Throw Away Over Six Hundred Dollars

Well Known Traveling Man Tells What He Saw Col. Dillingham Do.

"I was in Detroit a few months ago and was an eye-witness to one of the most novel sights I have ever seen. It was the parade of Col. Dillingham, which took place on the principal streets of that city, and the spectacles of a man, apparently in his right senses, throwing money into the streets, followed by a shouting, howling mob of small boys, fighting and scrambling, sometimes under the very feet of the horses that drew his carriage, was worth going miles to see. This was the first glimpse I had of the world-famous Col. Dillingham and his unique methods of advertising. For block after block along the entire route of his parade, which was several miles in length, he tossed handfuls of silver money from his carriage, and I was told that over six hundred dollars was cast to the winds by the advertiser in this fashion during that one parade. That amount would certainly make a great many youngsters happy for a few days, as some of the boys followed from the time of the parade started until it closed, and in this way managed to secure four or five dollars each. If Dillingham intends to get rid of money in each town he visits at the same rate he did during that parade, he will certainly need the mines of Africa at his command."

"I also saw in this parade the celebrated and much-talked-of electric band wagon, supposed to be the only thing of its kind ever built. It is indeed a very handsome and novel vehicle, a triumph of the wagon-builder's art. I heard while there that Col. Dillingham is quite an enthusiast in regards to automobiles and other electrical machines, and that this wagon was built from his own design. In traveling about I have often heard of this man, but this was the only time I ever had the pleasure of seeing him.—For sale by The Simmons Co., Statesboro, Ga.

Killed While Visiting Girl.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 4.—While seated beside his sweetheart on the gallery of her home at Steadman, Ala., Sunday night, Dockery Coleman was fired upon from the darkness and received wounds from which he died Monday morning. Coleman was about thirty years old and resided in Milview, Fla. He was to have been married yesterday to the young woman whom he was visiting. A coroner's jury returned a verdict that the gun which caused his death was fired by a person unknown.

Why the Vagrancy Law Should be Enforced.

In last Tuesday's issue of the News I saw a piece on vagrancy, a subject in which I am interested. The vagrancy law is one which should be enforced. If we have a law but do not enforce it, what good is it to us? Why, it isn't any good. If we always talk about doing something and never do it, it goes undone.

Just see the big strapping buck negroes walking the roads with a valise or something of the kind, while the poor white children are at work in the fields. Is there any justice in that? I hope to see the day come when we can take our muskets and drive the rascals out of our territory into their own. We wouldn't have them to contend with them. Ever since Reed and Cato killed the Hodges family I have hated them.

It is to be hoped that after Mr. Hoke Smith goes into office he will teach them a lesson. But in the meantime let us enforce the laws that we now have. J. K. B.

Facts and Figures

Is what it takes to convince an intelligent public. Advertisements that prove to be "hot air" advertise the advertiser as a "faker" and not as a business man. We only employ in our advertisements facts and figures.

In our last ad. we stated that notwithstanding the advance of from 10 to 35 per cent in wholesale prices of goods caused by the advance in the price of cotton, wool, silk, leather and labor, we are now selling goods as cheap as you bought them when cotton was 4 to 6 cts. per pound, and when labor was almost nothing.

Did you ever see such prices as these when cotton was 4 cts. per pound and when the old line credit merchant had every thing his way? Think over the matter and see if we are not "public servants," as we profess to be, and are doing the public real service.

CONVENTION STILL TIED.

Third Session—462d Ballot Taken Yesterday and no Nomination Yet.

The congressional convention met here yesterday for the third time and was called to order at 12 o'clock by Judge Miller, the chairman.

The convention was opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. MacDonald of the Methodist church.

The 462d ballot was taken and resulted in a tie. After five or six more ballots had been taken Judge Miller read a telegram, sent to the convention in his care, from J. H. Burns, of Fairfax.

It proposed to break the deadlock by nominating Robt. M. Hitch, and in the words of the telegram "to eliminate from Georgia's history its darkest page," probably referring to the lynching of Cato and Reed, with which Capt. Hitch was prominently connected as commander of the troops at Statesboro. The motion was made and carried to have the telegram referred to Mr. R. Simmons.

This was afterwards reconsidered and the telegram was tabled. The balloting continued until the 462d ballot was taken, when the convention adjourned until 2 o'clock.

The personnel of the convention is very much the same as the convention that was in session here last week. Of course, there are some changes in delegates, but in the main the same delegates are here this time that have been present at the former sessions.

In the afternoon the balloting continued along the usual lines until the 463d ballot was taken, when Mr. Collins moved to renew the resolution of Mr. Green to refer the matter back to the people. "The people are tired," he said, "the way in which the convention goes about the task of nominating a congressman, and the press of the country voice the same sentiment."

Mr. Giles spoke in opposition to the motion, saying that the people have just spoken and the matter is still fresh.

Mr. Guckenheimer spoke in favor of the motion, claiming that the counties carried by Sheppard have larger votes than the counties carried by Mr. Brannen, and therefore Mr. Sheppard had carried the greatest popular vote.

