This land is excellent for growing Sea Island cotton and all other crops, and it has a great deal of sawmill and crosstie timber on it. We would prefer selling in a body to a number of farmers who will divide it up and clear it for farming after using the timber, and will sell for a part cash and allow good time on the balance for interest. Write to the owners if you mean business, as we have a great many other tracts of land in Appling and Wayne counties that might be just to suit you.

NEAR BEER IN DANGER.

Senator Price Says Alexander Will Lose in the Senate.

By a vote of 26 to 12 the senate adopted the committee amendment on soda water syrups to the general tax act Tuesday afternoon. This amendment provides for a graduated tax of from $5 on $10, 000 worth of business up to $2,000 on $900,000 worth of business. When the tax act went to the senate from the house it provided for a tax of 5 cents a gallon on manufacturers of soda water syrups. As soon as this was finished the senate took up the near-beer amendment.

A strong effort will be made to defeat the near-beer amendment. A strong effort will be made to defeat the Alexander amendment on near-beer. Senator Price will offer an amendment to fix the tax on wholesalers at $500 and dealers $300. It provides that no near-beer saloon can be opened up except in an incorporated town, and a dealer once convicted of violation cannot open again.

Senator Price claimed in the forenoon that he had 24 votes for his amendment, which would pass it. The senate cut down the tax on automobile dealers very materially, and after some eloquent discussion adopted the dog tax.

When the senate met at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, consideration of the general tax act was resumed.

When section 15, prescribing the manner of making tax returns, was reached, Senator Harrell offered an amendment which had as its object forcing owners of notes to make return on same, penalizing on failure to do so by making same non-collectible in court. He declared it was a reasonable amendment, and would add $200,000 to the state's revenues, making up for any loss from the near-beer tax.

Senator Burwell opposed it as needless and cumbersome legislation. He said it would require every merchant to practically copy his books, filing as a public record notes and accounts. He argued that it would practically destroy the credit system of the state.

"Is this the only whip you can use to make the people return their property? It is an insult to the honesty of every man," he declared. "This is a needless burden. Already you have ample law to make people return such property."

The Harrell amendment was lost by an overwhelming vote. The balance of the act was adopted without amendment, and the senate returned to the sections temporarily passed over, and over which fights were expected.

The first section taken up under this order related to the tax on automobile dealers. The senate committee reported an amendment ranging from $1,000 to $25, graduated according to the size of the county and the amount of business.

lives in the country he pays no tax," he said. "I am not appealing against the tax on automobiles, but this sort of unfair distinction is what I am opposed to."

Senator Mathews explained that well established precedents were to be found in the case of the tax on packing houses, where the amount was graduated according to the population of cities.

"I move we temporarily pass automobiles for dogs," said Chairman Slater, and amid laughter the senate passed to consideration of the dog tax.

The committee substitute, fixing a tax of $2 on female and $1 on male dogs, was taken up. The provision which allowed the levy officer to kill a dog when it failed to bring enough to pay the tax and costs, was stricken.

Senator Jackson said he would favor the bill if it carried a provision to apply the funds arising to the common school or good road funds.

Senator Irwin spoke against the tax. "I am unwilling to be known as the dog senator," he said. "The dog is about the last thing left a poor man that is untaxed, and don't let us take this right away from him."

He then quoted from Deuteronomy, 28:18: "Thou shalt not bring the price of a dog into the house of the Lord. For even both these are an abomination unto the Lord, thy God."

Senator Perry delivered an eloquent eulogy on the dog and incidentally got a few words in for the income tax resolution.

The committee amendment was adopted by a vote of 25 to 16. The automobile section was again taken up and a new amendment was offered. It fixed a minimum tax of $25 on dealers in counties with 20,000 population and continued on up to $250 as the maximum for counties with 150,000 population. It was unanimously adopted.

Senator Sellers offered an amendment to double the occupation tax for corporations, and Senator Perry made a speech favoring such action. It was voted down by a vote of 34 to 6.

