Anticipating the heaviest business in the history of our house, we have prepared for the Fall season one of the handsomest and most conspicuous lines of goods ever offered to the trade, surpassing even our own previous magnificent records, and we feel that those wishing to buy will do themselves an injustice by not at least inspecting our stock of goods before making purchases for the fall season.

Indians Kill Cowboys.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—A dispatch to The Chronicle from Omaha, Neb., says:
An outbreak of the Ute Indians who have caused much trouble and worry in Wyoming all this summer, occurred near Gillette, Wyo., Wednesday night. In a battle between cowboys and Indians two of the former were killed and a number of the Indians are supposed to have been injured. The battle occurred when the Indians attempted to raid a cattle camp and run off a lot of stock. The cowboys were in charge of the camp and resisted. The fight took place. The Indians secured the cattle and killing a number of steers, took the meat home to their camps.
This news reached Omaha last night in private dispatches and there is much excitement in army circles as soldiers are expected to be started to Gillette very shortly.

Nothing to Fear

Mother need have no hesitancy in continuing to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their little ones, as it contains absolutely nothing injurious. This remedy is not only perfectly safe to give small children, but is a medicine of great worth and merit. It has a world wide reputation for its cures of coughs, colds and croup and can always be relied upon. For sale by all Druggists.

It will be of interest to many of the people here to know that Mr. J. C. Rowan, the young man who preached at the Presbyterian church during the summer, will preach at that church once a month during the year, he having been granted that privilege by the faculty of the Columbia Seminary which he is attending.

Keep the bowels open you have a cold and use a good remedy to allay the inflammation of the mucous membranes. The best is Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It contains no opiates, moves the bowels, drives out the cold. It is reliable and tastes good. Sold by V. H. Ellis.

Superior Court in Session.

The fall term of Bulloch Superior court is now in session. Judge T. A. Parker is presiding in the absence of Judge Rawlings who is sick. The weather has been threatening for several days but notwithstanding that there is the usual large crowd on hand. People regard court week as a time when they must come to town and they come whether there is business to attend to or not. The indications are that the court will finish its work in one week. There is not a very heavy docket and some of the cases can be disposed of in short order. A few murder cases are to come up and it is these that are exciting most interest. If the new trial of young Erastus Brannen comes up it will likely consume a good deal of time and may take three or four days to get through with it.

Court was called to order at 10 o'clock by Judge Parker. The charge to the jury was an able one. Judge Parker's wide knowledge of the law makes him peculiarly fitted for the position which he holds. He admonished the jury to be prompt and fearless in doing their duty and when any case of disorder or disturbance comes before them to take the matter up and give it such attention as it deserves. The charge was one of the ablest and strongest heard here in some time.

Mr. W. C. Parker was chosen foreman of the jury. The work of the court was then taken up. On account of the fact that quite a number had to come on in the trains the first few cases called were reported not ready.

Col. Alfred Herrington, the popular and efficient solicitor general was on hand to look after the general and see that he gets what is coming to him. Mr. E. P. Wood, the popular stenographer, who has for so many years been here every court time was also on hand, as the clerk of the court, Mr. R. F. Lester.

The Brannen case will probably not be tried at this term of court. Judge Twigg, who is one of the chief lawyers in the case, had the misfortune to lose one of his daughters yesterday and this may keep him from attending court. This is not given out as final or conclusive, for no one knows at the present time whether the case will be tried or not. Later on in the week, when the original docket is reached, who will likely be Thursday, new developments may arise, but the indications now are that the case will have to go over till next time.

Up to the time of going to press few cases, and those unimportant ones, were disposed of.

What is the Matter With the Central Train.

Every day for two months with religious regularity the afternoon passenger train on the Central has been late. People are getting tired of such a schedule and much complaint is heard on every hand. We are at a great disadvantage in the matter for not being on a main line we have to take what the railroad people dish out to us. But we see no earthly reason why the train on the main line should be so much late every day. A change of schedule some where would be greatly appreciated here. The freight has ceased to be noticed. It is a privileged character and comes and goes when it gets ready but as a rule it takes a mighty long time to get ready. Any where from daylight to dark and oftentimes late at night its melancholy whistle may be heard going some where up or down the road few knowing or caring where it is going.

Now we know the local officials are not at all to blame for the lateness of the train. Than the local officials of the Central there could not be found anywhere a more courteous and accommodating set of employees of this road. They are very prompt and obliging and are ready to give any information about the train that they possess or are able to find out. The people here have always had a poor mail service and we think that it is about time that we register a kick and kick so hard that results will follow from it.