Mr. Collins again spoke in favor of referring the matter back to the people as it seemed impossible for the convention to ever nominate a man. "It must be either Brannen or Sheppard," he said, "for no 'dark horse' will ever receive the nomination." Said the Sheppard delegates would stay until the election in the fall. Intimated that a dark horse was among the Brannen delegates, who, for that reason, refused to refer it back to the people.

Mr. Simmons said there are other good men in the district besides Brannen and Sheppard and if neither of these gentlemen could be nominated then it was the duty of the convention to put in a dark horse.

Judge S. L. Moore made one of the best speeches of the entire convention. It would be unfair, he said, to Mr. Brannen to have another primary. Sheppard has everything to gain and Brannen everything to lose, he declared.

Mr. Collins asked for editorials to be read. One of each from the Millen News, Bulloch Times, and Savannah Morning News was read.

The gentleman from Jenkins said that his county was tired of elections and did not want another primary.

Col. Deal then explained editorial in Bulloch Times. There is no authority or precedent to refer the matter to the people, he said.

Col. R. Lee Moore then asked for the reading of Mr. Greene's resolution. This was done.

SEVEN DIE IN WRECK

Trains Were Moving at a High Speed When They Met Head-On.

Ringgold, Ga., Sept. 12.—Seven trainmen, members of crews of two freight trains on the western and Atlantic railroad, were killed in a head-on wreck, which occurred at 2 o'clock this morning when freight trains Nos. 13 and 8, running in opposite directions, crashed together, head-on, one mile north of this place.

The collision came without a moment's warning to the victims of the disaster who went to their death in the twinkling of an eye. Northbound train No. 8 was said to have been running fifteen miles an hour, while southbound train No. 13 was speeding at an estimated rate of thirty-five miles an hour. The impact of the trains was frightful and the crash of engines and roar of destruction of cars was heard several miles away in the still morning air. The dead are:

T. Y. Whitehead, conductor, 150 Central avenue, Atlanta.
C. W. Fisher, engineer, 111 Simpson street, Atlanta.
C. H. Clements, engineer, 89 Markham street, Atlanta.
J. W. Kinnaman, fireman, Kennewas, Ga.
N. B. Skelton, fireman, Kennewas, Ga.
W. M. Slaughter, fireman, of Atlanta.

Walter Smith, apprentice fireman, Winchester, Tenn.

At noon five bodies had been taken from the debris and two wrecking crews were heroically at work to recover the other two bodies which were at the bottom of the wreckage.

The tragedy occurred about 2 o'clock, and though the night was dark, instantly following the collision the fire from the burning wreckage lit up the very heavens and made the scene gruesome and ghastly in the crimson glare. When day light dawned the whole scene grew into exaggerated proportions in the gray dawn of the early morning.

The giant locomotives, gripped in death, lay dismantled and bent, and torn in every piece of steel and bar of iron. Like monster duellists, they dashed head-on in desperate conflict and both had been vanquished.

Tenders and freight cars were strewn in all directions, some on end, others prone upon their sides, with trucks and places of running gear cast about in haphazard fashion as though some giant hand had caught up both trains, twisted them into bits and hurled them down again in anger upon the ground.

And beneath the wreckage white faces lay cold in the death, their countenances distorted with agony and horror.

North bound No. 8, with Engineer Clements at the throttle, is blamed for the disaster. It is believed that he overlooked orders which cost him not only his own life, but the lives of six others who depended upon him.

The two trains were to have met at Grayville siding, according to orders sent out earlier in the night, but later on, it is reported, the meeting point was changed to Ringgold and both crews were given copies of the new orders.

It is believed that the first order still remained fresh in the mind of Engineer Clements when he reached Ringgold and that he still thought of meeting the south-bound six miles ahead. Whatever may have been the thoughts of the engineer, it is known that he pulled the throttle wide open when he entered Ringgold, and instead of taking the siding, as he last orders called for, he rushed blindly on into the dark of the night and the destruction of death.

The Circus.

Jones' show came and has gone. It was here Tuesday, when two performances were given; one in the afternoon and one in the evening. A large crowd was in town on that day, and both performances were well attended.

The show was fairly good. We have seen better. The scenes of western life were the chief features. We suppose the crowd got what they wanted and were satisfied. There is a great deal of truth in that dictum of Barnum's, that the American people like to be humbugged. It is luxury that they enjoy and will pay their money for.

Good for cough, removes the cold, the cause of the cough. That's the work of Kenney's Laxative Honey and Tar—the original laxative cough syrup. Certain no opiates. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

When two strong men come to blows, even if they are well matched, it is not a pleasant sight but if the man who gets worse of it will use DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, he will look better and feel better in short order. Be sure you get DeWitt's. Good for everything a salve is used for, including piles. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

When you have a cold it is well to be very careful about using anything that will cause constipation. Be particularly careful about preparations containing opiates. Use Kenney's Laxative Honey and Tar, which stops the cough and moves the bowels. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Crazed By Fear

Mrs. Augusta Zeiter Unable to Stand Strain of Guarding Savings.

