Fruit of His Folly Friday night come out and see it.

There has been more drunkenness noticeable here during the past few days than we have seen in a long time. Is it possible that the near beer is getting dangerously near? We trust not, but, if it makes drunk come as thick as we have had it for the past few days then the end of the beer business is near at hand. It may be that they are getting something nearer than beer here in the suburbs.

Woman in Irons on

Atens Chaingang.

Hon. John R. Cooper of Macon speaks in strong terms of the treatment accorded a white woman whom he has been employed to represent by court and chaingang officials in the city of Athens. He leaves today for that city in order to argue on application for habeas corpus before Judge Charles H. Brand.

"It is the most disgraceful thing that has ever come to my attention," states Mr. Cooper, "and I consider it a reflection upon the great state of Georgia. Why, when I went to Athens last Sunday I found this young woman in chains, with manacles around one leg and irons around her body. Furthermore, she was chained to the floor of the cell. I saw all with my own eyes and I was more than astonished. I immediately resolved to conduct the prisoner's fight for freedom whether I get paid for it or not."

"Her name is Kate O'Dwyer. Several months ago she was convicted of conducting a disorderly house, and was found guilty in two counts. She was given a maximum sentence in each case—twelve months on the chaingang six months in jail and a fine of $1,000. Judge Brand later suspended sentence on the condition that she leave this district at once. This she did. When she returned to Athens last week however, he issued an order for her arrest on the ground that she had failed to stay out of the county as promised. She was arrested and put on the chaingang and also put in irons. She is only 30 years of age, still a young woman, and has been convicted of only a misdemeanor of fence."

"I contend that the putting of chains upon her was an illegal proceeding, to say nothing of it being highly disgraceful to keep a white woman in irons. The act was directed by W. D. Kelly, superintendent of the chaingang, who says that he received orders from the county commissioners. Mr. Cooper believes that the writ of habeas corpus will be granted. His chief contention is the judge committed an error of law in banishing her from her home, that such an act was illegal and unconstitutional; that in suspending sentence he invaded the province of the governor of the state; that there was no justification for her arrest upon her return to Athens; that she was arrested without due process of law. Macon lawyers state that Mr. Cooper's contentions are strong ones.—Macon Telegraph.

Sour stomach makes sour people. It makes your disposition sour—you become disliked because of your sour nature. Every bit of it can be stopped if you take something to digest the food you eat. Sour stomach is caused by too much acid arising from undigested food. Kodol for dyspepsia and indigestion will digest any kind of food in any combination at any and all times. Keep your stomach well by taking a little Kodol now and then. Sold by W. H. Ellis Co.

Business Change at Adabelle A business deal of some proportion was that consummated several days ago between Dr. J. E. Donehoo and Mr. J. W. Williams whereby Mr. Williams sells his interest in the Adabelle Trading Co. to Dr. Donehoo. Mr. Williams will move to Statesboro during the next few months where he will make his future home. He is preparing to build a magnificent home on Savannah Ave.

$100.00 REWARD.

More malicious mischief continues going on with my stock to an unlawful extent. March 27th the last dog we had was killed and on March 7th a very fine sow was killed leaving seven young pigs, the sow that I paid $10.00 cash for and also on March 21st I lost a fine Essex sow and nine pigs; this was a fine two year old registered sow that I had just bought also had my wire fence cut in two places. I will pay the above reward to the party with proof to convict the one that is responsible for these outrages to my stock and fence. This March 26th, 1909.

The Corn-Planting Time.

When putting in corn—and the time is about ripe for the planting—the Georgia farmer should not overlook the handsome premiums offered by the State Fair Association.

There's going to be wheat at the mill and corn at the shucking at the next fall harvest in Georgia. List some of it for the State Fair premiums. Plant it, manure it, work it to the end. Win the money by making the golden grain. At Albany, at Nashville and at other points in Georgia local contest for corn-growing are on in earnest. Push it along. It is one of the best signs of the times we have seen.

Grain-growing is the thing, not altogether for the sake of the hoe-cake but because an extra rubbin' to the old sow and a quart or two of cracked corn to the old cow, means more fat pigs for slaughter, and more fat beefs for the butcher to say nothing of extra bundles of fodder for the old horse and chickens and new laid eggs for market. When there is grain in plenty there will be 'cattle upon a thistle and hills' and there will be pigs, pork and poultry and also "meat in the smoke house, butter on the board, coffee in the little bag, sugar in the spareribs and substance in the jowlers."

