done to his wife or to himself. He had ample cooling time between his deeds of blood, or suspicions, and his deed of blood. With these plain facts in view "the unwritten law" is utterly above and beyond his case.—Atlanta News.

Georgia to the Front.

Foremost among the fighters in every war and among the statesmen and scholars in time of peace

Georgia's sons have rendered a good account of their stewardship

Excitement in Topoka.
There is great excitement over the report that a bride will come to Topoka soon has a maid, says the Topoka State Journal. This will raise the limit and establish a new record in Topoka. Occasionally a Topoka woman steals the housemaid or nurse, exchanges their caps and aprons for the lady's maid and takes her out of town with her in order to make a show of the housemaid or nurse. The woman in Topoka who has a really and truly lady's maid all her life never has a maid in the kitchen, nursery or laundry.

Gloves.
What variety!
Kid is smartest.
Fabric gloves are here.
In most cases gloves match the dress. Closely contrasted gloves are seen. Gaudiest appear in fetching novelties. Showily adorned gloves will not "take" here.
Yellow, handless gloves are exceedingly smart.
Elbow lengths in colored silk gloves are sold out.
The elbow length craze was not expected to rage as severely.—Philadelphia Record.

Blames Wives for Divorce.
Neither careless husbands nor pretty typewriters, but pastors and wives are responsible for most modern divorces, according to Mrs. Maria C. Weed, who spoke before the W. C. T. U.
"The utter selfishness of wives drive many husbands from their homes," said Mrs. Weed. "When a minister is divorced, he is not a failure, but a success. He feels certain that honor has been barred for a title, is it not the same of inconsistency for him to be a minister? The divorcee is helped to consummate what she has been denied."—New York Globe.

Weaving Silk Rags.
Tiny looms for the weaving of silk rags into strips which are afterwards joined to make rugs or couch covers, or even portieres, are among the interesting inventions brought about by the interest women are taking in all forms of handicraft.
On the loom can be woven strips of about nine inches wide, the warp threads stretched as firmly as in the big, full-sized affairs used for the heavier sort of work. "Hill-croppers" patterns are possible in silk, and the looms are in the old-fashioned rug carpets, used now only for kitchen or nursery, but often strips composed of two colors are made, with one used for bordering the ends.

Cow Swallowed a Snake.
Mrs. Carrie Brown, a widow of La Crosse, Wis., was surprised to find the proud owner of a beautiful cow, the sale of whose milk contributed largely to the woman's support. Five or six weeks ago the animal had been with her. She had been forced to cease milking. The case was puzzling in the extreme. Then Mrs. Brown discovered the cow was dead. It looked like a water snake. In its lower jaw it had four small teeth. It is thought that the cow, while pastured near some creek or stream, had swallowed a young snake, which had grown and flourished ever since in the poor animal's stomach. Mrs. Brown says the snake was as long as a half thick and fifteen feet long. The assertion is borne out by neighbors.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Have Beautiful Hands.
Soft, white hands, with well-shaped ruby nails, are an attraction not to be lightly considered.
The hands should be manicured at least once a week, and the time spent on the task will be found well worth the while. Always dry the hands carefully, and keep the flesh about the base of the nails free, so that the half-moons will show. If the hands are very thin, fatten it by means of massage, and use a good skin food. A regular preparation for tender hands, which is both softening and whitening in effect, is made of powdered marshmallow root, two ounces, and a pint of rose water, with twelve ounces of barley stirred into it. While doing rough household affairs wear gloves. It takes but a few minutes to do this. At night rub the hands with good cold cream, and slip on oil soaked gloves. These are little duties that take but a few minutes, but yet, persisted in regularly and systematically will result in softness and whiteness of the hands.

How to Lift the Baby.
While the manner of lifting a young child is seemingly of minor importance, at the same time it is of enough importance to require consideration. The her husband's life, whenever the child is lifted, is of great importance. Some of the infants are soft, not easily broken but very easily bent and shaped. If pressure is constantly exerted on the same part of the body, the pressure should never be exerted on the chest.

GOLD POCKET KNIVES.

Some of Them Set With Jewels—They Cost From $10 to $150.

