BULLOCK FARMER HAS
QUADRUPEL FREAKA Four Legged and Four
Winged Chicken

We've heard of 2-in-1 shoe polish, and various other doublets, triplets, quartets, etc., but we must confess that we never saw a four legged and four winged chicken until today when Mr. C. W. Joiner, a prosperous farmer, living on R. F. D. 4 brought in town a newly hatched chicken with a perfectly formed head, but with a double back body having four perfectly developed legs and four wings equally as perfect. Mother hen must have set over time thinking she could develop an offspring that would have double the value of the advertising chick that "Hass" scratched yet. Unfortunately for the owner, Mr. Joiner, little Miss Chicklet did not live to tango with her four feet, or to vie with Beach the aviator or Glenn Curtis for supremacy in monoplane or biplane dizzy heights as an exhibition or county fair attraction.

Back in Harness

My friends are hereby notified that I am again in harness—ready to make and repair harness and shoes in workmanlike manner. I have with me again Mr. Bland, who was with me before retirement from business last, and who is an expert workman.

I solicit your patronage, and guarantee all work.

THE BUSINESS
MEN'S CLUB

WHY STATESBORO NEEDS IT

Many Interests That Would Be Benefitted

Why any city should number among its civic bodies a BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB, cannot be more forcibly set forth than was done by Senator Elihu Root of New York when at a luncheon given by the Merchants' Association of that city last week, "urged business men to organize for the protection of their interests just as wage earners have organized."

STATSBORO is in the very heart of a wonderfully rich producing commonwealth, and whether we want to or not, we will be FORCED sooner or later to become the central market for this ever increasing output of nature's grainery.

The world is bringing to light a new generation of sturdy, aggressive, shrewd men who are enthusiastically seeking just such opportunities as are housed within this very county and they will slip in upon us soon to our regret.

STATSBORO citizens and business men have interests to protect. We want to reach out and grasp that which naturally belongs to us; with increasing population comes increased responsibilities.

A BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB is a necessity to grapple with the frequently varying conditions that confront a community.

Events of importance are constantly arising that require discussion upon broad comprehensive lines. A whole-hearted, united citizens organization is the paramount issue.

The News has been heartily endorsed by many of the leading business men for bringing this subject to life and we quote a few more expressions of those who favor a more earnest effort toward real active work.

Mr. J. A. BRANNEN—"We live in the best town, in the best county, in the best state, in the union, and we must not let any advantages escape us. And a league of business men organized to act for the common good of the town is an advantage."

Mr. J. F. FIELDS—"You may put me on the list for any such move as that. It appears to me that it would be a mighty good way for us to get acquainted with ourselves as well as with our neighbors. It would at once become a clearing house for ideas that would certainly be beneficial."

JOE BEN MARTIN—"I would be most willing to co-operate in any manner that would bring about such a civic institute in our midst. I fully believe that it would be the means of a new and fruitful life in our business connections."

STATSBORO has thrown off her infantile clothes and donned the attire of a full grown com-

George Williams Alias

Walker, Gets Away

With Mule And Buggy.

George Williams alias Charlie Walker under pretense of starting to work for a farmer named Miller living in the lower part of the county, borrowed Miller's mule and buggy, stating that he wanted to get his family from some distance away and would shortly return ready for work. Miller after waiting a reasonable time for the man to return, started in pursuit only to discover that Williams had taken a ruse to get possession of the rig with which he was well on his way to parts unknown. D. parties from the sheriff's office and a posse of farmers in the district are in pursuit.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH

Two Year Old Son of Mr.
and Mrs. W. H. Smith
R. F. D. No. 2 Fatally

Burned.

Last Friday March 26th Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith residing about nine miles from Statesboro on R. F. D. 2 were horrified to discover the clothing of their two year old son in flames which later caused the death of the little fellow.

The parents left him playing alone in the room for but a few moments while attending to affairs of the home in another part of the house and on hearing the crying of the boy who had gotten his playthings near an open fire place where his cloths had caught on fire and by the time his parents reached him he was writhing in a mass of flame.

His mother grabbed him and was herself painfully burned about the hands and arms in her effort to extinguish the flames that was fast consuming the life of her little son.

A physician from Statesboro was telephoned for and after arrival did all within his power to alleviate the terrible suffering of the boy but to no avail, the boy dying in about three hours after the unfortunate accident. Mrs. Smith herself suffering excruciating pain from her injuries is getting along as well as can be expected under the very trying circumstances and nervous shock subsequent to such a catastrophe.

The many friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Smith in the district offered the parents their heartfelt sympathy in word and deed during their hour of trouble.

THE ROBERTS CO.

EXPERT MACHINISTS

Are Temporarily Located In Statesboro

The Roberts Factory Trained men and Typewriter experts are in Statesboro for a short period located at the Rountree Hotel where they have established a general repair station for all makes of typewriters sewing machines, etc. The Roberts Co. are skilled men in their work and their visit is really a great accommodation to all owners of typewriters and sewing machines in a small community where expert repair men for such machinery cannot be found. The newspapers throughout the section that has been covered by these men speak in the very highest terms of the business relations and satisfactory work. Wear advised that these tours through the smaller towns is preliminary to the formation of a stock company that will be located in one of the larger cities in East Georgia in which the Messrs. Roberts will be extensively interested.

COLUMBUS HOME
COMING CELEBRATIONThe C. of G. and Seaboard
Railroads Offer Special Rates.

The Columbus Georgia Home Coming, the central feature of which will be the celebration of the anniversary of the last battle of the war between the States, April 14, 15, 16 and 17 will be opened by an address of welcome delivered by Gov. John M. Slaton, of Georgia.

