Attention Cotton Growers.

To the Members of the Sea Island Cotton Association and Long Cotton Growers of Georgia and Florida: I call your attention to the important fact of a much greater shortage of the sea island cotton than was estimated at the Valdosta convention and to the fact that the staple is uniformly better this year than it has been for years. Many of the best growers and buyers over the belt think that the extra good staple and show crop will make it worth 30 cents for the best grades if the farmers will hold it and market it sparingly. The association at Valdosta estimated that the crop was 60 per cent of last year's crop, which was 125,000 bales; 60 per cent of which is 75,000 for this year's crop. Since that time the crop has been cut short at least ten per cent. We have no top crop. A half crop of last year's estimate of 62,500 bales is all that can be safely relied on. This crop is worth the minimum price, which the association set, and being of a better quality with the heavy falling off during the month of September, makes it worth more. Do not sell a pound under the minimum price set by the association. The demand is strong and there for all lines of cotton goods. We believe that 30 cents for best grade of sea island and 14 or 15 cents for short cotton can be reached if the farmers will only hold their cotton. F. G. Schell, Sec'y Sea Island Cotton Association of Georgia and Florida. Lake Butler, Fla., Oct. 29, 1906.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tackett, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tackett's lungs that death seems very near. He writes: "Severe" bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for Sore Lungs Coughs and Colds, at W. H. Ellis drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Rimes Land Sold.

The land of the Jordan L. Rimes estate was sold Tuesday, that being a day of legal sale for land. It brought pretty fair prices, although some are of opinion that a year ago it would have brought a great deal more than it did at the time when it was sold. Most of the land was bid in by heirs of the estate. The bidding was never very lively with one or two exceptions. The highest price paid for any lot was the sum of thirteen dollars and forty cents an acre, for lot number three, which was bought by Mr. J. A. Wilson. Below is given the numbers of the lots and the number of acres that each contains, with the name of the purchaser of each and the price paid per acre:

Lot No. 1, 205 acres, sold to Harley Rimes at $10 per acre.
Lot No. 2, 65 acres, sold to A. J. Wilson at $10.25 per acre.
Lot No. 3, 125 acres, sold to A. J. Wilson at $13.40 per acre.
Lot No. 4, 150 acres, sold to J. A. Wilson at $10.25 per acre.
Lot No. 5, 165 acres, sold to W. J. Wilson at $12.25 per acre.
Lot No. 6, 185 acres, sold to Allen Rimes at $8.05 per acre.
Lot No. 7, sold to G. C. Akin at $4 per acre.

This was one of the largest land sales that has taken place in this county for some time, there being 1202 acres in all.

Scarcity of Houses.

There is a house famine in Statesboro just now and there is not a vacant house in the city. This speaks well for the business of the place and shows that there is a steady growth of population that means much for the city. No better investment could be made, we believe, than the building of that we have heard of who wanted to move here to take advantage of the school could not do so as they were unable to obtain a house.

FOR SALE

One plug horse cheap. Statesboro Ice Mfg. Co.

Small Vote Polled in this County.

There was a very light vote polled in this county yesterday, the total vote being 61 as against about twenty three hundred and fifty in the primary. The people were not interested in the contest and stayed at home either engaged in work or not caring enough about the election to turn out and vote where there was so little at stake. It had been urged upon the people more than once to go out and support the Democratic nominee for congress but evidently every one said that there would be plenty of votes without his and so the matter stood. Here the election passed very quietly. There were more votes polled than some thought there would be but there were only two hundred and forty four votes polled in this, the most populous district of the county. The Republican strength was a distinct disappointment to the candidate who was sure of a good vote in some districts of the county practically in this his own home precinct. There were four votes cast for Mr. Rigidon here, two white and two colored votes. Few negroes were registered and this is accountable for the small vote of the republican for in most cases where they were registered they invariably voted for Mr. Rigidon. The election here is but an indication of the way it was all over the state.

The official consolidated vote in this county is as follows: Edwards 420; Rigidon 11; Russell, 446; Hill and Powell, 446. In some county precincts only eight votes were polled. The vote was the lightest in years. Mr. Rigidon received seven white votes and colored votes. He is a fine man and no doubt would have made a better race if he had more time in which to have won the people.

