Burly Negro Guards

Patten From Violence.

Chicago, April 16.—That James E. Patten has been disturbed by the public agitation resulting from his transactions in wheat was indicated today when a burly negro, employed as a body guard, followed him about. The man was behind him every time he moved, and when Mr. Patten came to a standstill he stood within easy reaching distance. Patten has received many threatening letters, so he is taking no chances of physical violence. Two detectives ride in his automobile constantly.

Manager Jaekel Celebrates 50th Birthday.

Manager Gustave Jaekel of the Screen house had a birthday anniversary yesterday celebrating the fiftieth cycle of twelve months each on this sphere.

He was so busy that he hardly had time to give much attention to the dinner that was spread in honor of the event at the family table in the far end of the dining room, but he made himself a present of a new spring hat, and was called upon to explain the reason why to his numerous friends.

Mr. Jaekel was born in Berlin. His place of nativity was a hotel, and in a hotel has he lived the most of his life. It may be that this is a reason why success comes so readily to him. Since he assumed charge of the Screen house more than a month ago the business of the house has been noticeably increased. He is popular with the commercial travelers, and when he gets into the new building, which the Forest City Hotel Company is going to erect on the Screen house site Mr. Jaekel will probably be the happiest hotel manager in the country.—Savannah News.

Wills in Rackley.

Mr. Albert S. Rackley, of Sylva, and Miss Katie Marie Wilson were married at two o'clock on Wednesday at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wilson, near Egypt, in Ellingham county.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. G. Cartin, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The groom was accompanied from here by Messrs. H. C. Overstreet and F. M. Huff. Refreshments were served after the ceremony, and all joined in extending congratulations to the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Rackley have gone to Atlanta to spend a few days, when they will return to Sylva to make their home. The bride is a worthy and popular daughter of Ellingham who is admired by all who know her. The groom is a popular and highly respected young business man of Sylva, and has many friends here who will join the Telephone in congratulations to them both and in best wishes for a bright and happy future.—Savannah Telephone.

Mr. Rackley was formerly a citizen of Statesboro, having been associated with the grocery business for some time, and made many friends here who join with the future welfare and happiness of the young bride and groom.

PRAIRIE SCHOONER BARN.

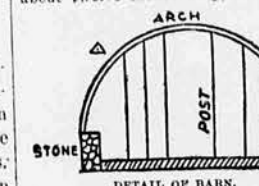

A Farmer's Original and Practical Plan for a Horse Home.

An agriculturalist in Dowagiac, Mich., has made plans for a prairie schooner barn, and he states that the barn has proved satisfactory to him. He built his ten years ago. He calls it a prairie schooner barn because it is mostly roof and has no beam or mortise in its makeup and ordinary farmer help can do all of the work. The barn is forty feet long by sixty feet wide, and the arches (which represent the bows of the prairie schooner or mover's wagon) are made of inch boards six inches wide and of any length and six boards deep, each board bent to shape as it is joined to the others, using plenty of nails and giving plenty of lap over each joint. The arches form a half circle, and in building them the owner drew a half circle on the ground and set posts a few feet apart (perhaps ten) on the outside of the circle, being careful to get them perpendicular and three or four feet high, as several could be made before any had to be moved. Fourteen arches in all were used. These were placed about three feet apart on the side walls, four or five on the end walls. These arches, or rafters, were covered with roof boards and shingles, except the top being too flat for shingles, metal roofing was used. Six round posts are stood in each end extending from stone wall one foot high to arches, on which the girders and siding are nailed. The floor is paved with field stone about twelve inches deep, except one der the horses, where eight inches deep was filled in with soft sand, and that covered with wooden blocks on end four inches long. The stone is covered with a hard, smooth clay. Both doors have given entire satisfaction. Stables are on each side of the barn next to the wall, but with eight foot driveway back of the stalls, so one can drive through with a wagon in cleaning the stable.

More Money in Live Stock Than Grain.