One of the features of the Historic Pageant on April 16th, which is the fiftieth anniversary of the "last battle," will consist of one hundred young ladies and escorts mounted on horses and carrying flags of the States and the Americas. The consuls of North and South American countries have been requested to furnish flags of their countries to be borne by a representative designed by them. This request is receiving attention, and flags are already arriving. After the Pageant these flags will be placed for keeping in the museum of the Historical Society of Columbus, Ga.

Moving pictures of the main events will be taken and sent throughout the United States.

The Semi Annual Pigeon Show of the Dixie Pigeon Association will be held during the week, beginning April 13th, in Columbus.

On April 15th there will be a Farmer's and Business Men's Meeting to discuss marketing, and representatives of the Department of Agricultural, Washington, and the State Agricultural Colleges, will be among the speakers. A national plan for marketing the farm produce of the United States will be considered.

The governors of each state of the union have been requested to ask former residents of Columbus and the soldiers who participated in the last battle of the war between the States at Columbus, Ga. and their relatives, to communicate with the Columbus Chamber of Commerce.

The city will be profusely decorated, the schools closed, and every activity of the city directed toward making the celebration a fitting one to commemorate the end of the historic struggle between the States.

Slaton Offers Reward
In Oliver Case

Atlanta, April 6.—Gov. Slaton today offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension with proof to convict of the person or persons who shot down A. D. Oliver, "captain of finance," on the streets of Leesburg, about a month ago. The shooting was done by three unidentified persons in front of Oliver's bank. The Governor offers $250 for one of the guilty men or $500 for two of them.

The Governor took action after hearing from a number of citizens of Lee county, and after writing to Sheriff Moreland of Lee county, from whom he had not heard, as it is usually customary to base reward offers upon requests of these officials.

Sheriff Moreland took offense at the Governor's letter and published his own reply, in which he attacked the Governor in connection with the Oliver matter.

A Freak of the Sea.
Like the ribs of a long dead giant so stand the rusty ribs of the U. S. S. Waters, two miles inland, at the foot of the Andes, where the ship was deposited in 1898 by a monster tidal wave. The ship, with practically its entire crew aboard, was swept from land, where it was left on an even keel, almost uninjured.

WILLARD WINS
HIS TALK ON HOW THE FIGHT WENT

His One Hurt Is a Toe—Kaew When Johnson Had Weak-
Blow Did It—Has No
Plans for the Future

Havana, April 5.—Willard said that none of Johnson's blows hurt more than momentarily, except a slash over the heart about the twentieth round which made him gasp for breath during the rest of the round. He declared he was not sore about the body, but one of the toes on his left foot was slightly sprained and swollen from a twist. Johnson must have known this, for constantly during the fight he kept extending his left foot until he could just press down on Willard's left toes.

No Mania For Militarism Among Americans, but They Want to Be Prepared

By JOSEPH H. CHOATE, Lawyer and Statesman

ASTRONG and increasingly strong navy, adequate to the defense of our enormous seacoast, of the Panama canal, of the great cities on the seaboard, seems to be assured. Exactly how President Wilson's suggestion of a well equipped and efficient militia is to be arranged between the federal and state governments does not appear, but it ought to be so arranged that every young man, somewhere between the ages of seventeen and twenty-one, shall be so trained as to be well developed physically and to learn to shoot.

HOW THIS IS TO BE DONE I DO NOT KNOW, BUT CERTAINLY IT MUST BE DONE IF WE WOULD BE SAFE FROM ATTACK. If we stand in the position of a mighty nation, always ready to defend itself and never willing to attack any other nation, we shall be able to speak with authority when the long postponed day of possible peace shall come.

IT IS A MISTAKE TO SUPPOSE THAT THERE IS ANY MANIA FOR MILITARISM AMONG OUR PEOPLE. THEY WANT NOTHING BUT PEACE. BUT THEY DO WANT AND WILL INSIST UPON OUR BEING READY TO DEFEND OURSELVES IF ATTACKED.

Executions Should Be Public to Teach the Enormity of Their Injustice

By THOMAS MOTT OSBORNE, Warden of Sing Sing Prison, New York

REMEMBER that every time I give the signal and the word for an execution at Sing Sing every citizen of the state is guilty of murder.

Capital punishment is against the law of God, and we all know it. That is the reason that we hide our executions in the dark corner of a cellar and try to forget what we are doing. I WOULD FAVOR A LAW THAT WOULD MAKE IT NECESSARY TO HOLD SUCH EXECUTIONS IN THE PUBLIC SQUARE, WHERE WE COULD ALL SEE AND REALIZE JUST WHAT IT MEANS.

Do you know what it feels like to have a fine looking young man in the heyday of his youth and strength come up to you and say, "Warden, have you fixed the day on which I am to die?" and to have to answer "Yes" and tell him just what day you and the law are going to remove him from the earth? I just had to do it. I tell you it isn't right; it isn't right.

Why should we take a young man from life and deprive him of all chance to make amends for the crime for which he is being punished? WE STEP IN AND KEEP THE MEN THAT WE EXECUTE FROM ATONING FOR THEIR SIN. I USED TO BELIEVE IN CAPITAL PUNISHMENT. I AM NO LONGER A BELIEVER IN IT.

Woman Is the Custodian of the Human Race and in Her Hands Rests Its Future

By Mrs. PETTICK LAWRENCE, Nonmillant Suffragist

HOW would I picture the woman of the future? I should describe her as the woman who had developed from the individualized mother into the race mother. IN OTHER WORDS, SHE WOULD BE THE WOMAN WHOSE PUBLIC CONSCIOUSNESS HAS SO DEVELOPED THAT SHE WILL FEEL AS GREAT A CONCERN IN THE WELFARE OF OTHER WOMEN'S CHILDREN AS IN HER OWN.

This talk about women becoming unsexed is stuff. Woman's field will never be the same as man's. It always will be the home.

