A Suicidal Policy.

Just as a person may commit suicide by the slow method of inaction and starvation so may a town do the same. There are cases on record of people so indolent and averse to action that it finally led to their death. And the remnants and memories of once promising towns shows that the same cause had the same effect upon them.

Another town in Georgia seems bent upon going this way. Adel is a town in Berrien county. It is located on the G. S. & F. road, and was incorporated as a town in 1900. Advancingly situated as a distributing point the new town quickly grew, so that now it has a newspaper and all the usual accessories of a growing little town. But Adel doesn't desire to grow more. At least this must be inferred from an ordinance recently passed by its town council, which forbids merchants from advertising cut-price sales.

Such a law could be passed only at the instigation of some man opposed to this business method and who had sufficient influence to lead the town council in his way of thinking. This man must be a merchant who is averse to action. Wide awake competitors were drawing away his customers by the modern business methods they adopted, and instead of getting a handle on himself to hold his own in a fair and open contest, he used the influence he possessed, whether that consisted of political pull or persuasive eloquence, to secure the passage of a law forbidding the employment of modern, aggressive business methods, and an ordinance was passed to prevent merchants from advertising cut-price sales.

What will be the consequence if this folly is persisted in?

There will be no cut-price sales in that town—unless such sales are advertised and by this means result in large sales being made this would be a losing game which no one would undertake.

But the merchants in other towns more progressive will put on and advertise such sales. The consequence would be that as many people of Adel as could do so would go to these other towns to trade, for people will always buy where they get the most value for their money.

Such merchants of Adel as could get away would move as soon as possible. No merchant will voluntarily remain in a place where the law forbids him to employ whatever legitimate methods he may deem best to extend his business.

And with the loss of her progressive business men the town would begin to die. Already its newspaper, the News, has served notice that without this cut price sales patronage it cannot live and will be compelled to suspend. The same will befall other businesses. It marks the beginning of the end.

Competition is the life of trade. The keener competition, the more life there will be, the faster the growth and the better the business. It is old fogies who object to cut price sales, and advertising strenuous competition. And where they hold sway dullness, decay and final death is the sure result.

LIVE 100,000 YEARS AGO.

Scientists have discovered in a cave in Switzerland bones of men who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was in constant danger from wild beasts. Today the danger, as shown by A. W. Brown, of Alexander, Me., is largely from deadly disease. "If it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, which cured me, I could not have lived," he writes, "suffering as I did from a severe lung trouble and stubborn cough." To cure sore lungs, colds, obstinate coughs, and prevent pneumonia, it's the best medicine on earth. 50c and $1. Guaranteed by W. H. Ellis Co. Trial bottle free.

Death of Mrs. Hendricks.

After a long and suffering illness Mrs. Bruce Hendricks died Thursday evening at six o'clock in the sanitarium at this place. Rheumatism is said to have been the immediate cause of her death. Mrs. Hendricks was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Parrish of this county and was well and favorably known to a large circle, all of whom will learn with regret of her untimely death, she being only about thirty-four years of age. Besides the husband she leaves two small children and a large number of friends and relatives to mourn her loss. The interment was made in the cemetery at Upper Lotts Creek church yesterday.

SEES MOTHER GROW YOUNG.

"It would be hard to overstate the wonderful change in my mother since she began to use Electric Bitters," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick of Danforth, Me. "Although past 70 she seems really to be growing young again. She suffered untold misery from dyspepsia for twenty years. At last she could neither eat, drink nor sleep. Doctors gave her up and all remedies failed till Electric Bitters worked such wonders for her health." A falling tire nerve no larger than a siken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or falling stomach, heart or kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt, clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. NO CHANCE FOR NEAR BEER BILL MAY NEVER SEE THE LIGHT.

IF IT SHOULD PASS BOTH HOUSES WOULD BE VETOED BY GOV. JOSEPH M. BROWN.

Atlanta, July 24.—Two facts developed today in the prohibition fight in the state legislature. The first is that Gov. Brown will veto the Alexander near beer bill as soon as it reaches him, should it pass both houses. The second is that the governor, by an ante-election pledge, is bound not to call a special session of the assembly, even if the prohibitionists desire one.

