Anticipating the heaviest business in the history of our house, we have prepared for the Fall season one of the handsomest and most conspicuous lines of goods ever offered to the trade, surpassing even our own previous magnificent records, and we feel that those wishing to buy will do themselves an injustice by not at least inspecting our stock of goods before making purchases for the fall season.

Wounds, Bruises and Burns

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save your time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by all druggists.

Damage to Cotton Crop in Georgia.

Atlanta, Oct. 12.—"The latest reports received at this office indicate that the total damage to the cotton crop of Georgia directly due to the recent frost will not amount to more than 50,000 bales."

This was the statement made today at the office of the Cotton

Journal. The estimated damage the first day was 50,000 bales, and the second day of the frost 25,000 bales.

It has been learned, however, that the frost of Wednesday was not as harmful as was first thought, while the frost of Thursday night did practically no damage.

BULLOCH WON FIRST PRIZE AT STATE FAIR IN ATLANTA

In Addition to the Main Prize County
Also Won First on Individual
Farm Display.

Bulloch county was awarded first prize at the state fair in Atlanta yesterday. The exhibit was the best that the judges had ever seen according to their own words. The first prize was eighteen hundred dollars. Besides this there were many smaller awards one of which was the prize for the best individual farm display. People everywhere congratulating Mr. J. R. Miller for the magnificent showing that this county made at the fair, Jamestown Fair Commission now negotiating with Mr. Miller with a view to having him take his exhibit to the great Jamestown Exposition in 1907.

The other counties were not in the running, and from the first Bulloch had them all outstripped a city block. Bartow, that won first prize last year, never had a ghost of a show to beat out Bulloch. Mr. Miller had twice as much and four times as fine stuff as the counties that were trying to beat him out of the coveted first prize.

Now, north Georgia's eyes are opened to the fact that we have the finest lands in the world. Bulloch county has at last won a name that will make her known far and wide as the finest agricultural county in the south. Old men and those who have had years of experience with farms say that the display was the best ever seen by them.

In 1907 a great exposition will be held at Jamestown Va., in honor of the three hundredth anniversary of the settling of Jamestown by the English. It is to this exposition the Fair Commissioners want Bulloch's display to be taken intact. This is a great honor for the county and for the state.

An Awful Cough Cured

"Two years ago our little girl had a touch of pneumonia, which left her with a awful cough. She had spells of coughing, just like one with whooping cough and some thought she would not get well at all. We got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. She stopped coughing and got stout and fat," writes Mrs. Ora Bussard, Brubaker, Ill. This remedy is for sale by all Druggists.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis. Answers Death's Call.

New York, October 16.—Mrs. Jefferson Davis died of pneumonia at 10:25 o'clock tonight. Mrs. Davis has made New York city her home for several years, but spent the summer in the country, returning to the city in the autumn to live usually in a hotel. Last winter while stopping at a hotel she was taken seriously ill as the result of a cold and owing to her age it was feared that she would not recover. After a few weeks' illness, however, her health was restored.

On Saturday, October 6, Mrs. Davis again caught a severe cold and her condition soon became serious. She was attended at her apartments in the Hotel Majestic by Dr. Robert H. Wythe and her daughter, Mrs. J. Addison Hayes, was hurriedly summoned from Colorado Springs.

With her ability to resist disease greatly lessened because of her age, Mrs. Davis grew worse until pneumonia developed.

Breath of Scandal

Drives Farmer Mad
Moultrie, Ga., Oct. 17.—Minerva May, a successful farmer of the Robinson district of this county, killed himself this morning at 11 o'clock in his home, using a shotgun, the muzzle of which was pressed against his forehead as he pulled the trigger.

He had stated to his family last night that, except leaving them alone, he would take his life and when breakfast was announced this morning he remained behind. Soon the gun was fired and his wife rushed in the room, and found him dying.

May was the father of Mrs. Norman about whom Derwood Hardwick was killed Sunday night by Virgil Norman, the woman's father-in-law.

The affair seemed to worry the man very much and probably brought on insanity.

Nothing to Fear

Mothers need have no hesitancy in continuing to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their little ones, as it contains absolutely nothing injurious. This remedy is not only perfectly safe to give small children, but is a medicine of great worth and merit. It has world wide reputation for its cures of coughs, colds and croup and can always be relied upon. For sale by all Druggists.