Talk about hoo-worms, there will be links of sausage a yardlong and fatty bread poned up like boulders at the foot of Blue Ridge. The Georgia razor-back will get his tail curled and become a thoroughbred.

Yes, plant corn. Plant it to win. Plant for shoots that will make heavy ears, not for shoots that will miss the stalk. We never saw a farmer that had too much corn in his barn, particularly if he had a runt pig or a motherless calf.

The ground lays fallow and the harvest waits upon the sowing of the seed.—Macon Telegraph.

Most women who have had complexions have dyspepsia or at least indigestion, which eventually will become dyspepsia. To have fine fair skin, and healthy, rosy cheeks you have to have first of all, healthy, perfect digestion in order that you may have rich, red blood. Keep your stomach well by taking Kodol for Dyspepsia and Indigestion occasionally—just when you need it. It is pleasant to take. Sold by W. H. Ellis Co.

Misses Elsie Everett and Julia Brannen of Excelsior spent last Thursday night with friends near Adabelle.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific cause—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that stomach and liver to Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishment could be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and slow motion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and recommend them. W. H. Ellis Co.

R. SIMMONS BUYS INTEREST

Interest in the Statesboro Mercantile Company.

One of the largest mercantile deals that has been made in Statesboro in several years was pulled off Tuesday night when Mr. R. Simmons purchased the stock in the Statesboro Mercantile Co. owned by Dr. J. E. Donehoo and Mr. Perry Kennedy. Just what price was paid for the stock and what percentage of the capital stock was transferred in the trade could not be ascertained.

A lease of three years was obtained on the building now occupied by the stock and what percentage of the capital stock was transferred in the trade could not be ascertained. The business will be moved across the street to the building now occupied by the Simmons Co., a firm composed of Messrs. W. H. and Brooks Simmons, the building is the property of Mr. R. Simmons' but is leased to the present firm for two years. Mr. Simmons will make considerable improvements in the building after he gets possession of it and will fit it up for the business of his new firm. It is the intention of Mr. Simmons to cut off a space in the corner of the building to be occupied by the First National Bank, an institution in which he holds a large block of stock.

Mr. Perry Kennedy one of the firm disposes of his interest in the and takes over the side store that has been devoted to shoes. Mr. Kennedy will devote his entire time to the shoe business, the partition between the two departments has been closed. It is understood that the old firm will handle shoes also.

Mr. Simmons has assumed charge of his interest in the business and is receiving the congratulations of his many friends on his purchase of an interest in the business. Mr. Simmons is one of the largest property owners and best business men in this section of Georgia and his addition to this firm will be of great importance in the mercantile world.

"Little Willie" Drives Off With the Team.

Col. R. Lee Moore has about disappeared in an effort to reform the brother in black. Some two or three weeks ago "Little Willie" Clarke was brought into Statesboro on a charge of larceny, the negro boy the authorities were at a loss to know what disposition to make of him. Col. R. Lee Moore came to the rescue and offered to take the negro youth. A notice to this effect having been run in the legal advt. for this month. On Monday night "Little Willie" grew tired of being reformed and called on Mr. J. G. Jones' ox team and drove off with it. He was run down some four miles south of the city, and the team captured and "Willie" landed in jail.

Play at Auditorium.

Friday evening, April 2, a play, "The Fruit of His Folly," will be given at the auditorium of the Statesboro Institute, by members of the High School Department. Those who have seen the play pronounce it excellent in every way, and deserving the very best patronage. Rehearsals after rehearsal has been given careful consideration, by both actors and instructors, thus insuring a play without "hitches."

Miss Belle Jones, the teacher of expression at the Institute, has acted as instructor, and is due the credit of much patient practice and teaching. This is her first play which she has gotten up since being in Statesboro and she has produced as good a play as anyone could ask for, as to this, a well-filled house is expected to decide for themselves.

Several plays have been given in Statesboro, by home talent, during the past few years, and those present have always been satisfied with the entertainment, and as practice makes perfect, those who attend may expect a rare treat in store for them. This will be the only play given in Statesboro during the present season, and on that account, if nothing more, the present opportunity should not be missed. The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock.

Strong Language for the #### "Regulars" From Moon.

