YOUR OPPORTUNITY

AUCTION SALE OF LOTS

JAN. 15, 10:30 A.M.

HIGHLAND PARK

STATESBORO, GEORGIA

Georgia is pounding to the front. The direction of progress is Southwards. There lie the richer lands, the better markets, the newer opportunities and there are the promises of the future.

Opportunity knocks at a mans door but once. Grasp it now. Every man should own inside real estate.

Cleveland said: "Real estate is the best investment in the world."

J. J. Astor holds on to every piece of City Real Estate he ever buys. It increases in value while he sleeps.

Ten years ago who ever thought Statesboro, would be what it is to-day? Five years from now every piece of Realty here will be double or treble its present price.

A single industry in Satesboro will make everything boom. Its coming, a cotton factory inside of twelve months, a cold storage plant now. A fertilizer factory, now. A chance of any one of a hundred. Tuition at the Institute being free farmers should avail themselves of this chance to procure a home sight in Statesboro where they can live while their children are being educated.

Highland Park is the most beautiful residential track of Land in Statesboro. Judge for yourself. It has the only street in Statesboro 100 feet wide. Four rows of shade trees line the street. Tile walks are in front of each lot. Lumber is already on the ground for Mr. Donaldson's house.

Another beautiful residence is to be erected in the Spring.

The chief feature of the afternoon was a contest, "Circulating Library," in which Miss Annie Donaldson won first prize, the booty having been won by Miss Nina Jones.

The guest of honor, Miss Sapp was presented with a handsome gold hat pin. Delightful refreshments were served by Miss Nina Jones and Miss Louis Hughes.

Among those present were: Misses Anne Clare Sapp, Anna Hughes, Gussie Lee, Annie Moore, Mamie Dewberry of Stillmore, Bosie McCop, Annabel Holland, Lolla Smith, Nina Jones, Polly Woods, Jennie Stubbs, Myrtle Smith, Annie Donaldson, Belle Jones, Ruth Keenly, Lee Frank, Lenora Hendrix, Isabel Williams, Laveta Anderson, Hattie McDougall and Ruby Williams.

Appointments.

Rev. Ellis to Remain With Us

Rev. P. W. Ellis pastor of the Methodist church in this place authorized the statement that he had written Bishop Candler a letter asking to be relieved from the appointment to a charge in the City of Mexico, an appointment tendered him by the Bishop some weeks ago, and accepted last week. Mr. Ellis at first made up his mind to accept the place and so notified the Bishop as stated, but owing to the fact that there arose such determined opposition in the church here against giving him up he has decided to remain here, though the Mexico appointment was quite a flattering one. The News is sure that the people of not only his church but of the entire community will be pleased to learn that Dr. Ellis will remain with us.

Grain Heading Out

Mr. R. F. Lester brought to this office on yesterday morning a bunch of barley in full head, it was of the boarded variety and was headed out full as if it was May. Mr. Lester says the plant is a volunteer coming up in his turnip patch. The samples displayed in the Statesboro News window attracted considerable attention throughout the day. Unless the weather grows colder and remains so it is feared that fruit trees and vegetation will bud out, and be caught by the cold in February.

Peaches Getting Ripe.

That this is a land of everlasting summer time is being shown every day around here. We have already announced that the cotton was blooming and the barley was ripening, but we now have the limit, Mr. D. D. Arden informs us that he has a peach tree in his yard on Grady St. with a lump bearing a number of young peaches. Mr. Arden is proud of his fruit prospect and will take every precaution to see that no early spring cold snap catches his peaches before they ripen. He has laid in an extra lot of cow feed so as to get the family milk cow in order that there will be plenty of milk to go with the peaches early in February, when they ripen, when he has promised to include the peach editor of this paper among the honored guests at luncheon to be tendered his friends, where milk and peaches will play a prominent part on the menu.

Grimes, W. W. Williams and Brooks Simmons. The directors elected Brooks Simmons president and J. E. McCroan cashier.

Old Purse Shows Up Again.

About a year ago The News had occasion to write a history of perhaps the oldest purse in active use in the State of Georgia. The purse being the property of Mr. F. G. Hodges. The purse in question has been a regular and welcome visitor to The News office for many years and made its annual visit on Wednesday in charge of its owner, Mr. Hodges says the purse is now fifty nine years old, and has been in active use during all these years, he purchased it while a resident of Dougherty county, being administrator on an estate and having to handle considerable money bought the purse, and has used it ever since. Mr. Hodges also says he has a tax receipt where the taxes for three years were all paid at once, the money being sent up to the State Capital at Milledgeville by the representative of the county, he says in those days they only called for money every two or three years, the demand on the state treasury were not so exacting as now.