For most people a pocket knife with a bone or ivory handle suffices, but there are people who like something different and for them are made the gold pocket knives, which can be found in a great variety of styles.
Many of these gold pocket knives are made with handles very small and perfectly flat, and they can be carried in the waistcoat pocket, and many of them have at one end of the handle a ring by which they can be carried as a charm on the watchchain. Still others are of regulation size and style.
The blade and other equipment for use in these knives—all made, of course, of the finest steel—might include a pair of scissors or a cigar cutter. It would commonly include a nail cleaner or a nail file, or both.
A novelty among gold pocket knives is one that can be opened without touching the blades. The blade gives out of the handle with the thumb on one side, and through them is run a little gold ring, which, when not in use, folds flat against the knife handle.
Among the gold handled knives with bone handles, which the blade to which it is attached can be thrown open.
Some of the very thin gold pocket knives are made with handles not only perfectly flat, but perfectly plain, and then some of these flat knives may be found with handles engraved. Among the gold handled knives with thicker, heavier handles may be found knives with their handles beautifully carved. The lightest of the gold handled knives weighs less than a single diamond. Another knife has set all over both sides tiny sapphires and diamonds.
Here is a knife of another style in whose handle are set stones of larger size. The handle is made of a single diamond. Another knife has set all over both sides tiny sapphires and diamonds.
The accompanying some of the new princess knives are very dainty affairs, some of them set with jewels, and some of them set with diamonds.
The woman who wears the gloves with the small pocket for change stitched to the palm is sure never to lay down her pocketbook.
The gloves are very useful, and the beauty of the face will be very much enhanced.
Shoes of patent leather with white laces and black buttons are preferred by some to the all-white shoes to wear with light, thin gowns; it would be hard to say which is the better style for both are very stylish.
The box plates front and back provide ample fullness for the small girl's low-necked, sleeveless dress which is worn over a girdle.
The plates are made of a two-and-one-half inch circular band, which takes the place of a yoke.
Automobiles and automobile apparel now occupy the attention of a host of men and women—especially the apparel. Every woman seems to be trying to find a coat and a hat that will be practical and beautiful, and she is succeeding beautifully. There never were so many automobile hats shown and worn as this season.

Automobiles and automobile apparel now occupy the attention of a host of men and women—especially the apparel. Every woman seems to be trying to find a coat and a hat that will be practical and beautiful, and she is succeeding beautifully. There never were so many automobile hats shown and worn as this season.

Fashion Notes.
The woman who wears the gloves with the small pocket for change stitched to the palm is sure never to lay down her pocketbook.
The gloves are very useful, and the beauty of the face will be very much enhanced.
Shoes of patent leather with white laces and black buttons are preferred by some to the all-white shoes to wear with light, thin gowns; it would be hard to say which is the better style for both are very stylish.
The box plates front and back provide ample fullness for the small girl's low-necked, sleeveless dress which is worn over a girdle.

Blind Man's Buff by Profiles.
When this game is played with care and some little art, it is very amusing. The blind man is seated on a stool low enough to prevent his own shadow from being thrown on the wall. The other players stand around him, and each one has a small object in his hand. The blind man is asked to identify the objects by their profiles. Women's Ignorance of Business.
Thousands of girls are sent out into the world with what are called finished educations, who can not get on in the world. They are ignorant of business, and they are ignorant of the things that are necessary to success in business. They are ignorant of the things that are necessary to success in business. He Had Already Eaten.
"I know western Kansas town where the rules of etiquette are purely by a logical basis," said a man from the short grass country the other day. "The daughter of the hotel-keeper at whose country I was living, was to be married. At about eleven o'clock in the evening the wedding supper was served. The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the guests were seated at the other end. The Flight of Birds.
The course of flight is a distinguishing character of many birds. The grouse rises gradually while flying in a straight course; the woodcock rises to a height of several feet, or even yards, then flies straight away. The rest of the book is all about the flight of birds. Natural Bridges.
Two Theories in Regard to Their Formation.
It is commonly believed, says the Geographical Record, that natural bridges, of which the Natural Bridge of Virginia is the best known, are the result of the action of water. The water has carved the bridge out of the rock. The water has carved the bridge out of the rock. The water has carved the bridge out of the rock.

The Real Value.
Young people must, every now and then, hear it said or see it written that the real value in life is not in the things that we have, but in the things that we are. The real value in life is not in the things that we have, but in the things that we are. The real value in life is not in the things that we have, but in the things that we are.

THE PULPIT.
A SCHOLARLY SUNDAY SERMON BY THE REV. R. MC DONALD.
Subject: "Beauty: How to Keep It."
BROOKLYN, N. Y.—Sunday evening the Rev. R. MacDonald, pastor of the Washington Avenue Baptist Church, preached to young men. His subject was "Beauty: How to Keep It." His text was from Proverbs 31:30, "Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life." Mr. MacDonald said: "What has such text to do with beauty? Everything. The source is the heart. Beauty of character depends on the quality of heart. Beauty of character depends on the quality of heart. Beauty of character depends on the quality of heart."

