FIRST DISTRICT A. & M. SCHOOL

Opens Its Doors to the Students

The attendance at the opening yesterday of the First District Agricultural School was very gratifying to the principal and faculty. There was a larger number of students in attendance than at any opening in several years. Nearly all the students of the spring term were there. Many have written that they could not be present at the opening but that they would be there later, so the attendance will be increased from time to time.

Many patrons of the school and visitors from Statesboro and the surrounding country were present at the opening exercises.

Mr. W. H. Cone spoke to the audience about the needs of an industrial education, especially emphasizing the need of agricultural education for boys and domestic science and art for girls. He said the bulk of our country were the country boys and girls and that the most vital need of our country today was that the country boys should have a thorough, practical and scientific training in agriculture. He mentioned the fact that so much of our happiness depended upon our home makers and that they should be trained in this just as any other profession. He spoke at length upon the very great value of the soil to use if we only could understand scientific agriculture and closed by admonishing the students of their duty to their Maker, the giver of these great blessings to us.

Mr. W. C. Parker was introduced and spoke to the boys and girls of education in general and of the necessity for students to be thorough in their class work or in work that they were willing to undertake. He spoke of the old Hinesville school and of their thoroughness in preparation and of the brilliant and useful men and women this school had graduated. That our success in life did not depend upon the worldly goods we stored up but upon the help and cheer we were able to give others, thus fulfilling the commands of our Master.

Prof. Brown spoke to the students, welcoming them to the school and told them something of the standing of the school; that the school stood well from a literary and musical standpoint as well as from a standpoint of science; that the Accredited High School Board had raised it to a four year High School and that a diploma from its walls would enter boys into the Freshman class in any college in Georgia and would enter girls into the junior class at the G. N. & T. without examination. He gave the record of some of the graduates who had attended college and also of many who had not attended college but had chosen teaching as a profession and all of whom had been successful in their work. The present of the school hoped to derive from the organization of debating and literary societies, of the glee club and girls' chorus was spoken of. He gave the position of the faculty on athletics saying that it was their purpose to have just enough to offer the students the needed relaxation from their studies and work and to imbue a proper school spirit into the student body. That an athletic association would probably be formed which would support the football, basketball and other sports.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN
ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmitigated earnestness: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich the blood, to change weakness to strength; it makes them sturdy and strong. No alcohol.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WELL?

Many Statesboro People Know the Importance of Healthy Kidneys

The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. Well kidneys remove impurities. Weak kidneys allow impurities to multiply.

No kidney ill should be neglected.

There is possible danger in delay.

If you have backache or urinary troubles, if you are nervous, dizzy or worn out, begin treating your kidneys at once.

and base-ball teams; that the tennis courts would be fired up and that the students could enjoy the sport of playing on them to their hearts' content. Other features and additions to the school mentioned by the principle were, an increased library, use of the stereopticon lanterns in teaching agriculture, Domestic Science and Art and biology. He emphasized the fact that the school stood for everything that was good and right and that while it was strictly un denominational that all students must attend religious exercises. At the conclusion of his speech some announcements were made and the audience was dismissed.

MASONS OF FIRST DISTRICT

Met in Statesboro Wednesday Morning

Delegates from the several Masonic lodges of the first district met in Statesboro in the auditorium at 10:45 A. M. on Wednesday morning. John W. Johnston, Jr., W. M. of the Ogechee Lodge of Statesboro, was master of ceremonies.

The meeting opened with a piano solo by Mrs. Mary Armstrong, followed by prayer by Rev. W. S. Harden. Miss Nannie Simmons gave a beautiful solo after which the Masons were made welcome to the city by Mr. S. C. Groover, Mayor pro tem, in a few well chosen words.

The speech of welcome on behalf of Ogechee Lodge was made by A. M. D. al, Esq., after which District Deputy Master Robert J. Travis, of Savannah, made the responsive address on behalf of the visiting lodges.

The meeting then adjourned and went to Brannen Park where a big barbecue dinner had been prepared to which full justice was done by the two hundred people present.

In the afternoon, the lodge delegates held a business meeting, and also at night. The last session was held today. An automobile ride was given the visitors this morning.

Everybody expressed themselves as being pleased with the royal welcome given the visitors by the people of Statesboro.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY
By the Masonic Lodge at Stilson

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father has seen fit to visit the home of our worthy brother, D. L. Deal, taking from him his infant son, D. L., Jr., who made his stay with him for nearly a year. God gave him to a loving father and mother just long enough for them to get so much interested in him that they might continue to look the way he went, until God calls for them to go and be with him. May those bright little eyes as they continue to be seen in our minds be a little light hung out of the very windows of heaven to guide a father and mother safely home. And,

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father has seen fit to visit another worthy brother, J. W. Upchurch, taking from him his beloved wife, Pearl. Few young women have won more love than did she in her brief life. None knew but to love her; none named her but to praise. Dying just when ready to live, her going away seems peculiarly sad. There is a bleeding heart left behind, who leaned so confidently on the frail body but strong spirit of "Pearl," but he is comforted by the blessed memories of her life and the thought that she sweetly rests with those whom we have "loved long since and lost awhile" in the house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

Resolved, That we, the officers and members of Stilson Lodge No. 482, F. & A. M., do humbly ourselves to our Heavenly Father's will and share with our brothers and their families our heartfelt sympathies in their sad losses.

