One Killed, Two

Wounded in a Race Riot.

Greenville, S. C., Sept. 14.—A small race riot was precipitated at Piedmont yesterday afternoon as a result of an attempted assault on Mrs. J. M. Long, wife of a prominent farmer of Piedmont district, by Bill Henry, a desperate negro about 40 years old.

The attempted assault occurred in the front yard at the Long home the negro had formerly been employed by Mr. Long.

Mrs. Long's cries attracted several neighbors and frightened the negro away.

A posse was quickly organized and the negro pursued to an old negro shanty, where, with a number of negro sympathizers, he had harbored himself and was prepared to fight. The posse surrounded the house and the ne-groose came out armed for a fight.

A pitched battle was engaged in with the result that J. M.
Long, husband of the lady on whom the assault was attempted, was shot through the arm; Dr.
Trippie, a member of the posse, was shot in the breast and struck on the head with a crowbar, and one of the negroes named Anderson was killed.

The negroes were finally routed from their position and Henry captured and lodged in jail.

Three others fled and are being pursued. If they are overtaken another battle is expected.

Mrs. Long is not seriously injured.

Piedmont is the place mentioned in Dixon's "Clansman."

Pain From a Burn Promptly Relieved by Chamberlain's Pain Balm

A little child of Michael Strauss, of Vernon, Conn., was recently in great pain from a burn on the hand, and as cold applications only increase the inflammation, Mr. Strauss came to Mr.
James M. Nichols, a local merchant, for something to stop the pain. Mr.
Nichols says: "I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used this liniment myself, and recommend it very often for cuts, burns, sprains and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint." For sale by Mrs. S. H. Harvard wife of a Prominent Railroad Man Sends Great parasite to a Druggist

One afternoon about 4 o'clock an unusual occurrence took place at the drug store when Mrs.
Harvard, wife of a prominent railroad man living in Savannah came up and called for the propi-etor. She seemed to be excited, and carried in her hand good-sized glass dish, which upon examination was found to contain an immense parasite, commonly known as a tape-worm, which she handed over to the druggist with the remark that one and a half bottles of the famous Plant Juice had relieved her mother of that awful thing.

In the course of the conversation that followed it developed that she had been suffering for the past several years with some sort of stomach trouble, which no physician had been able to diagnose, and that her condition had never improved to any appreciable extent, notwithstanding the fact that she had taken about every kind of medicine that had been recommended to her.

Last week her husband persuaded himself to procure a bottle of Dillingham's Plant Juice, and she began taking it with probably no more hope of relief than usual.
She kept up the treatment, however, and on the 5th day was astonished at the result. Her gratification and pleasure over the relief she has secured can be better imagined than described, and she wanted the world to know of the wonderful qualities of the remedy that has done so much for her.

Since being relieved of the tape-worm, which measured thirty-one feet in length, her condition has rapidly improved, the misery feeling has left her stomach and she is rapidly rounding into the conditions of a healthy and happy woman.

The case of Mrs. Harvard like that of Mrs. Bridges has attracted unusual attention, and has opened the eyes of the people to the splendid curative power of this wonderful remedy.

In speaking of the case of Mrs.
Harvard a druggist said: "Of course I am gratified to be able to afford relief to those afflicted in the manner shown by her but I have never for a moment doubted the efficacy of the Plant Juice to bring about the desired results.
From the symptoms displayed by the patient I was confident I knew her condition, and therefore was little surprised when the result of the treatment was produced.
The public would be astonished at the number of similar cases affected of which they never hear, and many of which escape even my observation, but I have never known a case, where the proper treatment was taken, where failure has resulted. The medicines Col. Dillingham manufactures speak for themselves, and I am only too happy to be able to provide relief for suffering humanity wherever I find it."

The Dillingham Plant Juice remedies can be found on sale at several drug-stores of the city and county, Simmons Co., and Mr.
Simmons has a complete supply on sale.