Washington, D. C., March 29.—A break in the monotony of the tariff debate occurred in the house of representatives today, when Mr. Moon, of Tennessee, one of the twenty-three whom the democratic caucus "disciplined" for having voted with the republicans in the adoption of the Fitzgerald amendment to the rules, defended his action in language most vigorous.

He scathingly denounced the attitude toward him and his twenty-two associates by the minority leader and the other democrats in the house, who, he said, had shown an intolerance unbecomingly.

Mr. Moon sarcastically said that it might be well for those democrats who had pressed upon Mr. Clark a losing conflict to give up their rights into his keeping and to have turned over their power, "but why should they attempt to turn over the power of men that have not stood by them? Why should they denounce men as traitors to the party who have stood for democracy in its purity and the platform of their party in its integrity?"

He characterized the democratic caucus resolutions as humiliating, dishonorable, contemptible and posthumous.

The insurgent democrats and the republicans loudly applauded Mr. Moon as he sat down. Gov. Patterson of Tennessee occupied a seat close to Mr. Moon and followed his speech with interest. So impressed was Mr. Harrison of New York, one of the insurgents, that he rushed up the aisle and warmly congratulated the Tennessee member.

Any lady reader of this paper will receive, on request, a clever "X-drip" Coffee Strainer Coupon privilege, from Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. It is silver-plated, very pretty and positively prevents all dripping of tea or coffee. The doctor sends it, with his new tree book on "Health Coffee" simply to introduce this clever substitute for real coffee. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee is gaining its great popularity because of: First, its exquisite taste and flavor; second, its absolute healthfulness; third, its economy—1½ lbs. 25c; fourth, its convenience. No tedious 20 to 30 minutes boiling. "Made in a minute" says Dr. Shoop. Try it at your grocer's, for a pleasant surprise. Sold by Oliff & Smith.

Near Beer Injunction Case

to be Heard Saturday.

Mayor Strange received notice from Judge Rawlings of the Middle Circuit Tuesday morning, stating that the injunction case of J. B. Groover against the city of Statesboro would be heard next Saturday at Sandersville. The hearing was set in Judge Rawlings' order restraining the city from interfering with Groover for April 20, during which time the near beer dealers were allowed to reopen their places of business. While the injunction was for J. B. Groover, P. C. Richardson was also permitted to open.

The outcome of the hearing will be awaited with interest. Mr. Groover will be represented by some of the best legal talent and Mayor Strange will appear in behalf of the city.

Shall We Execute Women?

New York state has just shocked a murderer into eternity.

There were, of course, the customary vehement protests, taking the form of lengthy and excited petitions to Governor Hughes.

It happens that the latter is one of the calmest, most logical and best poised executives in America. Whether or not these qualities figured in his decision, he refused to intervene between the woman and the electric chair.

A good many high-powered and maudlin adjectives have been expended on this question throughout America. The chivalry with which the national temperament is tinged, likes to grasp here and there, at concrete instances. News papers with more saffron than sense have not been slow to ponder to that characteristic.

And after all, we have not yet been supplied with a convincing answer to the question in the caption one way or another. To the citizen who approaches the subject with a mind dispossessed of hysteria and false sentiment, it looks as though when a woman voluntarily surrenders the distinguishing gentleness of her sex, she puts herself on the plane with masculine criminals; and that if in the interests of society it is essential to visit capital punishment upon one, the other should not be immune.

Fortunately, the issue is one to be settled by the individual states, save in a number of very isolated instances—Atlanta Constitution.

A Million Loss in

Havanna Fire.

Havannah, March 29.—The two piers of the Havanna Central Railroad in the upper part of the harbor were totally destroyed by fire which broke out this morning. It is reported that the fire was of incendiary origin. The total damage done is estimated at $1,000,000 which is covered by insurance.

A number of lighters which were loaded with sugar were lying at the piers when the fire broke out. They were cut loose and were blown to sea by the strong southerly gale, threatening destruction to steamers and other craft in the harbor. Some of the vessels hoisted their anchors and shifted their position to escape the peril. Several blazing barges drifted to the mouth of the harbor being strained off Morro Castle.

The Hamburg-American Line steamer Altenberg, which was lying at the second pier discharging her cargo of rice, was unable to get away. Tugs could not render her assistance on account of the dense smoke and the crew of the steamer were compelled to abandon her and take refuge on the adjacent pier. It was thought at first that the steamer was totally destroyed, but the fire was checked after it had damaged the vessel to the extent of $80,000.