Resolved further, That all business at this our regular communication be suspended until our next regular meeting.

Resolved further, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the lodge and that a copy be sent to each family and the Statesboro papers.

Done by order of the Lodge, this 21st day August, 1915.

COTTON STATES BANKERS

Conference At Galveston Aug. 14th Resolutions That Were Adopted.

Following is the set of resolutions adopted by the Cotton States Bankers Association at Galveston Texas Aug. 14th and later ratified by the Georgia Bankers Association at Atlanta Aug. 20th.

Whereas, It is a matter of common interest to the people of this nation and to the people of the south in particular, farmers, bankers, and all business men alike, that the cotton crop now nearing harvest be marketed to the best advantage and in such manner as to insure the maximum return to the producer, and

Whereas, It is realized that intelligent and systematic co-operation is advisable to bring about this much-desired end, now therefore be it

Resolved, By this conference of bankers representing the cotton growing states of Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Tennessee, Arkansas, Alabama, South Carolina, and Texas assembled in the city of Galveston, on August 14, 1915,

That it is the opinion of the bankers here assembled, that it is the duty of the banks and business men of the south to assist the producer in obtaining a fair value for the 1915 cotton crop by the gradual sale of same by offering to the market only such amount of the crop as the market is ready to absorb at reasonable prices; and

That the resources of the banks of the south are sufficient for this purpose, with the facilities available through the Federal Reserve Banking System, and the co-operation of the financial centers of this country; and be it

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to all member banks of the various State Banking Associations of the south, and that the clearing houses be requested to distribute same among the mercantile interests in their respective trade territories. Be it further

Resolved, That the chairman of this conference, be authorized and instructed to appoint a committee of one member from each state represented at this conference to confer with Mr. W. P. G. Harding, member of the federal reserve board, at Birmingham, Alabama, on August 26, 1915.

RESOLUTION RATIFIED.

"That we have, this 26th day of August, 1915, held such a conference with Mr. Harding at Birmingham, Ala., and after a full consideration and discussion on the matter of co-operation between southern bankers and cotton producers, the resolutions adopted at the Galveston conference are heartily ratified and approved."

"It is a matter of much gratification to the delegation to find that these resolutions are not only in accord with the views of Mr. Harding, a member of the federal reserve board and a recognized authority upon the production and marketing of cotton, but that they have met with such general approval throughout the country."

The federal reserve board and those entrusted with the management of the federal reserve banks are working in harmony with the principles and we earnestly bespeak therefore their further cooperation and encouragement."

The statement is signed by F. M. Law, chairman, Houston, Texas; Moorhead Wright, secretary, Little Rock, Ark.; F. S. Ethridge, Jackson, Ga.; J. S. High, Tupelo, Miss.; E. W. Foote, Hattiesburg, Miss.; Oscar Wells, Birmingham; L. M. Pool, New Orleans; John W. Simpson, Spartanburg, S. C.; and George W. Rogers, Little Rock, Ark.

Australia.

Nobody quite knows who discovered Australia. The fact has been attributed to Chinese, Malays, French, Venetians and Spaniards, while dark hints about the existence of a southern continent were made by the ancient Greeks and Romans. Possibly the secret lies hidden in the unpublicized records of the Dutch East India company among the state archives at The Hague. The founding of the first British settlement at Port Jackson, near the site of Sydney, was on Jan. 28, 1788. But those earliest "settlers" were for the most part involuntary colonists, being composed mainly of transported convicts—London Mail.

Its Sinking May Bring Climax to the Argument

London, Sept. 8.—The American consul at Queenstown, according to the Daily Mail has received information that a man named Wolff, aged 21 and born in New Jersey, was lost in the sinking of the Hesperian.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Commanding officers of the sunken liner Hesperian in a joint affidavit forwarded to the state department today declared that from the fragments of steel which fell on the deck it was "indubitably" shown that the ship was struck by a torpedo.

Commander Main and the first and second officers of the Hesperian made the affidavit, which was cabled by American Consul Frost at Queenstown.

They asserted that the torpedo struck the ship about eight feet below the water line and that the steel fragments flew about the deck.

They also declared that there was a strong odor of high explosive and that the Hesperian had a six inch gun on board which had "been painted a service gray and would not have been conspicuous even at short range and would not have been observed at all through the periscope of a submarine."

The position of the United States is to take no steps to question the good faith of Germany's recent assurance unless it is shown clearly that the sinking of the Hesperian was in violation of them. This view was made clear by a high official who explained that President Wilson and Secretary Lansing accepted the assurance of the German government at their face value and are reluctant to believe that the Hesperian was sunk deliberately without valid excuse.

It is said authoritatively that the American government is still hopeful that the entire submarine service with Germany be cleared up satisfactorily.

London, Sept. 8.—A Daily Telegraph dispatch from Rotterdam says:

"It is freely rumored in Berlin that the sinking of the Allan Line Steamer Hesperian was deliberately designed by the party of Admiral Von Tirpitz, the German Minister of Marine, to bring to a climax the differences between Von Tirpitz and Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, over the last note to President Wilson concerning the use of submarine boats against liners."

