Uncle Sam as a Lover.
Secretary Root continues his oratorical exercises in South America and in order to hold rank among the exquisites of that class he very astutely varies his theme.
Versatility is an essential to the orator as well as the politician and as a matter of course Elihu Root is ardently impressed with the truth of the fact. It is well known that he has an eye single to a certain object in his present visit, the strengthening of Uncle Sam in the affections of the swarthy residents of the environments of the topics, but he quite deftly aims at his accomplishment by ways various and by means oblique.
Speaking the other day at Buenos Aires, the charming capital of Argentina, the able secretary assured his auditory that the love of Uncle Sam bore the Argentinians is somewhat akin to that which surpasseth all understanding. He depicted Uncle Sam as wilting away whose heart-strings were swollen with the burden of his affection for his dulcinea. The venerable aspect of our national personification is at last changed from one of keen calculation and shrewd foresight to one of ecstatic reverie and glowing emotion which finds expression in the soft ejaculations, "O mia amorata!"
Our cartoonists must now get to work on a new wardrobe. Uncle Sam must be decked out in the togs of a swell bent on havoc among the senoritas.—Augusta Herald.

Horrible Murder
In North Carolina.
Charlotte, N. C. July 14.— Lylerly, his wife, daughter and son, were murdered in their home, one mile east of Barbers Junction, between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning by unknown parties, who afterward robbed the house and then set fire to the bed on which Mr. and Mrs. Lylerly were killed.
The two older daughters, who were awoken and rushed down just in time to extinguish the flames and to save the home from destruction.
It is thought the robbers killed their victims with clubs.
Lylerly was a wealthy merchant and a farmer and the family is recognized as one of the best in that section.
As soon as the news of the murder and robbery were received by Deputy Sheriff Hutchins went to the scene with bloodhounds.
A later report received says that two negroes were arrested.
One is quoted as saying that a few days ago after him to cut his wheat, "that the old man may out his grain, but he'll never live to eat it."
Governor Glenn received a message from Barbers Junction appealing to him for help. There were no bloodhounds to be sent from the penitentiary. The governor issued a proclamation offering a reward of $350 for the arrest of the murderers.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO PASSENGERS—SAVE MONEY
The Seaboard Air Line Railway has notice that passengers boarding trains at stations where there are ticket agents, should in all cases purchase tickets, saving money by doing so.
Effective Nov. 1st, 1905 conductors in Georgia and Alabama will collect four cents per mile from passengers without tickets boarding trains at stations where there are ticket agents and when an opportunity has been afforded them to purchase tickets but who have neglected to avail themselves of such privilege, from non-agency stations where opportunity has not been afforded to purchase tickets, the conductor will only collect the ticket rate.

People's Party will Not Meet The convention of Georgia populists, which was to have been held in Atlanta on Tuesday next August 28, for the purpose of considering the matter of putting out a state ticket, has practically been called off.
While Chairman J. J. Holloway is not officially called off the convention, Secretary J. E.
Bodenhamer, of the populist executive committee, has written to him requesting that he do so, advising that under the present circumstances it would be practically a waste of time to hold the meeting.
Speaking of the matter yesterday, Secretary Bodenhamer said:
"In the light of the primary Wednesday and the overwhelming victory of Hoke Smith, I believe it would be a useless waste of time and energy for the populists to meet or attempt to place a ticket in the field.
"As a matter of fact, a very large percentage of populists voted for Mr. Smith, because his platform embraced the ideas for which we have been fighting for years. If he carries out his platform and pledges we will have no complaint.—Atlanta Constitution.

Yankee Joker in Immigration Bill Mill men of Charlotte, have discovered in the Immigration bill which originated in the United States Senate a covert and shrewd clause inserted for the benefit of the New England cotton mill and manufacturing interests.
After the educational clause in section 36 which provides that immigrants shall be able to read English, is tacked on this additional sentence:
"Provided further, that the provisions of this bill shall not apply to aliens entering from Canada or Newfoundland, after they have proven that they have been domiciled in any of the said countries for a period of three years."

