A GREAT Auction Sale of Lots

IN ITS BEST RESIDENTIAL SECTION WILL BE HELD AT
STATESBORO, GA. THURSDAY, NOV. 18, '09

By C. H. DORSETT, OF SAVANNAH, GA., AUCTIONEER.

These lots are located in that section of Statesboro that is growing the fastest in all that makes for desirability from the standpoint of present excellency and future value.

Statesboro is generally recognized as in the eyes of the observant public.

It is the growing City of South Georgia, with no successful rivals.

It is the greatest Cotton mart, especially Sea Island Cotton, in Georgia.

It is the recognized headquarters of the best producing section of the world's famous cotton, known, variously, as "Sea Island," "Long Staple" and "Black Seed"—that article that comes so near to silk—and must be had for many purposes of the manufacturer.

Statesboro is where land values are on the jump all the time, and where investors have only to sit still and listen while the profit grows.

GA-CAROLINA FAIR OPENED BY MR. TAFT.

President Greets Governors
Brown and Ansel—Leaves
For Florence S. C.

Augusta, Ga., November 8.—President Taft today played at golf with his host in Augusta, Major Jos. B. Cumming, defeating him 2 up and 4 to go, opened the Georgia Carolina interstate fair, rode over the streets of Augusta among the cheers of the "fellow citizens" and left the city at 3 p. m. for Florence, S. C.

The incident of the call upon him at the golf links, on his invitation, of Ty Cobb, the base ball player, the extreme cordiality of the reception of the president in his "winter capital," and the good fellowship extended to his entourage were the features of the day.

In his address at the fair grounds the president alluded pleasantly to the presence of Gov. Joseph M. Brown, of Georgia, and Gov. Martin F. Ansel, of South Carolina, who had made brief addresses, and expressed his gratification at having opportunity to be present and to again meet and greet the friends that he had made during the two months that he spent in this city last winter.

In his address the president touched upon a number of matters of national importance. The keynote of his address was national sanitation, that a national board of health should accomplish for the nation itself what the nation had accomplished for others in Cuba, Panama and other places. This is the first time in the south that the president has addressed himself to this subject. He also took occasion to talk ship subsidy and to suggest that the legislation merited the support of the South, especially cotton manufacturing communities like Georgia and South Carolina.

WIVES GALORE BUT JUST ONE HUSBAND.

Tears Flow in U. S. Court as Row of Women Tell of One Man's Weddings.

Cleveland, Nov. 9.—The evidence of five wives and two fiancées was produced by government officers today in the trial of Lucian Pickett in the United States court here on the specific charges of procuring under false pretenses $1,000 from Miss Allie Greasley, a crippled woman from Springfield.

One after another the women took the witness stand and told in tears how Pickett had promised to marry them, how they had given him considerable sums of money, and how finally, he had gone away, usually after, sometimes before, the wedding.

Bankrupt Williams Charged With Fraud.

One of the first matters brought to Judge Speer's attention in the United States court yesterday morning was the bankruptcy case of R. A. Williams, Jr., whose application for a discharge is being fought by the Bank of Graymont. The application of Williams for a discharge was already pending. When court opened Mr. Safford, of Safford & Larsen, counsel for the Bank of Graymont, which has already filed objections to the discharge, asking permission to file an amendment to the objections and have the whole case considered together.

Fred T. Sausser, Esq., counsel for the bankrupt, thought the question of allowing the amendment should be referred to the referee, but Safford insisted upon having Judge Speer pass upon this preliminary feature. This excited the court's curiosity and he had the proposed amendment read and explained, in which it was developed that Williams was charged with improper conduct in scheduling his assets.

In the amendment fraud on Williams' part was specifically charged in that while he was alleged to have been engaged in the gin business prior to his bankruptcy, he failed to turn in his gin book, and in addition to that he marked a certain account paid, when it is alleged, it had not been paid, and that he subsequently made an effort to collect the account outside the bankruptcy matter.

Upon consideration Judge Speer allowed the amendment to be filed with the original objections, on the idea that the allegations of the amendment contained were unknown to the objector when the original objections were filed.

To Probe Cook's Claim.