The remedies consist of Dillingham's Plant Juice the unfailing remedy for liver, stomach and kidney diseases, besides being a splendid blood remedy. The Plant Juice Liniment, never failing in cases of pains, aches and bruises; Plant Juice Eczema Cure, Plant Juice Asthma Cure, Plant Juice Salve and Plant Juice soap—a fine toilet article and a certain cure from pimples and sores.

The price of these medicines are always the same in the drugstores, and they are in every case guaranteed to be of the same efficacy and value. When you need the remedies ask your favorite druggist for them.—Sold by The JUDGE RUSSELL IS NOW A CANDIDATE.

Atlanta, Sept. 18.—Judge Richard B. Russell has been made a candidate for one of the judgeships of the proposed State Court of Appeals without his knowledge or consent. In other words, Judge Russell's friends have put him in the race by paying his $100 assessment to Chairman Miller today, and it was stated by Walter R. Brown, who was Judge Russell's close friend and adviser in his recent race for Governor that Judge Russell would not know that he is a candidate until he sees the announcement in tomorrow's papers.

Judge Russell, it is said, has received letters from all parts of the state urging him to make the race, but he decided to keep out of it. Mr. Brown has also received letters from many parts of Georgia suggesting that he urge Judge Russell to enter the race for the Court of Appeals, and stating that because of Judge Russell's well known ability, many voters whose ballots were cast for other candidates for Governor would be glad to give him their support for this position.
Emerson H. George, representative from Morgan county, today announced his withdrawal from the race for the Court of Appeals and says he will work for Judge Proffitt of Elberton, T. F. Green of Athens and Judge Fred C.
Foster, of Maderon.

The Cheapest Stump Puller

This is not an advertisement.
I wish to tell the farmers of Bul-loch what I saw in Mississippi.
A farmer was taking out pine stumps, and his plan was the cheapest and most economical I ever saw:

Tools: A mattock, a spade, an ax and a ship augur with shank about four feet long.
Operation: Dig a good deep hole on the lowest or down hill side of the stump, below lateral roots and to main stem of the stump.
Dig on the lower side so water will not collect in the hole. Only a spade width and slope sides enough to keep dirt from falling in and filling up the hole. Then on other side dig down a few inches so as to get to main stem of stump. Then bore a hole diagonally downward right through the main stem of the stump, from the bottom of shallow hole to the bottom of the deep hole. Use a ship augur not less than one and a half inch. Other augurs will choke, ship augur will not.
Use a pin nearly size of hole and clean out all chips. Let it stand a few days to dry out the hole.
Make fire in the deep hole, and when blazing good, if it does not start through the hole of its own accord, push a long pin into the hole from high side and jerk out quickly. This will start the fire through the hole, which being diagonal will draw it through and out goes the stump. A few chips to start it and then the fire being in the center of the stump will not rain out and seldom go out.
The bigger and fatter the stump the easier it will burn out. A stump pulled out must be hauled off or burned up, but a stump burned out is both out and gone.

To meet the scarcity of labor farmers must use improved instruments, but they cannot do this until stumps are out. Get stumps out and then use improved tools.

Her Cousin,
EDNA MCINNEY.

Turner Shows His Spleen.

Last week's Bulloch Times appeared an article on the congressional situation. In that article it was stated that I had suffered constantly at the hands of my friends during the campaign.
That men have assumed to speak for me who have formed alliances and took positions which defeated me. That I had formed alliances and made trades with the Estill forces by which I was to carry Chatham county and a general totality against myself and friends.
I called on the editor for specifications, and the burden of his reply was that Mr. J. R. Miller was the main cause of all the trouble.
That Mr. Miller as editor of the Statesboro News had injured me in opposing Hoke Smith, etc. According to Editor Turner, Mr.
Miller had no right to oppose Hoke Smith, because I was a candidate for congress, and while the convention was in session Turner proceeded to publish an editorial on the matter, which nine-tenths of the stockholders in his paper condemned him for—and they know he did it because he hates J. R.
Miller of the Statesboro News, and wanted to fight Miller over my shoulders. They all know it was not his solitude for my interest, nor for his "regrets" over what he terms, Miller's conduct in the campaign. Everybody knows it was pure venom and spite toward Miller, and to me, because I am a stockholder in The News. According to Turner, Editor Miller had no right to oppose Hoke Smith, while he had a perfect right to oppose Howell, Estill and Russell.
Some of the stockholders of The News were for Hoke Smith, while some of the stockholders of The Times were against Smith. Each editor did as he pleased regardless of who the stockholders were for.
Now Turner is mad simply because he thought I had the right, and ought to take the authority to make Miller support Smith, and he blames me along with Miller, for Smith's defeat in Bul-loch county. None of the other stockholders in the Times do blame me, because they have more sense.

