JOE BEN MARTIN

There are several Martins in and around Statesboro, in fact, the Martins are pioneers in the community, but none deserve more credit for GOOD CLEAN PROGRESSIVENESS than Joe Ben Martin. This same Joe Ben Martin put words into deeds by acting upon a suggestion editorially given in this paper about CLEANING YOUR FRONT DOOR. He rolled up his sleeves, took a rake, a hoe and a broom last Saturday night and proceeded to sweep his side walk and remove the rubbish from the gutter in front of Martin Bros.' store placing it in a box and putting it out of sight of Sunday visitors and church goers. The effect of Joe Ben Martin's work was so creditable to Martin Bros. place of business that we feel it may be appropriate and opportune to repeat the editorial as a lesson to be studied, absorbed, and then recited every Saturday night with a hoe, a rake and a broom.

In the event that the subject does not appeal to the students of cleanliness, sanitation and civic progress it might be well for the city fathers to brush the cobwebs off the municipal laws pertaining to a clean town, and when their children get careless and WON'T shine their shoes and make themselves presentable to the folks coming a visiting, why do the next best and proper thing—apply the switch. Why do the use of having laws if they are not enforced and what's the use of having a town if we can't have a "SPOTLESS TOWN" (with apologies to Sapolo).

For the benefit of those who did not read the CLEAN YOUR FRONT DOOR article which started citizen Joe Ben Martin to doing good work, we repeat it; and for the benefit of those who are ignorant of the law covering the subject we also publish that, copied from the book of laws in the city clerk's office.

CLEAN YOUR FRONT DOOR

Statesboro streets are admitted to be in a deplorable condition which, in a measure, is excusable, because finances are not available to devote to very extensive repairs. But—a very decided improvement could easily be made in the appearance of our business district especially the SUNDAY appearance when auto travelers are passing thru town and must observe the neatness of the town as well as the cleanliness of the streets in front of the stores. The sight that met the gaze of church goers and visitors last Sunday morning was a disgrace to the town and the business houses which perpetuated this nuisance. The fruit peelings, trash and paper left in front of stores from the Saturday shoppers were not an instance gathered even in a pile to be taken by the scavenger wagon Monday but was left scattered all over the streets, and such a condition is unparadiseable. It is but a few moments work to rake up the streets in front of your store and sweep your front door. It is a refusal in a receptacle on Saturday night at the close of business. There should be enough personal and civic pride about every business man to do this or see that it is done, because a CLEAN town is one of the best advertisements that can be published.

It is not our desire to knock, kick or find fault over trivial matters—but bear in mind that this is not a trivial matter. It is a DUTY you owe your community as a CLEAN, progressive citizen and business man, aside from the sanitary part of the question, a newspaper speaking and BOOSTING for a GREATER and BETTER Statesboro—we want to do it as a CLEAN proposition and you can help your city administration present a CLEAN town to her visitors, a whole heap if you will clean your own front door. This is a remarkable prosperity that abounds in this section should not so intoxicate our business men that they lose sight of one of the most vital items in connection with civic advancement. A series of revival meetings are now in progress and about to be continued through the churches, and personal cleanliness is akin to spiritual cleanliness; in fact cleanliness is godliness so let us hope that they may march hand in hand in Statesboro.

An Ordinance—Statesboro City Digest O. O. B. 23.—Obstruction of Streets

Be it enacted by the Mayor and Council of the town of Statesboro that no person shall obstruct in any manner the streets or sidewalks of said town.

Be it further ordained that no person shall place any lumber or timber, or leave wagons or other vehicles, barrels or boxes or any other obstruction in or on any of the streets or sidewalks of said town so that passage thereon is impeded.

TRASH AND GARBAGE—Be it Ordained by the Mayor and Council of the town of Statesboro that no person shall permit or allow to be or remain on the street fronting his premises and garbage, refuse, waste paper or any other substance or matter liable to affect the health of the citizens of the town, and every person so offending shall on conviction be fined to a sum not exceeding $50 or be imprisoned not exceeding 30 days in jail or labor on the streets not exceeding 30 days.