Both piers, which contained a vast amount of miscellaneous freight, were consumed, practically nothing in the warehouse being saved. The crew of the German cruiser Hamburg which entered the harbor while the fire was in progress, rendered much assistance in towing lighters out of reach of the flames. There was no loss of life, but several firemen were slightly injured.

Seventh Woman to #### Die in the Chair.

Auburn, N. Y., March 29.—Mrs. Mary Farmer, slayer of Sarah Brennan, met death in the electric chair in Auburn prison at 6:15 o'clock this morning. Five women and a score of men witnessed the execution. The woman left in the hands of her father confessor, the Rev. J. J. Hickey, the following confession completely exonerating her husband, James Farmer, also under sentence of death.

"Auburn, N. Y., March 28 1909

To Rev. J. J. Hickey:

My husband, James D. Farmer, never had any hand in Sarah Brennan's death, nor never knew anything about it until the trunk was opened. I never told him anything that had happened. I feel he has been terribly wronged. James D. Farmer was not at home the day the affair happened, neither did James D. Farmer ever put a hand on Sarah Brennan after her death. Again, I wish to say as strongly as I can that my husband, James D. Farmer, is entirely innocent of the death of Sarah Brennan; that he knowingly had no part in any plans that led to it, and that he knew nothing what ever about it.

"Mary H. Farmer."

This statement was witnessed before a notary.

The five women who witnessed the electrocution of Mrs. Farmer are Miss Mary Gorman and Mrs. John Dunnigan, the women of her death watch; Mrs. Helen M. Westfall, of Moravia; Miss Agnes Baird, of Troy, and Miss Margaret T. Burne, of Auburn. The two last are trained nurses.

Besides the women there were a score of men, physicians, officials and newspaper reporters.

Mrs. Farmer was engaged with the priest in prayer when Warden Benham led the procession of witnesses from his office across the prison yard to the death house. Father Hickey came first. Behind him came Mary Farmer, supported on each side by Mrs. Dunnigan and Miss Gorman.

Mrs. Farmer was dressed in black. Her eyes were closed. Father Hickey leaned close to her and murmured the prayer which she kept repeating:

"Jesus, Mary and Joseph, have mercy on me."

When she was seated, Westfall and the two nurses arose from their seats and went to her. The five women screened her as the electrodes were applied by State Electrician Davis. Captain W. C. Patterson and the male guards.

The current was applied at five minutes past six and 1,810 volts were sent thru her body.

The current was kept on for a full minute, Mr. Davis lowering it and then raising it. It was shut off and again applied for five seconds. Persistent life fluttered still within her breast and three seconds. Then the physicians announced that death had ensued.

More "Dry" Land in

Buckeye State.

Springfield, Ohio, March 29.—Clark county goes dry by eleven votes.

Returns in the election from 48 precincts show the heaviest vote in local history, with a vast majority in the city of about 1,900, but the heavy dry precincts in the country overcame this, and gave the county to the "dry" force by narrow margin.

With the break of dawn the wet and dry forces of Springfield and Clark county were up and busy preparing for the battle. The city was quiet and there was no serious trouble as the saloons had all been closed since Saturday night and will remain closed until tomorrow morning.

The two breweries are owned by an English syndicate.

Clark county is the largest county in the state that the "drys" have attempted to carry the county, having about 65,000 people.

More than one-third of the vote

in Springfield was polled by the #### wets and dries by 8 o'clock.

Everybody was up at 4 o'clock this morning, the women and boys were aroused by alarm clocks. They hurried to the various booths where the women took up their positions as guards, they being stationed on all sides.

If any of the wets stopped to talk to a man approaching the booths the women slowly sauntered up to them and as a result the crowd separated.

Women guarded the front and rear entrances of the saloons and the alleys and adjoining buildings to the saloons were under surveillance.

Besides detectives sent to Springfield from the other cities by the dries and wets the local police force and deputies were on duty at the precincts.

The Adabelle Trading Co., of Adabelle, Ga., used one of the Distributors in 1901; the year following they used 14, and last year (1907) they used 31 on their various farms. This should sufficiently express their opinion of the Distributor.

Statesboro, Ga., November 18, 1907.

This is to certify that for several years I was employed by the E. E. Foy Mfg. Co., in this county, as their superintendent, and that they were exclusive users of farm machinery, and that they used a good many makes of grain distributors, and that the Bowen Distributor, used with a Plannet Jr. cultivator was one of the best they used and gave better satisfaction for general use, and did not cost as much.

