CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Opium. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

Teachers Institute

Held Saturday.

The regular monthly term of the Teachers Institute was held in the School Auditorium on Saturday, Prof. J. E. Herndon of the Brooklet Academy was elected chairman and Prof. Brannen who by virtue of his office is chairman acted as secretary. The teachers from the various schools were present about sixty strong, and most of them joined in the discussion of the various subjects. Prof. B. H. Culbreth, L. D. Rushing and J. H. Stclair leading in the discussion.

The following subjects were discussed at length: General topics, the School Room, Arithmetic, New Books, Music, Penmanship and Grammar. The attendance was fairly good, but arrangements have been made to advertise the next monthly meeting when a larger attendance will be expected.

Committee Still Grinding.

The special committee appointed by the grand jury to audit the report of the special auditor and summon before them the various officials against whom charges were preferred are engaged in the work assigned to them. They have had several meetings before, and were in session on yesterday. The meetings are being held in private, the committee being a sub committee of course by the rules of the grand jury itself in their investigations. While nothing has been let out by the members of the special committee, yet it is unofficially announced that there will be no sensations in the report which the committee will render. Many of the discrepancies found in the auditor's report have been satisfactorily explained to the committee, and seem to resolve themselves down to a method in book-keeping rather than a short age against the county. In one or two instances it has been found that our officials had dealt so leniently with the county in their method of book-keeping that they had actually overpaid the county, when the matter was boiled down to a full settlement. While all the work is not completed yet sufficient information has leaked until the public are not expecting any report reflecting upon any of the officials.

When you get Bulloch Brand Fertilizers you pay for no "Filler" you get full weight.

Mr. E. W. Hodges of Mill Bay was in town Saturday and gave us a call. Mr. Hodges says the peach trees on his farm are all in full bloom.

Advertising Pays.

"If you want the people to know what your wants are put an ad. Advertise in The Statesboro News and it will do the rest." The above was practically the language of Mr. J. B. Lee on Saturday. Mr. Lee runs a large grist mill buying corn from the farmers paying them the cash for it as soon as the corn is unloaded from their wagons. He placed an ad. in the News on Friday and Saturday the corn began to roll in. He pays seventy-five cents per bushel in cash for it and grinds it into meal shipping it off by the car load. This furnishes a ready cash market here for the thousands of bushels of corn raised here every year. Mr. Lee's meal has achieved a state wide reputation for being the best, he started in a shack down by the railroad, soon his business grew until he was forced to build larger quarters. His business is one of those that should be appreciated by the farmers of the county.

Attention Confederate Veterans, Camp J. S. Cone.

You are hereby commanded to report at headquarters in Statesboro, Ga. on the first Tuesday in February next with one day's rations to transact some important business in regard to the Confederate monument.

Every veteran is earnestly requested to attend said meeting, and I am sure you will have patriotism and self-respect about you to come out and help to commemorate the valor and bravery of confederate soldiers to see that the monument is erected to teach generations to come, of the patriotism displayed by the Johns of 61 and 65. Here by fail not. By order of J. S. Hagin, Commander.

JACOB ROCKER, Adjt.

The Turnips Grow Larger.

Some weeks ago Mr. J. B. Wright of the Ivanhoe neighborhood brought us in some mammoth 12 pound turnips, it was stated that he gathered these turnips before day and was under the impression that he still had larger turnips.

Many of our subscribers took the statement of getting the smaller ones before day with a large grain of salt. They reasoned among themselves that when a man carried a sample of turnips to a newspaper whose editor had achieved such a state-wide reputation for mammoth specimens at all the State Fairs that he was careful to select the best he had. Now Mr. Wright in order to set himself straight with the early dawn incident, comes up with a real sample of his patch in the shape of a fifteen pounder breaking the record on turnips both state and national.

Two Fine Schools.

Two of the best schools in the county are being taught by lady teachers, viz: Bradwell Academy in charge of Misses Olive Denmark and Lillian Lee, both Bulloch county raised girls. The enrollment at Bradwell is about 90, and the patrons speak in the highest terms of the school.

The other one is Brannen Institute, down on Black Creek presided over by Miss Sallie Zetterover, another one of Bulloch county's girls, who is making her mark in the school room. The enrollment down there is sixty-five and growing every day. Bulloch county has a right to feel proud of her girls.

Sudden Death at Egypt.

On last Saturday at Egypt while attending Justice court in room over one of the stores, Mr. E. D. Harrison, a prominent local store operator of that community was seized with heart failure and died in a short time. Col. Strang of this place was attending court at the time and assisted in the effort to restore circulation to the stricken man, but efforts along this line failed.

Please Return the Dog

If you see anything of Mr. E. J. Jones' pug dog around your way let him know. Mr. Jones advertises him and describes him as having a "short face and big eyes." Without any reflection upon Mr. Jones' description, would like to ask: Did you ever see a pug dog that didn't have these marks? He failed to state whether the dog's tail had a curl in it or not.

Died of Heart Failure

On Sunday night at his home near Stilson, Mr. J. W. Richardson died very suddenly. He has been in apparent good health during the day previous, taken ill Sunday night and died soon afterwards. The remains will be interred at Lanes church this morning. The deceased leaves a wife and several children.

Daughters Celebrate

Services were held this afternoon by the Statesboro chapter, The Daughters of The Confederacy, in honor of the birth day of General Lee and Jackson. The occasion was honored by the attendance of a large number of both gentlemen and ladies, at the School Auditorium. Short addresses were delivered by Col. Lee Moore and Rev. P. W. Ellis.

Night Riders After Gin.

The gin of Mr. P. R. McElven at Arcola had a narrow escape from burning Sunday night. Just before day Monday morning Mr. McElven discovered his gin house on fire. He rushed down time to extinguish the flames, but until a large amount of cotton and one gin was burned.

