The Union Meeting

The union meeting of the Bulloch County Baptist Association was held with Friendship Baptist church, about five miles from the city, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of the past week.

There were good size crowds out each day and on Sunday there was one of the largest crowds out that was ever seen, at a similar meeting in the country. The program as published in these columns was carried out to the letter. There were many able discourses on different subjects affecting the church and its people. Revs. Cobb, Massey, McMenore, Addison, Dorsey, Hursey and Horton were on hand and took a part in the proceedings. There was a basket dinner spread in the beautiful oak grove each day. The meeting was one of the most successful the association has ever held.

A Druggist Compares Man To a Country

Now it has become quite the thing to say that man is like a piece of complicated machinery, but he is a great deal more than that. He is a country. Man and his internal organs compose a magnificent commonwealth in which a great number of different kinds of people dwell in harmony, all working for the common good; but when some malignant demon impels the man to put into his stomach some food that is contrary to the laws of his own commonwealth to import them, then we have revolution and civil war—and trouble to burn. And for the sake of peace and harmony, take Col. F. A. Dillingham's Plant Juice, the greatest of all digestive agents, which is Nature's cure for all trouble of the stomach.

Yes man is a country. The country is divided into communities or states, called organs, such as lungs, heart, liver, kidneys, etc., and each of these communities is like one of the United States in that it has a local or state government, yet all are under one central or national congress, called brain, whose messengers the nerves carry its instructions to all parts of the body. A great difference between the United States republic, however, and the commonwealth of the body is that in the body the central government supplies work and food for every one of its subjects that is sick or in distress. It does its best to make it well, and in case of this kind our local druggist, advises Dillingham's Plant Juice, which acts like a well-organized charitable or relief force, and quickly furnishes to the community in distress just the supplies that are needed to ward off suffering and enables the disarranged organs to get to work again at their proper tasks. Or if we look at the trouble as a sort of civil war, we might call Dillingham's Plant Juice remedies a band of blessed peace-makers who get the opposing parties together and settle their differences and start them working harmoniously together again just as Bishop Potter's trained band of arbitrators settle strikes and fights between employers and labor unions.

The great and important truth is it behooves you to bear in mind is that so long as your organs are at peace and working together like busy bees in a hive, to keep your system in health and good repair you, the country of man, will be the abode of all the blessings of posterity, and your entire system will glow with health and happiness.

But when through carelessness your central government of which your brain is chief executive, allows troubles to grow and civil war to devastate your community, you will lose your peace and happiness your beautiful country will go to ruin and perhaps even be devoured by the greatest enemy of all—Death itself, if you do not put a stop to the trouble with Dillingham's Plant Juice.

A druggist says it is the best preparation he has ever sold in his store to make pure rich red blood, because it contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal body-building elements of the juices of healing plants. Without a drop of mineral or poisonous matter to upset the stomach.

Plant Juice tones up and strengthens the nerves of the stomach, and enables it to obtain from the food eaten the necessary elements to create pure rich red blood, and in this way every organ in the body is strengthened and invigorated and the skin is cleared from all disfiguring eruptions.

Col. Saffold Here.

Hon. F. H. Saffold, candidate for judge of the Middle circuit, addressed a fairly good-sized crowd of the voters of the town in the court house Friday night. The speech was pronounced one of most eloquent appeals that has been heard in Statesboro in a long time. The speaker was given marked attention by every voter in the audience, and at the conclusion of his oration he was most heartily cheered.

Special attention was given by the speaker to Mr. Tadlock, official stenographer for Judge Rawlings, who was in the audience with notebook and pencil. Col. Saffold claimed that Mr. Tadlock had been following him down through the circuit, and especially asked that he take down all the charges that he was making against the judge of the Middle circuit.

The speaker made a strong appeal in behalf of Wiregrass Georgia having a shake at the judgeship, and thought there was no better time to start it than now. Col. Saffold was accompanied by Mrs. Saffold. A drive was made through the country to Metter, where the voters were addressed on Saturday afternoon.

Was in Poor Health for Years

Ira W. Kelly, of Mansfield, Pa. writes: "I was in poor health for two years, suffering from kidney and bladder trouble, and spent considerable money consulting physicians without obtaining any marked benefit, but was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure, and I desire to add my testimony that it may be the cause of restoring the health of others. Literary Club Organized.

Several of the young people of the town met with Miss Leila Blich last week for the purpose of organizing a literary club. A club to be known as the Sidney Lanier Club was organized with about fifteen members. The purpose of this club is to study literature and literary subjects, and to cultivate and strengthen the social life of its members.

Statesboro has long been in need of a club such as this, and it supplies a long felt want and it is thought that it can do a good work here.