Turner no doubt expected to reap some profit or reward in supporting Smith—otherwise I can't see why he is so mad about it, that he has to jump on me while the convention was being held in Statesboro, and try to do me dirt at that particular time. He need not blame any of my friends for anything they may have done during the campaign. He is not the proper man to blame my friends.
He don't do it in good faith—but in bad faith. Not done to help me—but to injure me, and he knows it. He need not try to side step it to any mistake of my son, nor my friend Rafe Simmons. I do not like to use harsh language, and will not do so. But the truth is, Turner wants to fight Miller over my shoulder and I will not allow it. Let him fight Miller straight and no doubt Miller will accommodate him. Turner started this racket and now I commit him to the tender mercies of his ancient enemy. Admitting that I did lose votes because Miller opposed Hoke Smith, that was a mistake that I can excuse, because Miller had the right to do as he pleased, and I would rather suffer defeat than attempt to throttle a man in either his religious or political rights; and I am not complaining at any things my friends done—while he pretends that he regrets the acts of my friends, and points out their mistakes in the public prints. He did it solely to injure me and he knows it—and that for no good cause.

Statesboro's Big Boom.

Statesboro was never on a big boom than at the present time.
That the city is growing and developing along every line of useful industry cannot be denied. Slow but sure has been the history of the city's growth since the first railroad was built here fifteen years ago. Periods of depression have been offset by seasons of prosperity. This year, when business has been unusually dull and in the face of a short cotton crop—the great money product of the south—the work of building up the city is going ahead at a rapid rate.

More buildings are going up than at any time in the history of the industrial life of the town.
And the supply is not equal to the demand. Families who would move here to take advantage of the school cannot do so, as there are no houses for rent. Not an empty house can be found in the confines of the town. It is pretty safe to say that twenty-five new residences are needed in States-boro at this time.

The brick stores on West Main street, below the post office, are about completed, and, in fact, one of them has already been occupied. The J. P. Williams residence, on South Main street, the most costly and handsome structure of its kind in the country counties of south Georgia will soon be ready for occupancy. This residence is costing $80,000. W.
B. Martin is having a $10,000 residence built on North Main street.

The J. W. Olliff company is having a mammoth warehouse, 100 x 100 feet, built for the storage of buggies and wagons. A two-room annex to the Statesboro institute is being pushed as rapidly as possible to accommodate the students of Statesboro. A large brick living stable on the north-east side of the court house square is being built. Work on a fertilizer factory will begin at once. The Bank of Statesboro will build a new bank building on their lot within the course of a few months.
The post office receipts are constantly growing. They are twice as large as they were last year at this time.

to prove that Statesboro is living,

The fertilizer factory so long talked of will be built within the next few weeks. A site, which has always been the cause of conten-done was slight, and one being

Hogs Becoming Sick.

The cause of this aggravating trouble is damp beds and overfeeding. Both of which can be very easily remedied. When the hogs are stiff they are most sure to be constipated, as these two generally go together. Letting the hogs clean and dry after having the pens clean and dry are the best remedies. If you think a little medicine advisable give to hogs weighing 100 pounds a teaspoonful each of a mixture of saltpetre and sulphur, half and half.—New York Witnes.

The Best Horse.