That the governor will veto the measure is attested by his closest friends. When asked about it, he replied:

"When the bill reaches me, if ever does, I will announce my decision then, but not until then."

Before he was elected the prohibitionists visited Gov. Brown and made him sign a pledge that he would "resist, with the veto power, if necessary, any attempt to repeal or change by amendment or otherwise, the present prohibition law." At that time the drys did not anticipate the necessity of any change. Gov. Brown's friends, however, say that the executive believes the pledge he gave is binding.

That the governor would not call a special session of the assembly, even for the drys, is believed from a pledge he made before election. He then declared that when prohibition was an issue the people had right to know it at the time, plans were being elected as it might change their votes. On this ground, he declared, he would oppose any liquor legislation during his term of office, because the liquor question was not an issue when the present legislators were elected.

The Alexander bill was read a second time in the house this morning with a score of other bills. The assembly met at 9 a. m., but adjourned to 10 a. m. and was in session only a few minutes.

During the time, however, the drys, without the knowledge of the wets, had the measure read by title for the second time. The bill must now await its regular turn on the calendar for its third reading and final passage. There are several hundred bills ahead of it and the session has

COTTON PRICES SURE TO BE HIGH.

Says Pres. Harvey Jordan. Reports All Show Worst of Conditions.

Atlanta, Ga., July 24.—The following official bulletin is being mailed out today by President Harvey Jordan of the Southern Cotton Association:

"The present outlook for any thing like a normal production of cotton for the season of 1900-1901 is worse than any year since 1903. Reports which have come to me from all parts of the cotton belt from reliable sources and the result of personal observation during the last thirty days, indicate a very serious condition of the cotton crop, especially in the territory of the Southwestern states. The long and as yet unbroken drought in Texas, accompanied by unprecedented hot weather, covering the largest producing counties of the state, make it impossible for the crop there to recover normal conditions, even under the most favorable weather hereafter. The same conditions have largely prevailed in Mississippi and Louisiana. In every state, except Texas, there has been a voluntary decrease in the cotton acreage by the farmers this year.

"In all the states east of the Mississippi the fields are generally grassy and many thousands of acres have been abandoned and the field planted to corn and peas. Crab grass has sapped the vitality of the cotton plants and absorbed to a great extent the commercial fertilizers. Black root and boll worm in the Eastern states and boll weevil in the Southwest are contributing to make the situation all the more critical. There is not a sufficient supply of old cotton in the South today to last Southern mills until Oct. 1. I anticipate that the forthcoming August condition report by the Bureau of Cotton Statistics, to be issued on August 2, will reflect the deterioration of the crop in July by several points under the very low June condition report.

"In most sections of the belt the cotton plant is small and grassy, and in other sections full of sap and weeds. These conditions forecast a small yield compared to that of one year ago. The failure of the peach crop along forecasts a shortage in the production of the cotton crop, such as is the case this year. With consumption assuming enormous proportion and the production of the cotton crop indicating an unusual shortage, it is impossible at this time to predict with any degree of accuracy where the maximum price of spot cotton will reach. That we are now entering upon an era of very high price for the coming season there is scarcely any question of doubt, and the slower spot cotton is marketed at the opening of the season the easier it will be to maintain high prices."

E. M. ANDERSON HAS A LIVELY CHASE

After Running Negro to Cover Gives Him His Just Deserts.

A lively and exciting race was witnessed between Mr. E. M. Anderson and a fleet-footed negro boy about twelve years of age Saturday afternoon, in which the negro proved too fast for Mr. Anderson, and it was not until Mr. Anderson was given assistance by the boy's father that the boy was caught.

The trouble was brought about by the negro boy knocking the little son of Mr. Anderson, Lovell, down and then kicking him, it is said. The occurrence took place in front of Mr. Anderson's residence on South Main street in view of Mrs. Anderson. It is said the negro also pushed the little fellow against the fence, bruising him in several places. Word was sent to Mr. Anderson at the store and he hurried to the scene. The negro had taken to his heels, but upon learning his identity Mr. Anderson went to the home of Calvin Moring, a porter at the Jaekel hotel, and father of the boy.

