Action of Governor Wins Hearty Plaudits.

Governor Brown has given to the people of justice and equality the right to feel proud.

He resisted the temptation of power brought to bear on him by the half of Mitchell, and in effect declared: "No matter how influential the family connections of a criminal, he must pay the penalty of his crime, just as the poorest and most friendless offender must do."

Bully for Governor Joseph M. Brown! It was high time some official showed the grit to teach the wealthy and well-connected criminals that we haven't got one law for the rich and another for the poor.

In the Hoke Smith administration, a "well-connected" forger and swindler, whose depredations amounted to more than $80,000, got a full pardon—Mr. Smith being such a flabby snob that he did not have backbone enough to resist certain members of the kid-glove element of Augusta.

Thank God! We've found a man, at last.

Mitchell, deliberately, cautiously and elaborately made every preparation to commit the most heinous of all crimes—the ruin of a woman. And in this case, the woman stood in such relation to Mitchell that the mere lustful glance in his heart was a most monstrous crime.

But he always "stood well," his people were all respectable, influential people, and they had always suffered anguish and mortification, and Mitchell was in poor health, and had already been severely punished, and to work out his sentence would endanger his life, etc., etc., etc.

All this sickening twaddle came before Governor Brown in the Mitchell case, just as similar cases and such came before Gov. Brown in the Tom Alexander case.

In the one instance, our chief executive acted the spineless snob; in the other, the stern, impartial judge.

Hurray for Joe Brown! It's the first time I've said it, but I say it now.

It is as much a duty to praise when praise is deserved, as to censure where censure is justly incurred.—Tom Watson, in Jeffersonian.

Governor Brown does not "think small" gives immunity from punishment—American Times Recorder.

Little Joe Brown seems to be too polite than his predecessor. When a supplicant said, "Pardon me, governor," Hoke always said, "Certainly, sir"—Savannah Herald.

It looks as if Governor Brown says to office long enough, he will make a few influential convicts to write out their sentences.—Rome Tribune Herald.

Details Joe Brown is that sort of governor who hews to the line and lets the chips fall where they may.—Columbus Ledger.

Governor Brown is right when he announces that he intends enforcing the law without fear or favor, the same law for the rich and poor and for great and small. The humblest prisoner in the penitentiary is entitled to as much consideration at the hands of the chief executive as the richest, or the one of one of best family, and that is just what he will get at the hands of Governor Brown.—Athens Banner.

Little Ugly Joe has again immortalized himself in the eyes of the moral and law-abiding citizens of Georgia, and elsewhere, by his decision in the noted Mitchell case from Thomas.—Tomboboro Weekly.

Farmers Gather at Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 6.—The fifth annual convention of the Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union will begin tomorrow morning. Delegates from all the cotton producing States are in attendance and cotton will be the principal topic of discussion.

The Farmers' Union is a secret society with all the secret and ritualistic work of any lodge. It is composed of farmers, and has for its main object the elimination of the cotton factor and middle man and the marketing of the crop directly from the producer to the manufacturer.

Already the union has numerous warehouses and if the plans of its leaders are carried out, many more will be erected during the coming year, and a strong effort will be made to get into the union every cotton grower in the south. Then, not only will the middle man's profit be saved to the grower, but the market can be controlled, for with all American cotton held in union warehouses it can be sold only when the price is satisfactory.

The idea in brief is to make the Farmers' Union to the cotton grower what the tobacco pool is to the tobacco producers.

The session Tuesday will be the only one open to the public, although the union will continue its meeting for several days. During the executive session the price is fixed for the ensuing year and members are not supposed to sell for less. Already the officers have sold a part of this year's cotton to English manufacturers.

HARRIMAN SUCCEUMBS

Railroad Magnate Passes Away After a Long Illness.

Arden, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Edward H. Harriman, the greatest organizer of railroads the world has ever known, met the only lasting defeat of his active life at the hands of death. Secluded in his magnificent home on Tower Hill, surrounded by members of his family, physicians and nurses he succumbed to an intestinal disorder after a fight against disease which will rank for sheer grit with his remarkable struggles in the financial world. Mr. Harriman died peacefully and almost to the end his brilliant mind retained its integrity. After a lapse on Sunday he sank steadily and soon after the noon hour Thursday there came a relapse which marked the approach of the end.

His wife, two daughters, the Misses Mary and Carol, and his sons, who have been constantly with him, assembled at the bedside and a carriage was hastily dispatched for Mrs. Simons, whose home is here in Arden, three miles from the Tower Hill mansion.