HON. CHAS. G. EDWARDS, Democratic Nomine.

It is the duty and the privilege and the binding obligation of the people of this district to go out to the polls on Tuesday, November 6th, and give this brilliant young lawyer and congressional nominee a heavy vote. The candidate is one of the ablest lawyers in this section of the state and he will make the district an able and fearless leader. He is one of Tattall's most gifted sons and the ties that bind him to the people of the country districts are strong and lasting. He is a man of the people and will work for the good of the country districts at all times and for this reason and for the other and greater reason that he is the regular nominee of the democratic party ought the people to give him a heavy vote. Let the voters go out to the polls on the day of the election and register a vote that will be for the supremacy of the democratic party against the republicans, who also have a candidate in the field.

The Statesboro News

Statesboro, Ga. Friday, Oct. 20, 1906

Published Tuesdays and Fridays by THE STATESBORO NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

That hurricane made the Cuban insurrection look like a play thing—a school boy affair.

The recent tropical storms were the worst since the great storm at Galveston a few years ago.

The Republicans of this district are keeping very quiet. Is this the quiet that precedes the storm or they up against a good stiff proposition?

The farmers of the west are holding their wheat for better prices. The farmers of the south are willing to sell their cotton at the present prices.

The "Clansman" is getting its bump up in Philadelphia. The inhabitants of the quaker town do not like the play nor the man who wrote it very much.

Bryan says that he is not a candidate but is only working in the interests of those who are running for office. This is an honest confession but we are going to watch the drift of things and see whether or not his statement proves true.

The Constitution and the Savannah Press were the first to congratulate Bulloch on prizes that she won at the state fair. This is significant as these two papers are the leaders in the southern journalism. They are safe, sane and conservative and are diametrically opposed to sensationalism and yellow journalism in the truest sense of the work.

It soothes the throat because it reduces the irritation; eases the cough because it drives out the inflammation; builds up the weakened tissues because it nourishes them back to their natural strength. That's how Scott's Emulsion deals with a sore throat, a cough, a cold, or bronchitis.

Notwithstanding the high price of leather, I can still afford to sell as good a shoe for the same price, $3.50, as formerly. The increased volume of my business more than makes up for the lessening of my profit.

If I could take you into my factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you the infinite care with which every pair of Douglas shoes is made, you would realize why they are the best shoes produced anywhere.

If I could show you the difference between the shoes made in my factory and those of other makes, you would understand why W. L. Douglas's $3.50 shoes cost more to make, why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater intrinsic value than any other $3.50 shoe on the market to-day.

The E. S. Lane & Son Sale.
The great crowds that are thronging this store is a revelation to the people. The arrangement of the goods, the decoration of the store, together with the extremely low price is making this a great sale. The sale is to be continued 80 days.

Land for Sale.
Land for sale by the wholesale and retail. Several farms close to Statesboro; 8, 4 and 8 miles from town; all fine farming land. One of these places is right on the railroad at a station only five miles from Statesboro; has enough timber on it to pay one-third of the price I ask for it; the house could not be built on it for less than $5,000; 800 acres in the tract. Object in selling out my farming lands: I want to improve my town lots, to which I could give my personal attention. If the buyers so prefer I can give time on part of the money. M. M. HOLLAND.

The man who shouts halloo to the loudest frequently does it just to drown his misery, philosophizes the Atlanta Constitution.

Mrs. Ida Tarbell was everlastingly right when she told the New York Times readers that the pressure of public opinion can be sure of reaching any man in the future.

The Birmingham Post predicts that the great conflict ahead of the nations is for commercial, not military, supremacy. Whatever national energy is devoted to the military art is energy lost to industrialism.

The Brooklyn Eagle admits that everybody likes to get lost in Boston, whether he intends to or not, for he comes upon more historical, geographical, ethnological and architectural surprises than he can find in any other town.

The love of notoriety is a master passion strong even unto death with some people. A French murderer insists on being publicly guillotined, when he can have the alternative of life imprisonment, in order that his execution may make a pleasing spectacle for the Parisian population.

It is boasted in the war department that "twelve months from now the American army will be the best dressed body of soldiers in the world." Somehow or other, though, confesses the Atlanta Constitution, we feel that the American soldier will lose half his fighting dash when he discards his old drab slouch hat and rough-and-ready khaki.