Toward the close of the session the senate came down to the soda water syrup tax. The committee had adopted a graduated tax, ranging from $5 to $2,000, according to the amount of business done. Senator Harrell proposed an amendment to levy a tax of one percent on the gross receipts of soda water syrup manufacturers, but at this time the senate went into executive session, then adjourned to 3 o'clock.—Georgian.

Shot at Husband in Atlanta Shop.
Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 9.—Wildly flashing a revolver and exclaiming, "I'll put you in your grave before night," Mrs. C. C. Downs, who afterwards told the police that she is half Indian and half Spanish, rushed into a shop on North Pryor street this afternoon and leveled the revolver at the head of her husband, who was at his work, friend. The bullet went wild and before another shot could be fired Downs took the revolver from her wife.

Mrs. Downs was locked up. To the police she reiterated her threats against her husband. Jealousy was the initial cause of the shooting. Mrs. Downs on being told by her husband that he was home on the 20th.

TATTNALL COUNTY TO GO IN ATLANTIC CIRCUIT.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOLS WILL GET $10,000.

Both Bills Passed Yesterday—Some Local Lawyers Oppose Reduction of Middle Circuit.

Just before going to press last night a telegram was received by the News from Atlanta stating that the bill to reduce the Middle circuit by putting Tattall county in the Atlantic circuit had been passed, and the bill asking for an appropriation of $10,000 annually for the maintenance of the district agricultural schools had likewise met with success and in the future the district schools will receive that amount.

The success of the friends of the school in getting this bill through will be hailed with genuine satisfaction not only in this county but all over the district. It is a well known fact that the funds the school at this place has been receiving were not sufficient for its maintenance, but with the additional funds the institution will be in a much better condition, which will be gratifying to every citizen having the interest of the school at heart.

To the success of the bill dividing the Middle circuit, however, there is some opposition in Statesboro. Statesboro has a candidate in the race for solicitor general of this circuit and just what effect the division will have on his race is not known. The local bar held a meeting here a short while ago for the purpose of discussing the matter and it is understood there was a division among the lawyers on the subject.

The object of reducing the Middle circuit is said to be the bringing about a division of the duties between Judge Seabrooks of the Atlantic and Judge Rawlings of the Middle, the duties of the latter being so much greater than those of the former. For instance, the United States census in 1900 gave the Middle circuit a population of approximately 175,000, while the same census gave the Atlantic circuit a population of 140,000 more in this circuit than in the Atlantic. It is also the opinion of some of the local attorneys that the object of the division was for political purposes.

At present the Atlantic circuit is composed of the four small counties adjacent to Chatham, and Middle circuit comprises six large counties.

Improving the Streets.
The city has a force of hands at work on the streets and some great improvements are being made. The gang is now engaged in making a clay road out of the old sand bed leading from South Main street to the S. & S. depot. The same methods are being used on this street as were by the county changing on the principal streets of the city. The ditch is now dug and covered, with the clay piled in the middle of the road nearly down to the depot on one side, and it will be but a short while before the street will be one of the best and prettiest in the city.

Building Going Up.
All the material for the building to be erected by the Bank of Statesboro on the lot east of the court house has been placed on the ground and the building is going up at a rapid rate, notwithstanding the bad weather which has prevailed for the past week. The building will be completed within a month. It will be used by the Averitt Automobile Company, and will be quite a convenience to the automobilists of the city, as well as the tourist coming through Statesboro. The building will also add much to the appearance of that locality.

A Successful Sing.
The sing now going on at New castle is said to be one of the most successful as well as enjoyable ever conducted in this county. It is under the leadership of Prof. L. T. Williams and is largely attended. Sixty-odd pupils are said to be in attendance daily. The sing will come to a close Saturday.

