MORGAN CALLED BY HARRIMAN

JUST PASSING INTO BEYOND.

It is Believed the Dying Man Asked Morgan to Protect the Harriman Securities—Preparing for the Funeral at Arden.

Arden, N. Y., Sept. 11.—One of the last men to talk with Edward H. Harriman before the death of last Sunday that ended in his death was J. P. Morgan.

The financier came to Arden Thursday of last week, when the encouraging improvement noted in Mr. Harriman's condition was at its height, and in spite of his bodily weakness, the head of the Union Pacific system was as well able to discuss business as at any time in his life. For nearly two hours the two leaders of American finance sat on the porch in the sun. It is believed that at this conference plans were laid to support the financial market in the event of Mr. Harriman's death or in case his health forced him to abandon all business activity.

Mr. Morgan's country estate on the west bank of the Hudson joins that of Mr. Harriman.

When this conference occurred Mr. Harriman knew he was a dying man, although he kept this information from his family and steadily encouraged their belief that he would get well. No one saw more clearly than Mr. Harriman what would probably happen when he died. For the sake of thousands of railroad stockholders, as well as for his own interests, he knew that unless the strongest money power in the country "got under" the market the effect would be disastrous.

This, without doubt, was why he called in Mr. Morgan.

The Harriman funeral continued to be the main topic of conversation in this vicinity today. The little church at Arden, with its seating capacity of only 150, cannot begin to accommodate the crowd that will attend the public funeral services, or even the so-called "private" ceremony at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Messages of condolence continued to arrive at Arden house. The mail of the little postoffice at Arden today swelled a dozen times beyond its usual size.

For the first time since Sunday Philip Robert S. Lovett did not spend the night at Arden house last night. Dr. Lytle also was away, and the group in the house was made up entirely of the members of the family.

Little due to the cause of Mr. Harriman's death is given by the death certificate prepared by Dr. Lytle.

This certificate was received today by I. D. Smith, the undertaker, who will file it with the town clerk at High a. d. M. It gives the cause of death as "heart failure, superinduced by internal complications."

Wanted schoolchildren to board at my house in good private family. I can accommodate 5 or 6. Close to school, in good locality and healthy place. Board very cheap and table furnished with the best the market affords.

Freight Engine Smashes Ice Wagon.

There was a small sized collision on the Central of Georgia tracks near the depot here on yesterday afternoon. While the freight train was making its regular drills preparatory to leaving towards Dover, the wagon of the Green Ice Co. collided with the freight engine at the Hill street crossing. It seems that the switch was full of cars and the driver in attempting to cross did not observe the approach of the engine, the pilot striking the rear end of the wagon, tearing it up pretty badly, bruising the negro driver and injuring Conrad Mitchell, a young white man who had accompanied the wagon which carried a shipment of ice intended to be loaded on the freight train then preparing to leave.

Neither the white boy or the negro are hurt very seriously, but the wagon was pretty badly demolished.

ARE WE DEVELOPING?

Georgia, And Georgia Institutions and Men in the Lead?

Is it not true that our Minerals, Forests, Farm Products, Waterways and Waterpowers are before the eye of the world?
 Is it not so that our greatness is at hand?
 Is it not so that our cotton, peaches, agricultural products, Gold, Metals, Coal, Iron, Marble, Granite, Clays, Lumber, Naval Stores and Natural Resources places us in the lead of all?
 Is it not so that Georgia is a wonder, worth over a billion and a half dollars! (intrinsic value.)
 Is it not so that Georgia has 568 banks with a capital of about $20,000,000, and deposits $70,000,000? Nothing in the Union to compare with it.
 And, is it not so that out of 32 Insurance Companies doing business in Georgia during 1908, and writing over $44,000,000, the Empire Life, our own Georgia Company, wrote $5,949,135? You can figure what per cent of the whole is represented in this magnificent showing.

John and Ardin Kea

Held on Murder Charge.