The exact time of his death is known only in that limited circle of relatives and associates who had so effectually shielded Mr. Harriman from all outside annoyances during his last illness. The time was given to the world as 3.35 p. m., but Mrs. Mary Simons, sister of the dead man, said that the end had come at 1.30, more than two hours previous. Whether this apparent discrepancy has any bearing on the current belief that every effort was made to lessen the influence of the financier's death on the New York stock market is problematical. But it is significant that the time of his death as officially announced was just 35 minutes after the trading had ceased on the exchange.

Driving hurriedly up the mountain-side Mrs. Simons entered the great silent house in time to be present at her brother's death. She joined the wife and children, who, with Dr. W. G. Lyle of New York, and Dr. Orlando Harriman, a brother, and the nurses, formed a group at the bedside.

BARRETT RENAMED HEAD OF FARMERS.

Unanimously Elected as President for 4th Term of National Organization.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 9.—The principal business transacted Thursday morning in the convention of the Farmers' Cooperative and Educational Union was the election of officers, the result being as follows:

President, Charles S. Barrett, Union City, Ga.; vice president, J. E. Montgomery, Gleason, Tenn.; secretary-treasurer, R. H. McCullough, Bebee, Ark.; executive committee, S. L. Wilson, Mississippi; W. A. Morris, Alabama; A. C. Schuford, North Carolina; John Grady, Kentucky; O. L. Dornblazer, Texas.

Practically all of the officers were chosen without opposition, and President Barrett was unanimously reelected. The executive committee immediately outlined a policy to the convention which received strict attention. The reception of fraternal delegates was made a special order of business for the afternoon.

Among the most important reports of committees to be received during the afternoon is that of the committee on cooperation. It will take two or more hours for a full discussion of this report inasmuch as the launching of a national farmers' institute, which calls for the establishment of a big college, is proposed. It is announced that if the convention fails to adopt the report as to the institute, the Georgia division will set to work at once on the same.

The greatest of secrecy prevails as to the minimum price to be held for cotton this year though almost all the discussion centers around fifteen cents. The convention will hardly complete its work tonight and will go over until Friday afternoon. More than half of the committee have yet to report and several of them are of great importance.

Dr. Abernathy, the great English physician, said, "Watch your kidneys. When they are affected, life is in danger. Foley's Kidney Remedy makes healthy kidneys, corrects urinary irregularities, and tones up the whole system.—W. H. Ellis Co.

Death of Mr. Mosely.

E. C. Mosely, a well-to-do farmer living near Statesboro died very suddenly at his home on Wednesday night. It is said that while Mr. Mosely was sitting in a chair apparently in good health he laid back without a murmur and died. He was about sixty years of age, and leaves a widow of a few weeks, besides several children by his first wife. He was one of the largest men in the county, weighing about 300 pounds. The cause of his death is said to have been heart failure.

The burial occurred at Macedonia church on Thursday afternoon in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. O. Darsey.

Mr. Mosely was a familiar figure on the streets of Statesboro and we will miss him from our midst.

CONFERS DEGREE ON DR. COOK

The two explorers upon whom the world's eye has been fixed during the past few days are busy preparing for their return to the United States. Cook in Copenhagen, and that it would be a reasonable deduction that Whitney had informed Peary of Cook's claims, and that Peary would gather all available testimony to refute the claim, having heard the Eskimos' stories that Cook "had not been out of sight of land."

With regard to the offer of the United States coast and geodetic survey to arbitrate the controversy, Mr. Bridgman said: "I know that Commander Peary will be perfectly satisfied to abide by its verdict. Peary has a commission from the survey to take certain observations and data, and will submit his results to that board."

"Cook's two witnesses," continued Mr. Bridgman, "are from 16 to 20 years of age. The six Eskimos who declined to go returned with Cook's letters to his wife, John R. Bradley and Rudolph Francke, dated Cape Thomas Hubbard, Commander Peary, in a series of conversations with the natives found that the letters were not written where dated."

Hanson Pays Tribute to Harriman.

Major J. F. Hanson, president of the Central of Georgia Railway, last night issued the following appreciation of E. H. Harriman: "Mr. Harriman was the greatest factor in this country's great affairs. He had reached an eminence as a railroad financier and railroad developer unequalled in the world's history. He was an upbuilder in the best sense of the term. His ability impressed itself upon all men who came in contact with him. He was very popular with those through whom his policies were executed, and all of the men about him were very fond of him. Those who had served him longest loved him best. Like all great men, he was very simple. His manner was genial, and assuring to the subordinates of his great system of railroads. He had a heart streak of humor in him. I have never met a man who was so satisfactory to do business with. I was very fond of him, and feel that in his death I have suffered a great personal loss."

Peary Arctic Club, who is to meet Commander Peary, arrived here this evening.

