READY FOR THE PACKING PLANT CAMPAIGN

County-wide Mass Meeting Sat. Feb. 26, to be Addressed by

John W. Greer

WHO WILL BEGIN A CANVASS THEREAFTER

Another Party Headed by Brooks Simmons, W. G. Raines, W. H. Sharp, K. H. Harville, W. L. Zetterower, and Others Will Visit Moultrie

Again Next Tuesday

Was there ever a more urgent necessity and more direct proof of the monetary value of a meat preserving industry than has been physically demonstrated to the great majority of Bulloch's farmers since the holidays? Weather conditions have varied so whimsically that just when a cold spell was thought to be of several days duration, justifying a general killing of hogs, and then to suddenly rise to a mid summer temperature, and presto change, spoiled meat of untold valuation. In order to arrive at some definite basis by which the promoters of the proposed plant may be guided as to the supply of hogs that might be available next fall, and further, to secure data regarding the great amount of meat that is lost every season, to that end The Statesboro Board of Trade invites the co-operation of all farmers who are interested in the movement and earnestly requests that every farmer who reads this article will comply by filling out the coupon printed on this page and forward it as directed. It will be an authentic source of information thru which a determination may be arrived at as to the amount of money that should be invested to properly handle the project for the first year. The information asked for will be held strictly confidential as individual data, and made public only in total figures whenever the subject requires. With this issue The NEWS presents opinions of those members of the Board of Trade who constituted the committee that visited Moultrie recently.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT IT

Bulloch County's Salvation

It's reasonable to assume that every farmer, business and professional man in Bulloch county during the past twenty four months has devoted much of his time and study to our questions relating to economics in his mode of living while searching for some means to improve his earning capacity; so that the discussion of any subject which has for its object improved conditions must be at this time of greatest interest.

Observation has convinced me. Bulloch county needs some other means of making a living than raising cotton, the price of which is practically made in Liverpool, and to lead our people from this single cash crop plan, presents one of the most productive fields for missionary work to be found. The interest in any plan of salvation should be especially seen and most thoughtful consideration given to the remedy offering relief.

I will give my views in as few words as the importance of the subject will permit. Cotton at best is by no means a sure crop, furthermore it is a long vexatious crop from planting to marketing, and although apparently profitable when the demand is good and price well above cost of production. It is an expensive crop because as a general proposition when cotton is high and as that it is going at the same high figure.

As it stands now this county bears close resemblance to Birmingham and the coal mine section of Alabama when the demand for coal and iron is poor. The cash crops of that section of Alabama are coal and iron and when the price of these materials are low it matters not for what reason their business in that section is at a stand still just as it is here now. Birmingham and that section is crowded with business now for her products are selling at good figures and in demand. The world at war is crying for coal and iron and are paying the price and will I predict for several years to come.

We, in the cotton belt have had our mind on clothing the world in cotton, but they don't seem to need enough of it and I believe we should turn our attention to trying to feed them as well. Twenty years ago every merchant large and small kept plenty of meat and generally made it a leader for his other wares. For the past five or more years one is lucky to find meat in any but the larger stores and they long since could afford to give away.

Meat of all kinds is scarce and undoubtedly will be so for years to come. The prices are governed by supply and demand and therefore I am convinced Bulloch county in order to wear the mantle of prosperity must turn a fair part of her attention to raising meat.

The census of 1910 shows that we've butchered in Bulloch county over 350,000 hogs in twelve months and I have good reason to believe more could be killed this year. I said so concerning cotton that it was an uncertain crop, the same is true of hogs and where the house is necessary for the storing relieve the burdensome debt under which our many farmers are struggling. The farmer will realize three times as much as any one else interested in the project.

While at Moultrie I was seeking local information of the industry, in that vicinity and I did not hesitate to ask questions, and to all my questions I did not receive one discouraging answer relating to the local value of the packing plant industry. Since the birth of that institution in Moultrie they have paved the streets, electric wires under ground, a white way that would make some very much bigger cities look sick; an electric fire apparatus manned by paid attendants both day and night and many other civic improvements that were considered impossible prior to the packing plant. If Moultrie and Colquitt county did it with a packing plant, Statesboro and Bulloch county can do it. One only has to go to Moultrie to see these things and the moment you step off the train you step into an air of prosperity. Seeing is believing, and I saw these self same conditions, therefore I believe we in Bulloch county owe it to our progress to grapple with this matter without delay, and I further believe that in less than one year we will establish the fact that Bulloch can operate a plant even larger than is done in Moultrie.

