VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN
WITHOUT FEATURE
Appears That Democrats Poll Unusual Strength.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 1.—As the campaign in Virginia for state, legislative and city offices closes tonight, there is little to indicate any marked change from conditions in similar contests within recent years.

The Democrats are confident of electing the state ticket by normal majorities of obtaining at least eighty of the one hundred members of the house of delegates and securing nearly all the city officers to be voted for.

The Republicans hope for decided inroads on the Democratic strength. They have nominated candidates for the house in about thirty districts. It is thought they may elect eighteen of these, leaving eighty-two Democrats in the house. Two state senators are to be voted for to fill vacancies.

The Democratic nominees in these cases are without Republican opposition.

Another Knock Given Dr. Cook.

Portland, Me., Oct. 31.—In a signed statement given out, Russell W. Porter, topographer on the Mt. McKinley expedition of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, declares that if it is true one of the photographs in Dr. Cook's book was taken on the evening of the day the doctor reached what is known as Camp No. 6, the photograph cannot be one of the summit of Mount McKinley.

Porter, in his statement, tells of going to Alaska, in the spring of 1906, as a surveyor. When Dr. Cook and Barrill made the trip on which Cook says he reached the top of Mount McKinley, Porter remained behind to do some mapping. The doctor and Barrill reappeared with the account of the ascent of Mount McKinley.

At that time, Mr. Porter says, he had no reason to doubt the statements. "In Barrill's affidavit," declared Porter, "the states that the photograph opposite page 192 in Dr. Cook's book was taken on the evening of the same day that he took him with the flag at what he claims as the top of Mount McKinley, and was taken at Camp No. 6. This Camp was only three or four miles from one of my surveying stations, a locality which I recognized distinctly. It is about 5,000 contour, and some twenty miles from the summit.

"If it is true that the photograph signed 'The top of our continent,' was taken on the evening of the day they made this camp, this photograph cannot be the summit of Mount McKinley."

TO DISFRANCHISE
BLACKS IN MARYLAND
Keenest Interest in Election in That State Today.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 1.—Leaders of both parties tonight claim victory in the election tomorrow and quote widely different figures. With chief interest in the proposed amendment to the state constitution designed to disfranchise the negroes, the Republicans say the measure will be defeated in city and state by 15,000, while the Democrats assert that the amendment will be adopted by 8,000 or over in the whole state.

At the Baptist Church.

Next Sunday, Nov. 7th, will be an interesting day for the members of the Baptist church in Statesboro. The morning service will be out of the regular order. Inasmuch as the associational year will have closed, reports will be made from the different branches of the church. An important feature will be the calling of the roll of members and it is hoped that as nearly all of the members as possible may be present to respond to their names when called. Ten-minute addresses will be made by the following: W. C. Parker, Howell Cone and W. A. Mulloy. The speakers will address themselves to the financial, the social and the devotional features of church life, respectively. Every member is urged to be present. A cordial welcome will be extended to strangers and visitors.

M. H. Massey, Pastor.

Bishop Reese Impresses Large Congregation.

Probably one of the most able sermons ever heard in Statesboro was that delivered by Bishop Reese of Savannah. He is bishop of the diocese of Georgia and that he is qualified to the high position he holds, was plainly manifested by his able sermon Monday night at the Presbyterian church. He was assisted by Rev. Mr. Durrant in the services. While there are but few Episcopalians in Statesboro a good crowd went out to hear the bishop and many expressed themselves as believing the sermon of Bishop Reese to be one of the best ever preached here.

On Tuesday morning at nine o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Bacon, a holy communion was held, all of the communicants of Statesboro attending. Arrangements were also made for the Rev. Mr. Durrant to make regular visits to Statesboro and in the future there will be services at the Presbyterian church on the evening of each fourth Sunday. The public is cordially invited to hear Mr. Durrant on his visit to Statesboro.