AFRAID OF BURGLARS

Had $2,880 Concealed About Her Clothing and Constant Fear of Robbery Resulted in Mental Wreck.

Chicago, Ill.—Driven to a state bordering on insanity by the fear of burglars, Mrs. Augusta Zeiter, 57 years old, of 1331 Nebraska Ave. was taken to the city hospital in a demented condition.

The sum of $2,880 was found hidden in various parts of her clothing, which she defended with the zeal of a Mexican duenna, fighting off hospital attendants who endeavored to relieve her of her wealth.

Mrs. Zeiter began acting strangely several days ago. She believed that persons were pursuing her. Finally she became so violent that neighbors reported her condition to the police, and the unfortunate woman was removed to the hospital.

When received at the institution, Mrs. Zeiter refused to allow Miss Morahan, the night matron, to search her. When Mrs. Zeiter, the day matron, came on watch, it was decided to place Mrs. Zeiter in hospital garb. As her clothes were removed the money was found. There was $2,880 in gold. In a bundle was found $2,100 in greenbacks. There was a note for $150 and various papers believed to be of value.

After being relieved of her money, Mrs. Zeiter called for her son, J. Zeiter. He was sent for and told the hospital authorities that his mother had complained of a fear of burglars for sometime past. He was not aware that his mother had so much wealth about her person.

It is said that Mrs. Zeiter formerly kept her money in bank, where, knowing of its safety, it caused her no uneasiness of mind. But recently she had drawn the money for a business investment, and the responsibility of its safe-keeping preyed so heavily upon her mind as to result in mental collapse.

This ought to be a solemn warning to people who carry money concealed to their persons or in their homes. Beware, Oh, beware! Deposit your money in THE BANK OF METTER where it is insured and is safe.

Federations may breathe a trifle easier. Automobiles have begun to run into each other, announces the Chicago Tribune.

Russell Sage had his negative mirror. He set an example of simple living to the world—but in doing that he followed the path of inclination as truly as do the squandering ones. Nothing that a dollar was able to buy quite compensated him for the pain of parting with a dollar.

The new $1000 license law in Ohio has closed twenty-three per cent. of the saloons in the state, but the revenue for the first half was $100,000 more than the total revenue for last year, declares the New York World.

In a recent speech before a Brooklyn Sunday school, Secretary of Treasury Shaw is reported to have said: "I do not say that the Bible should be taught in the public schools, but I do say that it is not taught there, neither is it taught in the pulpit or in our homes. If the Bible is studied at all it is in the Sunday school, and for that reason it is the greatest institution in America."

Farmers in the great apple growing districts of Somersetshire, famous for its potent cider, says the London Mail, have noticed a remarkable freedom from blight in orchards bordering the high roads. Investigation has shown that this immunity is due to the action of dust raised by passing vehicles, that of motor cars having naturally the greatest range. The dust has a destructive effect, precisely analogous to that of insect powder. Motorists should know, however, that in excessive quantities dust has a very injurious effect on immature fruit.

It was a mean and pitiful life that Russell Sage dragged and plodded through, and after death he is no more admirable, comments the New York American. He made the virtues of industry and thrift repellent by his extravagant practice of them. His departure from the planet is an event of no importance—no more so than the incurable disarrangement of a cash register would be, or the dropping of a ten cent piece through the crack of a board sidewalk. He represented the disease of money gathering in its extreme, and the thought of him, given over to hoarding, affects the normal man much as does the sight of the drunkard who cannot separate himself from his bottle. Many men have done more harm than Russell Sage, but it would be difficult to conceive of anybody clothed with power to be largely beneficent, who has done less good. He was a cipher, a being congenitally devoid of the feelings, the aspirations, the sentiments, that dignify human existence. Mindless selfishness describes him in his activities while he drew breath through the long years of his toiling, and he remained true to himself in his will. Who can respect the memory of such a man? To forget him is kindness.

The Department of Agriculture has just completed an interesting investigation of the effects of cold storage upon fruits, showing that it continues to improve them for the first four or five months, but that after they have fully matured deterioration begins. The latest agricultural appropriation bill directs Dr. Wiley, the head of the Chemical Bureau, states the Boston Transcript, to conduct a similar investigation touching the effects of cold storage on other food products, and he has just laid in one hundred and fifty chickens, which will be taken out from time to time for the next six months, cooked and tested. Perhaps the question, How old is this chicken? which in the past has referred to some time he asked regarding the length of its stay in cold storage. This modern device has done wonders in helping to supply our tables with "fresh" food, and if it should prove that some slight dangers attend its use which could be guarded against, it would only be in line with most of the experience of the world in those things that serve conspicuously and effectively the needs of life.

GEORGIA BRIEFS

Benaparte May Visit Georgia.
Charles J. Benaparte, secretary of the navy, will be in Georgia, probably to visit Georgia when the battleship Georgia is put in commission in Georgia water in October. This will be at Savannah or Brunswick, probably the latter place. Secretary Benaparte, James L. Hyde and George Foster Peabody will all doubtless be present at the commissioning of the Georgia.

