CONGRESSMEN TARGET FOR ZELAYA'S PLEA
Warships Ready to Nab Dictator.
Washington, D. C., December 3.—President Zelaya has not only refused to take official cognizance of Secretary Knox's note, which was practically an ultimatum, but he has declared to have dispatched special agents to Washington to endeavor to have the State Department's ultimatum set aside, first by appeals to that department and secondly by direct appeals to members of Congress.
The State Department is entirely aware of the presence and identity of these emissaries. These special agents are being watched in a general way.
Secretary Knox's note intimated in the plainest language that the State Department looks upon Zelaya as the man responsible for the torture and death of the two Americans, Groce and Cannon.
The plan to deflect the United States government's programme with reference to Nicaragua came to light tonight when Senator Fernando Sanchez and Dr. V. M. Roman arrived here. Neither Senator Sanchez nor Dr. Roman would talk. They gave their address as New York.
Members of the Central American diplomatic corps, however, were in a flutter when they discovered the new arrivals. Senator Sanchez, they declared, is a partner of Zelaya in many of the latter's business ventures in Nicaragua and he has managed to amass a fortune of between four and five million dollars in gold. Doctor Roman, the report continued, long has been Senator Sanchez's business adviser and he is also a close friend and adherent of Zelaya.
During the afternoon and early evening more than a score of telegrams were dispatched from Senator Sanchez's rooms. Almost an equally large number were received. This telegraphic activity, the Central Americans insist, is aimed at members of congress, with a view of winning over enough of them to render the administration's present program inoperative in the event it is presented to congress.
Dr. Salvador Castillo, the diplomatic agent of the provisional government of Nicaragua and representative of the revolutionists here, today made formal request to Secretary Knox that he be received on equal terms with the agents of the Zelaya government. It is generally believed that Dr. Castillo's request will be granted. While making all preparations for action this government has renewed the claim that preceded the issue of Secretary Knox's note. There were no developments in the State Department today. To all appearances, the department is

CHICAGO-SAVANNAH THROUGH TRAINS
Soon to be Inaugurated
Macon, Dec. 3.—Persons well informed in local railroad circles believe the late order of the Central of Georgia Railway to the effect that all passenger coaches, baggage and mail and private cars be transformed from Tuscan red to Illinois Central green and that vestibules be placed on all coaches, indicates that the through service from Savannah to Chicago will shortly be inaugurated.
It is known that the order to change the color of the Central's equipment to correspond with that of the Illinois Central is to be rushed. Already the cars are moving on the paint shops at the various terminals.
The Illinois Central now operates through passenger trains from Chicago to Jacksonville, one train daily, via Birmingham, Columbus, Americus and Albany, Macon and Savannah and the territory traversed by the Griffin to Savannah line will have, if current railroad gossip is an indication, through Western service within a few months, affording comfort and convenience to vast numbers of the road's patrons.
The roadbed of the Central is being ballasted and greatly improved. The "kinks" are being taken out and grades removed. This is an idea of the late Edward H. Harriman, which still lives. Rock ballast, new cross-ties and heavier rails indicates that heavier, better equipped and faster trains will be running over the line before long.

Historical Facts

About Waynesboro

In view of the fact that several of our citizens attended the recent session of the South Georgia Methodist conference, and Waynesboro being our neighbor, we decided that the dispatch printed below and clipped from the Macon News, would be of interest to many of our readers. Waynesboro and Burke county, in the years gone by, occupied a decidedly prominent place in the political and religious interests of our state.

The Macon News' article, which bears an Atlanta date of Dec. 4, reads as follows:

Interesting historical associations are recalled in connection with the 43d session of the South Georgia Methodist conference which is now drawing to a close at Waynesboro. In matters civil as well as ecclesiastical there clusters about that section of the commonwealth more than usual interest.

Three governors of the state, namely, Hall, Telfair and Herschel V. Johnson, came from what was once the territory of Burke county.

The county took its name from the great statesman, Edmund Burke. The early settlers of the county came from Virginia. When Burke county was set off from the St. George parish, there were few negroes there and this was true until the people found out how fertile and well adapted the lands of that section were for the production of cotton. Then the negroes came and at one time Burke county held the record as the largest producer of cotton of any single county in the United States.

This is not true now, for the changed social conditions have run the larger percent of the white people into the cities and towns, leaving the rural districts almost entirely in the hands of negro renters.

Among the early appointments of conferences in Georgia, and in the territory which embraced Georgia, the "Burke circuit" appears and for many years thereafter the preachers were sent to that region under that or some other name.