The value of farm animals is increasing rapidly, suggesting that farmers of the west are going more and more into general farming, not depending so much on raising grain for market. The statement is made by the American Cultivator. The value of farm animals is placed at about $5,000,000,000, or one-fifth of the entire value of farm property. The value of receipts at leading market centers for about 50,000,000 head of cattle, horses, hogs and mules will total over a billion dollars, this sum of the leading markets only, and probably nearly as much more live stock is sold at the smaller markets, as it is figured that about two-fifths of the farm live stock goes to market during one year. Of the annual income from live stock, cattle make up about five-eighths, hogs one-fourth and the balance sheep, horses and swine. The great iron and steel industry is surpassed in value of exports by the shipments of meat and dairy products. The tendency of all farmers is toward increasing their live stock, while the country is becoming less and less an exporter of grain. The farmers are wisely securing a double profit by turning their grain into the home market and selling it as a finished product in the form of meat, butter and cheese. The United States has more dairy cows (22,244, 449) than any other country in the world, more horses, 22,000,532; more mules, 4,066,399; more swine, 57,976,361, and (except British India) more cattle, 73,340,573.

Mexican Timber.

According to data in the dairy circular, and trade reports, there are from 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 acres of first class timber in Mexico. The heaviest stands of pine and oak are found in the states of Chihuahua, Durango, Jalisco, Michoacan and Guerrero and are said to compare favorably with similar stands in this country as regards quality, diameter and length of clear body. In addition to the open pine stands there are said to occur some twenty-five varieties of hard wood not well known to the lumber markets. Descriptive notes are given of the wood of many of these varieties, together with data on the chicle industry, transportation development, mining and prices of wood, products, logging and manufacturing and statistics of the lumber trade with the United States for the years 1905 and 1906 and a list of wholesale prices of American lumber in O. B. City of Mexico.

Bradwell Academy to Close.

The closing exercise of Bradwell Academy will be held at the academy about one mile from Port tomorrow evening. This is one of the best country schools in the county, the enrollment being more than one hundred. The present term has been one of the most successful in the history of the school. Miss Carrie Denmark is principal and Miss Lillie Lee is assistant. A large crowd will go out from Statesboro.

Any lady reader of this paper will receive, on request, a clever "X-drip" Coffee Strainer Coupon privilege, from Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. It is silver-plated, very pretty and positively prevents all dripping of tea or coffee. The Doctor sends it, with his new free book on "Health Coffee" simply to introduce this clever substitute for real coffee. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee is gaining its great popularity because of: First, its exquisite taste and flavor; second, its absolute healthiness; third, its economy—1½ lbs. 3c; fourth, its convenience. Note made in a minute" says Dr. Shoop. Try it at your grocer's, for a pleasant surprise. Sold by Olliff & Smith.

Hon. E. J. Giles of Lyons has been selected as the man to deliver the unveiling address on the acceptance of the Confederate Monument next Tuesday. A telegram accepting the invitation of the committee was received Tuesday evening. Col. Giles is one of the most gifted speakers in this section and our folks are to be congratulated on securing him to deliver the address.

WORDS TO FREEZE THE SOUL.

"Your son has Consumption. His case is hopeless." These appalling words were spoken to Geo. E. Blevins, a leading merchant of Springfield, N. C. by two expert doctors—one a local specialist. Then was shown the wonderful power of Dr. King's New Discovery. "After three weeks use," writes Mr. Blevins, "he was as well as I would not take all the money in the world for what it did for my boy." Infallible for what it did for my boy. Infallible for Coughs and Colds, the safest, surest cure of desperate Lung diseases on earth, 50c and $1.00. Guarantee satisfaction. Try it at once. Free W. H. Ellis Co.

Services at Methodist Church

The protracted meeting at the Methodist church is getting started off nicely and the outlook is for a good service from this on. Rev. Mr. Peacock is preaching some fine sermons, and the pastor and membership invite all the people to come out, the services are held both morning and evening, in the morning at 11 o'clock and in the evening at seven thirty. The services are being well attended.

Decision to Come Next Week.

