DR. CLINO ATTEMPTS

TO MARRY AGAIN

Man Fresh out of Jail Many Times
Wedded and Few Times Divorced Attempts Matrimony.

A dispatch from Wadesboro, N. C. On Monday enquired of Sheriff Kendrick if it was true that Dr. E. A. Clino had a living wife in this county, from whom he had not secured a divorce. Sheriff Kendrick wired back that it was true that he did have a wife here and no divorce had been granted. The following from Wadesboro explains itself:

Telegram Stops

Wedding Plans.

Wadesboro, N. C., Jan. 3.—With the license already secured and the minister in readiness, Dr. A. E. Clino of Clino, of Statesboro, Ga., was thwarted in his effort to marry Miss Irene Hendley, a prominent young lady of this city, this afternoon by a telegram from Statesboro officials, saying that Dr. Clino had a living wife near that city. Upon this information the registrar of deeds demanded that the license be returned, but Dr. Clino refused to turn it over till he was shown the message from Statesboro. He then declared he would marry the girl if he had to go to South Carolina, where no license is required.

Dr. Clino stated that his wife secured a divorce last week. Information contrary to this statement, was received from Statesboro.

Dr. Clino, is a well advertised character in this neck of the woods, he came here a few years ago and married a Miss Davis, shortly afterwards deserted her and went off to the Spanish American war. While away his wife obtained a divorce and married Ernest Mock. It was not long before Mock developed a roving disposition and left his wife who was formerly Mrs. Clino. It was not long before Clino returned and wedded the second time the woman he had deserted to go to the army. He lived with her here until last summer when he took his famous flight to North Carolina. The people remember the circumstances of his famous trial and how he slipped out of many of the charges.

It has also developed that a few years ago Clino married a woman in Colquitt county, lived with her a short time and deserted her.

Dr. Clino seems to have a mania for matrimony and cares very little how he gets them or how quick he deserts them after he once gets married. The dispatches in the daily papers had the matter slightly mixed inasmuch as they state that Clino's wife had obtained a divorce but the right to re-marry had been the Doctor, this was true of the first marriage, but the last one which was made to the same woman, occurred in February 1908 and the Doctor lived with his wife in Statesboro up to the time of his flight from justice here last fall. Therefore it would have been impossible for a divorce to have been granted either party in that length of time. Under the Georgia law two separate verdicts has to be obtained running the gauntlet of two terms of the superior court which meets only twice a year, and this would take twelve months, in the latter case which was one of desertion the husband fleeing the limits of the state, the wife had she entered a suit for a divorce would have had to have perfected service on him by publication in the newspaper carrying the sheriff's advertisements of this county, that payer being this one, we are in a position to know that no such notice has ever been run. Georgia has no lightening method of granting divorces like that in some of the far western states, and the impression that Dr. Clino seems to have that all that is necessary to a divorce is to pick up your hat and leave a woman you have sworn to live with and support the balance of your natural life is an erroneous one, one that has been practice by at least one other citizen whom we had occasion to refer to only a short time ago.

This is fine as long as it will work but sooner or later it is going to work some of these fellows on the chain gang, an abode they seem to have been looking for, for some time.

Judge Dismisses Jury

in Short Order.

A small sized sensation developed in the city court on Wednesday morning when the jury impaneled for the first case returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of the State vs. Oliver Finch charged with retailing liquor. When the verdict was announced Judge Brannen turned to the jury and addressed them in this wise, "The members of the jury engaged in the trial of this case be relieved for the balance of the term."

It was clear to the jury and spectators that the judge was very much displeased with the verdict rendered, and took this manner in expressing it.

The case was one charging Oliver Finch with the crime of retailing liquor, and was stubbornly contested all the way through. There was only one witness for the state in the person of Dol Williams, who testified before the grand jury that on the 27th of April last he purchased a half pint of whiskey from Finch paying 20 cents for it. Williams stated that the price demanded was 25 cents but he was able by some persuasion to get the price reduced to twenty cents. On the trial Wednesday he testified that he bought the whiskey either the last of January or the first of February and admitted that he had only made one purchase, the wide difference in the dates was jumped upon by the defense and three men were put up who impeached William evidence, but this was met by the state who put three men on the stand re-establishing his testimony.

So the jury after getting in the room had no difficulty upon a verdict of acquittal, giving the defendant the benefit of the doubt and the conflicting dates testified to by the witness.

There was considerable feeling shown by some of the members of the jury so unceremoniously dismissed from the service of the court and the matter has been one of wide comment by the people who have been in town.

CALLLED DOWN BY THE COURT

Attorney Pierce For the Riders Charges Bribery to Governor.