The members, at present, are: Misses Eva Olliff, Leila Blich, Myra Olliff, Daisy Averitt, Mattie Lively, Kate Parker, Sadie Lee, Lillie Olliff, Messrs. Jones, Edwards, Rowan, Averitt, Cone, Parker, Lanier and Johnson.

OBITUARY.

Our darling, Miss Josephine Roach, died at her home July 14, 1906. She was born Aug. 7, 1888, and was 18 years old. She joined the church at Sidney in 1904. She was a girl that lived a christian life and all who knew her loved her. She was the sunbeam of her home.

"Eternal rest grant her Oh Lord, and let light perpetual shine upon her."

The bereaved family have our deepest sympathy, and we hope these broken-hearted ones will look behind the cloud of sorrow and see the shining face of the heavenly Father.

Dearest Joe, thou hast left us, and our loss we deeply feel. But 'tis God that has bereft us. He can all our sorrows heal. Yet again we hope to meet thee When the day of life is fled— When in heaven with joys to greet thee Where no farewell tears are shed.

Weep not that her toils are over; Weep not that her race is run; God grant we may rest as calmly When our work, like hers, is done. Till then we yield with gladness Our sister Him to keep And rejoice in sweet assurance He giveth His loved one sleep. Peaceful be thou silent slumber, Peaceful in thy silent grave so low. Thou wilt no more join our number, Thou no more our sorrows know. Yet, again we hope to meet thee, When the day of life is fled And in heaven with joys to greet thee Where no farewell tears are shed.

A Precious one from us has gone; A voice we loved is stilled; A place is vacant in thy home Which never can be filled. God in His wisdom has recalled The boon His love had given. And though the body slumbers here The soul is safe in heaven.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. VOL. 6 NO. 22

BRANTLEY TO SPEAK HERE SATURDAY, AUG. 11.

Citizens Are Making Preparations for the Biggest Meeting of the Season—Brass Band Engaged.

Hon. W. G. Brantley, member of congress from the Eleventh Georgia district, will address the voters of Bulloch county at Statesboro on Saturday, August 11, at the court house at 11:00 o'clock.

Mr. Brantley is one of the most popular and best known men in public life. He is, perhaps, the ablest congressman that has been in congress from this state in many years. He is young, energetic and hard working; a man of acknowledged ability. Mr. Brantley has secured more things for his district than has any man in the Georgia delegation. He is a friend of the farming class of people, which he has proved more than once. He is the able champion of a duty on imported long staple cotton, so as to protect our home growers against the product of the pauper labor of Egypt.

Mr. Brantley is advocating the claims of Col. J. H. Estill in this race for governor because he believes him to be as good as any other man in the race, and he thinks that it is the duty of south Georgia people to stick to home folks, especially when everything is equal, as it is in this case.

Col. Brantley will be introduced by Col. R. Lee Moore, mayor of Statesboro. The ladies are cordially invited to attend this meeting. The Woodmen of the World cornet band has been engaged for this occasion and will furnish the music. The people are invited out to hear Mr. Brantley on Saturday, August 11th.

OLLIFF—EVERETT.

The marriage of Mr. Joshua Reginald Everett and Miss Leona Olliff was the most notable event of this section for many years, by reason of the prominence and wealth of the contracting parties. The betrothal service was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Hon. and Mrs. Jos. F. Olliff, at Adabelle, Ga., July 31, 1906, by Rev. T. J. Cobb.

The parlor was beautifully decorated with palms, and ferns, similar and carnations for the impressive ceremony, after which a sumptuous dinner was served.

The bride was given in a beautiful costume of white crepe-de-chene, the bodice being handsomely trimmed with applique and shirring, the skirt also being shirred. The groom was dressed in becoming black suit with white vest.

The presents were numerous, costly and admired by all. Mr. Walter W. Olliff and Miss Eva Olliff, Mr. Frank I. Williams and Lula Everett were the attendants.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. F. Olliff. She is a young lady of rare beauty and accomplishments, possessing all the qualifications and dear to every one.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Everett and an ideal christian gentleman, possessing rare business ability. He is rapidly forcing himself to the front in the business world.

The happy couple left on the afternoon train for Asheville, Baltimore, New York and Niagara Falls. Upon their return they will be at Metter, where Mr. Everett is engaged in a wholesale and retail business. The wedding march was played by Miss Panita Olliff.

No Whitewashing Says Mr. Jordan

Atlanta, July 31.—President Harvie Jordan this morning appointed as additional members of the investigating committee which is to probe the imputed charges against officers of the Southern Cotton association the following national committee-men of the association: W. H. Seymour of Montgomery, Ala.; John P. Allison of Concord, N. C.; J. D. Smith of Marianna, Fla., all of whom have notified President Jordan that they will be present to take part in investigation tomorrow morning. Should one or two of them be detained by unforeseen circumstances the investigation will proceed without them.