Rev. Massey Improving
The many friends of Rev. M. H. Massey will learn with delight that there is a decided improvement in his condition. At one time he was critically ill at Cornelia, where he has been visiting, but a letter received in the city this week announces a marked improvement. The letter was written by Rev. Massey and it stated that he would in all probability be home on the 20th.

IMPROVING THE SWAINSBORO ROAD

Residents Subscribe Money for the Erection of Two Bridges.

Through the efforts of Rural Carrier R. J. Proctor of route number 2, a subscription has been raised to buy the lumber for two new and greatly needed bridges; across the branch known as the Watling Hole, near Bethlehem church, and the other across Dry Branch three and four and a half miles, respectively, from Statesboro. For the bridge across the Watling Hole about $35 have been raised and for the one across Dry Branch $25 have been subscribed, which will be used to buy the lumber. It is said that the county authorities refused to build the bridges and residents in the vicinity of the two bridges subscribed sufficient funds to purchase the material. It is stated that while the authorities refused to buy the material they will do the work. The changing is now on that road and are now working about the four-mile post. Out to that distance the road has been clayed. This style of road will be made five miles from Statesboro and the rest of the way will be worked, after which the Swainsboro road will be one of the best roads in the county. It will be thirteen miles long and will be a great blessing to the farmers living in that section of the county.

Mr. Proctor stated yesterday that as soon as the water in the two branches gets down low enough work on the bridges will be commenced. He states that he now has sufficient funds in the bank to pay for the material.

Meeting of Watermelon Growers.
The new organization known as the Watermelon Growers' Association, which was recently perfected among the growers along the line of the Savannah & Statesboro road, held a meeting at Ivanhoe last Saturday for the purpose of making arrangements for the crop of the coming season and the discussion of matters of interest. Reports from the various growers were read and it is said with one or two exceptions good results from the shipments during the season just coming to a close were shown. It is understood that three hundred acres will be planted along the line of the S. & S. next season. Supt. D. N. Baot of the S. & S. is president of the new organization and it was through his efforts that it was perfected. Mr. C. H. Cone is secretary and treasurer. At a future meeting other officers will be chosen to look after the movement of the crop.

Will Governor Brown Call Extra Session.
Will Governor Brown call an extra session of the legislature? That much may be done by no means an improbability. As the general tax act now stands, containing the Alexander amendment on the near-beer tax is conceded that the revenues will be scaled down from $250,000 to $300,000. It is said that Comptroller General Wright, who is a final authority, estimates that if the tax act and appropriation bills are passed as they stand, Georgia will face a deficit of $1,500,000 at the end of next year.

If this information is accurate, Governor Brown's administration faces a serious dilemma. His close friends think he should convoke the general assembly in extraordinary session and put the question of revenues squarely up to them. It is also pointed out that the session has entirely ignored every recommendation for legislation made by him and which were also incorporated as part of the new state platform. The Brown people say the governor should put these issues up to the general assembly for final action and thereby absolve himself of all responsibility in the matter.

Many believe an extra session highly probable.

Services at Baptist Church.
It is announced that there will be services at the Baptist church next Sunday. Rev. M. H. Massey, the pastor, will not return this week, but arrangements will be made to have the pulpit filled. Rev. B. M. Pack, representing the school at Mt. Vernon, is in the county this week in the interest of that institution and it is probable that he will fill the pulpit.

Entertainment at the Rountree House.
In honor of Miss Georgia Crouch, of Washington, Ga., who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Crouch in Statesboro, a delightful entertainment was given at the Rountree house last Monday night by Mr. and Mrs. Rountree. The attendants included Misses Annie Moore, Bessie McCoy, Georgia Crouch, Emma McCoy, Mildred George of Savannah, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Moye, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Moore, Messrs. Langley, Charlie Mathews, D. Percy Averitt, Gordon Simmons and Brooks Simmons.

