Hot Wave Killing Cotton.

The hot wave which has held sway over the entire cotton producing section for the past two weeks has about done up the cotton crop.

The extreme heat and blistering sun following a two weeks' rain pour has had a very depressing effect on the outlook for a full crop. The heat has been more intense in Texas and Mississippi than it has been in our section of the country, the thermometer reaching as high as 114 in Dallas, Texas. This has had the effect of killing all the boll weevils, who couldn't stand the sweltering sun, and dropped to the parching sand beneath the stalks, and were burned to a crisp, but the same heat which killed the boll weevil also killed the fruit on the cotton stalks.

The Sea Island cotton has been holding up wonderfully well under the strain, but it is a question of how much more it can endure. The heat has caused the bolls to crack open and brings the crop on the market earlier than usual. Prices have held up fairly well, and we hope that what may be lost in yield will be made up in price.

Eloquence Too Much for Bees.

Columbus, Ga., Aug. 20.—The session of Justice John Daniels' court, at Shuck, in Chatham county, came to an abrupt end today when a big bunch of bees that had swarmed in the roof was dislodged by the ringing eloquence of a Columbus lawyer and fell to the floor. There were twenty persons in the little court room and a scene of the wildest confusion ensued when the bees began to get busy. The magistrate escaped through a window and the others through doors and windows, but nearly all were stung, some rather seriously, before they could get out.

It was a long time before court could resume. The magistrate had made up his mind in the case, but it was stated that it would be illegal to give judgment at any other place than the court room. The court room was finally cleared of the bees and judgment in the case was formally rendered.

Mr. J. R. Miller, editor of the News, is off this week in Atlanta, Macon, Augusta and Savannah in the interest of the big special edition we expect to issue soon.

When you have the time don't forget us. We are here to do you good. Three times a week for the price others charge you for one.

There is room in Colquitt county for 1,000 more farmers than we now have; good room, too," says the Monticello Observer. "And there are nearly 150 other counties in Georgia of which the same sort of thing might be said. We are inclined to the opinion that South Georgia makes better offerings than any other part of the state, but the whole of Georgia is 'good and better.'"

The New Railroad Commissioner.

The appointment of Mr. Joseph H. Gray, of Savannah, by Gov. Brown to fill the vacancy on the Railroad Commission caused by the removal of Chairman McLeod, is regarded as a strong appointment. Mr. Gray is a man of ability and experience.

The public are cordially invited to be present on the opening day. There will be several short addresses by friends of the school and also an address by Hon. E. C. J. Dickens, trustee from the county of Toombs.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

There's a heap owned to a good woman in the next world for what she never gets in this.

A man can grumble around the house more than the cook because she has a better reason to.

What a girl likes about the moon is how she can make it enjoy itself being out under it with a man.

The average shirt waist a woman wears in summer is so queer it seems as if she might be more dressed by taking it off.

Generally when a child is irritating to you it's because it doesn't like you and doesn't care whether you know it or not.

Attention Confederate Veterans.

You are hereby ordered to meet at Statesboro the first Wednesday of September, with one day's rations, to elect delegates to State reunion which will meet at Athens, Ga., on the 28th and 29th day of September next.

By order of J. S. Hagin, Commander. Jacob Rucker, Adj.

Statesboro Institute.

READY FOR FALL SESSION, 1909.

On next Wednesday, First Day of September, begins what bids fair to be the best session of the school in the history of Statesboro Institute. We know that this is a strong statement, because Statesboro, for more than a decade, has had fine schools, but she continues to grow and make progress in all directions and her school has kept pace with the vanguard in the upward march. Statesboro is noted for her refined and intelligent citizenship and the school—the apple of her eye—has received her best support.

The four hundred and twenty-seven pupils in the school crowded the building last year, but the annex, just being completed, will give ample accommodation for all the grades on the ground floor for next year. No school in the state will have better class rooms or better advantages for effective teaching than are afforded here.

The faculty is composed of twelve experienced teachers who love their work and have had abundant success here and elsewhere. Special attention will be given to pupils in Oratory and Music.

The High School grades will not be entirely filled by city pupils, and we, therefore, solicit the patronage from the country and nearby towns for these grades. Tuition for non-resident students is from $1.25 to $2.50 per month. Board may be secured in good private homes from $10 to $12 per month.

We invite the teachers of Bulloch county to attend Statesboro Institute during their vacations and review their more difficult subjects to teach. Six weeks to two months of study here will be of great value to young teachers who have not had a collegiate education.

The Catalogue House And Alien Insurance.

THEIR DETERRENT INFLUENCE IN OUR DEVELOPMENT.

It is not infrequently we hear some of the best citizens discussing the plans of development for the city, yet by their action the railways have become but a right-of-way and streak of rust, and the river the drifting place for the barge and tug-boat, carrying down the stream naught but the lone fisherman.

If you would develop and make great your city and your state, you must cut out the catalogue house and alien insurance; you must keep your money working AT HOME. For every dollar's worth of goods you buy from a mail order house is but the rape of our legitimate merchant. He is one of the great sinners holding together your municipality as well as commonwealth, and every dollar invested in alien insurance premiums, is depriving your community and state of so much money that could be used therein.