Washington, Nov. 8.—To pass on the question as to whether the North Pole was discovered before 1909, that is to whether Dr. Cook reached it a year prior to Commander Peary, the board of managers of the National Geographic Society today appointed the following committee: J. Howard Gore, formerly professor of mathematics, George Washington University; Rear Admiral John H. Pillsbury, of the Navy, and Dr. C. Willard Hayes, chief geologist of the geographical survey.

The program as outlined by the local hosts of the Masons will include much besides the essential business features of the convention. There will be automobile and boat rides, fish dinners and banquets, and barbecues and receptions galore, with the grand councils of the different states as hosts. To-night General Grand Master Henry C. Larabee, of Baltimore, delivered his annual address, and T. H. Jeffries, of Atlanta, welcomed the Masons to Georgia.

TWENTY-SIX CARS AT JOURNEY'S END

Autos Meet Glad Hand
Everywhere.

Atlanta, Nov. 9.—Twenty-five out of thirty starters in the Morning News endurance run from Savannah to Atlanta reached there Tuesday afternoon in fine trim, headed by President Frank C. Battery of the Savannah Automobile Club.

The long line of cars, dust-covered from the trip, but with everybody in good spirits and colors flying, came into Atlanta, passing through Peachtree and Whitehall streets and on out to the speedway club house, where they were received by the local reception and timing committee, checked in and turned over to the technical committee from Savannah for final examination.

During the trip through the center of the city the cars of the Savannah party were graciously given the right of way by the policemen at each crossing, and where thousands of people who were on the streets greeted them as they passed.

As soon as it was heard that the Savannah party had reached Stone Mountain a reception committee in three cars, headed by R. V. Conner and in which were Jos. W. Hill of Atlanta, Judge A. P. Moore of Savannah, chairman of the commissioners of Chatham county; J. E. Lewis and Clifford Lochridge of the Atlanta Constitution and others left the city and met the visitors just below Decatur, where they were all lined up and their pictures taken, after which they came on into Atlanta and reached the speedway shortly after 4 o'clock.

Of all the parties of good roads contestants coming into Atlanta this was the only one of any size which came through the business center of the city and the cars excited much attention and interest.

Twenty-three of the cars reached the speedway course together; the two others came along soon after. There they were met by the local timing and reception committee, headed by Chairman W. G. Humphrey and assigned to places to await their turn to be technically checked and measured. A plentiful luncheon was ready for the Savannahians as they came in and after their hard riding they were in condition to enjoy it.

It was impossible to conclude the technical examination of all the contesting cars at the club house on account of darkness and this work was concluded by the committee composed of A. W. Solomon, chairman; R. J. Davant, C. V. Suedeker and Dr. R. H. Johnson, at the garage in the garage in the city, where the Savannahians put up for the night.

Americus Man Foully Killed.

Americus, Ga., Nov. 10.—Night Watchman Durham, employed as the Virginia-Carolina fertilizer works here, was brutally murdered Monday morning by unknown persons. He was discovered at an early hour by the day watchman, his body lying in the office of the factory, and his brains being scattered over the floor. Clubs were employed in killing the watchman. Durham was paid eight dollars Saturday night. His meager wages were evidently the incentive for the crime, as his pockets were robbed. There have been no arrests yet.

TAFT DINED AS WASHINGTON WAS IN 1791

Seated at Luncheon in Chair
Used by Colonial Gov.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 8.—For the first time since George Washington was entertained here in 1791, Columbia is today welcoming a president.

President Taft arrived here today from Charleston at 12:45 p. m., and was accorded a typical southern welcome. He is the guest here of entire state, Columbia being the state capital, and thousands of people have come in from every section to add to the demonstration which is now in progress. Leaving his car at Main street, amid the cheers of a great crowd, the president and his party entered automobiles and were driven by the Bluff road to the state fair grounds, where another large crowd was assembled, and where the president made an address. The address over and the exhibits at the state fair viewed, the party returned to the city and were driven through the business and residential sections, crowds thronging the sidewalks and cheering the president, who in turn waived his hat and turned his broad smile upon the people in answer to their salutations. Governor Ansel and Mayor Reamer rode with the president reviewed 200 school children. Whistles were blown in the city, bells were tolled and the booming of cannon added to the demonstration which were given in the chief executive's honor.