High Compliment to Hudson.
One of the surprises of the recent primary is the fact that Hon. Thomas Hudson, commissioner of agriculture, ran ahead of the other state house officers who had no opposition 10,000 votes.

Railroads Caught Napping.
The railroads of the state will have to come across with their proportional share of the tax money for local schools districts, where their lines run through such districts, and that, too, notwithstanding a former supreme court decision that relieved them of this tax.

Some Improvement in Cotton.
Crop conditions in Georgia have improved somewhat during the last week and are more favorable than they have been for some time. The improved weather conditions, while they close the season, were too late to bring the Georgia crops up to the usual standard. The cotton in many parts of the state is small, with scant yield, and even in many places there is a large weed, the boll is scarce. Picking is general now over southern and middle Georgia, and has begun in some sections of north Georgia. There has been nothing to change the 70 per cent average put upon the Georgia crop last week by the department of agriculture.

Compulsory Education.
The next week a majority of schools in towns and rural districts were opened. We want the people to watch the attendance. See who sends to school and who keeps their children out of school. A careful study of this matter for this year will convince you that some law ought to be passed by the next general assembly requiring parents to give their children a fair education.

Compress Files Big Mortgage.
The Atlantic Compress and Storage Co. has filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court in Atlanta a mortgage deed of trust to the Savannah Trust company, mortgaging all its property in Chatham county, Macon, Atlanta, Cordele and Thomaston, and in Montgomery, Ala., to secure an issue of $1,000,000 of gold coupon bonds bearing interest at 5 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

Negro Cooks Apply Boycott.
In a published communication, a prominent business man of Columbus urges the ladies of that city to have an experience meeting at which the subject for discussion will be the unreliable negro cook and other unreliable negroes. He says that the negro cooks have virtually formed a union in the shape of their societies, and when an impudent negro servant is "fired" he reports to the society, and the lady is practically boycotted, so that she finds it very difficult to get any servants. He thinks that the ladies of the city should deal with the servant problem in an organized, determined way. The gentleman says that recently his cook took a vacation, and while she was gone his wife was in charge of the kitchen, with the result that there was a saving of $10 to $20 in the grocery bill that month.

Alleged Policemen Arrested.
As the result of the wholesale poaching, which occurred at a fish fry on the Ponce plantation in Thomas county some two months ago, Otto Cunningham and his wife, Laura, colored, were arrested a few days ago, after a trial before the justice of the peace in Thomaston, committed to jail and refused the privilege of giving bond.

Train and Trolley Crash.
Two persons were killed and several injured Friday night in a collision between a Pennsylvania railroad train and a trolley car crossing the line in the southwestern section of Philadelphia.

Complete Broad Gauge System.
The Gainesville Midland railroad ran its first broad gauge train through to Jefferson last Saturday, and in a short time will put trains through to Athens.

Jackson county the best railroad facilities of any county in the state, being bounded on the south by the Seaboard Air Line; on the east by the Atlantic branch of the Southern; on the west by the narrow gauge from Windsor to Gainesville, and the Gainesville Midland directly through the center of the county. It is rumored that this road is owned by the Illinois Central, and that it will be built from Chattanooga to Savannah.

Crenshaw Enters Race.
There appears upon the election blank for returns from the state election in October, which have just been sent out by Secretary of State Phil Cook, the following:
For Railroad Commissioner: S. G. McLeaden, democrat; T. C. Crenshaw.

The interesting feature is the fact that Mr. Crenshaw is not assigned to any party, and his is the only name on the blank which is not so assigned. The names of the democratic candidates nominated at the state convention in Macon are all there, followed by the names of all the socialist candidates for state house officers also appear on the blank followed by the word, "socialist." But Mr. Crenshaw, who, on Thursday, announced as a candidate for railroad commissioner, appears unassigned to any party. He was at the capital recently and says he is running as a democratic candidate, as he feels he has a right to do.

New State Executive Committee.
Chairman A. L. Miller of the state democratic executive committee, to whom the state convention left the matter of naming eleven members from the state at large, has announced the names of these members as follows:

J. Pope Brown of Pulaski county, Seaborn Wright of Floyd county, John P. Knight of Berrien county, Wm. T. Blalock of Fayette county, W. J. Bush of Miller county, Newton A. Moore of Cobb county, E. H. Mason of Glynn county, Reuben R. Arnold of Fulton county, Fuller E. Callaway of Troup county, Boykin Wright of Richmond county, Robert L. Berner of Monroe county.

Attention has been called to the fact that in naming these eleven members, the first, eighth and ninth congressional districts were ignored, while two members each were named from the second, Knight of Berrien and Bush of Miller; two from the sixth, Blalock of Fayette and Berner of Monroe, and two from the seventh, Wright of Floyd and Moore of Cobb. This, however, was left to the discretion of the chairman.