DRS. VON EZDOFF AND TAYLOR TO LECTURE

In Statesboro Sat. Night, Sept. 11, at Court House, at 8 p. m.—Of U. S. Public Health Service.

A vigorous campaign against the anopheles or malaria carrying mosquito, which, it is estimated, cause sickness to 100,000 people in thirteen southern states each year, will probably be waged in Savannah and Chatham county within the next few weeks, as the result of the visit of Dr. R. H. von Ezdorff and Dr. H. A. Taylor, of the United States public health service.

Dr. von Ezdorff, who was stationed at the marine hospital in Savannah about fifteen years ago, is now at the head of a campaign against this dangerous pest. He is in charge of a corps of public health service men who are making their headquarters at New Orleans and who are making a thorough survey of malaria infested sections of the south and lecturing on the various methods of ridding the country of this dangerous disease.

"A great many people, we find, are possessors of a very fallacious idea that malaria is carried by all mosquitoes, or that the disease can be contracted by eating or drinking certain kinds of food or water. In all of the communities we visit, however, we do our utmost to convince them that in order to rid their cities and counties of malaria all they need do is to sterilize their blood and free it of the malaria germ by the use of quinine or other anti-malaria medicines and then turn their attention toward ridding their communities of the breeding places of the anopheles."

"We have found that the malaria carrying mosquito breeds in old ditches, ponds, water holes, water barrels and similar places and our method of getting rid of them is by drainage, filling in, the use of oil and chemical destruction. In certain places we have diverted the discharges of chemical waters such as are used in laundries or dye works, into breeding places of the anopheles and have been successful in killing them out in this manner."

"One of our last campaigns was waged at Brunswick, and the people there co-operated with us in every way possible. The result is that through the efforts of the Brunswick health authorities and the people themselves, the place has been almost entirely rid of the pests we found there."

"Our business is not to carry on the campaign ourselves, but to make surveys, find out where the malaria carrying mosquitoes are breeding and the local health authorities and the people themselves must do the rest. We tell them how."

According to Dr. von Ezdorff, at least a per cent of the people of the southern states suffer each year from the ravages of malarial fever. This fever kills hundreds of people each year and renders a great many more unfit for work and practically unable to earn a living for certain periods of each year. The ridding of the south of the anopheles, he said, is an economic necessity and a movement which will make for greater progress.—Savannah Morning News.

Dr. von Ezdorff and Taylor are making a tour of this section and will lecture in Guyton, Savannah, Waynesboro, Milledgeville, Clayton, Pembroke, Reidsville, Ludlow and Darlington. They will be in Statesboro Saturday, Sept. 11th.

There has been found no reasonable excuse for Womble taking his life. He was well thought of by the public of Colquitt.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

Hon. Elihu Root
On Woman's Sphere

The question of Woman Suffrage is an issue before the American people. Twelve states have adopted it, four more states vote upon it this fall and it is strongly urged that it become a platform demand of the national political parties. It is therefore the privilege and the duty of every voter to study carefully this subject. Hon. Elihu Root, in discussing this question before the constitutional convention of New York, recently said in part:

"I am opposed to the granting of suffrage to women, because I believe that it would be a loss to women, to all women and to every woman; and because I believe it would be an injury to the state, and to every man and every woman in the state. It would be useless to argue then women should have it though the heavens fall. But if there be a natural right, then settled in the long discussion of this subject, it is that suffrage is not a natural right, but is simply a means of government, and the sole question to be discussed is whether government by the suffrage of men and women will be better government than by the suffrage of men alone."

"Into my judgment, air, there comes no element of the inferiority of woman. It is not that woman is inferior to man, but it is that woman is different from man; that in the distribution of powers, of capacities, of qualities, our Maker has created man adapted to the performance of certain functions in the economy of nature and society, and woman adapted to the performance of other functions."

"Woman rules today by the great and noble influences of her character. Put woman into the arena of conflict and she abandons these great weapons which control the world, and she takes into her hands, feeble and nerveless for strife, weapons with which she is unfamiliar and which she is unable to wield. Woman in strife becomes hard, harsh, unlovable, repulsive, as far removed from that gentle creature to whom we all owe allegiance and to whom we confess submission, as the heaven is removed from the earth."

"The whole science of government is the science of protecting life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness. In the divine distribution of powers, the duty and the right of protecting rests with the male. It is so throughout nature. It is so with men, and I, for one, will never consent to part with the divine right of protecting my wife, my daughter, the women whom I love, and the women whom I respect, exercising the birthright of man, and place that high duty in the weak and nerveless hands of those designed by God to be protected rather than to engage in the stern warfare of government. In my judgment, this whole movement arises from a false conception of the duty and of the right of both men and women."

"The time will never come when the line of demarcation between the functions of the two sexes will be broken down. I believe it to be false philosophy; I believe that it is an attempt to turn backward upon the line of social development, and that if the step ever be taken, we go centuries backward on the march towards a higher, nobler and purer civilization, which must be found not in the confusion, but in the higher differentiation of the sexes."

