McDOUGALD-OUTLAND WIN SEA ISLAND AND BANK OF STATESBORO PRIZES

First Bale of 1916 Season.

The first bale of the 1916 season to be placed in front of the Sea Island Bank was won by the McDougald-Outland Co., Monday when at 3 p. m. they had delivered from the Brannen Ginery a 540 bale classed as good middling. J. L. Johnston brought in a bale Saturday and delivered it to the Statesboro Oil Co., where he won his prize of five dollars in gold but his cotton was not ginned and delivered to the bank of might have won, as the two bank prizes. The McDougald-Outland Co. had their cotton picked, delivered and ginned all on Monday morning and finally delivered to the bank. There was keen interest late during the afternoon anticipating the delivery of one of these two bales. The prize was shipped to the Henry Williams Co., Savannah who paid 18 cents per pound telegraphing their bids.

LONDON HOME BURNED

EARLY WEDNESDAY MORNING
Occupied by John Lee—House and Contents Total Loss.

At one-thirty a. m., Wednesday, the cottage owned by Mrs. Lettie V. Landon of Stamford, N. Y., and occupied by John Lee was totally destroyed by fire. Dr. and Mrs. Landon wintered in Statesboro and late this spring left for their New York state home after purchasing the property which was destroyed Wednesday morning. The cottage was in the suburbs on the house and it is stated that the furniture and household effects of Mr. Lee were covered by insurance. An automobile in an outbuilding near by was saved.

Items Concerning the County Schools

By B. R. OLLIFF, Supt.

This year, only 80 white teachers took the regular State examination. Heretofore, we have more than a hundred each year. This falling off is due largely to the fact that a great many of our teachers are away taking special training in the Summer Normal classes at the different Universities where such schools are unusually held. The teachers find that if they keep abreast of the requirements that they have to keep in touch with all the latest methods that are in vogue.

The Middle Ground High school has now completed its faculty. Prof. James O. Steed, of Eatonsville, Georgia has been elected principal and Misses Rosa Womack and Daisy Averitt assistants. The assistants have been there for quite awhile. It is not known whether they will have a regular music teacher there this fall or not. They have the music room and are prepared to have their department, should the demand arise for such.

The kind of schools that we have in Bulloch will determine largely the kind of citizens we will have in the future. We have better advantages than almost any other county in this State. Our farm lands are fine. Our country homes are above the average of the State over. There are forty-two counties in Georgia that have already voted county wide taxation for the purpose of maintaining longer term schools. Why can't we do just this thing in Bulloch? We certainly do not want to lag behind other counties in so important a matter as this. Let us get busy and vote this county wide tax. It will be one of the greatest strides forward that we can possibly make. Let us have county wide taxation by 1917.

The girls of the Ginning Club are putting away lots of nice things this summer. The tomatoes are not so good, but several of the girls have splendid patches. You will see great good result from this important department in a few years. Pretty soon, every home will have the modern canning outfit and will supply the county with all of its canned fruits and vegetables and will do this at a big profit to the producers too. Already in several homes, they are canning for the market as well as all that they can consume in the homes.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a bulimic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.

ARE THE POSTMASTERS AND RURAL CARRIERS TO BE BLACKLISTED?

We are informed that Mr. Overstreet has made statements from the stump which can be construed to mean that unless postmasters and rural mail carriers support their heads will be chopped off in the event of his election.

For the first time in the history of the district men who hold public positions under the government are to have the big stick waved over their heads, and the privilege of supporting their favorite candidate is to be denied to them.

General Meldrim is a candidate for congress, he is running on his merits, so far he has prepared no blacklist, and we don't believe there will be one prepared the next time you hear from him. With a long life devoted to the principles of personal and political liberty, he takes the stand that men of merit will hold their positions, as far as he is concerned, no matter who they support for congress.

General Meldrim doubtless would be pleased to receive the support of every postmaster and every rural mail carrier in the district. He would likewise be glad to have the support of all other good citizens, but we don't believe he will disturb any postmaster or rural carrier in the event he is elected, unless there are higher and nobler grounds for his removal than the mere fact that he might have supported the other fellow.

General Meldrim is making this point on the grounds that he would like to serve his people in the national congress; if elected he will have no enemies to punish, especially if that man who voted against him is a good citizen, an honorable man, and the choice of his people, for the position that he may hold.

General Meldrim will be turned out in the cold to make a place for another man because the man who wants the job is a partisan of the successful candidate. While the General will be true to his friends, and in the matter of recommendations for appointment, with everything being equal, he would not prefer his political friends, but he will not turn out a good man who voted for Overstreet in order to make place for one of his partisans; the cause for such removal will have to be based on inefficiency, and be backed by the people. The official may be unserving, but the man who is trying to get votes from such narrow partisan methods will hardly appeal to the conservative and well thinking men who make up the large majority of the voting population of the first congressional district.

If the people want the services of General Meldrim as a congressman they will indicate this by their ballot on September 12th. If they elect him they may be sure that each and every interest affecting either their liberties or their welfare will find its earnest support. It is not known how many postmasters and rural mail carriers have taken fright at the threat to take their jobs away unless they vote, as the demands will prescribe, but as far as can be learned the number must be very limited. Take Big Crowd on Jacksonville Excursion.