Bulloch Brand fertilizers are sold on as good terms as others sell for. See us before you buy elsewhere, 12-4t. Bulloch Oil Mills.

Mr. Nichols Writes.

Jesup, Ga., Jan. 13.—To the Editor of The News:

Dear editor and its readers, I wish a short space in The News. We are all well as common and hope The News, its readers and my dear friends of the good old county of Bulloch a happy and prosperous New Year.

May peace and plenty abound, and whiskey drinking and crime cease in your bounds. We have lost one of our best and noblest citizen and a most excellent preacher and the president of the board of education, Elder A. R. Richardson, while we are not of the religious denomination, I can truthfully say that I have heard him preach a great many times and I never heard him preach a word or advance an idea that I could not heartily agree with him, our loss is your gain.

It does me good to recommend him to his new adopted home and the people of my dear old home county to go and hear him preach and if you will follow his examples drunkenness and crime will cease and love and peace abound.

Our crops are generally good in this section last year; and the most of the farmers are in fine shape with a bountiful supply of hog, hominy, potatoes and syrup to do them for the present year, which we hope to be a prosperous one. I would be proud to pay you a visit but can not just now. May God bless you all.

Your friend,
G. W. Nichols.

Great Country Up S. A. & N.

Capt. E. M. Rice the Savannah, Augusta & Northern Railway has some specimens of giant products of the farms along the line of his railroad and is having them photographed for his friends he brought in yesterday a mammoth turnip weighing eleven and one half pounds and a giant rutabaga weighing thirteen and one half pounds.

Capt. Rice states that this has been an unfavorable year for turnips along his line, and next season expects much better specimens he also has some large collard stalks standing up three or four feet high, they are genuine old blue stem variety, all wool and a yard wide. He also has some giant curled mustard that would make your palate sore to look up on it.

That's a great country up the S. A. & N. but they are not up with the procession yet, as peaches have ripened up there this year and so barley has headed or cotton gone to bloom, but not withstanding all this the country along the route of the S. A. & N.

is great, it is a sample of this great and glorious Southland that we are living in, enjoying the best of nature's products while the unfortunate millions of less favored sections are shivering and freezing to death.

During the past few days many instances showing our greatness along these lines have come to light, they have a peculiar way of coming up to headquarters to shed their rays of light as information to the public. But we are sure that the end is not yet, more instances are yet to come, the good people of this great section, and from now on until the maligned district will continue to show up to show us all.

John W. Kern lost out in his race for the Senatorship in Indiana. It looks like Kern is a Jonah.

Sale of Lots Called Off.

The big land sale in Highland Park today resulted in a sale of 18 lots, being bid in by the following gentlemen.

F. B. Groover, two lots, H. C. Parker two, J. H. Donaldson five,

R. F. Lester two and C. C. Newman two.

F. B. Olliff two.

They averaged about three hundred dollars per lot.

The price bid did not justify the further sale of the property and the sale was called off.

Coup positively stopped in 20 minutes with Dr. Sharp's Cough Remedy.

One test alone will surely prove this truth. No vomiting, no distress, a safe and pleasing syrup—30c. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Mr. D. Friedman spent several days in Savannah this week.

Mr. D. N. Williams of Rocky Mount N. C. owner of the Shivers property in South Statesboro is in the city.

The friends of Mrs W. S. Preech will be pleased to learn that her condition is very much improved.

Mr. W. H. Aldred is still confined to his room at his home on West Main st.

Mr. M. C. Jones is spending some time in Savannah.

Gen. Lee's birthday being the 19th of Jan. and Gen. Jackson's the 21st of Jan. the U. S. C. wish to observe the 19th in honor of both men. The day will be observed with appropriate exercises. We hope to have Judge Brinson of Waynesboro to deliver the address.

How to Cure a Cold.

Be as careful as you can when you will occasionally take cold, and when you do, get a medicine of known reliability one that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a world-wide reputation by the many cures in which it has been used in general use we have yet to learn of single case of cold or croup of grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by W. H. Ellis, druggist.

Emmett Parish Convicted.

The jury in the case of the State vs. Emmett Parish charged with stealing cotton from the field and cotton house of A. E. Smith on the Olliff Farm about two months ago brought in a verdict of guilty in the City Court last night. The case was stubbornly fought by both sides, the State being represented by Solicitor E. T. Lanier and R. Lee Moore and the defense by Col. J. J. E. Anderson and A. M. Deal. Upon receipt of the verdict of guilty Judge Jordan sentenced Parish to a fine of $100.00 and cost or serve twelve months on the chain gang. It is understood that the case will go to the Supreme Court the defense having challenged the array of the jury on account of the discharge of the eight men by Judge Brannen last week in the Finch case setting up as a ground for new trial that they were not given a full list to strike from on account of the absence of these eight jurors relieved by the court from further service at the very beginning of the trial.