McLENDON WINS IN HIS OUSTER SUIT.
Railroad Commissioner Dismissed Without Warrant of Law.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 2.—Judge Walter G. Charlton, in the superior court, this morning, holding that former Railroad Commissioner S. G. McLendon was illegally dismissed from that office, decided favorably to him his suit to oust Commissioner Joseph F. Gray.

Mr. Gray's attorney obtained an order holding up the writ of ouster until their bill of exceptions could be filed, and the case taken to the supreme court for a decision.

The order annexed to the decision overruled the demurrer, filed by the respondent, to the information. The demurrer to the plea in stoppage by the relator is sustained and the plea ordered stricken, and the rule nisi is absolute so that the writ of ouster is issued as prayed for by the relator. An appeal to the supreme court of Georgia will be made within ten days. Judge Charlton begins with stating the facts of the case; discusses the right of an office holder in Georgia to hold on to his office until deprived of it by the express demand of the sovereign, and then makes the following significant observation:

"Public office, as between the incumbent and an adversary claimant, within the spirit of the constitution of the prohibitions, and there having been neither notice nor trial as to either suspension or removal, the relator has been deprived of the office without due process of law, and it should be restored to him, unless the removal was with the consent of the sovereign."

WHAT HIS HONOR SAYS.
"I am aware that, in reaching this conclusion, I depart from the majority ruling of the supreme court of the United States, which gives me much concern. I am not construing the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, the history of which may account for the conflicting views of judges who have considered it. I am construing the constitution of Georgia, expressing, as it does, a principle which has persisted throughout our history, which we brought from England with us, and which is not contaminated with political considerations and racial conditions. Georgia does not need to go to the fourteenth amendment to be instructed in her theories of the fundamental rights of her citizens. The principle involved was law within her boundaries before the constitution of the United States was framed."

After referring to the manner of Mr. McLendon's ejection, he says: "The method employed was not that of impeachment, and was, therefore, not that required by the laws of Georgia. Bearing in mind the dignity and importance of this office, the act of 1879 itself furnishes the most conclusive evidence of the want of logic and reasonableness."

NEGRO ENTERS HOME AND TRAILED BY DOGS.

Last Tuesday evening, about 7 o'clock, Mrs. Annie Webb, who lives with Mr. W. S. Prectorius, went into the dining room to place supper on the table, and as she snapped on the light her attention was drawn toward the pantry. She was horrified at spying a burly negro there, who, as soon as he became aware that he was discovered, made a break for liberty via a window and rushed down town, not counting on the fact that there are two sets of dogs within easy reach of the city which are well trained.

Mrs. Webb was terribly frightened and rushing into the family room threw herself across the bed in terrible fear, but the marauder was far away by that time.

Mr. Prectorius, taking advantage of the speedy automobiles of Messrs. W. H. Blitch and C. E. Cone, in less than an hour had the dogs of Mr. Nessmith and Mr. Mike Bland at his house, when, after a little skirmishing, they led off in the direction taken by the fugitive and to the home of John Robinson, colored; both packs of hounds going to the same spot.

It is thought that probably John was hungry and, knowing how the land lay at the Prectorius home, he decided he would have an easy time lifting some rations; but the best laid plans are sometimes thwarted, as in this case, and it looks as though John Robinson went once too often.

The dogs, though young, have had good training and, taking the trail readily, they followed the negro to his home without any difficulty, the light rain of the evening making it easy for them to keep the track.

The negro, however, stoutly denies his guilt.

PROF. J. W. HENDRICKS
RESIGNS AS PRINCIPAL.

Rev. E. C. J. Dickens Elected to Fill Vacancy at Agricultural School.

Prof. J. Walter Hendricks, who has held the position of principal of the First district agricultural school at Statesboro, saw fit, for business reasons, to tender his resignation to the trustees and at the meeting of the board in Savannah yesterday they decided to accept same and endeavor to find a man to fill his place. Prof. Hendricks is well equipped for the position, his previous experience in Southwest Georgia recommending him to the place. His many friends in Statesboro regret to see him leave.