Republicans Name Candidate

The Republican Executive Committee of the first district met in Savannah Wednesday and nominated for congress, Hon. W. R. Leaken of Savannah. The nominee is a lawyer of distinction and has held several important offices in the gift of his party. He will be remembered as the man who made the race for the same position four years ago. The consensus of opinion is that he will make a surprising race and there are those who believe that he will carry Savannah. In accepting the nomination he spoke of the injustice that had been done Mr. Brannen. The Republicans would not have put a man in the field, he said, if Mr. Brannen had been given the nomination.

Rev. Sam P. Jones Died On Sleeper.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 15.—The Rev. Sam P. Jones, the well known evangelist of Cartersville, Ga., died early today of heart disease in a sleeping car on train No. 4, of the Rock Island Railroad, near Perry, Ark.

Mr. Jones had been conducting a most successful revival at Oklahoma City, and left there last night for his home in Georgia. He desired to attend a family reunion tomorrow, it being the fifty-ninth anniversary of his birth.

Mr. Jones and his two daughters, Mrs. Annie Pylon and Miss Julia Jones were with him when he passed away. Mr. Jones arose from his berth in the sleeper about 5 o'clock this morning and complained of nausea. He drank a glass of hot water and immediately collapsed.

Rev. Walt Holcomb, who had been associated with Mr. Jones for a number of years took the dying man in his arms and in a few minutes the evangelist breathed his last.

His body was embalmed and was sent to Cartersville this afternoon. The funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. George Stuart, the Rev. J. A. Bowen of Mississippi and Rev. Walt Holcomb.

There were few better known men in Georgia than Sam Jones. He would have been 59 years old had he lived until today, having been born in Chambers county, Alabama, Oct. 16, 1847. He moved to Cartersville with his parents when he was twelve years old, and went to school, studied under tutors and in boarding schools. He was admitted to the bar in 1869, when he was 22 years old, and began his professional life with the brightest prospects of success. After a breakdown in health from nervous dyspepsia, he began drinking and soon ended his career as a lawyer.

In 1872 he attended a revival meeting, professed religion and after a probationary term became a Methodist preacher. He joined the North Georgia Conference and served various charges for eight years. At that time he became agent for the North Georgia Conference Orphanage and served in that capacity for twelve years, devoting much of his time to evangelist work throughout the country. He finally severed his connection with the conference retaining his connection with the church as a minister, and devoted the rest of his life to evangelism and to the lecture platform. He had lectured in almost every state in the Union. When not on the lecture platform he was conducting evangelistic meetings. Although for many years he spent little time at home, he retained his residence in Cartersville, where his family lived.

There were many people who differed with Mr. Jones in his methods, but there were few who did not recognize his sincerity and the great good he did. During his busy life he found time to write several books, which have attained a wide circulation. His "Sermons and Sayings," "Music Hall Sermons," "Quit Your Meanness" and "Sam Jones' Own Book" were among his read most widely publications. He was a popular lecturer on Chautauque platforms and was in demand in almost every city in the country. He was said to have been the best paid preacher and one of the best paid lecturers in the United States. He was a generous man, however, and a liberal giver to the charities, and is said to have left a small estate.

Danger From the Plague

There's grave danger from the plague of the coughs and colds that are so prevalent, unless you take Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. Mrs. George Wain, of Forest City, Me., writes: "It's a Godsend to people living in climates where coughs and colds prevail, I find it quickly ends them. It prevents pneumonia, cures lagrippe, gives wonderful relief in asthma and hay fever, and makes weak lungs strong enough to ward off consumption, coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by W. H. Ellis' drug store. Trial bottle free."

The Problem of the Races.

The race problem, or the destiny of the black man in America, has been ably discussed by leaders of both races in the last few years. Prophets have spoken but without the wisdom of the oracle and the perplexing problem is with us yet. A practical solution to this problem of all problems has not been found. We have no pet theory on this subject to advance. The race conditions of this country have always been of special interest to us. We have studied the question long and hard without having reached any definite conclusion on the matter. Most of the solutions put forward will not stand the test of time and practice. For ourselves, we believe that the problem will settle itself. The same thing was thought of slavery, and it may be that the conclusion in this case will be as far from right as it was in that of the slavery question that was destined to cause a great and bloody war. When one has dipped into the future as far as the eye can see, that is not very far and the problems are with us still whether we take them seriously or not.