The End of The World Of troubles that robbed E. A. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Ia., of all usefulness, came when he began talking Electric Batteries. He writes: "Two years ago Kidney trouble caused me great suffering, which I would never have survived had I not taken Electric Batteries. They cured me of General Debility," says Wolfe for all stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints, Blood diseases, Headache, Dizziness and Weakness or bodily decline. Price 50c Guaranteed by W. H. Ellis' drug store.

STOMACH TROUBLES AND CONSTIPATION No one can reasonably hope for good digestion when the bowels are constipated. Mr. Chas. Baldwin, of Edwardsville, Ill., says, "I suffered from chronic constipation and stomach troubles for several years, but thanks to Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets am almost cured." Why not get a package of these tablets and get well and stay well? Price

Congressional Convention Now in Session.
The congressional convention is now on. In addition to the delegates who came on the afternoon trains Wednesday quite a number of delegates and visitors arrived this a. m. The delegates are here thirty-six strong, and quite a number of the alternates came along also, and in case any regular delegate is incapacitated for duty the alternates are on hand to take place.
The town is pretty well crowded with people who came in to see what was going on and to watch the proceedings. At the Jackson hotel, where the delegates are stopping, there is a scene of bustle and activity. The house is beautifully decorated with small United States flags, while from the top of the building a large flag can be seen flying to the breezes.
The convention met in the court house and was called to order at 11:30 o'clock by Col. E. P.
Miller, who was elected temporary chairman. Col. W. G. Warrell was elected secretary of the convention. A credential committee, consisting of M. A. O'Byrne and W. H. McClaus, for Sheppard, and E. K. Overstreet and R. Lee Moore, for Brannen, was appointed by the chairman, after which the meeting adjourned till 1:30 o'clock.
At the afternoon session of the convention J. W. Overstreet was nominated for the short term, being presented by Col. Wm.
Clifton. Short talks were then made by Gordon Saussey and E. K.
Overstreet and then a committee of three was appointed to inform Judge Overstreet of his nomination and to present him to the convention. This was done and he was presented to the convention by Col. Clifton, after which in a few well chosen words Judge Overstreet expressed his thanks to his friends for their support in the recent election.
The temporary officers of the convention were then elected as permanent officers, and the work of nominating the candidates for the regular term was taken up.
The vote stood Brannen 18, Sheppard 18. The convention adjourned until 8 o'clock this morning.

Farmers Growing Rich.
Commenting on the statement that Col. "Jim" Smith, known as the "farmer candidate" in the recent campaign in Georgia, "is reputed to be one of the richest men in the whole south," the Charlotte News and Courier says:
"The number of farmers growing rich in South Carolina is greater than the number of persons in any other calling. Scattered throughout the state are cotton planters, who have for the last four or five years enjoyed princely incomes. We do not pretend to say that their incomes compare with those of a New York captain of industry, but they are so large that they would be respectable anywhere.
"The time is not far distant when the wealthy planters will constitute a most influential class in the society and politics of South Carolina, just as they did before negro slavery ceased to exist." It so—and no doubt it will be so in all the Southern states—that will be a far better time than the era "before the war" with its planter aristocracy enriched by slave labor, one of the worst results of which system was the deadly competition it put upon the artisan and laboring class of white men. It is true that the same classes of whites are still monopolized by the competition of negro labor, but the conditions are freer, and large employers are not responsible in the way that the slaveholders were.
No one can rise and accuse the southern planter of our day, and no method of acquiring wealth is more honorable and legitimate than his. The charge of "tainted money," so often brought against captains of industry in other fields, cannot be laid at his door.

Sunday Closing Breaks
up Sunday Excursion.
The reports from Savannah last Sunday were to the effect that the travel by way of the Sunday excursion was less than half of what it had been on previous Sundays during the season. The cause assigned for this is the Sunday closing of the saloons. The average "hayseed" cares very little for a trip to the city on Sunday if, after he gets there, nothing is doing in the way of slaking his thirst.
We hope that the Sunday laws will continue to be rigidly enforced in Savannah, and that the Sunday cheap excursion is now a thing of the past.

Taggart-Johnston.
Saturday afternoon, September 8th, at 2 o'clock, Mr. G. I. Triggart, of Savannah, and Miss Marjorie Johnston, of Statesboro, will be married at the Methodist church in this city; Rev. G. G.
N. MacDonald, assisted by Rev.
Dr. John D. Jordan, of Savannah, officiating. The marriage, on account of the prominence of the families, will be one of unusual interest.