The special and personally conducted Savannah and Statesboro and Seaboard Air Line R. excursion to Jacksonville took a good crowd from Statesboro and points on the line of the S. & S. The recent high prices of watermelons obtained by growers along the S. & S. found an outlet on this excursion as many, who have profited by the sale of their fruit, took advantage of this cheap rate of going sightseeing in the Florida metropolis.

What will no doubt prove to be the most interesting and best patronized ball games of the season will be the three day series scheduled for next week beginning Monday, August 14. Anticipation of keen rivalry between these teams for supremacy will serve to make the series doubly interesting. If the Dublin team were made up of entirely home talent it would be easy pickings for Statesboro but as they are more than half professional it will tax the best of the State's players to defeat them. However, one game out of three when they played the Dublin team recently at Dublin. On our home grounds we expect two out of three games. Give the team hearty support in this series; they deserve it.

J. B. SMITH OF THE 48TH. In Town Saturday. Reports Spleen-aid Crops.

J. B. Smith of the 48th district was in town Saturday and called at the News office and renewed his subscription taking the premiums. Mr. Smith reports fine crops on his place and says the rain has done him no damage. He is anticipating the opening of the packing plant by giving special attention to breeding a fine herd of hogs and plans to have a quantity for market at frequent intervals from the day the plant opens.

STATSBORO-MILLEN. Statesboro is holding her reputation recently gained as a fast ball playing team. Yesterday they trimmed the Millen semi-professionals team 4 to 3 in a pitchers battle; none too much credit can be given Crosby for his splendid work also the entire team for the support they gave him. Some features were liberally applauded and well deserved indeed was the applause. Statesboro pulled down 11 hits and struck out 12. Millen 5 hits and struck out 8. George of the visiting team was taken out of the box in the ninth but for no avail. Batteries Statesboro, Crosby and Gould, Millen, Mize, George and Monehan. Score 4-3 favor Statesboro.

HOME BOYS RETURNED. If the people want the services of General Meldrim as a congressman they will indicate this by their ballot on September 12th. AS TO OUR CONGRESSMAN.

Eliminating the partial expressions of biased friends and disregarding statements made through the medium of paid advertising and otherwise, subjecting the race for Congress to the penetrating rays of the light of reason, the choice between the candidates is a matter of deciding by the voters which of the two gentlemen is the ablest, best fitted and most capable of representing the district.

The experience and training of the two men has been practically the same in its essentials. The chief note-worthy difference is that Mr. Meldrim has enjoyed the distinction of having served a term as President of the American Bar Association. Other points of variation are that Mr. Overstreet has served his county as Judge of the City Court of Savannah and the District for a brief term in Congress.

When it comes to forecasting the career of our next Representative, from which would the dispassionate mind reasonably expect the best service to the District at large and the bestowment of some thought to the large needs of the agricultural section, the venerable gentleman, nearing three quarters of a century, with his life distinguished though it has been, behind him and his days of usefulness limited, or the virile and active young man, with an equally long and intimate acquaintance with the needs of the plain people of the western regions, and the fair prospect of long and fruitful years of service to the people?

One other point of interest in connection with this campaign is the probability that, had Mr. Overstreet not announced for this office this time, there would have been no Congressional race. Mr. Edwards would have returned to Congress unopposed. Overstreet has dislodged a plum which has tempted the political appetites of several ambitious gentlemen, to all of whom, except Meldrim, a survey of the field did not appear sufficiently alluring to keep them in the race.

It seems to us that the office belongs to Overstreet, as it were, by right of discovery, conquest, and special fitness, and that the district owes it to him to reward his laudable desire to represent us by electing him to the office.

Spruce-Up and Pay-Up October 2.

Gosh, but we're glad that fifty day misery on Capitol Hill in Atlanta is over.

If you can't pay it all up October 2nd, pay as much as you can down. That'll help some.

War still wages in Europe and a little American scrap is pending over the political fence.

The laboring element of the United States seem bent on striking whether or not. We hope umpire Wilson will get 'em lined up to bat and if necessary give them a few balls just to get them on bases and playing good ball again.

When politicians and the clergy get to playing one another as bigots, pot belied, etc., it is coming powerful close to the predictions of Abraham Lincoln about a religious war as not an impossible thing that America might have to deal with.

Pay-Up Week October 2 will be the biggest thing Statesboro ever did. It will make every citizen happy and put them on the road to enjoy a prosperous Christmas holiday. The coming week the Board of Trade will have all the data at hand and the Secretary will call upon the business men to support the organization in this nation wide movement.

Now, National Pay-Up Week is coming to our town. It is going to pass prosperously around here. It is going to help clear up our books and start with clean slates for a new business year. Join in and help out by paying the other fellow so this fellow can then pay you. The whole community will be benefited and every individual will be benefited.