"When Mr. Anderson arrived at the house he was informed by the mother of the boy that the child was her son and she did not intend that he should be whipped. The little negro was in the house and the mother slammed the door. Mr. Anderson kicked in the front door and entered the house. By this time the boy had run out on the back piazza. The mother then slammed the back door and threw herself against it, and it is said Mr. Anderson shoved her out of the way and in a similar manner of entering the front of the house he gained his exit. The boy was then leaving the yard and it was then the race began. Mr. Anderson "lit" out after him, the boy going in the direction of the Jaekel hotel where his father worked. Just before reaching that place the pursuer was just in the act of grabbing the boy when he fell down. It is useless to say that added fuel to the fire, and Mr. Anderson states that it would have resulted worse than it did had he caught the boy at that particular time. He stated that it seemed to him that the harder he tried to "pick himself up" the more difficult it was. When he did get up, however, the chase was renewed, although Mr. Anderson had lost considerable ground. The negro entered the kitchen of the hotel with Mr. Anderson right behind him. On through the hotel dining room, the lobby and out of the front door they went, the boy turning down between the hotel and Rountree house. Here he gained a little on his determined pursuer and again entered the hotel kitchen door. Here he lost Mr. Anderson by dodging and going up stairs.

Mr. C. R. Baggot, manager of the hotel, then came to Mr. Anderson and told him that if the boy was in there he would have him, and with the assistance of Calvin Moring, father of the boy, he was brought out. Naturally the father wanted to know what his son had done and when the incident was related to him he volunteered to take the boy home and let Mr. Anderson whip him. His just deserts were in the nature of thirty lashes with a new buggy whip applied by Mr. Anderson, which will in all probability teach the young negro a good and lasting lesson.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR NEW BUILDING.
Work to Begin at Once on The Automobile Garage.
Work on the new brick building to be erected by the Bank of Statesboro on the lot east of the court house square will be commenced in all probability next Monday morning. The contractors announced yesterday that as soon as the material could get here they would start on the building. The contract was awarded to Rogers and Hendricks for $1,245. Bids on the work were opened yesterday morning at the Bank of Statesboro and the following are the bids of the various contractors of the city: Rogers and Hendricks, $1,245; A. J. Franklin, $1,250; C. Alderman, $1,273; L. R. Blackburn, $1,533.

Mr. Rogers stated to a News reporter that he expects to have the building ready for occupancy in about four weeks. The building will be 40 by 60 feet and will be used as an automobile garage by the Averitt Automobile Company. That the automobile garage will fill a need in Statesboro there is no doubt. Tourists have often come to Statesboro and had considerable difficulty in getting gasoline and other supplies. With the new enterprise located here it will be different. Should a machine break and have to have repairs the tourists can be accommodated at this place, and this fact alone will doubtless be a drawing card for hundreds of automobilists to come to our city. The new building will add much to the appearance of city and the automobile garage will be a great convenience to that class. There are many other improvements being made in both the residence and business sections of the city. Statesboro is surely and steadily growing in not only size but in the beauty of its residence and business sections.

MEETING OF THE GEORGIA WEEKLY PRESS ASSOCIATION.

The twenty-third annual meeting of the Georgia Weekly Press Association convened at Douglas on July 18th. This was pronounced the "biggest week in Douglas' history." With a chauntain, an association composed of one hundred and twenty-five members present, and a teachers' institute, Douglas had her full "measure," heaped, pressed and running over, but she was a royal hostess and made everyone within her pine-fringed borders feel the recipient of special courtesies.

To our own host, Dr. W. C. Bryan, was given the credit of securing the association for Douglas and most gallantly did he sustain the responsibility.

Rev. T. Hubert delivered the invocation.

Judge E. P. Ward opened the first session in the absence of Mayor Quincy.

Dr. W. C. Bryan's address of welcome was well-received and a tribute to the city of Douglas. To quote A. Louise Babbage, "The sweetest of the Kentucky pines," the "only spirits he handed out were good ones" and every guest drank deep draughts of the nectar of his rich humor.

Mr. W. D. Upchurch followed with a glowing tribute that embraced Douglas, our hosts, the strangers within the gates and everybody, and the strong glow of a good time exhilarated the entire company. The program throughout was replete with a "feast of reason and a flow of soul." Every number was attractive and timely.

President Hal M. Stanley presided with ease and dignity.

Douglas ushered all editors into the chauntain complimentary.

A beautiful reception was given by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Tanner. The receiving line stood at the gate.