At the meeting the board selected Rev. E. C. J. Dickens, of Vidalia, as the successor of Prof. Hendricks, and he will enter upon his duties on the 15th instant. Mr. Dickens has had considerable experience and is well qualified for the work before him.

School Opening.

Middle Ground School will be opened Monday, Nov. 15th. The principal will be Mr. J. L. Needs. All patrons are requested to attend the opening.

Up to the Fair.

The Agricultural editor of the Statesboro News spent part of the day Monday at the State Fair at Macon.

The attendance so far is the greatest ever known and the exhibits are very creditable.

The live stock display is good as far as it goes. The horses are very poor. Mr. S. F. Olliff could have carried off the blue ribbon easily on his colt. Most any one in Bulloch could have carried off all the premiums on sea island cotton.

The poultry display was very good, and there were some good hogs and fairly good cows.

There are seven counties exhibiting in the agricultural building. The displays are very pretty. The decorations in the display from Worth county are the prettiest we ever saw. The display was grown and put up by a widow woman who has been making an effort for the first prize for several years. She will come very close to it this year, but we fear she will fall just a little short of it. The displays of Cobb and Houston counties are very good, with a slight advantage in favor of Houston; but although Houston, Cobb and Worth are so close it is hard to say which will win, but we would guess Houston if we were to make one, though we admit it is sorter like throwing up a coin.

None of them approach the magnificent one put up from Bulloch two years ago, and everybody admits it will not be excelled until Bulloch goes to the Fair again.

DISFRANCHISEMENT IN MARYLAND IS LOST.

6,000 to 10,000 Estimated Majority Against It.

Baltimore, Nov. 2.—Interest in the general ticket here today was overshadowed by that in the proposed amendment to the state constitution, intended to disfranchise the negroes and practically all estimates and comparisons have this as a basis. The ticket was complicated, the easiest to vote requiring 18 marks, hence the count was very slow.

After midnight Republican State Chairman Hanna estimated that the amendment is defeated in city and state by from 6,000 to 10,000, this estimate being based upon meagre returns.

Meagre returns indicate that the constitutional amendment aimed to disfranchise the negro is running slightly ahead of the Poe amendment, having a similar purpose, which was defeated four years ago. It is estimated that in Garrett county, which is strongly Republican, the amendment will be defeated by 800. The Poe amendment was defeated in Garrett county by 1,400. The estimates from the eastern shore, based on very meagre returns, show a gain of approximately 20 per cent. in favor of the amendment as compared with the Poe amendment.

Chairman Murray Vandiver of the democratic state committee said at 1 a. m. that he was entirely at sea as to the result of the vote on the amendment and preferred to say nothing. He said that the democrats had carried the entire eastern shore for the general ticket and that he was entirely satisfied with the conditions relative thereto throughout the entire state.

So Called "Spanish Swindle"

The Department of State, at Washington, has received a report from the American Consul-General at Barcelona, Spain, in regard to the band of swindlers operating in various towns and cities in Spain, who make a practice of writing to persons in the United States respecting the imprisonment of a relative and the guardianship of a child.

The Consul-General states that the alleged prisoner generally describes himself as a political prisoner from Cuba; he is at the point of death and has but one friend—the prison priest—through whose good offices he is enabled to smuggle an occasional letter out of the prison fort.