BRYAN AND T. R. TO BE FACTORS

Their Influence in Conventions Will Be Great.

COMMONER IS THE STRONGER

Roosevelt's Action in Deserving Party Will Decrease His Strength to Some Extent, but at That He May Dictate the Republican Nominations and Use His Strength to Elect Him.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 7.—[Special.]—In comparing the influence which two great political leaders will exert on the national conventions next year it may be mentioned that Roosevelt has his strength and weakness. Bryan should have more power because he is a party man and has always remained true to the party, even when nominations were not to his liking. Roosevelt is not a Republican, although it is known that he intends to use his influence upon the Republican national convention and select a nominee to his satisfaction.

Bryan may have more strength in his party, but he will not be almost useless against Wilson. If there was an open field and Wilson was not a candidate for re-election Bryan would be a mighty factor, as he has been for years, but he will be opposing another mighty factor—that is, if he does oppose Wilson's re-nomination.

Outside the Party Lines.

Roosevelt intends to take a very active interest in the next Republican convention. He may even be a candidate himself. At all events he intends to name the nominee or prevent the selection of a man whom he cannot support. It would not be surprising to see him on the ground giving directions, making suggestions, holding meetings and proclaiming that this or that man cannot have his support.

Just what effect this will have on the members of the party is hard to say, but one thing is certain: Although many old line Republicans are anxious to win in 1916, they do not intend to win with Roosevelt. Many go so far as to say that Roosevelt shall not dictate the nomination. "If Roosevelt comes back it will have to be as a follower, not as a leader," was the assertion of one Republican.

Presidential Age Handicap.

Elliott Root says that he is now and would be too old to assume the responsibilities of president if elected. He would be seventy-two, although few men who see him realize that he is that old.

Alfred B. Cummings of Iowa will be sixty-six years old if he is nominated next year. He appeared older than Root when they were seen together in the senate, yet he is also a well preserved man.

Champ Clark, who might be a candidate if the one term plank in the Baltimore platform were strictly observed, will be sixty-six years old next year. He does not think he is too old for president.

There is plenty of opportunity for other presidential aspirants not only

Denominational Differences Have Weakened Force of Churches

By WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT, Former President of United States

THERE has been a great movement toward church unity, and it ought to be greater. The force of churches has been weakened in the denominational differences that have led to the attempted maintenance of three or four churches in a small community where there is only enough of a congregation to support one church.

A PROFESSION IN WHICH SUCH DIVISION EXISTS DISCOURAGES MEN FROM ENTERING IT, AND BETWEEN THOSE CHURCHES IN WHICH THERE IS ONLY LITTLE DIFFERENCE IN CREED WE MUST HOPE FOR A SUCCESSFUL MOVEMENT TOWARD UNION.

This weakening of the influence of the church for lack of greater church unity cannot be charged to the ministers themselves. It is the existing system.

next year, but for a number of years. Several conventions will pass before they reach the dead line which declares a man from the presidency, assuming that such a dead line exists.

William E. Borah is fifteen years younger than Cummings, but age is not his handicap so much as location in a state beyond the Rocky mountains and with only four electoral votes.

Theodore D. Burton is only one year younger than Cummings, and next year may be considered his last election.

Charles S. Whitman will be only forty-eight next year and will have many opportunities in the future. Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri will be forty-four years old next year and can afford to wait longer than most of the others.

As to the perpetual candidates, Bryan will be fifty-four and Roosevelt fifty-five next year, the very prime of life and with possibilities in several conventions yet to be held.

Five Parties in the House.

There will be five distinct parties in the new congress, although the Democratic and Republican will be the big parties, as heretofore. The other parties are Progressives, Independents and Socialists. There are only seven Progressives, three from California and one each from Illinois, Louisiana, Minnesota and New York. The independent comes from California and the Socialist from New York.

Twenty "Comebacks."

There will be quite a number when congress meets, as twenty members will take their seats who served in previous sessions, but were let out in the last session of 1912. Every one of these twenty held a prominent place before retirement and will therefore be quite conspicuous in the house. All of them, with one exception, are Republicans. The Republicans were victorious in the Progressive movement in 1912, as men of that party were nominated in their districts.

By Common Consent of Mankind, United States Leads World's Neutral Nations

By WILLIAM C. REDFIELD, Secretary of Commerce

WE occupy a peculiar position as a humane power. No one accuses us of needless slaughter. Our hands are clean. Through all our life runs more clearly than ever before the golden thread of humanity. IF WE ARE AT FAULT IN SLIGHT PREPARATION FOR WHAT WE CALL DEFENSE IT IS BECAUSE WE HAVE A HORROR OF SPENDING HUMAN LIFE IN STRIFE.

Our position is unique as leader of the neutral nations. We are not at war. Our people earnestly seek not to be at war. We recognize that it is excellent to have the strength of a giant, but that it is tyrannical to use that strength like a giant.

NOT BY FORCE, BUT BY COMMON CONSENT OF MANKIND, WE LEAD THE PEACEFUL NATIONS OF THE WORLD. IT IS A PROUD TIME TO BE AN AMERICAN CITIZEN.