The possibility of a gunnery competition between a picked ship of our navy and "ship of the British fleet, in neutral waters, is being discussed once more at Washington. English experts have been keeping an eye on us, and our experts have been watching King Edward's tars. On both sides the progress made has been enormous. But as Rear Admiral Bradford says, we have gone about so fast that it is hard to see how any other nations could have improved faster. Under the circumstances, the New York Sun opines that plenty of good American "cash would back the local marksmen in what would be one of the most interesting of tests, which would have the additional interest of being unique.

Not only students, but all intelligent readers of history, will agree enthusiastically with the Bishop of Ely's remark in moving an address of thanks to the American ambassador to England for his recent lecture at Cambridge, that the rise and development of the United States was an event which had shaped and would increasingly shape the destinies of the world. Indeed, there will be no dissent from Mr. Reid's own estimate of it as "the greatest fact in modern history."

Indeed, there will be no dissent from Mr. Reid's own estimate of it as "the greatest fact in modern history."

Mr. H. G. Wells, recording in Harper's Weekly his observations of American life and customs, laments, as the blackest stain upon our national civilization, the appalling conditions touching child labor. Commenting upon the fact that "the richest, greatest country the world has ever seen has over 1,200,000 children under fifteen years of age toiling in fields, factories, mines, and workshops," Mr. Wells delivers himself of this depressing but seemingly justifying prophecy: "These working children cannot be learning to read—though they will presently be having votes—cannot grow up fit to bear arms; to be, in any sense but a vile computing sweeter's sense, men. So, miserably, they will avenge themselves by supplying the stuff for vice, for crime, for more criminal and corrupt political manipulations. One million seven hundred thousand children, practically uneducated, are toiling over here, and growing up, darkened, marred, and dangerous, into the American future I am seeking to forecast."

Curtailed Items of Interest Gathered at Random.

Tom Alexander Indicted. At Atlanta, Ga., the Richmond county grand jury indicted Thomas W. Alexander, the former cotton factor, and prominent clubman, who was arrested September 14th in Pittsburgh, Pa. He is charged with embezzlement.

Fined and Dismissed From Office. Isaac Nathan, a justice of the peace, who was convicted in the superior court at Savannah on the charge of malpractice in office, was sentenced by Judge Canna to pay a fine of $25 and costs, or serve six months in jail. The sentence carries with it his dismissal from office.

Was Member of Confederate Congress. Col. William H. Tibbs of Dalton, who was a member of the confederate congress, is dead at the age of 90 years. Col. Tibbs was one of the few members of the confederate congress who has survived the forty-first anniversary of the fall of the confederacy.

Ex-Cashier Pharr Indicted. Ole Pharr, ex-cashier of the Citizens' bank at McAfee, has been indicted on seven counts by the Telfair county grand jury, five charging him with forgery and two with embezzlement. He was recently arrested on a warrant sworn out by a special agent of the American Surety company, which was on his bond.

State Fair a Great Success. With the closing of the gates to the public Saturday night, the great state fair of 1906 at Piedmont Park, Atlanta, passed into history.

While cold weather at the immediate start and rains later on interfered with the attendance, in many ways the fair was the most successful in the history of the state. This was particularly true of the county fairs, the live stock exhibits and the poultry show.

Building Will Be Four Stories. The $1,000,000 post office building, which is to be erected in Atlanta will rise four stories above the ground, instead of being only three stories in height as was first contemplated.

In addition to this change there will be several other alterations, and when completed the building will be decidedly larger and more commodious than originally intended.

It is now expected that work on the new post office will be well under way by February and in all probability it will be completed and occupied by 1909.

Annual Fertilizer Bulletin Ready. The fertilizer bulletin for 1905-6 of the state department of agriculture is just from the hands of the printer and is ready for distribution. It was compiled under the supervision of the Commissioner of Agriculture Hudson and State Chemist McCandless, and contains a compilation of the laws governing the manufacture and sale of fertilizers in this state, the rules of law enacted by the last legislature and analysis of the 1,317 brands of fertilizers analyzed by the state chemist during the season 1905-6.

Tons were sold for $3,559.3 tons of fertilizer during the season of 1905-6, far exceeding previous sales.

Seventy Riot Cases Docketed. Seventy cases in all connected with the recent riot are on the docket for trial in the Fulton superior court, criminal division, before Judge L. S. Roon at Atlanta.

