Let Farmers Organize.

We are in favor of the farmers of Bulloch county perfecting an organization to be known as the Farmers' Union or Farmers' Protective Union. The idea is to have an organization to control labor, fix prices of labor and look after the general welfare of the agricultural classes of the county. The day for a union among the farmers has come. They form by far the largest per cent of the population of the county, and if they would stick together and pull together they could control labor and fix their own prices for the products of the farm. They are the victims of their own mismanagement. Small and petty differences and annoyances among neighbors have ruined the labor element in this county. One man, anxious to get out the first bale of cotton, perhaps, raises the prices for picking. His example is in turn followed by others and soon it becomes general and one cannot get his crop harvested unless he will pay the prevailing prices. This very thing is responsible for the poor and unsatisfactory conditions in this county, and we dare say what is true of this county is true of the country as a whole. Such indifference and short-sightedness as this should stop. The farmers must band together and work together for the common good of all, and let selfishness be swallowed up by that magnanimous spirit that is willing to sacrifice something for the general welfare and prosperity of the masses.

We believe that a central county organization with district officers would be what is needed. We have not worked out the details of such an organization. We merely make the suggestion, leaving the actual working out of the plan to those most interested. We know, and we feel the need of organization among the farmers of this county. Upon their shoulders and in their hands rest the growth and prosperity of the county.

All other classes have organizations. There are labor and trades unions, sellers and buyers unions, Knights of Labor, trusts and monopolies and hundreds of others, but you rarely ever hear of a farmers union. They are the oldest class of them all, for in the beginning of civilization everybody were agriculturists and shepherds. The time has come when they must organize in self-defense. They have it in their power to fix the prices of labor and of cotton and all other crops, and to make themselves as independent as kings.

Immigration has been suggested as a remedy for the poor labor conditions of this section. Desirable immigrants—French, Germans, Irish, Scotch, Austrians and a few other nationalities are always welcomed in this country. They are industrious and as a rule make good citizens. But do not, for heaven's sake, give us any Chinese or Italians. They are the scum of the earth. But the negro is already here and when managed right is a good laborer. Why import foreign labor when plenty of laborers are here? If the farmers could only learn to control what they have they would solve the problem.

Let the farmers organize. It means a forward step for the industrial life of the county.

HIT DOGS.

Hit dogs always howl. This is true, whether you strike a common cur for some act of insubordination, or enslave through the press a rotten and gangrenous old political canine. The last howl comes from Waynesboro. It is a most melancholy and pensive wail. It reminds one of the cry arising from Charon's refusing to carry a lost and despairing soul across the river Styx. The Statesboro News has attacked someone unjustly. The spotless robe of the ermine has been contaminated, and it is feared the ermine will die. A lasting and permanent injury has been done to innocents. The effeminate one sits and wags his tail and cries to the world that he has been accused without cause. On the floor of the convention this week he got blue in the face and frothed and foamed at the mouth because the plain truth had been told in this organ. The worst was not told. The worst is never told in newspapers. The common laws of decency forbid this.

The accusations made against Jake Collins can be proved, and he knows it, too. If he wants to foam at the mouth let him do so. It is his privilege. If he gets too big for his belt, we suggest that he get another belt. As we said in the beginning a hit dog always howls.

The charges made against Messrs. Sheppard and Shearson can also be proved. The head of the Sheppard delegation is astute enough to know it, and for that reason he has not insisted on the charges being investigated. He always has something up his sleeve. His trouser pockets are stuffed with affidavits against Mr. Brannen. The Brannen delegates are just full of dark horses and are going to forsake him every few minutes in the day. For thirty days they have remained faithful and loyal, and when the calends of next month come they will be even more loyal than now. Methinks the lady doth protest too much.

To the charges that the Brannen forces would never make any propositions further than vote for Brannen, we answer that this week they have made every fair and reasonable proposition that is commensurate with justice and equity. They have been willing to submit it back to the people, letting the majority vote—leaving out Bulloch and Chatham counties—decide the issue. This is what they wanted. When they got a chance to vote for it they rejected it by the tie vote of eighteen to eighteen. Like children, they don't know what they do want.

