Strikers Fight With Deputies.

Pittsburgh, July 26.—A large crowd of strike sympathizers attacked the print shop of the Pressed Steel Car company at McKees Rocks this morning with bricks and stones and broke almost all the windows in the shops. While this was going on another band was stopping street cars and making a rigid examination to see that no strike-breakers were being brought in. In addition a party is said to have landed in a skiff near the pumping station of the plant and when met by a squad of deputy sheriffs a battle followed. One of the invaders is said to have been shot. All signs of business stopped when the state constabulary began to parade the streets. The trouble started over the repeated rumors that the company would make an effort to smuggle strike-breakers into the plant this morning.

LIFE 100,000 YEARS AGO.

Scientists have discovered in a cave in Switzerland bones of men who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was in constant danger from wild beasts. Today the danger, as shown by A. W. Brown, of Alexander, Me., is largely from deadly disease. "If it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, which cured me, I could not have lived," he writes, "suffering as I did from a severe lung trouble and standing cough. To cure sore lungs, colds, obstinate coughs, and prevent pneumonia, it's the best medicine on earth, 50c and $1. Guaranteed by W. H. Ellis Co. Trial bottle free.

SENATE VOTES TO OUST M'LENDON AND HOUSE MAY FOLLOW SUIT.

By Vote of 23 to 18 Senate

Decides to Dismiss Railroad Commissioner.

Atlanta, 30.—By a vote of 23 to 18, the Georgia senate today voted to remove from office Chairman S. G. McLendon of the railroad commission.

The Burwell removal resolution received just a constitutional majority, 23 votes being required for its passage.

While in voting upon the question of removal the senate combined both of the charges preferred in the suspension message of former Gov. Smith and the evidence relating to the chairman's transactions in bonds of the Athens Street Railway Company, it was clearly apparent that had it not been for the bond deal the removal resolution would have failed to receive a majority vote.

Several senators in explaining their votes based their action principally upon the bond transactions and Senator Calloway of the Twenty-ninth, stated that he voted for removal on account of the bond transaction only, considering that the charges of former Gov. Smith were in no sense sustained.

Partisan lines were not closely drawn in the vote. At least two senators who supported Gov. Brown in the last campaign voted for the removal of the chairman of the railroad commission because of the bond transactions, while two others who were strong supporters of former Gov. Smith, Senators Langley and Matthews, were Chairman McLendon's most ardent champions on the floor of the senate. Outside of these and possibly one or two other instances, however, the Smith men voted against McLendon and the Brown men voted for his retention in office.

The fate of Mr. McLendon now depends on the house of representatives, which will take up the question by a special order immediately following its disposition of the general appropriations bill next week.

According to reports at the capitol the house stands anywhere from 2 to 4 against the suspended commissioner, and the general belief is expressed that it will take action similar to that of the senate. This would appear to mean that McLendon has no hope of retention of his office so far as the general assembly is concerned, and that if he follows the matter any further it must be in the courts.

People with chronic bronchitis, asthma and lung trouble, will find great relief and comfort in Foley's Honey and Tar, and can avoid suffering by commencing to take it at once. W. H. Ellis & Co.

School May Get $10,000.
A bill has been reported favorably by the Appropriation Committee of the House giving each Agricultural School a sufficient amount when added to the fertilizer tax to bring their appropriation up to $10,000 a year. With this amount the Agricultural School at this place can be made one of the strong institutions of the State. It is believed that the bill will pass, and if it does then it can be safely stated that the experimental stages of the Agricultural Schools will have been passed.

Heavy Taxes ON NEAR BEER.
VOTED BY GEORGIA HOUSE.

For the Manufacturer Tax is $1,000, for Retailers $500.

Atlanta, July 30.—The Georgia House, after spending practically all of today on the new prohibition bill of Representative Hooper Alexander of DeKalb offered as a substitute for section 7 of the general tax act, finally adopted it by a vote of 86 to 78.

The Ways and Means Committee has moved to strike out all of section 7 from the bill and to deal with near beer in a separate session. The effect of the adoption of such a motion would be to kill the Alexander prohibition amendment but to bring up the fight again when the special bill comes before the House.

