Local and Personal.

Travel has been practically abandoned on North Main street during the past few days. The changing had dug up the street preparatory to laying it when the heavy rains came, finding two rows of clay, one on each side of the street, catching the water in a gutter in the center. The result was, teams bogged down to the axles and travel on this thoroughfare has practically been stopped. This great inconvenience, as North Main street furnishes the only outlet for the north side of the city.

Mr. M. R. Williams.

Twist dead, yet living and in Statesboro jail and will be sixty years old the 2nd day of next September, when a baby six weeks old, died and was laid out, and mother after watching him close for thirty minutes she thought she saw him breathe, they then were made to rejoice to see he had life in him again, at the age of twelve while running a horse was thrown against a tree, his heart was badly bruised, then spasm after spasm and he would die away and finally came too, I suppose taking the general sense of a boy, had more real sense than he ever has had since, on one occasion gave a thousand dollar place for a three year old horse, and walked thirty miles for a pair of shoe strings, just to satisfy his notions, I put myself to a lot of trouble, taking charge of him for a year, would leave my family and go eight miles to help him work and try to keep him in his right mind.

Myself, together with brother Josiah forced him on one occasion when his mind was in a crazy condition and we put ourselves to trouble to try to keep him out of the asylum, I am sorry to know that he a half idiot must lie in jail but glad to know that Elder William Williams, Symon Nevils, William Street and others that he has lived among, are acquainted with the condition of his mind and glad his prison is at home among his friends instead of being in a distant land. Now the Grand Jury and managers of the court I hope will show him mercy.

B. J. Williams.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggist, 75c.

No Opposition to His Wife's Suit For Divorce.

Swainsboro, Ga., March 12—Mrs. Rosa Bell, wife of George H. Bell, whose long fight for freedom while an inmate of the State asylum for the insane at Milledgeville, and recent release through the efforts of Mrs. Blanche Burton, of Indianapolis, attracted more than state-wide attention, has filed suit for a total divorce in the Emanuel superior court.

Before her marriage, which occurred October 10, 1899, Mrs. Bell was Miss Rosa Folks, of Waycross. At present she is employed as a stenographer in a Waycross office. Their one child, a daughter with her, and will probably remain in her custody regardless of the outcome of the divorce proceedings.

The petition was filed by her attorneys, Messrs. Wilson, Bennett & Lambdin, of Waycross.

It is understood that Bell will offer no opposition to his wife's plea.

Wimberly's Farm in Twiggs For Prison Farm.

Atlanta, Ga., March 12—While no statement will be made by members of the prison commission or the governor, it may be stated as a practical certainty that the farm offered the state in Twiggs county by Minter Wimberly, of Macon, has received a favorable recommendation.

If it meets with executive approval, the farm will be taken over by the state immediately, and will be put in shape for the reception of white convicts on April 1.

The selected farm is located near Adams Park, within less than a score of miles of the city of Macon. It consists of 5,339 acres, and was offered at $15 an acre. It will take equally as much to organize and equip the place, making the total cost of the new farm in the neighborhood of $150,000.

Governor Smith has not indicated what he intends to do with regard to the proposed purchase. It is rumored that the selection does not meet with his unqualified approval. He has advocated the purchase of cheaper land, on the theory that the state could save money by up building and developing property that could be bought for $5 or $10 an acre.

The prison commission has taken the position that it would be cheaper in the end to purchase well developed and well located property, and is said to have pursued that policy in making the final recommendation.

It is not believed, however, that the governor will register a disapproval, unless he finds that there are reasons other than those of general policy why the farm should not be utilized for the purpose intended. If he were to approve the purchase, it would mean virtually that the matter of buying a farm would probably go over until next fall, as it now too late to make any extensive investigations looking to the purchase of some other property.

A Mammoth Cotton Mill for Claxton.

Claxton seems to have taken on new life in the last month it was received around that somebody had got some inside information as to the proposed cotton mill for Claxton. But there was very little attention paid to this when Judge W. F. Freeman capitalists secured an option on the beautiful tract of land between Hagan-Claxton and between the S. A. L. and the R. & G. from Mr. W. J. Norman. We did not learn just what Judge Freeman paid for the land but we understood it brought a fancy price.

