STATESBORO, GA., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1906

VOL. 6 NO. 35

Controversy Over

"Hell's Half Acre."

During the absence of the editor in chief at the state fair there arose in this office a very heated controversy between Mr. J. D. Jones, acting editor, and Mr. D. L. Lanier, over an attempt made by the News to put the lid on what Mr. Jones termed, "Hell's Half Acre." It seems that while conducting said controversy Mr. Jones made a mistake and dipped his pen in a bottle of ink which is kept in this office to be used on a certain long eared brand of "liberty loving statesman" who occasionally insists on running our business for us.

While the News as stated to Mr. Lanier and his brother-in-law Mr. W. C. Parker, who accompanied him up on Saturday afternoon does not care to be understood as apologizing for the description made of the dive referred to, yet we rather think that Mr. Jones overdid the thing in using the language towards Mr. Lanier that he did; Mr. Lanier appearing in the public prints as "X. Y. Z." We are sure he had no personal feeling towards Mr. Lanier, and we are also sure that the News had none. Men use terms in heated controversy some times when they really do not mean to reflect upon a man's private character and good name. Mr. Lanier is a good citizen, and we again assure him that no hard feelings are held towards him in this office.

But as to the nature of the place referred to we have nothing to take back, it has been a nuisance the entire summer, a running sore bursting and stinking in the very heart of the city, a place where loafing negroes meet and mingle, concoct crimes and schemes that mean no good to the welfare of the city and community. A place for idly loiterers, to meet and carouse, and especially so on the Sabbath day. It is just such dives as this that Atlanta has been forced to close the doors during the past few weeks. It was the universal opinion of the authorities that in just such holes of the one referred to were seeded the many crimes that blighted so many homes in the suburbs of the city, terminating in four cases of assault on white women in a single day, then it was that an outrage public would stand it no longer, arose and went out with a two edged sword as it were, and cut them down regardless of guilt or proof. Then the city council met and closed the dives but it was too late, more than a score of white women had been the victims of these outrages, and the streets of the city had run with blood.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. It is all right to close the drug stores on the Sabbath that white men and boys may not congregate and revel in coca-cola and Cuban perfects but it is our first duty to close the low white and negro dives that infect our community and endanger the lives and property of our citizens, no matter if a bohemian-in-law is reaping a paltry sum in the way of monthly rent, let these dives exist and allow the criminal negroes to meet and concoct schemes and form "Fore Day Clubs," go out and ply the torch to some unprotected home as they have done in the past, and when an outraged people take the law in their own hands again as they have done in the past. The News will sit back on its dew claw and say: "Boys protect your homes and families."

Result of Neglect.
In most cases consumption results from a neglected or improperly treated cold. Foley's Honey and Tar cures the most obstinate coughs and colds and prevents serious results. It costs you no more than the unknown preparations and you should insist upon having the genuine in the yellow packages. W. H. Ellis.

We Must Have That College.

The action of the grand jury in unanimously recommending the appropriation of twenty-five thousand dollars for the building of that agricultural college was a move that means more to the people of Bulloch county than anything that has transpired here in many years. The state will establish one of these colleges in each of the eleven congressional districts of the state, and will maintain them out of certain funds. The county that gets one will be richly rewarded in the years to come. It will enhance the value of every piece of property in the county, and will afford our boys an opportunity to get an education along agricultural and industrial lines that they could not obtain otherwise.

The entire state expects Bulloch county to get this college. This county is regarded as the best county in the entire state and a failure to land this college here would be a disappointment to every section of the state. Bulloch bore off all the honors at the recent state fair and she is entitled to this college. It has been shown that she can raise everything that grows in this climate, and to-day is the banner county of the state. When this college is complete the students will roll in from every section of the state. Men who want to give their boys an agricultural training will want to send them to a school where each and every branch can be taught successfully. In that school the question of the growing of all crops will be studied and on the adjacent farm will be taught in a practical way the manner of their cultivation. Bulloch county has shown to the world that she grows all these crops successfully and this is the ideal spot where the first district college should be located. It will stand in the forefront of them all and necessarily will require more to construct it than any other one in the state. That such an institution will benefit everyone goes without saying, and it will especially benefit the farmers in this section, they will have an object lesson from year to year which will also be here for the generations to come. The action of the grand jury is universally commended by all well meaning citizens of the county. There is no reason why we should fail to land this school.