Parties interested in the case have been informed by Judge Rawlings that a decision in the Groover injunction case will be handed down one day during next week.

Caught Hydrophobia

From Dying Son. Mr. J. L. Stewart, of Kellar, Ga., was in town this week enroute home from Atlanta, where he and his wife had gone to take treatment for hydrophobia. Some time ago their son was bitten by a dog which was affected with the disease, and the young man developed a vicious case of it, dying a horrible death. In his dying hours he became so violent that it was necessary to hold him by main strength, and it was during one of these convulsions that the poison was communicated to a sore on the hand of the father, and when he was lying the mother implanted a kiss on his lips. She, it seems, had a small sore on her lip, and she, too, became inoculated with the terrible disease.

Both of the parents went to Atlanta for treatment, and when they have reasons to hope that they have completely recovered.

SULTAN WAITS HIS FATE

The "Sick Man of Europe" Seems Doomed to Lose His Throne.

Constantinople, April 20.—Sultan Abdul Hamid is waiting in his palace for whatever may befall. He has not taken flight and his grand vizier, Tewfik Pasha, has announced the Sultan will remain with his family and accept resignedly the fate that has been prepared for him and his country. Tewfik Pasha and his Minister of War, Edhem Pasha, who sent in their resignations to the Sultan late last night, decided to withdraw them to-day and the grand vizier is spending most of the time with his majesty. Nazim Pasha still is in command of the garrison, but no preparations have been made to offer any resistance to the advance of the Saloniki troops.

The Constitutionalists' lines now envelope the city, but the commander-in-chief, Gen. Husni Pasha, is still at Hademoki, and there is little likelihood that the invading army will enter the city before to-morrow night or the following day.

It is understood that the Salonikians have submitted to the government a list of persons whose punishment is demanded for complicity. This list includes deputies, journalists and theologians. But apparently there is the utmost good feeling between the invaders and the residents of the city, many of whom to-day visited the camps of the Saloniki troops and were received hospitably by the soldiers.

Two proclamations, signed by the commanding general of the army of investment and addressed respectively to the citizens of Constantinople and the garrison, were issued to-day. They have had a reassuring effect.

That sent to the War Office for distribution to the garrison, denounced as "criminal and monstrous the acts committed under the cover of demanding that the Sheri law supersede the constitution, by hands of executioners, vile conscienceless agitators and partisans of absolutism, who deluded the soldiers and populace so that the Parliament was stained with blood, the nation plunged in mourning, and a blot made on the Ottoman army, whose honor had remained intact for the last six hundred years.

After explaining that the army of Salonikians had come to remove the strain, the proclamation formulates two demands.

"First, full reinstatement of the officers of the army and navy and that the soldiers taken an oath in the presence of the Sheikh (U) Islam to obey their superiors and not mix in politics; second, that the garrison undertake not to interfere with the measures of the punishment of the guilty persons and that the spies and others who provoked the disorders be denounced. Finally, if both demands are accepted by the land and sea forces and they show real obedience, nothing will befall the garrison."

The proclamation to the populace explains that the object of the investing army is the re-establishment of the constitution, which is in accordance with the Shri law and the punishment of the traitors to the country. It assures complete safety to the innocent and oppressed population and to foreigners, and adds that those who disguise as "Ulemas, to serve their personal ends, committed a reprehensible act and will be punished.

The Constantinople garrison is deserting to the side of the constitutionalists. It is estimated that about 4,000 men have gone over to the invading army without opposition from their officers or comrades. One party took along a battery of machine guns with horses and full ammunition wagons. None of those attempting to join the constitutionalists without arms were accepted.

At San Stefano, about eight or ten miles from the city, Col. Chahly Bey, the commander of the advance guard, received the Associated Press correspondent very cordially. He said that as yet no orders had come to him indicating when the city was to be occupied.

"We are hardly expecting trouble," said Col. Chahly, "but every disposition is being made just as though we were."

A Movement for

Sewerage System.