The prisoner is rich. He has a fortune in cash on deposit in the United States, but the certificate of deposit is concealed in a secret receptacle of his value; the value itself has been taken possession of by the court at Carthagena, which tried and condemned him, and will be held until the prisoner or his representative has satisfied the costs of the trial. The prisoner has an only daughter; dying in prison, his sole thought is of this beloved offspring. He has no friend or relative in Spain to whose care he can commit her. In this emergency his thoughts turn to the distant relative in the United States whom he has never seen and of whom he knows only through hearsay or the family tree. Will the distant relative assume the guardianship of the darling daughter, and the darling daughter's fortune of about $30,000? If the distant relative accepts the trust one-fourth of the prisoner's entire fortune will be the material reward. The good priest will go at once to the United States and take the darling daughter with him. There is but one condition: The ready money which the prisoner brought with him to Spain has been exhausted; the distant relative is therefore requested to send enough to liberate the value containing the secret receptacle and the certificate of deposit. This money is to be sent to the good priest at an address indicated, and, having received it, the good priest will at once secure the value and start for America, the "land of the free and the home of the brave," with the darling daughter.

The above is generally the first letter of the series. It is quickly followed by another in which the prisoner pathetically tending and his strength is rapidly failing and the end is near. He beseeches his dear distant relative to assume the trust and be a loving father to the darling daughter. The third letter is from the good priest himself, who in brief, touching terms, and hopelessly bad English announces the death of the unhappy prisoner; the good priest adds that the darling daughter is under his care. He is ready to put his promise into execution and start for the United States as soon as he shall have received the necessary funds from the distant relative. The good priest frequently incloses with his letter a bogus newspaper clipping announcing the death in prison at Barcelona of the famous Cuban patriot (sometimes called Augustin Labatut); the newspaper notice also speaks cunningly of the confiscated value and the darling daughter.

It is a simple scheme, but presented in such a plausible way that almost any unsuspecting "distant relative" of European extraction would be more or less deceived by the glad prospect of falling heir to the agreeable custody of a darling daughter with a big fortune, and a one-fourth interest therein as an additional recompense.

Naturally the first impulse of the distant relative is to ask a lawyer or a judge or some authority what course he ought to pursue in the premises, but as he thinks of doing this his attention is taken by the warning in the prisoner's letter beseeching him not to mention the matter to any living soul lest the secret of the value and the hidden receptacle be indiscreetly betrayed.

The value, after all, with its concealed certificate of deposit, is the key to the situation and possession must be taken of it before anything can be done or said. This (so cunningly set forth by the prisoner) is very evident to the distant relative, and so he quite frequently preserves the secret intact, and instead of consulting a lawyer or writing to the American Consul-General at Barcelona he quietly sends a draft for the sum demanded to the good priest and awaits results. Of course he waits in vain, and the poor, dead prisoner and the good priest and the darling daughter in the course of time pass out of his life forever, leaving him only an uncomfortable memory of the money he so cheerfully contributed to the confidence game.

For nearly twenty years these same knaves have been practicing their swindle, and it is needless to suggest that they are very carefully organized; they have confederates not only in the United States but in most other countries. The confederates in questions select a man and find out all they can about him; they get hold of family names, family origin, and family characteristics. This information is transmitted to the rascals in Spain, and letters are at once written to the prospective victim. The scheme is presented and developed in a very plausible way and many of our fellow-countrymen have "bitten" promptly and cheerfully.

Under the Spanish laws a felony must be committed before the police may act, and a mere attempt to obtain money by false pretenses does not appear to warrant arrest. The money must be actually paid over and the prosecuting witness must be present in propria persona to testify; otherwise prosecution would be useless.

Recently the letters written to the distant relative have varied somewhat from the original; the political prisoner having become a noted Russian banker who absconded, leaving a deficit of some millions of roubles, killed in a quarrel in England another Russian, and finally took refuge in Spain, where he was apprehended and charged with manslaughter. The change of character, however, is immaterial, and in the future more new characters will probably be introduced by the gang. The scheme is the same, and the public is warned to place no credence in such or similar letters.

Every effort has been made by the Department of State and its representatives in Spain to unmask these scoundrels and bring them to justice, and the Spanish authorities have also been active and several members of the gang have been apprehended and held for trial, but so far no convictions have resulted, owing probably to peculiarity of the Spanish law referred to in the report of the Consul-General at Barcelona, Department of State, Washington, D. C., Oct. 1909.