There is a growing demand among the farmers today for a horse that is a good—not a fair—racer and at the same time hold his end up when it comes to working on the farm. The man that has such an animal has certainly got a "jewel" and our advice is to hold on to it, and should be a mare, but all means breed from it, for the offspring of such an animal is sure—provided the sire is what he should be—to be of more than average value.—New York Witnes.

Increase the Currents.

Add to that little current which has been appreciated so many times in the garden. As soon as the leaves begin to fade cuttings from six to eight inches in length should be made from the new wood and planted at once in a very rich moist loam, and while doing it take particular pains to give the soil a firm pressure around the base of the cutting. In the fall, before the ground freezes, give the new bed a covering of some good mulch, and this will serve as a means of preventing the action of the frost in throwing the cuttings out. Plants that are between one and two years old are just about in proper shape to be planted in the field.—New York Witnes.

What's Taken From the Soil.

A thirty-bushel crop of wheat will remove from the soil forty-eight pounds of nitrogen, six pounds of potash and twenty pounds of phosphoric acid. If the grain alone is sold it removes from the farm thirty-three pounds of nitrogen, six pounds of potash and fourteen pounds of phosphoric acid. Sixty bushels of corn, if taken from the farm, will remove from the soil twenty-three pounds of nitrogen, thirty pounds of potash and twenty pounds of phosphoric acid. Are you replacing this either in the shape of manure, commercial fertilizers or a rotation? By this time you all, no doubt, know what the work of "robber" cows, and we apply the same thing to the soil. If he robs his land, is certainly robbing himself.

Ducks on the Farm.

Ducks are a source of quite a good deal of profit to those who make a specialty of raising them, and there is no reason at all but what they could be made to be profitable when kept in small numbers on individual farms. A correspondent of the Farm Star, in urging farmers to take up the raising of ducks, says:

"Too much hard food, such as grain, does not agree with these birds, and they cannot thrive on it. Some feeders use a small portion of grain, others do not, and it has not been proved to be of any advantage to feed it. Soft food is their natural diet, together with grasses, vegetables and animal food. The proper selection of the food is extremely important to secure the rapid growth of the duck, and the ingredients of the food must be such as will afford well balanced and substantial ration. When ducks are raised for breeding, they must not be forced, like the others. An excellent ration is equal parts of corn meal, wheat bran, green food, five per cent. beef scraps and five per cent. coarse sand or grit. Feeding stuff should be mixed in a trough large enough to hold the quantity without running over the edges. When mixing corn meal and bran, do not make it too sloppy. Warm water should be used when the water is excessively cold. A second trough should be had to mix green food in, such as cut cabbage, etc., and mix with water; then mix an allowance of No. 2 grade flour with it. Thoroughly mix, so that the ducks will completely cover the green stuff. After this has been done mix the flour and green mixture, and add an allowance of beet scraps and water. When out tables are used they should be well cooked before mixing them in the ration."

While ducks do not require the amount of attention that chickens do, and are quite free from disease in addition to this, no one should get it into their heads that the thing to do is to do it to secure a house, purchase the ducks that are to be used as starters, and then merely sit down and figure out the profits. Like any other thing on the farm, the scheme of making ducks profitable has to be based upon a certain amount of experience, a goodly amount of

CUBANS BADLY SCARED. "CAUGHT AT LAST"

Threat of intervention Causes Palma to Issue Peace Decree—See Palma's Letter Sole Topic.

The great topic of conversation to the exclusion of everything else in Havana Saturday was President Roosevelt's letter regarding the situation. President Palma declined to be interviewed on the subject, but it is known that he has every confidence of a "quick death."

Commander Cudwell called the navy department that the revolution leaders assured him that they had ceased hostilities and again offered to bring him to Cuba. Commander Cudwell stated he believed that he could, if authorized, and the inauguration at once. Up to Sunday night, however, no instructions in this connection had been received. The commander also reported to the department that negotiations for peace had been opened with the government, and that he believed an end of the trouble would result. He added that he was informed constantly as to the attitude of the revolutionary leaders.