Again, they refused to withdraw the name of Sheppard from the convention. We have Collins' own word for it that neither Brannen nor Sheppard is big enough to sit in congress. Still they refuse to withdraw their mental pygmy candidate. Consistency thou art a jewel. Brannen has offered to get out of the way and let another man have the nomination. It is up to Sheppard to step down and out. Unless he does so or agrees to some fair and honorable terms, the Brannen delegation will be voting as they are now when their heads are hoary with age.

We verily believe what Collins says of Sheppard is true. We think he really lacks mental breadth and foresight. He has a case of mental strabismus. He can't see a good thing when it is held up to his eyes. With bull-dog tenacity and seemingly bulldog gray matter in his cranium, he holds out, hoping and praying for some break in the convention and the nomination. "Don't give up the ship" is all right when applied to some things. It is no longer good policy for the first district congressional convention to follow.

To show you the absolute unfairness of the Sheppard delegation we will go further and tell how they rejected a proposition to have the matter of nominating a

Throat Coughs

A tickling in the throat; hoarseness at times; deep breath irritates it;—these are features of a throat cough. They're very deceptive and a cough mixture won't cure them. You want something that will heal the inflamed membranes, enrich the blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion

is just such a remedy. It has wonderful healing and nourishing power. Removes the cause of the cough and the whole system is given new strength and vigor.

Our Navy On Wheels.

Reproductions of the famous fighting ships of our navy form a part of the new parade features with the John Robinson Show.

John Robinson's big show will show here on Friday October 5. Each season for many years has found the management of the John Robinson Show introducing some new and costly feature to their already magnificent parade.

As an offering of especially patriotic interest to all Americans, they have had constructed under the direction of an expert builder of the navy, several reproductions of the most famous types of our big fighting machines, and they will be seen daily with the parade. These reproductions were constructed with the originals and to the many dwellers inland who have not had an opportunity to visit the sea ports, they will be a source of much instruction.

With the customary generosity of John Robinson, they will not be hidden in some tent at a price of admission, but will be open to inspection to all who care to pay them a visit.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. A. E. Beasley.

The subject of this notice was the wife of B. T. Beasley, Bulloch county, Ga. she was born June 10, 1817, in Bryan county, Ga., and died June 7, 1906. She was the daughter of a farmer, John Marsh. Her mother died when she was a child. Brother Marsh married again, and she was raised by a good stepmother. She joined the church at Ash's Branch, Bulloch county, Ga., about 1867, and was baptized by Elder J. G. Williams. She and Mr. Beasley were married Nov. 10, 1870, after which they moved into the vicinity of Newell's Creek church, Bulloch county, Ga., to which church she moved her membership, where she remained a constant member until a short time before her afflictions, which terminated in death. She had decided to remove her membership from Newell's Creek church to Upper Mill Creek church, and had obtained a letter of recommendation from Newell's Creek church, but was hindered from putting it in Mill Creek church by affliction. She was a kind, good neighbor, ever ready to assist the needy at all times that it was possible for her to do so. She was a dutiful and affectionate wife, a loving and tender mother, and a dear friend of the Old Baptists. She was always glad to see them come, and in her last sickness she loved to see them come. She had an attack of typhoid fever and an attack of paralysis, which resulted in death. Her husband, John Beasley, left a husband, eight children and a host of friends to mourn her loss, but we verily believe that it was a blessed change for her. Therefore we should not mourn for her as for those who have hope. May the good Lord give her husband children, neighbors and brethren resignation to his divine providence in her removal. This has been written by request of her husband. H. Temples.

MISS LILLIA BRANNEN.

