WILL HOKE SMITH WALK ARM-IN-ARM WITH BROWN?

Governor's Disregard of Another Precedent Has Occasioned Speculation.

Atlanta, Ga., June 19.—Will Governor Hoke Smith follow the custom, hitherto unbroken, of meeting his successor in the capital and of marching arm in arm with him to the chamber of the house of representatives to participate in the inaugural ceremonies?

While Governor Smith himself has given no indication of what he will do, his disregard of another generally followed precedent by moving out of the executive mansion more than a week ahead of the time when his successor will come in, has occasioned some speculation among capital gossips as to whether he will evade the usual form in the other case, too.

Now, the two customs, associated in the minds of Georgians from time immemorial with the inauguration of their chief executives are: The arm and procession to the representative chamber where the oath of office is administered in the presence of the house and senate, assembled in joint session and the dinner given by the retiring governor to his successor in office at the mansion immediately following the conclusion of the inauguration ceremonies.

Of course this last proceeding will have to be abandoned in the ceremonies next week, as the mansion will have been vacated, its windows barred, for nearly two weeks, when Governor Brown enters it.

No one about the capitol has had a longer or more continuous experience of political affairs in Georgia than has former Governor Allen D. Candler, or can speak of precedents more authoritatively than he. His memory of the state's executives extends back to Governor Towns, sixty five years ago.

In no case within my memory or that I have heard of has the retiring governor failed to walk arm in arm with his successor when the latter goes to take the oath of office. This has always occurred, no matter how bitterly the two may have previously opposed each other either politically or personally. On this occasion former differences are forgotten.

In only one or two instances that I know of has the second custom of the dinner at the mansion and the official turning over of the residence following it, been disregarded. Then, there was generally some special cause which occasioned the departure from precedent. In the first instance that I witnessed, when Governor Jenkins received the oath of office, the last part of the program had to be abandoned on account of the chaos of the times and of the occupation of the mansion by federal troops.

CHANCELLOR BARROW NAMED TO UMPIRE GA. R. R. TROUBLE.

Controversy Between Road and Firemen Must be Settled in 30 Days.

Washington, June 19.—In view of the declination of Bishop Candler, of Georgia to act as arbitrator in the strike of the Georgia railroad firemen, the arbitrators today agreed upon David C. Barrow, chancellor of the University of Georgia as the third arbitrator.

The time for the appointment of the third arbitrator expired last night at midnight. The appointment of Bishop Candler by the arbitrators was declined. By the strict construction of the law the appointment of the third arbitrator reverted to the board of mediation, consisting of Chairman Martin A. Knapp of the interstate commerce commission and Dr. Charles P. Neill, commissioner of labor.

However, at a conference of the arbitrators today, Hon. Hilary A. Herbert and Representative Hardwick, of Georgia, it was decided to tender the appointment to Professor Barrow. This was agreed to by the board of mediation. Assurance had been received that Prof. Barrow would accept the appointment.

It is likely that the first full session of the board of arbitration will be held in Atlanta the early part of next week. Under the law the arbitration of the controversy must be concluded within thirty days from the date of the appointment of the third arbitrator.

A TALE, THE HEBREW, AND THE HOLY CITY. It is said that no Hebrew will enter Rome through the shattered Arch of Titus for by so doing they are reminded of the destruction of their loved Jerusalem, for in the broken panels of the arch are discernable the spoils of the second Temple, which speak to them not of liberty but of the sorrows of Judah. The intellect of man cannot portray a picture of fealty stronger or more true. If our people were actuated by such a sentiment, and their impulses were guided by such a love for home, for Greater Georgia, where would we be today, would our money seek alien investment, No; a thousand times no! Would not Georgia be the Empire State of the Union, and the Empire Life the greatest company in the country? For our money invested in insurance premiums, would aid her industrial resources. Georgians, when by your actions you show your confidence in home institutions you will have the wealthiest state in the country. ALEXANDER FEE PURPOSE OF SUIT. Says N. C. & St. L. Attorney. Sensational Statement Directed at Gov. Smith.

Atlanta, Ga., June 22.—"You can quote me as saying that it looks to me as if Gov. Smith, in his good-heartedness and wishing to reward a faithful servant for services rendered, provided some one suit in order that Hon. Hooper Alexander may receive a contingent fee for his efforts in endeavoring to extend the Western and Atlantic Railroad to the sea." This sensational statement was made by John L. Tye, attorney for the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railroad, lessees of the Western and Atlantic, when asked what action the road would take in regard to the suit filed by the state against the Western and Atlantic to recover $200,000.00, which it alleged is due the state. "I don't give a snap of my fingers for the suit, and neither does the road," said Mr. Tye. Attorney General Hart said today that Hon. Hooper Alexander was father to the suit.