Crazed By Fear
Mrs. Augusta Zeiter Unable to Stand Strain of Guarding Savings.
AFRAID OF BURGLARS Had $2,880 Concealed About Her Clothing and Constant Fear of Robbery Resulted in Mental Wreck.
Chicago, Ill.—Driven to a state bordering on insanity by the fear of burglars, Mrs. Augusta Zeiter, 57 years old, of 1831 North La Salle Ave., was taken to the city hospital in a demented condition.
The sum of $2,880 was found hidden in various parts of her clothing, which she defended with the zeal of a Mexican duenna, fighting off hospital attendants who endeavored to relieve her of her wealth.
Mrs. Zeiter began acting strangely several days ago. She believed that persons were pursuing her. Finally she became so violent that neighbors reported her condition to the police, and the unfortunate woman was removed to the hospital.
When received at the institution, Mrs.
Zeiter refused to allow Miss Moraghan, the night matron, to search her. When Mrs. Zeiter, the day matron, came on watch, it was decided to place Mrs. Zeiter in hospital garb. As her clothes were removed the money was found. There was $200 in gold. In a bundle was found $2,100 in greenbacks. There was a note for $100 and various papers believed to be of value.
After being relieved of her money, Mrs.
Zeiter called for her son, J. Zeiter. He was sent for and told the hospital authorities that his mother had complained of a fear of burglars for sometime past.
He was not aware that his mother had so much wealth about her person.
It is said that Mrs. Zeiter formerly kept her money in bank, where, knowing of its safety, it caused her no uneasiness of mind. But recently she had drawn the money for a business investment, and the responsibility of its safe-keeping preyed so heavily upon her mind as to result in mental collapse.

This ought to be a solemn warning to people who carry money concealed to their persons or in their homes. Beware, Oh, beware! Deposit your money in THE BANK OF METTER where it is insured and is safe.
THE BANK OF METTER, Metter, Georgia

reached the conclusion that it is detrimental rather than helpful. He proposes to establish in its place a uniform system of efficiency records, which will be put into operation as soon as perfected.

REWARD OUT FOR RAPIST.

A negro of Georgia Will Pay $250 for the Negro Assailant of White Women.

For the apprehension of the unknown negro, who made a brutal assault upon Miss Ethel Lawrence and her niece, Miss Mabel Lawrence, in the suburbs of Atlanta, nearly killing them, Governor Terrell, on Thursday, offered a reward of $250.

The Statesboro News (INCORPORATED.)

J. R. MILLER, Editor and Gen'l Mgr.

Entered at the post office at Statesboro as 2nd class mail matter.

Statesboro, Ga. Friday, August 31, 1906

Published Tuesdays and Fridays by THE STATESBORO NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Will Nominate Russell.

Inasmuch as Bulloch will be the first county called that has given its vote to Judge R. B. Russell for governor, it will be the duty of Bulloch to place the name of Judge Russell before the convention at Macon, which will probably be done by Col. G. S. Johnston, who has been a life long friend of Judge Russell.

Bulloch gave Judge Russell the largest vote of any county in the state, and gave Hoke Smith pretty close as large a vote as he got in the state. Judge Russell only carried twelve counties, but that makes no difference with his Bulloch constituency; they voted for him because they believed he was right, and they will take pleasure in holding aloft his banner among the sea of Hoke Smith faces that will throng the convention.

What is the Matter With the Telephone Company?

If the people of any town in Georgia have a poorer telephone service than the people of Statesboro we are sorry for them. We have some times thought that if the people here had no telephone service of any kind that they would be none the poorer. It is a fact proved by experience that in most cases one can walk to see the party with whom he wishes to converse quicker than he can get him over the local phone. To listen to the sea-like roar of a burnt out telephone, and thus your only response, when you want to converse with some one on a matter of importance is not well calculated to keep one in good spirits nor to increase one's love for his neighbor.

To have a crowd of children in the exchange at night making a world of noise is not very pleasing to the man who is in a hurry and has an important business engagement.