Vote for D. B. Rigdon for Congress.

Notice Voters.
Notice to the voters of the First congressional district.
I am a candidate for congress from the First congressional district of Georgia. I am a Bulloch raised boy and know what the country people need, and will be able to secure it. I was nominated by my party without opposition.

I have a platform and Edwards has none. He is the tool of a set of hungry politicians. Bryan, Chatham, Effingham, McIntosh, Liberty, and Tattnall counties said they did not want him, and voted against him in the district convention. So you see he is not the choice of the voters of the First congressional district. Vote for one who is able to get you all the legislation needed.

NOTICE OF SALE.
On Tuesday, Oct. 30, 1906, I will sell at my place at Register the following houses, lands and other property: One six room house, good lot buildings with between sixteen and 20 acres of good land. Also one house with four rooms and dining room attached and lot buildings with one-half acre of land. Also one good mule, buggy and wagon, corn, fodder and farming tools and other things too tedious to mention.
A. J. LEE, Register, Ga.

Fire at Metter.

The store of the Metter Trading Co. was burned Tuesday night. The loss is about $10,000 with partial insurance. The doors of the safe came open from the excessive heat and all the notes and accounts of the company were destroyed. There were about $15,000 in notes and accounts.

The store of Joe Watson was also burned. The loss in this case was about $3,000 with insurance on about two-thirds of the amount.

The origin of the fire is not known, though it is supposed to have started from a lamp which was left burning in the Metter Trading Co.'s store. The lamp was turned down low and left burning and it is supposed that it exploded.

Will Change His Business.

Attention is called to the large page advertisement of F. L. Clary in this issue. Mr. Clary has been in the shoe and dry goods business for the past three or four years. He has built up one of the best trades in that line in the city. He is a hustler and never allows himself to be undersold; in other words, he is always there with the goods. He is now closing out his entire line and publishes his cost mark. He guarantees that he is selling at actual cost and offers to make a handsome donation to any charitable institution in the county if he is caught selling goods above cost. He will change his line in the near future. Just what line he will engage in he does not now state, but promises to do so soon.

It is sufficient to say that he has something up his sleeve better than anything away goods at cost, as he is doing now. If you need anything in the dry goods or shoe line you may miss a big bargain if you fail to see Clary.

Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting of all the citizens of the county has been called for next Tuesday the 6th day of November in the court house at 11 o'clock in the morning to consider the best and proper steps to go about the work of raising subscriptions for the agricultural college. It is urged that every body come and lend a helping hand to this movement. On that day Hon. J. S. Steward of the University of Georgia and one of the best informed men on agricultural subjects in the South will be here to go over and fully explain the aim and purpose and to give information of the practical working of these schools. He is closely identified with the farmers of the state and no man in the state has done more to educate and improve the condition of the working man and improve rural schools than the man who will address the people here on that day. The people of Bulloch county face a most serious proposition. They had just as well reckon with the fact and face conditions as they are.

This college is not yet assured for this county and unless there is some good hard licks put in within the next few days the school will go elsewhere. Now this is not a pessimist nor the growl of a miser but we know whereof we speak. The people of this county have never been active in their efforts to secure this institution. They have been cold and callous from the beginning and thus they are yet. This is not the spirit that does things and the outside world is a living proof that it is not. They say they want the school but there has been no concerted effort made by the people as a whole and unless they wake up to the situation at once it will be too late.

Opportunity knocks but once at each man's door and what is true of the individual is also true of the county and the nation in a larger sense. This is the golden opportunity and we must take time by the forelock. Such another chance will not rise in an hundred years. When the people now living are dead and remembered only by their good or bad deeds as the case may be this institution will be here flourishing and making the county greater and richer on account of the lives that have been inspired with learning's golden gifts.

Because the grand jury has recommended that the county appropriate a large amount for the school does not mean that it is time to quit work for the money may not be able to be used on account of the illegality of the thing. What the people of this good town and county have got to do is to go to work and reach way down in their jeans and come up with amounts so large that they can settle the financial part of the question for all time to come. And that is all that is lacking. When the money has been raised the board of trustees will award the college to this county without one dissenting voice. Statesboro is the natural and logical place for the location of this school. After we have attracted the attention of the state and the whole South by the magnificent and unparalleled showing at the state fair we are going to let the thing slip away when it is almost in our grasp.