Following the parade a luncheon was given the president in the hall of representatives in the state capitol, and this function was the most distinctive and picturesque of all the entertainments here in Columbia. To the distinguished company of men that sat with the president at luncheon, were added a setting in the galleries of the beauty of Columbia in a profusion of its fairest women, who as the women of the olden time did when Washington was dined, added the final touch of grace and hospitality to the reception accorded the president. A notable feature of the entertainment also was that the president was seated at this luncheon in the chair that was used by the colonial governor of South Carolina before the war of the revolution and which was loaned to the state for this occasion.

ROBBED THE HOME OF JUDGE SPEER.

This Charge is Made Against
Two Atlanta Boys.

Atlanta, Nov. 9.—Robert Symril, aged 16, and Charles Nelson, aged 17, were arrested by Detectives Dorsett and Coker of the local police department on warrants issued in Macon charging them with the burglary of United States Judge Emory Speer's home. It is charged that the boys entered the residence of Judge Speer two weeks ago, pilfering several valuable pieces of jewelry which were wedding presents of his daughter. After the burglary it is said, the boys began selling the articles in Macon.

Symril and Nelson are Atlanta boys. It is said they have conspired.

Grain Growing in the South.

If you want to raise more grain to the acre with same preparation as they use in a grain-growing section—sowing with a drill—come South, where the soil has been washed down silt and alluvial soil from the North for untold ages. Bring your idle roller mills, reapers, binders and thrashers to a county that offers great results. I want every farmer in the South to raise some wheat this fall. After your wheat is cut in June, on the same land you can raise a crop of June corn. Show them that we can raise grain in a profitable way. Let us fool the world.

If Little River County of Arkansas has all cleared up and put in corn alone it could raise more corn than the state of New Jersey. Texas, all cleared up and put in corn alone it could raise more corn than all the states north of the Mason and Dixon line.

Few people regard the South as a grain growing section or even capable of becoming one in profitable way, especially in the states where cotton is king. And the majority will be surprised to learn that the acreage in corn in Georgia alone in 1907 was nearly double that of all the New England States, with New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania thrown in; nearly as much as Indiana, and more than a million acres more than Ohio. In 1907 the five cotton States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi planted over 14,500,000 acres in corn, which produced over $166,500,000.

Grain-growing can be made more profitable in cotton growing states. Investigation will show that it is considerably more profitable in the South than in the North to raise grain. Some years ago a prize was offered for the best acre of corn in the United States, and for the second best. The first prize was won by a South Carolina farmer and Georgia the second prize. South Carolina and Georgia raised over three hundred bushels an acre and Mississippi over two hundred bushels. Missouri beat the United States last year on the average of fifty-four bushels per acre.

The South's average yield is usually low because corn is really a side crop, and neglected for cotton, and a large proportion of the crop is raised by colored croppers, who are poorly equipped with implements.

In 1907 the five cotton States had a little over a quarter of a million acres in wheat, with a production of over $12,000,000, about one-fourteenth of acreage of the five grain States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kansas.

In 1907 the five cotton States had nearly one million acres in oats, which produced over $11,000,000. While hay is not a grain it is so closely associated with it that it may properly be used in the comparison. The natural enemy of the cotton farmer is crab grass and they have little inclination toward the hay crop. Nevertheless in 1907 the five cotton States had nearly 500,000 acres in different grass, which produced over $1,250,000.

Young men, who interest in the investment and take are considered, the showings are even greater in favor of the South as a grain growing section, and should convince the farmer of the North that they can profitably get out in the south the crops they have been accustomed to. It should also convince the farmer of the South that they need not be the slaves of all cotton and should find something profitable to raise and with less labor and no danger of freezing out of wheat—T. F. Sorrells, in Home and Farm.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT HIM

Comments on Selection of Rev. Dickens as Principal of the Agricultural School.

(Savannah Press.)

At a meeting of the trustees of the First Congressional Agricultural College, held in the office of Mr. J. Randolph Anderson, the chairman, today, the resignation of Mr. J. W. Hendricks, the principal of the school, which is located at Statesboro, was received and accepted.