The congressional candidates thru-out the country are making a hullabaloo over their different platforms on which they stand. When we lived in Washington and daily sat on the banks of the congressional sea, our observation was that most of those new congressmen who came in on new platforms had them so battered and twisted and trimmed by the old sea captains that if sent back home the designers and draughtsmen who built it wouldn't recognize a plank in the old raft.

THE GOOSE AND THE GANDER.

The action of the First District Congressional Committee in adopting a popular vote ruling to apply at the September primary has occasioned some bitter party wars between supporters of the two congressional candidates; not so between the candidates themselves as far as known now, but there are many who are waxing warm over the matter. Our view of elective method is that there can be nothing unfair in a popular ruling in fact it is the only method whereby the individual may register his vote and in the event of defeat know that the majority are entitled to the plum. It is not unfair, but in this instance it may be severe. It is to be hoped that the ruling is settled, that a permanent and if the presidency, the highest office in the gift of the people might be so presented then the will of the people would indeed rule.

If as was contended by the supporters of Mr. Overstreet and by Mr. Overstreet himself in his Statesboro address prior to the congressional committee meeting, that every county in the district would put an overwhelming majority in the Overstreet column excepting Chatham, then there should be no cause for alarm now about the result; because it is but a problem of simple addition to take the registered voters of the district excepting Chatham, and add them to find a total far in excess of that of Chatham county, and under this condition how much more satisfactory it will be for either to go in offering knowing it is the wish of the majority.

PERSISTENT ADVERTISING.

This little preachment we are launching in is occasioned thru an argument we indulged in very recently with a business man on the value of continuous advertising when we were advised by our opponent in the melee, that advertising did not help his business. There is no doubt at all about this man's business not being helped because he doesn't advertise.

There can be no greater illustration of the value of persistent advertising than we have right here at home under our very nose in the signal success of the Statesboro Bakery, and we feel a personal pride in this success because it has come about in a large measure thru a policy pursued as suggested by ourselves.

Scarcely a year ago the gentlemen operating this business came to Statesboro in connection with the Scranton Correspondence School and in placing some advertising with us for this institution casually asked our opinion of the future prospects for this city; the conversation leading into personal acquaintances and when advised that they were practical bakers we urged that they would fill a big open space in Statesboro and if their business was conducted on a liberal systematic advertising basis that there was no chance whatever of failure.

We were commissioned to go to it. We named the bread; we designed its advertising dress and had it made even before the bakes ovens were installed. We began a steady publicity campaign and by the date the first loaf was baked "STAFOLIFE" was pretty well known about town. At this period Statesboro was receiving daily shipments of bread from Savannah, Atlanta, Macon and Augusta amounting to about 500 loaves a day or more, and proportionate shipments were made from these cities to near by towns.

"STAFOLIFE" was baked in a modern sanitary oven, wrapped in a special lithographed waxed wrapper, it compared equally and a little better with some of the bread shipped in, and it soon found a place on the counters of the home merchants. The advertising was doubled; new and larger baking facilities became necessary; gradually the Savannah and Atlanta shipments to Statesboro grew less and "STAFOLIFE" grew more. When the home market had been carefully garnered then a campaign was made for the business in near by surrounding towns in the Statesboro zone with the result that thru systematic advertising, backed up by quality and diligent efforts, "STAFOLIFE" grew from the first day's batch of 100 loaves to now upwards of 10,000 loaves a week served to Statesboro people, business houses of Metter, Brooklet, Stillmore, Adrian, Portal and a dozen other small towns. Kingery and Bland of Metter have a standing order of 125 loaves a day. D. L. Alderman, Jr. of Brooklet a standing order of 300 loaves a week and so on down the line with numerous other bakery articles that are supplied along with the bread.

Fully justified by the rapidly increasing business the Statesboro Bakery just closed a contract to install a new $500 molding machine which will make every loaf of "STAFOLIFE" uniform in size and shape. We have just been commissioned to start an advertising campaign in all counties surrounding Bulloch with the intention of supplying merchants who can be served conveniently and cheaply by the train service from Statesboro, and to that end, prominent advertising will appear in the newspapers of our sister counties telling of Statesboro high class bakery industry. An item of no small proportion is the waxed wrappers used in making "STAFOLIFE" absolutely sanitary. We have supplied nine months 150,000 of these special four colored lithographed trade mark wrappers out of an order of 350,000 to be used within one year and with the present rapid increase will easily reach a half million.

Does it pay to advertise? Why you know it does, and you unconsciously acknowledge it every day in your life when you purchase some article—specifically naming a brand that you know about, because it is advertised, and has been nailed to your brain and clinched on the other side.

THE PAIROSCISSORS.

The contract has been let for the erection of the Statesboro packing plant and it is to be ready for business in February of 1917. The building of this plant will be a help to all the counties surrounding Bulloch and we are glad to know that there will be no delay in its construction.—Pembroke Enterprise.

TAKEN FROM THE COUNTRY.

(Batesburg (S. C.) Herald.) Sixty-five million dollars represented the sales during the first half of this year by the mail-order house of Sears, Roebuck & Co., of Chicago. Which is another way of saying that local merchants throughout the country have been deprived of just $65,000,000 which they ought to have had.