In unity there is strength. Let the people work together in unison and harmony. Let all petty differences be buried and putting their shoulder to the wheel let the good citizens of this county give the movement such an impetus that when the board of trustees go to looking about for a location we can lay every thing at their feet, money lands and the moral support of the county. Then and then only will the school be a certainty for us.

Mrs. Mikkell Entertains.

Mrs. Virgil Mikkell gave a very delightful entertainment in honor of Miss Dora Powell Wednesday evening at her home on North Main street. About thirty five of the younger set were present and spent a very pleasant evening. Games were played and during the evening delightful refreshments were served.

Injured by a Gin.

Mr. Jasper Davis, living a few miles from Metter, had his arm cut off in a gin Tuesday. The wound is a most serious one and fears for his recovery are felt. The limb was cut off above the elbow, close up to the shoulder. The arm was cut off while raking out some cotton seed from under the gin.

New Buildings.

Several new buildings are going up now. Mr. J. E. Parker, the sewing machine man, is having a handsome residence erected near the college and J. B. Rushing is having a new house built on South Main street. The handsome new house of Mr. T. J. Donmark in West Statesboro is nearing completion. It is one of the prettiest in the city.

Death of Mr. Riggs.

Mr. Joshua Riggs died at his home a few miles from here Saturday from bright's disease after an illness of about two weeks. The deceased had been in feeble health for some time but about two weeks ago his condition became serious and the disease terminated with the fatal results above described. Mr. Riggs was one of the most prominent men in the county. He leaves a wife and a large family connection to mourn his loss. The funeral was held at Bethel church Sunday afternoon and was largely attended. The deceased was about fifty seven or sixty years of age.

The Statesboro News

(INCORPORATED.)
J. R. MILLER, Editor and Gen'l Mgr.
Entered at the post office at Statesboro as 2nd class mail matter.
Statesboro, Ga. Friday, Nov. 2, 1906.
Published Tuesdays and Fridays by THE STATESBORO NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

In your Thanksgiving prayer have you remembered the greater Statesboro? If not do so at once.

There have been no dearth of congressional aspirants in Statesboro this year. We have the honor of having furnished two candidates for that office.

Why do some papers not print a patent sheet altogether? Then no one would be disappointed. Yet they say some people are original. Show us—we are from Missouri.

Now that Bulloch County and Editor Miller have captured both first and second prizes at state fair, we think Bro. Miller should be satisfied.—Bryan Enterprise.

Now Statesboro and Swainsboro are bawling the fact that none of their citizens have a yacht that they might take his excellency, the governor, out for a cruise. The connection between a yacht voyage and an agricultural college is not far to seek.

If we are ever tried for murder, we will change our name to Rawlings and then it will be all right for our neck would never be broken if the same tactics were employed as has been in the case of the old man Rawlings and his boys.

The Griffin News, acting as the mouth piece of all north Georgia, expresses the bitter disappointment that there is not being able to land the first prize at the state fair. We are too busy to notice these pessimistic wails and dismiss the aching brother without a word.

Hearst Will Win
Looking at the New York state campaign from this distance it matters to look like Hon. W. R. Hearst would sweep the state over the republican candidate. Hearst is a man of the people. He has a constant record for years of standing for the best interest of the laboring and producing classes. Party lines are all down. The Wall Streets democrats have moved into the republican camp, but thousands of honest republicans and independents are rallying to the support of the democratic ticket, headed by Mr. Hearst. His strength is something that cannot be measured, and he has the politician guessing.

Closed Fordham's Store.

The store of Mr. J. M. Fordham, on West Main street, was closed by the city marshal on Tuesday evening on an execution issued by the city of Statesboro for $25,000. The basis of the execution is the charge that Mr. Fordham has been guilty of violating the city ordinance against the sale of whiskey. The grand jury, at its recent session indicted Mr. Fordham on this charge.

This proceeding is authorized by an act of the legislature giving the city the right to do things this way. We learn that the basis for the execution is an affidavit of William Faison, a turpentine negro, swearing that he bought a pint of whiskey from Fordham on last Thursday night. Fordham claims that Faison came in and said that one of his neighbors was sick with a severe case of colic and wanted a little whiskey to relieve him. He states that he gave the liquor out of some that belonged to another party in his keeping.