BRYAN COUNTY LISTLESS OVER GOOD ROAD PROPOSITION.

Meeting at Jenks Bridge to be Postponed for Lack of Interest in the Road to Louisville.

Because of a lack of interest on the part of Bryan County Commissioners in the proposition to improve the roads in the extreme northern section of that county on the old Louisville route, the proposed meeting of the county commissioners to be held at Jenks' Bridge on July 5 may be postponed indefinitely. President Frank C. Battey of the Savannah Automobile Club, at the instance of prominent good roads workers of South Georgia, called for a meeting of the County Commissioners of Chatham, Bryan, Etowah and Bulloch to plan for the improvement of the Louisville road. This road is in fairly good condition with the exception of the small strip in Bryan county, and for this reason the co-operation of the Bryan County Commissioners was desired.

It is thought that the display of indifference on the part of the Bryan county officials in this instance is due to the fact that they are asked to improve roads which might not prove of as much value to residents of that county as would some of the other highways which need attention. However, the problem of a good road to Statesboro probably will be solved by the adoption of a road through Elkins' Landing, about seven miles north of Jenks' Bridge.

Mr. Battey yesterday wrote to the commissioners interested in the enterprise, explaining the status of affairs in Bryan county. Under these conditions, he explained, he saw little hope of improving the roads through the northern part of Bryan county at this time, and he is not certain whether the Jenks' Bridge meeting will be held. However, he is working out several other plans, any of which will give a good route through the counties interested. At the meeting of the executive committee of the Savannah Automobile Club to decide the route for the Morning News endurance run, a meeting may be called of the commissioners of the counties along the route to make plans for road improvement. At the meeting of the executive committee, it is understood, most rigid restrictions and heavy penalties will be formulated for the Morning News endurance run from Savannah to Atlanta. In these days of good roads it is an easy matter for a car to make a perfect score for average distances. In order to determine more readily upon the best entry, it is proposed to note and penalize defects which were overlooked in the recent run to Augusta. It is also proposed to place in each car a disinterested party who will act as an official observer and who will be expected to give an absolutely impartial report.—Savannah News.

If there is anything wrong with your stomach today, get a bottle of Kodol and try it. Take it just at the time when you know that your stomach is out of order, and the food is not digesting. That is the only time you need to take Kodol—just once in a while. Every tablespoonful of Kodol will digest 2 1/4 pounds of food. Kodol will digest what you eat, and in that way will cure you of dyspepsia, and indigestion. It is sold by W. H. Ellis Co.

Finch Will Ask for Commutation of Sentence. Petitions are being circulated around Statesboro and at other points through the county asking the Prison Board to commute the sentence of D. C. Finch relieving him of the three months jail sentence now hanging over him. His case having gone to the Court of Appeals and a decision confirming his sentence having been handed down. Finch is willing to pay the one thousand dollars but he is asking to be relieved of the jail sentence. Attached to the petition is a certificate from Drs. Rogers and Floyd stating that Mr. Finch is suffering from Lumbago and a complication of other troubles, and to this end a bountiful supply of fresh air is absolutely necessary. Late yesterday afternoon the petition had the names of quite a number of good citizens attached to it.

Automobiles in Great Demand. So great is the demand for automobiles, until a number of the factories have given orders to their agents not to take any orders for machines for delivery until the first of the year. The demand for them is heavier than they can meet. It is estimated that a new automobile factory or enterprise akin to them starts up every day, and yet the demand is far more than the supply. We learn that the middle West and the states of the Pacific slope are going wild over them. Railroad travel is being discarded and the automobile is the means of travel almost exclusively. This means well to the farmers of the Sea Island cotton belt. It is said the past season twenty-five thousand bales of our Sea Island cotton went into automobile tire manufacture. With the great increase in demand and output it is estimated that fifty thousand bales will be used out of this season's crop, or at least one-half of it. The increased demand for it to go in these tires (and nothing else will do) must stimulate prices or at least hold them up. Just think of what would be the condition of the Sea Island cotton market had this demand for our principal product not appeared. The farmers of Bulloch county ought to look upon the automobile as their friend, which is true, at least to the extent that they are furnishing a market for the product of our farms.

Must We Sell the Mansion?

It is given out that Governor Smith will recommend in his last message to the legislature the sale of the old Executive mansion on Peachtree-st. and purchase another one in the residence section of Atlanta.

Is it not true that the sore need of funds is the father to the efforts to sell the mansion? We find ourselves at the end of an administration that was elected to "save the state" in a most deplorable condition.