Of these forty are against negroes. They are charged with murder in connection with the slaying of County Policeman Jim Heard in South Atlanta on Monday night following the riot. The other cases are against white men—thirty in all. These men are indicted for offenses ranging from assault to murder to assault and battery. Some are in jail, others are on bond, the rest were sentenced by Recorder Sunday. Snow fell in Colorado almost incessantly for twenty-four hours. Johnson Advises Farmers. President M. L. Johnson of the Georgia Division of the Southern Cotton Association, has issued an address to the farmers of Georgia, advising them to get a fair price for their cotton. In part he says:

"It is well to review past results occasionally in order to hold ourselves to earnest efforts of continuous work and to realize what we may expect in the future.

"I would call the attention of the farmers of Georgia and those interested in the higher price of cotton to a few facts.

"Every sensible farmer knows from the history of past cotton crops that we have never made a large cotton crop with so wet a season as this year had.

"It is well known that this is the grassiest crop we have ever produced. Every sensible farmer knows that perfect development of seed and lint cannot be obtained under such conditions. The grass takes up and exhausts the plant food, which should go to the making of the cotton and seed.

"I would call your attention to the fact that the rains have largely injured and produced great waste of the cotton then open. This is applicable to the states east of the Mississippi and without the immediate track of the recent gulf storm. I do not have from those states indicates greater havoc and much greater loss.

"Then came the frost from a latitude considerably below Atlanta and all north of Atlanta. I do not doubt in the least that 50 per cent of the bolls then not open are destroyed.

"This disaster will necessarily largely decrease the output of this crop. I have from the extent of every late loss of each individual, his debt paying capacity and his consuming power is reduced and he will thereby be made the poorer, unless he will be in the price of his remaining cotton."

A BRIEF FUNERAL SERVICE
Held for the Late Mrs. Davis in New York—Body Sent to Richmond. A simple and brief funeral service was held for the late Mrs. Jefferson Davis at Hotel Majestic in New York Thursday. Rev. N. A. Seagle, rector of St. Stephens Episcopal church, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. George S. Baker, chaplain of the Southern Society, and Rev. Henry Lubock, rector of St. Timothy's church. The service was private, only the immediate family, representatives of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and a small number of intimate friends being present. Numerous wreaths covered the casket, one of which was sent by President and Mrs. Roosevelt. Other floral tributes came from the governors of many southern states and from various societies of which Mrs. Davis was a member. Late in the evening the body was taken to the Pennsylvania railroad ferry at West Twenty-third street and started on the journey to Richmond, Va. A company of artillery from Governor's Island acted as military escort and a squad of mounted police, carrying containing members of the Davis family, followed the bears.

Old Man Resents Statement of Cooper Before Pardon Board. J. C. Rawlins, in Valdosta, Ga., jail, is greatly displeased with Attorney Cooper's argument before the pardon board at Atlanta in behalf of Milton and Jesse Rawlins. The part he particularly objects to is Mr. Cooper's statement that if the boys were connected with the murder of the Carter children at all, it was through the influence and at the instigation of their father.

A fine of $1,000 was imposed against Rose by the supreme court of Kansas for assuming office as mayor after he had been enjoined by a federal court to enforce the liquor laws of the state.

CLERKS STEAL BANK FUNDS.
Sixty Dollars Monthly Salary Made Despite the Efforts of the Union Trust company of Pittsburgh, Pa., to keep secret the facts of a robbery that cost the bank a sum variously estimated at from $125,000 to $200,000, the whole story came out when Clinton B. Wray and Clifford S. Hixton, who had pleaded guilty to the robbery, were called for sentence. Each was given ten years in the Western penitentiary. Treasurer Gleifer of the Trust company was first asked by Judge Young how much money had been stolen. He answered that he did not know, but that "it was at least $125,000." Wray was then asked what he had to say. He said he did not know the amount they had taken, but that it was more than $125,000. "We were simply money mad," he said. "We were clerks at salaries of $60 a month."