Waynesboro was laid out as a town in 1758. The first Methodist church that was erected in Waynesboro was a plain, unpicturesque building constructed of undressed lumber and stood some where near the present cemetery.

The building was, after years of service, probably burned and a building more pretentious for that day, was erected on the lot upon which the present elegant and well appointed church stands. The congregation having grown they decided to build a larger one and in 1858 Rev. J. R. McCleskey, pastor, led 1100 J. J. Jones, the congregation began the erection of a larger and more costly church. This building was completed in '59, with Rev. A. B. Anthony, pastor. This served the congregation until the present pastorate of Rev. J. H. Scruggs began. Later this building was burned and has been replaced by the handsome structure in which the conference is now being held. It is one of the seven churches finished this year in the Savannah district.

Tr. Scruggs is ending his fourth year as pastor of the church.

Large Crowds Attend Circus

The largest crowds seen in Statesboro in many years was here on Saturday to attend the Sun Brothers Circus. The early morning trains emptied large crowds into the city, and the wagon roads swelled this until at two o'clock the streets were one great mass of moving humanity. The spells of the circus vendors rent the air and the whole atmosphere took on a gala atmosphere.

Perhaps the largest crowd of negroes ever seen in this city was the one here Saturday. They came early and stayed late, they stood up and talked loud and bought fish and drank circus water and had a good time generally.

One disappointing feature that went to the quick was the fair us to pull off "the serenade." This is what the negro calls the street parade, and, as one of the show men put it, they come to town to see this and mix and mingle with each other, but a very small percentage of the men ever go into the circus tents.

There were two or three thousand whites who seemed to have come for the same purpose. At 2:30 o'clock a reporter wended his way to the circus tents a mile away, he met a surging mass of humanity coming back from the show, and this, together with the thousand or so left up town, made him wonder if there was anybody at the show, to his surprise, when the tents were reached, the grounds in front were jammed with all shades of people—black and white, and when the inside was reached it was also packed to its full capacity.

There was an absence of the substantial element, and while there was a sprinkling of good people here from every section of the county, yet the great majority of them present impressed one of a crowd who were spending the first dollar they had to spare in some time, people who had come out ahead of the game this year, and were arranging to get rid of the fruits of their labors as early as possible. They patronized every feature of the show, and bought of everything that was offered for sale. They had their fortunes told, paid ten cents to see a picture of their future wife or husband, twisted the elephant's snout, ate honey-coated pop corn, paid extra to see the wild animals, bought finger rings, and paid twenty five cents extra to crowd down on a hard board called "reserved seats."

But they all had a good time. They paid their respects to the stars, and left a goodly portion of their year's earnings with them. There were more strangers here who live in the outermost corners of the county than seen here on any other occasion. They came in loaded wagons, and brought the entire family.

The show carried away several thousand dollars from the county, but in this connection no harm is done, for the reason that most of the money expended on this occasion would have been thrown away for something else. It will serve a purpose in unloading a lot of folks of their prosperity a little earlier than they would have otherwise been unloaded, and leaves with nothing else to do but to go back to work.

The circus served a good purpose. There was no special disorder except plain drinks and a lot of confusion by getting their luggage mixed. Taking it altogether, Saturday showed the finest exhibition of the effects of prosperity that we have seen yet.

There was more fun to the square inch than we ever saw before. Let's have another one.

Election Passed Off Quietly.

The city election was held on Saturday, and all the noisiness of Thursday night's meeting were eclipsed by handsome majorities. The majorities were handsome to the extent that they were based on unanimous votes, there being no scratched tickets polled.

Owing to the fact that the day was overwhelmed by the record breaking crowds here to attend the show, most of voters were either too busy to get to the polls or overlooked it in the excitement of the time.

Only fifty-eight votes were polled. The first meeting of the new administration will be held on next Tuesday night, when the board will be organized for the next year.

Rev. P. W. Ellis

Goes to Macon.

The people of Statesboro, and the Methodists in particular, will regret to lose Rev. P. W. Ellis and his estimable family from our midst, Mr. Ellis having been assigned to Centenary Church in Macon. He will be succeeded here by Rev. E. M. Overby.

Mr. Ellis is a strong preacher, and during his three-year stay in our city he has endeared himself to our people, who will miss him very much. He is admired for the firm stand he has always taken for what he believed was right, and he will leave with the best wishes of a host of friends.

In Memorium of Mrs. Robt. W. DeLoach.

During the year 1892 it was my privilege to spend six months as a teacher in Bulloch county, Georgia, and as an inmate of the household of Mrs. Robert W. DeLoach, whose death occurred on Nov. 12th, 1899.

