Local and Personal.

Mr. J. W. Atwood of the Register neighborhood spent the day in town on Saturday.

Mr. J. B. Rushing of the Sink Hole was in town on Saturday.

The City will be in the hands of the Doctors tomorrow. If any of us eat too much at the banquet tomorrow evening there ought not to be any trouble in securing a physician, as there are expected to be about sixty present.

Just received genuine Burt 90 Day Seed Oats, Onion Sets and Seed Potatoes. Prices made on application.

THE CASSELLS CO., Savannah, Ga.

The fertilizers have begun to roll in. The prices being about what they were last season.

The friends of Mr. W. H. Aldred will be pleased to learn that he is again able to be at his place of business after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. R. B. DeLoach of the upper section of the county was in town on Saturday.

Wanted 20 half barrels nice syrup at 29 cents in trade.

Geo. W. Simmons.

FOR SALE:—One good family horse and buggy. Will sell either or both cheap.

S. L. Moore.

Elder W. M. Williams of the 44th was in town on Friday and paid us a pleasant call.

Judge S. L. Moore went down to Savannah on yesterday to buy an automobile.

Wanted 5 barrels of nice syrup at 28 cents in trade.

Geo. W. Simmons.

Hon. A. M. Chapman of Savannah spent one day last week in Statesboro.

Mr. R. L. Graham and daughter of Stilson were in town yesterday.

The warm weather continues and the face of the man with lots of fresh killed pork grows more anxious every hour.

Mr. W. A. Woods of Parish spent the day in town on Saturday, and brought to this office some specimens of mustard gone to seed. This is one sign that Spring has opened.

Mr. W. W. Clifton of the 48th was in town on yesterday and gave us a call. Mr. Clifton states that while he produced twenty bales of cotton last year, that he makes it as a surplus crop. He now has over one hundred head of the fat cattle in the Ogeechee river swamp and over two hundred head of hogs. He finds that diversified farming and keeping his subscription paid up promptly to his county paper is the safe road for farmers to travel.

Mr. C. M. Anderson came in from the Sink Hole District yesterday, and handed us a dollar. Charlie is now a full fledged farmer and made the remark that he would be a much older man than he is now before he quit the farm and moved back to town. His friends think that he is safe on the farm, and has shown excellent judgment by moving to one of the best farming sections in Georgia.

Mr. S. L. Nevils of Register was in town on yesterday and paid us a pleasant call. He came in to see that his paper was marked up to January 1910 and tells us that the Sink Hole had plenty of hog and hominy though the folks were having a pretty hard time saving their meat. He has killed about half of his meat and the weather is so warm that he has not been able to save the other.

You may eat all the good sensible food you like if you will let Kodol digest it for you. Don't worry about dyspepsia or indigestion, for worry only tends to make you more nervous. Besides you don't have to worry any more about what you eat, because Kodol for Dyspepsia and Indigestion will digest any and all food at any and all times. Kodol is guaranteed to give prompt relief. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

The Prohibition Law

Will Be Enforced.

The events of the past week, which constituted the culmination of one of those stages which seem to be inseparable from the change in a state or community from the old accustomed liquor license system, with its open saloons, to the prohibition condition, have not been pleasant. The prosecutions in the courts, with the incidents that grew out of them, have led to criminalization and recrimination which cannot be otherwise than harmful. Let it now cease.

The ministers and good people who have taken an active part in the events of the past several days have acted from a high sense of duty. Their only purpose has been to promote the enforcement of the law, and surely in this they can only be commended. If in this cause any of them have done or said what did not meet the approval of others, it should be remembered that they were under fire, so to speak, and under such circumstances men will say or do things which they would not otherwise. They have acted from a high sense of duty and for this they deserve honor.