ARE WE DEVELOPING?

Is Georgia, And Georgia Institutions and Men in the Lead?

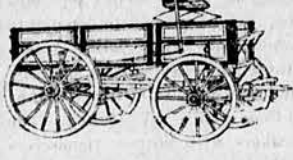

Is it not true that our Minerals, Forests, Farm Products, Waterways and Waterpowers are before the eye of the world? Is it not so that our greatness is at hand? Is it not so that our cotton, peaches, agricultural products, Gold, Metals, Coal, Iron, Marble, Granite, Clays, Lumber, Naval Stores and Natural Resources places us in the lead of all? Is it not so that Georgia is a wonder, worth over a billion and a half dollars? (intrinsic value.) Is it not so that Georgia has 568 banks with a capital of about $20,000,000, and deposits $70,000,000? Nothing in the Union to compare with it. And is it not so that out of 32 Insurance Companies doing business in Georgia during 1908, and writing over $44,000,000, the Empire Life, our own Georgia Company, wrote $5,949,135? You can figure what per cent. of the whole is represented in this magnificent showing.

Mr. J. T. Barrett, of Roanoke, Va., spent several days this week visiting his uncle, Prof. W. A. Kelley.

Miss Louise Hughes has just returned from a pleasant visit to relatives at Ludowici and other points in Liberty County.

Miss Earle Wood left on Monday for Hartwell, where she went as a delegate from the Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church.

Perkins May Run.

There has been a rumor afloat for some time to the effect that Hon. John H. Perkins, of Burke, Jenkins, Screven and Tattnall counties may go in the race for congress. He was asked a few days ago who would be the winner as it stood now. He stated that it was a little early to make an estimate until he made up his mind whether he would run himself or not. Mr. Perkins would poll a heavy vote in Screven, Jenkins, Burke and Tattnall counties.

It isn't so difficult to strengthen a weak stomach if one goes at it correctly. And this is true of the Heart and Kidneys. The old-fashioned way of doing the stomach or stimulating the heart or kidneys is surely wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. "Go to the weak or ailing nerves of these organs," said he. Each inside organ has its controlling or "inside nerve." When these nerves fail the vital truth is leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. A few days test will surely tell. Sold by W. H. Ellis Co.

Some Facts About Lots

IN STATESBORO

THE LOTS IN HIGHLAND PARK WHICH WILL BE SOLD NOVEMBER 18TH AT PUBLIC AUCTION

By C. H. DORSETT, Auctioneer for Dr. J. T. ROGERS, have all the advantages of good location, healthy neighborhood and fine surroundings. The elegant residences already erected are a guarantee of the future of the property. The health of Statesboro requires no other reference than to notice on her streets her stalwart men, handsome women and robust children. In no other interior city in South Georgia do conditions so generally unite to make investments in real estate not only SAFE, BUT IMMENSELY PROFITABLE. Instances can be quoted, near these lots, where ONE HUNDRED PER CENT. PROFIT has been made in a short time on purchases of lots. The future of Statesboro is ASSURED. Investments in lots within her borders, means, in the near future—A SURE PROFIT.

ELECTED MAYOR OF GREATER NEW YORK.

However. Loses Grip on City's Finances.

New York, Nov. 2.—Tammany elected another mayor of Greater New York today but lost its grip on city finances. Wm. J. Gaynor, of Brooklyn, swept the borough to victory as mayor by at least 70,000 plurality, defeating Otto T. Kearney, republican-fusion, and William Randolph Heart, independent. He failed, however, to secure the ticket with him, and the republican fusion forces will control absolutely the board of estimates and apportionment which will determine approximately a billion dollars during the administration. It is more than half a defeat for Tammany, for the control of the board of estimates was one of the principal issues of the campaign. In addition the republican fusion elected Chas. S. Whitman, district attorney of the county, and defeated George Gordon Battle, the democratic nominee, by at least 13,000 plurality, and John S. Brown, sheriff over Christopher W. Brown, democrat, by approximately 10,000.