President Jordan stated that his reason for increasing the investigation committee was to prevent any possible delay which might be caused by the absence of any of the members of the committee.

In replying to the criticism of an afternoon paper that President Jordan should appoint outsiders on the investigating committee or that he should have requested an outsider to appoint the committee Mr. Jordan said:

"I am guided in this matter by the constitution of the association. While the Southern Cotton association is a public organization the acts and doings of its various officials, employees and its policy is controlled entirely by the national executive committee."

Weevil-proof Cotton Plant.

An announcement of great interest to every cotton grower in the country was made the other day by Entomologist Wilmet Newell of the Louisiana state crop pest commission, to the effect that the commission had succeeded in producing a new variety of cotton plant that is immune from the attacks of boll weevils and similar insect pests. What this means to the cotton belt may be in a measure understood when it is recalled that the boll weevil has been causing millions of dollars damage a year in Texas alone during the past several years, and that eminent authorities have declared there is every prospect that the weevil will continue making its appearance throughout the cotton growing sections. No method of killing out the bug has been discovered, and Secretary Wilson's experts who have studied the matter have said there is none and the only way to combat the pest is to cultivate a cotton plant that is immune to it.

More than three years ago the Louisiana commission began experimenting to the end of producing an immune cotton plant, in which, according to President Newell, the commission has been successful. "The second crop of the new variety, which is called the Triumph, is maturing in the experimental plantations of the commission in the red river and Mississippi bottom lands. The unusual amount of rain has somewhat damaged the plant, but Prof. Newell says it will harvest half a bale to the acre over under its disadvantages, and he is sure the variety will do much better in favorable seasons. The bolls are said to be exceptionally large, many of them being as much as five and a half inches in diameter. The plant matures rapidly and brings its crop to the picking season considerably ahead of the old varieties, which is said to be one of the secrets of its success in defying the weevil. Details of the experiment and its results will shortly be published in an experiment station bulletin.

It is greatly to be hoped that experience with the new variety of cotton will fully bear out Prof. Newell's favorable reports. The general government and several of the cotton states have made appropriations of money with which to fight the weevil. If the Louisiana commission has succeeded in discovering a means for circumventing the worst enemy of the South's great crop, then all of the money put into the inquiry will have been well expended and the commission will have earned the profound thanks of the entire section.—Savannah News.

A Shameful Outrage Against Justice.

(Atlanta News)

Judge Emory Speer, of the United States court at Macon, sent a thrill of indignation to the heart of every law-biding Georgian yesterday when he permitted federal court interference in the case of old man J. G. Rawlings, the convicted murderer and assassin, and Rawlings' heartless accomplices, among whom were his sons and a murderous negro.

In certifying an appeal to the supreme court on a flimsy and absurd technicality, Judge Speer has done more to encourage mob law and foster lynching ideas than any other court in the state of Georgia has ever done to our knowledge.

On the specious plea of a resourceful attorney, Judge Speer has delayed justice and defeated good government in the Rawlings case.

The telegraphic reports from Macon state that Judge Speer has signed an appeal in the Rawlings case and that it now goes before the United States supreme court for hearing next October.

Rawlings had been sentenced to be hanged at Valdosta on next Friday, after having run the gauntlet of all the state courts in Georgia, and the United States and having been convicted and sentenced in every successive tribunal for his crime.

The ground on which it is said Judge Speer granted the appeal is that "there was no preacher on jury which tried old man Rawlings" for the murder of the inoffensive Carter children in South Georgia.

It is asserted that Rawlings had been a preacher of the Gospel for six years and was entitled to have a member of the cloth on the jury which decided his fate.

This appears to The News to be flimsy, absurd, technical and outrageous.

This newspaper is not blood-thirsty.

The News nor its editor would harm an innocent being, or living thing, for life itself.

The News is strong in its sentiment and believes always in tempering justice with mercy.

It realizes that it is an awful thing for the state to take human life even in the name of justice, but there must be proper punishment for such crimes as was committed by J. G. Rawlings and his sons and a murderous negro accomplice.

If law remains enthroned in the state of Georgia and murder deserves the punishment provided by the laws of the state, here is a case where swift vengeance should be meted out by the people.

The evidence in this case, if we remember correctly, showed that the two innocent and harmless children of an inoffensive old couple were cowardly, shamefully and cruelly shot down in cold blood and murdered without provocation at their home, by the Rawlings outlaws.

Going to the home of the Carter family at night, these inhuman murderers made a disturbance in the vicinity of the Carter home.