Likewise those who were opposed to them have said and done things, under the excitement of the moment and the strain of action which they would not have said and done otherwise. To them also is due the credit of acting in accordance with honest convictions. Some of them do not concede the wisdom of the prohibition law, and some, as has been developed, believed that this law could be violated with impunity. This has been done. It is one of the stages which is inevitable in the passage from a wet state to a dry. It is an experience through which all communities must pass where this radical change of conditions is made. It is one of the unavoidable processes of this evolution; and it is this through which Augusta has passed.

Let us be glad that it is behind us. Let us forget the unpleasantness it caused. Let us now cease all arguing and agitating, and address ourselves with undivided attention to real business.

Everything that was contended for and that could be gained by this agitation has been gained. It has been demonstrated that liquor was being illegally sold. It has been demonstrated that these places can be detected, that the officers will make arrests and that the courts will convict. In all our courts from the highest to the lowest, from the United States district court to the police court, there have been convictions and penalties imposed. In the city court alone fines aggregating nearly $3,000 have been collected in one week. The law has been vindicated. A lesson has been taught which will not be forgotten. Blind tigers, only called blind by courtesy, have been driven out of their lairs and will stay out because they have been given to understand that the law will be enforced. All this having been accomplished, let us cease further agitation which could not possibly accomplish more and must, if continued, result in useless and unworthy bickering.

The prohibition law must be obeyed. It will be strictly enforced in Augusta. Those who would violate it in the future must do so knowing that they will surely be detected and meet the severest penalty of the law.—Augusta Herald.

Near Beer Barred

By Alabama Law.

Montgomery, Ala., January 23.—The manufacture and sale of all drinks that have even small part of malt or intoxicating properties is prohibited by the Alabama prohibition law, according to a statement made by Attorney General Gardner, in the city court today. All those who are selling near beer, white port, or any such drink, if it have the most remote particle of the prohibited ingredients, and does not intoxicate, are subject to the heavy fines and penalties of the law against sale and manufacture of the product in the state.

The Alabama law prohibits the barter in all liquors that carry malt or any intoxicating properties and "any other beverages that will produce in intoxication if drunk to excess." This is taken to mean that no output with malt or alcohol, even in small amount, can be handled.

It is argued that in the event that the anti-shiping law, as the judge intimated today, the railroads cannot carry even the near beer class of drinks without violating that act which prohibits aiding and abetting in the barter or sale of liquors.

The situation grew out of the hearing today of the mandamus petition on the part of a local brewing company to force the railroads to carry near beer classes of drinks, which they now refuse. Most of the saloons formerly selling liquors are still open, selling near beer. The outlook is good for a flood of prosecutions.

Improving Our Streets.

The road force have struck the city and are now engaged in working East Main street from the walnut tree to the eastern limits of the town where the work on the public roads leading in here have been put in first-class order.

The sand is being moved out and a sand clay road made of it, which is the best roads we have. We learn that it is the intention of the county commissioners to work the public roads right on through town just as if there was no city government here.

The mayor all along contended that Statesboro being taxed ought to have some proportion of the road work and threatened to introduce some measure in the legislature to this effect, in fact he says he already had sufficient law to compel the commissioners to recognize the Statesboro portion of the public roads, and was preparing to enforce it had not the county commissioners seen the justice of the matter and decided to give the town some of the work.

The mayor says that he will go ahead and pave both sides of East Main street from the court house square to the Central depot with cement blocks, and the railroad authorities have agreed to sand gravel the ground around the depot. It is expected that the county commissioners will go ahead and pave the walks all around the court house square with these cement blocks.

This will be a great improvement to the town and a great convenience to folks from all parts of the county who come to town and use these streets.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Will Payment of Pensions

Delay Teachers' Money?

Warrant for the state's pensions for 1909 was signed by Governor Shortly after noon Thursday—for $399,579, for payment in advance of the amounts due to the pensioners for the present year. While the money was in the treasury to meet this draft, it is reported around the capital that the effect of its payment in advance will be to leave the treasury in a less satisfactory condition during the present year than it was during 1908.