The Alexander amendment adopted today puts a tax of $1,000 on all manufacturers and wholesale dealers in near beer and $500 on all retailers. It covered seven typewritten pages, its provisions being as follows:

A license tax shall be paid quarterly in advance by every manufacturer, wholesaler, warehouseman and dealer in near beer and other imitation liquors. For manufacturers and warehousemen the tax is made $250 for each quarter. On retail dealers the license tax is made $125 for each quarter.

Application to take out a license and pay this tax must be made in writing to the ordinary of the court where the business is to be carried on and shall state which of three classes of business the applicant desires to engage in. The application must be signed, sworn and subscribed to by the applicant. Furthermore, he is required to give bond in the sum of $5,000 that he will not violate the terms of the prohibition law of Aug. 6, 1907. Applicant shall state that he has not in the preceding quarter violated the prohibition law nor sold any beverage prohibited by the law. He shall further agree that his place may be visited and inspected at any time by the sheriff or his deputy, with or without an order from the judge of the Superior Court, and that samples of the beverages sold may be taken for inspection and analysis to see that they are not prohibited beverages. Refusal to permit this will work a revocation of the license.

The Ordinary is authorized to refuse to grant any license, and it is provided that he shall in no case grant a license unless the same is consented to in writing by all the landowners adjoining the place for which the license is sought, and until notice has been published for two weeks in the newspaper in which the sheriff's sales appear. In case of the revocation of any license, no money shall be refunded. The fee of the Ordinary for issuing licenses is fixed at $2.50.

"The test of whether or not a beverage is made in imitation of beer or liquor shall not depend upon the quantity of alcohol it contains or whether or not it is intoxicating. If it is similar in composition, taste or appearance to liquor it shall be held to be an imitation, keeping in view the prohibition law. Every container of such liquor must have stamped upon it the name of the manufacturer and a correct chemical analysis of its contents.

Violation of this provision is made punishable as for a misdemeanor. If any licensee is convicted of violating the prohibition law he shall forfeit his license and be forever debarred from securing another, or for working for any person in the same business.

The violation of this provision is to be punished by the forfeiture of the employer's license.

The House first adopted by a vote of 71 to 56, an amendment by Mr. Boyd, of Spalding, exempting domestic wines from the operation of the law. He said he believed the people of his county wanted the housewives to be permitted to make wines and cordials from their own grapes.

An amendment by Hall, of Bibb, prohibiting near beer saloons outside of cities and towns, was adopted.

The vote on Mr. Boyd's amendment came as somewhat a surprise, and Mr. Alexander sought to have the House reconsider its action, but was ruled out of order. A number of members who announced themselves firm prohibitionists, who had always loyally supported every measure in the interest of prohibition, voted against the Alexander amendment, saying they were elected on a pledge to their people that they would not permit the prohibition law to be weakened or changed. They felt bound by this pledge to oppose the prohibition bill of Mr. Alexander.

"Just so certain as you tamper with this law, we anti-prohibitionists will have our inning," warned Mr. Ellis, of Bibb, who stated quite frankly that he had never been a prohibitionist.

As Mr. Alexander began speaking he placed on the speaker's desk two bottles of amber colored liquor, said to be Pabst blue ribbon beer bought in Georgia. During the morning practical jokers kept the beer well covered with ice.

One member wanted to know if it was not a violation of the prohibition law to bring beer into a public place. He was informed that the law prohibits such exhibits for the purpose of sale or to induce trade.

Mr. Alexander was practically the only speaker, and occupied an hour and a half. Other members took it out in explaining their votes. Among other things, Mr. Alexander said:

"I am not speaking to you as a prohibitionist, but as a citizen and urging upon you to adopt this substitute and stop the open, bold and insolent violation of the laws of this state.

"Last week I sent a person to one of the most orderly conducted places where this so-called near beer is sold and told him to buy me two bottles of Budweiser beer. This is what he brought me—two bottles of Pabst Blue Ribbon beer."