I consider them the very implement for the farmers, as he can detach the Distributor and have a good plow for almost all purposes in the cultivator.

Free Labor Begins

Work Today.

With the expiration of the old convict lease system on the night of Wednesday, March 31, and with the consequent removal of the convicts from labor in the coal mines, brick yards, sawmills and turpentine camps, employment will be afforded to nearly 2,000 free laborers in places which have heretofore been filled exclusively by convicts.

Of the twenty-three camps in the state now working convicts in the manufacture of brick and other products, not a single one of them, so far as can be ascertained, contemplates retiring from business with the expiration of the lease system, and practically all of them have completed arrangements for the immediate substitution of free labor, and work will continue without a day's delay.

The Chattahoochee Brick Company, in Fulton county, which employs about 175 convicts, has already issued an announcement, stating that arrangements have been made for employing free labor and that they will be able to supply promptly all demands for brick.

The largest number of convicts in one location is at Pittsburg in Walker county, where the Durham Coal and Coke Company and the Lookout Mountain Coal and Coke company employ approximately 400 convicts in their mines. It is understood they have already completed arrangements for substituting free labor.

For the purpose of transporting these convicts to the various counties to which they have been apportioned the Central of Georgia railroad will operate a special train of ten coaches out of Chattanooga at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday, March 31. The convicts will be loaded on the cars at sunrise on April 1 then the train will proceed to Rome, Columbus and other points, distributing the convicts along the route.

District Passenger Agent W. H. Fogg has notified the county commissioners who have had convicts assigned to them from the Pittsburg mines that they and their guards will be taken on board at Chattanooga and carried out to the mines if they so desire.

The next largest camp is that of G. S. Baxter & Co., sawmills at Fargo, who employ about 150 convicts. It is understood that this company has also completed arrangements for free labor and will continue operation without cessation.—Atlanta Georgian.

Governor Says He #### Is Not To Blame

Atlanta, Ga., March 29.—Hoke Smith today issued a statement in reply to the statement of the Prison Commission in which the commission charged him with responsibility for delay in the selection of a prison farm, and stated that the differences between them were irreconcilable.

The governor emphatically puts the responsibility for failure up to the commission, declares that he had nothing to do with the delay and says that he refused to approve the Wimberly farm because he wanted to save the state from another blunder similar to that made in purchasing the state farm near Milledgeville. The following are extracts from Governor Smith's statement.

"The statement that the commission was ready two weeks before March 11 cannot be true.

"The farm at Milledgeville purchased by the Prison Commission is poorly adapted to the purpose intended. I wish to save the state from another blunder. There has been no excuse for a delay of the selection of a farm.

"It would be dangerous to the health of convicts to locate quarters upon the (Wimberly) land. Of the entire 6,000 acres, which the commission recommends purchased at a cost of $90,000, not over one-third, certainly not over one-half, would be adapted to farming by convicts. With difficulty I can realize that the commission considered the Wimberly place suitable for a convict farm.

"To force them (white convicts) upon the public roads is calculated to embarrass the handling of convicts in road work and to render the system which dispenses with the lease system unpopular. Surely this cannot be the desire of the commission. It certainly is not my desire."

To Cut South's Representation

Washington, D. C., March 29.—Representative Bennett of New York has offered a bill for the adoption of the apportionment act of the Fifty-sixth Congress reducing the representation of states which deny to negro citizens the right of franchise.

Mr. Bennett's bill specifies the reduction he would have made, giving Alabama five instead of seven; Florida two instead of three; Georgia six instead of eleven; Louisiana four instead of eight; Mississippi three instead of eight; North Carolina seven instead of ten; South Carolina three instead of seven; Texas thirteen instead of sixteen and Virginia seven instead of ten.

Woman's Shackles Removed

Athens, Ga., March 27.—Habeas corpus proceedings in the white woman serving a sentence of 12 months in the county chainage, were heard today before Judge Brand the woman being represented by John R. Cooper, of Macon; the county by J. B. Gamble, county attorney.

Judge Brand reversed his decision. The sentence of this woman was suspended last October on her promise to leave this circuit and not return. She has been back several times and a few days ago the sheriff was ordered to execute the order of the court.

She was arrested and sent to the gang, where she was shackled and put in stripes but not confined with the negro convicts. She was given light work to do pending decision of the court. She will remain on the gang but will not be shackled again.