DANGEROUS PROSPERITY

All America seems to be on a wild hilarious drunk of prosperity. Get rich quick schemes are bobbing up at every sun rise most of which in the end will be found to have been hatched in the dark with no purpose in view other than to separate the dear deluded PEOPLE from the coin they are getting after years of struggle and privation. When a man has liquidated his obligation of course his money is his own; he can do with it as he blooming pleases, either buy himself a automobile, air ships or bum speculation stock just as he pleases. But, yet, every man who has been blessed with a bounteous gift of God's kindness, owes his family and his community a debt of far deeper purport than mere reckless or lavish spending of his resources for unnecessary luxuries or trivial amusements. He owes himself as a unit of our great progressive government the conservation of his accumulations to be properly distributed through cooperation with his neighbor in the uplift of his community.

Along this argument we understand that there is a movement on foot, particularly arranged, to announce a fair for Statesboro and Bulloch county to be given within about fifteen or twenty days. That one feature alone is sufficient to stamp the enterprise as impracticable, for any man with a grain of horse sense would know that it requires almost an entire year to prepare for a county fair or exposition. A successful county fair or exposition may be promoted to become of value to a community from an educational and agricultural standpoint. While The Statesboro News is whole heart, soul and body in favor of Bulloch county having a fair along such lines, we suggested editorially last week, and let it be known we do not want to be understood as throwing cold water on a proposition of this kind, but we do say, that simply because our farmers and this particular community has a plethora of money they should not be separated from this under the guise of a county fair that cannot possibly prove of any intrinsic value to them, because they themselves cannot be reached at this late day as exhibitors, with their crops practically gathered and marketed.

If the promoters of this enterprise will husband their energy and center it on an exposition to be given in the fall of 1917 and go to work now to build it on a substantial scale commensurate with the great resources and dignity of the city and county they will then be doing something to their everlasting credit. A fair exposition has a permanent all-year fair exposition in the form of a $150,000.00 packing plant with more than seven hundred subscribers, all home folks, and every mother's son of them who has a surplus dollar should pay up stock in full, and if there is then any funds remaining, he should put it in pure bred live stock and place it on his farm as the foundation of what will in a few years be an independency for himself and those dependent upon him.

WILSON AND HUGHES

The presidential election will be held on Nov. 7. On that day the people will decide between President Wilson and Mr. Hughes. Wilson has shown he is a man of peace and the country is enjoying great prosperity. The president is abused because he has not thrown our country in war. Here is what the Republicans are standing for. Read these words from their published advertisements: "Let us provide for a great navy, the second in size in the world. Let us provide for universal obligatory military training of all our young men in time of peace." In other words let us make the United States a great military nation like Europe has done. Let us make our boys soldiers and sailors instead of patriotic citizens. Let us raise boys as Europe has, to be made food for cannon, and to get our country into war so the "bosses" can get honor and wealth at the expense of the manhood of the country. This is what the Republican party stands for. One father established this nation on a different principle. If you believe in peace vote for Wilson. No doubt he has made mistakes, but the results of his administration speak volumes in favor of the people. The Federal Reserve banks system alone, has been a great achievement. It has divorced this country from the control of Wall street, and made panics almost impossible. Wilson's course has been progressive. All the power behind Hughes belongs to the "interests" who stand for war and monopoly. CITIZEN.

SIGN THE PETITION FOR PAVING

As stated in an editorial in The Statesboro News September 21 under the caption of "A FIRE DEPARTMENT—PAVED STREETS," that a petition would be circulated praying for a bond election either special or at the December city election, accordingly, a petition is now being presented to the citizens for that purpose. Up to the hour of our going to press upwards of two hundred names have been signed to the paper, and among those there are but two who objected. The deplorable condition of the streets following the little rain we have had this week coming at a moment when the town was crowded with people attending court would serve to open the eyes of the citizens to the need of PROGRESSIVE STATESBORO instead of a unanimous bog which ought to be constantly working for. We have been requested to reprint our editorial of September 21st which follows:

A FIRE DEPARTMENT—PAVED STREETS

Two immediately necessary modern city improvements in Statesboro are that paid fire department, and the business section of the city paved. The streets during the last week of rain were in a deplorable condition. If the has been detrimentally criticised by touring motorists, it has remained over night and in personal interviews frankly state that in most instances the country roads are decidedly better than the city streets. They have encountered in passing thru the various towns on their trips. Statesboro is not becoming big and prosperous for such remarks to be directed at us.

It should be done, and there is no time like the present. There is just as much money get-at-able now as there will be a year from now. To begin with, it's a long proposition any way and posterity should not pay for it's a measly trifling little financial investment compared to the great benefit that would accrue. Our business section is so compact that this little district could be done in on time at all, and it would obviate all the cess pools of stagnant water, mosquito-breeding nests now to be seen at the low grades in the streets.