Rev. E. C. J. Dickens of Vidalia, editor of the Vidalia Advance, was elected to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Professor Hendricks. It is expected Mr. Dickens will accept. He said to the Press shortly after his election—

I hardly know what to say. Those splendid men who constitute our board of trustees almost took the breath out of me this morning when they so unanimously elected me to fill this responsible place.

I have given my life so far since to the pastorate and in later years to the promotion of education. I have enjoyed my service as a trustee of this school. I have an idea that it should be a great school for our boys and girls. I have labored for five years with my friend and brother, Dr. J. C. Brewster, in founding the Union Baptist Institute at Mt. Vernon. I am happy over our success. But I never dreamed of laying down my newspaper and leaving my good city—the thriving city of Vidalia. I love my town, her people, and my work there. How to turn loose is my great problem now. I simply do not know what to say. But one thing—I could not fail to be grateful for this expression by the board of trustees of the First District School.

Talking to The Press, Hon. J. Randolph Anderson, chairman of the board of trustees, said: The time has come that these eleven district agricultural schools must have a strong and well known man at the head of them. With that kind of a man at the head of the first district school at Statesboro there is no reason why we shall not have from 100 to 200 students.

Our board of trustees met this morning and, without the knowledge or consent of Rev. E. C. J. Dickens, decided enthusiastically that he is the man we need—the man who will, if he accepts, put our school in the very first rank of schools in Georgia.

Mr. Dickens is a good man. He is an able Baptist preacher, whose training was secured at Mercer University and the Southern Baptist Theological seminary. He has been a success in life. From a farm boy in Washington county he rose on his own efforts to his present position of prominence and usefulness.

He was for two years editor of the Baptist Observer in Indiana. He returned to Georgia in 1900 and located at Vidalia to aid Dr. J. C. Brewster in establishing the Union Baptist Institute at Mt. Vernon. He is the honored president of the board of trustees of that institution. He is the editor of the Vidalia Advance and the Stillmore Leader. The public knows of his ability in the editor's chair. He has served with distinction on our board since the establishment of our school. He is an all round practical man for the place. Our board feels that all good men of the state and district will join us in urging Mr. Dickens to accept.

Of course, it's too big a question sprung on him by surprise for him to answer us at once. He is devoted to his good town and work at Vidalia. It means a sacrifice for him to turn loose. But our board is delighted over even the promise from him that he will do his best to come to our service. Mr. Dickens is less than 40 years, has an accomplished wife, who, herself, was a plaid teacher. They have a family of three children. Our

The election of Rev. E. C. J. Dickens as principal of the First District Agricultural school at Statesboro is not only a well earned compliment but a case of putting the right man in the right place. It is to be hoped that the gentleman will accept, which he may do at a sacrifice to his business interests. As the editor of the Advance, Vidalia's wide-awake paper and enjoying as he does, the liberal patronage and the unwavering loyalty of the citizens of that progressive little city, he has much to be thankful for.—Bryan County Enterprise.

It isn't so difficult to strengthen a weak stomach if one goes at it correctly. And this is true of the Heart and Kidneys. The old-fashioned way of dosing the stomach or stimulating the heart or kidneys is surely wrong. Dr. Shoop's first pointed out this error. "Go to the weak or ailing nerves of these organs," said he. Each inside organ has its controlling or "inside nerve." When these nerves fail then those organs must surely fail. This vital truth is leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. A few days' use will surely tell. Sold by W. H. Ellis Co.

There will be big sale of desirable building lots in Highland Park on Thursday, the 18th. This is best unoccupied section of Statesboro, right in the path of the march of the city's building boom. There will doubtless be a large crowd of home seekers out to bid on the lots.

A GREAT Auction Sale of Lots

IN ITS BEST RESIDENTIAL SECTION WILL BE HELD AT
STATESBORO, GA. THURSDAY, NOV. 18, '09

By C. H. DORSETT, OF SAVANNAH, GA., AUCTIONEER.

These lots are located in that section of Statesboro that is growing the fastest in all that makes for desirability from the standpoint of present excellency and future value.

Statesboro is generally recognized as in the eyes of the observant public. It is the growing City of South Georgia, with no successful rivals.

It is the greatest Cotton mart, especially Sea Island Cotton, in Georgia.