If our Georgia insurance companies had the $75,000,000 which have been paid in premiums to alien companies in the last 20 years, to lend out in aid of our industrial and internal development, as well as to our bankers, farmers and municipalities, how much would Georgia be advanced?

And if the money sent out of the state to catalogue houses remained within our borders, how much stronger would be our merchants?

If we desire to be great and imposing, we must encourage, as well as aid with our capital, our home institutions, by buying our goods from our merchants and having all of our work done at home, and by insuring with the great Georgia Company, THE EMPIRE LIFE

Woman's Negro Assailant

Killed by a Citizen.

Bronson, Fla., Aug. 24.—Attracted by the screams of Mrs. Becky Snowden, of this place, who was fighting a desperate battle with Steve Brown, a negro, who had attacked and was choking her, Bart Faircloth, a white man, shot and killed the negro today. The attack of the negro and his death occurred at Mrs. Snowden's home. Brown, who was married and had several children, lived near town and was regarded as a hard working negro. Mrs. Snowden has a large garden, in which she grows vegetables and the negro was accustomed to buy from her.

The garden is quite a distance from the house and when he was there alone with her, Brown caught Mrs. Snowden by the arms. She screamed, crying out, "Help! Murder!" and the negro's hand had closed on her throat. His other hand was pressed over her mouth. Mrs. Snowden struggled desperately, but was no match for the negro.

Bart Faircloth, who heard Mrs. Snowden's scream, ran to her aid. The negro saw him and started to run. Faircloth called to him to halt, and when the negro kept running shot at him three times with a pistol, killing him instantly. Mrs. Snowden's arms and throat were swollen and blue and show the marks of the negro's hands. For some time following the killing excitement here was intense, but tonight all is quiet.

Charged With Desertion.

Jack Lee, colored, was arrested Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Kendrick on a warrant charging the negro with desertion, and he is now behind the bars of the Bulloch county jail. Lee and his family lived near Statesboro and it is alleged he deserted his wife and children and would not support them. A warrant was issued and the arrest was made.

Funeral of Mrs. G. F. Emitt.

Death of Leslie Brannen.

On Saturday the remains of Mr. Leslie Brannen were brought in on the Central train from Pooler, where his death occurred on Friday night, and taken to the family burial ground, near Portal, for interment, where the funeral services were held on Sunday.

The deceased was a son of Mr. W. W. Brannen, of this county. He had been living in Savannah for some time and had only recently completed a course in dentistry. He leaves a large number of relatives and friends to mourn his loss.

Foot Caught in "Frog".

Breaks Ankle to Save Life.
Chicago, Aug. 28.—With his foot caught in a railroad "death" frog and a train bearing down upon him, Frederick Menell faced death yesterday. In his frantic efforts to extricate his foot he deliberately threw himself on his side, breaking his leg below the ankle, but escaped death.

Menell, who is 25 years old, was crossing the tracks when his left foot became wedged in the frog. A freight train was backing down upon him and none of the crew was aware of his danger. Having read of cases where men were caught in a "death" frog, Menell says he suffered unspeakable torture compared with which the physical pain caused by the broken bone was nothing.

Workmen Go Fishing.

Mills Stand Idle.
Granite City, Ill., Aug. 23.—Because the fish are biting good, the steel corporation's plant here is in a bad way.

The inhabitants of the tri-city—Venice, Madison and Granite City—are so wrapped up in the gentle pastime that they refuse to be lured from the cool banks of the streams to the heat of the furnaces.

Offers of $6 a day each do not tempt the workmen. Consequently the mills are at a standstill.

Road Completed.

The old sand bed leading off from South Main street to the cotton warehouse has been turned into a hard, clay road and that it is a big improvement goes without saying. It is one of the best improvements that has been made in the city in some time. That road is probably traveled more than any other one town. It is the principle route to and from the S. & S. depot and is the only road that cotton can be hauled over to the warehouse. It will prove a great benefit to farmers and citizens alike.

Short Cotton $75 a Bale.

Mr. R. F. Oliff, a farmer living near town, sold two bales of short cotton last week. One brought him $70 and the next one a little over $80, making more than $150 for the two bales. We have seen the time when it didn't sell this way.

PROF. WILLIS ON SEED SELECTION.

Wants to See Cotton Brought up to Higher Standard.

"There is no subject of more importance or greater commercial value to any agricultural section," said Prof. J. W. Willis, district agent of the farmers' cooperative and demonstration work, with headquarters in Statesboro, in an interview yesterday, "that of seed selection of its staple crops. I believe that the cotton crop of the South could easily be increased three-fourths in three years by seed selection alone. Not only can the yield be increased, but the quality of the fiber can be greatly improved.

"One of the greatest drawbacks to our sea island market is the lack of uniformity in the length of fibre. The same bale of cotton will have fibres ranging in length from 11 to 12 inches, and the only way to overcome this is by seed selection. The sea island cotton in this territory should be selected for uniformity in length, strength of fibre and prolificness. The general rule for these selections are the same as will be given for short cotton. The man who carefully selects his seed will get the top of the market for his cotton and finds ready sale for his seed at fancy prices.