Although many arrests were made for violations of the election law, the greater part of these were due to clerical errors and misunderstandings. The republican fusion forces were notably by their abstention from the campaign. Credit for this satisfactory result was given largely to the new signature law. Under the law every voter after receiving his ballot is compelled to write his name and have it compared with the signature which he made at the time of registration.

After a New York election was watched it was today's. Every polling place had its full quota of watchers, including nearly 2,000 from Columbia, Yale, Princeton and other nearby institutions, who were distributed throughout the greater city.

MINT JULEP IS PASSED UP BY PRESIDENT

Taft Quaffs Odor of Glass But Fails to Drink.

Macon, Ga., Nov. 4.—Nowhere on his long trip has the president received such a uniformly enthusiastic reception as in the south. Macon, one of the prettiest of southern cities, gave him a magnificent reception. At the fair grounds particularly the president received a demonstration which reached his face in one broad expansive smile. He was introduced here by N. E. Harris as one who for "harmonizing and reuniting this section, will stand without a peer among presidents." Mr. Harris said: "The president was noted for playing golf with the common people while he played politics with the leading men of the nation." In his address the president said in part: "You are somewhat associated in my selection as president."

"But we got you anyhow," cried a voice.

"Yes," was the reply, "and you have got to carry me for three years yet, but I will try to make the burdens light as possible."

He referred to the homogeneity of the people of the whole country. He said Georgia differed from Ohio in some political ideas, "but I don't care if you do, if you will only continue to welcome me as you have today and take me in as a babe. Had all agreed there would be no form in politics, it would denote an apathy that would indicate that the country was going down instead of up."

He urged the necessity of following the law as it is. Frequently in working reform, he said, it is felt that some laws which stand in the way of the reform might safely be ignored. In such case, he said, it is best to repeal the law first. In language that might be interpreted as criticizing the administration, the president said: "Sometimes in the zest and enthusiasm of desiring reforms we find impatience with the limitations of the statutes that prevent the immediate accomplishment of our purposes, and we are tempted to disregard and ignore them."

This president at thought was unwise and declared that the better way was to have the law removed to which would prepare several new laws at the coming session of congress whereby the responsibility could be upon congress and not the executive if the reforms were not accomplished.

The piece of resistance at the Bartlett breakfast was a mint julep brewed from a recipe as old as the drink itself, and Taft didn't drink it. He held it in his hand, admired the coloring, buried his face in the mint and quaffed the odor of it, but that was as far as he went. His failure to drink the julep was the only incident that marred the Macon celebration.

Woman Is Dragged

Two Miles by Horse.

Pensacola, Fla., November 3.—Thrown from her buggy when her horse became frightened an runaway as she was returning from church, the skirts of Mrs. Mary Brett, 80 years old, caught in the axle of the carriage and she was dragged 2 miles. The body was horribly mutilated and the woman was dead when the team was finally halted.

DYNAMITE AND SHOT USED AT JACKSON KENTUCKY.

Wild Scenes in Breathitt During Election.

Jackson, Ky., November 3.—One wild night passed without loss of life, but with the prospect of a still wilder one tonight, was the situation in Jackson this morning. Although a dynamite bomb was exploded and thousands of shots fired last night, only walls and plaster were damaged. Several persons in the supposed shelter of their homes had narrow escapes as bullets plowed through walls and windows.

Judge D. B. Bedwine, democrat, apparently has carried the county by 850 votes for circuit judge over J. P. Adams, the incumbent. The other democratic candidates for all offices also appear to be in the lead.

During last night's wild celebration the soldiers from Kentucky were stationed on the public square here, but it is reported that they possessed not a round of ammunition. They expected supplies from Lexington today.