Not the prevalence of race animosity but the increase of race riots and outbreaks are the most interesting features of the whole question. Where the negro is treated well and made to know his place and where his life and property are protected, there it is that the races get along well together. In Savannah the races get along in harmony. But Savannah is a typical southern city. Atlanta, where the recent outbreaks have been going on, is not a typical city of the South. Savannah has more of the ante-bellum spirit than any city that we know of. There the races get along more nearly like they did before the war than in any Georgia city.

If the same conditions obtained now that did before the war we believe that there would be less crime and fewer lynchings. Men may break themselves against the law and lynch a man for committing an awful crime, but this is not a cure for the deed that prompts the lynching. Like may be cured by like, but this is an exception to the rule.

Much of the crime that is done could be prevented if there was a strict enforcement of the law against vagrants. Weed out the worthless element of the race. If there is a suspicious character in a community, make an investigation and if he cannot give some good explanation of his presence then make him move on, or what is better, put him on the gang for vagrancy. It is the criminal and worthless class that is causing all of the trouble.

What the final solution of the race problem will be no one can say. It may be colonization, or deportation, or something else, but we are inclined to believe that it will settle itself. Evolution that has settled most of the problems of this world, will, we believe, settle this one, too.

Tom Watson has retired from the magazine field in New York and will now publish a paper, "The Jeffersonian", in Augusta, Ga. The paper should be a good one if names have any thing to do with the success of a paper.

It seems that the Atlanta Journal can not forgive Fleming for the part he took in the recent gubernatorial campaign. It is now jumping on him for the views he holds on the race question.

An Answer to "X. Y. Z."

We would not condescend to answer that infomercial piece of animosity that calls itself "X. Y. Z." were it not for the fact that it is written in where it had no business, and in the future we want it to know its place and keep it.

The article on "Hell's Half-acre" was written for the good of Statesboro and not simply because we wanted to knock somebody. It is our purpose to make Statesboro a place, clean and decent, and the pride of Bulloch county. Every thing that is done is done with that end in view. We do not claim that we do not make mistakes, but those that are made are made through ignorance and not intentionally.

Now, it was while trying to break up those dirty joints and have the Sunday revels stopped that we offended the owner of this property. We are glad that he is offended. But the question arises, what is he going to do about it? We want to see him avenge himself for the great wrong that has been done him. It's up to him? Will he move? Hardly.

The article in question did worlds of good. There has been less noise and disturbance since it was written than in any time in a year. The cleaning up of Statesboro is a municipal affair, and can be attended to without any help or suggestion from the man who claims that he pays taxes on the property that, for want of a better name, if indeed, one could be found, we called "Hell's Half-acre." It is the duty of the city of Statesboro to make the place as clean and free from such dirty joints as those referred to in the article some time ago as possible. And it is the duty of the press to expose these evils and to attack vice wherever it is found. We don't care who pays taxes on the land on which the low dives were situated until we turned the lime-light on them and drove them out of business. It may be "X. Y. Z.", or it may be somebody else. We don't know nor do we care.

Like a black, red-headed buzzard, "X. Y. Z." is smelling around to find some trouble. He wants to give us some ideas about running this paper. Just because he owns the land there must not be anything said, no matter how many low dives there are. It might injure his property, and if his property is injured a great wrong has been done. It is all right to call attention to these evils just as long as they are on somebody else's land, but not a word must be said when they are on his land. This is the way that he reasons, but the conclusion that we draw from his reasoning is that he is the biggest ass we ever saw outside of a zoo. Why does he want to butt in and meddle with the affairs of Statesboro? Let him crawl into his hole and pull the hole in behind him and let him never be heard from again. Let him either do that, take "Hell's Half-acre" under his arm and walk off with it, or forever hold his peace. He picked his ears and brayed too soon. We did not show him any fodder or promise him any provender. Someone else must have applied the spurs to Baalam. The look of a sleepy animal with bug ears is reflected in the face of a man who is so much opposed to progress that he will get mad when one is trying to root out the filth and rottenness of a dirty alley like that which we have been speaking about.

A good thought in the heart of such a man would be as lone some as a tadpole in Lake Michigan.

When we want you, "X. Y. Z.", we will let you know. When the city of Statesboro and the Statesboro News want you they will notify you of the fact. If we cannot clean up Statesboro, then we will send for you and let you open your mouth and make one drag through it and then it will be clean for a good long time.

Take care of your health and your nice long ears and do not eat too much fodder, "X. Y. Z.", and we will look after "Hell's Half-acre."