It is the recognized headquarters of the best producing section of the world's famous cotton, known, variously, as "Sea Island," "Long Staple" and "Black Seed"—that article that comes so near to silk—and must be had for many purposes of the manufacturer.

Statesboro is where land values are on the jump all the time, and where investors have only to sit still and listen while the profit grows.

DEAD BODY OF NEGRO FOUND IN THE WOODS.

Sol Morrow Shot Trough the Head.
Young White Man Suspected of Doing the Killing.

On yesterday afternoon about sundown the dead body of Sol Morrow a negro living on the farm of Mr. Mike Bland near the city was found lying in the woods near a school house near the home of Mr. C. Groover.

The coroner was notified and a panel of jurors were summoned this morning to inquire into the case. Upon examination it was found that the negro had been shot with a load from a shot gun, the load entering his throat and coming out from one of his eyes. His entire mouth and teeth were shattered and driven against his cheek bone.

After empaneling the jury a number of witnesses were sworn, a little son of Mr. Lounie Deal testified that he had seen Lafayette Groover, son of Mr. C. Groover, go by the school house only a few minutes before the shooting, with a double-barrel shot gun, a little later he heard three shot fired.

Alex. Minney, colored, swore that he and a brother of Lafayette Groover were in the cane patch of Mr. Groover, and when the three shots were fired the Groover brother remarked, "I will bet that Fayette has shot a nigger."

Other reports say that the negro came up to Mr. Groover's home yesterday morning a short time before the shooting and asked for some cane juice. Fayette Groover who had been drinking pretty heavily cursed him and ran him off. The accused young man had not been seen since last yesterday when he was seen going towards the train, which left here in the direction of Dublin. He seemed to have skipped out before the remains of the dead negro had been discovered. Other witnesses will be heard before the coroner's jury this afternoon, when a verdict will be made up.

Wise Selection for First District School.

The whole First Congressional district, together with the entire state, is rejoicing in the selection of Rev. E. C. J. Dickens, editor of the Vidalia Advance, as president of the First Congressional District Agricultural college at Statesboro. No wiser or better selection could have been made and the unanimity with which the press of the district approve of the selection shows the immediate popularity that school is sure to attain in the near future under his able care.

Coming from a well-known Washington county family Dickens has built for himself a statewide reputation as an able preacher, a progressive educator and a fearless editor. His paper exerts an influence in this state equal to that of some of our leading dailies. In every avocation entered by him and every enterprise with which he has connected himself scored success.

Highly, but practically, educated, an able and eloquent speaker, successful business man, a thoroughly consecrated Christian man, courteous and affable in manner, a devoted father and husband, he goes to his new duties eminently well equipped to give this district the leading agricultural school of the state. He deserves our unstinted praise and support, and shall have it from this quarter.—Milten News.

FROM STATESBORO TO SAVANNAH TO BE MARRIED.

Mr. Sample and Friends
Came in Auto For Miss McCoy.

From the Savannah Press.
After an exciting elopement, the groom coming from Statesboro early in an automobile, Miss Bessie McCoy and Mr. James L. Sample, both of this place, were married in Savannah on Friday morning, by Judge A. H. Lane, at his office. Shortly after the ceremony the couple left for Brunswick, where they will stay a short while.

Mr. Sample, with Mr. Grady Smith and Miss Maud Brannen of Statesboro, came to Savannah in an automobile and went to the home of Mrs. W. B. Metzger, for Miss McCoy. The young lady was visiting Mrs. Metzger.

The groom had a license procured in Bulloch county. Coming down town in an automobile shortly before 11 o'clock, they went to the justice court of A. H. Lane, who informed them that their license was void. They were advised by Justice Lane to go to the court house and procure a license there. Mr. Lane's office boy went along to show the party the way and they got the license and returned and were married.

Miss McCoy is a daughter of daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McCoy of Statesboro, and is a niece of Mr. William B. Metzger, Savannah. She is also related to the family of Mr. M. L. Exley of Savannah. She has many friends in the city, where she has visited. Mr. Sample is a medical student of Statesboro, and a brother of Dr. R. L. Sample of that place.

Warning.

I hereby warn anybody from hiring, harboring or making any trade with Frank Akerman, as he left home without any cause.
W. J. AKERMAN.