Union City, Tenn., Jan. 6.—After a bitter attack on the governor of the state and attempt to bring the killing of former United States Senator Edward W. Carmack into the case, Rice Pierce, senior counsel for the eight alleged night riders on trial for the murder of Captain Quentin Rankin today was reprimanded by Judge Jones. Mr. Pierce was preparing to close his argument for the defense and was discussing the testimony of Fehringor, Hogg and Morris, night riders, who turned state's evidence. He launched into violent denunciation. "The governor of Tennessee," he said, "after sending an army into Union county to trample on the rights of the people, to snatch honest men from their homes and bully them and abuse them, then offered a reward of $10,000 for the arrest of Rankin's murderers," said Pierce.

"I do not approve of crimes. I denounce murder, whether it is a cowardly assassination on the streets of our capital, or any equally cowardly murder on the banks of Red Foot Lake. But I submit that all men are equal before the law, and the man or men who assassinated Carmack are entitled to no better treatment than those who killed Rankin."

"After filling Union county with the army and abusing citizens, what does Governor Patterson do, this governor of the state? He sends for Frank Fehringor and Aerschel Hogg and Wad Morris, and he bribes them to perjury themselves to send honest men to the gallows."

Several times the attorney repeated the charge and then Judge Jones said:

"The court does not believe that the judiciary should permit to pass unnoticed this assault upon the chief executive of the state. There is nothing in the testimony to sustain counsel's charges. The witnesses swore repeatedly that what Governor Patterson told them was that if they would tell the truth he would give them an unconditional pardon and see that they got out of the country. In no way is it in evidence that he offered them pardon to involve anyone in the murder."

"But," retorted Pierce, "these witnesses, or one of them at least swore that if Patterson had not offered him the pardon, he would not have made the confession. Just what else he offered them, I do not know, but I believe I have a right to say he bribed the witnesses to perjure themselves."

HIGHLAND PARK!

(THE OLD ZETTEROWER PROPERTY)

A NEW YEAR INVESTMENT

The first week of the New Year has passed and everybody is jubilant because the Sun of Prosperity and Confidence is at last beginning to rise after hiding its genial face for fifteen months or more. Conditions are brighter and people are beginning again to realize that this old world has got to live no matter if there are some who say its dead and everything on it is dead.

Real Estate is the Pulse of the country. When a man's pulse beats strong and active he's in good condition. Real Estate is active all over the country. Especially in Georgia. The Manufacturers Record of this month says that at last the attention of the Capitalist is traveling towards this grand old State of Georgia.

And what does that mean?

It means that the former opposition of this state to the entrance of foreign capital has vanished; that Georgia has commenced to advertise to the world her natural advantages.

That manufactories and mammoth industries are being located here.

That outside energy and push are coming in and

That outside capital can here find investment better than any place else in the Union.

The North and East have had their development and have stopped,

The West has had its development and is now beginning to wane.

And now for the Grand Old Southland which is just commencing.

It's resources have hardly been scratched and lucky is the man who is on the ground.

In the North Georgia is considered the most progressive state in the South.

Beyond question Bulloch county is the richest county in that state, and Statesboro is without doubt by far the best city in that county.

Therefore to buy Real Estate in Statesboro is as good as gold.

Your opportunity to do so will be here Friday the 15th of this month.

The lots at Highland Park will be sold at auction on that day to the highest bidder.

These lots are the best in Statesboro.

They lie within four blocks of the Court House.

They are well drained and spacious.

They are surrounded by beautiful residences and are right in a direct line of the growth of Statesboro.

THE OLD STORY

You know what it is. It will be repeated under your very eyes here in Statesboro. The men who are living in the comfortable homes and have big bank accounts bought Real Estate when they saw it possessed the elements making up a good purchase. They did what the wide awake have been doing for ages and didn't wait until everything desirable was gone and prices raised. They had courage to lead, trusting their own judgment and not listening to the man who knocked every successful business and even the town that furnished him his livelihood. Will you lead and get one of the best lots ever put on sale in Statesboro?

HOLD JANUARY 15th OPEN

GET IN LINE AND BUY

Terms Will Be Only One-Sixth (1-6) Cash (Think of That) and the Balance on the Easiest Possible Payments.

Farmers thinking about educating their children here at the Institute should by all means be on hand for this sale. Young men looking for an investment that can't be burned up, or stolen or washed away will nowhere find a more beautiful spot on which to erect their residence not only as regards ideal location but also as an investment.

This property must be sold even if for less than it cost.

Every lot unsold at present will be put up at auction and sold. There must be and is to be, no fictitious bidding allowed.

Six Night Riders

Doomed to Death.

Union City, Tenn., Jan. 9.—

Death to six convicted night riders, twenty years' imprisonment for two and an emphatic denial for a new trial is the mandate of Judge Jones in a sentence handed down here shortly after noon today.