This is the first time that the city has availed itself of its prerogative of enforcing this law against one of its citizens, and naturally there is considerable comment over the action. The sentiment generally expressed is one of surprise that the city should undertake to confiscate a man's business, levy on and seize his mules and teams, lock his smokehouse, drive his wife's pig out of the yard and haul off his corn crib, all in one night, simply on the basis of the affidavit of a turpentine negro. They believe that if Mr. Fordham is guilty, and his guilt is proven in the courts, he should be dealt with and punished like other convicted men are punished, but the recent action is regarded as rather too drastic in view of the circumstances.

Then it is possible and very probable that the state and city may fail to make out a case. In that event the city is up against a big damage suit. It is generally believed that it would have been time enough to take this action after it was certain that a conviction had been made. The city is now forced to make a case against one of its citizens and confiscate his property in order to protect itself from a damage suit, and not altogether from the standpoint of administering justice to a law-breaker.

If we were to take a notion to ruin a man's business we suppose it would not be a hard job to employ a turpentine negro, whose word is probably worthless, and have him to swear that the party sold him a pint of whiskey and then have the city to confiscate his property.

The News has no interest in this matter, except that it believes the city has acted rather hastily in a matter so grave, and on the basis of nothing better, as we are informed, than the affidavit of a worthless turpentine negro.

In the name of the people of Bulloch county we wish to thank the grand jury for the able and fearless manner in which they transacted the business that came before them. They endeavored themselves to the people of the county for all time to come in making a recommendation that twenty five thousand dollars be appropriated for the agricultural college.

It is difficult for the Washington Star to define what constitutes a gentleman. The question has provoked much futile discussion. James J. Corbett insists that it is a gentleman; so does Harry Lehr. Yet neither would be complimented by being placed in the same social category.

Why should there be any doubt that a great number of persons can make Esperanto a language universally intelligible, marvels the New York Sun, when a single writer, Mr. Henry James, has spun out of his own brain and weaved with his own hands a language universally unintelligible?

Statisticians estimate that twenty-one acres of land are necessary to sustain one man on fresh meat. The same space of land, if devoted to wheat culture, would feed forty-two people; if to oats, eighty-eight; potatoes, eighteen corn and rice, 176, and if to the plantain or banana, over 4000 people.

Isolation is a great factor in the production of mental disorders, and the daily newspaper has become the most important medium for keeping millions in contact with the daily affairs of the world. In this respect it unquestionably prevents rather than promotes insanity. Just as the rural free delivery and rural telephone service are said to be exercising a similar influence upon the minds of farmers' wives. Dr. Crichton-Browne probably does not exaggerate when he concludes: "Suppress your newspapers and you will have to enlarge your lunatic asylum."

The London Times reports that the New Zealand government's land proposals are the most drastic in the history of colonial legislation and are creating intense interest throughout New Zealand, and will in a very short time excite the attention of other countries. Certain clauses of the new land act compel all land owners to sell within ten years the excess of land held beyond the value of $250,000 which remains unimproved, and there are provisions which prevent the present owners of 1000 acres of first-class land or 5000 acres of second-class land from adding to their estates either by freehold or leasehold.

The British taxpayer is in tribulation because the grant of self-government to the Transvaal relieves the local government from contributing its share of thirty millions sterling for the cost of the Boer War. But the humorous side of the question is this, that at the very moment when England is compelled to forego its war claim the native press of the Transvaal denounces the proposal to reduce the cost of the British navy, because they say South African imports must be assured of safety and transit across the seas. In fact it is maintained that this is the only practical advantage of being connected with the British Empire. A London paper just received says it is an excellent joke, but the irate taxpayers of Great Britain scarcely see it as such.

In the Kremlin, at Moscow, among the treasures and trophies of the Romanoffs, are gold plate and jewels enough to support the entire Russian nation for some time, but who could turn them into bread and meat if the doors were broken down and the vaults were stripped of their contents? asks W. E. Curtis, in a recent letter to the Chicago Record-Herald. In the vaults of the national bank are said to be several hundred millions of rubles, which might be melted if the military squads were corrupted, but that would not satisfy a hungry child. Thus far in the clashes the mobs of Russia have displayed neither public nor private property, except in the attacks upon the Jews, but in the country hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of property has been destroyed, including plate, china, pictures, libraries. Even the breeding stallions belonging to Prince Orlov, on what is perhaps the most famous breeding farm in all the world, were hamstrung.