The mail-order houses may sell some things for a little less, but we most seriously doubt that the buyer really saves anything by patronizing these foreign industries. In a majority of instances, the buyer can get what he wants at home for the same price.

Outside of the question of good buying is the consideration that we ought to spend our money at home because the money which we spend here will, in turn, be largely spent here. They buy nothing from our farmers; they pay no taxes to help us with our burdens; they don't put a penny back into local circulation. On the other hand, when you buy from a local merchant, you do not need to be told that most of the money he gets from you will be put back into local circulation.

Buy at home and build up your community. If the community is upbuilt you are directly benefited.

Our advice to people who get mail order catalogues is to give them to the good wife for the stove.

Help yourself by helping the home merchant. You can establish a personal relationship with him that will be advantageous to you when you need help, but the mail order people don't know you from Adam's house cat and care nothing about you.

You get more for your money when you patronize the local merchant. Stand by him and he will stand by you.

OUR CRIMINAL WASTE OF FOOD.

(Millidgeville News.) When a calamity such as the San Francisco earthquake, the Dayton flood or the sinking of the Titanic occurs, the world stands aghast at the frightful waste of property and life as measured in dollars and cents, and the whole world pays tribute. But these happenings cannot be averted. They are costly, but infrequent—part of the price of our modern civilization and constitute but a small fraction of the waste cost of the world.

We wouldn't burn a forrest knowingly, but we would burn the lumber that comes out of it. Nations do not waste their big things willingly. Only a great war can only bring a nation to the point of destroying life and property recklessly as part of the game. But there is a waste that is going on constantly that is more costly than war, as a cost of war may be; for war accomplishes something—at least it settles a quarrel. The waste we refer to is the waste of little things for these in the aggregate prove as costly although less noticeable, than the waste of larger ones.

What little indulgences, such as drinking, smoking, candy and sodas, are not particular waste they are not profitable expenditures. They get us nowhere and do no particular good. But even passing these as permissible, the most inexcusable waste is in the line of food. It is not what comes in the front door particularly that counts, but what goes out of the kitchen.

The total cost of food in this country cannot be even approximated, but eminent authorities place a dollar a day as a fair average for the food value of the American family. HON. R. LEE MOORE

SOLICITOR GENERAL

Makes His Announcement for Re-Election.

Statesboro progressive, hustling hard working citizen and Solicitor General of the Middle Circuit officially announces his candidacy for reelection to the office he is now serving for his first term. It is as the common saying goes superfluous to speak of the sterling qualities, high minded principles of this well known Bulloch county citizen. Let any proposition be advanced that will tend to uplift and progress for Georgia and Georgians, and his own health, side, and he will throw his whole heart and rugged manhood in the fight and when Lee Moore fires a fusillade of oratory in a battle for right and progress, there's going to be some shots put that will hit the bulls eye. Everybody knows Lee Moore and they know that he is fearless, honest in purpose, a man of unquestioned integrity, who gives his undivided time to the duties of his office and is in every requisite full worthy of the accustomed second term to which there seems no doubt at all of his being complimented.

General Melrim is going right along gathering the votes in his quiet unobtrusive way. He may not be a politician but he sure does know how to get at the hearts and minds of the people. He has been their friend a long time or he would not be able to do it.—(The Liberty County Herald.)

COUNTRY HAS HAD INTEREST WELL CARED FOR

The cry of country against city which has been raised in certain quarters is far fetched here absolutely unwarmed for. There is absolutely no conflicting interest in this district except the bare fact that the office of congressmen cannot be made sufficiently elastic as to give every man the job who might aspire to fill it. If there is a single solitary thing that Savannah wants or could obtain that would be detrimental to any other section of the First congressional district, it has so far escaped the knowledge of the people.

The cry being raised that it is the country counties' time to furnish the congressman, and that the country counties have not furnished one for forty years is not true. In less than thirty years the congressman, the Hon. George R. Black, and his nomination was possible through the earnest and able support of General Peter W. Melrim, who is at present the object of these attacks. Col. Black hailed from the county of Screven, as did J. W. Overstreet, who filled the congressional term of the late Col. Lester.

Liberty County furnished the late William B. Fleming, as she did the late Gen. Thomas M. Norwood. The Melrim, while residing in Savannah, never moved his residence from Liberty County, and always cast his ballot in his old county of Liberty, as he was directly chargeable to Liberty County.

Effingham county was also accorded the honor of sending the late Morgan Backus, but his misfortune lay in the fact that he was unelected by a Republican house but he received the solid support of the Chatham Democrats including General Melrim.

States county was accorded the honor and distinction of furnishing the able district able services of the late Rufus E. Lester. While it is true that he moved to Chatham, yet it was true that the people of Chatham county embraced this grand old son of Burke county and stood by him until the end.

It was Tattall and Evans counties that furnished the district with the services of the present Congressman, the Hon. Charles G. Edwards. In this case Chatham did the same as she did for Col. Lester—stood by the Tattall-Evans man as long as he expressed a desire to return to Congress. Mr. Edwards was elected to Congress ten years ago by what was known as the Brannen delegation. He was elected without the vote of Chatham county in the convention.