A feature of the evening was the delightful music rendered by several of the guests. An enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

SENATE WRESTLES WITH GENERAL TAX FINAL EFFORT

For Reconsideration of Near
Beer Clause Fails—$5
Auto Tax Proposed.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 9.—The general tax act finally reached the senate Monday shortly before noon, and that body began grinding away on the measure at once, winding up at paragraph 30 at the hour of adjournment at 1 o'clock.

Before it got to the senate the finance committee held a final meeting when a strong effort was made to get a reconsideration of the previous action in adopting the Alexander amendment on near beer. The effort failed by a vote of 8 to 6. Senator Aiken was the leading spokesman against reconsideration, and he was opposed by Senator Matthews.

Two new propositions were submitted. One by Senator Slater fixing the tax on wholesale dealers at $1,000 and retailers at $500, and requiring near-beer places to open at 6 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. Senator Matthews proposed to fix the tax at the same figures, and allow the sale only in incorporated towns. Both propositions were lost however when the committee refused to consider.

The proposition of Representative Joe Hill Hall for a state auditor was referred to a sub-committee composed of Senators Matthews, Burwell and Price to report to the senate when that section was reached in the bill.

The committee incorporated a new section which puts a tax of $5 the owner of every automobile. The fund so arising is to be used in the counties where paid, for good roads.

In the forenoon session the senate struck comparatively smooth sailing on the tax act. Desultory efforts were made to make changes from the committee recommendations, but without success in any case. The strongest effort was made to change the tax on Gypsy bands. The house proposed to put a tax of $50 on every member of a band, which would, of course, have driven them out of the state. Senator Harrell proposed to make the committee amendment of $50 on each band $10, arguing that the country people liked the Gypsies and wanted to trade with them. Another amendment was to make the tax $25, but all were voted down, and the tax remains at the old figure, $50 on each band in each county.

At the hour of adjournment the senate had reached paragraph thirty without striking any serious snag. Breakers are ahead, however, when the soda water and near-beer sections are reached. While the senate was waiting for a report from the finance committee, the desk was cleared up of house bills for a first, second and third reading. About twenty-five local bills were passed.

Gordon Brown,

In Memory of

Mrs. Pansy Parish.
On Saturday afternoon, June 26th, the death angel visited the home of Mr. Tom Parish and bore away his sweet companion, who was born Sept. 9th, 1893. She left a loving husband and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her loss. Loved ones and skilled physicians did all in their power to relieve her suffering, but it was the Lord's will for her to go. She bore her afflictions well and never murmured.

Pansy was a favorite with everyone, she was so kind and pleasant. She won all hearts and her death is a bereavement to the entire community.

The interment took place in the family burial ground on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. W. A. Brooks. A large number of sorrowing relatives and friends followed her mortal remains to their last resting place.

It was hard for loved ones to give her up, but we must all bow in humble submission to the will of the One Who does all things for the best, knowing all that what He does is for our good.

"But why should I lament my case, since God has thought it best To take her soul from hence away To its eternal rest."

May the God of all grace and wisdom bless and sustain the bereaved ones. Her Friend.

$100 Reward $100.

"Little Joe" Won't

Name an Atlanta Man.
Governor Brown will name no successor to S. G. McLendon for several days.

An Atlanta man will not be appointed on the commission, as two present commissioners are residents of the city and another one lives in an adjoining county.

Atlanta business interests continue to urge R. A. Broyles for successor to Mr. McLendon, but when the appointment is made it is generally believed that it will be a south Georgia man—probably Judge A. E. Moore, of Savannah. A delegation of prominent business men called on Gov. Brown Saturday morning to urge the appointment of Mr. Broyles.

If the situation was different there is hardly a doubt that Mr. Broyles would be appointed. While Governor Brown declines absolutely to say whom he will appoint, it is known that he does not favor an Atlanta man for the reasons stated.