Compulsory Education.
The next week a majority of schools in towns and rural districts were opened. We want the people to watch the attendance. See who sends to school and who keeps their children out of school. A careful study of this matter for this year will convince you that some law ought to be passed by the next general assembly requiring parents to give their children a fair education.

HANGING DRAWS THOUSANDS.
Confessed Negro Assailant of White Girl Executed Before Big Crowd.
The body of a young woman, who was assaulted the 3-year-old daughter of Jim Hood, of White county, Ga., some weeks ago, and who was convicted at a special term of White superior court ten days ago, was hanged at Cleveland Monday in the presence of two thousand people. The scaffold was erected about one mile from town.

TEN CENTS COTTON
Is Edict Sent Forth by the Southern Association.
UNION IS FOR ELEVEN
Committee in Session at Hot Springs
The executive committee of the Southern Cotton Association, at Friday's session at Hot Springs, recommended to its members and the cotton growers of the south that no cotton be sold during the present season at less than 10 cents per pound. In a resolution adopted by the committee, it is stated that the crop is in a state of deterioration and for that reason no estimate of the crop was made. The resolution states, however, that the committee is satisfied that the crop will not be as large as the current estimate.

The resolution exonerating Cheatham declares:
"That while all forms of speculation is disapproved, yet the committee finds that J. Cheatham was acting only for other parties and in view of the fact that there is nothing in the constitution which makes a person incompetent to hold office because he deals in futures, and because of Mr. Cheatham's efficiency and of the fact that we believe the assaults on Cheatham came from the enemies of this association, we deem it our duty to uphold his position, and to charge made against Mr. Cheatham except what is heretofore stated, as false."
"That in the future it shall constitute an offense against this association for any officer or member of the executive committee of state office to in any way deal in futures, and any one violating this shall be expelled from office."

SULLIVAN HURLS THE LIE.
Illinois Committee Men Come Back at Bryan with Hot Shot.
Roger C. Sullivan, member from Illinois of the degenerate national committee, has issued a lengthy statement in which he replies to the recent attacks made upon him by Bryan. The following is an extract of Mr. Sullivan's remarks:
"In his Jefferson Club banquet speech at Chicago Tuesday evening, William J. Bryan again saw fit to make the excuse for exploiting his new ambition to convert the democratic party of the United States into an agency for the promotion of his personal throne. I regret that he has done so, as I would regret any incident or circumstance tending toward discord in the democratic party."
"If portions of Bryan's speech mean anything, they mean that he would rather have his own way than have the democrats elected to congress or any other office. He has invited all Illinois democrats who agree with him in his opposition to me to back their ticket. If there are any democrats in Illinois who are disposed to act on this typically Bryanistic advice, many of them unfortunately will be found in congressional districts which are close, but in which, with united effort, we have a good chance to elect democrats to congress. If these districts send republicans to the next national house of representatives, the democratic party of the nation will have Mr. Bryan to thank."

FARMERS UNION WILL "STAND PAT" FOR ELEVEN CENTS.
Friday, the third day of the convention of the National Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union, in session at Texas, Texas, was perhaps the busiest of the meeting. The morning session was taken up for the most part in hearing the reports of the national executive committee. This report shows the affairs of the organization, financial and otherwise, to be in excellent condition, also that the books and accounts of all officers were correct.
The afternoon was largely devoted to addresses and debates, including the report sent to Thursday night as to the status of the minimum price for cotton seed was inoperative. The price was fixed at 15 cents per bushel, the entire cotton belt, regardless of section.
Several leading members of the organization were asked for an expression of what they thought of the action of the Southern Cotton Association at Hot Springs in placing the minimum price of cotton at 10 cents, and the verdict was unanimous that the National Farmers' Union will stand pat for 11 cents. President Duckworth said:
"We will stick for 11 cents. The deterioration of the general condition of cotton during the last two weeks is sufficient evidence to prove that the union has not placed the price (11 cents) too high."

CHEATHAM IS CLEARED.
Secretary of Cotton Association Found "Not Guilty" of Speculating by Executive Committee.
At Friday night's session of the executive committee of the Southern Cotton Association at Hot Springs, Ark., Richard Cheatham, secretary of the association, was exonerated of the charge of dealing in futures while an official of the association. Incorporated in the resolution clearing Cheatham was an expression providing that it shall constitute an offense in the future for any official or member of the executive committee or member of any state committee to deal in futures.

The resolution exonerating Cheatham declares:
"That while all forms of speculation is disapproved, yet the committee finds that J. Cheatham was acting only for other parties and in view of the fact that there is nothing in the constitution which makes a person incompetent to hold office because he deals in futures, and because of Mr. Cheatham's efficiency and of the fact that we believe the assaults on Cheatham came from the enemies of this association, we deem it our duty to uphold his position, and to charge made against Mr. Cheatham except what is heretofore stated, as false."
"That in the future it shall constitute an offense against this association for any officer or member of the executive committee of state office to in any way deal in futures, and any one violating this shall be expelled from office."