And Alexander drew from a box the bottles referred to and set them upon the clerk's desk.

"The man who sold the beer said he had the Budweiser, but refused to allow it to be taken from his place, saying it must be drunk on the premises."

Mr. Alexander called upon the men who passed the prohibition law in 1907 to rally to the support of his substitute.

"If this measure dies today," said he, "it will die in the house of its friends."

Mr. Alexander charged that the near beer saloons are being used as a cloak for the sale of wine, whiskey and other alcoholic drinks.

"Isn't that prohibited by the prohibition law?" asked Mr. Anderson.

"Yes, it is," replied Mr. Alexander.

Will Near Beer meet a near death depends on whether Hooper Alexander's bill to place $1000,00 tax on it or not.

The Georgia Legislature will soon adjourn then the State will settle down to its normal condition again.

The Good Roads movement is said to be giving a big impetus to the small county propositions. They figure that a small county can keep up a better system of roads than can a large one.

Simmons is Popular

With the Legislature

While it will be no surprise to those who know him yet it is a source of universal pride to our people to know that our representatives stand well among their associates in the Georgia legislature. Col. Anderson, being an old member, naturally has already established a reputation satisfactory to his friends.

Mr. R. Simmons being the new member interest naturally centers on "How is he coming up?"

The editor of the News spent two weeks in and around Atlanta and was afforded an opportunity to see how things were running, and our impression is that Mr. Simmons is one of the leaders of the lower house of the Georgia legislature. He is a level-headed business man, who has the reputation of making a success of every thing he touches and besides is a good mixer, being acquainted with all the members and holding their highest respect.

It was our pleasure to be present when Mr. Simmons returned from a two three days trip home and to Savannah, where he attended the convention of the Sea Island Cotton Growers. The morning of his return he was surrounded by a large number of his fellow members who expressed their pleasure on seeing him with them again. It was such a reception as is seldom accorded a member and one that is only given to those who are recognized as leaders in the legislative hall.

Prominent members of both the house and the senate spoke in the highest terms of "Simmons of Bulloch." He is as well known there as he is at home, his reputation seeming to have gone ahead of him.

Bulloch will have no reason to regret having sent Rafe Simmons to the legislature.

The McLendon Trial.

It was the privilege of the editor of this paper to be in Atlanta during the greater portion of the past two weeks and to be present and hear the debate in the Senate on the Gunt McLendon removal case. The News has had some very pronounced views on this matter, it has stated its position in no uncertain terms. It has had no sympathy with a man who will ride into office on the good graces of his friends and the moment they lose out desert them and go scampering after the band wagon. But there are two sides to this question.

From all we could hear and gather the removal of Mr. McLendon was based on political grounds, it being freely admitted everywhere that there was no legal grounds on which to dismiss him, it was simply a matter of upholding ex Governor Smith, who is at present regarded as a candidate for Governor again next year.

The precedent set up in this case seems to us to be a very dangerous one, the matter of one official elected by the people removing another official elected by the same people simply because he might differ with him on public questions is a dangerous one to say the least of it. It gives the Governor a power that should be taken away.

A man elected by the people should be held accountable to the power that elected him viz., the people themselves. Now we submit, if Gov. Smith had a right to kick out Gunt McLendon because he differed with him on the port rate question, why hasn't Gov. Brown the right to fire out Judge Hilyer and Murphy Candler members of the Commission who voted on the Smith side of the port rate question and antagonistic to the views held by Gov. Brown. If saunc is good for the goose it should also be good for the gander. Now if we were Governor Brown we would fire out Hilyer and Candler and have three nice soft places for our friends instead of one. But Gov. Brown won't do this, he has a keen sense of fair play, and recognizes the right of men to differ with him and their right to change their minds on public questions, questions over which the best men in the state differ. He also recognizes the fact that Candler and Hilyer took the oath of Railroad Commissioner and not himself, that they are responsible to the people who elected them and not to him. He perhaps believes that in a division of sentiment the best results will be obtained and all sides get fair play. It was not so with the late Governor, he pitched his campaign on the idea that he was going to do and not the Railroad Commission or the legislature.