While other nations are spending, we are saving; while they are wasting, we are conserving; while they are mobilizing their children for the slaughter, we are gathering together the wealth the Lord has given us for the benefit of our people and our children.

Items of Interest Concerning People and Things in the State

Smith Wants to Force Britain to Put Cotton on Free List

Atlanta, Sept. 6.—The contention of Senator Hoke Smith and the cotton growers of the south that Great Britain must not be permitted to blockade cotton, is at last being backed up vigorously by the administration at Washington, and in the situation today leading cotton men see more cause for optimism than they have felt at any previous time.

Prior to the settlement of the note to Germany on submarine warfare, the administration was willing to press Senator Smith's views, and it was believed for a time that the administration was not in sympathy with them, but today it seems that the delay was simply caused by a desire to settle matters with Germany first, and that now the whole weight of the American government will be thrown behind the demand which will mean millions of dollars to the people of the south.

Some time ago the senator clearly showed that the proposed action of Great Britain was not only illegal, but was in direct violation of the principles for which Great Britain herself had contended in the past. He showed not only that Great Britain promised to keep cotton on the free list in the present struggle, and has since broken back on that promise, but showed further by the records that when Russia tried to make cotton contraband in the war with Japan, Great Britain took the stand that cotton must remain on Russia's free list and insisted that Russia change the order. The very thing that Great Britain forced Russia to do at that time, under the law, Senator Smith wants the American government to force Great Britain to do now.

Mortality of Drinking Men

Atlanta, Sept. 6.—That drinking men are usually inefficient and die early, and that economic progress is slowly but surely driving out the saloon, are contended by Bishop W. A. Candler in a special interview just made public in the columns of the "Keystone," a publication devoted to business progress in the south and published by the Southern States Life Insurance Company.

"Alcohol users have been divided into classes for observation by medical men," says Bishop Candler, "and actual experience has been arrived at. In a series of reports recently issued, the astounding statement is made that the mortality among those who use intoxicants is, as a whole, fifty per cent greater than among those who do not. It is shown that among persons who occasionally indulge to excess, the death rate is much above the normal, especially with regard to suicides and accidents. The steady drinker, though it may not run to any excesses, has a mortality of 33 per cent above the normal."

Atlanta Now Without a Town Clock

Atlanta, Sept. 6.—Now, for the first period in his history of over half a century, Atlanta is without any kind of a town clock. Even the pigeons which used to roost on the former clock tower have vanished from the center of the city, and the man who wants to know what time of day it is now has to consult his own timepiece. The last town clock to go was the one on the old court house and the new court house has no tower or place for one. Neither the capitol, the city hall nor the post office has a clock, and Atlanta is probably the only city of its size in the world which has no big clock to tell the passage of the hours.

The Georgia Tax Equalization Law is Satisfactory

Atlanta, Sept. 6.—General satisfaction is being expressed throughout the state at the tax situation this year. The people of Georgia are congratulating themselves that the increase in the tax rate has been only from 4.70 to 4.80—such a small margin that it will hardly be noticed.

Under the circumstances, Georgia is coming out exceedingly well, and the situation is not only an evidence of the state's solidarity but also of the wisdom of the new tax law, in the estimation of many people.

War times have had their effect on real estate and business in Georgia, just as in every other state, with the result that parcels of land and businesses that have been paying handsome returns to the state were justly relieved by the equalizers in proportion to their depressed values. That the difference can be made up with but an extra ten cents on every one hundred dollars, is a surprising feature of the situation. As it is now the rich land owner pays his proportionate share along with the small land owner. No longer is the small land owner the only man who has land so valuable that he must be assessed at twenty dollars an acre. Other states are already commenting on the improvements made in the Georgia law and suggesting similar changes in their own.

Investigation of Big Indian Mound

Atlanta, Sept. 6.—Many skeletons of Indians have already been discovered during the excavations of the big Indian mound in Nacoochee valley, and the Smithsonian Institute archeologists are still engaged in seeing what they can unearth of scientific interest. Thus far only a few weapons and pieces of pottery have been discovered, and the excavators have as yet hit upon nothing which justifies the legend that an Indian princess and her lover were buried in the mound.

Independent of the Indian princess legend, however, the mound is one of the largest of its kind in the United States, and the few utensils and weapons which have been discovered have caused the scientists to hope for discoveries still more valuable.

LANGSTON'S LOGIC

Pluck.

Some folks believe that most success which men have won is due to luck, but if you'll look more closely at their lives you'll find 'twas due to pluck. Some very brilliant men have failed, and failed at life, and run amuck, and killed themselves, and gone to hell, who would have triumphed if they'd stuck. When Fulton tried to show the world that ships could be propelled by steam, his efforts twice were fruitless, and he was on the verge of giving up; but Fulton didn't get cold feet for Robert surely was a brick, and persevered until he won, because he had the guts to stick. When Cyrus Field essayed to lay a cable underneath the sea, his efforts twice were fruitless, and he was on the verge of giving up; but Fulton didn't get cold feet for Robert surely was a brick, and persevered until he won, because he had the guts to stick. $8.00 Set of Granite and Copper ware Free with Each Majestic Range Sold

Great MAJESTIC Ranges
ONE WEEK ONLY
Save $8.00

As a special inducement during our demonstration week only, with every MAJESTIC RANGE sold (prices always the same) we will give free one handsome set of ware as illustrated here.