Seats for Passengers

There will be wide general interest in a recent decision of the New York court of appeals, which held that the placing of baggage in a seat in a railway car does not reserve it for the owner of such baggage.

It is a common practice the country over for persons to deposit their "grips" and other personal belongings in a seat in a passenger coach, and then go into the smoking car or some other part of the train, trusting to their baggage to take care of the seat for them. Then, if another is so bold as to come along and drop down in such reserve seat, the owner of the baggage does not hesitate to oust him a trespasser upon his inalienable right.

But according to the highest court of New York, which is, perhaps, the first to pass finally upon this question, no such right exists, and a seat in a railway car containing baggage alone is legally vacant.

Of course, somebody had to make a point of it before there could be a decision, and, in the case in question, the plaintiff put his baggage in a seat in the regular passenger coach and went into the smoking car. When he returned to claim his seat it was occupied by the defendant, who refused to budge. The conductor refused to aid, whereupon plaintiff sought to and did forcibly eject defendant, but without loss to himself, the defendant chucking part of the baggage out of the open window and attacking him violently.

In finding for the defendant, the lower court held that the plaintiff had paid for one seat, and could not reasonably expect to occupy one in the smoker and one in the regular coach; that even had he paid for two seats he could not occupy both to the exclusion of another passenger, who had no seat; that when the plaintiff went into the smoker he should have carried his baggage with him; that seats are for passengers to sit in and not to load baggage; that while the defendant was at fault in throwing plaintiff's baggage out the window, it was done under great stress and emotion, provoked by plaintiff; that plaintiff had no ground for suit for injury to feelings, but only for a actual loss, which must be maintained in a separate suit.

The appellate court in affirming the decision of the lower court, established definitely these three points:

(A) Seats in a passenger coach are for passengers to sit in.

(B) Seats are not for goods, chatties or baggage.

(C) Seats containing baggage are, in the eyes of the law, vacant.

The foregoing decision, while it applies only to New York state, will be of interest to the traveling public the country over.

Whether because of prevalent courtesy or whatnot, the question has never been raised in "these parts," yet it is something people who travel have long wanted to know about.

Will they accept the New York decision or will they some time try it out in the home courts—Atlanta Constitution.

"Hot House" Education.

Almost continually there are demands in one part of the country or another for the addition of new studies to the curriculums of public schools. Practically every social "reformer" who makes a bid of a certain idea gathers something of a following and then goes before the school board or legislature with the demand that the fad be taught in the public schools. We have all seen so much of this sort of thing that the assertion needs not to be argued. Intelligent school boards are forever fighting off the faddists, and intelligent legislatures have to forever defend themselves against the attacks of the faddists. But, unfortunately for the taxpayers, the children and the school boards, the faddists are not infrequently able to bring so much pressure to bear upon the legislatures that their cranks and more or less useless ideas are fastened upon the curriculums, to the distress and disadvantage of the children, to the disgust and annoyance of the intelligent school teachers and school authorities, and to the largely increased expense of the taxpayers.

The tendency seems to be to make the children work harder and understand less; to make the school systems fuller of endeavors and emptier of results, more expensive and less instructive. American Medicine, a leading scientific journal, has taken up the cudgels in favor of "saner systems in the American public schools. It objects to the treatment of children as hothouse plants, to be forced by artificial processes into an unnatural maturity. "It is almost the invariable rule," says American Medicine, "that subjects are taught several years before the brain is sufficiently developed to understand them. This is the most serious defect in our public school system, which, in this respect, really wastes the time of the pupil and the taxpayers." Little tots are crammed with fractions and equations, when their brains are barely able to grasp the physical details of their surroundings. Children are required to take up certain of the sciences before they have learned to spell the common two syllable and three syllable words. No wonder there are so many absurd replies on the examination papers!

We noted the other day a report made by the health officer of the city of New York, to the effect that of a very large number of public school children in that city about 70 per cent. of them had been found physically deficient upon examination. This, he said, was due to the overtaxing of the children in the school rooms. They were made to study beyond their strength of both mind and body. American Medicine says there is urgent need for less inflation and more substance in the public school systems; for the grading of studies to the mental development of the pupils; for the elimination of much of the curriculums that is not only useless, but positively harmful to young children, who cannot possibly grasp the subjects. The matter is one of widest and deepest public interest.—Savannah News.