The case will doubtless go to the Supreme Court, and will bring up the question of the right of a presiding judge to dismiss a jury because he believes they did not return a verdict according to his idea of the evidence submitted.

W. M. Parish, the other brother charged with the same crime jointly with Emmett did not appear when the case was called and his bond was forfeited.

Mr. W. E. Parsons requests us to publish the following letter just received from the State School Commissioner relative to the school book question which will be of some interest to the public.

Mr. W. E. Parsons, Portal, Ga. Dear Sir:

I do not think it will be necessary to change the books until the end of the current term. The governor has not yet issued proclamation of the adoption of books and book concern. After that would probably have two months in which to supply the wants. This will carry us so far into the term that it would be unwise to attempt a change before the end of the term.

Yours truly, Jere M. Pound.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 12.—There is much interest in Atlanta in the interview given yesterday by Solicitor General Walter C. Hatridge to the Morning News upon his return to Savannah after a conference with Governor Smith regarding alleged open violation of the state prohibition law Chatham county.

It is considered here that Solicitor General Hatridge speaks exactly, and, in this case, practically as the representative of the Governor.

Mr. Hatridge made it emphatically plain that the Governor had no intention or purpose to interfere with the execution of the law in Chatham or any other county, but was determined to leave it wholly in the hands of the local authorities, confident that their connection of duty and public sentiment would result in upholding the law.

"That is all very well and good," said a well-known Georgian who has kept careful tabs on the working of the prohibition law, "but suppose the authorities and public sentiment don't want the law enforced, what then? Such a thing is possible in many counties in the state. Wouldn't the effect be the same as under local option? Wouldn't it be the exercise of local option in the enforcement of the law?"

"Take the situation as it exists in Atlanta. Here the near dealers have paid the $200 tax and nobody is bothering them. They go on selling real beer, and it is not likely they will be materially interfered with. It doesn't make any difference what the extreme prohibitionist may say about it, the majority public sentiment in Atlanta has no material fault to find with the violation of the prohibition law to the extent of selling real beer, and that is now about the only thing that can be found in one of the so-called near beer saloons, outside of a few bottles of the imitation which are kept for display purposes or samples in case anyone should want to make an analysis.

"So far as whiskey is concerned there is considerable of it sold in Atlanta, but this is done covertly. Now and then the police make an arrest, usually of some negro, and there is a fine or chaining sentence. The near beer dealers do not sell whiskey they are afraid to.

'Possum Supper.

There is a movement on foot in Statesboro to pull of a mammoth 'possum supper in honor of Governor-elect Joseph M. Brown, who has promised to be here when the occasion is pulled off. In casting around for a program and site for the supper, no more appropriate place could be thought of than the dining hall of the Agricultural School.

It is a notorious fact that there are more fat 'possums out on the College farm than anywhere else around here, and it will be great sport for the boys at the school to go out gunning for what has lately become the "National Bird." The "Friday Bear" will now give way to the "Bitty 'Possum," and it is only appropriate that Bulloch county get in the swim, she has already lost considerable prestige by allowing other communities to furnish the fat 'possums for state occasions. There are no larger or fatter 'possums on the face of the globe than the genuine old Bulloch county 'possum, and there are none no better in Bulloch than the Agricultural products. Col. Deal a near neighbor is persuaded that his 'possums are the fattest of the lot, but arrangements can be made for a concentration of the entire output of both the school 'possums and those from Col. Deal's farm. Invitations will be sent out to all the politicians and statesmen both great and small in this entire section of the state, and toasts will be called for and responded to by the men prominent in the affairs of this section of the state. Representation will also be had from the "Republic of Chatham" who will send up a strong delegation, and it may be at this supper when final terms can be arranged fixing the status of the "Republic" to the state.

The date will be arranged soon and published. A brass band will be on hand to furnish the music, and the ladies will also be invited.

Pocket Book Lost.

My pocket book filled with papers in the shape of notes and receipts disappeared from my house at Brooklet while we were moving out. The book contained a note for $175.00 made by J. Russell Waters and payable to me on Dec. 1st besides other papers. A suitable reward will be given for the return of the book.