Yet these are the very things that the people of Statesboro have been putting up with for the past six months. One man said the other day that he used his telephone only three times during a month. Rather expensive service is that. Similar complaints come in from all sides.

The telephone is a modern convenience. It saves time, and time is money. It expedites matters, and for this reason is in great demand among business men. When it does not subserve this purpose it is a needless expense.

The people of Statesboro support the telephone company well. Not a larger list of patrons can be found on the books of any such company in a town in Georgia the size of ours. In return for this support they should receive the very best service possible. This corporation is making money out of the people or else they would not continue in the business. It is their duty to get courteous and experienced operators, and skilled linemen and to see that they have all the material needed to keep telephones in good working order.

We are not kicking or knocking this corporation. We are simply registering the complaint of a long-suffering people who are patrons of this company. They insist and demand better service from the telephone company. Will they get it? Let us watch developments.

SOME FACES SEEN AT CONVENTION.

After Forty One Years.

Hon. W. H. Strickland, one of the Overstreet delegates from Bryan, arrived in the city on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Strickland is an old Confederate soldier. He says that the last time he was in Statesboro was on his return from Virginia when he came through Statesboro. He says there was a little shack or two here then. He was surprised to see so much a wide awake, hustling young city.

Hon. Thomas Eason.

Prominent among the visitors to the city this week is the Hon. Tom Eason of Macon. Col. Eason is a member of the state prison board. He is a native of Bulloch county, but had been away for more than twenty-one years. During all these years he has always evinced a sharp interest in the affairs of this county, and when he learned that there was a deadlock convention to convene here the inducement to come was more than he could stand. He is for Brannen first and Col. J. Randolph Anderson second.

Senator Overstreet.

Among the delegates in the city to attend the convention there is none more prominent and popular than "Kinch" Overstreet. Col. Overstreet is the newly elected senator from the 17th senatorial district and at present is a member of the house from Screven. He has put more lobbyists to flight than any other of the legislature, Joe Hill Hall not excepted. Col. Overstreet is making a strong fight for Brannen.

Judge J. W. Overstreet.

If you see a rather small built man in the center of a group of admiring constituents, the chances are ten to one that it is Judge J. W. Overstreet, the newly elected member from the First district for the short term. Judge Overstreet made a winning race throughout the district, and is deservedly popular everywhere he is known. He will make the district a valuable member and it is very probable that his services will be called for by the people again at no distant day.

Hon. R. G. Daniel.

Among the early arrivals to the convention was "Bob" Daniel from the new county of Jenkins. One immediate neighbor to the Northwest of us. Mr. Daniel is a member of the large mercantile establishment of Daniel Sons & Palmer of Macon, one of the most extensive establishments of its kind in this section of Georgia. Col. Daniel and Hon. W. M. Brannen have the distinction of representing the banner Brannen county in the district, Sheppard receiving less than one hundred votes in Jenkins county.

Col. J. Randolph Anderson.

Hon. J. Randolph Anderson one of "the three representatives from Bulloch" in the Georgia legislature, is in town. Col. Anderson acquired the title of being one of Bulloch's three last year during the progress of the new county fight. It was he who presented the First district on the new county committee, and to killing the Metter proposition. Mr. Anderson says he is for Brannen first, but in the event that the worse should come to the worst he is willing to be struck by congressional lightning. He has headquarters at the Jackel.

Service at the Baptist Church Sunday.

Church service at the Baptist church will be resumed next Sunday, and in addition to the regular service the hand of church fellowship will be extended to all that have lately been received by baptism. The Rev. Mr. M. H. Massey will return home Saturday.

Ku Klux to be Revived Again in Fulton County.

Atlanta, Aug. 20.—Petitions bearing a tentative plan for the formation of a Ku Klux Klan, modeled in a general way upon the Klan of reconstruction times, which Thos. Dixon, in his novel, the Clansman, brought to the memory of older readers so vividly, are being circulated at various places around Atlanta.

Those who sign the slips of paper pledge themselves to attend a meeting to be held shortly, when the organization will be formally launched. No date is set for the meeting nor is any place mentioned. The petitions, however, are numerous and signed.