THE WOMEN ARE THE CUSTODIANS OF THE HUMAN RACE, AND IN THEIR HANDS RESTS THE RACE'S FUTURE. TO DEVELOP A FINER RACE A FINER SENSE OF MOTHERHOOD IS NEEDED, AND THAT IS WHAT THIS WOMAN'S MOVEMENT IS REALLY TENDING TOWARD.

What we are trying to impress upon the world is that woman will not be able to bring proper children into the world until there are laws to safeguard human life. It will be in obtaining proper laws for sanitation and housing, proper food laws and laws that will otherwise make it possible to have better and healthier children that the women will do their work.

The Aeroplane Has Completely Changed the Tactics of Warfare

By LOUIS BLERIOT, Inventor of the Monoplane

SO far as military results are concerned, submarines are far more dangerous than dirigibles ever could be. We must watch under the sea far more carefully than we must in the air.

EXPERIENCE HAS SHOWN THAT AEROPLANES, FLYING SWIFTLY AND VERY HIGH, ARE ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO BRING DOWN, WHEREAS DIRIGIBLES, FLYING SLOW AND LOW, OFFER A MAXIMUM TARGET.

I am sure that if dirigible airships ever venture at real warfare their admirers will see their illusions vanish and fade in the air. And I speak as a constructor when I say that the only question that has been settled by the war to date is that the aeroplane is useful and the dirigible is a handicap.

AEROPLANES HAVE COMPLETELY CHANGED THE TACTICS OF WARFARE. IT IS NOW IMPOSSIBLE TO SUCCESSFULLY CARRY THROUGH A SURPRISE MOVEMENT OF TROOPS, AS THE AERIAL EYES OF THE ARMY SPY IT OUT THE MOMENT IT IS ATTEMPTED AND THE GENERAL COMMANDING IS ABLE TO CHECKMATE IT.

There is no doubt, however, that the aeroplane is a distinct acquisition, whereas the dirigible must fly by night and drop its bombs blindly

AN INTERNATIONAL PEACE SOCIETY

A Necessity of the Moment Which is Being Generally Discussed

(From the American Peace Society Journal)

Much good can be accomplished by crystalizing this sentiment into a gigantic organization. There is encouragement in the knowledge that the masses do not want war and in the feeling that humanity has been outraged. The most horrible tragedy in the world's history is being enacted across the water and before God these men are our brothers. A tremendous responsibility rests upon us all just at this moment as a nation that believes in international peace. The President should be heartily supported by a united people in his overtures for peace. A concerted effort should be made through all possible public agencies, the press and public included, to arouse a mighty voice of protest throughout the land that shall be heard throughout the world. This unholy war should cease.

The frightful consequences of this European conflict are likely to be beyond the wildest conjecture; never before in the history of the world have such large numbers of men and such quantities of armament been engaged in mortal combat. Never before have deadly machines of warfare been loosed in the destruction of man and property. Many thousands of lives are being sacrificed daily and will continue to be until this terrible conflict is stopped. Orders from the war office are that, so far as possible, no news whatever of this war shall be printed except the official communiqués. Doubtless these Generals have their reasons. They realize that if all the world knew what cruel slaughter is going on at the front there would be an effective protest against the continuance of the war. Doubtless, too, recruiting might be interfered with.

The burdens and miseries of the war will fall not so much upon the coverings of the nations engaged in it as upon the millions of men who are fighting in the ranks, upon the widows and orphans in the homes which are made desolate, and upon the generation yet unborn. The wheels of industry are still, commerce is paralyzed, and civilization is turned back a hundred years.

In the midst of this distressing calamity the peace-loving people of America have no small responsibility. The ministers might well deliver sermons calling attention to the utter follies and irreparable losses of war. A similar responsibility rests upon lectures and the press. The various peace societies should, with renewed vigor, lend their energies toward creating a universal sentiment for international right-reason. Such efforts, exerted by a people of a great nation whose neutrality and good faith is undoubted, cannot fail to have a salutary effect.

The opportunity of the American people seems at hand: The workers for justice between nations may well be horrified, but they need not feel discouraged. The cumulative disasters following in the wake of the armies, the futility of military theories, the senselessness of it all, are so apparent that the constructive work of civilization may well believe that they are soon to receive a new hearing before the bar of humanity. Let us of America, remembering all that is best and noblest in our traditions, do every thing in our power to carry forth the banner of the new international righteousness. We repeat, our responsibility and our opportunity are at hand.

Therefore, we urge upon peace-loving people the country over, the importance of immediately discussing among themselves this terrible situation and uniting in continued efforts on each succeeding day until world peace is restored.

"Well."

"If—if I am built like a watch, don't you think I should have a few jewels?"

SEES DANGER IN TOO MUCH COTTON PLANTING

Comments By Commissioner J. D. Price of the State Department of Agriculture

The State Department of Agriculture views with deep concern and alarm the reports which come from several sections of the state to the effect that no active steps are being taken looking to a reduction of the cotton acreage this year as compared last. These reports are by no means general, for in many counties effective plans for a reduction of 25 per cent as compared with 1914 have already been made.

The department sees considerable possible danger, however, in the too heavy planting of cotton in any county or section. Commenting upon the situation Commissioner of Agriculture J. D. Price said:

"I scarcely believe that these reports indicating in some instances a lack of inclination to reduce the acreage are well founded. My information from many sections of the state which I have visited and with which I have been in correspondence indicates that the farmers of Georgia have well learned their lesson and that acreage reduction will be general.

"Nevertheless, I feel it the duty of the department to call attention to the danger that exists in this direction. I cannot understand how any Georgia farmer could consider for a moment sticking to the one big crop idea in the face of the fact that the south has just made the biggest cotton crop in the world's history. Certainly they cannot afford to let themselves be misled by the little recent rise in price and go back to a single crop instead of making the food stuffs they absolutely need for home use.