A movement is on foot looking to the calling of an election on the question of issuing bonds for a system of sewerage in Statesboro.

Yesterday morning the News had an interview with Mr. J. G. Blitch, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Blitch has been convinced for some time that a sewerage system was the one great crying need of this city, and stated that it was the duty of the city to put it on.

He believed that the hour for action has come and, accordingly, went before the city council along this line yesterday afternoon. He stated that as president of the Chamber of Commerce, he receives inquiries from time to time from parties seeking locations for factories and other different enterprises. Lately the city has been doing some advertising in the Manufacturers' Record, the great industrial journal of the South, and from this scores of inquiries have come. Some want to erect cotton mills, others furniture factories, buggy and wagon factories and various other enterprises, while still others want to move here on account of our magnificent climate, but the one and great absorbing question they always propound is, "Have you got a good system of sewerage?"

The man has spent his life in the crowded centers of the North and West, and he who has lived in the smaller towns of the country, have learned by bitter experience the great need of sewerage. They have paid the toll in human life, by loss of members of their families who have fallen victims to disease, caused by a lack of proper drainage, and they want to know about this the very first thing when they get to figuring on planting themselves in a new town.

Now, the health of our people who already live here is as important to us as it is to those who are seeking our city as a place in which to locate. It is only a matter of a short time when it must be done, a matter that will rise up and stare us in the face after we have been visited by some dreadful epidemic and the News agrees heartily with Mr. Blitch that the hour for action has arrived. It is too late to lock your stable door after your horse has been stolen. When sickness and pestilence visits your home and your city it is too late to begin digging ditches and laying sewer pipe. The time to start is now. We need it for our own protection, and we need it as an inducement for others to move in and invest in our dirt and build homes and erect factories and other industries here. Besides, there is no better time to start this work than when there is a large number of men practically out of employment. The work will give them employment and start up all kinds of business enterprises.

The city has a very small bonded debt, one much less than any town of its size in the country. The bonds can be readily sold at a premium and the taxpayer will hardly realize that he is paying any more, yet he will reap untold benefits in the protection to himself and his neighbors and the increase in the value of his property. It seems to us that the time is ripe for action along this line, and we are glad to see the movement begin to take shape.

Chatham As An Agricultural County.

The people of Chatham are at last waking up to the great agricultural possibilities lying within the borders of their own county.

An agricultural society is being formed and the people have at last begun to realize the value of their lands. Heretofore there has been an impression abroad that Chatham was covered by swamps unfit for farming purposes. This is a mistake the writer has been over a large portion of Chatham and we believe that her lands are the most fertile of any in the state, true, in many sections there will have to be some drainage, but there are thousands of acres of the best farming land we know lying idle right around Savannah.

There are thousands of good farmers eking out an existence on the old washed and worn out hills of North and Middle Georgia who could get rich farming in Chatham county, if they would apply the same toil and energy to these lands that they are compelled to do where they now live, there is no reason why they couldn't succeed. They would have the benefit of a nearby market for everything they could raise, fine railroad facilities and steamship lines taking their products to all points of the world, an advantage to be had in few other sections where the soil is so well adapted to the growing of almost anything that will grow in this section of the South. These are the finest trucking lands on the South Atlantic Coast, and they are adapted to the growing of all staple crops.

It has always been a wonder to us why this land has not been taken up by white farmers, instead of being dotted here and there by a thrifty set of negroes who simply subsists on the natural advantages of this section making no effort to make a living out of the fertile soil over which they tramp every day.

Mr. Chas. F. Stewart, assistant general passenger agent of the Seaboard Air Line, who for the past five years has been appointed superintendent of the tariff bureau of the Southern Passenger Association with headquarters in Atlanta. The appointment is effective May 1, and Mr. Stewart will remove with his family to that city at that time.

The fact that Mr. Joseph Richardson, chairman of the Southeastern Passenger Association, should have picked Mr. Stewart for this highly important work is a distinct tribute to his ability as a high-class passenger man and an authority on the matter of passenger rates and tariffs.