L. O. SCARBORO.

Our Biggest Asset

As one of the group of men who visited the Moultrie plant and one who went there in a measure a skeptic, I can frankly say that I returned converted to the firm belief that we of Bulloch county can more than duplicate the success of those people of Colquitt. There may be possibly some such enterprises some where in the country that have not proven successful, if so, I do not know it, but I do say that a visit to the Moultrie plant will very quickly convince one that if conducted as that plant is, such a word as failure is impossible. While it may not at the beginning pay a big dividend to stockholders, it certainly would not lose any money for them but it would prove one of the biggest assets to our farmers and business community that could possibly be promoted and we should lose no time in pushing it to a reality.

E. L. SMITH.

Been There and Knows

I've had the satisfaction of seeing a car load of hogs shipped from Bulloch county, delivered to the Moultrie plant, and forthwith butchered. It just needs an experience of this kind to convince a Bullochite of how very much we need such an enterprise in this section where conditions are more favorable for developing one of the biggest industries that Georgia will produce. They have an idea in Moultrie that and sale of cotton, the hogs must have the same aid to market them to advantage.

On a recent visit to Moultrie, Ga. I saw a plant, killing, curing and selling on an average five hundred hogs for six days in the week, eight months in the year and then some. I saw the people of Colquitt county and surrounding counties as well as nearby counties in Alabama getting away from the one cash crop cotton. The people I saw selling hogs were getting cash, good hard cash at that and they were well satisfied at the results of their labors, and to prove it they were improving their town with beautiful streets, the county with excellent roads, the farms with new fences, barns, houses and better stock.

To make this change from all cotton the citizens of Moultrie and Colquitt county united together in a firm determination to build a packing plant to kill and cure all the hogs they thought would be afforded for sale, but they can't begin to do so.

This county should build a plant that can handle not less than 48,000 hogs per year and I firmly believe such a plant could be supplied with this number of Bulloch county hogs with in the next five years and the Bulloch Packing Plant will be recognized as the county's salvation.

S. T. GRIMSIAW, Pres. Board of Trade

The Need of The Hour

After my visit to Moultrie and again to Savannah where I inspected the South Atlantic packing plant, I unhesitatingly say that a packing plant in Bulloch county is the urgent need of the hour to relieve the burdensome debt under which our many farmers are struggling. The farmer will realize three times as much as

A Feminine Expert in Railroad Rates.

Mrs. GEORGE ALEXANDER MOSHER.

Railroad rates, it might be readily assumed, are not in the sphere of woman's comprehension. But there is at least one suffragist who has proved her capacity to master that dry and technical subject.

She is Mrs. George Alexander Mosher, president of the Washington Women's Suffrage Council and treasurer of the committee of individual Washington women who are in charge of the arrangements which are being made for the forty-seventh annual convention of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association, to be held in Washington, Dec. 14 to 19, in quadra.

In her unmarried days Mrs. Mosher was secretary of the Nebraska state railway commission and one of the foremost women rate experts in America. Over initials which did not betray her sex she is said to have contributed many an article to the railway journals of the country on the field which she has made her own. Naturally enough, she believes that there are no phases of government which women cannot study and master.

URIC ACID IN MEAT BRINGS RHEUMATISM

Says a Little Salt in Water may save you from dread attack.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat lean meat, but drink plenty of good water. Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weary and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoon of this in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, water-drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.
To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired color. An advantage of this mix up is that it does not wash out. It is also good for the scalp. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair and remove dandruff. It is also good for itching hair and will make hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub out.

At the Pauline school has been the first school to place its name in large letters just in front of the school yard. Those who pass that way will know what school they are passing. If you are ashamed of your school then let us get busy and make it such that you will be proud of it, and then place your colors in front.

In the Savannah road school, the children are being taught sight reading of music. This is listed on the daily program and is actually being taught successfully. The children sing with ease and sing well. And, too, they have physical training, which is of great benefit to all school children. In the house and windows appropriate flowers are being cultivated. A yard fence is being built, and after its completion school gardening will be added.

The Savannah road school herefore has hardly been able to operate a full term because of non-attendance, but now they have two teachers kept busy with an enrollment of more than fifty. Miss Lois Horton has been given the assistant's place. Miss Hassie Davis is principal.

At the several school entertainments mentioned the respective sums were raised as follows: Jumps, by box supper, about $67; Clit, box supper and voting contest, $77; Register high school, box and oyster supper and contest, $44; all of which will be used for the purpose of adding needful equipment.

The special examination will begin at eight o'clock, Saturday, Feb. 19th. All who are teaching without license in the county should be here on time for this examination. Let us not forget.

Every school in Bulloch county was pre-arranged with a flag on Georgia day—Feb. 12th—while the teachers were in session. Mrs. J. C. Lane, president of the local chapter U. D. C., promoted this scheme and to her you should extend your thanks for the completion of the schools, presented the several teachers with their flags.

DRINK A GLASS OF REAL HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST.

Says we will both look and feel clean, sweet and fresh and avoid illness.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that baffle the mind. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel full and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy nose, cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphate hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the bodily organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, biliousness, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have shallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

DAIRY FARMER GAINS 30 LBS.