Contract Let for Cotton Mills. Adams & Schuler of Chattanooga, Tenn., have been awarded the contract for the erection of the Sumnerville Cotton Mills. The price is $34,000. The contract for the warehouse and tenant houses will be let later.

Bank of Irwinville. Secretary of State Cook has issued a charter to the Bank of Irwinville, Irwin county. The bank is capitalized at $25,000 and was incorporated by William R. Bowen, J. B. Clements, Mrs. D. A. McIntosh and others.

Survey of Trolley Road Completed. According to statements made by officials of the new interurban trolley road between Macon and Atlanta, cars will be running between the two cities by the first of next August. These officials are now in Macon after the completion of the survey and the preparations for the road are being made to begin work of construction. It is stated that this work will commence simultaneously in Atlanta and Macon.

Bond Defeated at Marietta. Marietta's fight for municipal ownership came to a close Saturday, when an election was held to determine whether the Cobb county capital should issue bonds amounting to $100,000 authorized by the last legislature to purchase or build a waterworks plant and establish a thorough system of sewerage.

The proposition was defeated, there being only 267 votes polled. Of this number 236 were for water bonds and 37 against. 256 for sewerage and 11 against. Necessary for carry, 448, or two-thirds of registered vote.

New Engines as Strike Breakers. Eighteen huge brand new Baldwin locomotives, now being set up in the Southern railway shops in Atlanta, are expected to be effective factors as strike-breakers in the present walk-out of the machinists.

These locomotives are now being prepared for service by a force of men from the Baldwin Locomotive Works. While nothing has been said by the officials relative to these new engines, it is known that they are counting on them as an important means in adding the road in winning its fight against the strikers. It is said that the Baldwin Works employs no union men.

To Aid Agricultural School. The grand jury of Bullock county has recommended the appropriation of $25,000 toward the erection of the necessary buildings should the general assembly select Statesboro as the suitable site for the district agricultural school.

The appointment of Mr. J. R. Miller as trustee from Bullock county, was a deserved compliment, inasmuch as no one has done more towards the advancement of the resources of the county. His winning first prize on his exhibit at the recent fair at Atlanta has added much zest to Bullock's efforts.

Chilpey Remains in Harris. An election was held in Chilpey to determine the question of whether the city of Chilpey should remain a part of Harris county, or become a part of Meriwether county. Chilpey is peculiarly situated, being partly in Harris and partly in Meriwether counties. The major part, however, is in Harris county. Much interest was taken in the matter, and the election was contested closely on both sides. Until the final vote was counted the result was in doubt. However, when this was done it was found that Harris had won out by a small majority. Everybody eligible to vote did so.

Negroes Are Re-Indicted. Fifty-nine negroes, against whom an indictment was returned by the grand jury of County Officer Heard, was quashed before Judge Roan, in the superior court at Atlanta on the ground that verbiage in the indictment was in the alternative-alleging that the officer was killed by the defendants "shooting him with a pistol or some other weapon of like character," were re-indicted by the grand jury.

The new indictment charges that the fifty-nine defendants "with force and arms did unlawfully and with malice aforethought kill and murder the said J. L. Heard, with guns and pistols."

Road's Petition Turned Down. Within twenty-four hours after hearing argument on the petition of the Atlanta and West Point railroad to be allowed to add to their mileage table four additional miles for freight from Oakland City over the Atlanta Belt Line to their terminals at Inman Park, the state railroad commission handed down an unanimous decision denying the prayer of the petitioner.

The petition was fully argued before the commission, and excited general interest among business and railroad men. Particularly were the people who live along the line of the Atlanta and West Point railroad aroused and indignant over the petition of the railroad, which they characterized as a thinly veiled scheme to raise freight rates from 5 to 15 per cent, the average increase, should the extra mileage have been sanctioned by the commission, being 10 per cent.