"Even if the European war should end within a short time and we should make anything like the crop of 1914, we could not expect anything but low prices for it. The United States Census Bureau shows that this country has consumed in the past seven months 225,000 bales less than for the same period the year before. Its figures also show that foreign ship ments up to date have been approximately 1,700,000 bales less than for the same period of a year ago. So that in the face of the record crop the world's consumption of our cotton has been nearly two million bales less for seven months up to about the first of March than for the same period of the year preceding.

"How anybody can find in these figures anything to encourage him to plant practically his whole farm in cotton is more than I can see. I want to give fair warning against it. If farmers do it they are going to suffer. I do not believe they will do it, but this is one thing we ought to be absolutely sure about. It is the only safe way."

100 SHORTHORNS SHIPPED FROM MISSOURI

C. of G. Agricultural Department Interested in Beef Cattle Industry.

T. G. Chastine, Agriculturist for the Central of Georgia Railway in company with E. G. Williamson, Macon, Ga., B. A. Alford and S. Herzfeld, Alexander City, Ala., have returned from Missouri selecting three cars of registered shorthorn cattle to be distributed along the Central Ry. Lines. This shipment makes a total of nine cars, consisting of 250 head at a cost of approximately $30,000.00 that Mr. Chastine has selected from the states of Kentucky, Missouri and Kansas during the past few months.

As Mr. Williamson bought a carload himself for the purpose of establishing a breeding herd of high class cattle on his farm near Macon, Georgia, we hope that those interested in the beef cattle industry will take the advantage of the opportunity to inspect the cattle with the hope of purchasing such cattle for their own farms.

The agriculture department of the Central Railway is taking quite an active interest, as shown by the above results, in the beef cattle industry, also by awarding of registered shorthorn bulls to the Four crop Club last year and this year which will amount to at least $600,000.00 and the awarding of about 50 bulls. These bulls are bought in advance of the time to award them and loaned to the farmers along the Central who will buy pure bred heifer and build a dipping vat.

Alfalfa For Pasture.

There are many known instances where alfalfa has been used for pasturing both horses and cattle without any injurious results, but as a matter of fact there is always a little danger in pasturing cattle on alfalfa. They should become accustomed to the crop gradually, and they should never be turned into an alfalfa field when they are hungry. When cattle are pastured on alfalfa one must always be prepared to find a case of bloating—low homestead.

SOME GERMANS MADE RICH BY WARS

Ups and Downs of War—Brings Wealth to Some as It Makes Others Poor

The Hague, March 29.—The Berlin correspondent of the Telegraph describes in his latest letter an aspect of the war which has not heretofore been brought much to public notice. He writes:

"Herr Rudolf Martin, formerly government counselor to the House Department, used to publish each year a book containing the names of German millionaires. If he should do so in 1915 he will have to add a good many new names to his Chronicle of Mammon.

"For some business men the war decidedly has a pleasant side. Many people are making big profits out of the universal malaise, and these are thriving while millions are sacrificing themselves on the altar of patriotism.

"Factories which rarely or never yielded a profit before are now rolling in money. Thus an engineering concern at Dusseldorf, which used to never pay out a single per cent of dividend made an extra profit of 1,000,000 marks during the first two months of the war. There are a good many mills which, after writing off enormous profits and raising their reserve funds, were able to pay out a dividend of 15 per cent to 20 per cent.

"For the millers the war was an agreeable surprise. A hose factory at Berlin had not paid a cent of dividend for the last six years and the future looked gloomy enough for the shareholders. Five months of war were amply sufficient to provide a profit of 158,866 marks, a special reserve fund of 75,000 marks and 10 per cent, for the smiling shareholders.

"Neither are private persons left out in the cold. Thus, the Muncheer Post, tells of a horse dealer who made a profit of 2,000,000 marks on the sale of 5,000 horses. The Schneberger Zeitung mentions a wholesale potato dealer, who had stored 1,359,000 hundred weight of potatoes, which he was willing to sell at 2.50 marks per one hundred pounds. When the Minister of Agriculture raised the price, the dealer would not sell for less than 5.75 marks. It is stated in another German paper that one of the great dealers supplying the army made a profit of 12,000 marks per diem on these supplies."

CANE SYRUP INDUSTRY OF GEORGIA PROFITABLE

Should be Seriously Considered in Diversification.

Georgia produces 3,000,000 gallons a year of cane syrup and sells it at 30 cents a gallon, or a total of close to $1,000,000. Notwithstanding the possibilities of syrup production in the state, there are to be found on the shelves of nearly every grocery store numerous brands and grades of this product shipped from other states, some coming even from as far away as New York and Maine.

Why not produce all Georgia needs and have a little to sell instead of buying from outside? An acre of Georgia land will produce an average of 250 gallons of syrup at a good profit. Georgia cane syrup retails for 40 to 60 cents a gallon, but of course the retailer must have his profit and this margin must be allowed Commissioner Price expresses the belief that there is easily room for Georgia to dispose of 10,000,000 gallons of Georgia cane syrup every year at very fair prices. Here is something for Georgia farmers to think about.

Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. Thus and rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Your druggist sell it. 25c and 50c.—Adv.

Superintendent's Talks to Schools

On Subjects of Interest to the Teachers, Pupils and Patrons

It will not be long before the examination given by the state will be held, and those teachers who will have to stand, will do well to get the books on Pedagogy for this year and begin to make preparations. The reason some teachers do not make satisfactory marks, is because they do not make any preparations. You cannot hope to make a good mark without following this work as outlined by the state officials.

In the last end of the term do not allow interest to wane in your studies, pupils. Do not become discouraged and quit. The fellow who sticks to the fellow who will be worth while. Let us continue right up to the last day, and we will be benefitted. The quitter will never amount to much. Education is the one thing you will have to work for or else you will not get it. Money cannot buy it, children of this county may have the opportunity by arranging a suitable date for me to come to put in your time while you are young and your memory is plastic. Let us keep on trying, and you will be pleased with the results. One of the most common mistakes that I have noticed is that children are allowed to be promoted before they have mastered the grade they are in. You cannot measure your progress by being forced into grades that you are not ready to enter. It is not how much but how well that will tell in the end. Do not insist on being promoted just in order to say that you are in such and such grade; that is not worth anything to you unless you are really able to do the work well in the grade you enter. The reason so many become discouraged is because the work is too hard for them. Any school that would like to see all of the schools, teachers and first view!