Today the military here was reinforced by the arrival of the Lexington soldiers, who were stationed at Crockettville yesterday. The band of celebrating mountaineers was also reinforced. Attacked by the election reports which are being received here, they were riding into Jackson all day.

As they learned the fate of each candidate tonight they probably will follow their custom of firing numberless random and reckless shots. It is believed here that, until the final returns are in, the town will have to endure these nightly ball cartridge serenades.

As Jackson has no electric lights and last night's firing continued until early this morning, it is considered remarkable that no one was killed or injured. The town people say the mountaineers are careful about their aim in shooting, and the county officials regard the celebration lightly. Judge Adams, who is in charge of the troops, was at his hotel during last night's excitement, and efforts to reach him by telephone met with no response.

Miss Amanda Williams

Dies Very Suddenly.

On Thursday morning the remains of Miss Amanda Williams were found in bed at her home near Macedonia church in this county. The deceased had retired the night before, though not in good health, yet there was no sign that the end was so near, and nothing of her death was known until some of the folks about the house went to awaken her when she was discovered to be dead. She had been in bad health for some time, and her many friends in the neighborhood. She was in her 78th year at the time of her death and had never been married. She was a sister of Mr. S. J. Williams, our fellow townsman, and visited Statesboro occasionally. The remains were interred yesterday in the cemetery at Macedonia church where the funeral was held in the presence of a large crowd of friends and relatives.

LASHED HUSBAND AND ASSAULTED WIFE.

Negro is Sought by Posse Bent on Lynching.

Sutton, W. Va., November 3.—Two organized parties of men are tonight scouring the hills of this county searching for two negroes believed to have aided Charles Lewis, also a negro, in a dastardly assault upon Mrs. Mary Lockhold, wife of a prosperous farmer, today near the small settlement of Exchange.

If the negroes are caught, lynching is not improbable. Lewis, the only known member of the party of three who are thought to have been implicated in the deed, was killed by a posse today while endeavoring to escape.

According to Deputy Sheriff Williams, three negroes late last night went to the home of George Lockhold, and after tying the farmer to a tree and whipping him on his bare back with willow switches, attempted an assault upon Mrs. Lockhold. Persons who happened to be passing the Lockhold farm heard the screams of the woman and the negroes fled at the approach of the posse.

After a twenty-four hour hunt, Lewis, one of the supposed trio of negroes, was apprehended. As he turned to flee from his pursuers after being ordered to throw up his hands, he was shot and instantly killed.

Schedule Automobile Races.

For the benefit of those who may want to come to town to see the Savannah-Atlanta Automobile Races Monday we give you the schedule, as we get it from the Atlanta and Savannah papers.

Cars will begin to leave the Desota Hotel in Savannah at seven o'clock railroad time, and run every five minutes until about forty cars have passed. This will bring the first cars to Statesboro about nine o'clock and the road will practically be full of them all during the forenoon. We would suggest to those who have horses or mules that are afraid of these machines to be careful about driving them along the route of the races before noon Monday morning.

The official route is via Blitchton, Stilton, Brooklet and Statesboro. At this place it will turn up North Main Street and run from here to Blitch, turning there up the old River Road to Camp's Bridge, where it will cross the Ogeechee River. The road will be made to Milledgeville Monday night where a rest will be made until Tuesday morning.

The Averitt Automobile Co. of this place have entered a car in the race, it will be one of their white Buick's and will run in the third class. Mr. D. P. Averitt, Jr. will drive the car, and Judge S. L. Moore and Mr. C. W. Brannen will accompany him in the same car.

Mr. Averitt will leave this morning for Savannah where he will register his car for the run this afternoon. He states that his notice says they will start out from Savannah shortly after day light and one car will follow close behind the other, until the entire lot have passed.

Those who want to see the race had better come in early and see the biggest line of automobiles ever seen in Bulloch county.

PASSENGER COACH BURNS

IN S. & S. RAILWAY YARDS.

Supposed to Have Been Caused by Explosion of a Lamp Last Night.