Mr. Stewart was tendered the position about three years ago, but at that time the salary was not sufficiently attractive and he declined. The work of the bureau was placed in less experienced hands with the result that it was not done as good or as satisfactory as it should have been. There were complaints and Mr. Richardson taking the matter up with the heads of various railways in the association, asked that he be given a good man with an adequate salary. The salary named is twice what Mr. Stewart receives in his present position. Mr. Stewart was the man that suited all. When it is understood that some of Mr. Stewart's active competitors suggested him for the place greater is the compliment that has been paid him.

During the five years Mr. Stewart has spent in Savannah he has made a wide circle of friends who will greatly regret that he is to leave Savannah.—Savannah Press.

Looking For Other

Prison Farms.

Atlanta, Ga., April 20.—It is rumored that Commissioner Wiley Williams and Chairman Tucker of the prison commission are looking over convict farm offers in South Georgia, preparing to submit another recommendation to the governor more suitable than the Wimberly farm in Twiggs which the governor recently turned down.

Commissioner Williams and the chairman, it is known, had an engagement to meet in Macon during the latter part of next week, and it was stated at the office of the commission, Monday, that they are together in South Georgia, though nothing is known apparently of their business.

Senator Tillman Visits White

House and Meets Booker

Washington, April 20.—Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, paid his first visit to the white house today in seven years and received a cordial greeting from President Taft.

In his long official capacity the senator never before had called upon a president and his appearance today in the executive offices created a sensation.

The senator walked to the white house, unaccompanied, but left with Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, riding to the capitol with the latter in his automobile. Booker T. Washington was waiting to see the president when Senator Tillman arrived. The South Carolinian was immediately shown into Mr. Taft's private office. The call was purely of a social nature, it was declared.

"I came," said Senator Tillman, "to see if the office seekers had fried any fat off the president, but they have not fried a pound."

Asked why he had remained away from the white house, Senator Tillman replied: "I waited until a gentleman got there."

"It's not necessary to make a nine days' wonder out of my visit to President Taft," said Mr. Tillman after his return to the capitol. "We have always been good friends and I frequently went to see him when he was secretary of war. Whether he has inherited his office from Roosevelt or been elected by the people, there is no reason for anyone to suppose that he has inherited Roosevelt's meanness."

While at the white house Senator Tillman saw Booker T. Washington for the first time.

"I was very curious to see him," said Senator Tillman, "because it enabled me to draw my conclusions as to the percentage of white blood there is in him. It is over one-half."

Asked what impression he formed of Washington, Mr. Tillman replied:

"Booker Washington is considered a great negro, and he has great intellectual powers. He has a just face. If he had not been engaged with a lot of people about him I should have gone up and chatted with him. I would like to discuss the race question with Booker Washington. I would like to ask him a lot of questions."

Today is Clean Up Day.

The city council has set apart today as "clean up day." They request everybody to gather up all the filth and trash around their premises and place it in boxes and barrels so that it can be carted off.

The city scavenger force will be worked on double duty and all the trash moved. This step is thought to be necessary on account of the general health of the city together with the fact that it will be nice to have everything looking in apple pie order for the unveiling ceremonies next Tuesday as well as to put on a decent appearance to our visitors during superior court. The street committee will appreciate the co-operation of the people on this day.

Wheat Bears Turn

Upon Patten Pool.

Chicago, April 20.—Bears in wheat made another sensational drive at the market today. July sank an extreme six cents under the high point of yesterday and May followed suit. The ticker credited Patten and allies with supporting at the decline, but confirmation, either direct or suggestive, was lacking.

Today's slump followed an accumulation of bearish news yesterday and today. Among the influences were heavy Russian shipments last week, rain in the southwest, where the new crop heads it, and a report that seeding in the northwest would be completed this week with prospects for a bumper crop.

Aside from a visit to the pit during the forenoon when he was said to have purchased small lots which temporarily steadied the price, Mr. Patten's actions gave no clue to his operations. His house was reported selling for customers. Personally, he spent most of the day in a chair facing the blackboard.