There should be no hesitancy regarding bonding the community for this needed progress. Nine-tenths of the farmers of the community many of whom are town residents have bonded themselves individually for the last fifteen years on a gamble for a crop of cotton, and if they didn't get it they renewed the bond. A thirty or forty thousand dollar bond issue for paving our streets would recompense every dollar paid in the city within five years for its increased value in additional property valuations and the impetus to general business and increased population and new comers in business ventures, that a paid fire department and paved streets would bring. And while the city is being run on a white wash around the business section should be installed. All at one clip, under one financial budget. A bond election to make these improvements should be held at the next December city election and The Statesboro News will start a petition for the necessary percentage of voters to hold this election. In the meantime get to thinking about it.

Atlanta, Ga., November 2.—The high price of wheat with correspond-

The Stephens Society held an interesting meeting on Monday evening.

At the next joint meeting there will be a debate on the presidential administration. The question is: "Resolved, That Woodrow Wilson is the greatest President the United States has ever had."
Ghosts and Witches
On Saturday evening there were many strange and mysterious visitors here. Halloween was celebrated with due ceremony. The chapel was attractively decorated, and our young people and their guests spent a most enjoyable evening. Ghosts, witches and red devils were present, also Gypsy fortune tellers. The seniors were in charge of the entertainment. Punch was served during the evening and later a salad course.

The boys have gotten their new army uniforms and we think they present a neat appearance in them.

Springfield rifles are being sent to the school by the United States War Department.

The football team is expecting a hard game of football Monday, Nov. 6th, when they meet Lyons High School in Statesboro. The Lyons team has played several games this season and are reported to have a strong team.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to flush kidneys and neutralize irritating acids—Splendid for system.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very painful. Again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it is no longer a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is in essence, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for the bladder and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

Thought He Would Never Work Again

J. W. Tomlinson Says He Had Given Up All Hope, But Takes Tanlac and Is Going Back to Farming.

"I was so sick and played out I had to give up my work on the farm and come to Birmingham three weeks ago to spend the rest of my days in the Confederate Veterans' Home. I didn't think I'd ever be much good any longer, but when I got here I got to taking Tanlac, and, sir, you may believe me or not, but the medicine made me feel so much better and stronger that I am getting ready to go back to my old home in Shelby and go to farming again."

The above remarkable statement was made by J. W. Tomlinson, age 70, of Westover, Shelby county, Ala. Mr. Tomlinson is a well-known Confederate veteran, having served three years with Brigadier General Wright. He has lived in Shelby since the end of the war.

"I've been a farmer all my life," continued Mr. Tomlinson, "and always enjoyed good health up until last summer, when a bad attack of grippe and fever completely knocked me out, and I haven't been well since and my strength left me and my health slipped away before I knew it. I couldn't eat or sleep to amount to anything, was terribly nervous, couldn't take interest in anything and finally got to where I had to give up work on the farm. I took all kinds of medicine, but nothing helped me, and I was going down hill all the time."

"A lady in Shelby county told me that Tanlac had helped her wonderfully, and I promised her when I left home that I would try the medicine when I got to Birmingham. I carried out my promise and am mighty glad I did. I bought a bottle and it helped me so much that when I finished taking it I got another. I've taken three bottles in all and I tell you, it's wonderful what the medicine has done for me. I feel stronger and better than I have felt in years, eat and sleep a plenty, full of life and energy and it does me good to know that in a few days I'll be back on the old farm at work again."

"I know I am getting up in years, but I believe this Tanlac medicine has put me on my feet and that I am good for a good many years longer. From what Tanlac had done for me I am satisfied it's the best medicine in the world. Tanlac is sold by leading druggists in all principal towns of the south. Tanlac is sold exclusively in Statesboro by W. H. Ellis Co., and in Metter by Franklin Drug Co., in Brooklet by H. G. Parrish and C. C. Wolfe Co., Stilson, Ga., R. F. D. STUCK ON STATESBORO

The following extract from a letter to the Editor by Mr. Milton Reed of Atlanta, the able representative of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company explains the above heading:

Dear Prof. Van Osten: I came, I saw, I am captivated with your fair city, and its sterling people.

I am writing my family in this same mail and expressing my desire to get ready to spend Thanksgiving here. I have been here for a week and as viewed as the sun shines on the blessed county of smiling, fat harvest, meet the hearty, hospitable owners.