Punch was served on the lawn. Col. Alfred Herrington, Georgia's inimitable humorist, enhanced the charm of the occasion.

Miss Foller of Jefferson, and Miss McDonald of Douglas, recited. To Hon. B. T. Allen of Pearson, and Mr. W. A. Dodson of Atlanta, we were indebted for delightful watermelon festivals. We would especially thank our splendid host and hostess, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Bryan, for their many attentions.

Mr. A. S. Harby of the Gainesville News was elected president for the coming year; Mr. C. M. Methvin, of the Eastman Journal, vice-president; Mr. W. A. Shackelford, of the Oglethorpe Echo, secretary; Mr. Berry T. Mosely, of the Danville Monitor, treasurer.

Americus will entertain us in 1910.

An interesting inspection of Douglas' splendidly equipped school buildings followed the adjournment.

The Georgia & Florida railroad conveyed the party to Hahurst, where the Southern provided private coaches for the trip to Atlanta. McIlac was out en masse, headed by a brass band and armed with Georgia watermelons, which were lavished upon the members of the press. Jackson, too, did his part and brought melons—big melons—to refresh the crowd.

The reception tendered by Gov. and Mrs. J. M. Brown was in the Journal. It brought together many congenial spirits and made the editors feel "I am in my father's house." They felt that he was their governor and henceforth would be in close touch and feeling. Mrs. Brown was gracious and charming. Fair flowers, pretty young girls and fruit punch made a refreshing combination.

The trip to Clarksville was pleasant. Baseball, drives and receptions made the hours pass on "airy dream wings."

The receptions by Mr. Florence Minis of Savannah, and Mr. Walter R. Ashery were exceptionally beautiful. Their elegant homes were handsomely adapted for entertaining. Both would be a credit to any city.

Dr. W. C. Bryan and family met the party at Hollywood and carried them across the mountains to Camp Yonah. Here Dr. Bryan has the paramount work of the Georgia medical profession and he is the first in all the state to begin a crusade against tuberculosis. He has three hundred acres in this elevated country and has built individual cottages with fresh air exposure. If there be a boon for stricken ones, it is in this region where the mountain breezes blow and where the skill of one who has made a lifetime study is being given with all his heart and soul and mind and strength. Dr. Bryan's home is a spacious building with a broad hall where sweeps the air from Yonah's majestic heights.

Naturists and apples made a vivid bit of color nestling amid the plummy ferns. Mrs. Bryant was assisted by Mrs. Rudicel of Cornelia.

After a stroll about the mountain paths a generous barbecue was served in which the neighbors participated. Col. Alfred Herrington, in an after dinner speech, paid glowing tribute to Dr. Bryan's wonderful efforts and hard earned success. Col. Herrington's genial humor and chivalrous attentions to the ladies made the trip one ever to be remembered.

As the guests of Messrs John Ellis and Callaway we were invited to cast lots for a prospective town to be built on the Southern railway, which was to be the editors' summer retreat and to be named in honor of Frank L. Staunton, with a high building to perpetuate the name of our president, H. M. Stanley.

Tallahul Falls' picturesque beauties were next enjoyed.

The closing session of the convention was held at the Tallahul Lodge Pavilion.

Concluding the unfinished business, resolutions were proposed by Mr. C. D. Rountree of Graymont, and presented by Mrs. Lynda Lee Bryan of Talbotton.

Mrs. Lynda Lee Bryant, Mr. W. Trox Bankston, of West Point, and Mr. J. J. Powell, of Cuthbert, were appointed to select a loving cup for the retiring president Hon. H. M. Stanley.

The next point of interest was Franklin, N. C. The scenery throughout the trip from Tallahul and Franklin is characterized by such grandeur and scenic charm it is indescribable. We dined at the Blue Ridge hotel at Clayton and continued our journey to Franklin, a gem of a city overlooking wooded hills and grassy. At eventide the press wandered back to the Gate City and bade farewell, a long farewell, to the friends, both new and old, vowing eternal constancy and a happy return in 1910, God willing, at Americus.

Land For Sale.