Declares He Now Eats Better, Sleeps Better and Feels Better in Every Way Since Taking Tanlac.

Everybody in Columbia, Tenn., knows F. C. McGavock, who owns and operates a large dairy business in that city.

"If there ever was a believer in Tanlac," said R. M. Smiser, the well known Columbia, Tenn., druggist, "it is Mr. McGavock, as he talks about it all the time. But he has a right to talk, as no medicine has ever helped anyone as much as Tanlac has helped him. He really does not look like the same man." Here is Mr. McGavock's statement:

"I have now taken five bottles of Tanlac and have gained thirty pounds. If you don't believe it, right here I am, come and look at me. I don't know what my trouble was, but I was all run down and unfit for work. I think though it must have been my stomach, as I had no appetite and nothing seemed to agree with me. I was also nervous and could not sleep good. I just kept going down hill and losing weight right along, and nothing did me any good until Smiser, the druggist, told me about Tanlac.

"I tried it on his recommendation and it helped me the first few doses. The medicine seemed to take hold right at once, and I began to eat better, sleep better and feel better right from the start. If anybody wants to know what I think about Tanlac, just tell them to come and see me. I am right here in Columbia Tanlac has simply made a new man of me and I expect to tell all my friends about what it has done in my case."

Referring to the above statement G. F. Willis, southern distributor of Tanlac, said:

"Tanalac is undoubtedly the greatest medicine of its kind on the American market today. The extreme popularity of Tanlac can only be accounted for by the extraordinary merit of the medicine. The system, besides being purified, is toned up and invigorated, as the preparation aside from cleansing the blood, revitalizes the constitution, over-coming, as it quickly seems to do, nervousness, indigestion, non-assimilation of the food, headaches, dizziness, and other troubles that are so common."

Tanalac is sold exclusively in Statesboro by W. H. Ellis Co., and in Metter by Franklin Drug Co.—Adv.

The attendance has increased so much this term that it has been necessary to add an extra teacher to each of the following named schools: Aaron, Bradwell, Enterpriser, Jumps, Bragg, Pauline, Clito, Eureka, Preteris, Holly Grove, Brooklet, Savannah Road, Atwood, Union, Sylvester, Eldon, Magnolia and Harville. This adds seventeen extra teachers over last year's requirement. Still we grow.

Severe Cold Quickly Cured.

"On December first I had a very severe cold or attack of the grip as it may be, and was nearly down sick in bed," writes O. J. Metcalf, Weatherly, Mo. "I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was only a few days until I was completely restored to health. I firmly believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of the very best medicines and have known what to do when I will have another cold." Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1916

Four years ago the farmer who owned an automobile was something of a curiosity. He was looked upon by his neighbors as not quite right in the upper story, and they talked vaguely about the time when "he would need the money for something else." Now, however, the farmers of Pennsylvania own fourteen per cent of all the automobiles owned in the state, and they are buying more than any other class. It is true that they buy the cheaper grade of cars, but there they show their good sense. All the money over $800 you put into a car is simply for looks, flummies and stews. Any nice evening, when the roads are fairly good you can see a procession of neat, tasty little cars spinning toward town, carrying a happy farmer and family. They go to the picture show and "do a little trading" and about nine o'clock they skitter back along the pike, and are safe in bed by ten o'clock.—Exchange.

CATO'S FOLLOW-UP SYSTEM.

If a man lambasted you on the eye and walked away and waited a week before he repeated the performance, he wouldn't hurt you very badly. Between attacks you would have an opportunity to recover from the effect of the first blow. But if he smashed you and kept mauling, each impact of his fist would find you less able to stand the hammering, and a half-dozen jabs would probably knock you down.

Now, advertising is, after all, a matter of hitting the eye of the public. If you allow to great an interval to elapse between insertions of copy the effect of the first advertisement will have worn away by the time you hit again. You may continue your scattered talks over a stretch of years, but you will not derive the same benefit that would result from a greater concentration. In other words by appearing in print in every issue of the paper, you are able to get the benefit of the impression created by the first of your advertising; as each piece of copy makes its appearance, the result of your publicity on the reader's mind is more pronounced—you must not stop short of a knock-down impression.

Persistence is the foundation of advertising success.

Regularity of insertion is just as important as clever phrasing. The man who hangs on is the man who wins out. Cato, the Elder is an example to every merchant who uses the newspapers and should be as insistent in every storekeeper who does not. For twenty years he arose daily in the Roman senate and cried out for the destruction of Carthage. In the beginning he found his conferees very unresponsive. But he kept on every day, month after month and year after year, sinking into the minds of all the necessity of destroying Carthage, until he set all the senate thinking upon the subject, and in the end Rome sent an army across the Mediterranean and ended the reign of the Hannibals and Hamilbars over northern Africa. The persistent utterances of a single man did it.