Chew cane and get fat. Selah! Sincerely yours,

MILTON REED. That Mr. Reed and his family will be cordially welcomed goes without saying.

CIRCUS COMES TO STATESBORO

The coming of Sun Brothers' Great Railroad Shows and Allied Trained Wild Animal Troupes is an event of much great interest to the citizens of Bulloch County. In a country having but few holidays and where work too often shuts out play, the advent of Sun Brothers' Shows is always hailed with delight.

Then it is that population of town and country turn out to celebrate. Every incoming road by wagon, vehicle, automobile or train is filled with joyous throngs.

The people patronize Sun Brothers' Shows because they have been taught by experience that it is a great, meritorious and pleasing show from start to finish.

This big show will exhibit at Statesboro on Tuesday, November 21. Performances take place after noon at two o'clock and at night time eight o'clock, opening the doors for the reception of the public one hour earlier.

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

"Many people suffer the torture of lame muscles and stiffened joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system. To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood-maker, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and rebuild your strength. Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief. Beware the alcoholic substitutes."

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

Sleepy Time Story About a Boy
Who Was Nearly Lost.

HOW IT ALL CAME ABOUT.

An Amusing Incident That Caused
Some Alarm For a Time—Where the Missing Youngster Was Finally Discovered—A Russian Princess.

Tonight, said Uncle Ben to little Ned and Polly Ann, I am going to tell you about A LOST BOY.

When I was a boy we lived on a farm, and my father had a large barn in which the children liked to play. I'll never forget the fun I used to have when I was a boy climbing up the haymow.

Our barn was quite a little way from the house, and father seldom locked it. One afternoon mother said that a neighbor spoke of having seen tramps going by, and after that he thought he would lock up the barn.

That afternoon we had a glorious game of robbers' cave in the barn. Our children and the children of two or three neighbors were there.

When it was nearly supper time we stopped playing. The other children got ready to go home, and we, too, started to the house.

"Where's Billy?" some one said. Billy was a three-year-old neighbor and had come with his sister, who was my sister's chum.

"Oh, Billy must have gone home," said his sister. "He would want something to eat before this." Then we said good night very merrily and went our ways.

It was almost dark, and a little later our father came in after having fed the animals and locked the barn.

We were just sitting down to supper when some one knocked at the door.

It was Billy's mother, and she was crying. "Oh, my little boy is lost! He says he came home when the children were playing together, but I haven't seen him. We've searched everywhere, and now my husband is going down to look in the creek."

"Cheer up," father said heartily. "The creek is too shallow to drown a cat. Sit down a bit and tell us all about it."

Father asked if any of us had noticed Billy start home. No one could remember to have seen him.

"I'll go with a lantern and take a look around the barn," said father.

We all followed him, and, though we looked in every corner, we could not see any traces of Billy. We noticed, however, our neighbor's dog, bounding about.

After awhile he went up into the haymow and began scratching and whining. After he had tossed the hay to one side we saw what he was after. Little Billy, tired out with play, had gone to sleep under the hay, which he had drawn over himself in our game of hide and seek.

WILL CRIPPLE OUR BUSINESS

A dearth of capital, reduction of immigration and keen foreign competition will cripple American business conditions after the war, declared T. H. B. McKnight, president of the Society of Railway Financial Officers, in his report to that organization at the opening of its annual meeting. He declared railroads would face a critical situation.

Deep thinkers are sounding a warning to Americans that they should heed. Foreign competition, the close of the war will be a problem with which America will have to contend.

"BATTLE CRY OF PEACE."

Return Engagement at

Amusu Theatre

SATURDAY, NOV. 14.

From 9 A. M. to 11 P. M.

On account of the very great interest that the famous picture, "The Battle Cry of Peace," created on Thursday night at the Amusu Theatre, Manager Barkett has succeeded in booking a return engagement for next Saturday.

The performance will be nearly an all day one, commencing at 9 a. m. and continuing until 11 p. m. The admission price has been reduced to 25 and 35 cents.

That afternoon we had a glorious game of robbers' cave in the barn. Our children and the children of two or three neighbors were there.

When it was nearly supper time we stopped playing. The other children got ready to go home, and we, too, started to the house.

GROOMING A NEW MAN FOR CONGRESS

"While it is eighteen months until the opening of the next congressional campaign, yet there is already casting about for a man to pit against Overstreet next time."