On August 24th, God sent the death angel to bear home the beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brannen. Miss Lillia Brannen was born Feb. 22, 1891, and made her last journey on this earth 15 years, 6 months and 15 days. How hard it was to give her up! As the heavens are higher than the earth, so God's ways are higher than our ways and our finite minds cannot understand why he permitted the angel of death to enter our home and take away the precious one. God in his mercy saw fit to release her from the troubles and trials of this world, and she closed her eyes as if she had fallen asleep and passed quietly to the great unknown. This is a bright, glad, beautiful world, fragrant with the odor of flowers, tingled with the songs of birds, resplendent with the glories of earth, sea and sky; yet its attractions are no more to me, for the grim reaper has appeared and carried from me one of my loved ones. My consolation is found, however, in the fact that my treasure is in heaven. The poor, worn frame will never more suffer with the agonies of pain; her suffering is at an end, and I hope it will only be a little while until I will cross the dark river and join my companion on the other shore. Yes, she is gone from them, never to return again. They can go to her, but she cannot come to them. Yes, gone! never to return again, to cheer us by her kind and gentle words. Oh, how hard to speak the words; they can never meet on earth again. Seemingly, we miss her more and more all the time. Their home is so sad without her, yet we must know that pressure only blooms to die, and we will find comfort in the thought that she is gone where weeping, sin and sorrow are unknown. How heart-breaking it must have been for her loved ones and friends to stand by her and know that it was the last time they would ever see her.

Written by a kind friend.

MISS Wm. Davis.

On the evening of Aug. 11th 1906, the death angel visited our home and bore away our dear and precious mother, Mrs. Wm. Davis, nee Waters. She was born in Bulloch county, Ga., joined the church at Lane's on Oct. 24, 1884, baptized by Eld. J. L. Smith, married to Wm. Davis November 24, 1889. To her union were born four children, two daughters and two sons. Our dear mother joined the church on confession of faith, since which time her pious walk and godly conversations have manifested that her trust was in the living God. As a church member she was as prompt as her delicate health would permit; as a neighbor she was kind and benevolent; as a friend none were better; as a mother she was devoted and affectionate; as a wife she was true and faithful and the bosom companion of her faithful husband. She was possessed with a true love which came from God. From the evidences she manifested we believe death was a happy change with her. We can see a little craft, as if he had been on the golden shore; though assailed by many trying temptations, she was the little bark, by faith, passed safely over, where there will be no parting with husband, children, relatives and loving friends. May they all be united in glory.

Respectfully J. J. E. Anderson.

Great Excitement

J. L. Studvant strikes an immense live Tape-worm to Montgomery & McIntyre Drug Store.

Among the many remarkable cases which have been brought to the notice of the Thomasville people by Col. Dillingham and his wonderful Plant Juice remedies, none has aroused as much interest as the removal of immense parasites from the human system by the Plant Juice medicine.

The following case, therefore, which came to light recently, is selected from number of callers who report their gratitude for the benefits they have received one of the callers in question was Mr. Studvant who has been a sufferer for a number of years from what he supposed to be a bad case of stomach trouble which had induced a run-down, weak, debilitated condition of his system. Being persuaded by a neighbor to try the Dillingham remedies he purchased this week at Montgomery & McIntyre drug-store, a bottle of Dillingham's Plant Juice, paying one dollar for the same, and taking but a few doses when an immense tapeworm, head, neck, body and all, measuring forty-seven feet in all, passed from his system. She brought the tapeworm to Montgomery, and in the presence of over a dozen people told them what Plant Juice had done for her.

When questioned by a Times-Enterprise reporter she said: For a number of years I have been suffering from a general run-down condition of the system.

I felt tired and languid all the time and did not sleep well at night. The slightest exertion would tire me, and I could not stand any length of time without having a dull, aching pain in the lower part of my back.

"If I ran up stairs my heart would beat very rapidly and I would have choking and dizzy spells constantly. My appetite was very irregular, and I would have bloating of the stomach after eating."

"I bought a bottle of Plant Juice at Montgomery & McIntyre drug-store this week and only took a few doses when the tapeworm, head, neck, body and all, measuring 47 feet long, left my system. I am more than grateful to Col. Dillingham and believe that he has the most wonderful medicine in the world."