Rumor also has it that the treasury will find it hardly possible to meet with the same promptness the payment for services rendered from time to time by the teachers of the state, with the full pension roll paid in advance for the entire year. But more money, it is unofficially promised, will be paid in claims of teachers between now and the first of July than was paid in 1907 during the corresponding period. In 1907, it will be remembered, while the teachers were nominally paid in advance, the amount appropriated was not sufficient to pay them all, and nearly $80,000 that was due them had to be paid after the first of July and after the inauguration of Governor Smith; but no pensioners in 1907, received any money until the latter part of that year.

Pension Commissioner Lindsey's force has been working hard for some days past, compiling the figures for the governor's warrant. The warrant went to the state treasurer Thursday afternoon, and from that office the credit will be given to the pension commissioner which will enable him to sign checks to each county ordinary for the respective amounts due. According to Commissioner Lindsey, it is entirely probable that the pensioners in every county of the state will draw their money by Monday or Tuesday.

Last year's pension payments amounted to $932,306.60. The figures of this year's payment are accepted as being in excess, to a small degree, of what the actual payments will be, as for various reasons—death, removal of residence, etc.—there are many pensioners left unpaid each year and the money turned back into the treasury.

Besides 90 large cups from each 25c package of Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, I now put in a 25c clever silver "No-Drip" Coffee Strainer Coupon. Look for it! The satisfaction of Health Coffee is, besides, most perfect. Made only from pure toasted cereals, malt, nut, etc. Sold by O.H.H. & Smith.

Charged With Jail Breaking.

Wadesboro, N. C., Jan. 16.—Dr. A. E. Cline the veterinary surgeon from Statesboro, Ga., whose attempt to secure a marriage license recently was thwarted by the receipt of a telegram from his former home, has more trouble on hand. Last September while confined in the county jail here awaiting a hearing of habeas corpus proceedings, Cline secured saws and attempted to escape. The grand jury this week investigated the case and a true bill was returned. Officers have not arrested Cline, as he is left for South Carolina Tuesday, presumably on professional business.

John Temple Graves

Eloquent With "Home."

New York, Jan. 27.—"Home," with the unique and heart-touching meanings which the word holds for the veterans of war-time campaigns and camp fires, was the subject of a stirring address by John Temple Graves of Georgia at the nineteenth annual banquet of the Confederate veteran camp of New York, Maj. Edward Owen, commander, at the Waldorf-Astoria this afternoon.

There were present nearly 500 comrades and guests, many of whom were women, when Gov. Swanson of Virginia responded to the first of the toasts, "The Army of Northern Virginia and Its Great Commander," John W. Vrooman, formerly of the United States navy, spoke of "Our Brothers in Blue." Notable persons present included Henry W. Taft, president of the Ohio Society; Walter H. Page, Gen. O. O. Howard, Thomas F. Ryan and Nathan Straus.

Gov. Swanson was enthusiastically cheered as he delivered what he said were "the greetings of the Confederate veterans of Virginia, the state and the city of Richmond, whose heart still pulses in love for the lost cause and its valiant soldiers."

"The various deeds performed during the Civil War," said Gov. Swanson, "have served the world as an example of what this country can achieve on the field of battle. When President McKinley proposed that the nation should take care of the graves of the Confederate soldiers and erect monuments to them the partition between the North and South came down."

The Governor spoke of the achievements of Gen. Jackson, Lee and Stewart, describing in minute detail the campaign from June 3, 1862, to June 8, 1866.

The soldiers of the Confederate army, the Governor said, had contributed greatly to the upbuilding and maintaining of the South. A military programme was carried out, with the sounding of "taps" and a toast drink to the dead soldiers.

If your Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys are weak, try at least, a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nervous system, where it has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plan, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Successful Meet.

The regular semi-annual meeting of The First Congressional District Medical Society met here on Wednesday in the Court House. Dr. John K. Train President of the Society presided. Dr. F. F. Floyd acted as secretary.