Friday, February 19, 1909, is the date set for the execution.

Sentenced to death: Garrett Johnson, Samuel Applewhite, Tid Barton, Ray Ranson, Arthur Cloar, Fred Plinon.

Twenty years' imprisonment: Bud Morris, Bob Huffman.

Court convened early today to hear the argument for a new trial. Counsel for the defense introduced several witnesses to substantiate the various grounds of their motion. Judge Jones listened attentively to the testimony. The question of the competency of Juror Danbake was withdrawn by counsel for the defendants.

The court said it was firmly of the opinion that all evidence introduced at the trial was competent. Judge Jones continued:

"I said some time ago to the grand jury that it was a sad, sad day when these men left their quiet homes; that their wives had not taken them around the neck and pleaded with them for God Almighty's sake to stop and not band themselves together for such unholy acts; that the evidence in this case is bristling with perjury, and the jury has returned into this court a verdict against Bud Morris and Bob Huffman of murder in second degree and which must stand."

"The jury has also returned a verdict in the first degree against six of these defendants and in view of the manner in which the life of Quentin Rankin was taken I can see no mitigating circumstances in this crime. It was not done in the heat of passion, and has none of the elements of mitigating circumstances, and that part of the verdict will be disregarded."

After a moment's breathless silence, the court said:

"Bud Morris, you will stand up. It is the opinion that you be incarcerated in the penitentiary for twenty years and be deprived of your rights of franchise."

Bud Huffman next received the same sentence.

"Garrett Johnson, you have been tried on a charge of murder in the first degree. A motion for a new trial is overruled by this court. It is considered and the judgment of the court is that you will be remanded to jail until Friday the nineteenth day of February, 1909, when you will be, by the sheriff of this county, be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may God Almighty have mercy on your soul."

The same judgment was pronounced on the remaining five defendants convicted of first degree murder.

Counsel for defendants asked for a writ of error and gave notice of an appeal to the state supreme court.

Perfect silence prevailed in the court room during the pronouncing of the sentence. The defendants each in turn, arose, pale and worn, and received the words of Judge Jones.

The court then directed the sheriff to see that the defendants be carefully looked after and a proper guard be supplied. Court then adjourned.

Savannah Must

Obeys the Law.

There are persistent reports throughout the state that the prohibition law is being openly and defiantly violated in Savannah and that the constituted authorities refuse to take the proper steps in the premises.

So far as we are aware, these charges are not categorically denied and there seems to be every reason to believe that they are true.

The Journal does not charge that they are true, but they are generally credited throughout the state, and the facts are easily ascertained.

If these reports are well founded, Savannah presents a condition which is not to be tolerated and the most vigorous steps must be taken to enforce the law.

This naturally applies to any other section of the state, but it appears to be an accepted fact that Savannah is the most brazen and notorious offender against the law.

It is a well known fact that The Journal was not an advocate of the prohibition law and never at any time has supported state-wide prohibition. But we are an advocate and defender of law and order, everywhere and at all times, and we say with all the earnestness of our nature that if conditions in Savannah are such as they are represented to be by common report, the whole state demands that this defiance of law must cease.

The fact that the people of Savannah do not approve of prohibition offers no palliation or excuse for this outrageous disregard of the laws of the state. Their guilt differs, not in kind, but only in degree, from that of any other common offender against the laws of Georgia, and they should have as little consideration before a court of justice.

Other sections of the state have accepted the prohibition law in good faith. Certainly common report has not given any other section the evil eminence of which Savannah appears to be proud rather than regretful or repentant. She enjoys a revenue from the system by which she revives hush-money. At stated intervals, according to the reports which reach us, arrests are made, the regulation bond is required—and then forfeited, after which the offenders continue business with official connivance for another extensive period.

Indictments are quashed with the complacent remark that conviction would be impossible in Savannah.

The authorities of that city have taken this situation altogether too lightly. The whole state is becoming aroused. The law-abiding citizens of the state of Georgia see no reason why the people of Savannah should set themselves up as superior to the law. If other sections have to abide by the prohibition law with the best grace possible, in order that the prestige of the courts and the dignity of the law may be maintained, then the people of Savannah can and must do the same thing.

The sheriff, the prosecuting attorneys and the courts of Savannah will find that they have been sowing dragons' teeth unless they promptly take steps to remedy a situation which is not to be tolerated by the people of Georgia, and in the name of the people of Georgia, we call upon the authorities of Chatham county to vindicate and enforce the law. They owe it to their good name, as law-abiding citizens to do this, but if they persist in their defiance, it will then become the imperative duty of the governor to take a vigorous hand in this matter.

And when he does he should make his efforts effective and complete.