The formation of the Ku Klux was thought expedient in view of the recent and atrocious outrages committed by negroes upon white women. It is believed by some that its operations will be more effective even than the increased force of county police, and the deputies which Sheriff Nelms will appoint in each of the twelve militia districts.

The utmost secrecy is being preserved. No one knows the names of the men who first instituted the movement. The petitions made their first appearance Monday evening. It is not known whether the organization will bear the name of the Ku Klux, but its operations, to all intents and purposes, will be the same. It will exercise a night patrol, and will scour every corner of the county. Suspicious negroes who cannot account for their actions, who are idlers or are out at late hours without a sufficient excuse, will be made to "move on." Negroes whose influences are known to be dangerous to a community will be asked to leave it. It is believed that the organization will be completed by the end of the week.

Subscriptions Taken for Church at Stillmore.

Stillmore has been peculiarly unfortunate in having so many fires recently. Some time ago the Methodist church there was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. It is proposed to build a finer and much larger church than the one recently burned. For this purpose four thousand dollars was raised by the citizens of Stillmore. A subscription list was carried around for awhile Wednesday afternoon and fifty dollars was contributed by citizens of Statesboro.

This speaks volumes for the people of this city who are always ready to help worthy distressed neighbors when calamity is visited upon them.

PROCLAMATION

By His Excellency, Joseph M. Terrell Governor of Ga.

Atlanta, Ga., July 30, 1906

Whereas the general assembly, at its session in 1903, proposed an amendment to the Constitution of this state, as set forth in an Act approved Aug. 23, 1903, to-wit:

An Act to amend the constitution of the state, by providing that the legislature shall have authority to add to the number of judges of the superior courts, and for other purposes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly, that the constitution of this state be amended by adding to paragraph 1, section 3, of article 3, the following: "The legislature shall have authority to add one or more additional judges of the superior court, and shall have authority to regulate the manner in which the judges of such courts shall dispose of the business thereof, and shall fix the time at which the term or terms of office of such additional judge or judges shall begin, and the manner of his appointment or election, and shall have authority from time to time to add to the number of such judges in any judicial circuit or to reduce the number of judges in any judicial circuit; provided that at all times there shall be at least one judge in every judicial circuit of this state."

Section 2. Be it further enacted, that whenever the above proposed amendment to the constitution shall be agreed to by two-thirds of the members elected to each house of the general assembly, and the same has been entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, the governor shall cause such amendment to be published in at least two newspapers in each congressional district in this state, for two months next preceding the time of holding the next general election.

Section 3. Be it further enacted, that the above proposed amendment shall be submitted for ratification or rejection to the electors of this state at the next general election to be held after publication as provided for in the second section of this act, in the several election districts of this state, at which election every person shall be qualified to vote who is entitled to vote for members of the general assembly. All voting at such election in favor of adopting said proposed amendment to the constitution, shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "For amendment authorizing legislature to provide additional superior court judges," and all persons opposed to the adoption of such amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "Against amendment authorizing legislature to provide additional superior court judges."

Now, therefore, I, Joseph M. Terrell, governor of said state, do issue this my proclamation hereby declaring that the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution is submitted for ratification or rejection to the voters of the state, qualified to vote for members of the general assembly at the general election to be held on Wednesday, October 3, 1906.

COMPLETED AT LAST!

WE HAVE been trying for quite a while to get a complete line of 10c goods to add to our stock of popular price articles, and our Mr. Griner has just returned from Baltimore and New York, where he spent two weeks selecting this line, and we are so well pleased with his success we want our customers to call and see the many unreasonable things we can sell you for 10c

For the Children.

While in the market we did not forget the school children and we have laid in a full supply of school supplies, such as Stationery, School Bags, etc. We also bought a nice line of popular priced School Hats and Caps for boys, School Gloves for girls, and many things that you will want when the fall comes and the cold weather begins to pinch. Don't forget our new Games for children, etc.

To the Ladies.

We have always felt good over our sales of Trimmings, etc., and now we have something new to offer—a complete line of Ribbons, Collars, Embroider pieces, Center pieces, Scarfs, Pillow Covers, Table Covers, etc., the most of which will go in our 10c Department and other at popular prices, such as the Racket Store is famous for. Our stock will be in and ready by Sept. 10th, and if you come then you will be surprised.