1500 acres of the best rolling pebble land in Appling county, only four miles from the railroad. This land is excellent for growing Sea Island cotton and all other crops, and it has a great deal of sawmill and crosstie timber on it. We would prefer selling in a body to a number of farmers who will divide it up and clear it for farming after using the timber, and will sell for a part cash and allow good time on the balance for interest. Write to the owners if you mean business, as we have a great many other tracts of land in Appling and Wayne counties that might be just to suit you. Ben Milkin & Son, Jesup, Ga.

Jenkins Wants Good Roads.

Mr. F. C. Wallis, the congenial traveling man out of Savannah, one who is well and favorably known to probably every citizen of Statesboro, spent a few days in our midst the latter part of the week. While here Mr. Wallis called on the News. He is a man that travels over this section a great deal and, naturally, is a good roads enthusiast. This being true it was but a short time before good roads was the topic of conversation.

"Bulloch county has magnificent roads," said Mr. Wallis, "and it is a pleasure to travel over them."

The roads in our sister counties were then brought up and Mr. Wallis said:

"Jenkins county is also making wonderful strides in road building and I believe in three months the roads of that county will be in perfect order. They now have a force of forty-eight convicts at work and the roads are being put in excellent condition with remarkable rapidity."

Why the Newspaper?

If a member of your family did void you print the resolutions on a billboard!

If your wife entertained would you send an account of it to the theatre man?

If you were going to enlarge your business would you advertise it in a hotel register?

If you were going to have a wedding in your family would you get out a handbill?

You would send such items to a newspaper, wouldn't you?

Then why don't you put your advertisements in a newspaper? Every man who uses a billboard is adding to nature-faking.

Every dollar spent in a theatre program, in a register, in a dictionary or in a billboard is a legitimate dollar taken away from the newspaper of your town.

The newspaper built your town. Why not help to build up the newspaper?

There is no better advertisement in the world for a town than a good newspaper. A newspaper is the barometer of the town's industries. Show us a good newspaper full of advertising, and we will show you a town full of live merchants.

Billboards are an eye-sore; handbills are a nuisance; theatre programs are worthless; hotel registers, from an advertising standpoint, are ridiculous.

Newspapers are town builders, town advertisers, fortune makers, news disseminators, sermon deliverers, prosperity forecasters.

They are a necessity; not a luxury. They must be maintained. Without them we would retrograde to the medieval days.

Don't patronize them from a charitable standpoint. Patronize them because they deliver their goods—that is, if they are the right kind.

Out out the foolishness, and work for the upbuilding of your town and the state by upbuilding your newspaper.

Has Gone to Rest.

All that was mortal of Mrs. Isabelle McCormick was brought to this city Tuesday morning from Lake Flirt, where she died Monday morning about ten o'clock. The remains were interred in this city, the funeral taking place from the undertaking parlors of the C. F. Roberts Co. and were conducted by Rev. E. K. Shultz, pastor of the Baptist church. The weather was so bad and so few knew of the death of the lady and consequently only the immediate relatives and a few friends were present.

Last Saturday morning Mrs. McCormick was stricken down with a congestive chill, followed by a high fever, and from that time on she grew gradually worse until the end came Monday morning. She was born at Zoar, Ga., February 10, 1878. For the past several years she has resided in this state, at Bonifay. Some ten years ago she was married to Mr. D. G. McCormick, at Savannah, Ga., where the family was residing. Two girls and two boys, all of whom are now living.

Deceased was a member of the Missionary Baptist church and was a Christian woman, delighting in the work for the Master and doing good for others. She has always been an active woman and by her loving ways has drawn about her a large circle of friends wherever she is known. She came to this county in March of this year, and settled with her husband and children on Lake Flirt, some five miles above Lakeville, where the family lived at the time of her death.

The remains were brought to this city Tuesday morning and with appropriate ceremony were laid to rest in the city cemetery. Those who accompanied the remains to this city were the grief-stricken husband and children; Mrs. E. Brown and daughter, Verla, mother and sister of the deceased, and C. S. McCormick, brother of the husband.

To the bereaved husband and children and those others who mourn we join the many friends in extending condolence in their hour of trial.

A Pretty Automobile.