In an open letter, Alfredo Zavala, president of the liberal party, offered on behalf of the liberals to negotiate peace on the basis that Senator Palma shall continue as president; that two of the cabinet ministers shall be members of the liberal party; that the revolutionary officers removed last year shall be restored; that the electoral laws shall be revised and that new elections of senators and representatives shall be held, and also elections of governors and provincial officers to fill the vacancies of those removed last December. Senator Zavala says that the revolutionists have accepted all the conditions, and that the government is expecting help from the United States. Three American warships are the most imposing and interesting objects in Havana bay. Their presence was designedly, yet politely, as typical of the fact that it is the intention of the United States to take a hand in Cuban affairs to the extent at least of bringing order out of the present chaotic condition.

On the other hand the government is making final strenuous efforts to restore peace in the island and thus avoid any kind of American intervention. The object of these endeavors, it is stated, is that it may be able to say by the time Secretary of War Taft and Acting Secretary of State Bacon arrive that peace has been secured and therefore there is no need for the American government's intervention, either to restore peace or to insure permanent tranquility.

The members of the government are now making efforts in connection with the advice in President Roosevelt's letter; that they have no objection to the friendly assistance of the United States in the matter if it becomes necessary, but they believe they can settle it between the government and the revolutionists without the necessity of any intervention. At least, they say, they are making an attempt to accomplish this end unaided, with fair prospects of success. This is the latest phase of a rapidly changing situation that developed late Sunday afternoon when an extraordinary gazette was issued containing a peace decree signed by President Palma.

THIS PRISONER IS OWN JAILER.

Turpin Contemplates Suing For Wages For Unlucky Services.

Empire Turpin is his own jailer at Nashville, Tenn. He is a prisoner in the Brown county jail at that place. Being his own jailer, Turpin does not have to be paid for his services and is contemplating suit for the wages usually paid jailers.

Late last week Turpin was arrested and fined heavily for violation of the liquor laws. He could not raise enough money to pay up. Being a conscientious man, he philosophically went to jail. There being no jailer, Turpin himself took charge. For nearly 25 days he has been prisoner, jailer and janitor.

A BRILLIANT SUNDAY SERMON BY THE REV. D. H. OVERTON.

Subject: God's Obligation to Man.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—The Rev. Daniel H. Overton, pastor of Greene Avenue Methodist Church, preached Sunday night in the Broadway Avenue Reformed Church at the union services with his own congregation. The subject was, "God's Obligation to Man." The text was from II. Timothy 1:9. "Who saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to His own purpose and grace, which was given us in Jesus Christ before the world began."

WOMEN'S NEGLECT.

SUFFERING THROUGH PENALTY.

Health Thus Lost is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well," "I am so tired all the time."

There is no doubt, I think, about the fact of God's obligation to man. It is really the central fact of the Old and New Testament alike. It is the very gospel of God in His great book of the Bible. It is the very gospel of God in His great book of the Bible.

Russell Sage is not the first man, suggests the Baltimore American, who dumped his troubles on a woman.

It must be plain to everybody who thinks about the matter at all, observes the New York Sun, that the crime of passion, as part of private revenge, if it is followed by a certain number of acquittals, may create a very difficult problem for those whose duty it is to preserve law and order.

Tippling or tipping—which is the worse? might serve as a topic for up-to-date debating societies. We all know the enormity of tippling, but it is only when one gets back from his vacation—his purse empty and his faith in humanity shattered—when he finds that the tippling he has indulged in has not only ruined his health but also his pocket.

The entire issue of $30,000,000 of two per cent. Pacific Coast bonds has been subscribed for, the bids averaging above 102 1/2. This is believed, observes the New York Times, to be the first time that any government has succeeded in selling two per cent. bonds at a premium. Whatever influence popular currency conditions have had in making this price the bids are nevertheless a remarkable demonstration of financial confidence in continued prosperity.