The location could not be better as it has a fine change and two railroads side by side and being on a line with Hagan-Claxton it will give the many employees the benefit of being either in the sister city's. But as a rule all of the employees like to live as close to their work as possible. There will be a call of all the citizens in a few days and many matters of importance will be resolved and let all of us attend this meeting and get up enthusiasm. From now on it seems a certainty that Claxton will yet be a city. Let all pull for the mill and greater Hagan-Claxton.—Tattnall Times

Will Erect Shat to Confederate Dead.
The arrangements are nearly complete for the starting the work on the Confederate monument. We are informed that about half of the funds have already been raised. The monument has been purchased and will arrive shortly. While it has not been definitely decided as yet, it is altogether likely that the monument will be erected on the court house square in the center of Statesboro. The monument is to be built of Georgia marble, and on the top will stand the figure of a Confederate soldier nine feet tall. Arrangements are being made to unveil it on April 26. The program for the unveiling ceremonies will be printed later.

FOLEY'S HONEY-TAR
Cures Colds Prevents Pneumonia
Important Ruling by Court on Near-Beer in Dublin.
Dublin, Ga., March 16.—Judge Jno. H. Martin has decided that the city of Dublin cannot prevent the sale of near-beer and that the mayor and council of the city as a municipality cannot bring action to have any place abated as a nuisance, but that citizens can do so.
He holds that the state of Georgia has placed a tax on the sale of near beer and that a municipality cannot set aside this law. He says that the sale of near or imitation beer, whiskey, wine, ale which will not produce intoxication is permissible under the law.
While the city is enjoined from closing up the place of business of Radford & Kennedy, it is not enjoined from prosecuting them if they sell beer that is intoxicating. The court gives it as his opinion that the city proved that the beer sold by Radford & Kennedy is intoxicating.
Judge Martin holds that the city can regulate the sale of near-beer and that Radford & Kennedy must conduct an orderly place. He gives to the city the right to proceed against this firm and declare the place a nuisance if it is found to be such.
That part of the petition of Radford & Kennedy in which they ask for immunity from arrest is denied by Judge Martin.
When the city license tax was fixed no license was placed on near-beer, but such beverages were placed under the ban on the alleged grounds that near-beer saloons are nuisances. Radford & Kennedy secured a temporary restraining order preventing the city from closing up their place of business. The chief of police then made a case against the members of the firm and their clerk, on the charge of the illegal storage of intoxicating liquors. Each was fined $100. J. C. Kennedy, a member of the firm, agreed to quit the business and engage in no more if the mayor would suspend the sentence. This was done.
Radford and the clerk appealed the cases to the superior court. In the meantime the city was preparing to make another case when a temporary restraining order was secured preventing this. The city then secured a restraining order preventing the sale of near-beer. All of the temporary injunctions were heard at the January term of the court. Since that time Judge Martin has had the matter under advisement. He refused the city's injunction, granted Radford's in part, refusing that one brought by Radford restraining the city from prosecuting his firm. The city can make as many cases as desired.
Young Man Arrested For Forgery.
Will Griffin a son of Mr. J. W. Griffin was arrested Tuesday at the home of his father near Register on the charge of forgery. He was arrested by Sheriff Kendrick and lodged in jail here, until Detective Umbach of Savannah came after him and took him back to Savannah yesterday morning. Young Griffin sank back at the sight of the handcuffs and pleaded that for one of his hands to be left loose but Detective Umbach insisted on pinning them both together.
It seems that young Griffin has gone to the bad at a pretty early rate. For some time he has been in Savannah and it was there where he began to sign the name of his cousin J. R. Griffin to checks on the First National Bank of this city. He had one cashed for ten dollars by D. Barnes a member of the firm of T. J. Grice & Co. of Savannah, when it arrived the bank here turned it down. His cousin states that he knew nothing of the check, but had he known that his relative needed money that badly he would have sent him the ten dollars.
Two warrants were sworn out against him by Mr. L. J. Nevill of the firm of L. J. Nevill & Co. of Savannah, on charges of forgery. These people are also Bulloch county natives and did not hesitate to accommodate the young man having every reason to believe that his actions were legitimate. There are other charges being investigated and it wouldn't be surprising if other warrants were to follow.
Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Saffold of Savannah were in the city this week. They came here to look over the Jaekel Hotel with a view of purchasing Mr. Jaekel's interest. It is not known whether they perfected a trade or not.
Capt. R. H. Milledge of Decatur was in town yesterday shaking hands with his many friends.
Mr. J. B. Groover returned from Savannah yesterday. His place of business has been closed since Monday, when he was served with a copy of the new city ordinance. He says he intends to fight the ordinance in the higher courts.
Mr. T. J. Hart of Garfield Route 1, was in town yesterday and gave us a call. Mr. Hart claims the distinction which is true, of being the oldest subscriber the News has. He began his subscription twenty eight years ago when the old Excelsior News was started, he has kept it up through the long chain of papers, succeeding the little sheet published at Excelsior. He has never failed to be a subscriber for his county paper, and he said to his credit, that he has never been a laggard when it came to paying his dues.