"The name of Eld. J. Walton Hendricks has been mentioned as one of the best known and most popular men in the district; and if he enters the race, he will be a strong factor in the next contest."

"It is not believed that Savannah will be able to furnish the congressman for many years to come."

Great Scott, Jeeems; let them get away in his race before you call the names for another.

R. LEE MOORE FARM LOAN DEPARTMENT

Hon. R. Lee Moore, our popular Solicitor General, who will retire from the office he has so ably filled will devote a great deal of his spare time to the development of Statesboro and Bulloch County realty progress. Mr. Moore is directly interested in the Bulloch Packing Plant and was one of the aggressive movers in that enterprise and worked incessantly until it became a fixed reality. Farm loans will be one of the features that Mr. Moore will conduct with his law practice on returning to the local field and will look largely to this source for an immediate need of making Bulloch a successful livestock territory. Mr. Moore's advertisement appears in another column.

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING

But Not So Bad If You Know How To Reach The Cause

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. Statesboro people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this case:

Daniel R. Rigdon, 44 Bulloch St., Statesboro, says: "Whenever I feel in need of a kidney medicine, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they never fail to remove the aches and pains in my back. At times, while at work, I have to do a great deal of stooping and lifting and this is hard to do with a lame and aching back. Doan's Kidney Pills always strengthen my back and fix me up all right."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Rigdon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

BROWN—LORD

Miss Mamie Brown and Mr. Lonnie Lord were married by Rev. J. B. Thrasher Sunday morning just prior to the morning service, at the church parsonage. The young people enjoy a wide acquaintance in Bulloch county and their marriage is greeted with their friends with much good will.

WATERS—JONES

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Royster announced the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Lena Francis Waters to Mr. John Paul Jones which took place on Saturday, Sept. 16, 1918.

Mrs. Jones is an attractive lady of Statesboro and very popular in social circles. Mr. Jones is known well liked well by all his acquaintances.

The marriage was a great surprise to their many friends, having been six weeks since they were last seen. J. B. Thrasher where the ceremony was performed.

On November 12th the Savannah & Statesboro railway will put into effect a new and accommodating train schedule of the morning and afternoon passenger trains to and from Statesboro. The morning train will leave Statesboro at 6:30 making connection with the Seaboard at Cuyler for points west such as Pembroke, Groveland, etc., and will arrive in Savannah at 8:30. This convenient schedule will enable travelers to make connections at Savannah for Waycross and Jacksonville and other southern points. Returning from Savannah the S. & S. will leave at 2:45 arriving at Statesboro at 4:45. Statesboro people will appreciate the convenience this will afford in the west-bound Seaboard Railway connection at Cuyler as it will supply a long needed railway accommodation to travelers in this section.

ADAMIRATION DON'T RUN NEWS PAPERS NOWADAYS

Admiration alone will not run a newspaper. Sooner or later such admirers will find that the object of their admiration is not what they thought it to be.

Other ways that they do not admire—in other words, newspaper is compelled in order to live, to seek the friendship of those who are not so pliant in their love, but unite that practical admiration to other profession. There are too many men who expect an editor to slave in defense of their pet notions and hobbies, advocate their views against the strongest opposition and coolly withhold business support by which alone a small newspaper can live.

No paper can be published without patronage, and every man is interested in keeping up a home paper. If a railroad or factory is wanted the newspaper is expected to work for it. If a public meeting is wanted for any purpose, the newspaper is called upon for a free notice. If any of the clubs or societies have a reception or supper of any kind, the newspaper is expected to give the necessary notice. The newspaper must puff the school and every thing else to advance the interests of the business men of the place, and yet some of them do nothing to keep up their home paper—Greensboro Herald-Journal.

A newspaper as a philanthropic institution trots way in the lead of all public gives.

ABOUT SCHOOL BAGS

Interlocking Equipment For Use of School Children.

Certain it is that the school supplies shown in the above are more interesting than they ever before have been. So if there is any objection coming from the children the blame will be long to the mothers.

Pencils, fascinating even to most of us grownups, are sold in a bewildering number of attractive holders. These are Japanese and of course are printed with pretty Japanese landscapes or figures. There are boxes shaped like books with covers that open to display neat rows of pencils and penholders.

There are little chests with tops that open and drawers that pull out, all filled with pencils and other school supplies. There are pretty boxes with Gainsborough or other colored prints on the cover. There are modern and pretentious copies of the Japanese boxes which most of us—if we were lucky—had in our childhood.