Farming in War Times; What to Do About It

(By Dr. R. J. H. DeLoach, Director of Georgia Experiment Station.)

INTRODUCTION. The one theme that has run through all the Agriculture literature for the past year or more, especially in the United States is clearly summed up in the one word, "DIVERSIFICATION." It is a useful word, and well expresses what the people as well as the educators and business men are thinking about. If the world materializes into farm practice it will make fertile farms out of many a barren hill side now going under the false name of a farm. How few farmers there are who really diversify their crops. In refusing or neglecting to do so they perhaps think only of the crop that is to come from the land, and not of the land itself. Of course we ought to enjoy the prospect of a high money value for our farm produce, and to think how much pleasure we are to get out of the use of the money that comes from the sale of our produce, but can crop- ever rise in importance and money value above the value and fertility of the land that produces them? Of course not. Therefore, let's think first of the land, from which we are expecting to continue to draw our living.

WHAT IS DIVERSIFICATION?—Need we try to define this overworked word? It is on the tongue of every agricultural lecturer and on the pages of every farm journal. Are we sure, however, that a definition would be amiss? Are we sure that there is not more in the practice than we had first thought? A diversified Agriculture is a system by which our interests in the farm are not centered on one crop or one source of revenue. It means that we should so plan our Agriculture that if one crop fails, we have another or others on which to rely. In fact, it means that when cotton sells to low for us to get any profit from raising it we shall have something else from which to get our source of supplies and money. When the interests of the farms are diversified, then they are actually engaged in diversified farming. Now when their interests are divided between farming and merchandise, or farming and some profession, but when the farms themselves are organized so that they will have a constant income from various kinds of produce. Crop rotation is surely a part of diversification, but not all of it.

THE ONE CROP SYSTEM.—Every farmer must admit that the one crop system has given the south a lesson in 1914. It has shown us the unreliability of our system of Agriculture. There is no better money crop in the world than cotton which affords us food and clothing, and it seems that there could be no other crop that would be so sure of success under a great variety of conditions. The great number of 1914 debts in the south that have been carried over by farmers till 1915, bear eloquent testimony that a bumper cotton crop may be suicidal rather than an omen of prosperity. The south needs not to be told that cotton by itself is never safe. In fact it is never safe to "put all the eggs in one basket." The one crop system has almost wrecked the south. It has impoverished our lands and written failure across the threshold of more than one half of our southern country homes. Shall we continue it in the face of our experience in 1914? We should not. We must not.

We have already planted grain. We are going to have a good vegetable garden. We are going to raise poultry. We are going to stop living out of tin cans. We are going to raise more hogs than ever before. We are going to make intelligence the basis of Agriculture. The great revolution in our Southern Agriculture will require that we make a better study of the soil and its needs; that we supply the soil with those elements necessary to bring forth abundance of farm produce; that we learn how to successfully select and grade our produce; that we take great pride in the quality rather than in the quantity of produce that we put upon the market.

The Women's Clubs of the South are becoming interested in the improvement of our Southern Home and Agriculture. They can aid us greatly in the work. Encourage them and we shall see great fruits from the labors of these combined forces.

BARRENNESS IN CORN.
Various Reasons Other Than Heredity
Many of our corn breeders treat barrenness in corn as hereditary. However, I have noticed that if corn is planted properly, not too thick, on well prepared fertile soil and given good cultivation there are as a rule very few barren stalks, says a correspondent of the American Agriculturist.

On the other hand if the corn is planted too thick and the grass and weeds allowed to grow with the corn there are more barren stalks in the same variety than in such corn if well cared for.

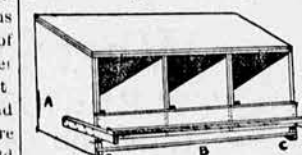

If the barrenness has any hereditary tendency at all in corn it may be largely overcome by good soil preparation, careful planting and good cultivation. I would rather risk going to the cornbelt to select my seed in the spring provided the corn was well dried before storing and was stored before hard freezing weather set in, than to trust to seed from a distance and thus get seed from a variety of corn not known and tested in my locality.

As to barrenness Professor Hunt in his "Vegetals in America" says: "A varying percentage of the stalks of the field are barren, do not bear any ears. The percentage of barren stalks on a given soil varies with the thickness of planting and the season. Barrenness does not seem to be a variety characteristic. It seems to be largely the result of environment. If it were a hereditary characteristic the fact that the stalks are barren would tend to eliminate them."

Would it not be a good plan to observe along the line of barrenness next summer when the corn is earing rather than to take it for granted that barrenness is an hereditary characteristic that can be overcome or controlled only by years of painstaking breeding?

Sanitary Hen's Nests.
The hen's nests shown herewith are easily kept clean and sanitary. Write a correspondent of the Orange Journal Farmer. Fast wide boards are best to use in its construction, excepting the covering board, which should be four inches wide, or two boards that total four inches.

The board b, that forms the bottom of the nest, is made so it can slide out and in, drawer fashion. It is supported by two cleats, c, c, one each nailed to the lower ends of the upright end boards. These end boards are made two and one-half inches longer than the partitions. Thus the lower ends of the partitions are just above the bottom board. When the bottom board is drawn out the nests are hot tomless, making them free from loose harboring dust. The upright end boards and partitions are sawed off angled, so the covering board when nailed on will have sufficient slope to let a hen that attempts to roost on top slide off.