August time, tells on the nerves. But that spiritless, no ambition feeling can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative, improvement will be noticed. Of course, full health will not immediately return. The gain, however, will surely follow. And best of all, you will realize an increased strength and ambition as it is returned. Outside influences depress the "inside nerves" then the stomach, heart, and kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be yours again by W. H. Ellis.

Zanton, the Great.

Zanton, Man of Mystery, will be the next attraction playing in Statesboro, at the Auditorium on Friday night, August 13th.

Zanton comes to Statesboro with mystifying magic and illusions. Some of his novelties are Abdul Hadar's East Indian Cabinet Mystery, Boy's Sad Mishap in the Jewelry Shop, Mahatma Miracles, etc., etc. The first mentioned is the most mysterious of all his creations and has caused a sensation wherever it has been presented.

The performances offered by Zanton is of a very high order and his manipulation is of a distinct departure in this line of entertainment.

Flattering reports of Zanton's performance have been received from nearby cities where he has recently appeared. No doubt he will be greeted with a large audience, as the engagement is in the interest of Statesboro Chapter, United Daughters of Confederacy.

Visits Bulloch After 9 Years

Mr. J. G. Allen, a former resident of this county, but now of Orlando, Fla., spent Tuesday in Statesboro the guest of Mr. D. D. Arden. For many years Mr. Allen was superintendent for the Foye Manufacturing company in this county and made his home there for nine years. For this period, however, Mr. Allen never visited Statesboro, and his visit here Tuesday, after being away from the county for eight years, was the first time he ever saw our city. He is well known to a number of our citizens who welcomed him here. Mr. Allen is considered one of the finest machinists in the country, and it is said he came here on business with the Raines Machine Works.

He has made Bulloch his home since leaving Bulloch nine years ago.

SENATE WINS

PROHIBITION

In Last Hour of Session

Two Houses Clash Over

Tax Act.

Atlanta, Aug. 11.—Near beer was voted out of nearly half the state of Georgia to-night by the Legislature when a short while before joint adjournment the Senate high license bill was passed by the House 81 to 77. The bill prohibits the issuing of near beer licenses except in towns of 2,500 or over.

The House of Representatives had spent the entire afternoon on the general tax act, and had voted to disagree to the price substitute for the Alexander near beer prohibition section by 70 to 77.

It was a close vote and everybody predicted at once that the House would finally give in and accept the Senate substitute which increases the tax on near beer manufacturers and dealers and prohibits the sale of near beer in the country districts or in towns of less than 2,500 inhabitants. It also prohibits Confederate veterans from selling the beverage under the free license system.

The House spent two hours on the prohibition section, the argument being controlled by Mr. Anderson of Chatham on one side and Mr. Alexander of DeKalb on the other. Messrs. Hardeman of Jefferson, Porter of Floyd, Persons of Monroe, Anderson and others spoke briefly, urging concurrence in the Senate amendment. Mr. Alexander occupied the whole of the time on the other side and denied emphatically that he was seeking to embarrass the present administration.

Mr. White of Screven made the motion to agree to the Senate substitute and when it was lost there was applause in the gallery and on the floor, which brought a sharp reprimand from Speaker Holder.

The Legislature continued to enact bills after midnight, the constitutional hour for adjournment, with newspapers hiding the faces of the clocks.

The last bill introduced was in the Senate and provides for Confederate veterans riding free on railroad trains.

It was long after midnight when adjournment arrived.

In the session that closed to-night, two of the measures which received the strongest support upon the part of the most advanced people, never reached a hearing in either House. One was the compulsory education bill. It provided that each child in the state under the age of 14 must attend school at least three months a year. This bill was fought strongly by certain influences. There are over 20,000 illiterates in the state. The most effective argument used against the bill and the one which probably kept it from getting a hearing, was the "color line."

The opponents of the bill charged that it would force negroes into the schools, giving them a better education than white children and make them more useless than ever.

The other measure strongly endorsed was the one to submit a constitutional amendment to the people, to decide whether or not the Legislature, instead of meeting each year should meet only once each alternate year. This was advocated by business organizations all over the state.