The firing of Joe Brown was a loaded proposition and in our opinion the kicking of McLendon will rise up to give trouble to the men who have kicked him out without a fair trial.

But McLendon should have resigned when he changed front, then he would have retained the highest respect from everybody, men would have believed that his conversion was genuine, whereas now they question it inasmuch as it comes at a time when his crowd were going down and out.

The matter will be threshed out in the courts and the chances are McLendon will win, there it will be a cool case of law and fact, and no politics or general principles will prevail.

In any event we expect to hear a great deal more of the McLendon matter.

Substitute a Dangerous One.

The blanket substitute tacked on to all new county bills by the house committee and reported favorably by that committee, having for its object the killing of all new county propositions is, in our opinion, the most dangerous law that could befall the people of Bulloch county especially.

For some years the people of Metter have been calling for a new county, and at the last session taking advantage of Kinch Overstreet's soreness on Bulloch county for having failed to support him for congress they went up to Atlanta and with his assistance got a bill creating a new county at Metter reported favorably from the senate committee, the same being afterward killed on the floor of the senate after a hard fight and the expenditure of time and entangling of expenses in taking a large detour to Atlanta to oppose its passage.

Now our friends at Metter have settled in getting, as far as the house committee is concerned, what they failed in last year, and with out the assistance of a single member of the house or senate favoring them.

The bill referred to is a new county killer on every other proposition except the one at Metter. It provides the following qualifications for the creation of new counties:

First. They must have a population of twelve thousand people and leave that many in each of the new counties cut. This will kill the Groveland proposition because they cannot cut Bryan county and leave twelve thousand people in it. But it doesn't kill Metter; she can comply with this.

Second. A new county must have three hundred square miles of territory and leave a like amount in each of the old counties from which it is cut. This absolutely kills the Adrian proposition because they will have to cut from Johnson county, which has now only 278 square miles; therefore, three hundred cannot be left. But it doesn't kill Metter; she can comply with this also.

It provides further that two-thirds of the votes polled in an election held for that purpose is necessary. This kills the Stillmore proposition, because their line absorbs Metter and Metter territory, which will be able to knife them to the extent that they will fail to get the necessary two-thirds. But it doesn't kill Metter. The Metter line, unlike that of Stillmore, does not absorb Stillmore proper, dropping one mile below the town; therefore, they are not burdened with the big town vote that would surely vote to stop the two-thirds vote favorable to a new county with its county seat in a rural town. But this doesn't kill Metter.

Now the hope of the opponents of Metter who favor this law is that Metter cannot get the two-thirds of the territory embraced in their old survey. Now let us see how she would go about to do so. To start with she has a majority—had that at the last hearing—and added to this will be a number of men who are sore about their road not being worked or something of the sort.

Second. The men who have property to be enhanced in value at the proposed county seat would raise an immense campaign fund, which has always been a power in all elections everywhere.

Third. The men who were disposed to kick would be placated with promises of election to the various offices, etc., etc., etc., and they, in this way, would get two-thirds of the vote in a territory that would carry with it two hundred representative Bulloch county farmers who want to stay in Bulloch county.

In the event that they didn't win it would mean to bring on a fight, stir up strife between neighbors and no end of "chewing the rag" for time whose limit cannot be ascertained.

This bill simply means to set up the old Metter new county corpse and pump new life into it, that it may hang like a pall over the peace and tranquility of a people who are fast becoming reunited again. It makes the old skeleton stand up and look around and say, "Why have I slept so long?"

This bill was the product of a lobby that never saw the light of day until last Tuesday afternoon after the arrival in Atlanta of Judge Hawkins, the paid attorney of the Metter proposition. It was earnestly supported by the Metter contingent in Atlanta and by the Savannah crowd who believed that in time to come there is going to be a new county cut in this section and they preferred Metter to Stillmore, because Metter gets her valuable woods from Bulloch and Stillmore most of hers from Emanuel.