To the Men.

Never before did we show as complete a line of Suspenders, Shirts, Sox, Handkerchiefs, Caps and hundreds of other useful articles as now. We will not quote prices; if we were to you would think they were seconds and short lengths. Therefore, we ask that you see the garments and hear the prices at the same time. Our fall underwear has already been shipped and we can fit any size man, woman or child with either wool or cotton.

To the Public: HOW CAN THE RACKET STORE UNDERSELL OTHER PEOPLE?

FIRST—We only buy and sell small articles, therefore we put all our time and attention to them and keep posted on prices.

SECOND—When we go to market the men from whom we buy know we want popular price goods, and goods that we can undersell our competitors with and they trot them out, and if they haven't got them THEY DON'T GET THE BUSINESS 202 Ballots and No Nomination.

After Fruitless Balloting for Three Days the Convention Takes Adjournment Until Thursday Morning.

The congressional convention, which was in session here three days last week, reached an agreement, on Saturday morning, to adjourn until Thursday of this week. This was not done without the usual amount of sparring by the two factions that have the convention tied in a hard knot.

Two hundred and two fruitless ballots had been taken up to the time of adjournment. On each and every one of these ballots the score stood: Brannen, 18; Shepard 18. On no ballot has there been even the slightest compliment thrown to a "dark horse." Though there has been considerable talk of "dark horses" and "black horses", yet not one has appeared in the open.

Friday night it looked as if there was going to be something doing. Jake Collins, the mouth-piece of the Sheppard delegation, who admits on the floor of the convention that he cares nothing for Sheppard, demanded that Brannen and Sheppard get together and settle their differences or the convention would settle them by putting both of them out of the convention within 48 hours and name a congressman.

He stated that he had enough votes to his back to do this, intimating that he had all of the eighteen Sheppard votes up his sleeve as well as some of the Brannen votes. In fact, he said as much. It was a big bluff, but it was promptly called by Mr. J. G. Blitch, chairman of the Brannen caucus, who, in an impassioned speech, declared that the eighteen Brannen delegates were as solid for Brannen as the rock of Gibraltar, and would not only be found here balloting for Brannen at the end of 48 hours but that they would be here 48 years if necessary. Mr. Blitch refuted the statement that there were any traitors in the Brannen ranks. It was a bluff, of course, and a mistake on the part of Mr. Collins. His attempt to force the Brannen delegation to compromise only served to cement them more closely together, and at the Brannen caucus on Saturday it was clearly evident that each and every delegate will stay here till the election morning rather than compromise in the least.

An attempt was made on the part of the Sheppard forces to move the convention to another town. They profess to think that the Brannen sentiment is too pronounced in Statesboro for the good of their various candidates, "dark horses", etc., but they have been plainly put on notice that no move of this kind will be accepted by the Brannen forces.

At this stage of the game it looks as if both sides were firm. Just how long the Sheppard forces will hold out for him, of course, cannot be said, but it is clear that there is never going to be any break in the Brannen forces.

The convention has been enlivened by speeches and recitations between the balloting. Col. W. M. Oiliff, the liberty-loving statesman from the common-

JOHNSTON-TAGGART.

One of the most brilliant social events of the season was the marriage Saturday afternoon at the Methodist church of Miss Margaret Outland Johnston to Mr. Grantham Israel Taggart, of Savannah. Promptly at 2 o'clock to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. A. J. Moore, the bridal party entered the church. First came the ushers, Mr. Homer C. Parker of Statesboro, and Mr. Lee Armstrong, of Savannah, followed by the bridesmaids, Miss Kathrine Parker and Miss Leah Lester, and the maid of honor, Miss Eunice Lester, then down one aisle came Mr. Taggart and his best man, Mr. Jack Taggart, of New York, and down the other the bride, leaning upon the arm of her father, Hon. G. S. Johnston. Coming together at the altar the ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. G. N. MacDonell, assisted by the Rev. Dr. John D. Jordan of Savannah.

The church was prettily decorated with handsome pot plants, beautiful palms and ferns and trailing ivy. During the ceremony "Deane" was softly played. As the bridal party left the church Lohengren's wedding march was played by Mrs. Moore.