It makes no difference how much a merchant has to offer people for their money. It makes no difference how good his goods are, it is utterly impossible for him to do business unless he lets the people know. This "letting the people know" is called advertising. The Death of Sam P. Jones

Announcement of the death of Rev. Sam P. Jones has brought sorrow to the heart of the nation. There was no man, be he private citizen or public servant bearing the burden of office, that was any better or more widely known than the noted evangelist who has just died. For many years he has been before the people as a preacher and lecturer and it was while he was on his way home from a revival that the fatal stroke came. Many audiences that have been pleased by his eloquence will mourn his loss now that he is dead.

The career of Mr. Jones was a most remarkable one. In his youth he seems to have sown quite a large crop of wild oats. Converted at a revival he decided to devote himself to the work of attacking vice and evil where ever found and of whatever kind. He was one of the most successful revivalists the country has ever seen. It is said of him that he preached to more people than any other preacher in America. He had a peculiar style of pulpit oratory that was very effective. Sam Jones the speaker was different from Sam Jones the writer. Many think he missed his calling by not being an actor. His gestures and dramatic actions were certainly suggestive of the stage.

Mr. Jones wrote a number of books. But it is the personality of the man rather than any of his literary productions that will be remembered. He was a man of brilliant attainments and he used his splendid intellect for the good of society in a ceaseless war on all forms of vice.

He had many friends and like all strong men also many enemies. There are many people who did not like his spectacular method of preaching. He was attacked a number of times for things he had said about people. But while many did not admire the methods of the noted evangelist yet there were none who could doubt his sincerity of purpose. He has left a strong impression upon the age in which he lived.

A New Publication.
The News is issuing this week a new publication entitled "The Turner Glisson News." This is a novel advertisement and the largest advertisement that was ever put out in this section of Georgia. This well known firm has something special to say to the people and it requires a special newspaper to contain what they have to say. The manager, Mr. L. C. Glisson, says they are making the highest bid for business—offering the people more for their money than was ever known to this people before. He says with their proposition they ask the short cotton crop no odds. This firm is doing the business. The people are taking off their premiums. They are reaching out after the people who do not know of their great offer.

It makes no difference how much a merchant has to offer people for their money. It makes no difference how good his goods are, it is utterly impossible for him to do business unless he lets the people know. This "letting the people know" is called advertising. A Young Mother at 70
My mother has suddenly been made young at 70. Twenty years of intense suffering from dyspepsia had entirely disabled her, until six months ago, when she began taking electric bitters, which have completely cured her and restored the strength and activity she had in the prime of life," writes Mrs. M. L. Gilyatrik, of Danforth, Me. Greatest restorative medicine on the globe. Sets stomach, liver and kidney right, purifies the blood, and cures Malaria, Biliousness and weakness. Wonderful Nerve Tonic. Price 50c. Guaranteed by W. H. Ellis drug store.

Jack frost came a little early this year, but no one is regretting the fact.

Blood Poisoning.
Results from chronic consumption, which is quickly cured by Dr. King's New Life Pills. They remove all poisonous germs from the system and infuse new life and vigor; cure sour stomach, nausea, headache, dizziness and all other ailments of the blood. Will digest the food eaten and help the stomach to recuperate. Something like Kodol for Dyspepsia that is sold by W. H. Ellis.

When a horse is so overworked it lies down and in other ways declares its inability to go further, you would consider it criminal to use force. Many a man has an impulse, who would not willingly harm a kitten, is guilty of cruelty, where his own stomach is concerned. Overdriven, overworked, when what it needs is something that will digest the food eaten and help the stomach to recuperate. Something like Kodol for Dyspepsia that is sold by W. H. Ellis.

A Little Talk to

Negro Baptist Preachers

(By Rev. S. R. Walker.)

Statesboro, Ga., Oct. 16, 1906.

To the Preachers and Leaders of our Churches:

Dear Friends: I have been thinking over the condition of the churches, not as a whole, but the majority. The churches, generally speaking, are on the background, and there is cause for it.

First. The leaders are incompetent. Why? Because they have proved it. Well, what did they do to show their ignorance and foolishness as leaders? Well, there was a brother sent from the city of Statesboro in the year 1905 by the church of which he was a member. He was sent to meet the association which convened in the above named year as a candidate for ordination, but because these big lords and gods that are tearing up churches everywhere, these are the ones that this candidate went to meet, and they met them, but they failed to call him in an examination. So, the church that called her candidate and had him ordained, as they had a right to do, without asking any association or organization previous to that of her own.