The history of every mercantile success is parallel. The advertiser who does not let an issue of the paper slip by without having his say is bound to be heard and have his influence felt. Every insertion of copy brings stronger returns, because it has the benefit of what has been said before, until the public's attention is struck like an eye that has been so repeatedly struck, that the least touch of suggestion will feel like a blow.—Milledgeville News.

Interesting Facts From Many Lands

In Switzerland the toy industry has recently been developed to a considerable extent. Various organizations in different parts of the country have joined hands with a view of increasing its efficiency and encouraging and facilitating the exportation of its products. Important orders have already been filled for France and England. Some firms alone have produced hundreds of new models of wood and in pasteboard, and more are being added daily. The industry is stated to be now in position to take care of a large foreign demand and to supply many of the needs of the United States.

American ships registered for the foreign trade on June 30, 1915, numbered 2,768, of 1,813,775 gross tons, an increase of 737,023 gross over American shipping for foreign trade at the end of the fiscal year 1914. This is about triple the increase in registered tonnage for any previous year in American history. Our registered tonnage is now much greater than at any time since 1863, when we had 2,026,114 gross tons in foreign trade. It is many times more efficient, however, as the steam tonnage now amounts to 1,273,067 gross tons, while in 1863 it amounted to only 133,215 tons.

This statement removes any vestige of doubt that Senator Smith's attitude on the subject is in perfect accord with the administration with reference to the rights of American commerce. CATARRH GERMS EASILY KILLED
By Breathing Into Throat, Nose and Lungs a Pure Antiseptic Air.

If you have catarrh and want to get rid of it you must kill the germs which cause the disease. The best known way of destroying catarrh germs is to breathe into the air passages of your nose and throat and lungs the pleasant, penetrating air of Hyomel (pronounced High-mel). Hyomel is made from the purest oil of sweet pine combined with other powerful, healing and germicidal ingredients. You breathe it through a little pocket inhaler which leading druggists in Statesboro and vicinity are furnishing with every complete treatment sold. Every time you inhale the sweet, fragrant air of Hyomel through this little device you are drawing into your swollen, inflamed, germ-laden membranes a medicated air which will not only reduce all the swelling and inflammation and open your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages, but will positively destroy every trace of catarrh germ life it reaches. Druggists are so sure of the blessed, lasting relief that Hyomel brings to catarrh sufferers that they sell it invariably on the positive guarantee that money paid will be refunded if successful results are not secured from its use.—Adv.

Why Not?

If we have been making progress in matters pertaining to the public schools of this county, and it is generally admitted that such is the case, then why not allow us the usual showing of a continued tenure of office for two terms as has been given to every man who has served in this capacity in its past history? Do you believe that either of my opponents could give you better and more liberal service than I myself am now giving and will continue to give you, should you see fit to allow me further service?

You were told before I ever came into this office that I was not qualified. You will remember that I had the most expensive campaign in your political history to prove that those accusations were untrue. Those who formerly opposed me, because of such assertions who have had opportunities to know me well since that time, are now my friends. They saw that if I were given a chance I would make good, and I have.

I realize that Bulloch county has a board of education and I have always been free from dictating to them as to their respective duties until same has been asked of me. I have my limited authorities and so have they—but each are separate. I must perform my duties at the call of our county board. So will the man who is elected in the future. The law is not as it was in years past.

We have been able to secure the services of the expert school men of this state and each of them who has had occasion to see our schools has said that we have made greater material improvement than has been made by any other county in this state. The Educational Foundation of New York financed an educational survey for us during 1915 that has been and will be worth a great deal to us. Copies of this work have been spread over the county, and we are able by it to see just what we have and what we need. And we are getting what we need as a result of this work.

Remember that I was twice elected before I was allowed to hold the office. Remember, too, that I am serving my first term. You will recall that my first election was eighteen months before I took charge of the work.

I will thank you for your consideration on the 9th of March.

Respectfully,
B. R. OLLIFF.

Making the Little Farm Pay

By C. C. BOWSFIELD

People who are taking little farms with a view to getting a living income, together with the advantages of a rural home, naturally give a great deal of thought to the earning capacity of an acre, and there is much discussion of this subject.

I have visited ten and twenty acre farms, both north and south, where the vegetable crops were paying $300 to $400 an acre above the cost of the labor. I have known celery, onions, cauliflower, lettuce, tomatoes and several other vegetables to give a net return of $500 to $800 an acre. Cabbage and beans will sometimes do this also, but less frequently than the others. Potatoes may be made to average $100 to $300. Asparagus, rhubarb, cucumbers and horseradish rank high as money crops, but still are a little behind some of the others.