A Dollar Will Do It.

Cotton Bringing Fancy Prices

Had you stopped to think that every bale of sea island cotton sold at the present price brings about $140 per bale? Such is the case, and as a result a great deal of money is coming into the city. The merchants are growing rich off of the business and the farmers are rolling up good bank accounts. The county is prosperous and the people as a rule are out of debt.

Crosses on the 13th.

Mr. E. D. Holland has received a letter from Mrs. L. W. Dupont, recording secretary of the Savannah chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, saying that the crosses of honor will be bestowed upon the Confederate veterans of this county on the 13th inst. It is important that the veterans arrange to go down in a body. Unless they are there in person or have an excuse signed by three officers of the local camp they will not be given any crosses.

New Majestic Malleable and Charcoal Iron Ranges.

The Majestic Malleable and steel range as formerly turned out by the Majestic people has been considered throughout the entire country par-excellence, and far ahead of any other range made. But with the new charcoal iron body in place of steel, making it double its value, and the fact that it is the only range in existence made of malleable and charcoal iron, you can readily see that if quality is considered, the Majestic leads by a big margin. We want you to call at our store next week, and let us explain this new feature—CHARCOAL IRON BODIES; let us explain why it is the best material range bodies, and incidentally, why it is not used on other ranges. We want you to call if you intend to buy or not, as the information gained will serve you in the future.

Clary's Big Stock Struck by a Hurricane

BADLY DILAPIDATED BY CROWDS OF GREEDY BUYERS, BUT STILL IN THE RUNNING.

THE FIRST DAY of our sale we sold over Three Hundred Dollars worth of goods, and every day since that has witnessed a big increase. The storm of people that have been coming to our store have made a great hole in our stock, but there are many rare bargains yet for those who know a good thing when they see it. We have five clerks in the store and they are insufficient to wait on the great crowds that are coming to the greatest sale in the history of Statesboro, and it is necessary for us to get more help. We have a crowded store all the time and we advise those wishing to buy to come early as my stock will soon be exhausted by such crowds of greedy buyers. We mean business. The goods must go and THEY ARE GOING with the rapidity of a swift flowing stream. The goods are all new and first class in every respect, and no such bargains were ever offered to the people of this section. I must make room for a new line and these goods are going at a great sacrifice. Get in the crowd that is headed this way and you will never regret it.

TO SHOW THAT I MEAN BUSINESS I AM GOING TO ADVERTISE MY COST MARK TO THE WORLD. HERE IT IS, READ FOR YOURSELF.

The Statesboro News
(INCORPORATED.)

J. R. MILLER, Editor and Gen'l Mgr.

Statesboro, Ga. Friday, Nov. 9, 1906

Published Tuesdays and Fridays by THE STATESBORO NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

The cotton crops is about out and now plans for another season will straightway be made. A larger crop of sea island variety will no doubt be planted next year than was this.

Tom Watson is going to Atlanta with his magazine. Fifty he could not have been there to have written up the recent rioting. We know that it would have made interesting reading.

The man who won that hundred dollars at the Georgia-Carolina fair thought that he made a fine exhibit. My if he could only have seen old Bulloch's display at the state fair. But then it might have given him the brain fever.

Will Savannah and Atlanta ever be friends? We notice that an Atlanta man said that Savannah will have two hundred thousand population in ten years. Is this not proof conclusive that they are trying to make up. If not why are they fishing for compliments?

If the town council will have a day set aside for a road working we will write it up in our columns and urge the citizens to come out and put South Main street in passable condition so that there will be no danger of one breaking his neck when traveling that thoroughfare.

What care the people of this county for politics when there is an agricultural college in store for them? This is worth more than all the candidates that have been telling the country that it was going to rack if they were not elected for a few more years. It will prove a greater benefit to the county than all the demagogues in the state.

Our friend Brinson is going after that agricultural college for Stillmore in great shape. But don't everybody know that his town is the sorriest in Georgia. Who ever heard of Brinson heard of Stillmore and who ever heard of Stillmore but for Brinson? They are mutually dependent upon each other for fame.