Now, did the church send her candidate to the association, was it because she could not do the work? Not at all. It was only an act of honor to the association. While, of course, the church did wrong in sending her candidate to the association, because in doing this they have sold their birthright. And after this candidate came back to his church, and before the church would even make any move to ordain the said candidate, she sent out and invited the board of the association to come and help Rev. S. D. Rosier, who was there at that time, and not one of them would come. Every long-clothed preacher had an excuse. They reminded me of those fellows, who were invited by Christ and every one had an excuse. So, as they would not come, the church then told S. D. Rosier to call in men that would come and help him do the work at once. Ever since that time those short-clothed and short-headed incompetent preachers were heard running S. D. Rosier's track, saying that they are holding him responsible for the work that he did through the power of the church.

Of course, if S. D. Rosier did not have any more sense than those two-by-four preachers, why he himself would have been a failure in conducting the ordination, especially also on all other work. Now, if S. D. Rosier's brain is too clear, and his mind too well developed for him to make such mistakes as those of those fellows. Now, we'll see whether or not these short preachers know anything of the Baptist doctrine. Now, the Baptist churches everywhere see after their own business; they are an independent body, having the sole right to her own work, without asking any other organization anything. Obituary

On the evening of July the 6th, 1906 the death angel came and bore away our sister Mrs. Jane Murphy. Her maiden name was Miss Jane Franklin. She was born in Bulloch county and joined Clito Baptist Church. She was married to Mr. Henry Murphy and they lived happily together for more than twenty years. As a neighbor she was kind; as a step-mother she was affectionate; and as a wife she was true. In visiting her home even now after her departure we could truthfully apply this.

This proves that she looked well to the way of her house hold and that she did not eat the bread of idleness. At the time of her death she was 65 years old. She leaves an aged husband to mourn her loss. We commend him to the loving Savior.

Can you win? You realize that to win in anything in these days requires strength, with mind and body in tune. A man or woman with disordered digestive organs is not in shape for a day's work or a day's play. How can they expect to win? Kodol for Dyspepsia contains the digestive juices of a healthy stomach and will put your stomach in shape to perform its important function of supplying the body and brain with strength building food. Digests what you eat, relieves indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, palpitation of the heart and constipation. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Only Part Color Evolve used; they will not wear heavy. W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world. $10,000 RETAINED in any one shoe that can improve this statement.

Notwithstanding the high price of leather, I can still afford to sell as good a shoe for the same price, $3.50, as formerly. The increased volume of my business more than makes up for the lessening of my profit.

If I could take you into my factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you the infinite care with which every pair of Douglas shoes is made, you would realize they are the best shoes produced anywhere.

If I could show you the difference between the shoes made in my factory and those of other makes, you would understand why W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes cost more to make, why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater intrinsic value than any other $3.50 shoe on the market to-day.

Mr. Jefferson Davis.

In the Southland, where she was known and loved, the death of the wife of the president of the Confederacy has caused deep and sincere grief. Another link that bound the past to the present has been broken. As far as the South is concerned Mrs. Jefferson Davis was the first lady of the land both by right of birth and by right of the position she held as the wife of the chief executive of the lost cause.

Mrs. Davis was a remarkable woman in many respects. Her life was an eventful one. She was born and reared in the South and her sympathies were naturally with the land of her birth. In the stormy days of the war, when brother was pitted against brother, she was a valuable assistant to her distinguished husband, sharing all the joys of victory and the humiliations of defeat. After the war she was arrested with him and she was largely through her that her husband's name was vindicated. She lived in the North for a number of years before her death, but she remained loyal to the South and its imperishable traditions until the end.

We regard Mrs. Davis as a type of a superior race that is now fast disappearing from the stage of action. The men of the 60's had the courage of their convictions and they fought to maintain their rights as men have never fought before and will probably never fight again. The matchless heroism and bravery of the men of the South in that great struggle finds a parallel only in the splendid sacrifice of the women of the South. But the old days are passing and a new but weaker civilization is taking the place of the old.

As the wife of the first and last president of the Confederacy, and as the mother of Miss Winnie Davis, "The Daughter of the Confederacy," and through her own pure and lovable character Mrs. Jefferson Davis will always hold a warm place in the heart of the South.