This started the watch dog of the Carters to barking and the 10-year-old son and 14-year-old daughter of Carter went out in the yard to investigate the cause of the trouble.

No sooner had they left the house than they were fired upon by the Rawlings assassins, who were hidden in the dark behind the smoke-house.

The young girl was killed instantly and her brother was fatally wounded, dying some hours later.

It was the plan of murderers to tempt old man Carter and his wife from the house, after they had killed the boy and girl, but one of the murderers weakened when they saw that awful crime they had committed, and to that fact Carter and his wife are due their lives today.

There had been bad feeling between the Carter and Rawlings families and upon strong evidence the officers of the law soon arrested the assassins and threw them in jail.

In the trial which followed the guilt of Rawlings and his sons and the negro accomplice was clearly established.

The people of Valdosta and Lowndes county could hardly restrain themselves and there was a strong temptation to lynch the entire Rawlings crowd at the time.

The people were only restrained from this desire by the promises of the authorities and the officers of the court, that the murderers and assassins would be given a speedy trial and swift justice meted out to them.

This was in June 1906, more than one year ago, and yet these cruel assassins have not yet been punished for their awful crime.

They are still languishing in jail, having been convicted in the state court after having the able legal services of John R. Cooper, of Macon, one of the best criminal lawyers in the state.

The Rawlings case had been before the state court, before the state board of pardons, and before the governor, all of which tribunals have turned down the appeals and sought to execute justice in this extraordinary case.

Failing in every court and executive resort, and confronting a long-delayed justice by the execution of old man Rawlings on Friday next, this sharp lawyer of Macon has prevailed upon Judge Speer to interfere in the case and further retard justice for months and perhaps years, if it is not defeated entirely in the end.

This interference of the federal court is an outrage against justice and law and order.

Judge Speer has made a grievous mistake.

The pretence on which he has meddled in this case is absurd.

It is contrary to reason and simple justice.

While it may be a technicality in law that Rawlings was entitled to have a preacher on the jury, the News declares that such things destroy respect for courts and for the laws of the land.

If justice is to be tampered with and defeated in any such manner as this mob law can never be suppressed in this country.

Only a short time ago the United States court interfered in the case of a convicted criminal in Chattahoochee.

The people of that city promptly arose in their indignation and took the guilty wretch from the jail and promptly and properly lynched him, thus meting out swift vengeance and justice, which was about to be defeated as in the Rawlings case by the technicality, delays and unwarranted interference of the federal court.

It is such encroachment as this that belittles the federal courts and cause people to lose respect for them.

The laws of Georgia and the courts of this state have ample authority to punish criminals of this sort.

It was a local crime, in violation of local and state laws, and in no way involving federal statutes and the federal courts.

Therefore, we repeat that Judge Speer has seriously reflected upon the uses and privileges of the United States courts, and by his tampering with justice in this case, he has angered the people of Georgia to an extent that bode no good for similar murderers and assassins as the Rawlings have proven to be.

The News deeply regrets that Judge Speer has allowed himself and his court to be used in this outrageous manner.

The law-abiding citizens of this state will resent this action of Judge Speer until after he has been forgotten.

The delay of justice in the Rawlings case has been and is a shameful reflection upon the courts of this state, and now of the nation, and is only another demonstration to the people that they are sometimes warranted in wreaking swift vengeance on murderers, assassins and heinous criminals.

This sentiment will spread broadcast and become more effective, so long as such delays and technicalities in murder and assault cases are permitted by the courts.

Order of Court Served by White.

Valdosta, Ga., July 81.—United States Marshal George White of Macon, accompanied by Assistant District Attorney Akerman was here today and served papers upon Sheriff Passmore to prevent the execution of J. G. Rawlings next Friday.

Solicitor General Thomas was summoned to Atlanta tonight by telegram from Gov. Terrell, stating that he wanted the solicitor to consult with him and Attorney General Hart tomorrow. There is a strong feeling here that Judge Speer should not have interfered in the case. The people do not want the execution delayed.

Sheriff Passmore said this afternoon that he is under Gov. Terrell, and will do whatever the Governor may order.

THE RAWLINGS BOYS' PETITION.

Atlanta, July 81.—The petition for executive clemency for the Rawlings boys will be taken up by the Pardon Board early in September. A telegram asking for this date has been received from Attorney John Randolph Cooper by the Pardon Commission.

In the meantime the case of J. G. Rawlings will be carried to the United States Supreme Court.

Alf Moore will probably be granted a further respite by Gov. Terrell. Moore is sentenced to be hanged Aug. 8, but is the chief witness in the case.

Seeking Pay From Railroads.

Calhoun, Ga., July 29.—The peach movement will be over in a few days. The ground around town is still covered with them.