Mr. J. A. C. Oniel, of St. Paul Minnesota, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. E. F. Murray of the same place has been visiting the family of Mr. H. M. Robertson of Brooklet. Mr. Oniel is a brother in law of Mr. Robertson, and has been connected with the War Department of the Government for twenty five years. This is the first trip South he has made in many years, they left five feet of snow on the ground in Minnesota, and found the warm sunshine and the flowers blooming in the Sunny South. It was a great revelation to them.

Help the Daughters.

The efforts of the Statesboro chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy to raise funds to erect a shaft to the memory of the memory of the Confederate dead deserve the hearty cooperation and support of all the people. We understand that about half of the amount required has been raised, the price of the monument being about $2,000. This amount has been raised by the persistent efforts of the members of the Statesboro chapter. These good women have worked faithfully and their efforts must be crowned with success. It is a noble sentiment that inspires in this great task, and their hard struggle must challenge the patriotism of all of our people. It is only fit and proper that there should be a monument erected in this city to the brave men who fought their country's battles during the days that tried men's souls. In that great struggle Bulloch county furnished her share of the men who fought under Lee, Jackson, Gordon and other brave Confederate leaders. Bulloch county is proud of the record made by her sons in that memorable conflict, and she must now sustain the efforts of our good women. Many of our citizens have come forward and donated liberally to this fund but there are hundreds who ought to contribute who have given nothing. Now, men, come to the support of this movement and aid in the erection of this grand monument that will hold its head up in our midst telling the coming generations of the deeds of their forefathers. Let it not be said that Bulloch county men are laggards in a movement so important as this, one that challenges our manhood and patriotism.

Dressing Convicts

Brings a Problem.
Atlanta, Ga., March 16.—When the convict lessens turn felony prisoners over to various counties for road work under the new law on April 1, the latter must be fully clothed in new, clean suits of stripes, hats, socks and shoes. Instructions to this effect have been promulgated by the prison commission.

The instructions to this effect were called forth by the stand taken by several contractors to the effect that they were not due to deliver any clothing when they delivered their convicts, unless said clothing was paid for.

"You had better bring a supply of clothes along," wrote one firm of lessees or words to that effect to that effect to the county officials who are to take their men, "for when our contracts expire, we intend stripping the men of their clothes and turning them over to you without a stitch."

Under the old law, contractors were expected to clothe the prisoners. When a convict was received, he was stripped of his jail apparel and the same was burned. Then he was fitted up in a suit of stripes.

Lessons argue that these clothes belong to them, and not to the prisoners or to the state. If claimed by them, the prisoners would be left in a state of absolute nature. The prison commission has held differently, ruling that when prisoners are released they must be fully dressed—at the expense of the lessees.

Augusta to Protect

The River Banks.

Augusta, Ga., March 16.—The flood commission of the city met at the city hall and practically decided upon a plan whereby the city will be protected from future floods and damages. The banks of the river will be protected under the commission also certain parts of the bank will be raised.

The widespread apprehension of the people of the city since the flood has caused the work to be imperative. There will be no time lost in getting down to the work, and it is estimated that some of the worst parts will be fixed before the middle of the summer.

Fifty convicts from the state will be used on the work, and a requisition for 100 has been put in. If there is no one to take the white convicts, now leased out, Richmond county will get the 100 extra convicts asked for, and they will be used in the work of protecting the city.

The flood commission will hold another meeting Thursday and further plans will be given out for the work.

A falling tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or falling stomach. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late gone so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by W. H. Ellis Co.

Wimberly Farm Too

Cut up And Unhealthy.

Atlanta, March 16.—Governor Smith returned the prison commission's farm proposition today with the request that the matter be reopened. He did not disapprove outright of the Wimberly place, in Twiggs county, but takes the position that late developments would justify further consideration by the commission. Other places that were looked upon favorably by the commission have been offered at lower prices than originally quoted. The governor stated that the Wimberly place is too badly cut up and that some of it is unhealthy. It is not believed that the prison commission will take any further action for the present, but will defer the purchase until fall and distribute white convicts among the counties on April first.

Poultry Vermin.