There is no puritanical cant in this suggestion. We have no illusions on the subject of prohibition. But it is sufficient for us, and it should be sufficient for the people of Savannah, to know that prohibition is the law, equal in dignity and sanctity with the prohibitions against murder and arson.

The Savannah authorities have trilled with this statute long enough, and if there are offenders in other sections of the state the same applies to them. There are ample opportunities for securing the evidence, instituting proceedings and enforcing the law. Officials can be found who will uphold the law and respect their oaths of office, and unless there is an end to this open violation of the statute in Savannah, it will become the urgent and unavoidable duty of the governor to take such action as will insure conformity to the law on the part of Savannah which every other section of the state is bound to observe, however distasteful it may be.—Atlanta Journal.

NEGRO ATTACKS

A FARMER'S WIFE

Then Wounds the Sheriff.

The Pursuing Posse Return Satisfied.

Lexington, S. C., Jan. 11.—One of the most brutal crimes that has ever shocked the people of Lexington county occurred about four miles north of here to-night. An unknown negro attempted to criminally assault Mrs. Thomas Wingard, wife of a most highly respected farmer.

It is reported here early to-night that the negro had been captured and that Sheriff P. H. Corley had received a bullet wound in the leg from the negro's weapon.

Those returning from the scene refused to say anything about the capture, and it is safe to say that the negro has been lynched.

Mrs. Wingard, who is 53 years old, was in her back yard when the negro seized her. She screamed and the negro ran off, her husband being in a nearby lot at the time.

News of the affair spread like wild fire and it was not long before the entire neighborhood was aroused. Sheriff Corley was notified and left immediately with bloodhounds to capture the negro.

Mrs. Wingard is said to be in a highly nervous state and is under a physician's care to-night.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 11.—Information received from Lexington at midnight tonight by long distance telephone is to the effect that there is no doubt that the negro who attempted an assault upon Mrs. Wingard has been lynched.

The band from Savannah will be in Statesboro for the Big Auction Sale. Come and join the merry throng.

Solicitor Confers

With Governor.

On last Saturday morning in the city of Atlanta there occurred one of the most notable conferences ever held in this state. It was a conference between the Solicitor General of "The Republic of Chatham" and the Governor of the State of Georgia. The matter under discussion was ways and means to check the wanton disobedience of the Prohibition law in the territory in the confines of the Republic of Chatham. The Governor of Georgia insists that the state over which he has the honor to preside has certain powers and privileges over the domination of the new republic and he was insisting upon his rights in this matter.

The day, however, exhibited by his honor the Solicitor General in behalf of his republic in keeping silent when all newspaper reporters approached him was wonderful. Following the conference the Governor opened his mouth and spoke to the effect that he had wonderful confidence in the integrity and ability of the officials of the sister republic in their efforts and intentions to enforce the prohibition law enacted by their elder sister in the territory of their domain but the Solicitor sat still and said nothing. Just what the outcome will be will be watched with interest. It may be that the Governor may declare war against the new Republic and send his fleet down and blockade her port. There is really no telling what is going to happen.

Coup positively stopped in 20 minutes, with Dr. Sherrill's Cough Remedy. One test alone will surely prove this truth. No vomiting, no distress. A safe and pleasing syrup—40c. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Friday you will be offered some of the same kind of property, in the same neighborhood equally well situated. You will get it unless you let the other fellow outbid you. Come out to the sale.

Girl is Slain in Feud Fight. Williamstown, Ky., Jan. 9.—Miss Ethel Ranson, aged 23 years, was killed, and six other persons injured, two probably fatally, as a result of a feud fight on the streets of this place at an early hour today.

There had been bitter feeling for a long time between the Lauter and Ranson families and it led to trouble when they met at a dance given last night at the home of Wes Barnes, two miles west of Williamstown. The first outbreak was suppressed, but later the men met on the street, and from words took to pistols and throwing of boulters.

Miss Ranson was killed by a bullet; her brother, Sidney was shot below the heart and above the eye, and his recovery is doubtful, as also is that of Charles Clark, who was shot through the lungs. Grover Clark suffered a broken collarbone. Thomas Turner was beaten, and Emmet Himan carries a bullet in his right arm. Grover and George Lauter, both of whom escaped serious injury, are in jail today for participation in the fight.

Death of Mrs. Proctor. On Sunday night at her home near Stillson, Mrs. George W. Proctor breathed her last. The remains were interred at the family burial ground on yesterday. The deceased was the mother of Col. Remer and Henry J. Proctor Jr. of this place. She leaves a large family connection and many friends to mourn her loss.

Death of Mrs. Williams. On Sunday night at her home near this place, Mrs. R. A. Williams passed away after a long and lingering illness. She had been an invalid for many years and death came as a relief to her sufferings.