STEAMER LINE LAUNCHED.
By the Citizens of Macon, Ga. in Mass Meeting Assembled.
At a mass meeting in Macon, Ga., Friday afternoon in the offices of the chamber of commerce, business men of the Central City formed the Macon Navigation company and proceeded to elect the capital with which the three new steamers will be built for the Columbus river traffic between Macon and Brunswick. President Emmett Small of the chamber of commerce was made president of the company and application for charter will follow.

FORGERIES CROPPING OUT.
Over Quarter Million of Hipple's Bogus Notes Are Found.
Forgeries for more than a quarter of a million dollars by Frank E. Hipple, the suicide president of the defunct Real Estate company at Philadelphia, have been discovered by Receiver Earle, who stated that he had no idea where Hipple's irregularities would end.

COMER WINS EASY
In Initial Strength Test Before Alabama Convention.
HIS FOLLOWERS CONTROL
All Nominations Unanimous—Jelks' Administration and Hon. W. J. Bryan Indorsed—Concise Platform Adopted.
The followers of B. B. Comer wiped out all opposition in the Alabama state democratic convention in session at Montgomery Monday, and are now in complete control of the democracy of the state.

The contest came on the proposition to increase the state executive committee from 36 to 45 and elect them by the vote of the state instead of by districts as now. The Comer men voted by the vote of the whole state and won out on a vote of 2 to 1. The administration of Governor Jelks was indorsed, as was Mr. Bryan. A contest occurred early in the evening, when a proposition to adopt a plan to reduce the representation of the black belt in the state convention by allowing representation only on white population. It was lost.

WOMAN DECAPITATES CHILDREN.
Chopped Off Heads of Little Ones and Coolly Reported the Deed.
Mrs. Henry Knippin, the young wife of a farmer living in a farm community, Opa, decapitated her two children, a boy aged three and a girl aged one and a half years, and then went to the home of a neighbor and told what she had done. The woman was charged recently from the Toledo state hospital for the insane.

POSTOFFICE INSPECTOR DROWNS
Went Fishing for Crabs and Got Into Water Over His Depth.
Inspector Frank Voge of the post-office department was drowned at Bayou Grande, Fla., Sunday, while wading in the bayou with other catching crabs.
He could not swim and stepped into one of the numerous deep holes in the bayou and drowned before assistance could reach him.

MARTIAL LAW IN CUBA.
Palma Gives Up Hope of Peace and Issues Decree Calling For Arrest of Prominent Liberals.
A special from Havana says: President Palma Monday night issued a decree suspending all constitutional guarantees, with special reference to articles 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 22, 23, 24 and 27 in the provinces of Pinar del Rio, Havana and Santiago de Cuba. The law enforcing public order, which is equivalent to martial law, also is put in immediate effect in the three provinces named. A supplemental decree has been issued suspending the decree of August 25, pardoning the repentant rebels, and ordering that all rebels be arrested. Both decrees have been communicated to all officers in the field.

Colombian with the issuance of decrees which followed a decision not to yield to the peace demands the government ordered the arrest of practically every prominent liberal. When the news of issuing of these decrees reached the veterans' peace commission there was immediate and almost unanimous denunciation of the government. The government does not intend that membership in congress shall shield anybody from arrest. Senator Palma belongs was one of the first arrested, and several representatives were quickly added to the list of prisoners. Former congressmen and veterans are being searched for by the police. Senator Zayas and most of the leading liberals have mysteriously disappeared.

RAWLINGS BOYS SENTENCED.
Notorious Case Brought Before Court For Fourth Time.
At Vahosia, Ga., Monday, Milton, Texas, and Leonard Rawlings appeared before Judge Mitchell of the superior court for the fourth time, and had sentence passed upon them for their alleged complicity in the murder of the late Senator J. G. Rawlings. Milton and Jesse were sentenced to be hanged on the second day of October, and Leonard was again sentenced to life imprisonment.
When asked by the judge whether they had anything to say, why sentence should not be pronounced upon them, Milton and Jesse declined to say anything. Leonard only said that he was not satisfied of the crime with which he was charged.
Alf. Moore, the negro, convicted of complicity in the murders, is already under sentence of death, to be executed on October 5.
The case of J. G. Rawlings, father of the boys, is now before the United States supreme court on an extraordinary motion for a writ of habeas corpus. The boys and the negro Moore will be again reprieved in the event that the old man's case is not decided before the dates set for their execution. The case of Leonard Rawlings will be taken to the penitentiary again as soon as an order is received for his transfer.

RESULT OF MAINE BALLOTS.
Republican Plurality Small—Gompers Failed to Down Littlefield.
Governor William T. Cobb, republican, announcing the result of the election almost exclusively to a continuance of the prohibition law of the state, was re-elected in the state of Maine Monday by a plurality of less than 8,000, with but few exceptions, the local margin of votes over given a republican governor in the state.
Cyrus W. Davis, the democratic candidate for governor, policy of the party in the state. His issue in the campaign was the reversion of the liquor question, which was incorporated in the state legislature four years ago.

CONVENTION ADJOURNED

Without Making Nomination. To Meet September 24, in Waynesboro.