In the various pencil boxes there are pencils and pens, penholders and even boxes of pen points, elastic bands of different sizes, paste, scissors, paper cutters, penknives and a dozen other small and small pockets.

There are many interesting lunch boxes too. One of the most interesting is a diminutive pastel-colored satchel, quite large enough for a substantial lunch and quite strong enough to withstand a good deal of battering, but at the same time an easy burden for even a small child.

A new sort of book strap has a couple of straps instead of a buckle, so that it can be fastened at any point in its length. The straps and an extra length of strap are so arranged that two distinct parcels may be carried at the same time, one on top of the other, like a stack of books and a lunch box.

Badies Are Fitted.

The new evening frocks have fitted bodices—or, rather, flimsy draped bodices—over foundations of feathered satin or silk. When the foundation is dished with the diaphanous little bodies of tulle, chiffon or lace is drawn under a trim girle or shawl to the waistline. The change was made in a stiffened girle that sticks to the waist line without supporting rightly. Of course, below the trim waist the fluffy skirt flows, and the deep cuffs are full and deep.

Evening gowns of tulle seem to have no undergarment at all. The drapery of tulle flaring about a petticoat of lace.

Flat Braid is One of the New Dress Trimmings.

One of the prettiest novelties in this line, it may be said polished finish.

Some New Sleeves

There are several new fashions in sleeves, and among these the most striking are those that are quite full at the elbow and fit snugly below.

The lap-shoulder is being brought into vogue again, and sleeves with deep cuffs are very popular. There is a new idea in sleeves as well as in a blue dress dress trimmed with tulle.

THERE IS MUCH DIVERSITY IN THE AUTUMN STYLES

Though Full and Straight, Skirts May Differ Widely—Sleeves and Pockets are Interesting

New York, Nov. 1.—It is especially true this autumn, that variety is one of the greatest charms of the styles. Although those who have been looking for revolutionary changes in the fashions have, no doubt, been disappointed, they will certainly admit that the diversity in the present styles more than makes up for the absence of anything that might be called radically different. Fresh interest is always being aroused by the clever variations of the present, straight, full silhouette that meets the eye at every turn.

Embroidery in colored silks, wools and beads is as popular for young girls as for women. They also have as wide choice in dress materials and colors. Green, dark brown, deep red, and blues of all shades, are used for their coats and frocks.

Your coat goes a long way when burned in Cole's Hot Blast Heaters. They are fuel savers.

UNDERSEA WARFARE

The renewal of German submarine warfare and torpedoing of boats carrying American citizens is becoming all too frequent to be passed over with a dillydallying exchange of notes. We want to be kept out of war if possible, but when such a ruthless and wanton killing of subjects of the leading neutral nation of the world in this embroilment of the old world people as Germany continues to employ in her undersea method goes on so unrelentingly, it is reaching a point when America must put her rights first and her duty behind her rights and assert them in no vacillating terms. Germany continues her submarine butchery across the water and then comes to American shores and sinks a few ships and pops up a merchant submarine right under our nose just to show us what she could do if she wanted to or as much as to say look out for the dog and we've been letting the dog scare us. The spirit of '99 and '93 seems dormant.

NEW CROP POSTMASTERS GROWING

A number of papers are poking jokes at Hughes' advocacy of competitive examinations for postmasters. Just the same there is a deal of horse sense in the suggestion. The office appointment really should be eliminated from politics and placed under civil service rules. Our Uncle Samuel is constantly harping about efficiency and then every four years he up and kicks the efficiency bucket all to smithereens. If a President of a great corporation were to poke holes in his efficiency system as often as does Uncle Sam his stockholders would skin him alive. There is many a man who takes charge of a branch of the most important system of our government every four years who if asked how a letter should be routed to reach Ypsilanti would be just as likely to say that it was somewhere in Russia and he would look it up, to see which ocean steamship line carried the mail. We are a wonderful nation but we could profitably adopt systems of the old world countries that would vastly improve upon our own.

VOTE ON PAVING CERTAIN

The Statesboro News is delighted with the very great willingness in which the property owners signed the petition for a special election in bonding the city for paving suggested by The News and circulated by Hon. Hinton Booth. With but one or two exceptions every property owner approached signed the paper and with words of commendation toward the movement, it being generally agreed that city street paving is the necessary improvement to take up looking to a greater Statesboro. It would not appear a particularly burdensome proposition to include a white way, covering the business section and the ground wires while this paving is being done. It is certain to come eventually, and it might as well be done when conditions are most favorable, as to wait and tear up paving later. If our city engineer would investigate this matter that authentic information might be available for consideration at the proper time a great saving would be possible on a great improvement.