Every piece of this ware is the best of its kind. Not a piece that is not needed in every kitchen. It cannot possibly be bought for less than $8.00. This ware is on exhibition at our store. DON'T FAIL TO SEE IT.

Which Shall It Be

Do you intend to continue laboring, burning vast amounts of fuel and destroying high-priced food with that old worn-out cook stove.

You know that old stove eats up a lot of food each year. You know that you have trouble in getting it to bake just right, in fact spoil a batch of bread every once in a while—you know it costs considerable for yearly repairs.

Stop and think and figure. Wouldn't it pay you to buy a good range—a range with a reputation—

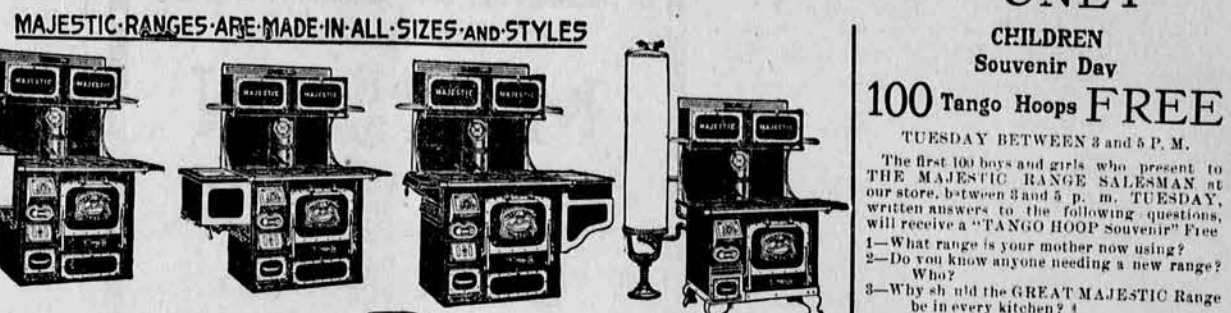

THE GREAT MAJESTIC Malleable and Charcoal Iron RANGE. You make no mistake in buying the great MAJESTIC—It's the range with the REPUTATION—ask your neighbors. Then, too, its built just right and of the right kind of material—Malleable and Charcoal Iron—riveted together practically air tight—lined with pure asbestos—parts being malleable can't break—has a movable reservoir and an oven that doesn't warp—that's why the Majestic uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day in the year (breads bread just right all over without turning), heats 15 gallons of water while breakfast is cooking—properly handled lasts a lifetime, and costs practically nothing for repairs.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime "unsight unseen"; you're sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the Great Majestic—have its many exclusive features explained to you—why the Majestic is 300 per cent, stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weakest.

WANT TARIFF BOARD

League Is Formed to Make Nation-Wide Campaign.

"Take Tariff Out of Politics" is Slogan Under Which Leading Men of the United States Have United.

Chicago.—"Take the tariff out of politics and put it on a business basis" is the slogan of a nation-wide campaign to be undertaken by an organization formed in Chicago to urge the establishment of a permanent non-partisan tariff commission. Many leading men in the United States have gone on record as approving the plan and are directly interested in the movement.

The Tariff Commission league, just formed in Chicago, and now in process of detailed organization, will be the medium through which the fight will be made to arouse the American public—the business world, the agricultural world, the labor world—to bring pressure to bear upon congress that the proposed tariff commission will be created.

James J. Hill has agreed to take the chairmanship of the advisory committee of thirty members, which will pass upon all general matters of policy and action, and which is now being formed. On Mr. Hill's advisory committee it is intended to have prominent representatives of agriculture, labor, manufacturing, trade and commerce, higher education, as well as experts on economics and public officials.

Warren S. Stone of Cleveland, grand chief of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, has accepted an invitation to serve on the advisory committee, as one of the representatives of labor. Another member of the advisory committee is Mrs. Samuel B. Sneath of Tiffin, Ohio, first vice-president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, and a recent addition to Miss Jane Addams of Chicago. Representing agriculture on that committee are: P. D. Coburn of Kansas, the "Father of Alfalfa," who for twenty years has been secretary of the Kansas department of agriculture; ex-Governor W. D. Hoard of Wisconsin, who has been called the father of the dairy industry of the West; and A. P. Grout of Illinois, one of the chief farmers of that part of the country and president of the National Alfalfa Growers' association. The composition of the remainder of the committee will be determined shortly. John J. Mitchell, president of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, is treasurer of the league. G. S. Wood, a well-known newspaper man of Chicago, is assistant to the president.

The president of the Tariff Commission league, and the man who will be in direct and active charge of the campaign for the arousing of public sentiment, is Howard H. Gross of Chicago.

CRYOLITE FROM GREENLAND
An Important Ore of Aluminum That Comes From an Eskimo Hamlet.

Washington.—Cryolite is not produced in the United States, the entire supply used being imported from Ivigtut, an Eskimo hamlet on the southern coast of Greenland. Our imports in 1914 were 4,612 tons, average value $20.47.