Stomach Contained Poison. State Chemist McCauley has completed his analysis of the stomach of Mrs. R. B. Hooks of Chelsea, Chattahoochee county, who died suddenly on October 2 after drinking a dose of medicine from a bottle sent her anonymously through the mail, and has just made his report to the coroner of that county.

Dr. McCauley declined to state the result of the analysis, but it is known, however, that the bottle from which Mrs. Hooks is alleged to have drunk contained a fluid in which arsenical had been mixed, and the quantity missing from the bottle when received at the state laboratory contained enough strychnine to produce death by poisoning.

Upon the petition of citizens of Chattahoochee county, Governor Terrell has offered a reward of $200 for the apprehension and conviction of the person responsible for Mrs. Hooks' death.

Campaign Committee Discuss Educational Work in Georgia. The educational campaign committee recently held a meeting in the office of the state school commissioner. The governor appointed Dr. D. C. Barrow to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. Walter B. Hill. All the following members of the committee were present: David C. Barrow, Horst Smith, W. J. Northing, W. B. Merritt and M. L. Duggan. Bishop Warren A. Chandler, a member of the committee, was not present, being on a trip to Japan.

Strong resolutions were adopted, deploring the death of Dr. D. C. Melver, Greensboro, N. C., an expressing appreciation of his effective work in this state. Much work of the committee has been done under his direction and by his assistance. Dr. Melver was a member of the Southern Education Board.

The state campaign committee has issued some strong educational pamphlets, which have been distributed in every county of the state. A recent pamphlet, "The Paramount Question—Improvement of the Rural Schools"—is now being distributed through the county school commissioners.

Effective educational rallies have been held in many parts of the state, employing many speakers and arousing increased interest in school improvement, good teaching, longer terms, local taxation and school libraries.

Six counties and nearly a hundred districts have voted local tax for schools.

The committee authorized the publication of a pamphlet containing the decided plans for rural school houses. The committee will arrange to send a skilled person, with pencil and ink, through several counties in the state, taking photographs of the school houses. The committee will also send a report of actual conditions may be secured.

Mrs. W. B. Hill made a good report of the school improvement work which she is engaged. The committee expressed thanks to the Southern Education Board for selecting Mrs. Hill to engage actively in the school improvement work.

SUIT IN CLAIMS COURT. Filed by Judge Jones on Behalf of Georgia Troops in Spanish War. Judge C. G. Jones of Catoctaw, who was appointed by Governor Terrell to look after the claims of Georgia troops who served in the war with Spain, for a certain extra compensation, has filed suit in behalf of the three regiments from Georgia in the court of claims at Washington for approximately $30,000.

When Judge Jones completed his record of all these claims some time ago and carried them to Washington, the war department, after going over them, refused to pay the third volunteer regiment anything at all, and only offered $10,000 in settlement of the total claims of the First and second regiments. This Judge Jones considered totally insufficient, particularly in view of the fact that payments were being made to other states in instances where they were refused in Georgia's case. According to the way the troops of other states are being paid this extra compensation, Judge Jones believes Georgia is entitled to the full amount for which he has asked, and he proposes to push the matter through the court of claims.

In Georgia's case, for instance, pay has been refused officers between the time of their appointment when they really went to war and dates of their commissions, while similar payments have been made in other states, and Judge Jones holds that the Georgia officers are just as much entitled to these payments as any others.

TREAT JAPS BADLY

Is Charge Made Against People of San Francisco.

INVESTIGATION STARTED

Mikado May Clash With Uncle Sam Unless Municipal Boycott is Lifted—President Roosevelt Takes Action.

President Roosevelt Friday night directed Victor H. Metcalf, secretary of the department of commerce and labor, to proceed to San Francisco, and make a thorough and complete inquiry into the situation affecting the exclusion of Japanese children from the schools of that city for white children, and the determination to place Japanese pupils in separate schools. The president is anxious to obtain at first hands from a cabinet officer who is acquainted with local conditions in San Francisco, full information affecting every phase of the subject to the end that whatever action is taken by this government may be after an accurate understanding of the situation. The president feels that every effort within the power of the administration should be exercised to see that all the treaty rights claimed by the Japanese for its people residing in the United States should be respected and protected.

The determination to send Secretary Metcalf to San Francisco was the result of the results of the request made by Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, who at a conference with Secretary Root, asking in behalf of his government that the Japanese subjects in California be accorded their full rights under the treaty of 1894, including that of the children to attend the public schools in San Francisco. This request was the subject of very long and earnest discussion at the cabinet meeting on Friday.