In that time I learned to look upon her as a dear friend and a true woman in every sense of the word.

The sweetness and gentleness of her disposition, the kindness of heart and quiet strength of character, which endeared her to all hearts, returns to me now, as tender memories, never to be forgotten.

Her daily life was one of kindness, self-sacrifice and sincere affection toward all whom she loved. Her highest ambitions were centered in her family, and the welfare, character, education and happiness of her children were her chief aim. She craved to secure for them the advantages which might, otherwise, have been beyond their reach, and no sacrifice was too great, that would enhance their interests.

Her tastes and ideals were high; she was constantly reaching out for better and higher things, and her union with the church, shortly previous to her death, was but the culmination of a desire, which she had entertained for many years, and was but the outward manifestation of the earnest Christian life she had always led.

Her loss will be severely felt throughout a wide circle, outside of her immediate family. None ever went to her in vain for help or sympathy in time of trouble; none ever felt the lack of kindness and hospitality in her home.

She leaves in all hearts a wealth of loving memories, which, when time has tempered the bitter sting of loss, will serve to make better men and women of all who knew her.

"Alone unto our Father's will
One thought hath reconciled;
That He whose love exceeded ours,
Hath taken home His child.

"Fold her, O Father, in thine arms,
And let her henceforth be
A messenger of love between
Our human hearts and thine.

"Still let her—mild, rebuking—stand
Between us and the wrong,
And her dear memory serve to make
Our faith in Godness strong.

"And grant that she, who, trembling here,
Disturbed all her powers,
May welcome to her holier home
The well-beloved of ours."

WILLIAM SANDERS' BIG CORN YIELD.

110 Bushels an Acre and How He Raised it.

Ochlocknee, Ga., Dec. 5.—Mr. William Sanders of Thomas county who won the first prize in the Albany Herald's corn contest, having raised 110 bushels on an acre, has furnished the Morning News some facts relative to his big yield of corn that may be of interest and profit to farmers in other parts of the state. In response he says:

The land was in a high state of cultivation. It produced 600 pounds of lint cotton per acre last year. Nature of land is level pine land, gray soil with clay foundation. I scattered over it ten one-horse wagon loads of compost of the value of $5.

I broke the land ten inches deep, one furrow with boy plow and followed with point in same furrow. I laid off rows six feet apart and scattered broadcast 800 pounds of Brown's corn and oats formula, put up by Brown Manufacturing Co., of Albany, Ga.

I bedded out land with boy plow and planted the corn in water furrows, dropping the corn ten inches apart in drill by measure. I put 200 pounds of the same guano in the drill and covered with covering stock. When the corn had been planted five weeks I barred off corn with boy plow, and sided up corn with a sweep. In five days I put 100 pounds of same guano one side of corn in sweep furrow and plowed out that middle with boy plow and let it stand five days. I put 100 pounds of same guano on other side and plowed out middle with boy plow. The whole amount of guano was 1,200 pounds, of the value of $39 per ton. I finished cultivating with sweep, plowing out every other row every week.

I planted my corn the last week in March. I planted the pure Little Mitchell corn.

It is a short ear with very small cob and extra heavy grain. It bears from two to ten ears to the stalk. I did not find a stalk in my field that did not have two ears on it. It is a hard corn, and weevils bother it very little.

ATLANTA COMPANY FIRST TO PAY POLICY.

Empire Life sends check for $5,000 to Mrs. Harvey Anderson for the death of husband who was killed on Peachtree Street.

The first Life Insurance Company to make a payment on account of the death of Harvey L. Anderson, the well-known Atlantan, who was killed in an automobile accident Saturday, Nov. 6, is the Empire Life Insurance Company. This company sent a check from its Home Office, Atlanta, in full payment of Mr. Anderson's $5,000 policy to Mrs. Laurie Davis Anderson, the widow, on Saturday, Nov. 13, exactly one week after the accident in which Mr. Anderson was killed.

This prompt payment of a death claim by a Southern Company, is in keeping with the plan upon which the Empire has operated since the day of its organization. In the appreciation of the Empire Life's prompt settlement of this claim, Mr. Charles A. Davis, the father of Mrs. Harvey L. Anderson, has sent the following letter under date of Nov. 13th to the Company:

"In behalf of my daughter, Mrs. Laurie Davis Anderson, I beg to thank you for your check of $5,000, in full payment of policy held by Mr. Harvey L. Anderson, deceased, and to commend you for your courtesies and promptness in the settlement of this claim. Inasmuch as your Company is a Home benefits all of us while living and you certainly have the advantage when it comes to paying claims. This claim having been paid in a few minutes after the death proofs were presented to you.