Chatham at that time was supporting the Hon. Walter W. Sheppard, who was born and reared in Liberty County, and who resides in Evans county at this time.

If Mr. Overstreet is elected, it will be his plain duty to represent Chatham along with the other counties. General Melrim will certainly stand by every laudable interest that any of the country counties may have. He has established a "second table," but expects to create a festive board that will be sufficiently large to accommodate the entire family. The boys from Screven will sit elbow to elbow with the boys from Chatham, as will the others. He does not believe in playing favorites when his office duties call for action. He does not believe that a single individual, fair-minded citizen, and of the counties entertains the least apprehension that his interest will be overlooked or neglected.—(The Chatham Enterprise.)

GREAT R. R. STRIKE IS THREATENED

Transportation Tie-up Would Paralyze Business.

FARMERS TO FACE DANGER.

Could Not Market Crops and Losses Would Run into Hundreds of Millions—With Factories Unable to Operate Wage-earners Would Suffer.

From the viewpoint of the public it is an intolerable situation when any group of men, whether employees or employers, whether large or small, have the power to decide that a great section of the country shall undergo great loss of life, unseemly suffering and loss of property before the power of description is held to keep them in line. This is the situation which confronts us as a nation—From the report of the Eastern Railway Arbitration Board (1912) signed by Charles R. Van Hise, Oscar Straus, Frederick N. Johnson, Albert Shaw, Otto N. Erdiz and Daniel Willard.

As a result of the demands for more wages which the train service employees of the railroads have been pressing upon the transportation lines, the country is to face with the possibility of the greatest strike and the most serious industrial catastrophe in its history. The engineers, conductors, firemen and brakemen on practically all the railroad lines have voted to place their entire interests in charge of a few leaders within their organizations, and to give these leaders authority to call a strike if they wish to do so.

What such a strike would mean to the American people cannot be set forth in mere facts and figures. It can be dimly imagined by those who realize what an intimate and vital part transportation plays in every industrial activity of the country.

Cities Would Face Starvation. There is scarcely a person in any part of the land who would not be immediately affected if the millions of busily turning wheels on our heavy haulers should stop for a single day. The tie-up continued for a week, the blow to the industry of the country would be greater than that caused by any panic of recent times. The cities of the country, and particularly to the cities of the eastern seaboard, it would mean a cutting off of food supplies that would place the inhabitants virtually in a state of siege.

In the case of many food products these cities do not carry on hand a stock sufficient to feed their people for more than a week, and in the case of some, such as milk and fresh vegetables, supplies are replenished daily. The stoppage of transportation therefore, would mean suffering and want to these city dwellers, and if continued for long would threaten many of them with actual starvation.

Vast Loss to Farmers. To the farmers of the country a general railroad strike would be a catastrophe, only less serious. Cut off from their market, the farmer could not move his produce, and the market value of his staples would be quickly cut in two, while the market value of more perishable articles would disappear entirely. The strike would make it extremely difficult to harvest crops in many sections. It would make the disposal of the crops impossible, and would inflict losses amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars upon the farmers of the country.

The great industrial plants of the country would soon be forced to close down following the declaration of a strike because they could not obtain supplies needed for their operation, nor could they ship their finished products to market. Their plants would soon be idle, and millions of men would be thrown out of work.

With the income of practically every class of citizens either seriously cut down or suspended entirely, merchants would transact little business, because they would be unable to purchase. In short, the industrial activities of the whole country would be virtually paralyzed from the moment the railroads ceased to operate. The injury to the railway companies and to the striking employees would be enormous, but it would be infinitesimal compared with the staggering loss that would fall upon the general public.

HIGHEST WAGES, LOWEST RATES.

American railroads today pay the highest wages in the world, out of the lowest rates in the world, after having set down the capital account the lowest capitalization per mile of all other countries of the world. No other occupation in the world can match this record.—James J. Hill.

MELDRIM SPEAKS IN BRYAN COUNTY

First District Candidate Makes Good Impression on Audience.

Clyde, Ga., Aug. 8.—General P. W. Melrim, congressional candidate, spoke to a large crowd here today in advocacy of his candidacy, prominent citizens coming from all parts of the county to hear him. The speaker was introduced by Col. R. F. C. Smith.

General Melrim said the first case he ever tried in a superior court was in Bryan county and that he has been closely identified with the people of this county for over forty years. He successfully refuted certain rumors which have been circulated against him.

He spoke in favor of preparedness on the part of this country, and said that at the conclusion of the European war there would be many important questions and problems to be solved, and that they could only be determined by men of conservative thought.

His speech was enthusiastically received and brought forth great applause. The general has a very strong following in Bryan and his friends claim he will carry the county.—(The Savannah Press.)

WILL NEED NO INTRODUCTION. It is confidently believed by the friends of General Peter W. Melrim that he will be elected to Congress. If he is, when he sets feet in the House of Representatives in Washington, there will be no need of any introduction on the part of his predecessor. The word will have gone around that Georgia has done herself proud and sent to the national halls of Congress one of the ablest and noblest men that the State affords. He will need no introduction to the member from California or from Texas. His name has already traveled the width and breadth of the country.