The invocation was delivered by Dr. Paul W. Ellis pastor of the Methodist church here, and the address of welcome was delivered by Col. R. Lee Moore. The address of welcome on behalf of the Bulloch County Medical Society was delivered by Dr. H. C. McCrackin of Register, and the response in behalf of the District Society was made by Drs. Ralston and Lattimore of Savannah.

The attending physicians were: Drs. Ralston, Lattimore, Savannah; B. R. Corson, Savannah; H. C. McCrackin, Register; G. O. Brinkley, Savannah; D. H. Blackburn, Ogeechee; R. L. Sample, Statesboro; H. K. Thayer, Brooklyn; R. L. Cone, Groveland; D. E. McEachern, Statesboro; J. M. McElveen, Brooklyn; H. I. Righton, Savannah; M. M. Holland, Statesboro; F. E. Floyd, Statesboro; V. H. Bassett, Savannah; I. E. Aarons, Lyons; A. J. Mooney, Statesboro; John K. Train, Savannah.

After the afternoon session the visitors were shown over the town and surrounding country. Savannah was selected as the place for the next meeting. On Wednesday night in the spacious dining hall of The Hotel Jaekel a banquet was served by the members of the medical society and many other invited guests. Forty covers were laid and the bill of fare as published was served, to the delight of all present. There was not a single hitch in the program and everything worked off as fine as could be asked for. Dr. J. Z. Patrick of Pulaski acted as Toast Master, he presided in a most graceful manner, and was the recipient of many congratulations at the conclusion on the successful manner in which the affair was handled.

Toasts were responded to by a large number of gentlemen, some very bright hits being made. The occasion lasted well on towards midnight, and all who were present expressed themselves as having enjoyed the occasion.

Eat all the good food you like. Quit dyspepsia. You don't have to diet to cure dyspepsia. In fact you can not cure dyspepsia. In that way, but rather you must add strength to the weak stomach by taking something that will digest the food which the stomach can not digest. Kodol is the only thing known today that will do this, for Kodol is made natural digestive juices found in a healthy stomach, and it digests all food completely. Kodol is pleasant to take, and is guaranteed to give relief in any case of stomach trouble. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Limb Was Amputated.

In our issue of Tuesday we gave an account of the accidental shooting of the little son of Mr. B. J. Brannen at that time (Tuesday morning), it was thought the limb could be saved but after a consultation of several physicians in the afternoon it was found that blood poison had set in together with symptoms of typhoid fever and the amputation of the leg was made necessary. The limb was taken off Tuesday afternoon by Drs. McEachern, Sample and Floyd. While the patient is still in a very precarious condition yet it is hoped that his life can be saved. Mr. and Mrs. Brannen have the sympathy of their friends in their sad bereavement.

Notice To The Public.

Referring to our notice in today's issue it will be seen that we have leased our Ice Factory to Mr. E. G. Enright. He is now actively engaged in getting everything in readiness for the approaching warm weather. It is his intention to give the people of this city and vicinity a better service than they have ever had. The quality of ice, delivery and prices will be in every way satisfactory. We bespeak for Mr. Enright, the fullest measure of support from all the citizens of Statesboro, it will be appreciated by David B. Morgan, Pres. Statesboro Ice mfg. Co.

The old fashioned way of dosing weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—has directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if you go at it correctly. Wash inside organs has the controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely fail. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Judge Parker's Reply

To Attack on Churches.

Waycross, Ga.,—Answering a communication from Dr. A. A. Bell of Madison, Ga., who attacked religion and churches generally, Judge T. A. Parker said: "Your communication, together with the pages of the pamphlet, 'Crimes of Preachers in the United States,' also the 'People's Press,' with your comment written on the margin thereof, to hand. You say you are 'an old man and invalid.' It seems to me to be very poor business for any one, and especially an old man and an invalid, trying to destroy the confidence of others in the Christian religion. The compiler of the tract or pamphlet referred to has selected the names of those who, as ministers, or claiming to be so, have debauched themselves and brought reproach upon the cause of Christianity.