A well known physician of this county, in speaking of the matter said:

"I have been very much interested in what reports I have been able to gather of the result accomplished by this new remedy which has been introduced here. I was first skeptical, but am at last forced to believe that his formula must be of great medicinal value. I am especially interested in its power to remove parasites from the human system, and am astonished at the frequency with which the medicine performs this function."

"I must admit that I cannot even hazard a guess as to the properties contained in the remedy which produced these results, and I would never have believed it had it not been proven that diseases of this nature were so prevalent. I will frankly admit that since these remarkable demonstrations have taken place a number of people who have come to me in the past suffering from what I believed to be stomach trouble may have been unfortunately enough to have been preyed upon by internal parasites."

Sale of the Dillingham Plant Juice remedies in this section has now reached a point that is almost beyond belief.

The sale at the drug-stores and Simmons Co. is increasing each day, and will probably before the end of the week reach immense proportions. Never in the history of this county has so much enthusiasm been aroused for an

The fire insurance companies need not expect to hear the last of their shameless methods in San Francisco, the New York World warns them, so long as they weigh in with their obligations. They have been guilty of the most foolish business policy conceivable.

The election of Colonel Henry A. Du Pont as Senator from Delaware makes the Senate full for the first time since March, 1905. When Oklahoma elects its Senators next year, there will be ninety-two members on the Senate roll, and it is not impossible that Arizona will carry the number up to ninety-four.

The Lewiston Evening Journal chronicles the following: One of the largest retail tobacco dealers in the United States says that the consumption of chewing tobacco has increased almost fifty per cent. in five years. He attributes this increase to the automobile, because it is impossible to enjoy a cigar or pipe while whizzing along in a motor car. There is also danger of sparks or ashes from the lighted cigar or pipe getting into the eyes.

The United States Bureau of Labor has issued a bulletin in which the rates of wages paid in America, Great Britain and Germany, from 1890 to 1903, are compared. The figures cover thirteen of the most important branches of labor, and show that the British employer pays nearly fifty per cent. more for his labor than does the German, while the difference as against the American employer is 191 per cent. At the same time it is shown that the German worker is increasing his rate of wages toward the British standard.

Suitable farming land is provided by the Australian government for groups of men and their families; but will ultimately settle in villages settlements, but they are not to be co-operators. Each settler will stand or fall on his own merits. Government overseers will guide and instruct the settler for two years, and the home erected for his use can be used as a public hall or school. Plain railroads, implements, a small stock of cows, poultry, etc.; roofing material, water tanks, etc., will be supplied for the first year. This will be charged as a loan and must be eventually repaid to the State.

It is generally conceded, says Life, that, so far as known, the late Russell Sage had fairly good enjoyment of life. He did the thing he liked best to do most of his days, his choice of an occupation being to accumulate money. It is not much of an occupation for a lifetime, but it is an occupation for which Mr. Sage had trained himself, and he was pretty good at it. He did not have nearly as much fun as St. Francis of Assisi, whose specialty was the acquisition of poverty, but, as compared with other men who choose riches, Mr. Sage must be considered to have been more than commonly successful. No large emotion ever inflated any part of him, so far as is known. His aspirations were perfectly restricted; he had no ambitions worth talking about, no imagination worth considering, no affection that ever incommoded him, and only one passion with a temperature higher than forty-five degrees. That he had as much fun as an average horse is unlikely, but he probably did have as much fun as a prosperous turn-of-mind. That is a great deal of fun for such a cold-blooded old skindunk to have had. He would not have achieved it if he had not had nearly all the turn-of-mind virtues. He was sober, industrious and of regular habits, devoted to the simple life and very good at his job, and he never wasted anything. Of course, he had brains, good ones, and a turnip has none. That was the main difference. Whether he did good or harm in the world we don't know. Maybe it is a useful service to accumulate capital, just as it is useful for a turnip to accumulate vegetable fiber. If he was as harmless as a turnip it is greatly to his credit. At any rate his fortune is very big and there is no charge that he got any of it unlawfully.