It is hoped that the expressed desire of the administration to secure the treaty rights of the Japanese will tend to allay the anti-American feeling in Japan, until the whole matter is diplomatically adjusted.

Viscount Aoki also represented to Secretary Root that Japanese restaurant keepers in San Francisco have suffered indignities. At least seven or eight reports have been made concerning a boycott inaugurated against these restaurants, and the reports state that agents of the state have prevented patrons from entering the restaurants, and in several instances stones have been thrown and windows broken.

Administration officials do not hesitate to express privately their views of the present anti-American feeling growing out of the wrongs which the Japanese declare they have suffered, and one member of the cabinet is of the opinion of the cabinet is that the situation was exceedingly grave and would require the most drastic treatment to prevent a civil rupture.

Judge Wolcott of the United States circuit court has issued an order to the board of education of San Francisco, directing that body to state that agents of the state have prevented patrons from entering the restaurants, and in several instances stones have been thrown and windows broken.

NATIONAL W. C. T. U. MEETING.

Thirty-third Annual Convention in Session at Hartford.

The thirty-third annual convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, opened at Hartford, Conn., Friday, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Lillian M. Stevens of Portland, Maine, presided and more than 450 delegates from all parts of the United States were present. Delegates from Austria, Japan, England, Greece and other countries also were on hand.

ICE MEN MUST DO TIME.

Fine and Workhouse Sentences Upheld in Circuit Court. The circuit court at Toledo, Ohio, Friday, upheld the decision of Judge Kinkead of the common pleas court, in the sentence he gave Reuben Lemmon, Rollin Beard and Joseph Miller, convicted of conspiracy in restraint of trade in the sale of ice. These are the famous ice cases which were tried in common pleas court last summer. The sentences given the men were $250 fine each and six months in the work house.

BARRETT SCORES JORDAN

Head of Farmers' Union Replies in Scorching Card to President of Southern Cotton Association.

C. S. Barrett, president of the Farmers' Union, replies to the recent interview of President Harvie Jordan, attacking him and State President Duckworth, of the Farmers' Union, in a scathing card, which, in part, is as follows:

"To the Public: My attention has just been called to a communication of Mr. Harvie Jordan, from which I make extracts as follows:

"It has been reported that Barrett was a rural school teacher in connection with his small farming operations before he became identified with the union, and that Duckworth followed the same avocation in Texas before being employed by the union as a lecturer. But whatever their previous avocations, both are practically unknown in the cotton world, and are unknown with the handling and marketing of a great crop involving an annual purchase price of more than $600,000,000.

"I am daily in receipt of letters and resolutions from members of the Farmers' Union condemning the present course of some of their leaders, especially Barrett and Duckworth, in trying to stir up strife at this critical time. The rank and file of the union are not responsible for the acts and doings of some of their short-sighted leaders."

"I am amazed at the tone of Mr. Jordan's communication. In the first place, in my former statement on the subject of his unfortunate interview I made no personal charges against him. I simply criticized him, as I had a right to do, for having permitted himself to be used by the bears in beating down the price of cotton. I simply stated that it was most unfortunate that one making the claims he does should be quoted as having made the declaration that 'this year's cotton crop is the SECOND largest in the history of the south.' If that statement had come from a recognized bear it could have done no harm, but when sent broadcast throughout the state as the utterance of the president of his organization, the damage is instantaneous and irreparable."

"I recall that less than two years ago Mr. Jordan himself literally grew pale about the gills, and frothed at the mouth, at the publication of the advertisement of a New York cotton speculator to the effect that the crop of that year would be the largest in the history of the south. This was the famous 1,500,000 bale crop, and it turned out that the speculator was right in his estimates. But he was denounced by Mr. Jordan, as all but a scoundrel, for predicting that the crop was the largest in the history of the south."

"And now, strange to say, here comes Mr. Jordan himself, after but a few intervening days, to tell us the world that this year's crop is the SECOND largest in the history of the south. In other words, he is doing just exactly what Theodore Price did in 1905, and, strange to say, conditions have exactly reversed. Price had been for the past six months on the bull side of the crop, while the effect of Jordan's utterance has been to send the price of cotton downward."