A resolution favoring a constitutional amendment, permitting the popular election of United States senators met a similar fate.

A bill which would have placed a heavy tax upon all foreign corporations doing business in the state was killed by a narrow majority. Another to protect game and to provide for a game warden was killed because the members declared they did not know enough about the necessity of game protection to legislate intelligently.

But it was in the introduction of freak bills that the legislators shone. There was one which would prevent "females over the age of 12, not circus riders" from riding astride. A bill to permit the carrying of pistols if worn "outside the outer clothing" was favorably reported, as was one to prohibit the carrying of any deadly weapon less than two feet long. Neither was passed.

Among other measures which failed to come to a vote were: To require the hotel keepers to furnish nine-foot sheets on each bed; to forbid the supplying of prisoners with malt, vinous or spirituous liquors; to make unlawful the playing of football or baseball at state schools; to make all railroads stop all trains at all stations on the line; to charge $200 license in each of the counties for each merchant who peddled clocks, to forbid the movement of freight trains on Sunday; to ask Congress to raise the pay of rural carriers and to limit all speeches in the Assembly to five minutes.

Randolph Anderson of Chatham conducted a masterful fight in the House against the Alexander prohibition section and the fact that it was finally won was due chiefly to his efforts.

The House refused to pass a bill to give to counties and municipalities the right to grant franchises. The object of the measure was to silence the fears of New York capitalists as to the securities of the Piedmont Power Company, and to insure them that franchises granted were legal and valid.

The fish and game bill was tabled after a hard fight to get it through. The first time it was brought up it failed of passage by a vote of 78 to 54. It goes over.

The bill to increase the Governor's staff from thirty to fifty, as desired by the Senate, was tabled.

A bill to distribute a small balance due to officers and enlisted men from Georgia, who served in the Spanish-American war, aroused considerable opposition on the ground that the state had no right to appropriate the money.

The bill proposed to use the money for the purchase of six pieces of silver for the battleship Georgia; the remainder to be given as a scholarship fund to the North Georgia Agricultural College at

FIRST BALE REACHED

MARKET YESTERDAY.

FOLLOWED BY THE UNLUCKY "THIRTEEN" NUMBER.

Brought in on Friday, 13th Day of Month, Sold for 13 cents and Weighed 513 Pounds.

The first bale of this season's crop of cotton was brought in yesterday by Mr. C. B. Aaron, of Aaron station. It was raised by Mr. C. A. Rucker, of that place, and was sold to The Simmons Co. at 13 cents per pound. It was a significant fact that it was not only Friday—the unlucky day of the week—but was also the 13th day of the month, and the price being 13 cents, added to the burdens of this first bale. It was hoped that it would escape all other features because it weighed 514 pounds at the gun but owing to the interest of the bystanders in pulling out samples, it lost a pound and tipped the scales at 513 pounds. Thus the bad luck followed it all the way down the line.

Mr. R. Simmons, one of the prominent buyers, who had hurried home from Atlanta to be in the market, wouldn't even so much as look in the direction of the wagon. You can never get him mixed up with these unlucky omens like the one surrounding this bale.

Mr. Rucker moved on to this farm on the 20th of February and, of course, got a late start. He went right to work with both sleeves rolled up and beat the balance of his neighbors to the market with the first bale. This is one feature about the transaction that was not unlucky. Another was that it actually brought a fine price, netting Mr. Rucker $66.69.

Doctors Protest on Osteopathy Bill.

Governor Brown was besieged with petitions Thursday from all parts of the state, a majority of them from physicians or medical societies, urging to veto the bill authorizing a board of osteopathy. Several of the telegrams intimated that the governor would be waited on by a committee to set forth the reasons for making the request.

Governor Brown has given no intimation of what he will do. He was so busy Thursday seeing and saying good-by to members of the house and senate that he had no time to devote to routine matters.—Journal.