The defendant's counsel immediately gave notice of a motion for a new trial.

Georgia Building Site Selected. Chairman W. N. Mitchell, of the Jamestown commission, who has just returned from a trip east, during which he visited the site of the coming exposition, said that he had selected while there the site for the proposed Georgia building. It faces Hamilton Roads, just opposite Park Avenue, and is said to be one of the finest building sites on the grounds. The Georgia building will not be built from the $200,000 fund appropriated by the legislature, but a special fund will have to be raised for the purpose, as was done in the case of the St. Louis exposition.

River Waters to Be Analyzed. The growing importance of the investigation made by the hydrographic branch of the United States geological survey in the south states has made it necessary to equip a branch laboratory that will be devoted exclusively to the work in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Kentucky, Tennessee, North and South Carolina and Florida. The desirability of a central location resulted in the selection of the seat of the University of Georgia—Athens. That institution profited the use of one of its laboratories and the geological survey has installed its equipment therein.

Decision on School Tax Act. According to an opinion rendered Commissioner General Wright by Attorney General Hart, the provisions of the revised Mitchell school tax act are not operative until next year, in so far as the school districts are concerned.

He holds, however, that under the old act the taxes in the counties are collectible this year. The recent amendment passed expressly states that the provisions are not effective until January, 1907. Judge Hart holds that this will probably prevent the collection of special school levies in districts, but where the entire county has passed upon it that the tax can be collected.

To Reward Heroic Service. At the meeting of the commission on October 3 the commission will, it is stated, pass an order recognizing the heroic services of three negro life convicts now at the penitentiary camp at Milledgeville in Berrien county, who recently rescued their guard from certain death beneath the overturned turret of a runaway locomotive, carried his pistol and watch and turned them over to the engineer and then carried the wounded guard back to the camp hospital.

There is no doubt about the fact that this second appeal to the Washington court was taken merely for the purpose of securing delay, and the government has decided to let matters further. The only course left is to secure a writ of superadeamus from the supreme court of Georgia, from which the appeal was taken, or an order from the United States supreme court, holding up the execution until the decision shall have been rendered.

Great Damage Being Done. Incalculable harm is being done to the vegetation and forestry of the southern counties by the poisonous sprays that are daily, hourly discharged by the Ducktown copper furnaces, located just across the state line in Tennessee, and unless the United States supreme court enjoin the operation of the copper smelters from further operation along present lines the citizens of these counties will be ruined and the land devastated.

The special committee, headed by Commissioner of Agriculture Thomas G. Hudson, to which was referred the matter of investigating the damage, spent a day the past week in Glimer and Pannia counties.

The committee have been convinced by their investigation that the vegetation and forestry of the counties mentioned is being injured to an alarming extent, and they will so state in their report which will be submitted to the attorney general for his use in the hearing of the case now pending in the United States supreme court.

Trustees Named by Governor. Governor Terrell has completed the appointment of 145 trustees for the new state industrial and agricultural schools or colleges which will be established in each congressional district in the state under an act passed at the last session of the general assembly.

It has been a tremendous task to select all of these trustees. The act required the appointment of one trustee from each county, the board in each district to be composed of as many trustees as there are counties in the district.

The next step in the establishment of these agricultural colleges will be the advertisement for bids for location. Already fifty or more bids have been received, in some districts six or eight counties having made their offers. Under the terms of the act the county securing the college must give not less than 200 acres of land and the necessary college buildings, so that the state will be required to make appropriations only for maintenance.

Highwaymen Loot Bank. Held Whole Town At Bay Temporarily and Made Escape. Eight masked men and heavily armed burglars held the people of Whitfield, Mich., at bay early Thursday while they rifled the Newaygo County bank and attempted also to rob the bank of R. C. Van der Bilt.

The interior of the Newaygo County bank was completely wrecked by two explosions. The burglars got between $2,000 and $3,000 in cash. While the crooks were at work at the Cannon bank, the townspeople, gathered by the explosions, awaited their ride out of town on horseback.