Why our representative, Mr. Anderson, could see his way to support this bill we are unable to say, but he did so, making a speech of half an hour in its support before the committee. He evidently believed it to be a sure killer for a new county deals including Metter, but the editor of the News, who was on hand, thought he saw dangers lurking in it as is enumerated above and so stated them to Mr. Anderson and other opponents of new counties. They failed to see it as we did and as we see it now and went on and supported it in good faith. They may be right and we may be nursing a delusion but we have expressed the situation as we see it, and in our opinion, if the people of Bulloch county don't want to be ridden with a new county fight they had better line up and fight this dangerous substitute on the floor of the house and everywhere else it shows its head. It is the trojan horse that means our dismemberment.

Roswell, N. M., July 26 1909.— Dr. Bob A. derson must have been in a trance or hypnotized when he started West and had not got from under the influence, when he reached Roswell, judging from the way he got things mixed in regards to us not being satisfied here, there not a one in the family except mother, that has any desire whatever to return to Georgia, papa said he wouldn't go back if Bo's would pay his way. he has a nice water melon farm and is making arrangements for another year, he has also taken up a claim of land consisting of a hundred and sixty acres, it takes 5 years to get in possession, so that don't sound as if he was dissatisfied. Dr. Rathburn, of Chicago, gave Doctor Bob a letter of introduction to Silver City, N. M., where the only dentist in town had died, and parties there had written Dr. Rathburn for a dentist. So Sunday morning the Doctor left for that place saying he would be back the last of the week in case he did not like the location, so I guess he was so sure he would no like it that he did not go by but started str ght for Georgia, where all the beauties of the golden West was lost in oblivion when he got a glimpse of home sweet home.

LASH DESERVED
BY CLIMAX BANKER
DECLARES REFEREE LANE.
In Blistering Rebuke He Scores A. D. Oliver.

Bainbridge, Ga., July 30.—At the adjourned hearing of the Oliver-Mize bankruptcy proceedings today, Sheriff Jones, of Aberdeen, Miss., identified President A. D. Oliver of the defunct Climax Bank and gave a full account of his alleged operation and escape from that state.
In a lengthy ruling which dealt severely with Oliver, Referee Lane ordered that his scheduled assets of $179,453.90 be turned over to the trustees at once. Oliver's attitude was termed by the court as "disobedient and contemptible."
The severe rebuke of the court was caused by the delay of Oliver in naming a date for a conference when to go over the alleged assets. "Adopting the usual course," says Judge Lane, "of obstinacy and contemptuous conduct which the bankrupt, Oliver, has pursued during the entire proceeding before the court, he fails to return the letter as requested or name a date which would suit his convenience for the conference suggested by him, but instead of courteously responding to the request made by the court in the communication he sent, he very skillfully has attempted to muddy the waters, declines to name a date for the conference and has referred in a few words to practically everything else which has transpired or may transpire in this case except naming a date for his proposed conference."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. SAVS THE STATE
IS GOING BROKE
Reid Says Georgia Will Owe
$860,000 By January
1, 1911.
Riddled with amendments until it resembled Julius Caesar's body, the tax bill came to its passage Monday afternoon in the house.
And like Mark Antony, standing beside Caesar's coffin, Mr. Reid, of Campbell, delivered a funeral oration over the mutilated remains of his ways and means committee report. It will long be remembered as a masterpiece of mournful eloquence.
The ways and means committee chairman, believing that the state of Georgia faced a serious financial dilemma and would have to choose between increased taxes, reduced appropriations or bankruptcy, had framed with his committee a bill providing for a material increase. The house amended the bill so as to kill practically all the proposed elevations and incorporated in the bill a near beer tax increase so heavy that Mr. Reid believed it prohibitive and calculated to reduce to a minimum the near-beer revenue.
Just before the amendment bill was passed Monday afternoon by a vote of 101 to 13 Mr. Reid was given the floor. He said, in part: "Throughout this fight, the house has shown me the kindest personal courtesy, and for that I am deeply grateful. As to what will result from the passage of the bill, the future must determine. To me it is a disappointment. I did not explain my vote of the near beer section, nor why I wanted to leave the wise act stand intact. I suppose I will be accused of aligning myself with the anti-prohibitionists, but I regard this bill purely as a revenue measure, and my vote was controlled by that view. When the near beer question was first brought before the Georgia legislature it was a question of revenue, and it is a question of revenue today. It was passed by a prohibition legislature and was signed by a prohibition governor. They were not anti-prohibitionists, and how can I today be justly accused of joining hands with the enemies of prohibition when I vote to retain that law?"
"But as head of the ways and means committee charged with the duty of raising money to support my state, I did not feel that it would be just and proper to inject into a revenue measure a prohibitive law, and when I vote to defeat such a project it was with the conviction that I was doing my conscientious duty toward my state."
"This bill will soon be out of our possession. I had hoped that this body would see fit to provide means for raising the extra money of which the state stands absolutely in need and which she could discharge the honest obligations she has contracted. That we have failed to do so is to me a bitter disappointment."
"Because we have killed the near beer question as a revenue-raising measure, and because we have failed to vote for necessary increases in taxation, the state of Georgia, it now appears, will be forced to face on January 1, 1911, deficit of $830,000, raising the state's total deficit from $530,000 to $860,000."
"To these, my repeatedly reiterated warnings, members of this house have seen fit to answer flip-flop, but another legislature pantly that Georgia is a rich state