Last night at 9:15 passenger coach No. 705 of the Seaboard Air Line Railway partially burned in the yards of the Savannah & Statesboro Railway in Statesboro. The car had been used by the S. & S. hauling their excursion traffic this week, and came in here at seven forty. The fire was not discovered until it blazed out as if from an explosion, and the Master Mechanic, D. D. Arden, who had passed it only a few minutes before it was the opinion that it was the explosion of a lamp which had been turned off and still smoldered until that hour. Mr. Arden was among the first to see the fire and quickly detached the balance of the train from the burning car, pulling it away. The fire department got in some good work in connection with the railroad force, and the car was partially saved. It was insured by its owners, the Seaboard Air Line Railway Co.

Brannen-Shelling.

On last Sunday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brannen, about five miles from Statesboro, Miss Susie Brannen and Mr. Henry Shelling were united in marriage. Rev. M. H. Massey officiating. The bride is one of Bulloch's popular young ladies and has many friends who wish her a happy future. The groom is one of Washington county's solid young farmers and has many friends in that section.

They will make their future home near Tennille.

Cotton Makes Heavy Slump.

Short cotton is off one cent on the pound since Saturday and long cotton is selling at 29 1/2, short cotton bringing 14 1/2. The market is dull and many farmers carried their cotton to the warehouses and stored it until the market gets better settled.

The colored people are loading their agricultural display for the negro state fair, which opens in Macon next week. They have a lot of good products of Bulloch's soil, and hope to win the blue ribbon.

TIGER'S CLAWS CUT IN NEW YORK CAMPAIGN.

Result Plunges Tammany Into Deepest of Gloom.

New York, November 3.—The forces of fusion will be in practical control of New York City's government after January 1 next although the democrat for mayor, William J. Gaynor, was elected to that office yesterday by a plurality of 78,016 votes.

Complete returns on the vote for mayor show the following:

Gaynor..... 250,673
Burnard..... 177,062
Leart..... 158,843

With the exception of mayor, the fusion sweep was complete. Not another democratic candidate on city or county ticket won success. The fusion forces, by electing their candidates for comptroller and president of the board of aldermen, together with the victory of fusion and anti Tammany candidates for the presidencies of all five boroughs, will give the opposition to Tammany thirteen out of sixteen votes in the important board of estimate.

This board will have in its hands during its term of office the expenditure of practically $1,000,000,000. On the county ticket the fusionists elected their candidates for district attorney, sheriff, county clerk, register and city court judges, which, with other victories, will place nearly every bit of patronage in the greater city in their hands.

Joseph Tillman Passes Away

On Thursday morning at his home near Jimp's in this county, Mr. Joseph Tillman, one of Bulloch's highly esteemed and well known citizens breathed his last.

The deceased had been in failing health for the past several months, and seemed to appreciate the fact that the end of his journey on earth was in sight. He is said to have purchased his burial suit a short time ago, and to have stated to his family and friends that he expected the summons in a short time. Mr. Tillman spent the day in Statesboro only a few days ago, and made some of the statements referred to here.

He attended to some stock and took out a horse from a buggy in which he had driven to a neighbor's home only a short time before his death. He went in the house, and lay down across a bed, where he was found a few minutes later by his wife, breathing his last.

The remains were interred in the Cemetery at Lower Lotts Creek Church yesterday, where the funeral was conducted by Rev. J. B. Dixon in the presence of a large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives.

Mr. Atwood Wins Prize.

Mr. B. T. Atwood, of Pulaski, was the winner of the prize which was awarded at John Wilcox's furniture store on the first of the month. The prize was two dollars' worth of goods. The same offer holds good during the month of November. That is, when you buy a dollar's worth of goods you get a coupon ticket with a number on it. On the first of the month the stub on your ticket, bearing a corresponding number, is put into a box with the balance of them and a disinterested party draws out one number. The number so drawn wins the prize.