"This, upon the part of skeptics, is the usual way of doing, calling attention to the comparatively few who have fallen, forgetting the thousands who have stood for all that is pure and noble and holy, and have kept the faith to the end of life many of them, with the martyrs of old, dying for the hopes of eternal life through Jesus Christ. Why not take the lives of these good and true men and women as proof of the effect of Christianity upon the moral state, rather than take the few isolated cases to which you refer.

"I have no sympathy with the blasphemous statements contained in your criticisms, or in the 'People's Press.' I do sympathize with you, an old man, and afflicted, who must soon meet his God face to face in judgment, who is trying to persuade himself and others that Christianity is a fraud and a humbug. Suppose it is, then those who believe in it and try to live up to its tenets, stand just as good a chance for the future as does the unbeliever. But suppose it is not a myth, then the Christian will be infinitely better off.

"There are many charitable institutions over the world, for the care of old and indigent ones, orphaned homes, and homes for the friendless. How many of these have been established by infidelity? Not one so far as I have information. It is Christianity that fosters these institutions. No, no, your attack upon Christianity does not shake my confidence in it. I hold it to my bosom as the only thing that is worth living for. If in this life only we have hope, we are miserable. This mortal shall put on immortality, there will be a life beyond—heaven or hell. Accept the Lord Jesus Christ as your Saviour and be saved, reject Him you are already lost.

"I appeal to you, an old and invalid man, spend your few remaining days seeking light and life, and never again try to destroy all that is dear to another, his faith in God and his hope in eternal life.

"I can only account for your writing to me, a stranger, upon the theory that you are miserable in your effort to discredit the Christian religion and as 'misery loves company' you desire to get comfort by making others miserable.

"Your arrow, dipped in the venom of your own soul, has fallen short of your mark. Pardon me for writing thus plainly to you. I do it with the hope that it may awaken you to some nobler thoughts, and that God may yet be merciful to you and save you."

"T. A. Parker."

Five Years A

Hunted Fugitive.

Valdosta, Ga., Jan. 27.—Sheriff I. C. Avera of Berrien county, was here last night from Florida with Henry Deen, a white man, who killed Ben Wilson at Buigma Berrien county, in January 1904. Deen shot Wilson in the leg producing a wound from which the latter died to death. The trouble between them was over a white woman, to whom both had been attentive.

Deen fled and was later joined by the woman. The two have been living from place to place ever since, managing to keep out of the hands of the Berrien authorities. Deen expresses his willingness to return to Georgia without a requisition, but Sheriff Avera had taken the pains to procure one before going after him. Deen said that he was tired of being a fugitive and preferred to come back to Georgia and face the charges against him.

It requires a proper combination of certain acids with natural digestive juices to perfect a dyspepsia cure. And that is what Kodol is—a perfect digester that digests all the food you eat. If you will take Kodol for a little while you will no longer have indigestion. You then cannot have indigestion. How could you have indigestion if your food were to digest? Kodol digests all you eat. It is pleasant to take, acts promptly. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

U. S. Won't Surrender

Subject of Czar.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Christian Rudowitz, whose extradition on charges of murder, arson and other crimes, was demanded by the Russian government and involving counter contentions that the offenses were in furtherance of a political movement, will not be extradited today by Secretary of State Root.

In effect, the extradition of Rudowitz was refused because the offense charged comes under the general prohibition against extradition in the treaty with Russia, which declares that if it be made to appear that extradition is sought with the view to try to punish for an offense of a political character, the extradition shall not take place. The testimony taken in the case by United States Commissioner Foote, at Chicago, it was held, upholds the view taken by the department, though the commissioner upheld the Russian government's demand. Secretary Root declined to comment on the decision at this time, providing formal notification to the Russian authorities at the department's decision.