The return of Mayor Belcher, of Paterson, and his sentence to State prison for twelve years, upon his confession, meet every requirement of tragedy and poetic justice. Here was a man of high place, remarks the Newark Call, who fell to the darkest depths; who sought oblivion and found it intolerable, and who, having tasted the drugs, returned to face punishment, willing to suffer all public disgrace and punishment rather than longer endure the horrible loneliness of unrepented crime.

The following from a North Carolina paper, the People's Paper, of Charlotte, is worth remembering: Buy a farm, young man. No matter how small it may be, buy a farm and prepare it so that your land will provide you a living. Twenty years from now the man who owns his farm will be independent and will have at his command the means of a livelihood. The expansion of manufacturing cannot go on forever, and there will come a day in this country, as there has in others, when the supply will exceed the demand, and the only absolutely safe occupation will be farming. Buy a farm while one may be had.

Obviously, an impartial commission of experts would be the ideal tribunal to pass on all cases of supposed insanity. But the exact opposite is the case, declares the New York Herald. Instead of arriving at a joint conclusion the learned gentlemen take sides against each other, and confusion is worse confounded. It is this practice that lovers expert scientific testimony past all hope of that respectful recognition that it might otherwise justly claim. The experts are usually very evenly matched and valiantly swear exactly opposite to each other on apparently the same facts. Even "the most intelligent jury" is at a loss to know which is which, and the judge is usually no better off.

Printer's ink, liberally and discriminatingly applied, is today recognized as one of the fundamental factors in the promotion of a city or a business enterprise, observes the Atlanta Constitution. A man or body of men may own or control a gold mine or a diamond bed. But unless they apply the world of that fact, both are likely to remain undigested and unproductive. The need of persistent and wide-awake publicity is the more patent in this day of three commercial rivalries. Practically every Southern city of any enterprise or pretensions is engaged in an aggressive campaign with the object of impressing its trade advantages on possible customers, of increasing its roll of patrons in its immediate territory, and reaching out into new and untouched fields.

GEORGIA BRIEFS

Deadlock Hard and Fast.

The congressional convention of the First Georgia district convened again the past week in Statesboro after an adjournment as the conclusion of 461 ballots without a choice. Col. Leo Moore spent quite a sensation by reading two affidavits that Mr. Shepard on the day following the adjournment, thinking he had the popular majority in the district, was heard several times to remark that for that reason he should be nominated. Now that it appears that Mr. Brannen received a popular majority of over 1,500 votes Mr. Shepard refuses to yield.

Aid For Agricultural Colleges. Governor Terrell did some important work for the new district agricultural colleges to be established in Georgia on the evening of his recent trip to New York, from which he has just returned.

While in New York Governor Terrell was in conference with several of the judges of the southern circuit court, and as a result of these conferences the board agreed to take up the Agricultural College and the new district agricultural colleges and other educational institutions at its next meeting, and see to what extent it could lend them its assistance in the work they are doing.

Not Yet, But Soon. The battleship Georgia, which is soon to be commissioned, cannot yet leave Georgia waters than three or four miles off Tybee, and it will be the middle of December next before she can be sent to sea. This information was brought back from Washington by Governor Terrell, who has just returned from a trip East. The battleship is 27 feet 8 inches long, is not considered safe for her to go into water less than 28 to 30 feet deep. Secretary Bonaparte stated it would be the middle of December before the battleship could be sent to Georgia.

Negroes Boycott Street Cars. The Savannah Electric company is now facing a boycott from the negroes on account of the putting into effect of the law providing for the separation of the whites and blacks on the street cars. The action on the part of the company was not voluntary. The city council passed a city ordinance forcing the company to separate the races on the cars. The negroes immediately began to walk and leave the cars alone. In this they are being encouraged by the negro preachers and others.

State Will Appeal. The state will appeal from the decision of Judge Pendleton, of the Federal superior court, declaring unconstitutional the section of the general tax act that places a two and one-half per cent gross tax receipt, on all express, telephone and telephone companies.