Numerous instances can be cited of small fruits returning $100, and apples, peaches, cherries, pears, quinces and plums $200 an acre or more. By adding a canning or preserving business the family on a little farm may add largely to these profits. It is hardly necessary to say that the kind of products must, to a great extent, be regulated by convenience to market, the special demands of a certain trade and the ability to sell to private customers at retail prices.

It takes both skill and industry on the part of a family to run a little farm on this intensive plan. Some will do the work indifferently and will pull short of the figures given. Others may prefer to devote their time to poultry, cattle and hogs, and there is no reason why they should not get a good living income from a twenty acre tract where dairying, hog raising and poultry management are the main features. Everything depends on the owner and his family. The average production in America of an acre of corn is under thirty bushels an acre, though more than eight times this amount have been grown. The average potato crop is less than 100 bushels per acre, though more than twelve times this number of bushels have been produced. When the intensive method is used the productive value of an acre of land would seem to the average farmer as fabulous.

There are three crops with which a beginner may specialize, as they fit well into a rotative scheme and are always in good demand. These are early cabbage, early potatoes and late celery. In making a garden raise two or more crops in one season these products should be considered. Of potatoes the farmer may try Irish Cobbler. They are about as early as any, are of uniform size and the quality is good. The seed tubers are selected in the fall, kept in a cool cellar till about the middle of March and then are put in shallow slatted boxes. If placed in a light and moderately warm room by the time it is safe to plant them they will have thrown out strong sprouts possibly an inch long. Do not break these sprouts. Keep them uppermost in planting. Each piece of tuber should have at least two eyes. A potato crop so handled will be quite early and pay accordingly. There are a number of late growing crops which can then be put in the ground and brought to maturity by September or October.

To have cabbages headed early in July it is necessary to have them set out before the middle of April. The plants may be bought from dealers or the seed started in cold frames. In buying call for early varieties. The cabbages are set two feet apart each way and on a flat piece of ground will grow a crop worth $400 at an average of 5 cents a head. The late celery can follow on this ground or the potato radishes, beets, carrots, turnips, lettuce and many other things.

Celery may be treated as a highly profitable crop. It deserves the most intelligent care. As moisture is needed regularly it will pay to have a cheap irrigation outfit. Without water celery is not crisp or tender. A light sprinkling of nitrate of soda along the rows helps this crop.

To the Voters of Bulloch:

Gentlemen:

I am before you as a candidate for Superintendent of Schools and I kindly ask you to bear with me patiently and considerately in what I shall have to say. I will discard all rhetorical embellishments and confusing technicalities and talk with you in good old "corn-field" English. First I desire to tell you that I am a Georgian, and one of your brothers, a Bulloch county citizen. I was raised just across the Savannah river in South Carolina, but came to Georgia 14 years ago as a teacher and have been teaching among you ever since. I have been Superintendent in Brooklet High School since 1912, and, as you will see from my trustees and patrons' statement below, I have no kick coming on my work. I have been to school 15 years of my life, having had the benefit of the tutelage of some of the best professors in American Colleges, and have had about 20 years of successful experience in teaching. I have the honor of having passed the best examination of any one in Bulloch county, having made an average of 99.1-21 per cent on the High School examination room just about 9 hours. I mention this in no bragging way, but just to show you that I am qualified for the office. As my announcement bears the statement that I will not engage in mud-slinging tactics against my opponents, I desire to say that I have lived up to what I said. Although I hear it occasionally said that mud is being slung at me, I still refrain, as I think it unfair. I do not know any thing personally against my opponents, and I certainly am not hunting for anything to sling at them. So far as I know they are gentlemen of a high order, but I can tell you one thing: both of them are strong, physical men, who, if they had it to do, could get me and drive the wolf from the door by doing any general hard work, while—God knows it is embarrassing for me to tell you—I am a cripple man, depending entirely on my head for my living. If I had to do any work calling for strong physical manhood, I should simply starve to death.

Now gentlemen, my argument is this: "I know without a doubt that I am just as capable as either one of my opponents, and can make you just as good a superintendent as either one of them, and I am sure that of the three in the race I need the office the most and will appreciate it the most, as I am the most dependent. If you will give me the place, I will be the happiest man in South East Georgia, and I will certainly leave no stone unturned in trying to improve school conditions in Bulloch county. Ask the Lord if I would not be pleased for you to try me one term. If you will, I feel assured He will lead you right, and if I fail to satisfy you my name shall never appear again for the office.

The others in the race can plow and hoe, Neither of which I can do; For I am a cripple, unfortunately so, Then vote for me, please, won't you? If the good people of Bulloch Should repose in me their choice, I know they'll never regret it, For they'll cause a poor soul to rejoice. I'll remember them gladly forever, And always to them pull my hat—I'll forsake them? No, Sir, never, But will strive to please them for that. When the votes at the polls are counted And the victor is seen to be me, I'll stand on the top of the mountain, Thanking God that the leader was He. I'll stick to the people of Bulloch Till time shall be no more—I'll remember them in my prayers Till we cross to eternity's shore.