"The first thing in selecting cotton seed for planting purposes is to have a bre'ing patch where the land has been thoroughly prepared, well planted, rapidly culled and well fertilized, unless the land is sufficiently fertile to make good cotton without it. Plants for breeding purposes should have plenty of distance in the row and drill, and plenty of plant food. The same laws of nature hold true in producing a good individual in plant life as does in animal life, and no one would think of starving or crowding to death an animal that was being raised for breeding purposes. In breeding up cotton we must first decide what our object is, whether for prolificness, big boll, early or late maturity, length and strength of fibre or all of these together as nearly as possible. When we have decided what we want we must then look about and find the variety that most nearly fills our bill, for we can save several years' hard work by taking up a good cotton that some other man has been at work on for a number of years. Just as if we were starting into the hog business, we would never think of getting a lot of razor-backs to begin with, but we would get the Berkshire, Poland China, Duroc Jersey or some other good breed that has been carefully bred up from many generations.

"The best type of short cotton, in my opinion, is a prolific, big boll, early variety that will yield a high percentage of lint and with a good strong fibre about 11 inches in length. This is about as good a fibre as we can get and retain the other qualities desired. We want a prolific cotton above all things, for we want to make all that is possible per acre, and, too, it costs just as much to cultivate an acre that makes only one-half bale as it does one that makes a bale. Then we want the large boll because it is easier to pick, if we pick it ourselves, or much easier hired gathered, should we have to hire it done. We want the high percentage of lint because lint is of more value than seed, and we

300 BALES ARRIVE IN LAST TWO DAYS.

Receipts Much Larger Than at This Season in Previous Years.

From the way cotton has come to Statesboro in the past two days one of two things seem certain—the farmers either need the money or they are not going to take any chances of the staple going to a higher price. At present it is bringing from 12 to 12 1/4 cents, and it is evident that the farmers are hauling their cotton to market as soon as they can have it ginned. The receipts for this season of the year are much larger than any previous year at the same season. Cotton never comes to this market in any quantities until until September, but up to yesterday afternoon the receipts for the season were in the neighborhood of one thousand bales. Each day brings forth larger receipts. Thursday there were 149 bales put in the warehouse, and that record was even broken yesterday, up to 3:00 there being 143 bales in the warehouse for the day, with more wagons standing on the streets loaded with cotton, which had not been counted.

All the gins around here are said to be busier than they have been in years, every farmer seeming anxious to get his cotton on the market. Some of the gins are working at night, the one in Statesboro especially, and wagons loaded with cotton can be seen on the streets at night coming from the gin.

This is said to be not only in Statesboro, but the warehouses in our sister towns are all said to be doing a good business, and from the reports the farmers are selling their cotton, and it will be but a

Prof. Willis is deeply interested in his work and is desirous of seeing the cotton crop of this section brought up to a much higher standard, and he seems satisfied if his methods of seed selection as above given are carried out the staple will be improved very materially in every way.

A Correction.

In the last issue of the News there was an error in the article headed "Notice to Patrons of the Statesboro Institute." The error made the article read "The following rates per month," when it should have been "for the term." This of course, applies to pupils residing within the city and within the school age. The article has been corrected and notice is directed to it in this issue.

The editor was busy when he was asked: "How is the market?" The man was referred to the office devil, who looked wisely and said: "Young men unsteady girls, lively and in demand; paper firm, but declining; mamma, a Sam settled, waiting for higher bid; coffee, considerably mixed; fish, active and slippery; egg, quiet, but expected to open up; whiskey, still going down; onirday strong; yeast, rising; breadst; cotton heavy; boots and shoes, thought in the market, solid and constant; Mr. going up and down; hats and qviny on not so high as last year, ex weight; foalcap, which is stationary; 23 bacco very low and has a down's ward tendency; silver close, offered not close enough to get hold of as a

MADE TO WORK AT GUN'S POINT.

Guards Watched Men—Evidence Sustaining Penalties Charge is Heard.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 26.—Evidence sustaining the charge of the practice of poonance at the plant of the Pressed Steel Car Company was heard today before W. H. Hoagland, the government investigator.

A witness swore positively that he was forced to labor as a strike-breaker while guards stood over him. The indications are that proof sufficient to sustain a number of indictments will be secured before the day is over.

The Austrian consulate is taking active steps to round up witnesses and prosecute the guilty parties.

A. Friedman, of New York, testified to having been brought here from New York and of having received abusive treatment at the hands of officers in the plant by guards who were selected from the strike-breakers to stand guard over the rest; that abuse and epithets were the common treatment of many, and specifically testified that one day he was ordered to work "over time," and when he declared that he would quit his job rather than do so, was compelled to labor while "Guard No. 1," whose name Mr. Hoagland will ascertain later, stood over him.

He testified this was done under orders of Samuel Cohen, who is in charge of the New York strike-breakers. Friedman also testified that his pay was short, and gave the addresses of two men in New York, one named Dyach, who had also been detained against their