"It must be kept in mind that notwithstanding Mr. Jordan's ovation to the farmers of the south, and the action of the board of education, the fact is that this was the SECOND largest crop in the south's history, and that he minimized the damage of the gold storm."

"Like myself, these men were so much thunderstruck by Mr. Jordan's attitude that they adopted resolutions asking the farmers of the south to pay no more attention to his advice on the subject of cotton."

"That Washington interview of Mr. Jordan has already cost the farmers of the south millions of dollars, and other interviews published since that time have had almost as bad an effect."

"A Washington dispatch says: The director of the mint Monday purchased one hundred thousand ounces of silver at $1.27 per ounce, to be delivered at the New Orleans mint."

COTTON BEARS ARE ACTIVE.

Mississippi Association Warns Farmers of the State Against Them. The Mississippi division of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association has issued a warning to the cotton growers of the state against the cotton bears, who have been active in the campaign started last week by a clique of New York bears to lower the price of cotton. Attention is called to the slump of 34 per bale, which, if there is no advance, will cost the Mississippi farmers $5,000,000 a year. A proper estimate amount in other cotton producing states.

ROBBERS GET IMMENSE SUM.

By Use of Dynamite Russ Rebels Loot Subterranean Carriage. The most daring robbery plot in the annals of the St. Petersburg police was executed Saturday when, at about noon a band of fifteen revolutionists, armed with bombs and revolvers, attacked a cashier of the customs house, who was proceeding in a carriage from a subterranean passage, estimated at $120,000 to $130,000. They wrecked the vehicle with a bomb.

TO SETTLE STRIKE

National Civic Federation Offers Its Services.

WILL ARBITRATE MATTER

Striking Machinists of Southern Railway Approve of Move Taken and May Soon Be Back at Work Again.

Now that the National Civic Federation of Trades has taken cognizance of the trouble between the Southern railway and the Southern railway machinists, who have been on strike for two or three weeks past, there is an apparent possibility of an early adjustment of the troubles existing.

In the early days of the past week, Seth Low, chairman of the National Civic Federation, began a study of the troubles between the Southern railway and its employees. From President O'Connell of the machinists on strike and from H. B. Spencer of the Southern railway, he sought information touching the pending differences. Neither the road's officials or the leaders of the machinists were in the least reticent. Both parties made to Mr. Low a clean and clear statement.

These papers have been under Chairman Low's observation several days. About noon Monday he advised representatives in every town in the territory affected to have its delegate hold himself in readiness for a quick call to Washington for a conference.

The National Civic Federation is about to take a hand in any of the troubles, but when it does enter a contest it usually brings about good results.

The following telegram explains itself fully: "Knoxville, Tenn., October 29.—In response to a telegraphic tender of its good offices in the hope of bringing about a settlement of the general strike in the local shops of the Southern railway, the Knoxville board of trade has received the following telegram from H. B. Spencer, general manager of the Southern railway: 'I, A. Hensley, Secretary Board of Trade, Knoxville: Your telegram received. The company and its officers appreciate fully the interests of Knoxville in the strike. The company is desirous of settling it promptly and equitably.'

It has been agreed, at the suggestion of the Hon. Seth Low, chairman of the National Civic Federation, that our president will meet the president of the machinists' association, and the local committees of the machinists this week early in an effort to make such adjustment."

"H. B. SPENCER."

ATTITUDE OF SAN FRANCISCO

In Regard to Japanese School Children Fully Explained.

A San Francisco dispatch says: The announcement of the coming of Secretary Metcalf of the department of commerce and labor to the Pacific coast to investigate the alleged exclusion of Japanese from the schools of San Francisco, has not changed the temper of the San Francisco board of education on the subject. President Roosevelt, the educators are satisfied, has been incorrectly advised relative to the constitutionality and the action of the board of education. "Japanese children have not been excluded from the schools of San Francisco," said School Director Oliver. "But their benefit from the Washington interview he has not up to this time denied that he made the statement that this was the SECOND largest crop in the south's history, and that he minimized the damage of the gold storm."

"Like myself, these men were so much thunderstruck by Mr. Jordan's attitude that they adopted resolutions asking the farmers of the south to pay no more attention to his advice on the subject of cotton."