Mr. Bridgman denied that he had sent any communication to Prof. Helm of Dresden, but said that it was perfectly evident that Commander Peary and Harry Whitney were together for several days and that it would be a reasonable deduction that Whitney had informed Peary of Cook's claims, and that Peary would gather all available testimony to refute the claim, having heard the Eskimos' stories that Cook "had not been out of sight of land."

With regard to the offer of the United States coast and geodetic survey to arbitrate the controversy, Mr. Bridgman said: "I know that Commander Peary will be perfectly satisfied to abide by its verdict. Peary has a commission from the survey to take certain observations and data, and will submit his results to that board."

Statesboro Cotton

Market Above Others.

While cotton was selling at twelve and a quarter cents in Augusta on yesterday it was selling in Statesboro at twelve and three-eighths, just one-eighth above the Augusta market, and Augusta generally sets the short cotton market for this section of Georgia. She has the mills there to manufacture it with and can always give the top of the market. The editor of the News was in Augusta and knows what he is talking about.

The break in the market on Thursday was followed by another slight decline in the spot market on yesterday, but most of the losses of yesterday's opening hours was recovered before the market closed at two o'clock.

A leading Cotton Factor of Augusta in conversation with us stated that he would not be surprised to see the market go lower, in fact he expected to see it to ten and a half cents, but a little later he expected it to go to fifteen cents. The break in the market is caused by a rush of the bears taking advantage of the heavy movement just at this time. There did not seem to be sufficient strength back of the bulls to save the day, even in the face of the shortest crop report on record.

Other cotton men were inclined to think the bottom had not been reached, they saw no reason for a further decline in the face of the short crop. There were some who contributed the decline to the influence caused by the death of Harriman which caused a shock in financial circles.

FARMERS' UNION IN FOR POLITICS

Will Ask for Certain State and National Legislation.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 8.—Far reaching results of a political nature may be expected from the national convention of the Farmers' Union, now in session in this city with an attendance of delegates from a score or more of States. The meeting is the regular annual session for the consideration of reports, the discussion of matters relating to the price of crops and their marketing, the election of officers and other business of a routine character. It is expected, however, that other matters of far more importance to the public at large will be discussed by the delegates, for it is realized that the time has come when the prediction that the Farmers' Union was destined to play an important part in politics is about to be fulfilled.

It is now recognized by all that the work of organizing the farmers of the South and Southwest, especially the cotton farmers, has made such strides in the last six months that the union will be forced to the front politically in Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and possibly one or two other States, and that even if the union does not carry the primaries or elections and secure the offices it will nevertheless be able to compel the politicians and officials to adopt its views on agricultural and economic questions and to put into effect a broad system of State aid to the farmers.

If the Farmers' Union wins the country may expect to see far more radical legislation in line of Socialism than ever before, for the State credit of State money will be pledged to finance the cotton crop and perhaps the other crops, to erect warehouses for their storage, and to control, if not operate, the cotton seed oil mills.

Legislation will be asked not only of the States but of Congress also to aid the farmers. As a matter of fact, arrangements are being completed at the convention now in session to send agents to Washington to secure the laws asked for. The first of these laws, according to statements made by prominent members of the union, will be a statute closing the New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges and making it a felony to speculate in cotton.

It is intended to make the Farmers' Union movement national. The present membership is reported to exceed one million. It is organized in all the States in the South and in several of the Western States, but is strongest in the three Southwestern States of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Mother Finds Child; Baby Finds Mother.

This is the story of how a mother, bereft of her child in the very hour of its birth, has found consolation in her hour of deepest grief, and a baby has found the woman who bore it, has come to know the wonderful mystery of a mother's love.

To those who see daily the sorrid, seamy, unromantic side of life, whose hearts have become calloused by the close observation of much misery and more that is worse; there comes, now and then, the sudden realization that the poet of old really saw a light shining through the darkness when he said that "God moves in a mysterious way, his wonders to perform." A fitting example of the truth of this is furnished by an incident which has just occurred in Savannah.

Just a month ago there was born, at the Park View Sanitarium, a baby boy, whose mother deserted the infant the moment she was able to leave the institution. The little boy child thrived amazingly, and the authorities were beginning to wonder what to do with it. It was here that Providence stepped in and took a hand in the game that Fate was playing with the life of the child. Lying at St. Joseph's hospital, (severely ill, was another woman. Hers was a different soul from that of the mother who left her child to its fate. A baby had been born to this woman also, but it gasped briefly for a few short hours and then turned in her arms and died.

After the death of her baby, the woman seemed to grow worse and her mother's heart yearned for the baby that was gone. Some one, under a happy inspiration, thought of the baby that was motherless and deserted at the other hospital, and suggested that it might ease the pain of the poor mother's heart to care for the little stranger.