ON THE CHANGE OF RULE.

The Executive Committee of the First Congressional District, last week abolished the time-honored county unit rule in elections and substituted, at the eleventh hour of the campaign, the popular vote plan. This move, as was admitted in Savannah and in dispatches sent from there to the daily press, that the politicians in Chatham county, with 6,000 votes and their own peculiar methods of counting, figure that it can defeat Mr. Overstreet, even if he carries a majority of the country counties.

This is an admission also on the part of the opposition that the choice of the counties is feared and that the plan of election instituted for the very purpose of neutralizing or offsetting the preponderating influence of the large center of population in the district, which has been honored by observance for a generation, is not good enough and for peculiar reasons does not fit this particular case.

It is superfluous to say that this action increases Savannah's chances to continue to keep her man in Congress. That was the object aimed at, despite the Savannah Morning News' apologetic statement that Chatham's delegate was in favor of the old rule. We all know what Chatham favors. What the final results will be when the votes are counted, we do not know, but if we may form an opinion from the numerous out-spoken criticisms of the change of rule and of every evident rising tide of sentiment for the object of this unfair treatment, Mr. Overstreet will be elected rather than his opponent. The people of Savannah, whom the politicians do not represent, know that Mr. Overstreet will attend their interests as faithfully and as ably as any man they might select from Chatham county, and many of them, some of the best of them, will cast their ballots for the Screven county candidate. Many of Mr. Overstreet's supporters believe that it is his duty now to carry the campaign into Chatham where he already has a large following and where much of the encouragement that induced him to enter the race was offered. Whether or not this is done, it is safe prediction that this thrust at the country counties will prove a boomerang for his opponents and help materially to elect him to the office he seeks and should have.—(Editorial, Meador Advertiser.)

MELDRIM AT SYLVANIA.

Introduced to a huge crowd yesterday at Sylvania, Screven county, by Hon. E. K. Overstreet of Sylvania, a cousin of candidate J. W. Overstreet, General P. W. Melrim spoke on preparedness, the Mexican situation, possession of the Philippines and Panama canal bill. He came back to Savannah this morning.

The large audience was composed of farmers as well as the townsmen. A number of ladies were also in attendance. From Sylvania Gen. Melrim went out in Effingham county, where he addressed another large audience at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.—(Savannah Press.)

BREATHE AIR OF HYOMEI THROUGH POCKET INHALER TO CURE CATARRH

Catarrh Sufferers Should Try This New Method. Often Successful. Where All Else Fails and Costs Nothing Unless It Succeeds.

Leading druggists are rapidly securing local agencies for a clever pocket inhaler device that is being widely and successfully used in the treatment of catarrh of the nose and throat, asthma, hay-fever, bronchitis, croup, etc.

This little inhaler, which is made of hard black rubber, is packed with antiseptic gauze into which is poured a few drops of the pure oil of Hyomei which the gauze quickly absorbs. Then by placing the inhaler in the mouth as shown in the illustration and just breathing naturally or by using the other end of the inhaler and snuffing up the nose, the user is drawing into his throat, lungs, air passages and head the full force of the potent, antiseptic and germ killing liquids ever discovered.

This powerful but pleasant medicated air penetrates into every nook and corner of the raw, sore, inflamed surfaces, destroys all the catarrhal germ life, soothes and heals the swollen membranes and quickly opens the clogged and stuffed up air passages. Catarrh goes quickly away to return where this inhaler is used with Hyomei for a few minutes four or five times daily and the local great majority of the voters are going to vote for a man who fills the qualifications as described above. Some may vote to complement a fellow citizen, or for other reasons wholly personal and without weight, but the most of the folks are going to take the sober, sensible view of the situation and cast their ballots for the man who can best fill the position which he asks the people to bestow upon his shoulders. That is a duty the people owe to themselves, their state and their country.—(The Tattall Journal.)

A SUBSTITUTE FOR THE HOT KITCHEN

Electricity Enables One Family to Eat and Cook in the Yard

Cooking in the hot kitchen is the bane of every housewife. Electricity has made it possible for one family of five, living in a modest cottage in an eastern summer resort to give the housewife and also the hired girl a vacation from the sweltering atmosphere of the ordinary kitchen range.

This family belongs to the middle class and is unable to afford the elaborate facilities for housekeeping found on an expensive summer estate. Its members decided, however, that they would not eat in the hot dining room adjoining the kitchen when there were shady trees and cool breezes out of doors. How to do this without extravagance was the problem, but the ever willing electric current came to the rescue and solved it.

A dining table was constructed of scrap lumber, covered with oil cloth, and nailed to four equal lengths of a tree trunk which served as legs. Chairs were made by sawing similar sections from a larger tree trunk. Then both table and chairs were set up beneath the cooling shade of a large hickory tree behind a screen of honeysuckle. Above this rustic dining room furniture, covered wires were strung to support three 40-watt Mazda lamps for illumination at night.