The bride wore a beautiful brown silk traveling suit. The bridesmaids wore white linen coat suits. The maid of honor wore a blue linen coat suit.

The presents were numerous and handsome. The present from the groom to the bride was a handsome diamond brooch. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left over the Central for the north. The bridal tour includes Washington, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, New York, Montreal and Quebec and a trip down the St. Lawrence and a yacht voyage across the Great Lakes.

They will return to Savannah about October 1 and will reside at 707 Whitaker street. Among the guests who attended the wedding from Savannah were Messrs. Jack Taggart, L. G. Armstrong, and the Rev. Dr. John D. Jordan.

Give Us Earlier Lights.

The Electric light company should turn on the lights in the afternoon at least half an hour earlier than they do at the present time. The days are growing shorter and in the stores and offices before the lights are turned on it is so dark and oil lights have to be used. Instead of 5:30 o'clock we suggest that the lights be turned on at least by five o'clock. There has been some complaint along this line, also on account of the weak current and poor lights, but we hope the electric company will attend to this matter at once and straighten it out.

Opening of the Statesboro Institute.

Statesboro Institute had the most auspicious opening of its history yesterday. A large and enthusiastic crowd was present, the stores having closed for the purpose of allowing the business men and the clerks to attend the opening exercises. The addresses were grand, the people were interested and they did not fail to show their enthusiasm by frequent applause.

Never in the history of the town have the people rallied to the support of the school as they have this year. The faculty has been selected with great care and the teachers are the best that could be secured. The people for once are working together in harmony, and everything points to the most successful term of school that Statesboro has ever had.

The public school system goes into effect here this fall and while it will be on more or less of a trial, yet it cannot be anything but a success.

The exercises were opened with Scripture reading and prayer by Rev. G. G. N. MacDonell, of the Methodist church. Rev. M. H. Massey, of the Baptist church, then made a short address in which he said that religion and education go hand in hand, each dependent for its existence upon the other. In behalf of the religious institutions of Statesboro he welcomed the students here and assured them that the churches were their friends.

Mr. J. G. Blitch spoke for the business men of the town, saying that they were squarely behind the school and would give it their most loyal support. He was followed by Col. J. Randolph Anderson, who was introduced by Mr. Blitch.

Mr. Anderson's speech was a gem, being one of the best heard here in a long time. "In a republican government where the laws are made by the people themselves," he said, "the people should be educated in order to have the best and wisest government possible. It is necessary to perpetuate our institutions and make our government what our forefathers intended it should be—a government of the people, for the people and by the people. Education has made the Anglo-Saxon race the greatest on the earth, and if the American government is to retain its world supremacy the boys and girls of future must be educated. Since the settlement of Virginia in 1607 education has been our north star of hope. The two most important dates in history, those of most moment to civilization were," he said, "the birth of the Christ child and the settlement of Virginia, which made possible the greatest republic the world has ever seen." He declared himself heartily in favor of the agricultural colleges, the bill for which he did so much to help pass.

He has much in common with Statesboro and Bulloch county, he said, and will do all possible to secure the school for Statesboro. It has decidedly the best claim for the agricultural school of this district, he thinks, and ought to have it. He closed his speech by telling of the part that women have in education, calling attention to the fact that it is the part of woman to lift and elevate man, to raise him from the material to the ideal and sublime. His speech was heartily applauded.

In a few well chosen words Hon. J. A. Brannen in behalf of the

Approaching Marriage

Rome, Ga., Aug. 29.—Mrs. William A. Wright announces the engagement to her daughter, Mary, to Mr. Don Peabody, of Sanford, Fla., the wedding to take in Rome on Wednesday, October 8. It will be a quiet home wedding and the couple will leave at once for their home in Sanford.

Miss Wright is quiet an attractive young woman. For the past three years she has been traveling with Mrs. Emma Tucker in her evangelical work and her beautiful voice has charmed thousands of people in all parts of the country. Mr. Peabody is a prominent young business man of Sanford.

Miss Wright was in Statesboro several months ago with Mrs. Tucker conducting a series of meetings and during her stay here made many friends, who will be interested in the news of the approaching event.

Fish is brain food. If you want more brains we have fish every day.