While the city paving project is uppermost in the minds of the city people it would be an opportune moment for the county commissioners to look into a paving project for the county roads. In the grand jury presentments published in another part of this paper complaint is registered about the condition of mules and county property much of which is utilized in Bulloch county road work. The county roads in some sections are even in worse condition than some of the city streets and on our main highways where criticism can be rightfully directed.

Concrete for roads is proving the solution from a financial and durability standpoint. The one economical solution is to build PERMANENT roads and many state legislatures are beginning to realize the unsoundness of long term bonds issued for road improvements that are less permanent than concrete. A New Jersey law, recently passed, limits road bond issues as follows:

For sand and gravel roads—five year bonds.
For water bound macadam roads or penetration process—Ten year bonds.
For bituminous concrete—Fifteen year bonds.

For block of any material or sheet asphalt on concrete—Twenty year bonds.

For concrete roads—Twenty year bonds.

The very great cost attached to the working and reworking of Bulloch county roads under the present system of convict labor with the attendant maintenance expense of the camps, paraphernalia, etc., and in the end getting but a temporary satisfactory result might well be investigated by our commissioners with a view to making start toward a bond issue that would build 100 miles of concrete roads on the several different highways leading to Statesboro which with the various intersecting by-ways would prove one of the most progressive moves that Bulloch county could make.

For the general information of those interested in better roads and permanent roads, and the tax payer who quite naturally wants his rate at the lowest minimum, the Statesboro News will publish a series of articles beginning next week on the experience of other communities where concrete has been used as a permanent road material.

THE FAIR AND THE FREAK

(From The Savannah Morning News)

Can county fairs be successful in Georgia, without the absurdly crude side shows that are a part of most of them? And without the loud-bawling, shrewd faker who sells cheap jewelry for many times its value? If they cannot be, then perhaps it is a good thing to let these "attractions" appear, for a considerable consideration, in the fair and encourage take cotton money and hog money from visiting farmers and give them in return something that hardly is worthy to be spoken of as "something." Whenever it is suggested that except for the peculiar dancers, singers, freaks, "mermaids" and the very slim, the attendance at fairs would be very slim, the wish is all the stronger that for one year at least the promoters of county fairs in this part of the state would try to bring in a big attendance without such things. There should be music, as good as can be obtained at county fairs, and there should be some other form of amusement, but surely it is possible to arrange something just as attractive to the visitors and far more worth while than some of the things that are counted on to pull the farmer and his family from their homes at the fair grounds. Is it possible that it is necessary to promise a farmer that he will see an Oriental dancing troupe in order to get him to look at the fine hogs, cattle, pumpkins and sugar cane on exhibition? It is expected that if the head of the farm family can be brought to the fair by such a promise, it is necessary to promise children with him, even the magnet that attracts him is not for their eyes? Is it necessary to make the farmer think he is being just a little bit wicked in order to make him thoroughly enjoy the fair?

If the crude little shows are to be a constant feature, why not let the head of the visitors a stout roll or bills in a few days. His spieel keeps many men from giving more than passing notice to the exhibits, the blooded stock, the fine deer, the canned goods put up by the neighbors. Is the aim and end of the county fair merely to collect all state money as can be had by all sorts of means? It brings visitors to the town in which it is held, and there can be no doubt in this respect. But are the merchants and the faker to get a big share of the profits and for the same time they distract attention from the fine bulls, the fat and heavy hogs? County fairs should be, first and chiefly, educational, showing farmers better crops, better methods, how to make their farms; showing the wives and the finer preserves, how to save labor and the prize winners in the corn, canning and four-crop clubs were able to get results so good. Of course, before any body can be instructed, he must get within reach of instruction, and in this is found the excuse usually given for the freaks, dancers and sellers of cheap jewelry. It is explained that the farmers, and hence their families, would not show people in large numbers unless the side show people were kept away from them. Maybe so, but it might be worth while to put the whole question to the supreme test by giving the side shows a rest for a year in Southeast Georgia.