The lots that are to be sold on Thursday, 18th, at Highland Park, by C. H. Dorsett, auctioneer, are surrounded by elegant residences. An unprejudiced resident of Savannah remarked: "There are few like it in Savannah."

It is a truism that "Dollars grow faster in the ground." You may put them in cotton, corn, dry goods, groceries or shoes, but if invested in good real estate like the Highland Park lots, they will grow faster than in any thing else.

Death of Mrs. DeLoach.

On yesterday afternoon at her home near Portal Mrs. Rebecca DeLoach, wife of Mr. R. W. DeLoach, breathed her last. The deceased had been in ill health for several months, and the family and friends have been expecting her death for some time. Her death was published earlier in the week by a local paper, but we understand it occurred yesterday afternoon, and the funeral will be held at Upper Lots Creek church where the interment will be made today.

The Congressional Mix-Up.
The announcement comes from Statesboro that Hon. Raphael Simmons will make the race for congress. By some it is still insisted that Col. Enoch Giles, from Lyons, would also contest for that honor, and others say that Hon. J. Randolph Anderson, of Chatham, would be a formidable candidate against all comers. But be that as it may, Mr. Simmons is in the race. As between he and Col. Edwards the outcome would be hard to guess upon, but for downright hard common sense, Mr. Simmons is far ahead of Mr. Edwards. He has shown the greatest kind of business ability; has come to the front unaided and alone, and so far as having accomplished something in life by his efforts, Mr. Simmons is in a class that Col. Edwards will never reach. His success did not come by accident and other people's misfortunes, and he is certainly not devoid of gratitude. Content to win whatever he contends for alone and on his own merits.—Milten News.

Dr. Eager to Lecture.

Dr. J. A. Eager, field secretary of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky., will lecture at the Baptist church on Sunday morning and at night on "The Apostle Paul in the City of Rome." The public is cordially invited.
Dr. Eager's subject on Monday night at the Auditorium will be "Sunshine and Shadow in Italy." Dr. Eager was a resident of Italy sixteen years and has visited there every summer for the past seven years.
Admission: Adults, 25 cts; children, 15 cts.
Lecture in behalf of school library.

Blitch Will Run For Mayor

The friends of Mr. J. G. Blitch are urging his name for mayor of the city, at the election soon to be held. Mr. Blitch is one of Statesboro's leading business men, and a man who can always be depended upon to shoulder his share of the city's burdens. He has a large number of friends who will give him their support should he consent to the use of his name for the place.

Statesboro real estate is advancing by leaps and bounds. Lots bought two years ago, have sold at one hundred per cent profit and the city is more prosperous now than then.

Don't forget to remember that the sale of choice building lots occurs Thursday 18th, at Highland Park, by C. H. Dorsett, Auctioneer.

Notice.

I will make my delivery of Fruit Trees, etc., here at Statesboro, Ga., Nov. 24, 1909. Anyone wishing to place an order for any kind of plants or trees will please do so no later than Nov. 1. I sell all kind of trees, vines and shrubbery, budded peaches and hedging a specialty.

Woman Has a Black Eye and Has Just Paid $25 Fine.

St. Louis—Had Mrs. Margaret Smith stop separating from her husband a month ago, when they fell out for the ninety-ninth time, she would not have a black eye and have had to pay a fine of $25. She and her husband had words Tuesday night, and he left her for the one hundredth time. Wednesday Mrs. Smith went to the home of Mrs. Emma Wall, where her husband is in the habit of boarding when he leaves her, and demanded a suit case he had taken there. Mrs. Wall refused to give Mrs. Smith the suit case, and a fight followed.
Mrs. Smith said she was married to Henry Smith in Louisville, Ky., in 1892.

Negro Parade Was Amusing.

Mr. J. J. Zetterow, who returned from Atlanta one day this week states that enroute home while in Macon he witnessed the agricultural parade of the Negro State Fair, it was a half mile long and the shewing was a good one, Bulloch county was in the middle of the parade with some of her fine products raised by some of her enterprising negroes. One feature of the parade was a persimmon tree planted on a wagon, with two or three live possums and a coon up the tree, with two or three hounds running along barking up the tree. This elicited loud applause all along the line, so Mr. Zetterow states.