Keep track of the vermin, both in houses and on chickens. I do not know of anything better for spraying the houses than a good kerosene emulsion, but it must be used about three times in succession to catch all the mites. After that once a week will be enough. All perches should be mowed so that you can spray them all over, then rub some lime paint, or just lime and coal oil will do. Coal oil alone will kill vermin, but it is necessary to mix it with something thicker.

Now to make the emulsion, I take a bar of laundry soap, shave it up and set it on the stove in a five-gallon oil can with one gallon of water. When the soap is dissolved, and the water boiling hot take it out on the ground and pour in two gallons of coal oil and one quart of crude carbolic acid. A few switches together in a bunch just large enough to grasp, and go to work as if you were whipping cream for a cake. When cold, it will be a stiff jelly. You can keep it indefinitely. About one quart of it mixed with two gallons of hot water will make a spray strong enough for most kinds of vermin, and your poultry houses will have such a wholesome smell after that you will not mind going in them with your best dress on. Of course you can use cold water, but the hot water is more effective.

In feeding the chickens, you can't afford to feed a few thousand lice, so don't overlook them because you don't expect to keep them long. Incubator chicks that go into clean quarters are not troubled with lice so much as hen chickens, but it is not safe to trust too much to that when there is older fowls around. Rush your chickens and get them off your hands, especially if they are of the small breed variety. There is nothing gained by feeding them too long. Get them to market by the quickest route you can. Plenty of green feed stimulates the appetite for other food, and it can be fed liberally to within a few days of shipping, when it should not be given or it will discolor the flesh after they are killed.—Cotton Journal.

A RELIGIOUS AUTHOR'S STATEMENT.
Rev. Joseph H. Fesperman, Salsbury, N. C., who is the author of several books, writes: "For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to my bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. My urine contained a thick white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy." W. H. Ellis Co.

Farm Selection

May be Reopened.

Governor Smith will probably ask the prison commission, prior to his departure from the city Tuesday to reopen the question of the purchase of a state farm for the white convicts, in order to make more detailed investigation of two, or three other places which have been offered to the state.

His particular reason for this, aside from certain objections which he has to the Wimberly place in Twiggs county, is that the owners of these other tracts have wired him, reducing their bids, since it became known that the Wimberly tract was the one recommended by the commission.

The owner of one tract, which the commission had considered favorably, made a cut of $2.50 per acre in the price given, and one or two others have made similar reduction.

Governor Smith's principal objection to the Wimberly tract, he stated, was the fact it is so extensively strung out, making it some seven or eight miles from one end to the other. The Wimberly tract has, however, been highly recommended, both on account of its central location and the fertility of that portion of the land—about 2,000 acres—now under cultivation.

It also possesses good brick clay, which is an important feature, but no kaolin, the state geologist says. Governor Smith sent several experts to this tract, and, in a general way, their reports are favorable. Some of it is said to be as fine land as can be found anywhere in the state. It is said the difference in railroad fares in transporting convicts to and from the farm, as between this place and others considered, further to the south, would be an important factor, and in the course of a few years, constitute a large saving.

Minter Wimberly, of Macon, who has charge of this property, came to Atlanta during the afternoon, at the governor's request, to confer with him about this property, but no final agreement was arrived at.

As a result of the reduction in other bids, as stated, Governor Smith thought it might be possible for the state to get a better bargain and, for this reason, expressed the intention of asking the commission to make further inquiry as to the tracts upon which the prices have been cut.

If the commission makes these further investigations it will require some time, so that no final conclusion of the matter may be reached for several days to come.

BOWEN'S

Guano Distributor

Is the most successful machine of its kind ever used for distributing Commercial Fertilizers.

In covering the fertilizer it makes a bed any width from 9 to 25 inches, and any height desired.

The machine is low in price; Simple; Strong; Convenient.

Read these Testimonials from those who have used it.

The Adabelle Trading Co., of Adabelle, Ga., used one of the Distributors in 1904; the year following they used 14, and last year (1907) they used 24 on their various farms. This should sufficiently express their opinion of the Distributor.

Statesboro, Ga., November 18, 1907.

This is to certify that for several years I was employed by the E. F. M. Co. in this county, as their superintendent, and that they were exclusive users of farm machinery, and that they used a good many makes of guano distributors, and that the Bowen Distributor, used with a Planter Jr. cultivator was one of the best they used and gave better satisfaction for general use, and did not cost as much.

I consider them the very implement for the farmers, as he can detach the Distributor and have a good plow for almost all purposes in the cultivator.