A party composed of Messrs. W. H. Blitch, O. W. Horn, Homer C. Parker, George Groover and D. P. Averitt, Jr., reached Statesboro Saturday from Atlanta in the new and handsome automobile purchased by Mr. Blitch. The party left Atlanta Friday morning, making stops at Jonesboro, Griffin, Barnesville, Forsyth, Macon, Milledgeville, Sandersville and Millen Friday night was spent in Milledgeville, and leaving there early Saturday morning the party reached here during the day. Each one of the party report an enjoyable trip.

Mr. Blitch was out with his new machine Sunday. It is probably the prettiest automobile in Statesboro, and as the Sunday afternoon party toured the streets of the city and country roads the handsome car attracted no little admiration.

Peach Profit a Half Million

On Less Than 2,000 Cars.

Atlanta, July 24.—Over half a million profits directly due to improved methods of marketing were made off the Georgia peach crop this year, according to figures published tonight. This year for the first time Georgia growers organized into a mutual benefit exchange modeled on the lines of California Fruit Shippers' Association. The result was that a crop of nearly 2,000 carloads of peaches this year brought $1,000,000 or about the same price which a crop of 6,000 carloads brought last year. The price this year went as high as $2 per crate.

The importance of these figures for the South lies in the fact that not only the peach growers but the raisers of other great Southern fruit crops, particularly oranges, are organizing similar associations. In each case Southern associations have followed the California idea of "keeping the crop rolling" in freight cars and selling it as it moves by means of reliable agents of the association in the North.

EXPERIMENT STATION TO BE ESTABLISHED.

Congressman Edwards Introduces Bill for Location of Cotton Experiments Here.

If a bill introduced in the house of representatives by Congressman Edwards, representing this district, passes, Statesboro will have a cotton experimental station. Mr. Edwards, knowing that Bulloch is an important factor in the production of cotton, and realizing the necessity of such experiments, has asked congress to appropriate a large amount of money for this purpose as well as other purposes which a careful study of the means of the farmers of this county reaping much benefit, said he be successful in getting the bill through.

Since Mr. Edwards has been in congress he has been wide awake to the interest of his district, and has seized every opportunity that meant anything toward their betterment.

The bill provides for an appropriation of $20,000 and is to be used for the investigation and annihilation of cotton wilt or black root, anthracnose, root knot and other diseases of cotton, and for experimental purposes, and to develop varieties of cotton sufficient early in its growth to evade the cotton boll weevil, as well as varieties that will be resistant to other diseases.

While there is some black root reported in this county still there is little complaint so far, and should Mr. Edwards' bill meet with success this disease will be wiped out in its infancy.

The following is the bill as introduced by Mr. Edwards, which will be read with interest by the farmers of this and adjoining counties:

"Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the secretary of the department of agriculture is hereby directed and authorized to expend the sum of $20,000 in the state of Georgia in the investigation of cotton wilt diseases, with special reference to what is known as 'black root,' anthracnose, root knot, and other diseases of the cotton plant; and to conduct in said state experimental work looking to the developing of resistant and early growing of cotton to evade the cotton weevil, as well as the varieties of the cotton plant that will be productive of better yields of cotton and be resistant to the cotton wilt diseases, black root, root knot, anthracnose, and other injurious diseases of the cotton plant in that state, and to establish a cotton experimental station at Statesboro, Bulloch county, Ga., at which place is located the agricultural college for the first district of Georgia, at which to carry on investigations and experiments provided for herein, and for which purpose the sum of $20,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, the same to be available at any time after the passage of this act, until said work is completed."

Bulloch's Good Roads.

"Bulloch county has excellent roads," said J. P. Doyle and W. A. Smith Saturday morning as they stopped a short while in Statesboro. "With the exception of about five miles in the neighborhood of Blitchton," they continued, "you have as good roads as we have found on our trip so far."

They were informed by a News representative that Blitchton was not in Bulloch but Bryan county, and to this one of the gentlemen said: "Well, if that is the case, you can put us down for boosting Bulloch's roads and knocking Bryan's."

As I am informed," he continued, "Bryan county has decided to enter the field of progressiveness and there is now a move on foot to improve the public highways of that county."

Mr. Smith stated that there was one stretch almost impossible for a wagon or buggy to travel over.

The two gentlemen were on their way from Savannah to Augusta and were riding motorcycles.

A failing tiny nerve, no larger than a silver thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing stomach, heart or kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt, clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. ## ANDERSON CALLS BROUGHTON LIAR

LIVELY SCENE IN LEGISLATURE.