Yours in anxiety,

W. D. MATHIS.

We, the undersigned trustees and patrons of the Brooklet High School do hereby put our names on record, saying that Prof. W. D. Mathis has been Superintendent in our school for the past 3 years, and has given us good and efficient work in the school room with not a single kick from us.

AMERICA PAYS HOMAGE TO HER FIRST PRESIDENT

SEARCH in the plains where flashed the sword of Washington. What find you there? Tombs? No; you find a world. Washington has left behind him the United States as a trophy of his battlefields.—Chateaubriand.

WHEN WASHINGTON REJOICED

Gave Way to Transports of Delight When French Aid Approached. It was while they were sailing down the Delaware from Philadelphia to Chester that Rochambeau and his officers saw the dignified Washington give way to transports of joyous delight. We learn from the diary of Baron Closen, a Frenchman who served with Rochambeau, Washington stood on the bank as they approached, "waving his hat and a white handkerchief, and giving great news—that the French Admiral De Grasse was close at hand and would blockade the Chesapeake while Cornwallis held himself on the defensive. Soon after De Grasse showed that Washington's rejoicing was not undeserved by crippling the English fleet under Hood and Graves and again bottling up the Chesapeake. In the meantime the allied armies had begun the siege of Yorktown, destined to settle the future of America. The Americans were unaccustomed to siege operations, but Rochambeau, a veteran in such matters, proved invaluable, and the investment went on apace until, on Oct. 19, 1781, the final assault was delivered and Cornwallis surrendered.

WASHINGTON IN BATTLE

In the days that tried men's souls, when danger and death were on every side, Washington, born to command, to ride on the whirlwind and direct the storm, discovered to the astonished world that in the wilds of America had been raised a hero equal to the mighty task of working out the salvation of his country.—Captain Samuel White, 1800.

British Tributes to George Washington

CALLING George Washington "the greatest Englishman of his century," many Britons have joined with Americans in paying homage to the first president of the United States, whose birthday we celebrate on Feb. 22. In many, if not all, of the Washington's birthday festivities held in London by the members of the American colony in the British capital, Englishmen, Irishmen, Scotchmen and Welshmen have shared. Although at first Washington was reviled by the British as a traitor to the British king, under whose rule Washington was born, it was not long after the close of the American Revolution and the winning of American independence that the British writers and orators began paying tribute to "the first American."

Perhaps the greatest of all the praises won by Washington from an Englishman was that penned by John Richard Green, the famous author of

STATUE OF WASHINGTON BY SIR FRANCIS CHANTRE, ENGLISH SCULPTOR. IN THE MUSEUM OF THE UNITED STATES.

"The History of the English People." "No nobler figure ever stood in the forefront of a nation's life," wrote Green of Washington.

Some of the other tributes paid to Washington by Englishmen are the following:

"The test of the progress of mankind will be the appreciation of the character of Washington," said Lord Brougham.

"All I can say," said Gladstone, "is that I look upon Washington among great and good men as one peculiarly good and great and that he has been to me for more than forty years a light upon the path of life."

"Washington, the father of American independence, was the father of British freedom; also the American Revolution in its reaction upon English public life made England democratic—taught her how not to treat her colonies and inaugurated the colonial policy that has spread the British empire round the world," said William T. Stead. He advocated the erection of a statue of Washington in Westminster abbey.

WHO HAS THE GOODS? SWIFT

It is common gossip in the South that SWIFT are the only people who can deliver 50% of last year's tonnage. We declined large profits from powder manufacturers and reserved our materials for our Southern Fertilizer Trade. We did this, believing that we will be repaid by well satisfied customers for having held our Sulphuric Acid, Acid Phosphate and Potash for our regular fertilizer business.

We have the goods all stacked up in fine, dry, well cured condition with a shipping organization ready to give the famous Swift Service. Contracting is on with a rush and the indications point sure to a fertilizer demand in the South far in excess of the fertilizers available.

We advise every dealer and every farmer to place his orders for the earliest possible shipment he can take so as to be sure to get his fertilizer requirements. Buy Swift's and take no chance and get in your shipping orders now.

We Are Ready With the Best Fertilizer in the South.

Care of Goldfish.

A globe of two or three goldfish with a bit of green seaweed makes a pretty centerpiece. The fish are inexpensive and easily cared for. They should be placed at some distance from stove or register and not in the rays of the sun. They endure extremes of cold rather than heat. In the bottom of the globe place some small stones, a bit of sand, a little charcoal and a spray of camomile, a fine water plant. Feed them a little at a time. Twice a week remove them to a pail of muddy water for an hour, clean the globe, replace the shells, stones, etc., and refill with clear, cold water.

STORING SEED CORN.