A board about five inches wide is nailed on in front to keep the nest material in the nests. In front a 1 by 2 inch lath is fastened on, perpendicular to the front of the nest, so as to be about five inches from the nests and two inches above the level of the sliding bottom. The use of the lath is that a hen may walk on it until she comes to a vacant nest.

Contagious Ophthalmia.
The disease is due to a specific germ, says Kinball's Dairy Farmer. Isolate the affected animals in a darkened stable and feed them light, laxative rations. Twice daily bathe the eyes with a 10 per cent solution of boric acid applied each time with a fresh swab of absorbent cotton. Every other day dust the eyeballs with a mixture of finely powdered colloid and boric acid. Substitute lodoform for colloid in the worst cases. After inflammation subsides wet the eyeball once daily with a solution of two grains of nitrate of silver in an ounce of distilled water. To be kept in a blue glass bottle to prevent chemical changes. The latter treatment is for opacity of the eyeball. Keep the cattle off low, wet pastures. Clean up, disinfect and whitewash the stables, fences and feeding racks and troughs.

COLUMBUS MAKES PREPARATION

The Historical Society of Columbus, Ga., has arranged to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the last battle of the war between the states on April 16, 1915.

For 1915 it was decided to hold the two celebrations at the same time, so the Columbus home coming this year will be held April 14, 15, 16 and 17, with the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the war between the states, on April 16, as the central feature.

The following program has been arranged:
April 12.
Motion pictures of Columbus, 9 a. m. until 10 p. m., at Springer opera house.

April 13.
Motion pictures of Columbus, 9 a. m. until 10 p. m., Springer opera house.
Opening ball at the Ralston hotel, 9 p. m.

April 14.
Motion pictures of Columbus, 9 a. m. to 10 p. m., Springer opera house.
Pigeon show at Murrah building, all day.

Bully parade. This parade will start at Church square on Twelfth street. About 100 babies will form the parade, also kindergarten children. Prizes will be given. The parade is to be one of the most interesting of the home coming.

The fun-makers will be in evidence. 12,000 A reception of visitors will be held on the county courthouse grounds, which will be especially decorated for the occasion. Address of welcome will be delivered by John M. Staton, governor of Georgia.

Responses will be made by Senator Hoke Smith, Congressman J. C. Adamson, and others.
4:00 p. m.—Local field and fun events.
8:00 p. m.—Street dancing on Broad street.

April 15.
Pigeon show, Murrah building.
10:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.—Farmers' school conducted under the auspices of the Georgia chamber of commerce and the Columbus chamber of commerce, and composed of farmers and business men.

3:30 p. m.—The baseball season will open in Columbus with this game. Three games will be played on April 15, 16 and 17 at Columbus baseball park, said to be the best in the south.

Tea daisant at Ralston hotel, 4 p. m. to 6 p. m.
The Society circus, Springer opera house.

April 16.
Motion pictures of Columbus at Springer opera house, 9 a. m. to 10 a. m.
Pigeon show, Murrah building, all day.

11:00 a. m.—Celebration of the anniversary of the last battle of the war between the states.
On April 16, 1865, was fought at Columbus, Ga., the last battle of the war between the states. The fiftieth anniversary of this event will be celebrated on April 16, 1915, under the auspices of the Historical Society of Columbus. One of the features of this celebration will be a grand civic, historic and patriotic pageant, several miles in length, composed of bands of Columbus guards, fourteen bands of honor and train, platoon of police (mounted), city officials (in carriages), city sanitary department, city fire department, city street department, city educational department, 5,000 school children.

Floats representing Masons, Odd Fellows, Red Men, Pythians, Elks, Shriners, Woodmen, W. C. T. U., Y. M. C. A., Equal Franchise, I. O. O. F., D. C. chamber of commerce, Camp Beading, charities, and other organizations.

POTASH AND FERTILIZERS

Swift & Company have provided sufficient German Potash for their estimated needs of their customers. The cost was high, but their customers' needs must be supplied. The present POTASH market, spot cash, is 75c per unit of POTASH higher than the farmer is paying for Potash in

SWIFT'S FERTILIZERS

Besides this, the farmer can absolutely rely on the highest crop-making materials being used in Swift's Red Steer Fertilizers—Acid Phosphate made by the Swift process—Blood and Cattle Tankage from the Swift Packing Plants—thoroughly cured and conditioned—no rotten bags.

This explains why so many Swift Customers insist they get fifteen to fifty pounds more lint cotton per acre than from the next best brand. Fifteen pounds more cotton per acre equals $6.00 per ton saved on fertilizers used. Thus:

Fifteen pounds more cotton per acre at 8c equals..... $1.20
One ton fertilizer covers five acres, equals..... 6.00
Therefore, $6.00 per ton saved—and more than this when less than 400 pounds of fertilizer per acre is used.

Figure it out yourself and then insist on getting SWIFT'S RED STEER ANIMAL AMMONIATED FERTILIZER from your dealer.

ARE YOU DOING YOUR SHARE IN THE CLEAN-UP WORK?

This is the Week for the Job

We hope that the people of Statesboro have not fallen short in Governor Slaton's proclamation and health preserving suggestion regarding clean-up throughout the state. We note in many of the exchanges that there has been much interest aroused in the movement in many sections of the commonwealth, and if you haven't cleaned it's not too late yet.

Dr. A. J. Mooney who in his professional capacity fully realizes the old axiom of "an ounce of prevention being worth a pound of cure" has evolved a splendid and interesting scheme to awaken and promote action and obligation in the good work, by securing a fund that will be offered in prizes to the students of the Statesboro Institute who will procure the greatest number of pledges from the citizens that will agree to clean up their premises on or before a certain date.

Each one of Statesboro's progressive citizens who was approached on the subject at once subscribed making possible the prizes which Dr. Mooney has arranged for as cash. The pledges have been delivered to Prof. Meyer and the students are prepared to enter into the work heart and soul.