Chatham Representative Replies to Charges by the Atlanta Preacher.

Atlanta, July 27.—Answering an attack made in a sermon on Sunday night by Rev. Dr. Len G. Broughton, Representative J. Randolph Anderson, of Chatham county, on the floor of the Georgia house applied the epithet "liar" to the preacher, and embellished it with strengthening adjectives. In his speech, Mr. Anderson read extracts from Atlanta papers, quoting Dr. Broughton. With these as his text he denied the charges made by the preacher, characterizing him as a "liar" and a "scandalous monger."

Mr. Anderson said: "Mr. Speaker, I desire to rise to a question of personal privilege. My attention has been called to certain newspaper articles in yesterday's papers, purporting to quote statements made in regard to myself by the Rev. Len G. Broughton in a sermon delivered by him Sunday night at the Baptist tabernacle.

"These newspaper articles, Mr. Speaker, all say or intimate that Mr. Broughton made many other statements and charges against me along the same lines as those quoted. Now, Mr. Speaker, if he is correctly quoted with even substantial correctness in these articles, I desire to say in my place on the floor of the house that the Rev. Len G. Broughton is a wilful, reckless, malignant and malicious liar and a scandal monger."

I stated to the house the other day when this new prohibition fight started that I was forced to fight this bill because my constituency demanded it, and as their representative on the floor of this house I could not do otherwise. I also stated that I knew my position and motives would be assailed and misconstrued, and that I would probably be vilified and abused, but I did not expect that any minister of the gospel would be guilty of any such depravity and malignity of heart as to wilfully fabricate lies about me.

"Mr. Broughton charges that I have, since prohibition went into effect, bought up one or more of the Savannah breweries and have become a manufacturer of near beer and have grown enormously rich out of it. All of that is a wilful deliberate and reckless lie. In the first place none of the Savannah breweries have been sold since prohibition was adopted, and no purchaser could have been found if they had tried to sell them. In the second place I have not bought a single dollar's worth of interest in any brewery since prohibition went into effect in Georgia, nor have I done so at any time in the past twelve years.

"It will also doubtless be a great pleasure to the reverend gentleman to know that he is lying again when he said that the value of the stock of any of the Savannah breweries went up because of the near beer business. The truth is that the value of these stocks have fallen off tremendously in the past two years and are still falling off because people are afraid to buy them.

"Mr. Broughton charges that I am working for my personal interests and not for those of the People of Georgia. That is another

E. T. WHITE DIES BY THE ROADSIDE

A VICTIM OF HEART FAILURE.

Coroner Notified and Inquest Was Held Tuesday Afternoon.

E. T. White, a young and prosperous farmer living in the Equal neighborhood, was found dead near the roadside about a mile from his home Tuesday morning at sunrise. Near the corpse was the mule and buggy belonging to the dead man.

Mr. White was in Statesboro Monday and in the afternoon just before leaving, made some purchases. He did not leave until nearly dark, and as he was found within a mile of his home, which is about twelve miles from Statesboro, it is supposed that he got out of his buggy shortly after nine o'clock, this being about the time it takes to go that distance. Just what time he died and how much suffering he went through is not known.

As soon as his body was discovered a telephone message was sent to Statesboro requesting the services of the coroner, as it was not known whether or not foul play had been dealt Mr. White. Coroner Boyd was notified and he went to the scene Tuesday morning and in the afternoon after succeeding in getting a jury, the inquest was held. The jury was composed of Messrs. Hawkins, Futch, Proctor, Denmark, Martin and Futch. As there were no signs of violence it was necessary for Coroner Boyd to secure the services of a physician and Dr. R. L. Cone was called, and after a thorough investigation the jury returned their verdict, which was to the effect that the deceased came to his death by heart failure, caused probably by acute indigestion.

The deceased was well known in Statesboro. He was a son of the late Mike White, and brother to J. P. White, of Groveland, and W. T. White of Statesboro R. F. D. number 2. He was a frequent visitor to Statesboro and did all of his trading here.

The funeral was held yesterday in the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives. He was married and leaves a widow, whose maiden name was Davis.

No New Counties.

A telegram received in the city yesterday morning from Representative Anderson announced that all new county movements had been killed for this time.