Why not sell the Capitol? It may be that a cheaper building than the one we are now using could be obtained somewhere else in the more remote section of the City—perhaps on Decatur or Peters-sts.

Gentlemen, we believe that the first prayer offered by the Chaplain on the convening of the legislature on yesterday should have been that the state be delivered from the brand of reform that beset some two years ago and landed us in such a deplorable financial condition that plans are on foot for the sale of the official home of the state.

Brooklet Will Have Big Day.

Today will be a red letter day for Brooklet. The citizens of the town have launched a Good Roads Meeting and have arranged an interesting program for the days entertainment. Col. Alf Herrington, who has his credit breaking up of more schools than any one man in Georgia will be present, he will not break up the Good Roads movement but give it a boost.

Seed Peas for Sale. I have about twenty five bushels of seed peas for sale, cow and black peas mixed.

THE FARMER AND GOOD ROADS.

Has there set in a movement on the part of the farmers to oppose the good roads program now on in all sections of the State? It looks to us as if this is what we may look for.

The Farmer's Union of Laurens county have met and resolved against the Macon-Savannah highway. They put it on the ground that these roads are being constructed in answer to a demand made by the owners of automobiles at home and abroad, and therefore oppose the expenditure of public funds for purposes of this kind.

They are partly correct when they take the position that there is a demand for good roads coming from sources where automobiles are owned. Of course when this mode of transportation takes hold of the country the people who attempt to travel across the country in the country the people who attempt to travel across the country in the country the people who attempt to travel across the country in the country.

For a half a century or more this section of the state has suffered beyond measure from the fact that an element well meaning at that time did not only themselves but generations to follow them a great injury by driving the right of way of the Central of Georgia Railroad unjustly down the Ogeechee river swamp from Wadley to Savannah.

Now we have an opportunity to get through this county what will be worth thousands of dollars—the road from Savannah to Augusta and Atlanta. If we get this there will be a continuation of the road through this county, they will see what we have, and a stream of people coming through, they will see what we have, and a stream of people coming through, they will see what we have.

Bulloch county already has most of this road built, and there is not an inch of it that is not a public necessity to our home people. The editor of this paper owns no automobile, and it is very doubtful whether he ever does or not. He travels the public roads of this county less than any man in it, he owns no teams or carriages, when he goes he sticks his number tens under a seat on a railroad train, when he does not do this he stays at home and beats down the grass and weeds off the surface of our side walks.

Just think of it, when a member of your family is taken violently ill, you won't have to wait till he or she is dead before the arrival of a physician or other assistance; when an assassin attacks your home as he did the Hodges family, your wife can step to the phone and call the next door neighbor, and tell him your troubles; the town can be communicated with and an automobile with the sheriff can come from town before the job can be finished and house set fire like it was in the case mentioned.

General Cuss Out

On Tuesday night the residents in that section of the city adjoining the bowling alley had the pleasure of listening to a first class cussing spree where a fine sprinkling of obscene language entwined with the profanity, rolled through the atmosphere for some little time.

The bowling alley is an excellent little harmless amusement, one against which no real complaint could be made provided it was patronized by a class of people who would behave themselves and have some regard for the feelings of ladies living in the community.

Any place that permits of promiscuous gathering of people is embraced by this class and they will always gather, whether it's a near beer saloon, pool room, skating rink or bowling alley, they all look alike to the "Gentlemen of the cloth."

A BRILLIANT RESCUE. How Bert R. Leen, of Cheno, Wash., was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cough" he writes, "brought on lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." For lung trouble, bronchitis, coughs and colds, asthma, croup and whooping cough it's supreme. 50c. and $1. Total bottle free. Guaranteed by W. H. Ellis Co.

Hogs Dying in Brooklet. In the last two days there has been 25 head of hogs hauled off from here, some of them weighing 150 pounds. Ten head were hauled off this morning and more is expected to die; they seem not to have any disease at all unless it is from dry weather.

SAMS SPROUTS SET OF WINGS AND SOARS FAR ABOVE HIS TROUBLES

Young Insurance Solicitor "Flim-Flams" a Good Many of Bulloch County Citizens Then Skips.

L. R. Sams, State Agent of the New South Insurance Co., with headquarters in Atlanta flew away from his troubles which were gathering around his head and rolling across his otherwise peaceful breast on Sunday last.

Young Sams has been operating around here for the past few weeks selling a rather attractive insurance contract, at least it seemed to be attractive when the contracts were being made, but the salt had lost much of its savor it seems when the policies arrived.

A large number of customers and subscribers contracted cold in their feet and inasmuch as the policy had no clause allowing benefits for cold feet they began to side track somewhat. Matters grew worse and worse and finally the matter got into the courts an account of which appeared in these columns last week.