It is estimated that there are in the neighborhood of 5,000 crates of peaches still sitting on the ground and exposed to the sun and rain. These peaches were gathered Monday and are now very soft and badly rotted.

The peach growers have turned them over to the railroad authorities to do what they please with them, as they are too soft to ship. It is not thought that there will be any trouble to collect for the peaches that have been ruined for lack of cars. About one-third of the crop was ruined on account of the continued rains.

Those who find that Baby Ease is a household necessity, and there are many such—will be interested to learn that the headquarters of the makers of this popular medicine have been moved from Macon to Atlanta.

This change was made in order to be near the center of a larger territory.

A True Story

A newspaper man in a strange city dropped in on a brother newspaper man and asked the latter to favor him by cashing a small check. The latter accommodated him.

"Hadn't you better take the change out for the exchange?" asked the first, as the accommodating friend took the eight round dollars from the same.

"That's so," responded the latter, and the house and the block outside were secured for the change of a dollar so that the 10 cent exchange could be settled.

At length the visiting newspaper man had a bright idea.

"Give me the eight dollars," he said; "I'll pay the 10 cents out of my pocket."

"That's right," he said, "I hadn't thought about your having a dime."

Among newspaper men there is more truth than gold in that incident.

Back View Of Women

(From the New York Press.)

"Sometimes I wonder," said the particular man, "if half the women take the trouble before they start out to see how they look in the back. I don't believe they do. I have seen women bent as new pins so far as their necks and waists and shoes were concerned when they faced you, but the moment you got a glimpse of their backs! Wow."

"Shoes down at the heels, a hole in the stockings, safety pins at the waist line, buttons unbuttoned in the waist, the neck half fastened, and the back hair looking as if it had hardly been combed."

"If they haven't any eyes for the back of them, we have," he finished.

Col. Dillingham,

In an Interview, Gives Valuable Information.

Col. F. A. Dillingham, the millionaire advertiser, was interviewed in his comfortable quarters at the Piedmont hotel, Atlanta, Ga., by parties who came from a distance to see him for the purpose of being treated and to obtain his remedies for a run-down, debilitated, nervous system, their names being held for certain reasons better known to themselves, but that makes no difference to Col. Dillingham, the man whom Plant Juice has made famous. He answers all questions in a straightforward manner, and when asked in regard to nerve force, said:

"I believe all physical or bodily action or motion comes from an invisible source, and this source is a substance, i. e., the mind. Mind is co-existent with the nervous force. Mind wills, and the body obeys. Mind is cause. Now we have the mind responsible for the cure for diseases."

In offering you Plant Juice for the cure of all forms of nervous diseases, also kidney, liver and bladder troubles, I act as a teacher and instructor of the race. I present for rational minds the ONLY LAW OF CURE EVER KNOWN on our planet—the harmonious laws of nature from which Plant Juice is composed."

This wonderful remedy can be procured at the Simmons Co., Statesboro, Ga.

University of Georgia

Alumni Club Organized.

At a meeting in the court house Monday night of several of the University Alumni a University club was organized.

Quite a number were present and an enthusiastic meeting was held. County School Commissioner J. E. Brannen gave a timely and interesting talk, calling attention to the fact that agricultural education is the crying need of the hour. He was loud in praise of the Connor bill, and said that this is the opportunity for the people of Georgia to have a great university along agricultural lines. Bulloch is, and must be for years to come, an agricultural county, he said, therefore the importance of educating the farmers so they can take advantage of the chemistry of the soil, rotation of crops and diversified and intensive farming.

It is proposed to raise a fund sufficient to keep two or three boys at the university.

Meetings will be held quarterly, and some time during the Christmas holidays a banquet will be given and some distinguished alumni of the university will be invited to make an address before the club on this occasion.

Bulloch county has always been loyal to the university and for the last several years she has had from four to ten boys there, while the counties about here have had one and two and in some instances none at all.

There are thirty-six men available for membership in this club. This is more than all the other men's colleges combined can show.

The club is composed of the following named members: J. F. E. Anderson, G. B. Franklin, J. E. Brannen, O. J. Franklin, J. E. Brannen, Jr., G. T. Groover, O. W. Brannen, J. W. Kendrick, H. D. Brannen, G. S. Johnston, Hinton Booth, J. D. Jones, Allen H. Bunc, O. H. Knox, Homer Bowen, F. T. Lanier, How-

The following officers were elected: R. W. Proctor, president; Dr. R. L. Sample, 1st vice-president; G. S. Johnston, 2nd vice-president; Howell Cone, treasurer; J. D. Jones, secretary.

Georgia Railroads.

Georgia, sometimes called "the empire state of the South," has now grown to be the leading state of the South.