PROCLAMATION By His Excellency, Joseph M. Terrell Governor of Ga. Atlanta, Ga., July 30, 1906

Whereas the general assembly, at its session in 1903, proposed an amendment to the Constitution of this state as set forth in an Act approved Aug. 22, 1903, to-wit:

An Act to amend the constitution of the state by providing that the legislature shall have authority to add to the number of judges of the superior court, and for other purposes.

Section 1. He is enacted by the general assembly, that the constitution of this state be amended by adding to paragraph 1, section 3, of article 3, the following: "The legislature shall have authority to add one or more additional judges of the superior court, and shall have authority to regulate the manner in which the judges of such circuits shall be chosen, the term thereof, and shall fix the time at which the term or terms of office of such additional judge or judges shall begin, and the manner of his appointment or election, and shall have authority from time to time to add to the number of such judges in any judicial circuit or to reduce the number of judges in any judicial circuit, provided that at all times there shall be at least one judge in every judicial circuit of this state."

Section 2. Be it further enacted, that whenever the above proposed amendment to the constitution shall be agreed to by two-thirds of the members elected to each house of the general assembly, and the same has been entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, the governor shall cause such amendment to be published in at least two newspapers in this state, for two months next preceding the time of holding the next general election.

Section 3. Be it further enacted, that the above proposed amendment shall be submitted for ratification or rejection to the electors of this state at the next general election to be held after publication as provided for in the second section of this act, in the several election districts of this state, at which election every person shall be qualified to vote who is entitled to vote for members of the general assembly. All voting at such election in favor of adopting said proposed amendment to the constitution, shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "For amendment authorizing legislature to provide additional superior court judges," and all persons opposed to the adoption of such amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "Against amendment authorizing legislature to provide additional superior court judges."

Now, therefore, I, Joseph M. You may not think you are extravagant. You may not waste large sums of money, but don't you spend nickels and dimes thoughtlessly? So small you do not think they count. How much did you spend yesterday? How much could you have saved? Remember that was only one day. Would not ten years of the same saving be worth while? Open an account with us today.

Cotton Market.
The cotton market remains about the same. The best prices paid for short cotton are from 9 to 10 cents and for Sea Island from 21 to 22. The staple is being put on market as fast as it is gathered and if the sales continue at the present rate the bulk of the crop will have been sold by November first.

Veterans Met.
The Confederate Veterans of Bulloch county met in the court house yesterday and after transacting other business appointed the following delegates to the reunion to be held in Savannah Nov. 13-14: R. W. DeLoach, J. A. Nevills and J. C. Crumley.

Attention Patrons.

While it has not been the custom of the News management to call on the patrons of the paper through its columns for that which is due us, yet in this case we will have to ask those who are due us for subscription, advertising, job work, etc., to call and settle the same. We are carrying on our books nearly $4,000 in these amounts, ranging from one dollar to fifty dollars.

The management has expended nearly $2,500 on the two agricultural displays, the one at Macon and the other in Atlanta. Mr. Miller is away from home looking after this matter. He has gone the limit on the expense incurred in the matter. On his shoulders rests the burden of not only the $4,000 due us on the paper, but that of the $2,500 expended on the fair displays as well. This is a burden that few men in his circumstances could carry. He needs money, the paper needs money, and we ask those who owe us to come up and settle. Your amount may be small but it will help a little.

This agricultural display, which is one of the best displays ever seen in the state, will do the county a vast amount of good. We are not begging, but asking those who owe us to remember us. Mr. J. Doy Jones is with the paper, and he will receipt you, or any member of the office force will do the same.

Homer Lee Laid to Rest.

Mr. Homer Lee who was mingled by a freight train at the oil mill Thursday afternoon died about twelve o'clock that night. His death was due to the loss of blood and the shock caused by the accident. It came as a great surprise for no one thought the wound would prove fatal. The family are prostrated with grief. Miss Gussie Lee, a sister of the deceased, and a member of the junior class of Brenau College, collapsed completely when the sad news was told her after being withheld until she was nearly home. Physicians had to administer later drugs to revive her. The death has cast a gloom over the entire community.