W. B. Martin May Leave Us.

Mr. W. B. Martin informs us that he has under consideration a proposition to move to Thomson, Ga., where he will engage in business. Mr. Martin recently made a prospecting trip to Thomson and was highly pleased. He has an option on a store building. The News hopes that Mr. Martin will change his mind and remain with us.

Oats Heading Out.

Mr. G. W. Watson of the Metter neighborhood brought us in a bunch of oats in full head on Saturday. They were fully two feet tall and fully developed. Mr. Watson says that this were all he headed out but he has lots of them beginning to joint. The heads were handed over to Agent E. M. Rice of the S. A. & N. Ry. who wanted them to send to President in New York in order to show him the Southland of ours is a land of continual summer.

Boy Badly Injured.

Cecil the ten year old son of Mrs. Annis Gould was seriously injured down at the turn table of the Central of Georgia railway on Sunday. A crowd of boys were playing on the turn table running it around, the boy made an attempt to jump out it while it was running and in some way missed it and fell under it and had his chest and shoulder crushed and also broke his left arm above the elbow. The attending physician cannot tell the exact extent of the injuries yet, but fears should pneumonia set in the result would be hard to determine.

Central of Georgia Excursions

Excursion tickets will be sold to Mobile, Pensacola and New Orleans on February 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, good to leave those points returning up to and including, but not later than midnight of March 1, 1909, except that an extension to March, 13th may be obtained by deposit of ticket and payment of extension fee of $1.00.

Register Has Fine School.

Prof. L. D. Rushing principal of the Register Academy was in town Saturday to attend the Institute. He informs us that the school at Register is improving every day. 115 pupils have been enrolled and the attendance is increasing every day. Prof. Rushing is assisted by Miss Mitchell of Kentucky who is one of the best lady teachers in the county. The people of Register have erected a magnificent building for their school and there is no reason why the school at that place should not improve right on.

Large Ice Factory to Start.

Messrs. A. B. Green and W. S. Godby came up from Savannah on yesterday and perfected arrangements for the work to begin on their ice factory which will be located on the right of way of the Central of Georgia Railway Co. at the intersection of Cherry St. on the lot purchased by them from Mr. W. W. DeLoach some time ago.

The promoters of this factory inform us that their machinery has already been purchased which is to be of the latest pattern which will manufacture ice by the new process by sweating the substance from the water. The plant will cost when installed thirty-five thousand dollars and will have a daily capacity of twenty tons. Street wagons will be put on and ice delivered in all parts of the city. An artesian well will be driven on the property to furnish the water for the ice, it is the intention of the company to bore the well a sufficient depth to secure a flow if possible. Active work on the plant will start in a few days.

Mr. Rannen says the oaks around his place are all putting out this way.

'Leaving For Arkansas.

Mr. J. A. Seaboard and family will leave tomorrow for Magnolia, Ark. where they will make their future home. Mr. Seaboard was in town yesterday and bade his friends here farewell for a season at least. He has been called to the pastorate of the First Baptist church in Magnolia and has accepted the call. Mr. Seaboard is by no means a stranger to the section he is moving to, having traveled all through the west as a missionary. He and his family resided at Fulton, Kentucky for several years previous to his moving back to the old home near Aaron station, he came home to take charge of his father-in-law's affairs, the old gentleman had lost his wife and his heart turned towards his son-in-law but soon after him the arrival of the family from Kentucky could stick its arrow in the heart of the old gentleman and he found a second mate, after the marriage ties between father and son-in-law grew colder and a law suit followed, the courts having decided in favor of the old gentleman then Mr. Seaboard and family turned their eyes and hearts again towards the great west, and the embarking of themselves and children on tomorrow will end at least for the time being a case of a misunderstanding between them.

Mr. Williams says there are more eypress trees on this line than any other the same length in the state. He has arranged with Mr. Oscar Williams of Register to go over and take active charge of the work when the camps will be pitched.

Akins-Alderman.

On Thursday the 7th inst. at the home of the bride's father Mr. Mike Akins, Mr. H. A. Alderman and Miss Allie Akins were married. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for Atlanta where the groom is studying medicine in the Atlanta School of Medicine.

Shooting Scrape.

A shooting scrape between Jim Bacon, Praylor Grant and his son out on the farm of Mr. P. C. Hagins on Friday night will probably end in the death of young Praylor. It seems that the negro named Praylor and his son went gnawing for Jim, and finding him at his home met with a warmer reception than they expected. Jim had his old carbine loaded to the muzzle and emptied its contents into the boy. The elder negro made good his escape, fleeing before Jim could re-charge his muzzle loader. At last accounts the young negro was in a bad shape and not expected to recover.