From the time of the first settlement up to the present, railroads, the most convenient form of transportation, are being established throughout her domain, raising small stations to villages, and villages to what are now the leading cities of the South.

Once a selfish occupied only by savage Indians and wild animals, Georgia has now grown to be one amongst the most progressive and leading states of the South.

Of the southern states, Georgia ranks first in the extent, variety and value of her manufacturing industries—this being due to her many railroads.

There are 9000 miles of railroads in the state, which connects the most important cities and towns with one another, thus making the carrying on of trade and the transportation of goods more convenient, also a great aid in the elevation of what is now its largest cities.

Owing to its rich soil, gold, iron and coal mines, and railroads being established in the center of these, the carrying on of trade and the transportation of goods makes Georgia rank among the leading states of the union.

Mob Near Atlanta

Wreaked Vengeance

Atlanta, July 31—Annie Laurie Poole, the pretty 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Poole, was the victim of a brutal assault of a negro this morning about ten o'clock, near her home a short distance south of Lake-wood.

Her assailant was run to earth by maddened men who shot him the moment he was identified by the girl he had wronged.

As unexpected as was the outrage was the vengeance taken by the friends and neighbors of the little girl. The negro was captured and taken to her home for identification. The moment she saw him, she clapped her hands and cried: "That's him," and hardly a second intervened between her words and the sharp denouncing reports of over thirty revolvers, which sent lead into his body, one of the bullets striking the hand of B. L. Johnson, who was holding the prisoner.

After he had been shot there were cries of "burn him," but the county police arriving at this time prevented such action.

The young girl had left her home, as she had many times before, on a mission to a neighbor's by the name of Chesire, to purchase some vegetables. She stopped in the field on the way to pick some cantaloupes and was in the act of filling her basket when a negro suddenly emerged from some shrubbery on the edge of the road, and before the girl had time to realize his motives, he had her by the throat and brandishing a huge oak stick, said that he would kill her if she screamed.

Despite her screams the negro boldly caught hold of her beautiful long hair and dragged her across a space of forty feet to the woods, the girl pluckily putting up a brave fight until she became unconscious.

A small negro boy who happened to be walking along the Hapeville road, was attracted by her cries, and running to the residence nearby notified her family.

The news of the crime spread like wildfire, and in a few minutes the whole neighborhood was in arms.

The girl was found on the edge of the road unconscious, and the ground for many yards around was torn up in such a way as would indicate a terrific struggle.

Annie Laurie was taken to the house, and physicians were hastily summoned.

County officers were immediately notified of the occurrence, and a detail from the sheriff's office and a squad of county policemen were sent to the scene.

With medical aid the girl soon rallied and gave a very true description of the negro—as being tall, dressed in blue overalls and a black calico shirt, wearing a dirty old white felt hat, and offered the statement that she could readily recognize him provided a capture was effected.

The news continued to spread rapidly and armed men came to the scene and as soon as a description was received of the brute, a squad would organize and leave, in hopes of capturing the fiend.

After he had been captured and shot the negro was taken in charge by the county officers and placed in a wagon to be brought to the city, but he died on the way.

The body was brought on to the city and turned over to Lee, the negro undertaker, where an examination revealed the fact that six bullets had taken effect—on the small of his back, through his heart, in his back just below his right shoulder, through the left arm, through the right leg, just above the knee, and one in the left of the lower abdomen.

A world of truth in a few words: "Nearly all other 'cough cures' are constipating, especially those containing Opium, Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar moves the bowels. Contains no opium." You can get it at W. H. Ellis.

Emotional Insanity

to Be Thaw's Plea.

New York, July 27—It has been definitely decided, counsel for the defense stated today, that Thaw will go on the witness stand and tell why he killed Stanford White.

If the defense deems it necessary, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will be called to corroborate her husband. Thaw has listened to the pleadings of his mother and consented to plead emotional insanity, without losing sight of the "unwritten law."

The defense will try to show that Thaw's hatred of White was justified and so great as make him temporarily irresponsible at the sight of the architect. Insanity experts will be called upon to prove this.

It will be shown that Thaw has made the honorable amends for any previous misconduct by marrying Evelyn Nesbit. There will be no effort to prove him above the manner of life which he has been accused of leading, but counsel will try to show that all has been wiped out by the wedding except the shadow Stanford White.

It is hinted that Thaw's lawyers will be able to present evidence that White had pursued the girl after marriage, which has been denied by the district attorney.

"Then as a climax," said a friend today, "Thaw will be put on the stand and in telling why he killed White, will use the words he used after the tragedy. 'He ruined my wife. I am glad I did it.'"

His counsel believe that with Thaw willing to admit the deed and apparently ready to take the consequences, the defense will be strong.

Scrambling For Sage's Millions.