The funeral exercises were held at the Methodist church Saturday morning at ten o'clock, being conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. N. MacDonnell assisted by Rev. Mr. Adams of Brooklet.

All the business houses were closed as a mark of respect. The funeral procession was one of the largest ever seen here. The floral tributes were numerous and handsome. Mr. Charles Homer Lee the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lee, was at the time of his death in his twenty first year. He is survived by his parents both of whom are yet living, by Mrs. W. B. Johnston, Miss Sadie Lee, Miss Gussie Lee and Mr. Dowse Lee.

The deceased was a member of the Methodist church. He had been elected to the initiatory degree of the Knights of Pythias and would have taken that degree in a few days. NOTICE.
I have opened a first class restaurant in the store recently occupied by Burns and Company on West Main street. The public, and ladies, especially are invited to give me a call. My wife or daughter will always be at the restaurant and for this reason I can assure prompt and courteous service.
J. F. OLLIFF.

Attention! Attention! Attention!

TAKE this method of announcing to the good people of Bulloch County that on next Friday, October 5th, I will open a First Class Restaurant in the place now used for my Ice Cream Parlor. I will spare no pains, time nor money in making this not only the best public dining room in Bulloch, but no town of this size can boast of a better one. I am well pleased with my summer's business, as thousands of customers have left our store perfectly satisfied, and I feel that if I can please them with the luxuries of life surely I can please them with the necessities of life.

REMEMBER! This will be a first place for first class people, and you will not be afraid to bring your wives and daughters. I guarantee there will be no drinking or boisterousness inside the building.

REMEMBER! That we are going to serve the best the market affords. That all of the cooking will be in a kitchen in the rear, preventing you from being annoyed by the odor.

REMEMBER! That we will have the best cook to be found in these parts. That you can get a square meal for forty cents (40c) or you can order just what you want.

REMEMBER! That our upstairs will be none but the best and served in every style. That you will always find our table linen clean.

REMEMBER! That we will exert every effort to please you. If we please you we make you a customer. That we will dispense a line of hot drinks from the fount this winter.

REMEMBER! That on next Friday, Oct. 5th, we will give our opening. We have arranged to have music all day, the room, will be decorated with beautiful flowers. Come and enjoy the day, if you do not care to buy you are welcome anyway.

REMEMBER! As there will be an extra crowd of people here that day we will arrange to serve ham and fish sandwiches at 10c and 15c.

Remember! Remember! Remember!

That we have a large room and will in no wise neglect in the least our ice cream and cold soda business. We will have a separate set of men in each line and plenty of room for the ice cream customers. We will have special line of creams sort that day, consisting of six different flavors. Our drinks will consist of every soft drink that can be served at the best fountains. Simply a cold soda is not wanted in the winter, but our delicious cold cream soda, drawn from a cold fountain is pleasing to the palate and is craved at all times. It is a delightful drink even when the snow is on the ground.

Why is ours better? Because we do not use the $25.00 steel tank, but use a $25.00 diamond brand automatic carbonator which carbonates every glass of soda with an equal pressure. When you draw a few glasses from an old style tank your pressure is decreased and your soda becomes flat, and the more you draw the flatter it gets and before your tank is two-thirds gone your soda is perfectly flat and has no more life about it than branch water.

BUT not so with my machine. I can draw 4000 glasses of soda and every glass has the same pressure and has that sharp, lively taste about it that has increased the cold soda business four fold in the last ten years. Experience has taught us that nothing cheap will do the Bulloch people. We are here to please you and don't forget that on next Friday, Oct. 5th, at 10 o'clock, I will open the new and up-to-date restaurant with capacity enough to feed all who come. Remember, the place is Glisson's Ice Cream Parlor.

YOURS TO SERVE,