We do appreciate the fact that we are basking in the rise of three nations to greatness—Japan, China and Russia, asks the Christian Register. Few generations have seen so splendid a sight.

It is only 18 years since the electric motor drove the first street car successfully in this country? It was in Richmond, Va. What could be more amazing than the developments of the electric service since 1887? The steam railroads are falling into line, and it is estimated that the steam roads have already appropriated $50,000,000 to be used in the purchase of electrical equipment.

A motorman on a trolley car was killed in a collision with another car in a Pennsylvania town. When he was released from the wreck, narrates the Youth's Companion, his hand was found to be tightly clasping the brake. If the accident had been a battle and the man had been found dead on the field with the colors in his hand, he would have been called a national hero. As it was, he died one of the heroes of peace.

Apples are one of the staple articles of export from the United States to England. Last year nearly two and one-half million barrels were exported, and about one-half of them were shipped from Boston and New York. Now a special line of steamers is to be established for the exclusive shipment of apples. The vessels will ply between Boston and London and Hull. Each will be fitted with special facilities for keeping the fruit in good condition and for handling it well, each will carry twenty thousand barrels.

There is a probability, observes the American Cultivator, that before long weavers on Union Pacific trains will ride through an alfalfa field between Omaha and Ogden—a remarkable attenuated field, two hundred yards in width and a thousand miles in length. For a long time the Union Pacific has been considering the problem of eliminating weeds along the right of way, and numerous schemes have been suggested with this end in view, but it was not until demonstration was made that alfalfa will grow without irrigation that the possible key to the problem was found. Now, it is said the railroad company will experiment with alfalfa on the right of way, and should the experiment be successful, alfalfa will be planted between the stations of the right of way the entire distance from Omaha to Ogden. Alfalfa is a hardy and cross growing plant, and where it has obtained foothold all other vegetation is strangled.

In fifteen states and territories the national government has set aside forest land to the extent of more than a hundred million acres. Opponents of the idea of national forest reserves have objected to it on the ground that many desirable agricultural districts along creeks and in valleys fall in the reserves and are thus withdrawn from the possibility of settlement and development, and that the resulting loss of taxes is a hardship to the state and county in which the reserves lie. To make up this loss congress provided in one of its latest enactments, the Agricultural Settlement Bill, that all the land which is usable for home building and settlement shall be brought within reach of the people. More than that, under a provision of the Agricultural Appropriation Act, the counties in which the reserves lie are to have ten percent of the receipts of the reserve. Last year the receipts were three-quarters of a million, and in the next few years the increase will be rapid. The money returned to the counties is paid through the state treasuries, and it is to be used only for schools and roads.

HE OWES SIX FIGURES But Only Has Ninety Plunks Which He Can Call His Own. Edgar D. Martin, formerly connected with the tobacco firm of H. N. Martin & Co., which failed two years ago, filed a petition in bankruptcy at Louisville, Ky., Thursday. He owes $161,741, and has assets amounting to $70, on which he claims exemption. The other nine interest consists of notes executed in the name of H. N. Martin & Co. for which he was joint surety.

Purlow, secretary—will be held in Savannah in connection with the state reunion on November 13th, 1906. Place and hour of meeting can be ascertained at division headquarters.

Mercer Accepts Big Donation. Mercer's board of trustees formally agreed to accept the gift of $75,000 from the general education board of New York as a starter for the $300,000 endowment fund at a meeting in Macon a few days ago. President S. Y. Jamieson laid the offer before the body and plans were immediately made to have the remaining portion subscribed by the end of 1907.

Nineteen Negroes Secure Release. Judge Rean of the superior court, criminal division, in Atlanta, Friday, issued an order releasing 19 of the 59 negroes indicted, and 42 of whom are in jail for murder in connection with the killing of County Policeman J. L. Heard in South Atlanta. Twenty-three were ordered held for trial.