The decision followed a thorough investigation of the case by the government, a hearing at Chicago before United States Commissioner Foote and review of his decision by the state department. Action by the secretary, it is said, does not establish any precedent, as the question was regarded at the department as simply whether or not the case was one calling for extradition for an offense against the law, or whether it was one of a political character.

Throughout Solid South

Charleston, S. C., Jan. 23.—It became known that it is the purpose of the next administration to "discontinue" the plan from the South.

Every Southern, Democrat or Republican, is familiar with this plan of selecting federal officers. It was put into effect some time back on the theory that, being tant from the South, the executive could not hope to be familiar with men in this section. There, it was arranged that two or three leading Republicans in each state be delegated to select upon applications for federal positions, and to make recommendations thereon to the authorities in Washington.

For instance, in Georgia, with the endorsement of such prominent Republicans as Major J. F. Frismon, Mr. Walter Johnson, Harry Edwards—and others, different times—the referees were little chance for one to secure an appointment to United States office from this state. This plan will not be continued, at what will supplant it I have not learned. The civil service may be called upon to give information, when desired, about character and standing of applicants in different communities, particularly with regard to the stability in these communities.

It seems to be the general understanding that, in future, the latter requirement will be a pre-requisite Federal appointment. No matter what a man's ability may be; matter in what community he lives, he will not be given appointment in that community if he is not a member of the Federal positions are to be held by men who can command respect of the people among whom the appointment is to work. Here a man is objectionable to a people, he will not be forced upon them.

The most liberal construction is being placed upon this new order thing. In truth there are those who accept as literally true the Atlanta declaration of the president-elect that "I am to be president of the nation and not of political party," and who will intend that a Democrat or a Republican, as well as a Republican, will be welcomed as an applicant for Federal office.

Judge Taft will not, of course, know these matters. However, the abolition of the referees system will prove something of a surprise, and will be a source of disappointment to many Republicans. General Caldwell was in the court room and insisted that he be allowed to testify. Judge Jones interfered and the incident was closed.

After the examination of twenty-five character witnesses, the defense closed. Colonel R. Z. Taylor took the stand on the rebuttal and denied that any one made the statement that Marshall claimed he made to him at Walnut Log.

The state rested after Ethelbert Rogers and Dolph Hicks, both confessed night riders, had contradicted Marshall, who stated that he remained where the horses were. Rogers says that he guarded the horses. Marshall was not there. Hicks said that he went to the hotel and that Marshall walked in front of him.

A motion of the defense to recall Colonel Taylor being overruled the defense rested. The argument will begin this afternoon. Each side is limited to four hours.

Colds and Croup in Children. "My little girl is subject to colds," says Mrs. Wm H. Serik, No. 41 Fifth St., Wheeling, W. Va. Alibi May Figure in Outlaw Trial.

Union City, Tenn., Jan. 26.—The Marshall night rider trial was resumed this morning with the defendant on the stand.

Marshall was more composed this morning, the nervousness which characterized his action yesterday having almost entirely disappeared. The prosecution is attempting to show that the confession of Ben McKimrick, who, on the stand, yesterday acknowledged he perjured himself in the first trial when he testified to Marshall's whereabouts on the night of the murder, would have been an alibi, and that witnesses had been summoned for that purpose. The witness was closely questioned along this line, but he denied and knowledge whatever of what McKimrick intended testified.

Later he was asked the question point blank, "When he had decided not to prove alibi," and answered that he had not known. He denied that he had ever thought of turning state's evidence or sent friends to see Governor Patterson about giving him a pardon if he would do so.

Further cross-examination developed nothing new, and with a smile of satisfaction Marshall left the stand.

A ripple of excitement was caused when J. S. Caldwell, a brother of the attorney general, was called as a character witness for Ed Marshall and then excused. General Caldwell was in the court room and insisted that he be allowed to testify. Judge Jones interfered and the incident was closed.