Those Who Claimed to Be Witnesses Couldnt Give Definite Testimony.
Macon, Ga., August 1st, 1909.—The state was unable to make a case against officer Jesup yesterday in the justice court of J. H. Brown.

It will be remembered that on the night of the 20th of last month, the officer in question was forced to shoot a negro by the name of Eugene Stovall. The negro was drunk, and had been arrested. While being carried to the nearest call box he suddenly drew a razor and slashed twice at the officer who then shot him, inflicting very serious wounds. The negro died the next day in the city hospital.
At the sitting of the coroner's jury, officer Jesup was exonerated from killing the negro.
But later, urged on by various reasons, the mother of the negro, Eugene Stovall, took out a warrant in the court of Judge J. H. Brown, against the officer, charging him with manslaughter.
The case was set for yesterday and heard, but as there were no eye witnesses to the affair, and all the persons who claimed to be witnesses to the affair could not give anything definite or clear, the officer was completely exonerated.

City Court's Grind.
The August term of the city convened yesterday morning. The day was taken up with the criminal docket, and the following convictions were made:
Gus Gilchrist, cheating and swindling, twelve months in the gang.
Eli Edwards, carrying weapons to public worship, twelve months on the gang.
Javas Hall, wife beating, twelve months on the gang.
The criminal docket will occupy the greater part of today, after which civil business will be taken up for the balance of the week.

The world's record for cotton picking is held by Miss Margaret Montgomery, of Stillwater, Okla. In a four hour contest she picked 350 pounds, or 87 1-2 pounds an hour. She defeated crack cotton pickers from all parts of the cotton growing belt, averaging about five pounds an hour more than her nearest competitor. Miss Montgomery is the daughter of a wealthy cotton grower and she only picks for her own amusement.

SOUTH GEORGIA SHOWING
SLUMP IN TAX RETURNS.
No Explanation of the Falling Off.
From present indications south Georgia is going to show a slump in tax returns this year, with middle Georgia making steady gains a general proposition.
To date some 60 odd counties have made returns to the controller-general, and the heaviest losses are in south Georgia counties. Emanuel, Ware and others have shown a falling off. Lowndes is a notable exception with the fine increase of $561,950 over last year. So far DeKalb is the banner county among the smaller ones in the matter of increased property values, the county showing a gain of $54,945. Floyd comes forward with the big gain of $601,125, while Clarke's increase is $428,425. Bibb's gain is $1,450,555.
There is no explanation of the falling off in south Georgia, other than that section was hit harder by the panic than any other part of the state, as the lumber interests are very large there. The total gains to date over last year the total gains to date over last year are nearly $5,000,000, with big counties like Fulton, Chatham, Muscogee, Richmond and others not returned yet.