Cryolite is a sodium and aluminum fluoride that crystallizes in the monoclinic system. It is an important ore of aluminum and is used in the manufacture of alum, sodium fluoride (for making soap), sodium carbonate and other salts. It is also employed in making opaque white glass, sometimes called hot cast porcelain, which is said to be prepared by fusing 100 parts of silica, 35 parts of cryolite and 15 parts of zinc oxide.

FIND OLD MASTER IN ATTIC

Picture Given Girl as Remembrance of Visit Is Either a Van Dyke or Rubens.

Toledo, O.—Miss Dorothy Southard, society girl and daughter of Frank E. Southard, while visiting friends in the East some time ago, got as a remembrance a picture which she had found in the attic and for which she expressed admiration. She was told the picture had been in the family 200 years.

Upon its arrival it was sent to an art shop to have its frame regilded. Then it was learned the canvas was either a Van Dyke or Rubens and was worth probably $50,000.

The picture, according to Miss Southard, was brought from England in 1600.

SUES FOR HIS MUSTACHE

Pole Forcibly Deprived of Facial Adornment by Fellow-Workers Wants $200.

Barlesville, Okla. — Two hundred dollars is the amount asked by Frank Walkawiey, a Pole, for the loss of a mustache, in a suit filed here against A. D. McClintick and Gus Begley. All are smelter workers.

Walkawiey was ordered to quit drinking out of a pail of water other workers used unless he used a cup or out of his mustache.

The Pole did not heed the warning. Then some of the men threw Walkawiey to the floor and amputated his mustache.

THE COTTON SITUATION

As Viewed by the State Department of Agriculture

Atlanta, Sept. 13.—Estimates of the Georgia cotton crop made by the state department of agriculture, over the signature of Commissioner J. D. Price, are but a small fraction under those made by eastern agencies of well known bias. It is a remarkable fact that while the eastern people are publishing estimates of 68.5 per cent of an average crop, Commissioner Price's estimate was 67 per cent, or just one and one-half per cent under them. The state department believes that, if anything, its estimate is a little too high.

"After visiting many counties in the state, in southern, middle and northern Georgia," said Commissioner Price, "I am more than satisfied that my estimate of the cotton crop is, if anything, a little too high. I am gratified to note that the northern and eastern people who spare no expense in the matter of getting their estimates, are only 1.5 per cent above me. They figure 68.5 per cent of an average crop, while my estimate was 67 per cent."

"The price of cotton right now, as compared with last fall, looks good to me, and while I am not over optimistic about it, I am gratified to note that the regional bank and its associates are going to lend money to farmers on cotton at 6 per cent, in case the farmer prefers to borrow at this rate of interest instead of selling at present or similar prices."

"Fortunately, we are not confronted with the same conditions which we had to contend with last year, when there was no price and no money to be had except at exorbitant rates of interest. Conditions now are better. There is plenty of money and the bankers and business men generally seem to be friends of cotton."

"There is one very important feature of the situation brought about by the reduction in acreage and the reduction in the use of high grade fertilizers. As pointed out by Mr. Anderson of the Macon Telegraph, have you stopped to think that if the war continues, our facilities for obtaining potash to make high grade fertilizers will be worse next year, because we have no supply of potash on hand, and, necessarily, the crop will be as short or shorter than this year, which points to a good price for cotton. It is at least fortunate that the reduction in yield raises the price to where the farmer realizes as much money as if he had a big crop."

"Now, Mr. Farmer, it is up to you to raise your home supplies and be independent. Have the buyer come to you and ask what you will take for the cotton you have on hand, instead of being worried to death as to who will buy it and what price he will give. Plenty of hog and hominy is the solution of the whole problem."

"The long-dreaded boll weevil has at last appeared in south Georgia. Some fifteen or eighteen counties are already infected. The state board of entomology, of which I am chairman, has called a meeting at Thomasville, in connection with business men and great chambers of commerce of that section, to devise plans to prevent the spread of this pest, to minimize, insofar as possible, its effect upon our next crop. It is important that every step to this end be taken, as the work of the weevil will affect directly or indirectly everybody in the state. Neither this

RUSSIAN TROOPS DRINKING TEA UNDER BURNING SUN IN POLAND

In this illustration are shown Russian troops in Poland. These men are sitting at long tables drinking tea. They were passing through this district and the tents were not erected when the photographer snapped this picture. The heat in Poland is intense, and a tent in spite of a plague of flies is preferable to sitting under the burning sun.

IRREGULARITIES IN ACCOUNTS

Of Keeper of Public Buildings of the State Department

Atlanta, Sept. 13.—An audit has been ordered of the books of the keeper of the public buildings and grounds of the state in order to definitely determine whether there is an actual shortage as rumored.

According to a statement to-day of Executive Secretary Raymond Stapleton, there is a shortage of approximately $2,000, but it was admitted that there was no definite information at hand to bear out the assertion and none can be had until a complete audit of the books is made. The books are those in charge of the assistant keeper of public buildings, C. E. Holcombe. Some rumors placed the alleged shortage as high as $11,000. It was stated by Pierce B. Latimer, keeper of public buildings, that the investigation of the assistant keeper's accounts was begun Sept. 2. It was said at the Governor's office that the only action to be taken, if any at all, would be of a civil nature.

department nor the state board of entomology will spare any pains or effort in assisting the farmers of Georgia to successfully combat this pest."