It is announced that already, before the terms of his will are announced, the relatives of Russell Sage are hiring lawyers to secure for them what each of them thinks he would like to have out of that $100,000,000 that the old man left.

We do not know how the multimillionaire miser bestowed his enormous wealth, but he had the right dispose of it to suit himself and however he did it should be confirmed promptly by the law of the land. It is not recorded that any of his living kin had anything to do with helping him to accumulate his mighty fortune, and there is no common sense equity that ought to degree to them any share in it. If he did not choose to bequeath any of it to his sisters, aunts and cousins to the seventh degree of consanguinity, then the courts should not bother to make heirs of those whom he did not want to inherit any of his money.

This thing of breaking the wills of people upon technical grounds and to give fees to lawyers and wealth to greedy relatives, often of remote degrees of kinship, ought to be discouraged.

There is no more justice in robbing a dead man's estate by legal legerdemain than there would be in allowing it to be looted at will by relatives while he is yet alive.

When a man has labored hard all his life, and deprived himself of many of the common pleasures of life, in order to gratify his love of financial independence and power, and the law recognizes his right to absolutely control his fortune while living, it should allow him as absolute a right to dispose of it as he will upon his death. Those who have had no fellowship with him in his labors, did nothing to aid them to profitable results, certainly should have no right to claim an equity in his goods after his death.

If he does not devise them by will before his decease, they should descend to his wife and children only, and if they are not in life, then his fortune should revert to the state for the public good. Civilization ought not to be disgraced by the scrambles of all sorts of kin to divide up and consume the goods of those who did not esteem them enough to admit them to share in their estate after death.

Killed By Bride's Side.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 1.—One of the most shocking crimes in the annals of Gaston county occurred at an early hour this morning, when J. Y. Kincaid shot and killed W. M. Brown, a groom, of only a half hour, as he stood with his bride at the depot, waiting for the train on which the couple was to leave on their honeymoon trip from Bessemer City.

The bride of only thirty minutes is now a widow. She was Miss Bettie Perry.

All of the parties are prominent in the town where the shooting occurred. There was quite a gathering of the friends of the couple at the depot to bid them good-bye, when Kincaid came up and, leveling his pistol at Brown, fired five times in quick succession. Brown fell dead almost at the feet of his young bride.

Feeling intense, but nothing is feared of violence to Kincaid, who is in charge of the authorities. As the first report of the pistol Brown fell, mortally wounded. Kincaid stood over him and fired at the prostrate form until every chamber of the weapon had been discharged.

Kincaid, who is in jail, says he killed Brown because he ruined his sister, Miss Bettie Perry. He claims Brown had promised to marry her.

When he learned that he had married Miss Bettie Perry at 7 o'clock, he made up his mind to kill him.

"Make Hay While the Sun Shines."

There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentery, diarrhoea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary, and delay may prove fatal. For sale by all druggists.

Latest San Francisco Earthquake Story.

This is the latest San Francisco earthquake story, according to the Buffalo Times: "Why are you weeping Mary?" "I've just heard that my cousin Katie was in the San Francisco earthquake, ma'am." "Is she dead?" "No, but she writes me that everything she had was burned up." "That's too bad, still I wouldn't take it so much to heart if I were in your place. She will probably be able to find another situation and be as well off in a year or two as ever." "It ain't that, ma'am. She says she was carried down stairs by two policemen, and is going to marry an av them, and if I'd 'a' went out there when she wanted me to last fall I might 'a' been lyin' helpless in the same building."—Exchange.

Town Goes Wild on

Getting New County

Fitzgerald, Ga., Aug. 1.—When the bill for creating the county of Ben Hill had passed the house reached here the first alarm was at once sent in and the new-installed paid fire department came dashing up Main street. The Fitzgerald brass band was in readiness and began playing almost immediately. Dozens of men literally hugged each other in the streets.

Great crowds rushed hither and thither, and soon met on corner of Pine and Main at the First National bank. Every one was cheering at the same time and the music of the band was for a while completely drowned out.

The bill had been pending for some time and expected to come up each day. The nerves of the whole town were in a state of painful tension. The announcement of the success of the bill was a signal for a release of strain and it at once became Fitzgerald's banner day for noises. The whole population turned out en masse and paraded the streets with torches, and headed by the brass band, fireworks were brought into play and all the remnants of the fourth were used up.

A committee of citizens met in the mayor's office and decided to give an additonal banquet and love feast at the Aldine hotel Saturday night, to which are to be invited all the members of the general assembly. Speakers have already been appointed.

It is expected that a large part of both house and senate will be present and partake of Fitzgerald's hospitality.

W. G. BRANTLEY TO SPEAK HERE SATURDAY, AUG. 11

Citizens are making preparations for the Biggest Meeting of the Season—Brass Band Engaged.