This case was brought into Judge Pendleton's court by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, which declined to pay an assessment of $200,000 made by the state. Company officials claim that the assessment is an exaction of the full amount, and the corporation decided to make a test case and win out. The amount claimed by the state covers a period of four years.

A Delayed Platform Plank. A delayed plank in the platform of the Democratic party, as adopted by the recent state convention held in Macon, and aimed at the jug trade in dry counties has just come to light. This plank, which is announced as a part of the platform, and will stand, is as follows:

"We recommend the passage of such laws by the legislature as will effectively protect the prohibition of Georgia from the importation of intoxicating liquors within their borders."

Secretary Cabanis explains that the reason this plank was left out of the platform, as published, is that it was written in a separate piece of paper, detached from the typewritten copy, and got lost in the shuffle.

District Agricultural High Schools. The law establishing an Agricultural High School in each Congressional district is a distinct advance in the best features of the experiment in agricultural education. It is important because it is a direct step toward enabling us to establish such a school in each of the eleven districts. The law requires that these schools shall be under the general direction of the Board of Trustees of the University of Georgia to secure unity of plan and efficiency.

All fees arising from sale of forfeited bonds, etc., are appropriated for the establishing and maintaining of these schools. Each school will have next year about $40,000. One trustee is appointed from each county. This will give us 147 men directly interested in Agricultural Education and associated with the Agricultural College. Each school is to be given 200 acres of land and buildings, etc., by the county securing it.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "After having used Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, its grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by W. H. Ellis, druggist, Price, 50c, and $1. Trial bottle free.

Miss Ruth Proctor will within a few days open a school for primary pupils on the ground floor of the Masonic Hall. This school is in no respect rival of the Institute but will be on the order of a Kindergarten, and will teach the children who are too young to attend the Institute.

No one would buy a sailboat with sails that could not be reefed. There is always that possibility of a little too much wind that makes a cautious man afraid to go unprovided. The thinking man, whose stomach sometimes goes back on him, provides for his stomach by keeping a bottle of Kodol For Dyspepsia within reach. Kodol digests what you eat and restores the stomach to the condition to properly perform its functions. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

VOL. 6 NO. 29

FIFTEEN NEGROES ARE SLAIN IN ATLANTA RIOT.

Some of the Reports Give the Number of Killed at 30, With Many Others Wounded.

Atlanta, Sept. 23.—The police now report fifteen negroes dead, and reports of fresh attacks by the mob are coming in every few minutes.

One report has it that there are four or five bodies of negroes lying in a lumber yard out Marietta street, a mile from the center of town.

The disorder was by no means confined to the center of the city, but broke out on all sides.

Another report brought in at 1:40 a. m. says the mob has just killed a negro on Peters street. Several others had been beaten but all the negroes in that section of the city made themselves scarce.

Another report to the police has it that a white man was badly cut by a number of negroes in the neighborhood of the Piedmont Hotel. The negroes escaped and no arrests were made.

Atlanta, Sept. 23.—Rumors have it that at least twenty-five to thirty or more have been killed, but it is impossible at the time to confirm these reports.

Atlanta, Sept. 23.—At 2 o'clock this morning the downtown district is quiet. All reserve police are duty with Winchester rifles. A heavy rain has begun and this has cleared the crowd and police are patrolling the streets.

Atlanta, Sept. 23.—Col. Clifford Anderson of the fifth Georgia Regiment in charge of a squad of 100 militiamen, is patrolling the center of the city. It is not expected that more than a full company will be mobilized in the morning. What action is to be taken to day will depend upon developments at sunrise.

Atlanta, Sept. 23.—Ten negroes are known to have been killed and unverified reports have been received of as many more killed by a wild mob assembly on the streets tonight who captured and dealt roughly with every negro who came along.

The police could do nothing with the crowd.

Violence broke out in various parts of the city, and apparently about the same time.

The principal mob gathered in the center of the city on Peachtree street, at the junction of Marietta and Decatur. Every passing street car was held up in the search for negroes.