This was welcome news to all good citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch county. Statesboro had prepared to fight the measure, and a delegation of leading citizens had prepared to go to Atlanta and appear before the committee. The people of Statesboro and Bulloch county are opposed to having any of their territory sliced, and whenever a movement to this end is started there are always men here who are willing to spend time and money in defence of it. The proposition this time was to establish a new county with Stillmore as the capital, taking a strip of Bulloch's territory reaching this side of Metter. The movement has been killed, however, and the fight ended for the present.

A widow has learned better than to trust a man, but she has also learned how to bear disappointment.

WOMEN MUST NOT RIDE ASTRIDE, SAYS WRIGHT.

Bill Introduced Making This a Misdemeanor in Georgia.

Atlanta, July 27.—Girls more than twelve years of age who ride horseback astride in the state of Georgia will in future be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine if the bill introduced in the house Monday by Mr. Wright of Stewart, is enacted into law.

The bill provides that no girl over the age mentioned shall be permitted to ride astride upon the highway or in any other public place upon any horse, mule or ass or other animal. It does not prohibit female circus riders from riding astride in any inclosed show ground or under a circus tent.

Any violation of the proposed law involves a penalty of a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100.

Mr. Wright, who is a physician, states that his bill is offered in all seriousness and he is convinced that riding horseback astride is injurious to the health of young women.

D. C. Finch Out of Jail.

After serving twenty days in the county jail, his three months sentence having been commuted to that time, D. C. Finch, who was convicted of selling and fined $1,000 in addition to the jail sentence, was released from jail last Tuesday afternoon. A petition had been circulated asking the governor to commute the sentence and it was reduced from three months to twenty days.

Thaw Shows Hatred for District Attorney.

White Plains, N. Y., July 26.—Harry K. Thaw and District Attorney Jerome glared at each other today in the court room here where Thaw is fighting desperately for his freedom and Jerome is combating with all the force at his command to keep the slayer of Stanford White in the asylum for the insane at Matteawan.

Each had to turn partially in his chair to see the other. From the eyes of Thaw darted hatred and defiance, while from those of Jerome there came that tantalizing, half sarcastic, half pitying gaze that seemed to say, "Poor boy, I know you are crazy and I am going to prove it."

Then both smiled, shook hands and said they were glad to see each other. They occupied seats side by side and Thaw kept constantly turning to watch the effect of argument by his counsel.

Thaw's general demeanor, after seeing Jerome, clearly contradicted his declaration that he had no fear of his former prosecutor. There was no doubt that he dreaded the ordeal of the Jerome inquisition.

His mother, Mrs. William Thaw, came to share the deal felt by her son. She frequently spoke to him as if to draw his attention from the district attorney. The gray-haired old mother honestly believes that Jerome is persecuting her son.

Indications point to the fact that the tendency now is to let the whole matter drop.

Whether the discovery that its probable effect would be to outlaw certain soda water syrups, had anything to do with the manifestations of quiescence is a subject of interesting speculation.

At any rate it begins to look as if the prohibition fight of 1909 is about over.

NEW PROH. BILL TO DIE NATURALLY.

Would Hit Soft Drinks and is Expected to Be Heard From No More.

Atlanta, July 26.—There was not a reference made to the new prohibition bill in the house of representatives today. On that subject all was as quiet as a May morning. It looks as if it were going to be permitted to die a quiet death.

The interesting discovery has been made that the effect of the enactment of Representative Cooper Alexander's new prohibition measure would be to outlaw not only so-called near beer, but all many of the proprietary soda fountain syrups in which alcohol in minute quantities are used as a preservative ingredient, including cocoa cola.

Representative Alexander's bill proposes to outlaw every drink containing alcohol in any degree whatever. Information as to the use of alcohol as a preservative in soda fountain syrups, therefore had an interesting bearing on the situation. Representative Alexander was as docile as a lamb during the entire session, and did not once attempt to have his new prohibition measure taken up.

The indications point to the fact that the tendency now is to let the whole matter drop. Whether the discovery that its probable effect would be to outlaw certain soda water syrups, had anything to do with the manifestations of quiescence is a subject of interesting speculation.

At any rate it begins to look as if the prohibition fight of 1909 is about over.