Hon. W. G. Brantley, member of congress from the Eleventh Georgia district will address the citizens of Bulloch county, at Statesboro, on Saturday, August 11th, at the court house, at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Brantley is one of the most popular and best known men in public life. He is, perhaps, the ablest congressman that has been in congress from this state in many years. He is young, energetic and hard working; a man of acknowledged ability. Mr. Brantley has secured more things for his district than has any man in the Georgia delegation. He is a friend of the farming class of people, which he proved more than once. He is the able champion of a duty on imported long staple, so as to protect our home growers against the product of the pauper labor of Egypt.

Mr. Brantley is advocating the claims of Col. J. H. Estill in this race for governor because he believes him to be as good as any other man in the race, and he thinks that it the duty of south Georgia people to stick to home folks, especially when everything is equal, as it is in this case.

Col. Brantley will be introduced by Col. R. Lee Moore, mayor of Statesboro. The ladies are cordially invited to attend this meeting. The Woodmen of the World cornet band has been engaged for this occasion and will furnish the music. The people are invited out to hear Mr. Brantley on next Saturday, August 11th.

Death Penalty

Paid By Marcus

Charlotte, S. C., Aug. 6.—All efforts to secure a reprieve for his legitimate wife might have time to bid him good-bye failing, William A. Marcus was executed today at 11:05 a. m., the execution being for the cruel murder of a woman he had fraudulently married.

Marcus read a statement from the gallows confessing, as he had already done to the mariner, and alleging that he was inspired to the horrible deed by suspicion of infidelity on his wife's part.

It developed a few days ago that he has a wife and several children now living in Cincinnati, Ohio.

This wife and a priest endeavored to prevail upon Governor Heyward to grant him a reprieve until she could come and tell him good-bye. This, however, was refused.

Under the Carolina law, Marcus would have inherited a modest estate left by the woman he murdered, had it not been developed that the marriage was bigamous. He had made a will designating the property, a house and lot and home furnishings to his people. This will has since been destroyed.

Last night he wrote his real wife a long letter, which will be the first message to her from him in several years.

On the gallows he displayed no nervousness, but was thoroughly cool collected, and stood the ordeal without a tremor.

On the night of April 14, Maggie, who was a servant in the family of Colonel G. G. Greenough, joined Marcus in answer to a persuading note. Together they strangled down the beach. Marcus attacked Maggie with a ice pick, inflicting forty two wounds, mutilating her face and causing death in a few minutes.

He then left the corpse on the beach above the high water mark and joined a negro friend, getting on a heavily drunk.

Though excitement prevailed none of the soldiers offered violence and the murderer was hurriedly brought to the county jail.

At the trial in the court general sessions Marcus alleged that Maggie was on intimate terms with an initiated man and also that she had cruelly wronged him. Both these charges were established to be utterly false. Maggie was known by sight to all the artillerymen and all held her in high regard. Her character was stainless.

Marcus went to death in the Roman Catholic faith, being attended by a prominent priest.

The Star Gospel Mission looked after his comfort during close confinement and furnished appetizing meals, of which Marcus partook substantially to the last. He evinced no sign of flinching in talking of the crime, a day before execution displayed no emotion. He was about 5 feet 10 inches, well built and not bad looking. His age was 45.

OLD AGE

Depends not Upon Years, but Upon Vital Force

A Great Discovery to Ward off Old Age

In Statesboro lately there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to old people. Some at 60 call themselves old and really appear so, while others at 70 years seem active, vigorous and young. A reporter of the News happened in the drug store the other evening and this subject was brought up by the druggist.

"It is a fact, and we see it illustrated every day, right here in Statesboro, that it is not years—old age does not begin at any set time, but it is a loss of vital force that makes a person old. Weakened digestion, this blood and poor circulation soon start functional disorders and vitality is on the wane, and then the symptoms of old age quickly appear. You know a man is as old as he feels."

"On the other hand," continued the druggist, "that old feelings may be warded off, and I wish every person in Statesboro who feels old, whether they are so in years or not would try the great discovery, Dillingham's Plant Juice. I know that it has vital principles which will in a natural manner strengthen digestive assimilation and all the functional powers, send rich red, blood coursing through the veins, and give new life to every organ of the body and this is what makes an old man feel young again."

Mr. G. W. Herring of, Thomasville, Ga., who is 78 years of age and has been suffering with kidney and bladder trouble for 11 years, writes, after taking three bottles of Dillingham's Plant Juice: "Am completely cured, and now when I feel that I need a tonic, something to strengthen and build me up, I take a bottle of Dillingham's Plant Juice and find it brings vigor and life to the aged as nothing else will."