Mr. McElven believed that it was the work of an incendiary, as reports from there say that the party who did the work are known.

Killed In Gin.

A negro boy, son of Aaron Colored, at Stilson was hurled to death in the gin of Mr. J. Strickland on yesterday. It was the boy was playing around pulley with a stick in his hand touching the belt occasionally his clothing got caught in the belt, jerking him around and shafting and hurled him to death both legs were broken and other injuries sustained. The boy died yesterday afternoon.

Mules Go Like Hot Cakes.

Mr. W. T. Smith brought in a load of mules from Atlanta on yesterday morning, the car reaching here at ten o'clock, there were eighteen mules in the car, and before night seventeen had been sold. The prices ranging all the way from $215.00 to $275.00. The mules were attractive stock and that always catches the eye of the average Bulloch county farmer.

Some More Bulloch County Oranges.

One evening last week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. K. Hendricks at Portal an entertainment was given the young folks, and one of the dishes served was orange ambrosia made from oranges which grew on the farm. The oranges were sweet and were especially relished by the large crowd of young folks present. If Capt. E. M. Rice hears of this he will be ready to claim that this is a sample of that great region along the route of the S. A. & N. railway.

New Plow On the Market.

Mr. E. B. James, of Cordele, has been in town during the past few days exhibiting an improved plow. "The Dixie Queen." It seems to be a good thing and has attracted considerable attention among the farmers. Messrs. L. B. Swain & Bro., of Claxton, have bought the right for the county and are arranging to place them on sale. A good many orders being already booked.

MAYOR STATES SAVANNAH VIEW

Conservative Discussion of the Feeling There as to Prohibition.

Savannah, Ga., January 18.—In his annual message to the city council, discussing the prohibition situation in Savannah and the manner of dealing with it, Mayor George W. Tiedeman makes the following statement:

"While opposed to this drastic and undemocratic legislation, imposed upon a people overwhelmingly inimical to it, I have labored hard to effect a practical enforcement of the law—a law, over the construction and application of which judges, lawyers, laymen, legislators, internal revenue officials and even clergymen have disagreed.

"Unfortunately for the enforcement of the prohibition law the situation has been made more complex by the imposition by the state of the tax on an article commonly known as near beer. It is difficult and indeed impossible to completely enforce any law that is contrary to the public opinion of the majority of the best element of any community, but its enforcement is made all the more difficult when the law-makers themselves provide a subterfuge.

"The fanatical prohibitionist is always inclined to charge the authorities with any failure to enforce their pet law, and claim that because it is a law it should be rigidly enforced, but, after all, if the populace, and a majority of the best element at that, disapproves of any law, it is as difficult to enforce its observance as it would be to stop the street cars, newspapers, drug stores, soda stands, domestic servants, hotels, restaurants and other businesses and occupations from pursuing their regular vocations on the Sabbath, which is contrary to law.

RECORDS OF COURTSHOW.

"A year ago I announced that, with your co-operation, I would enforce the law in the most practical manner possible. To this end an ordinance was adopted, by the operation of which the city is better able to deal directly with the situation, and the revenue derived from fines is paid into the city treasury. Under the ordinance many cases have been made. In many instances the violators have been fined, their bonds estreated, or they have been sent to jail or remanded to a higher court for trial. The records of the court bear highest evidence of the application of the law in this community. My record in this connection speaks for itself.

"Despite insensate opposition and the criticism of persons without responsibility, I hold to the belief that this municipality is fully capable of administering its own affairs to the best interests of her people, and that this can be best accomplished without outside suggestion or interference.

"This city is absolutely rid of public gambling and lotteries; the sale of near beer or any alcoholic beverage on Sunday has been practically eliminated; riots, secret assassinations or death by the black hand method, or highway robbery are practically unknown here; drunken people are rarely in evidence; and, charges to the contrary notwithstanding, I claim that our people are as law abiding and God-fearing as any in the world, and are best qualified to manage their own affairs, and in the future, as in the past, they will accomplish the enforcement of the law through their own constituted authorities."

George G. Folsom.

It is with regret that we chronicle the death of Editor George G. Folsom of The Tattnall Journal, which occurred on Tuesday afternoon at his home in Reidsville.

Mr. Folsom died from an attack of acute indigestion, and lived only a short while after he was stricken. Folsom was a successful newspaper man, coming to Reidsville fifteen years ago and taking the Journal out of a blacksmith shop built it up to one of the best pieces of newspaper property in Wire Grass Georgia. His friends of the press will all learn of his death with genuine sorrow.

Oliver Has Big Sale.

The big sale at E. O. Oliver's was opened on yesterday morning with a big rush. When the doors opened at nine o'clock there was a large crowd looking for the bargains advertised. When interviewed by the News reporter yesterday afternoon, Mr. Oliver stated that the business done during the morning had been very satisfactory, could have done more but didn't have the help to wait on the customers.

The large display windows attracted all passers on the street, they were perhaps the most tasty of any ever shown here. The man who did the work is certainly an artist. The sale will continue during next week, and those who miss it will miss an opportunity to secure some genuine bargains.

Pork Market Glutted.

The pork market in Savannah has been glutted during the past week. Large shipments have been received, and the supply now in the packing house is far beyond the demand. Good pork could have been bought in the Savannah market this week for four cents per pound.

DON'T GET A DIVORCE.

A western judge granted a divorce on account of ill-treatment and bad breath. Dr. King's New Life Pills would have prevented it. They cure constipation, causing bad breath and Liver Troubles, the ill-temper, dispel colds, banish headaches, conquer chills. 25c at W. H. Ellis & Co.