The plan was approved and the baby brought to the woman who lay sick and lonely in the hospital, thinking of her lost little one. The experiment proved successful beyond the wildest hopes of all concerned. With a gurgle of joy the baby settled itself in the arms that were hungrily stretched toward him, and a smile of supreme content lit the wan face of the foster mother. Now all is well with both, and the baby seems not one whit more satisfied and happy than does his adopted mother, who is on the highroad to recovery, and who has announced her intention of permanently adopting her "found" baby.—Savannah News.

Barr-Hopkins.
The prettiest wedding that has occurred in Statesboro in some time was that of Miss Sara Barr and the Rev. Olmstead Key Hopkins at the Methodist church Wednesday night, the ceremony being performed by Presiding Elder J. M. Lovett of the Savannah district, and the Rev. P. W. Ellis, pastor of the Methodist church.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The bride party entered the church at 8 o'clock to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, rendered by Miss Nonie Acree, of Wrightsville. The bride was given in white and carried a bunch of white roses. The bride party was formed at the home of Dr. Lively, just across the street from the church. The bride entered on the arm of her father and the groom with his brother, Mr. H. C. Hopkins. The attendants were Miss Rosamond Morell, of Wrightsville, maid of honor; Miss Mattie Lively of Statesboro, Miss Minnie Ellis of Turnerville, and Messrs. N. S. Kemp, H. C. Hopkins and Lewis L. Barr, brother of the bride, and the flower girls were Misses Kathleen McCroan and Mary Lee Jones, both of Statesboro.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Barr. After the ceremony the party were driven to the home of the bride's parents. For some time Mr. Hopkins has been pastor of the Methodist church at Milledgeville and in that circuit, but has recently been summoned to the foreign fields in Cuba, and after spending a few days at Milledgeville he and his bride will leave for their new field of work. The bride some time ago prepared herself for a missionary and it is understood that both Rev. and Mrs. Hopkins will be engaged in this work.

FARMER'S UNION SAYS 15C POUND

Birmingham.—Charles S. Barrett was unanimously re-elected President National Farmers Union Thursday morning.

This is the fourth term for Mr. Barrett.

It is rumored that the committee will fix the minimum of the cotton price at fifteen cents.

Many people delude themselves by saying "It will wear away," when they notice symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble. This is a mistake. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy, and stop the drain on the vitality. It cures backache, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, and makes every trace of pain, weakness, and urinary troubles disappear.—W. H. Ellis Co.

Unique 'Ad' Scheme.
Columbia, S. C., Sept. 8.—The farmers of Marlboro county are very interested in agriculture and especially so in the raising of corn. State Superintendent of Education Swearingen today received a series of post cards from that county with scenes of the field, all illustrative of the fine crops that are grown in that section of the State.

The post cards were hung on the walls of the office of the superintendent. One of the most cards showed several very large ears of corn, which was marked Marlboro corn. Another was a corn field with several boys standing about, this being marked, "Corn raised by boys in corn contest, 12,000 stalks to the acre." The most unique card of them all was the one with several men in a cotton field, all eating watermelons, and with the following motto: "Cotton, Corn and Contentment."

The following letter came with the post cards from County Superintendent Easterling of Marlboro: "I am enclosing you a little souvenir which you may hang some where as an advertisement of the Marlboro County Boy's Corn Club. When it comes to pyrotechnics or actual results Marlboro is hard to beat in making big crops. At least twelve of the seventeen boys who entered the contest will make 50 bushels and over per acre. Two will go near a hundred. Our cotton crop is off 20 per cent. from July prospect. Hope to have a lively contest in cotton and corn next year. Mr. Ira W. Williams has promised to come over on the first Monday in November. We expect to have some agricultural exhibits on hand. Could you be with us?"

ARM TORN OFF IN COTTON GIN.

J. A. Davis, of Screven County, Real Estate Man, the Victim.

Sylvania, Ga., Sept. 11.—Mr. J. A. Davis, a well known real estate man of this county, president of the Newington Land company, and for many years traveling representative for the Morning News, had his right arm cut off in a gin at Newington today.

The ginney there belongs to the Newington Land company, and Mr. Davis was helping to adjust some difficulty when the unfortunate accident occurred. Dr. Lanier, of Oliver, was hastily summoned and came to his assistance. Mr. Davis was brought to Sylvania, accompanied by a number of friends, and this afternoon physicians amputated the wounded parts of his arm.

He is holding up with great nerve and nothing more serious than the injury already sustained is feared. There is no more popular man in this section than J. A. Davis and he has a host of friends all over the state, who will learn with sorrow of the sad accident.