A Mosquito Lullaby

Hush, little skelterbug, hush a-bye, Mother will rock him, don't you cry.
I know you are hungry, my little sweet,
With nothing to drink and so little to eat,
The natives are tough and their blood is thin,
But the city-folks soon will be rolling in—
Hush, little buzzer, go bye.

Hush, little skelter, hush a-bye, Think of the summer time, just you try.
Chubby old ladies and thin, old boys, Plump little children and, joy of joys.

Fat little babies, all fresh and sweet And juicy and lovely for you to eat!
Hush, little buzzer, go bye.

Hush, little skelterbug, hush a-bye,
Soon you'll be ready to buzz and fly; Daddy will sharpen your dear little bill,
And Mother will teach you to bite, she will!

Maybe they think we are slow and dumb,
But we're not afraid of petroleum!
Hush, little buzzer, go bye.

Mr. Cone's Comments on Gubernatorial Campaign.

Editor Statesboro News:

I see in your last week's issue a very favorable editorial mention of an incipient Estill boom in the county, which has been republicated prominently in the Savannah News.

Now, from the former attitude of your paper I conclude that the Hon. Hoke Smith was not very far from the truth when he charged that the Estill movement was at least greatly in the interest of another one of the leading candidates—a charge very vigorously denied by Mr. Estill; but as you are both fighting Mr. Smith and no other one of the candidates it looks like you are pooling issues, or that you are getting dangerously near the line.

As one of the "dear people" I feel like giving through the columns of your paper my reasons for choosing Mr. Smith in this race; also my reasons for not voting for Mr. Estill. I do not agree with Mr. Smith on his disfranchisement plank. I think the negro question can very safely be left alone at this time and left to the wisdom of our legislature, where I think it rightly belongs; but I am willing to take him for our next governor solely upon the great fight he is making upon the political rings, bosses and the corrupting influence of the lobbyist, and upon the encroachment of corporate wealth and greed upon the rights of the whole people—a thing that no other one of the candidates is doing. The very fact that all of the candidates, all the political bosses and all the corporate influence, are fighting Mr. Smith makes him, to my mind, the people's candidate. I am voting for Mr. Smith for the fight he is getting on himself and the direction from which that fight comes.

Brantley Invited Here.

A petition largely signed by merchants and farmers has been forwarded to Hon. W. G. Brantley, member of congress from the 11th district, asking him to address the voters of Bulloch county on the gubernatorial situation at this place on Saturday, August 4th, or as near that date as his convenience would suggest. Mr.
Brantley is known to be an ardent supporter of Col. J. H. Estill, and it is the South Georgia candidate's friends who are inviting him here.
It is also expected that Capt. R.
M. Hitch will be invited here the same day to speak for Col. Estill, provided that Mr. Brantley can come. The committee who mailed the invitation has received no reply as yet, but is expecting one within the next day or two.

E. C. DEWITT & COMPANY, CHICAGO, ILL.

Estill just because he happens to hail from South Georgia. I want to base my vote upon some stronger claim. It is urged that Mr. Estill is a fine business man, that he would give us a good business administration. A great many of the best and wisest statesmen—men who have devoted their lives to the study of statecraft—have been business failures complete. Not to go outside of our own state I will mention Alex Stephens, Ben Hill and Jno. B.
Gordon. Great men were they;
but they were business failures and died poor men. Georgia will not dishonor their memory by electing a man whose only claim is that he is a good business man.

I believe Mr. Estill has accumulated a fortune in successful business. I believe also that he has done this legitimately, and I am glad to believe it of him and I rejoice at his success. I do not refuse to vote for him for what he has done, for I commend him for it, but I will not vote for him because he has left undone the very thing which I think he was morally bound to do, even though it did not pay so well. Mr. Estill, as sole owner and manager of a great daily newspaper enjoying a monopoly of the daily news of a great part of Georgia, owed a debt to the reading public which I do not think he has fulfilled in such manner as will entitle him to fill the highest office within the gift of the people of Georgia. The press is the moulder and educator of public opinion, and public opinion aroused is the power alone which will correct abuses under our system of government and preserve the constitution and the laws (Mr. Estill's platform).