Dublin, Ga., Sept. 14.—Late yesterday afternoon the coroner's jury empaneled to make an investigation regarding the assassination of John Minton, a negro boy, about dark Saturday, returned a verdict charging John and Ardin Kea, sons of Chairman W. Kea, of the board of commissioners of roads and revenues of Laurens county, with the murder. Coroner Shea immediately swore out a warrant against the two men and a short time later John Kea was arrested and placed in jail. The warrant against Ardin Kea has not yet been served, but it is expected that he will come in shortly and surrender himself to the officers.

Ringold Perry, a well-to-do and respectable negro, was with Minton when he was killed. Perry was shot in the thigh. It is believed that the assassin was after Perry and not the boy.

Perry testified before the coroner's jury, but refused to state whom he suspected. He stated that he was afraid to make his suspicions known.

Track hounds trailed the assassin or some one from the ambulance he had erected near the road and from behind which he shot the two negroes to the home of Ardin Kea. Later another dog trailed the track to Kea's house. John Kea was seen in the afternoon at the home of his brother. He had a Mauser rifle in his hand. The negroes were shot with a Mauser rifle. Kea's track was measured and was found to be identical with the tracks trailed by the dogs.

The above is the evidence brought out in the investigation and is the basis for the verdict of the coroner's jury. When the tragedy first became known Coroner Shea was informed that the county would not pay the bill for investigating the murder as there was an eye witness. The citizens of the city, however, insisted that Perry could not be called an eye witness as he did not see the person who fired at Minton or himself and the law contemplates that to be an eye witness the persons must be able to tell all of the facts connected with the shooting. It was therefore insisted that the coroner hold an inquest, which was done late yesterday afternoon.

The finding of the jury was kept a secret until warrants could be sworn out. John Kea and his relatives, however, expected that he would be charged with murder. As soon as it became known that he was wanted he came to the center of the city from his father's home on Palmer street and surrendered.

It is not known why Ardin Kea is implicated unless it be as an accessory before or after the fact, perhaps both. It is not believed that he will find it hard to clear himself.

The white citizens of the county were much incensed over the tragedy and at once made up a sum of money to offer as a reward. Minton was an inoffensive boy about nineteen years of age. Perry is one of the best negroes in the county, is reliable, prosperous and has the confidence of the white citizens.

BOWDEN TO BE COMMISSIONER.

Property in Litigation, Valued at $75,000, Placed in His Hands.

(From the Savannah News.)

Probably one of the most important appointments of its nature made in this section in years will be announced officially Oct. 4, when J. E. T. Bowden, known as the "lot king of Georgia," will be named commissioner for property at Glennville that is valued at $75,000.

The decision that this be done was reached at a conference of parties interested in litigation that has been pending for several months. The conference was held in Savannah Monday and Tuesday, the settlement being reached shortly after noon. The legal battle was a hard one, and was featured by injunctions that have been of interest throughout this section. The litigation began when a sale in June was stopped by an injunction, causing a setback in the plans of development of certain properties at Glennville.

It was at this sale that a balloon ascension and barbecue were given despite the injunction. The parties interested were: Glennville Bank, the Glennville Investment Company, W. U. Rogers and J. P. Williams Company. The property involved in litigation included 500 lots, 21 houses and a number of brick buildings, all in Glennville. Glennville people in particular will be glad of the satisfactory adjustment of the differences, inasmuch as the improvements for that town can proceed without further delay.

When matters reached such a stage that there was apparently no way to realize on the land and houses involved, the parties interested called a conference in Savannah and after due consideration asked Mr. Bowden if he would accept the appointment as commissioner. He gave his answer Tuesday and will receive his appointment from a Superior court judge on the date named.

A portion of the property involved in the litigation was deeded to the Glennville Investment Company by the Glennville Bank, the deal taking place some time previous to the sale in June. But Mr. Rogers claimed a judgment of $20,000 against the property and on the showing made by him an injunction stopping the sale was granted by Judge Rawlings. By so doing the other parties became involved.