Beneath the eaves of the kitchen four electric outlet boxes were installed to provide means for attaching electric heating devices for cooking the meals. A tiny refrigerator and a home-made kitchen cabinet beneath a shelter were built to allow the convenient storage of butter, eggs, cheese, milk, sugar, coffee, bread and such other staple articles of food as are often necessary in the kitchen.

At breakfast time the housewife boils, fries or scrambles eggs on the electric grill at her elbow. Coffee is made in a percolator on a side table and the other breakfast staples are in easy reach in the refrigerator and food cabinet. In case it is desired to keep a quantity of toast made in the electric toaster warm, the electric grill and miniature oven are used. Luncheon and dinner are prepared in a similar manner with the addition of meats and vegetables cooked in the electric cooker. Fiber dishes are used and so there is no dishwashing. Since the family has been living in this way it is estimated that an actual saving of between $10 and $12 has been made each month. In no one month was the bill for current consumed more than $15 and the housewife was enabled to do away with the hired girl at $5 a week and take a vacation herself. The scheme also lends itself admirably to five-o'clock teas and is always praised and admired by the invited guests. On a hot night the table is illuminated and used for serving a final dish of ice cream or cold tea before the family retires.

ABOUT GENERAL MELDRIM.

General Peter W. Meldrim, candidate for Congress from the banner district of Georgia, manifested the true southern chivalry embodied in him, when as a lad of merely fifteen years he shouldered his musket and bated for the rights of his native Southland in the trenches near Savannah when Sherman was making his disastrous march from Atlanta to the sea. From the reports we are now receiving throughout this entire section, "Honest, able, hard-working" Peter Meldrim, will be measuring his steel with the leaders of the nation in our national Capitol at Washington as our representative when the next session of Congress meets.—(The Rocky Ford Eagle.)

U. S. PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE—CLEAN HANDS

Disease germs lead a hand to mouth existence. If the human race would learn to keep the unwashed hand away from the mouth many human diseases would be greatly diminished. We handle infectious matter more or less constantly and we continually carry the hands to the mouth. If the hand has recently been in contact with infectious matter the germs of disease may in this way be introduced into the body. Many persons wet their fingers with saliva before counting money, turning the pages of a book, or performing similar acts. In this case the process is reversed, the infection being carried to the object handled there to await carriage to the mouth of some other careless person. In view of these facts the U. S. Public Health Service has formulated the following simple rules of personal hygiene and recommends their adoption by every person in the United States.

Wash the Hands Immediately Before eating, Before handling, preparing or serving food, After using the toilet, After attending the sick, and After handling anything dirty.

SOCIETY A REQUISITE IN THE MARINE CORPS

Wheeling, W. Va., August 13.—With the announcement that a young man, a roving rum hound, and that an enlistment would probably cure him of the drink habit, a well-dressed young man applied for entry into the United States Marine Corps at its local recruiting station. We read in the newspapers that they broke up or auctioned off all the wine glasses and I believe an enlistment in your sober, respectable service would do more for me than a course at an inebriate's school. I was thinking of matriculating at Keeley Institute this fall but—

"Belay the chatter," said Marine Sergeant Austin Fredericks, in charge of the recruiting station, "and stop your ideas about the Marine Corps offering a course in sobriety. We want men but we want them sober. There's no room in our service for the man who drinks to excess. Sorry old chap, but we can't take you."

The drink afflicted applicant left the recruiting station vowing to enlist in some military organization even though it were the Salvation Army.

SOUTHEASTERN FAIR ASSOCIATION.

$60,000 in Cash Prizes and Gold and Silver Trophies. Atlanta, Ga., August 15.—The first annual fair of the Southeastern Fair Association, in Atlanta, October 14-21, inclusive, will be a magnificent exposition of the industrial and agricultural products, and live stock of the Southern States, especially Georgia. Atlanta enterprise and capital is behind the movement, offering approximately $60,000 in cash prizes, besides gold and silver trophies, manufactered goods and merchandise as premiums for the best displays. Assurances have been received from practically every county in Georgia that exhibits will be sent either collectively or individually. Every educational institution in the state, and some elsewhere, will be represented by specimens of work in the various departments. Thousands of visitors from every section of Georgia will flock to Atlanta for the week of festivities.

Mammoth fire proof, concrete buildings, covering several acres have been constructed to house the exhibits. These are situated in one of the most picturesque spots in Georgia—Lakewood—on the shores of a beautiful lake. Permanent barns and stables have been built to house the millions of dollars worth of stock which will be exhibited. Nearly $500,000 has been spent in erecting slides, merry-go-rounds, and an old mill in Lakeland, the amusement section of the fair grounds. Beautiful drives and stabled walks have been built through the woods, and a fast one mile race course has been laid out around the lake for the Grand Circuit races—the premier racing attraction of the world.

R. N. Striplin, general manager, is receiving hundreds of entries in the various contests planned for this great exposition.

Don't Like Flattery.

Samuel Warren, the novelist, was once addressing the Duke of Wellington in terms so flattering that the duke was moved to protest. "I am very glad you are alone, Mr. Warren," he said. "May I ask why, my lord?" replied Warren, his vanity tickled by the seeming compliment. "Because," was the duke's crushing reply, "any one else might think I was fool enough to believe what you are telling me."