When the resolution of Mr. Green had been read, Col. R. Lee Moore sprang quite a sensation by reading two affidavits from Bryan county quoting the remarks which Sheppard made the day after the primary election when he thought he had a majority of the popular vote in the district, to the effect that he thought he should receive the nomination, as he had the majority of the popular vote. Col. Moore stressed the fact that now he should live up to his word and let Mr. Brannen have the nomination, as the latter had a popular majority of nearly thirteen hundred votes. No effort was made on the part of the Sheppard delegation, then or later, to refute or disprove the affidavits. Col. Moore made one of the ablest and most forceful speeches in Mr. Brannen's behalf yet made on the floor of the convention.

The session Friday morning was taken up with speechmaking; R. Lee Moore and E. K. Overstreet for Brannen, and Messrs. Collins and Guckenheimer for Sheppard, taking the principal parts. An earnest effort was made to reach some agreement. Charge after charge of money and whiskey being used and a vague intimation that affidavits could be produced to prove it, was made against Brannen by the Sheppard delegation.

A resolution by Mr. Shearouse, of Effingham county to have a committee of two from each side appointed, with the chairman of the convention as ex-officio member, to investigate these charges and report at the end of three weeks, was introduced. The resolution was as follows: "Whereas, On Friday last, the 7th inst., it was reported to this convention that offers had been made in the way of cash and the secretaryship for the nominating of a congressman; and, "Whereas, said offers appear to create dissatisfaction on the part of a number of the delegates to this convention; and, "Whereas, said report has caused more or less comment by the press throughout the state of Georgia; and, "Whereas, it is the duty of this convention to maintain and support the Democratic party of the First congressional district so as to leave no blot upon any of the acts or doings of the party so far as it is in the power of this convention; and, "Whereas, every delegate to this convention to consider the party ahead of any individual or other of the candidates now before this convention for nomination; there fore be it

COMMITTEE OF FIVE

"Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed, two from the Sheppard delegates and two from Brannen delegates, with the chairman, to be instructed, to investigate all such charges, and that they be, and they are hereby, empowered to summons before them any or all parties to testify on matter, and that said committee be, and they are hereby, authorized to swear each and every witness whom they summons to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, and that the committee hereby appointed report back in writing the result of its findings, and that they be and are hereby empowered to investigate the matter of the use of money or whiskey in the primary by either of the candidates now before this convention,

"Resolved, further, That the committee be, and they are hereby, empowered to take testimony either orally or by affidavit, and that the said committee be given such time within the next twenty days to make said investigation, and that this convention now adjourn subject to the call of the chairman; provided, said call shall be made by said chairman within the next twenty days,

"Resolved, further, That each of the candidates shall have the right to appear in person or by attorney and defend any charge that may be made at the investigation.

"Resolved, further, That any dark horse candidate affected by said investigation be given the right to appear in person or by attorney in his own defense."

Col. R. Lee Moore spoke in opposition to the resolution, calling attention to the fact that it was only an excuse to gain time. The convention assembled here to nominate a congressman and he was in favor of going about the task and staying in session continuously until it was done. Both Brannen and Sheppard had been before the convention and some questions were asked them then and the answers were satisfactory. It would be the same as naming a committee of three Sheppard delegates, he said, as the chairman was a Sheppard man. At the end of three weeks the breach would be as great or greater than at present, and besides the convention was in no way bound to act upon the report of the investigating committee.

Mr. Collins spoke in favor of the resolution. He said these charges should be investigated, and if it was proved that either of the gentlemen had used whiskey or money to obtain votes that he would not receive his vote. He would not be disqualified to serve as a congressman but would be liable to prosecution as well.

Mr. Overstreet spoke at length against the resolution. He pleaded for harmony in the democratic party. The debt that we owe to the democratic party is greater than that we owe to any one man, he said. When the convention opened here three weeks ago Brannen and Sheppard were conceded to be men of honor, without stain or blemish upon their private or public lives, and now there are charges of bribery against both of them. The longer the convention stays in session the bitterer will be the feelings become. He was against the resolution because it was unfair, needless and would accomplish nothing. It is the duty, he said, of the candidates to help settle this matter. He proposed a conference committee of four from each side to get the two candidates together and see if some fair and just agreement could be reached. Meanwhile the resolution of Mr. Shearouse to have money and whiskey charges investigated was lost by the tie vote of eighteen to eighteen.

Mr. Overstreet then offered his resolution for a conference committee. This was accepted by the other side. The following delegates were named: For Sheppard, Messrs. Collins of Chatham, Hines of Liberty, MacFarland of McIntosh and Kiehlkriter of Bryan.

For Brannen: Messrs. Giles of Toombs, Chapman of Screven, Moore of Bulloch and Williams of Emanuel.

This committee reported in the jail at Anderson today.

Attempt to Lynch Negro Implicated in Carter Murder

Valdosta, Ga., Sept. 14.—It is reported here today that an effort was made by a mob in the upper part of the county to lynch Frank Turner, the negro alleged to have been implicated in the Carter murder here last year and who was released from jail this week on a $500 bond signed by himself.