I have been reading the Morning News thirty years or more and I know what I am talking about when I say that the Savannah News does not jump on any evil under the sun that would hurt Mr.
Estill's pocketbook. I have seen more editorial mention in the Savannah News in the past five years against the South Carolina dispensary than I have ever seen against any great public evil in Georgia, even though that evil was located right at Mr. Estill's home. Again, in the late municipal primary in Savannah it was alleged, and never denied, that over eight hundred votes were publicly bought and sold in the most open and shameless manner.
Shame on Savannah and shame on Georgia! I have seen no word of condemnation for this crime against the highest right and privilege of the voter, not only in Savannah but all over the state.
From this paper which is owned and controlled by the man who is asking the people of Georgia to vote for him for governor, whose platform is "The Constitution and Laws of Georgia." No Sir!
I would rather vote for a man from Pigeon Roost—from Dade county—than one who passes over such lawlessness as vote-buying, Sunday saloons, public defecations at home, etc., without one word of condemnation as a moral and civic duty.

Again, Mr. Estill has turned completely around in his method of campaigning. He started out condemning the methods of his opponents with a dignified handshaking campaign. (I rather liked that in him.) Now he can whoop up the "dear democratic voter" and count counties in a way that completely discounts the Smith and Howell forces.

I read somewhere a story like this: A man named Amariah had a deep-laid plot to carry out, and when he doubted his capacity to carry it to success he took along with him a certain orator named Vertullus. Now, I would have voted for Mr. Estill much a-confide if he had left his Vertullus at home. Yours for the best man for governor, no matter where he comes from,

W. H. Cone.
Ivanhoe, Ga., July 20, '06.

Saved His Comrad's Life
"While returning from the Grand Army Encampment at Washington a comrade from Elgin, Ill., was taken with cholera morbus and was in a critical condition," says Mr. J. E. Ho-land, of Eldon, Iowa. "I gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and believe saved his life. I have been engaged for ten years in immigration work conducted many parties to the south and west.
I always carry this remedy and have used it successfully on many occasions." Sold by all druggists.

Announcement.

The undersigned takes this method of announcing that they have opened up a first-class line of staple and fancy groceries, crockery, glassware, and hardware, also feed and grain, in the store formerly occupied by Proctor Bros.
& Co. We expect to have in stock the very best to be had, and will make our prices as low as first class goods can be sold. We expect to cater to the best trade, keeping only the best line of goods to be had on the market, and will appreciate a share of the patronage of the public. We hope by courteous treatment and fair dealing to get a share of your trade and hold it after we get it. Our stock, though incomplete at this time is fast arriving and being placed for your inspection.
Hoping to have the pleasure of serving your wants we are Respectfully
Porter, Franklin & Co.

C. B. Burhans Textiles After Four Years

G. B. Burhans, of Charlotte Center, N.Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble." Sold by W. H. Ellis 1

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO PASSENGERS— SAVE MONEY

The Seaboard Air Line Railway gladly notices that passengers boarding trains at stations where there are ticket agents, should in all cases purchase tickets, saving money by doing so.
Effective Nov. 1st, 1906 conductors in Georgia and Alabama will collect four (4) cents per mile from passengers without tickets boarding trains at stations where there are tickets agents and when an opportunity has been afforded them to purchase tickets but who have neglected to avail themselves of such privileges, from non-agency stations where opportunity has not been afforded to purchase tickets, the conductor will only collect the ticket rate.

BAKERY AND RESTAURANT

I take this method of announcing that I am now installed in my new stand, in the Wilson building, on East Main street, where I am better equipped than ever before to serve you. My restaurant is fitted up anew, and with good cooks and waiters I can satisfy the inner man to the queen's taste, and do it in short order. I have recently put in a new oven and my bakery is fitted up also to turn out the best bread, pies, cakes, and rolls to be had anywhere. Will sell bread as cheap as Savannah and give you the better goods. Give me a trial and you will give me your business Respectfully,
B. P. Maull.

$100 REWARD, $100.
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.
The proprietors have so much faith in this cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by all druggists.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constitution.

The government is spending the year $20,000,000 more than its total revenue in 1897. This is Rooseveltian economy. This is prosperity for the world-power bono steers, but not for the taxpayers.

Quick relief for Asthma Sufferers Foley's Honey and Tar affords immediate relief to asthma sufferers in the worst stages and if taken in time will effect a cure. Sold by W. H. Ellis 1

Now the Administration seems to be about to harry Venezuela again, why does President Roosevelt not give the public the report of Wm. J. Calhoun of the Chicago, whom he sent on that special mission to find out the facts about Castro? Mr. Calhoun in an interview upon his return, entirely corroborated President Castro's conclusions about the Asphalt Trust and the honesty of the Venezuelan courts, which was rather tough on President Roosevelt and perhaps accounts for the suppression of the reports.