When Great Men Meet.

Joseph Jefferson was wont to tell about meeting a modest looking man in a New York hotel who said he had seen the actor with pleasure in a performance at Washington. Jefferson smiled and asked the gentleman's name. "Grant" was the reply. It was the ex-president. Jefferson's embarrassment was intense, but not more acute than that of a famous fellow actor, Booth, when he asked Tennyson for his autograph with a verse and Tennyson's inquiry what the verse should be answered, "From 'The Brook' or 'The Bridge.' Both then realized that he had asked for a verse from one of Longfellow's poems.—Harpers.

What to do when Backache comes on

"I found immediate relief in the use of Foley Kidney Pills. They relieved them, and do not know of a single instance when they failed to give relief."

C. U. Landrum, a traveling salesman, writes from San Angelo, Texas: "After over four months and in all kinds of weather, I have never felt better. I found relief in the use of Foley Kidney Pills. Before the first bottle was used, the pain in my back had entirely disappeared and I have had no recurrence of those pains which frequently amounted to almost neuralgic proportions."

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or have bladder trouble—Take glass of Salts.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which settles in the kidney, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of swelling stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful after-dinner drink and keeps the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Cure for Cholera Morbus.

"When our little boy, now seven years old, was a baby he was cured of cholera morbus by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Mrs. Sidney Simmons, Fair Haven, N. Y. "Since then other children of our family have used this valuable medicine for colic and bowel troubles with good satisfaction and I gladly endorse it as a remedy of exceptional merit."

A SEASON OF TORTURE FOR SOME.

Hay fever causes untold misery to thousands. Asthma, too, counts its sufferers by the millions. No remedy has proven more beneficial for hay fever and asthma, as well as colds and coughs, than Foley's Honey and Tar. It soothes the raw, rasping feeling in the throat, relieves hoarseness and wheezing, brings comfort by making breathing easier, heals inflammation, and by allaying these disturbances permits refreshing, natural slumber. Contains no opiates. Bulloch Drug Co.

Wanted Motions.

Our life is peppered with motions that fly wide and wild. It begins on awaking. We stretch our arms—waste motion! We ought to utilize that gesture for polishing our shoes, or for our eyes—more foolishness. We should rub our eyes on Sunday for the rest of the week. But it is in processes like shaving that scientific management is really needed. Men flatter themselves that they shave with the minimum of gesture. They believe that they complete the operation under five minutes. But, excusing their inaccuracy, do they know that under the inspection of the scientific manager their performance would look as jagged as their razor blade under the microscope? The day will arrive when a superman will shave with such expert motion as delightful to the soul as the unrolling of an orange skin in one long unbroken peel.—New Republic.

Sheep's Two Perquisites.

The sheep is a chunk of misguided animation which is afflicted with the habit of looking at the head and the appearance of always needing its nose wiped, but it has the distinction of being the only animal man can afford to wear strictly all wool clothing the year round. Probably the greatest accomplishment of the sheep is getting itself lost in a snowstorm, at which it is such a success that a number of famous painters have put in a lot of time painting pictures of sheep working at this—Farm and Fireside.

All Fails.

Mr. Grimes (with great indignation) "I've finished with that fellow Skinner, absolutely finished with him. He's a bad one. He has a lying tongue in his head. Mr. Grimes sympathized with me. And only yesterday his wife told me that he had false teeth.—London Tit-Bits.

How She Managed.

Mabel—"If your grandma has lost all her teeth how does she eat?" Willie—"She says she has a biting tongue."—Boston Transcript.

An Early Airship.
We are told by Peter Parley, who wrote as an eyewitness, that in August, 1853, the airship Eagle was officially advertised to sail from London with government dispatches and passengers for Paris and to establish direct communication between the capitals of Europe. This early type of airship was 100 feet long, fifty feet high and forty feet wide, and she lay in the dockyard of the Aeronautical society in Victoria road, near Kensington gardens, then quite a rural spot. Built to hold an abundant supply of gas, she was covered with oiled linen and carried a frame seventy-five feet long and seven feet high, with a cabin secured by ropes to the bottom. An instantaneous release of the gas was provided for purposes of propulsion completed her fittings. The deck was guarded by netting. After all this preparation and advertisement the Eagle never got beyond Victoria road, for Count Leinos and his assistants failed to provide the necessary motive power.—London Standard.

A Peruvian River of Horror.

There is a river of mystery and horror in Peru, and the legends of this rubber regions and untold wealth in gold are accompanied by tales of those who went up it never to return. One mercurial, a naturalist, who has traveled extensively in South America, tells of the stream: "This river," he said, is the Colorado river, the richest river in Peru. Great groves of rubber trees lie along its course, and gold has been found in it. But the Mascos, a tribe of cannibals, inhabit it. They still practice cannibalism and will kill a man on sight. Expeditions have been fitted out and been heavily armed to go exploring for rubber and gold, but none of them ever has returned. The savages have killed the men and eaten them and turned the canoes adrift. They have come down the river empty, bottoms up, or filled with supplies which the savages did not care to remove."—New York Post.