Properly storing the corn for winter is just as important as field selection. The main point is to have the corn thoroughly dried out before heavy freezing weather sets in. It is the freezing and thawing of the excess moisture in the kernel that injure its growing qualities. The practice of hanging corn up by the husks or with seeds in a room, one, since it allows a free circulation of air. Where large quantities are to be dried the same effect can be secured by laying out the ears on slat shelves—Home and Farm.

TO CONTROL SMUT IN WHEAT

More Than One Treatment May Be Used in Killing the Disease. There is more than one treatment that may be used for controlling smut in wheat. One is the hot water method, where you heat your water to a temperature of about 145 degrees F. and then put in the wheat and let it remain for about five minutes. Another method is the formalin treatment. The formalin may be put at any drug store at a cost of from 75 cents to 90 cents per pound, or cheaper when bought in quantities. One pound is sufficient for forty-five or fifty bushels of grain. It should be used at the rate of one ounce to three gallons of water, and as a rule one gallon is sufficient to treat one bushel of grain. The wheat seed may be treated by spreading the grain in thin layers on a smooth floor, canvas or on the hard ground and sprinkling with diluted formalin so as to thoroughly wet the grain with the mixture. Then shovel the grain thoroughly for a few times to insure an even distribution of the solution. The wheat should then be covered with bags or blankets to keep the fumes of the formalin within. It should stand in this way for from six to twelve hours and should then be dried thoroughly by spreading out in thin layers and stirring frequently. The seed is then ready for sowing.

STORAGE HOUSE FOR SQUASH

Air Should Be Warm and Dry, and Good Ventilation Is Necessary. An ideal storage house for squash contains many series of shelves where the squash may be laid out for the free circulation of air, says a contributor to the Rural New Yorker. It should be rat proof and should be provided with a wood stove so that the air may be kept warm and dry. Ventilation should be provided for, but keep out the cold damp air of night and keep everything closed up during cold or rainy days. Moderate heat will keep the squash from 50 to 55 degrees F. will cause the squashes to harden up and keep in wonderful condition provided they have not rotted or even allowed to become mottled or stings from the squash bug. Any time the squashes are seen to "sweat" do not imagine the moisture is coming out of them. If the squashes are cold and warm air blows across them the warm air will be cooled off, with the result that the moisture which warm air carries will be deposited upon the cold squash. When such a condition arises close up the ventilators and start a little fire in the wood stove. This will warm up the squash and the air already in the building, and no dampness will be deposited.

Rock Saves Lifting.

This drawing shows a convenient rack for hauling slugs or corn of any kind, green or cured. It is recommended by the farm management department at the Nebraska university farm. It is made by hanging two led pieces under the axle of the wagon and building a platform on these pieces. The frame is hung by long kingbolt in front and struts over the bolster behind. The great advantage of such a wagon that commands it at once to any one who ever has handled cut corn is that it is low down, which means easy loading and unloading.

Spraying For Peach Leaf Curl.

[New York experiment station.] Peach leaf curl can be controlled by full spraying, according to statement made by the plant pathologists at Cornell. The disease is well known, and its method of control has been fully developed, so that the grower may be sure of results.

The college authorities state that a number of substances applied while the tree is dormant, or leafless, will give certain control, provided every spray. A lime sulphur spray testing 32 degrees B. diluted to one part of the concentrate to eight parts of water is the one most commonly used, because it controls San Jose scale also. If the scale is not present a standard solution of lime sulphur diluted to one part of the concentrate to fifteen parts of water will give excellent results.

Spraying may be done during the months of November and December more effectively than during the spring months because of more favorable weather conditions. Cold rains in the spring are likely to interfere with spraying at the proper time, and the leaf curl fungus is thus allowed to get a start.

Gambia Is Great Britain's smallest West African colony, having an area of only 3,619 square miles.

Practically all the trade of the colony is in the hands of French merchants. The population is 146,101 (census of 1911). Gambia is dependent almost entirely upon the cultivation of peanuts, which have made the colony one of the richest in West Africa, and the only one out of debt, with a surplus of nearly $1,000,000 to its credit. It has suffered along with the sister colonies as a result of the war.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Don't look old! Try Grandmother's recipe to darken and beautify faded, lifeless hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wiry and craggy, just an application of two or three drops of Sage and Sulphur restores its appearance to a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wigly's" Sage and Sulphur compound, ready to use. This can be depended upon to bring back a natural color, thickness and lustre to your hair and remove dandruff, stop itching and falling hair. Everybody who uses Wigly's Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. Wigly's Sage and Sulphur is a soft brush with it and draw it through the hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. ## Card From H. C. Parker

I was born in Baxley, Appling county, Georgia, on September 25th, 1885. I was 30 years old last September. I am the only son of W. C. and Sarah Isabel Parker. I moved to Statesboro on the 19th day of April, 1893. I have resided here since that time. When I came to Statesboro there were a few small buildings and a very few of the old inhabitants living here. I attended the Statesboro schools until 1904 when I entered Mercer University, at Macon, Georgia.