Turner is the negro preacher whom Alf Moore said hired him for J. G. Rawlings to kill the Carter children. At the trial he was found guilty of being an accessory to the fact, but with a recommendation to mercy. His case was carried to the Georgia supreme court and the judgment reversed.

As it was impossible to obtain any evidence against Turner except that of Alf Moore, which the supreme court had discredited, he was returned on the order signed by Judge Mitchell of the superior court. Turner went from here to Hahira, but as soon as he learned the temper of the people left the community. It is impossible to learn particulars of the attempted lynching, but a trustworthy citizen from that section says forty or fifty men were looking for the negro on the night of his arrival there.

A Reception for Rev. J. C. Rowan.

One of the most pleasant social events of the season was the reception in honor of Rev. J. C. Rowan, of the Presbyterian church, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kennedy, on North Main street, Thursday evening, Sept. 13th. It was given as a mark of esteem to this young man who has been one of the most faithful, earnest and brilliant preachers the church has ever had.

The large and handsome lawn was tastefully decorated with Japanese lanterns. Arranged in groups of five or six either chatting merrily or playing games, the guests spent a very pleasant evening. Exquisite music was furnished by Miss Leslie Brannen and Mrs. W. M. Oliver. During the evening refreshments were served.

Mrs. Kennedy was assisted in receiving by Mrs. VanWagonen, Mrs. W. M. Oliver, Miss Eunice Lester and Mrs. Williams. All the young people in town were invited, attesting the popularity of the guest of honor.

Separate Seats for Negroes

Savannah, Ga., September 12.—The city council this afternoon passed an ordinance providing for the separation of the races aboard the street cars in Savannah. A delegation of leading negroes of the city appeared before the council in opposition to the measure, and their protest was heard. It was of no avail, however, the passage of the ordinance being unanimous.

No separate compartments are required, but merely separate seats. A certain portion of every car will be assigned to each race. This is an arrangement that has long been desired by the white people.

Starving to Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair st., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. "She writes: 'My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die I was induced to try Electric Bitters, with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed.' Best health tone in four weeks. So, Guaranteed by W. H. Ellis, Druggist."

The survivors were lodged in the jail at Anderson today.

Bryan Will Speak At Piedmont Park.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 15.—Plans subject to revision, for the reception of William Jennings Bryan in Atlanta, September 30, were formulated Thursday evening at a meeting of the Young Men's Democratic League, in the office of President Lamar Hill, Gould building.

According to present information, Mr. Bryan will arrive here at 6 o'clock in the morning, September 20, and the general reception committee will meet him at the train and escort him to the Piedmont hotel, when breakfast will be served.

A public reception from 11 to 12 o'clock in the hotel is within the plans now provided for. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Bryan will deliver an address from the grandstand in the race track at Piedmont Park. President Roosevelt spoke from this stand last October. A special platform will be erected for the occasion.

As yet it is not known whether Mr. Bryan will leave the city on an afternoon or evening train, and plans for the afternoon following speaking are contingent upon more definite information concerning that point.

E. P. Barnes and Lawton Nalley were appointed a committee to confer with the railroad relative to reduced rates to Atlanta for this occasion. President Lamar Hill will complete the arrangements for Mr. Bryan's visit after he has heard from him.

All The Family Suddenly Crazy.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 14.—Crazed by religion, four well-to-do negroes, Reed Anderson, his daughter and two sons, ran amuck in a remote section of Anderson county, South Carolina, yesterday afternoon, attacked and stoned several white persons and destroyed property. The Andersons finally barricaded themselves in their home, defying arrest.

Dr. W. A. Tripp, whom the police sought to have enter the home and drug the maniacal negroes, was shot and thrown bodily through the door.

The negroes were not overpowered until Reed Anderson was killed. The Andersons own valuable farming property and were highly respected by the whites.

The survivors were lodged in the jail at Anderson today.

Negro Lynched

Waco, Texas, Sept. 15.—Mitchell Frazier, a negro about 27 years of age, was lynched by a mob tonight at Rosebud, Texas, being strung up to a water tank in the heart of town and a flashlight picture taken of the scene. The negro's offense was that of cutting a white German farmer by a razor.

Considerable race feelings were manifested and several negroes who expressed their views on the incident were badly beaten.

Good Meeting at Clito.

The Bulloch county Woman's Missionary Union held their annual association with Clito Baptist church Thursday, Sept. 13. It had been planned to have a two days' meeting, but on account of the dry weather it was decided to finish the business and have a one day meeting only. Delegates from all the churches of the county were present. An interesting program was rendered and much enthusiasm aroused. Conveyances met those coming on the train at the depot and carried them to the church about a mile from Clito. Dinner was spread on the grounds. Quite a number from Statesboro attended the meeting.

Death of an Infant.

Friday morning the 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Deal died after an illness of about ten days. The child's death was caused from testing. The interment occurred Friday afternoon in East Side cemetery, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. J. C. Rowan, of the Presbyterian church.