PROUD OF HER HUSBY

Wife of Former Senator Burton Accompanies Him to the Misouri Pen and Rents Cottage Nearby. Former United States Senator J. H. Burton of Kansas, accompanied by his wife and niece, arrived in St. Louis Monday morning from his home at Athens, Ga., and surrendered himself to begin his sentence of six months in the Ironton, Mo., jail. Apparently he has changed little since he was tried and convicted a year ago in the federal court of having accepted $2,000 for services rendered the Rialto Grain and Security company of St. Louis before the post-office department at Washington in a fraud record proceeding. As he stepped from the train he said:

"I am feeling very well, exceedingly well, under the circumstances. Perhaps the trees, the bluffs and nature generally look sweeter to me today than they shall for some time, but I don't let myself think about that. I expect to go to Ironton and begin the life that is laid out for me." Burton spent most of the forenoon in conferring with attorneys, and in seeing different persons regarding the arrangement and settlement of various business matters.

Shortly before 2 o'clock United States Attorney Major appeared at the Union station and Burton surrendered. There was no ceremony in the act. Marshal Morsey simply shook hands with Burton and they talked together a few moments. Then, accompanied by Mrs. Burton and niece, Marshal Morsey and Burton entered the Iron Mountain train for Ironton. No tears were shed. Mr. and Mrs. Burton both appeared cheerful.

Mrs. Burton maintained her composure remarkably well and with spirit said: "I never was more proud of my husband than at this moment, when he was on his way to jail," she declared at the union station. "I know who our friends are and I intend to be friendly with them, but I reserve the right to say who shall be my friends."

Assigned to Cell. Burton arrived in Ironton Monday night and after dining with his wife and niece, surrendered himself to the jailer and was assigned to cell in the Ironton jail. Mrs. Burton accompanied her husband to the sheriff's office, and then went to a cottage she rented in the city, where she will remain until her husband has served his six months' sentence.

FLAMES TAKE TEN LIVES.
Holocaust Occurs in Boarding House at Birmingham, Ala. Ten men were burned to death, two seriously and perhaps fatally injured and a third slightly hurt by jumping from the second story as the result of a fire which destroyed the boarding house of Mrs. E. E. Watley in Birmingham, Ala., between 2 and 3 o'clock Friday morning.

ALL THE DEAD AND INJURED OCCUPIED ROOMS on the second story of the house. The flames enveloped the entire building when the fire was discovered, and it was with greatest difficulty that the persons on the lower floor made their escape. They saved nothing and every piece of furniture in the house was burned. The fire is thought to have been of incendiary origin.

LAST SAD TRIBUTE

Paid to Memory of Sam Jones at Georgia Capitol. Universal Grief of Georgians Shown at the Bier of Beloved Evangelist. Little Orphan Children Guarded the Casket.

The sorrow of Georgians occasioned by the death of the great Georgia evangelist so suddenly stricken down was given eloquent expression in Atlanta Friday when thousands of Georgians' sons and daughters filed with solemn step through the corridors of the capitol to take a last look at the features of Rev. Sam Jones.

Though he claimed Cartersville as his home, it was peculiarly fitting that this last view of him should have been taken in the state's capitol and in Atlanta, which was very dear to Mr. Jones' heart. He called Atlanta his second home, but all Georgia was proud to boast of him and no man can ever claim a richer share of reverence than devotion from Georgia's people than that which was his.

There was no funeral pomp, just the solemn, silent crowd. Even the younger members — and there were many children — spoke in hushed tones. The corridors on the lower floors were packed. In the second and third floors people craned their necks to gain a glimpse of the pale face of the dead divine.

One of the most touching features of the occasion was a group of little orphan girls—sixteen in number, all members of the Methodist Orphan's home — who acted as guard for the dead. They knew no father, perhaps, but Mr. Jones had been a father to them, just as he had been a father to thousands of unfortunate ones, both young or old.

A dramatic feature of the day was the tragic death of a woman, Mrs. (Mrs. Jones) who, a life long resident of Atlanta, and a great admirer of the Rev. Sam Jones, died after she had taken a last lingering look at the pallid face of the dead evangelist.

There was a great gathering about the vault when the remains reached Westview cemetery. It was then near 4 o'clock. The hillside near the vault were crowded with women and children. Wagons loaded with floral designs came in an almost constant stream. The flowers were banked near the vault door.

When the body arrived it was given a place immediately in front of the vault door.

Immediately in front of the vault, the casket was brought to rest. The section directly over the face was once more removed, and for the last time friends and relatives were given an opportunity to look upon the illumined face of the dead evangelist.

THE POLISHING PROCESS.
"That boy don't exactly need it," said the old man, "but anyhow, I sent him to college to get polished." "And did he get it?" "He did. At now I'm cutting a few hickories to take the polish off him."—Atlanta Constitution.