Now Mr. Citizen you may anticipate a visit from a school student solicitor who will register you, yes, or no, on your idea of a clean bill of health and cleanliness for your home town.

The same plan will be operated in connection with the colored school to cover their residential section so that the city may have a general canvass from house to house. A copy of the pledge to be presented for signature is here-with produced together with a list of those who donated to the cause: Martin Bros., G. P. Lively, M. E. Grimes, J. L. Coleman, Brooks Simmons, E. C. Oliver, P. G. Franklin, W. J. Rackley, A. J. Mooney, H. Booth, J. W. Williams, W. G. Raikes, Geo. Rawls, L. T. Denmark, F. F. Floyd, E. L. Smith, Paul Simmons, Statesboro News, Bulloch Times and D. R. Dekle.

A STITCH IN TIME

Statesboro People Should not Neglect Their Kidneys

No kidney ailments is unimportant. Don't overlook the slightest backache or urinary irregularity. Nature may be warning you of approaching dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Kidney disease is seldom fatal if treated in time, but neglect may pave the way. Don't neglect a lame or aching back another day. Don't ignore dizzy spells, irregular or discolored urine, headaches, weariness or depression. If you feel you need kidney help begin using the reliable, time-tried remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills.

For 50 years, Doan's Pills have been effective endorsed by Statesboro people. Mrs. G. H. Mock, 48 N. Main St., Statesboro, says: "Whenever my back gives out and I am feeling run down from kidney trouble, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and the results. My work is made easier after using this medicine. Another of the family has used Doan's Kidney Pills with fine results. We can recommend them highly."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mock had. Foster-McLure Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

IS WORLD'S RAREST PLANT

This is the Silversword, Which Grows in Profusion on Hawaiian Volcano Slopes.

The rarest plant in the world grows in Hawaii, a fact which is unknown to all but very few of the thousands of tourists annually visiting the paradise of the Pacific. It is the silversword. Its very name is odd and unusual, and also arousing the curiosity and the interest of the stranger who chances to hear it. It is a caudex-like growth, the long, silky, gray leaves of which give it its peculiar name. The reason for its rarity is that it is found only on the most inaccessible slopes of the volcanoes of this group of islands.

From the earliest times it has been appreciated and greatly admired by the native Hawaiians, who called it "ahinahina" (gray-headed), because they had never before the coming of the white man, seen silver, and therefore could not apply to the plant the common name which so well describes it. All who have found it prize it most highly, and the Alpine climbers treasure the edelweiss; it is far more beautiful a thing and more difficult to obtain than the famous flower of Switzerland.

Catamount Roba Farmer. Adam Stiermer, an Augustaville, Northumberland county (Pa.) farmer, had an experience with a huge catamount that almost turned his hair gray. He was driving to the Sunbury markets with a load of produce, and was passing through dense woods when he felt a heavy body land on his wagon, followed by spitting and "meowing" that were hideous.

Looking back, he saw two big balls of fire, the eyes of the largest catamount he had ever seen. It was pawing at the canvas cover he had over his load. With a revolver, the frightened farmer fired twice. At the discharge of the weapon the cat jumped and escaped in the darkness. When he arrived at the market two fat dressed chickens were missing.

To feel strong, have good appetite and digestion, sleep soundly and enjoy life, use Burdock's Blood Bitters, the family system tonic. Price $1.00.—Adv.

WILL SET 30,000 TOBACCO PLANTS

Diversification Will be the Slogan of
Mr. H. M. Robertson, a Bulloch
County Farmer

Nine hundred acres of as pretty farm land as one would care to look upon was the very great pleasure of the "NEWS" man one day last week during a trip to Brooklet where Mr. H. M. Robertson has such a stretch of land about one and one-half miles below that prosperous little city. "So you want to know what I am doing on diversification do you said Mr. Robertson." "That's the object of the trip" said the NEWS man and straight away Mr. Robertson went into the subject.

"Well to begin with you see we have been trying to follow Governor Slaton's advice and clean-up. We've got a place for everything and we've been trying this week to get everything in its place, in other words we have hung up the 'Motto' sign of system, and all who are connected with the farm is doing his level best to live up to it.

"I will have about thirty acres of sea island cotton and about one hundred acres in short staple. I am giving mighty close study to this diversification argument for this year and I believe that Georgia is on the eve of a general transformation of her farming industry. I am just now becoming a student of alfalfa culture and am convinced thus far that bullock will eventually produce an abundance of this animal food stuff. I will not try this year.

"The cattle industry is also receiving my earnest thoughts and I hope to develop plans that will permit my entering into this phase of my farming interest in the near future. Animal husbandry is one of the deficiencies of our Georgia farmers and I hope to see it become of more general interest especially in our immediate section. I note that the Agricultural Department of the Central of Georgia Railway are planning to place some cattle on their test farms and I shall keep closely in touch with the development of this latest industry of the test farm as applied by that road."

WHAT ELECTRICITY WILL DO

If You Have Electric Lighting Service in the Home You Can Have All These Electrical Conveniences.

Every day, seemingly, we read of some new application of electricity in the home. The number of household tasks turned over to electricity in the past years is astonishing. An engineer of the General Electric Company has prepared the following list of household applications of electricity which is truly astonishing: Furnish illumination for the house. Heat water for shaving, or for the bath. Percolate the breakfast coffee. Toast bread. Fry eggs or anything that will fry. Operate the sewing machine. Iron the clothes. Make the tea in a samovar. Cook food in a chafin dish. Curl a woman's hair. Dry a woman's hair. Heat the bath room. Rooms on cool mornings. Lift or lower dumb waiter.

STATSBORO TO BE TERMINUS OF EAST GA. RY.

R. and G. Acquired; Organization Meeting next Month

(From the Savannah Press.) While the organization meeting of the East Georgia Railway, composed of interests which recently acquired the Register & Glennville Railway, will be held in Savannah sometime next month, considerable uncertainty seems to center about the future of the little system.