OTHER ACTS OF VIOLENCE

In addition to the violence dealt negroes wherever they could be found, plate glass windows were smashed several small fruit stands were wrecked, and the mob in its will recklessness seemed to hesitate at nothing.

The people were incited to this violence by reports of three attempts at assaults upon white women on the outskirts of the city to-day. Half a dozen extras, detailing these assaults under flaring headlines covering the half of the page were got out tonight by the afternoon papers, and there

Convention Meets Again.

(Special to the News.)

Waynesboro, Sept. 24.—The congressional convention of the first district met here today for its fourth session. This, however, is the first time it has met here; the other three sessions having been held at Statesboro.

The deadlock is still on and there is no sign of a break by either side. The delegates will stand by their instructions to the last. The advantage claimed to have been gained by the Sheppard forces in having the convention removed from Statesboro to Waynesboro is not as great as they seemed to think it would be. McKenzie, the alternate from Burke county, who voted with the Sheppard delegation to remove the convention, will not be allowed to sit in the convention as a delegate again.

Some of the delegates arrived Sunday and Sunday night, but most of the delegates came in on the train this morning. Both of the congressional candidates, Messrs. Brannen and Sheppard, are on hand.

The personnel of the convention does not differ materially from that of the other sessions. Secretary Warrall is at his post ready to look after the roll call and balloting.

The convention met in the court house at 12 o'clock and was called to order by Col. E. P. Miller, the chairman, who has previously presided over the sessions of the body.

"We are not trying to get Alf Moore hung, but this is the only chance we can see to prove us innocent of that awful crime. Alf says he was at Carter's when the Carter children were killed. We know that we were not there, and if Alf tells the truth when he goes on the gallows he will tell that we were not there and that he never saw us until he saw us in this jail. It doesn't look reasonable that Alf will tell a lie on us on the gallows—Almost all murderers confess on the gallows, and we think Alf will.

"GIVES US A CHANCE."

"We can't see where it will do anyone any injustice for Alf to be hanged twenty or thirty days ahead of us and it gives us a chance to establish our innocence. It looks like if the people are after the truth they will insist on this being done, and we do earnestly beg the good people all over the state to help us get the governor to set our sentence twenty or thirty days after Alf Moore's. If so, we feel that the truth will come and that we will go free. If the negro should happen not to clear us, we will be in no worse fix than we are now. Yours truly,

"Milton and Jesse Rawlins."

"The boys have got that thing down exactly right," said J. G. Rawlins. "That's the solution of the whole matter. The nigger will squeal when they put that rope around his neck, but let me get back to what I was reading awhile ago."

Rawlins then began going over the various chapters which he had read, arguing them as he went, to show how plain they were. They were condemnatory of people who profess much and do little. "There is no 'may's' nor 'might be's' along here; everything is 'shall'—shall be saved and shall be lost. God Almighty don't quibble when he talks to sinners. There's no sugar nor salt in mine. I'm saying—it's the straight thing, just like it's written in the Book."

"NO HOPE IN BIBLE."

Rawlins was asked if he had not found anything in the Bible to give him hope for the hereafter.

"Not a word," was his reply. "I am as sure to go to hell as there is such a place. I have got malice in my heart and if I said I don't have it, it would be a lie and God would shoo' punish me. But I am not going to be by myself. This Book condemns many of these old long-faced fellows who backbite their neighbors, who harbor envy and malice and who look to the letter rather than the spirit. It gets a lot of them who try to patch up the scriptures to make themselves appear better than they are, too. I expect to go to an eternal never-ending hell of fire and brimstone, but Rawlins won't be alone. That don't excuse me, but it does show that God does not make as much difference in sinners as men make sometimes."

While Rawlins contemplates the worst that can come to him in the next world, he still expresses a desire to have it come without further delays. He also manages to keep his appetite in the presence of it all. "Send a peck of pears and tell some of the other boys to send us some sugarcane," was his closing remark to the reporter today.
