CHAMPION JERSEY.

Jacobs Irene, Dred in This Country, and Her Wonderful Record.

Some months ago Financial Centres, an imported Jersey owned by C. E. Purser of Columbia, held the official world's record for Jerseys with a production of 705.3 pounds of fat. A little later Adelaide of Beechland, bred by Mr. Sweet of New York, but now owned by the Ladd estate of Portland, Ore., where the year's work was accomplished, eclipsed this record by producing under official supervision a record of 844.1 pounds, says a writer in Hoard's Dairyman.

Jacobs Irene and Adelaide of Beechland are of American breeding for several generations, which suggests that if one's ambition is to discover and disseminate the best representatives of the Jersey breed it is not too easy that he should cross the ocean to find them.

Bred by J. M. Shrader of St. Joseph, Mo., and dropped April 3, 1908, Jacobs Irene commenced her world conquering career for Mr. Anton by freshening Dec. 11, 1905, and in the succeeding twelve months gave 13,311 pounds of milk containing 619 pounds of fat; average test, 5.44 per cent. She freshened again Dec. 10, 1906, and during the ensuing year gave 14,257 pounds of milk containing 721 pounds of fat; average test, 5.25 per cent. Thirteen and one-half months later, Jan. 28, 1908, she freshened again, and her record for this third year is 17,232 pounds of milk containing 954.1 pounds of fat.

It goes without saying that she was well born, but none of her immediate ancestors was especially renowned. Ida of St. Lambert being her great-grandmother. Indeed, so far as can be learned, the others left no records from which one could predicate the wonderful producing ability she has demonstrated. About all that can be said is that her dam, Jacobs Irene II, was lost that twenty-three months old when Jacobs was born, that her granddam, Pops Irene II, was three years old when Pops Irene II was born, and that Jacobs was a better's first calf. It would seem, therefore, that the more or less widely disseminated opinion that a better's first calf is of inferior quality has no foundation in fact, and that early breeding does not necessarily result in diminished size or impaired constitution.

Anti-Calf For Calves. When calves crave for food or other unnatural substances it is an indication of an excessive acid condition of the digestive organs. They need an antacid, the same as cows eating bones to neutralize this acid condition. Give them a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda in milk twice daily.

Mixed Ration More Profitable. For wintering cattle it is more profitable to feed a mixed ration than to feed any single kind of forage. Nebraska Experiment Station.

Stock and Dairy. A close, poorly ventilated stable may be very cold. It takes plenty of pure air to keep cattle warm.

Selecting Range Cows. In selecting range cows for dairy work the Colorado experiment station reports that grade Shorthorns have usually been found the most satisfactory. The cow should be selected for four dairy points—a good udder, prominent hip bones, a sharp bone at the top of the shoulder and large stomach capacity.

White Specks in Butter. White specks in butter are sometimes caused by more than one particle of milk curd caused from lack of care in skimming. Sometimes they are small specks of dried cream due to dry cream having been scraped from the sides of the pan and being too dry to thoroughly soften and mix with the rest.

Selecting Breeding Stock. In building up a herd of pure bred animals on the farm as much attention should be given to the foundation of that herd as would be given to the foundation of the house or the barn on the farm. The selection of the breeding stock is of prime importance. If you could secure the help of a successful breeder in making the first purchase it would be advantageous.

Men of experience are quick to observe certain important points the beginner would overlook. Without sound judgment, good care and management you cannot expect to succeed in increasing the fertility of your land, building up a home or establishing a herd of pure breeds.

INCUBATOR INFORMATION.

Said a footpad, "Gents, I ain't time for fun nor highfalutin lawdige; gimme your money."

All we want is your ear to save you from an incubator investment dear. Don't be charmed by fancy appearance. Like a pretty face, it often runs off.

An incubator should be built of unshrinkable material, be thick walled to keep in heat and exclude cold and should stand high.

A strongly made metal lamp, with put top and bottom and stout turner, with flat, even topped wick tube, is best.

It should hold a two days' supply of oil; wick should turn with reasonable ease, and lamp bracket should be steady.

We prefer a burner that fits tight to an asbestos lined and covered drip proof.

EXTERIOR HOT WATER INCUBATOR.

heater, which divides fumes and heat, conveying heat into machine, fumes to an outlet in rear where it may be piped to outside.

Parts exposed to extreme heat should be protected with asbestos.

The door should be thick and strong, and a large double glass should light the interior.

Egg trays should be strong, well joined and braced, should run easily on tracks, not sag when full and should have a movable piece in front for chicks to drop through on laripari tray below.

The machine should be automatically ventilated by a current of warmed air that passes over the eggs and passes out above them into opening at the top, then down under nursery floor and out.

The temperature is regulated by disks filled with expansive liquid or a triangle of steel.

These thermostats work by expansion and contraction, heat and cold, raise and lower a damper, according to the inside temperature and the way they are set.

The regulator should be simple, sure and sensitive.

We prefer the triangle, as it gives excellent results and cannot explode or leak.

The "standup" thermometer, with large white figures and mercurial column on a black ground, is best.

Inside there should be eight inches between tray and top of machine for air to circulate.

A large pan of moist sand should be kept under the egg tray all through hatch to supply the moisture that evaporates.

Both hot water and hot air incubators have their advocates.

We prefer the hot air.

If you choose the hot water, demand a copper tank and ask to remove it to regulate.

When you divide the price by the number of extra months that give extra wear you'll see the economy of giving enough to get enough.

Built honestly—so the makers include their label. If the value were lacking so would the labels be.

The XTRAGOOD label is a pledge of "money back when you're disappointed." The safest clothes sold.

All XTRAGOOD knee pants are lined all through, which means that seat and seams will hold twice as long and the pants will drap twice as gracefully. Only the price is ordinary—not the clothes.

To Proceed Against Attractions As Nuisances.

We are informed that there will be instituted in a few days a movement to declare the Bowling Alley and Skating Rink as a nuisance. Parties living in the neighborhood declared they can put up with them no longer.

It will be alleged so we are informed that the noise is deafening to the residents nearby, and very trying to sick or nervous people. It will also be set up that these places are frequented by a class of young men who meet there regularly and spend their money, many of them spending money they need for other purposes, and that it affords a place to congregate for every man who is idle and disposed to loaf. The matter will be brought before the Mayor and Council within the next few days.

LIVED 102 YEARS.

Wm. Parr—England's oldest man—married the third time at 120, worked in the fields till 182 and lived 20 years longer. People should be youthful at 80, James Wright, of Spurlock, Ky., shows how to remain young. "I feel just like a 18-year-old boy," he writes, "after taking six bottles of Electric Bitters. For thirty years kidney trouble made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me I had found the greatest cure on earth." They are a godsend to weak, sickly rundown or old people. Try them. 50c at W. H. Ellis Co.

The week's meeting of the Primitive Baptist church opened Sunday. Elder Pinstaff of Illinois has been conducting the services. Elder Crouse of Graymont arrived yesterday afternoon and will assist in the meeting along with others who will attend from day to day. Services will be held both morning and evening during the week.

Rev. I. W. Williamson's Letter. Rev. I. W. Williamson, Huntington, Va. writes: "This is to certify that I used Foley's Kidney Remedy for nervous exhaustion and kidney trouble and an free to say that it will do you the same for it." Foley's Kidney Remedy has restored health and strength to thousands of weak, run down people. Contains no harmful drugs and is pleasant to take. W. H. Ellis Co.