The Joy of Childhood

Is its freedom from responsibilities and worries.
So many people could be free from worry, if they would only make up their minds to act differently.
Most worry is caused from improvidence: living up to one's income. Just as much pleasure could be won from life at a little less expense, with this daily saving accumulating as a protection against all financial worry. Try it—open an account with

Wild Lion in Tattnall County

The Savannah correspondent of the Atlanta Journal is responsible for the following: The lower section of Tattnall county is pretty well scared because a wild lion has been seen in that vicinity.
Mothers are keeping their children indoors after dark and posers of determined men are trying to run down the unwelcome visitor and put him to death. On Thursday the lion was seen on Mr. Brooks Harvey's place, between Morrison and Groveland. Mr. Harvey could not kill him at that time, as he did not have his gun. The animal was seen by both Mr. and Mrs. Harvey. It was very large and appeared quite ferocious.
Since then it has been heard roaring in the vicinity by several people at night. As far as can be learned it has not carried away any hog or cattle and the people are wondering what it lives on.
Two or three searching parties have gone out for the beast, but they have not been successful in capturing it.

About two years ago Mr. David Beasley killed a lion near Groveland. He has it stuffed at his home now. This one is said to be very much like the one Mr. Beasley killed and many think it is possible it slain there will continue to be excitement.

Entertained.

On last Tuesday evening, at the hospitable home of Mr. J. M.
Mincey, Misses Edna and Annie Mincey entertained a crowd of young friends in a most elegant manner.

At 8 o'clock the crowd began to gather and in thirty minutes the parlor was full of gay and merry boys and girls. About 10 o'clock we all went to the dining room, where delicious refreshments were served. At 11 o'clock the laughing and merry crowd dispersed and went to their respective homes. Everybody seemed to enjoy the evening very much.

President Harvie Jordan

Makes Hot Reply

Atlanta, July 25.—In the course of debate in the house Tuesday on the bill prohibiting bucketshops Representative Anderson, of Chatham county, threw some salty innuendo on the Southern Cotton association, which had been one of the first to stir up agitation against dealing in futures.

"The interest of the Southern Cotton association in the matter is commendable," said Mr. Anderson. "It might proceed further with its investigation and tell the public who it was that dealt in futures under the names of P.
A. Lee and Mike O'Grady, and also who it was who was behind the Piedmont Brokerage Co. and owned an eighth interest in it."

President Harvie Jordan, of the association, and Richard Cheatham, its secretary, were asked later what they had to say in reply to Mr. Anderson's remark.
He said:
If Mr. Anderson, of Chatham, or anybody else said that I had any connection with a bucketshop or dealt in futures, he lied—that is all. I never heard of the Piedmont Brokerage company, nor the names of Lee and O'Grady which he mentioned. The association has no knowledge of them either."

Secretary Cheatham was equally emphatic.
"The idea is preposterous, unfounded. The association has no knowledge of such people. The idea that it has been dealing in futures is too ridiculous to dignify with a denial."

Communicated.

The following communication which is addressed to "Mr. W. H.
Cone, Ivanhoe, Ga.," was left in this office this week for publication:

"I have just read your letter to the Statesboro News, commenting on the gubernatorial campaign and take you to be properly balanced on the political situation by your reference to some of our statesmen not financiers for self, but faithful servants for those coming after in time to call them blessed."

"Mr. Estill has remained as assident as midnight for years over some of the important measures devolving upon, not only present but coming, generations of this noble state."

I am proud to know that we yet have a few men with active brain, patriotism and nerve to point our people to the danger hovering over us just at this time.

"We don't need a sectional government nor a sectional legislature, but we need both for the state of Georgia. A railroad governor and a railroad legislature would simply add fuel to the flame that has been burning the honest laboring people of Georgia for quite a while. It is 'high time to bear from you at once giving your consent to serve the people of this county of Bulloch in the next general assembly of Georgia."

"Respectfully yours,
"Jere Howard,
"Statesboro, Ga."

Russell at Dublin.

Dublin, July 24.—Judge R. B.
Russell spoke here today to a large and enthusiastic audience.
He spoke for more than two hours and his followers say he made votes. He had but little support here prior to his speech. He was listened to with interest and many times he was heartily applauded.