Life Sentence for Wife Poisoner. In the case of Reason Handley, charged with poisoning his wife, on trial at Irvilleville for two days, before Judge Martin, the jury after being out five hours, returned a verdict of murder in the first degree with recommendation of a life term in the penitentiary, on account of the evidence being mostly circumstantial. Judge Martin pronounced sentence, in accordance with the recommendation. The parties are members of prominent Irville county families, and had been married only two weeks.

Poison Charge Fell Flat. G. L. Grover of Chelsea, Chatooga county, who was charged with having sent a bottle labeled Dr. Drywit's kodol nerve tonic to Mrs. Y. Hooks of that place, which contained strychnine poison, out of which she took a dose, and from the effects of which she died in a short time, had his preliminary trial before Justice Rush at Summerville, which lasted five days. Grover was discharged by the justice, he holding there was not sufficient evidence to justify binding him over. Quite a large number of affidavits were examined, and great interest was evinced by the people of Chatooga county.

To South Georgia Brigade. General Daniel J. Searal, brigadier general commanding the south Georgia brigade of Confederate Veterans, has issued the following general orders: "Every one who can should attend the annual reunion of the Georgia division, United Confederate Veterans, at the beautiful and hospitable city of Savannah on the 13th and 14th of this month.

"The railroad fare will be 2 cents a mile for the round trip and the hotels and boarding houses will give reduced rates. Moreover, presents, toys are being made for the pleasure and comfort of all who attend while in Savannah.

"That those who attend will have a good time and gratified enjoyment is assured.

"Miss Florrie May Heath of Thomasville is hereby appointed sponsor, and Miss Kate C. Hall of Brunswick; maid of honor for the South Georgia brigade, with Colonel T. N. Hopkins of Thomasville and Major W. B. Borroughs of Brunswick as escorts."

State Should Acquire Refinery. Commissioner of Agriculture Thomas G. Hudson has recently inspected the government syrup refinery at Waynesboro, and he has recommended its acquisition by the state of Georgia, to whom it has been tendered free of cost, provided the state will continue to operate it in connection with the experiment farm. "The offer seems a good one to me," said Mr. Hudson. "The plant and property are easily worth $25,000, and I shall recommend its acceptance by the state. I will make my recommendation to the board of trustees of the state experiment station at its meeting on January 11."

The refinery was a splendid one, and it is to be regretted that some years ago by the consent to show the people of south Georgia the class of syrup that can be made from native cane. It has been established that the best syrup is made from the cane which is to be obtained and the farmers in Ware and adjoining counties have learned valuable lessons from the refinery. Having served its purpose, the government, through an act of congress, has offered the plant and adjacent farm to the state free of all cost, provided the state will agree to continue the operation of the refinery and the cultivation of cane.

Fee System Denounced. Not for many terms has a grand jury of Fulton county had more laborious duties to perform than the grand jury for the September term, which made its general presentations every day's size to the county superior court.

The system of compensating county officers by fees is condemned, and the following resolution was adopted by the committee to submit this question to a vote of the people of Fulton county: "Resolved, That the present system of compensating county officers by fees is a travesty on respectable institutions. Fifty thousand dollars or more, the grand jury decries, with the state's reaction on the taxpayers of the county by the abolition of the fee system and the substitution of salaries therefor. It is recommended that candidates pledged to this reform be nominated for the legislature of 1908, and that the salary system be also extended to justices of the peace.

In no unexpected language, the presentments criticize the failure of the police force, taken as a whole, to adopt stringent measures at the very inception of the recent riot to protect the innocent and helpless.

Cotton Worth Over Twelve Cents. That the cotton producer should go slow in acting upon the strength of the recent "ginnery" report and "bear" claims of a late crop, is the warning given by President M. L. Johnson of the Georgia Division of the Southern Cotton Association.

There is no doubt in my mind that the ginnery's report, to October 25th overshoot the mark," President Johnson said, "I base my belief not on the fact that the weather has had sufficient picking weather since the September report to justify the figures given, and every one is generally aware of the bad weather we have had, but also I am confirmed in my opinion that the price is very high, by numerous reports which I have received since the ginnery's report was published, indicating very clearly that the reports of cotton did not justify these figures.