BACON TO BECOME MINORITY LEADER OF THE DEMOCRATS.

Georgia Statesman Considered One of the Strongest Men in the Senate.

Macon Telegraph.

Minority Leader A. O. Bacon of Georgia.

That sounds good to the Senator's many friends throughout the state, and especially to the people of Macon, his home town.

The dispatches last night stated that Senator Culberson would retire on account of ill health, and that the Georgia Senator would get the place of minority leader in the senate.

The Texas senator has expressed his purpose of resigning as chairman of the caucus. A tentative program has been arranged by which Senator Money, vice chairman, will be elevated to the chairmanship, but having expressed disinclination to take upon himself such duties because of his state of health, Senator Bacon will by common consent among the democrats, be elected to the place.

Senator Bacon, whose term expires in 1913, is considered one of the ablest men on the floor, irrespective of party affiliations.

It was through his efforts at the recent special session of congress that the vote of every member on

McLENDON CASE WILL COME UP NEXT WEEK

Atlanta, Ga., December 6.—The Supreme Court will take up the eastern circuit tomorrow. This in itself would not be worthy of note were it not for the fact that the case of Gray against McLendon is on the eastern circuit calendar than which no case in recent years has been of greater importance, or has aroused more general interest.

While it is not known how long the court will be in deliberating the case, after it is argued, it is believed that they will take it up and get through with it as early as possible. In all probability they will announce their decision before Christmas, and this famous case, in all its features, will be history by the beginning of the year.

After thoroughly investigating the case, Mr. Cooper became convinced that there had been a change of sentiment, and that many people now believed as he does, that Milton, Leonard and Jesse Rawlings knew nothing of it was committed and Moore had admitted his guilt. He then took the case. He declares he will fight as hard to get them out of stripes as he did to keep two of them—Milton and Jesse—from following their father and Alf Moore up the steps of the Lowndes county scaffold.

The crime for which old man Rawlings and Alf Moore were hanged and the three Rawlings boys sent to the penitentiary for life was committed in 1905 in Lowndes county. Old man Rawlings had trouble with W. L. Carter, a neighbor, and it was charged he sent his three sons and a negro, Alf Moore, to assassinate the family. He admitted hiring Alf Moore to kill Carter, but denied his boys knew anything about it. Instead of killing Carter, the negro killed Carrie and Willie Carter, the children of the marked man. Moore said the boys knew about it and were with him and with his dying breath old man Rawlings denied this and said his sons were innocent. Milton and Jesse were sentenced to be hanged and Leonard was sentenced to life imprisonment.

RAWLINGS BOYS' FREEDOM IS NOW AIM OF ATTORNEY

John R. Cooper Announces Another Great Battle in Famous Case.

Atlanta Georgian.

Another battle which promises to be as noted as the one made to save their father from death on a Lowndes county gallows will be commenced in a few days to get Milton, Jesse and Leonard Rawlings paroled from the penitentiary.

John R. Cooper, the well known Macon attorney, who made such a desperate fight to keep old man Rawlings from hanging and who succeeded in saving two of his sons from the same fate at the last minute, is the man who will begin the battle for the freedom of the boys.

He is now at work on a petition to be presented to the prison commission and he will be backed in his efforts to free the boys by people who demanded their lives a few years ago.

Mr. Cooper passed through Atlanta Monday on his way to court in Gwinnett county, and while here he made the announcement.

"To my dying day," declared Mr. Cooper, dramatically, "I shall believe these three boys innocent of any complicity in the murder for which old man Rawlings and the negro, Alf Moore, swung into eternity. I firmly believed then, and I believe now, that they knew nothing of that night's bloody crime, and I will enter this case feeling that three innocent young men are paying the penalty for the crime of another."

A few days ago while Mr. Cooper was attending court in South Georgia he was summoned to Coffee county by Mrs. Angelina Rawlings, the mother of the three boys. She and her father, J. J. Jowers, told Mr. Cooper that people who formerly demanded their blood now believed in their innocence, and that they wished efforts made to get them out of the penitentiary.

After thoroughly investigating the case, Mr. Cooper became convinced that there had been a change of sentiment, and that many people now believed as he does, that Milton, Leonard and Jesse Rawlings knew nothing of it was committed and Moore had admitted his guilt. He then took the case. He declares he will fight as hard to get them out of stripes as he did to keep two of them—Milton and Jesse—from following their father and Alf Moore up the steps of the Lowndes county scaffold.