Pending the appointment Mr. Bowden has started work getting the property in shape so as to pay off the indebtedness. The claims of Mr. Rogers, the Bank of Glennville and others will be paid in full by the commissioner at the earliest time possible.

Bride of Few Weeks

Feeds Baby to Hogs.

Bristol, Tenn., Sept. 14.—The sending of Mrs. James Disher, 20 years old and a bride of only a few weeks, to jail at Abingdon, Va., reveals a sensational scandal and case of infanticide.

According to Mrs. Disher's own story told at a preliminary investigation, she threw her infant into a neighbor's hog pen, presumably to be devoured by hogs. She denies having killed the child, but a string of physicians to conclude that the child had been strangled before being consigned to the hog pen.

WILL HAVE OFFICES IN SAVANNAH.

Strange & Cobb Reaching Out for Larger Fields and Will Locate in Forest City.

(From the Savannah News.)

It will be interesting to the many friends of Cols. Strange & Cobb, among the most popular and prominent attorneys in Bulloch county, to know that they are reaching out for a wider practice and will establish offices in Savannah, and have engaged rooms numbers 1 and 2 in the Merchants National Bank building. While they are enjoying as good a practice as any law firm in Statesboro at present, it is safe to say that they will also enjoy a large practice in the Forest City, and the News predicts for them a great success in their larger fields. It is with pleasure, however, that we announce that the Statesboro offices are not to be abandoned. For the present Col. Strange will remain in Statesboro, while Cobb will attend to the Savannah business. Col. Strange going down at intervals.

Colonel Henry B. Strange, the senior member of the firm, has been actively engaged in the practice of his profession in Bulloch and surrounding counties for over twenty years. He has always taken a leading and fearless stand in public affairs of his community, has represented this district in the state senate, and is at present mayor of Statesboro, and again we say that it is with pleasure that we can announce that he and his family will still be citizens of our town.

Colonel Herschel P. Cobb, the junior member, previous to coming to Statesboro some four years ago, was engaged in commercial pursuits in Macon and Athens. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia, and has for a number of years applied himself earnestly to the practice of law. During Mr. Cobb's stay in Statesboro he has made a host of staunch friends, all of whom join the News in wishing him an abundance of success in his new home.

Quite a number of teams were seen today in line waiting their turn to deposit their cotton in the new Farmers Union Warehouse.

Now in his new home, and while we regret to part with such a good citizen, it is a pleasure to know that he will visit us frequently. Mr. Cobb will probably leave this morning.

COTTON TO REACH FIFTEEN-CENTS.

Savannah Banker Talks Interestingly of Trp.

Most interesting is the report of general conditions in New York as brought to Savannah by Capt. Henry Blinn, who returned yesterday from a six weeks visit to Saratoga, Red Bank and New York City.

Of Capt. Blinn's impressions, chief in importance here is, perhaps, the attitude of financiers toward the future of the cotton market. Capt. Blinn reports that the consensus of opinion among the handlers of cotton in the East is that the staple will go to 15 cents at least, and possibly higher. He states that the reasons for this conclusion among the men whose business it is to know, is that there is a scarcity of the cotton producing output this year generally, and that there will be an immense demand in consequence.

That this will be welcome news to the farmers of Georgia is certain. According to the reports of the governments experts and from private sources equally if not more reliable, it is known that the cotton crop of Georgia this season will be unusually large and of an exceedingly superior quality. With cotton at 15 cents, this will mean that the cotton growers of this state are upon the threshold of an era of unprecedented prosperity.

The Cotton Market.

The price of short cotton stays above 12 cents and sea island runs from 22 cents up to 32.

Quite a number of teams were seen today in line waiting their turn to deposit their cotton in the new Farmers Union Warehouse.

Now in his new home, and while we regret to part with such a good citizen, it is a pleasure to know that he will visit us frequently. Mr. Cobb will probably leave this morning.