"Again I note the claims evident from 'bear' sources of a late crop—a claim which a moment's thought will convince any one is absurd. The early frosts which are general throughout the cotton belt, stopped the development of the cotton and brought the crop to early maturity.

I have contended all along and I hold now that cotton is worth today more than 12 cents. I firmly believe that it is worth right now over 12 cents, and that the farmer ought to have at least that price. In this opinion I see I am upheld by one of the foremost industrial writers in the country, Richard H. Edwards of the Baltimore Manufacturers' Record."

Question of Jurisdiction in Copper Case Settled in High Court. A Washington dispatch says: In the case of the State of Georgia vs. the Tennessee Copper company, an effort on the part of Georgia to secure the suppression of the fumes of smelters located at Ducktown, Tenn., the supreme court of the United States on Monday overruled the demurrer filed by the company without opinion. Final hearing was set for February 25 next. A temporary restraining order was denied.

This action of the United States supreme court means that the Georgia plea for injunction to prevent further the destruction of its forests and vegetation in the northern section of the state has a standing in that court, and that it will be given a hearing there on its merits.

It also means that Georgia has practically won her main contention, that as to the infringement of the United States supreme court. It was a fight in which the copper trust was involved, for there are numerous other cases of a similar nature in other states which can now be brought before that court. It was a decision which primarily upholds the right of a state to sue in the United States supreme court, citizens of other states, on behalf of the state or its citizens. In this it establishes an important rule of practice for which there has heretofore been no precedent.

The widespread and growing destruction to forests and vegetation caused by the processes of smelting copper ores by those Tennessee companies have aroused the people of North Georgia to a determination to put an end as speedily as possible to this evil.

SHORTAGE OF LABOR Menaces Progress of Many Industries in the South. SOME FACTS AND FIGURES Presented Through the Columns of The Manufacturers' Record-The Fields Neglected and the Railroads Handicapped.

Correspondence to The Manufacturers' Record (Baltimore) dwelling upon the extent of material developments now under way in the south, describes the widespread scarcity of labor hampering that development. It says, in part: "Probably the most striking illustration of the scarcity of laborers in the south is seen in the cotton fields. During a trip of over a hundred miles through the most important cotton region in Georgia and Alabama a very careful count was made of the number of cotton-pickers seen, and the total was fourteen, when, judging by the distance traveled, and the condition of the cotton needing immediate picking, there ought to have been more nearly 1,400.

"Another illustration is given in the fact that the proposed exposition in Atlanta scheduled for 1910 has been abandoned, not because of the inability to secure the money, but because it was made clear to the organizers of it that it would be practically impossible to secure laborers to erect the buildings. Every contractor in the city is crowded to the utmost to take care of regular work, every manufacturing enterprise is likewise short of laborers and the country at large is so busy that laborers could not be brought in from elsewhere.

"This scarcity of labor is most pronounced in the inability of railroads to carry out much needed improvements. There is scarcely a railroad in the south that is not swamped with business of some of the leading systems it might almost be said that they are practically broken down from inability to handle with any degree of promptness either passenger or freight traffic. Many thousands of cars, many hundreds of locomotives and many thousands of miles of double track are needed if the railroads of the south are in any way to endeavor to measure up to the growing business ahead of them.

"So rapid has been the growth of the coal mining industry in the south of southern Kentucky, southern western Virginia and northeastern Tennessee that operators are now confronted with the serious problem of a scarcity of labor. Within the past year 8,000 new mines have been constructed in this mountainous region, numerous undeveloped coal areas have been opened and a great increase in coal production is expected. Probably 100 new operations have been started within the past year in the region centering about the mining point of these states, and notwithstanding the fact that several thousand foreign laborers have been brought into the mining camps this past summer, the supply of miners is still inadequate.

"Given a fair supply of labor, the railroads could increase their facilities to such an extent as to be able to handle business, but to do this not simply millions, but tens of millions, possibly some hundreds of millions, must be expended before the railroads of the central south can begin to catch up with the development and increase in the volume of traffic throughout that section."

The strike of machinists, apprentices and helpers in the Albers shops of the Southern Pacific railway was settled Saturday afternoon, and the men will return to work.