The market looked weak all day, but what looked like bull demoralization was reserved for the closing half hour of the session. Yesterday May went up as high as $1.28, and July up to $1.181. A bear raid tumbled prices, but support was not lacking and the close showed losses of only 1 to 2 cents, the latter in July.

At the opening this morning the decline continued. May was 1 to 1 cent under the previous close and July 1 to 1 1/2 to the great surprise of Patten followers who have been accustomed to see reactions followed immediately by recoveries. This opening loss was sufficient to bring out further stop-loss orders under which July declined to 114 1/2 and May to 125 1/2. Here the battle hung waveringly for some time.

Then came the crash which, to say the least, startled the bull. July tumbled to 112 1/2 and May to 122 1/2.

The close was weak with July 3 1/2 to 1 cent under yesterday's close at 112 1/2 and May 2 1/2 down 124 1/2.

STATESBORO, GA.

Drys Victorious in the Florida Senate.

Tallahassee, Fla., April 22—After a fight teeming with dramatic features and lasting for over four hours and a half, the Florida State senate today adopted by a vote of 24 to 7 the McMullin resolution calling for the submission of a constitutional amendment for state-wide prohibition. The fight came as a surprise to the anti-submissionists, but was fiercely contested from start to finish. The senate chamber was crowded with a dense throng of persons, prominent among whom were the members of the W. C. T. U., and delegations from the dry counties of the state. Every train into Tallahassee for three days brought in its load of workers.

Early in the morning at the hotels the women gathered and sang prohibition songs. Excitement was high among the crowds in the hotels and lobbies from the time the sun rose, for the crowd had come to be heard before the committees on the question.

As soon as the senate was called to order, however, the submissionists started the fight. Senator Don C. McMullin, the father of the resolution, moved that the resolution be waived and the resolution be taken up out of its natural order for consideration. The anti was taken completely by surprise, but Senator Buckman of Jacksonville was immediately on his feet to protest, asking that its consideration be left over until after the public hearing before the house committee. By a vote of 20 to 10, the necessary two-thirds, the rules were waived, however, the resolution was taken up, and the news quickly spread outside and the chamber was soon filled. Many members of the house also slipped over to hear the contest.

Senator McMullin, the floor leader of the submissionists, was working under a terrible strain, for last night his aged mother passed away at his home at Largo. But he felt she would prefer to have him stand by the fight and he remained and fought a contest to a victory that far exceeded the fondest dreams of his forces. Senator Adkins of Bradford county, also received a telegram in the morning that his mother was dangerously ill at Starke, but he, too, stayed by the submissionists until the fight was over, when he immediately left.

Senator Zim of St. John got out of his sick bed when he learned the fight was on and went to the senate chamber to protest against the measure and to vote against it, but was hardly able to stand to speak.

The submissionists were greeted with cheers and applause whenever they spoke, by the White Ribbons, but there was not a sound when the anti's had finished. The submissionists won when the question finally was called, by the 24 to 7 votes, which went away over the necessary three-fifths. When adjournment was taken and the result announced the capitol resounded with the cheers and the songs of the prohi forces.

Before the constitutional amendments committee in the house in the afternoon, for four hours Jacksonville business men spoke against the measure and delegations from other sections spoke for it. The house was crowded for the hearing was public. After it was over the committee went into session, but tied up on the matter. It is expected that an unfavorable report will be made this morning.

This will not count, however, it is believed, and it is very probable that the submissionists will follow the action of the senate and call the resolution and pass it.

Notice to the Public.

We, the undersigned persons, feel it our duty to correct the report that has been circulated in Statesboro and Bulloch county to the effect that Louise Hendrix is the child of Mary Hendrix. The report is absolutely false to our knowledge. They are sisters.

Having known Mary Hendrix since her childhood, we have never known her to commit an act that was not the act of a perfect lady. We feel that both Mary and Louise have suffered a great injustice by the report, and hope all who heard it will use their influence to correct it for the sake of those who have suffered.