I graduated from the Mercer Law School in 1908 and have practiced law in Bulloch county for the last eight years. I was married to Annie Laurie Mallory, of Macon, Georgia, on November 9th, 1910. I have two children, Martha and Helen, aged four years and three months and two years and two months respectively.

I was elected Solicitor of the City Court of Statesboro at the election held in 1914. I have attempted to serve the people faithfully and honestly. I have not pleased all the people and I didn't expect to from the beginning. No man can do this. I have done my best to perform the duties of my office but I realize that I have made mistakes. None of us are perfect. I feel like it would be nothing more than right to allow me the same second term of two years. If I am given another term I shall not offer for re-election again.

A great many false reports have been circulated against me since I announced my candidacy for re-election. Some have accused me of being wealthy. Anyone who knows my circumstances can deny this. I have been in debt ever since I left school. The only real estate I possess is a little five room dwelling on the edge of the town, over which there is a security deed for $1,000.00. Others have circulated the report that I married a rich woman and acquired property in that way. There isn't a shadow of truth in this statement. My wife had about $230.00 in a savings bank when we were married. She used it in helping me furnish our little home. She has been able to give her money. If there is any one who is more poverly-stricken than I am, I would like to make his acquaintance. I am not boasting of my poverty, however, but I do want the people to know the real facts.

Some men are fighting me because I signed the petition to commute the death sentence of Leo M. Frank to life imprisonment. I did this in good faith and my card, which was printed in the last issue of both of the local papers, explains my reasons for doing it. I am naturally of a charitable disposition. I have always given aid and contributed of my means to my fellow man. I don't claim any credit for what little I have done for the other fellow and I don't wish to blow about it, but since there are men who are fighting me for one little act of charity, I cannot refrain from alluding to these things. I challenge the world to prove that I have ever refused aid to a distressed fellow creature. I have responded to the appeals of my friends at all times. I have helped build churches and school houses all over the county. I have helped those who have been sick and those who have been in poverty. I have helped a poor man in all sections of the county, some of whom I have never known. I have never turned away a deaf ear to a poor man who has never known. I have been called upon to aid a worthy enterprise that would help my county, my town, my friends or my church. I have always thrown in my little mite. I have helped many an unfortunate fellow who had been convicted and fined by the court. I have helped some of those whom I have prosecuted. I do not regret doing these things. As some one has said, "what I regret is that I have a small loss, but what I gave, I have." I regret that I have a small loss, but what I gave, I have. I regret that I have a small loss, but what I gave, I have.

Regardless of whether the people deal charitably with me or not, I shall continue to be charitable to them and in all my dealings with mankind I shall "temper justice with mercy." In matters of this kind my conscience is my guide. If that conscience fails me and I am to be punished for it, and if in lending just the least bit of aid to a fellow brother I have committed the "unpardonable sin" and have rendered myself unfit to hold the office in Bulloch county, then I am indeed an unfortunate man, and I have been misguided by the conscience which the Almighty placed in my breast.

Not being satisfied with these things, some have circulated the report that I had come out of the race altogether. In one section of the county this was generally believed for a week. There was absolutely no foundation for the report. I have been considered such a thing. My friends are as loyal to me as any man's friends and I wish to say to them that I shall stand by them to the last, believing firmly that when the campaign is over and the votes are counted that it shall be the will of the people that I serve as your solicitor for another two years.

Yours sincerely,
HOMER C. PARKER.

Wise Planning Cuts Cost

The question is not, Can we afford plumbing? You must have it, if you have come to the front and joined the class of clean, alert, alive and up-to-date. The question is, How to get modern plumbing at the right price?

By our experience we know how to plan plumbing so as to cut out unnecessary material and labor of installing and in this connection with a suitable choice of "Standard" plumbing fixtures means a Good Job at the Lowest Cost.

Judge for yourself from our estimate.

DO YOU WANT A PACKING PLANT IN BULLOCH?

Last Call for the Massmeeting Saturday—Come and Consider This Vital Question of Progress

The efforts of the Statesboro Board of trade that have been put forth so energetically these last several months to promote a packing plant, the one institution that can relieve the farmer of Bulloch of the heavy load he is carrying, is rapidly drawing to a head, and it remains for the farmer himself now to come forward and put his shoulder to the wheel and push.

A careful estimate has been compiled by reliable authority as to the number of hogs available in a radius of sixty miles of Statesboro and if the farmers in this territory will become alive to their opportunities a Bulloch county packing plant can be made operative the year round, supplied from what may be termed its home grown stock.

The advantage a plant will enjoy located in this county over others in a matter of freight rates, is shown by the following comparative table, taking as an example Statesboro and Moultrie in carload shipments of live stock and packing house supplies.