Inland Waterways Would Be of Great Service In Defending Country

By JOSEPHUS DANIELS, Secretary of the Navy

EVENTS of the present year have given fresh arguments to the men of vision who for years have given their time and thought to arousing public interest in the plan to complete the inland waterway from Massachusetts to Florida. The revival of shipbuilding for commerce will exert a mighty influence upon WISE IMPROVEMENT OF RIVERS AND HARBORS, THE DEEPENING OF RIVERS AND THE COMPLETION OF THE INLAND WATERWAY CANAL.

We have always known and felt that such waterways were desirable. Their importance and I think I may say their necessity, from a military point of view, has not perhaps been recognized as it should be until the present war in Europe. It was not more battleships nor great armored cruisers that England found herself in desperate need of when the hour of peril came. It was for trawlers, scout boats, little merchant and pleasure craft, which had never been considered as of any great military importance.

It is evident that we must have fleets of this kind, and the navy department, with that alertness in changing conditions which characterizes it, has already taken long strides toward the solution of the new problem.

EVERY INLAND CHANNEL ADDS THAT MUCH MORE TO THE PROTECTION OF OUR COAST, TO THE SAFETY OF OUR PORTS AND, IT IS NOT TOO MUCH TO SAY, TO THE SAFETY OF OUR ENTIRE COUNTRY FROM INVASION.

WILSON AND MARSHALL RE-ELECTED IN HARD FOUGHT RACE

EXTENSION OF PROHIBITION LAW
W. & A. RAILROAD WITH HIGH COURT
May Not Have Any Bidders Crowded Court Docket Will Probably Delay Decision

Atlanta, Ga., November 9.—Extension of the Western & Atlantic railroad from Atlanta to the Atlantic seaboard appears to be out of the question for the present.

William Hurd Hilmyer, of Atlanta, who headed a syndicate which was prepared to make a bid on extending the road, declares:

"Owing to the failure of the governor to call an extra session of the legislature to refer to the voters a constitutional amendment authorizing an issuance of bonds to finance the extension, and owing to the short time allowed for preparation of detailed specifications, I do not see how it is possible for any responsible concern to make a bid on December 1."

"The state has tied her hands and ours. Our tentative proposal, submitted to the Western & Atlantic commission some time ago, was based on the assumption that the commission would be provided with the funds, or at least its credits, to finance the extension. Otherwise the whole extension project is nullified and the future disposition of the road is restricted to one possible bid—the present lessee. No responsible party is going to make a bid to extend the road and have to wait two years to find out whether the bid is accepted or not."

Mr. Hilmyer, who is one of the leading financiers of the state, declared further than any report that his interests and the interests working to consolidate lines north of Chattanooga and Chicago are in any way connected is erroneous and unauthorized.

BOLL WEEVIL DESTROY TWO MILLION BALES OF COTTON
Washington, Nov. 4.—Approximately two million bales of cotton, valued at about $200,000,000, have been destroyed by the boll weevil, and about 10 per cent of the cotton belt was infested by the pest, according to reports J. A. Taylor, president of the National Ginners' Association, who took this year through the cotton belt.

There has never been a year in the cotton industry when the weevil had done so much damage as this year. "The pest has spread greatly. I estimate the damage $80,000,000. An official announcement of it in its new territory where the weevil has never been known. The weevil has reached the Atlantic coast for the first time in history."

Mr. Taylor said that he received reports from the South showing that the pest had covered more cotton fields this year than during the last four years combined. Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, Georgia, Arkansas and Oklahoma were most seriously affected.

May Not Have Any Bidders Crowded Court Docket Will Probably Delay Decision

Atlanta, Ga., November 9.—Not only is the Atlanta householder who ordered his coal in the summer, when prices were low, a lucky man, but he is doubly lucky if he is able to secure a delivery of the coal at the prices for which a dealer contracted to sell it.

High prices here, as elsewhere, are due to the unprecedented shortage of railroad cars, and householders are feeling the pinch of the enormous advance in prices. Recent mild weather has helped householders to a certain extent, but it has not helped them manufacturing industries of the city and state, which must have their coal to drive their machinery, regardless of the state of the temperature. Neither has it helped the municipalities of the state which are needing coal to run their water works and municipal lighting plants.

Railroad statistics show that the railroads of the country on October 1, were short the largest number of cars in years, and further show that the proportion of coal cars and gondolas was unusually high, as compared to the total shortage. This shortage of coal cars and gondolas is caused by enormous shipments of coal to industries making heavy supplies and to shipments of coal to the coal fields of the country.
