Quickly: For the first time since 2010, the Georgia Southern men's golf team is headed to the NCAA Championship Finals. The Eagles took fourth place at the NCAA Stanford Golf Regional with a 6-under-par three-day total to advance as the No. 10 seed from the Stanford regional. GS is one of 30 teams to advance to the Finals from six regionals. The Eagles will play three rounds May 24-26 at The Blessings Club in Fayetteville, Ark., and the top-15 teams and low nine individuals not on those teams advance to a fourth round on Monday, May 27. The top eight teams after that fourth round advance to single-elimination match play on Wednesday and Thursday.

GS is paired with SMU and Ohio State for the first two rounds and will tee off in the morning wave Friday and the afternoon wave Saturday. The Eagles tee off the 10th hole Friday at 9:40 a.m. ET and go off the 1st hole Saturday at 3 p.m. ET. Third round pairings and tee times for Sunday will be determined by results.