It is said upon excellent authority the establishment of the former Perkins property on a sound financial basis will signalize the abandonment of the Register as the terminus of the system and instead the road will be incorporated at first only to Adaville, in Bulloch county, some ten miles removed from Register.

Plans now contemplated and quietly being arranged, it is understood, show in a conclusive way the railroad right of way beyond Adaville will be changed and the East Georgia Railway, as it is in future to be known, will terminate at Statesboro, where connections can be had with the Central of Georgia. This arrangement, it is said by railroad authorities, will give the former R. & G. the advantage of an additional seventeen mile haul. Others identified with the system has for two years been in the hands of Messrs. W. V. Davis, William B. Stillwell, and George W. Tiedeman, as receivers under orders of the courts, and who are included in the list of persons recently applying for incorporation in the courts of Tattnall county, says the change of ownership is merely a clean cut business move to get the railroad again in a healthy condition and that the road will in future be operated from Register to Glennville.

Adaville to Glennville a distance of thirty miles, however, and it seems to be generally understood ten miles of the right of way from Adaville to Register will be carried on a lease plan and not as a unit of the East Georgia Railway.

Those who will take part in the organization meeting next month in Savannah and whose names appear upon the application for charter are: Messrs. Henry P. Talmadge, of New York; William B. Stillwell, J. K. McIver, J. G. Baldwin, Jr., J. F. Innis, T. M. Cunningham, Jr., W. W. Mackall, Leopold Adler, and Edwin Leffer. The capitalization of the East Georgia will be $212,000. Of this $100,000 is to be common stock, $62,500 first preferred and $50,000 second preferred stock.

The change said to have been practically agreed upon which will make Statesboro the terminus of the railway is the fact it is tremendously expensive to maintain the road between Adaville and Register, while to the contrary the right of way to Statesboro will traverse the well known "Sink Hole" district, which is conceded to be one of the roughest sections of old Bulloch.

A PROMINENT GEORGIA CITIZEN

(From The Savannah Press.) Hon. J. Pope Brown of Pulaski county, big Georgian, splendid citizen and a representative of the biggest farming interests of the state, spent today in Savannah. He came here last night at the invitation of Mr. Sturtevant.

Mr. Brown has watched with a good deal of concern the campaign now on in Georgia and other states for a diversification of crops. He believes the planters everywhere should try diversification on as large a scale as possible and should make the farms self supporting. But he does not think the time has come for the South to break entirely away from cotton. It will be a long time before cotton is not the money crop of the South in Mr. Brown's opinion. The cotton acreage will be 25 per cent less than last year and the use of fertilizer will be reduced 50 per cent of what it was a year ago. Mr. Brown says if the European war will get over before the time comes to market the next crop of cotton the price of the staple will reach a figure beyond anything it has commanded in many years before.

GEORGIA STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

In Americus April 20-22—A Three Day Convention Which Will Entertain One Thousand Delegates.

From the office of the Sunday School Association, Atlanta, comes the information that the State Sunday School Convention, which will be held in Americus on April 20-21-22, will probably be the largest Sunday school meeting ever held in the state. "On to Americus" seems to be the thought in the minds of hundreds of Sunday school workers over the state. The American people are making big preparations for the convention, and are planning to entertain at least one thousand delegates. All delegates to the convention will be entertained with out cost while in the city.

The program for the convention is arranged to touch almost every phase of Sunday school work. The speakers are some of the best Sunday school workers to be found in the state, and each one is well informed on the subject he is to discuss. The speakers—more than sixty will not theorize, but will speak from their own practical experience. It is expected that many Sunday schools will have a full delegation at the Convention. Every white Sunday school in the state is entitled to three delegates, besides the pastor and superintendent. The program committee feel that no Sunday school worker could spend these three days in Americus without being greatly helped.

Mr. Brown is one of the best known farmers in Georgia and one of its best known citizens. He has been prominent in the affairs of the state for many years. He served as treasurer of the state under the appointment of Hoke Smith when the latter was governor, and he has represented his home county in the Georgia legislature more than once.

When the state fair was held in Savannah—the year the Georgia Agricultural Society was paid off and the deficit of other fairs under its auspices in other cities of the state met—Mr. Brown was president of the body and during that time became well known to a large number of representative Savannahians.

He always likes to come to Savannah, he says, and he is glad the business interests of the city are preparing to put on a May week Festival to attract the attention of people from all over the state. He thinks he may come down himself at that time to take in the sights and get another sample of Savannah hospitality.

May Send Liberty Bell to 'Frisco Exhibition

Philadelphia, April 14.—A determined effort will be made at tomorrow's meeting of the city council to secure passage of an ordinance permitting removal of the historic Liberty Bell from its shrine in Independence Hall to the Pennsylvania building at the San Francisco Exposition for exhibition during the fair. Indications are that the order will pass.

Mayor Blueburg and other city leaders favor the plan, including appropriation of the expense of the trip. Patriotic orders have protested, fearing the precious relic might be destroyed through some accident in transit. Admiral Dewey, General Myers and other influential figures, however, recently have endorsed the removal plan, and today there seemed little doubt that the bell would be permitted to go away, properly guarded by Philadelphia policemen.

EDITOR W. R. NELSON, OF KANSAS CITY, DEAD

Kansas City, Mo., April 13.—William Rockhill Nelson, editor and owner of the Kansas City Star, died at his home here early today. Mr. Nelson who was 74 years old, had been in ill health several months and had been confined to his home since December. Uraemic poisoning caused his death, according to physicians. Mr. Nelson's last conference with his associates took place in his bed-room the day before he became unconscious. It pertained to the necessity of keeping up the fight for honest elections. "That is fundamental for democratic government," he said. "I may not be here to see the fight won, but the Star will fight on with all its resources until the present rotten system is broken order that reliable information be given."