Knew Their Parts.

N. C. Goodwin, at an annual luncheon in a Los Angeles restaurant was joking about divorce evil, according to the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

"I know a man," he said, "an actor man at that, who was about to marry for the seventh time. He thought of it! His bride, too, had already had, despite her youth, four husbands. Dreadful, eh?" "Well, this engaging pair put at the bottom of the handsomely engraved wedding invitations they sent out a postscript reading: "P. S.—Be sure to come. This will be no amateur performance."

OVERCROWDED HIGH SCHOOL

Statesboro is in Urgent Need Of a New School Building or Greatly Increased Facilities of the Present One.

The dire need of greater school room is certainly one of the most important subjects that our citizens and municipality can grapple with and no time should be lost in planning ways and means to alleviate the present overcrowded condition of the High School. The News was really surprised to learn that it was necessary to refuse admission to several from the various grades especially the first third and fifth, the all important grades that should offer opportunity for every child in any city. That this city has not kept pace with the increased population in her school facilities is little short of criminal negligence.

A town's biggest asset is its educational offerings to a prospective settler, and to one who may be an old resident, to have their children denied admission for lack of school room is an unpardonable condition. Upon hearing of several children being returned home after school opening the News investigated and found that the enrollment of about 600 pupils (far in excess of last term) that it had been found impossible to properly place all the lower grades and that some teachers had no one teacher can successfully handle that number of pupils under the system now in effect.

Statesboro is forging ahead at a pace possibly not appreciated by those who are unobserving and it is no little dream to say that we have reached that period when this most vital subject should have our undivided support for a new and modern High School building and facilities that would attract students for preparatory courses. Mr. Citizen it is YOUR duty to look seriously into the matter and not permit a recurrence of the present conditions to blot out our progress.

PROFESSIONAL FARM DEMONSTRATORS

The movement that has taken root to bring to Bulloch county a professional farm demonstrator on the plan as reported exclusively in the News last week in relation to the proposition advanced by Mr. John Kyrgess Giles of the U. S. Department of Agriculture if adopted can be but far reaching in its direct benefits.

Our American farmers are reluctant to accept advice or adopt modern devices as taught by our scientific students and demonstrators produced from our agricultural colleges; at the suggestion of such a procedure the average farmer will at once remark—"what can that man teach me about farming on this land that I've been tilling all my life? and there's the rub, excepting that it should be spelled out—that the average farmer is wallowing in. Right now Bulloch county needs these practical and scientific demonstrators as a permanence more than at any period in her history."

The boll weevil is invading Georgia and we need advice from experienced hand and heads—men who have given much time to the eradication of the pest; we need these men for the maintenance of our agricultural leadership and the preservation of our rich land productivity. Statesboro and Bulloch county is the logical location for the headquarters of this demonstration bureau. The county commissioners and the city administration cannot do a deed of greater benefit to the community than to subscribe the amount required to meet the appropriation of the U. S. government for the establishment of this most commendable undertaking.

NEW DISPLAY WINDOW

NO VACANCIES FOR STUDENTS

At the G. N. & I. at Millidgeville

It is with great regret that notification is herewith sent you that all the vacancies in the Georgia Normal and Industrial college have been filled. There has not been room for even one-half of the new students who applied for admission to the college this year.

The state has not erected buildings fast enough to keep up with the recent rapid growth of the college and hundreds of satisfactory applications cannot be accepted because of a lack of room. It is then with reluctance that the statement is made that no more students can be accommodated. That the legislature will soon enlarge the accommodations of the college so that a greater number of Georgia girls can be admitted in future years.

Woman's Baptist Missionary Union Meeting

The Woman's Baptist Missionary Union of Bulloch County Association will be held with Statesboro Baptist church Oct. 8th and 9th.

The women of Statesboro Baptist church extend a cordial invitation to the women of Bulloch county association to meet with them and help by their presence and co-operation to make this the greatest meeting ever held by the W. B. M. U. of this association. An interesting program has been arranged for each day. Several of our state workers will be present. Ample arrangements will be made to entertain all those in attendance. We are anxious for every church and society in our county to be well represented. We insist on your coming, will you.

The JOHN FLANNERY COMPANY, Savannah, Ga., have the best facilities for storing and hauling cotton, make liberal advances on consignments, and hold cotton when ordered.

STATESBORO DOLLAR DAY

In another part of this issue the Board of Trade announces Statesboro's initial Dollar Day Saturday, Oct. 8th, an event that is planned to become a semi-annual fall and spring affair under the auspices of this commercial organization. The importance of the occasion is of no small calibre; its intent is to bring to our midst on that particular day one or more of Georgia's gifted and best informed men with whom our farmers and business men may meet and converse and who will address us publicly, giving us the advantage of their wide experience in travel and observation, that we may profit thereby.

The Dollar Day feature and title under which the occasion will be promoted by the Board of Trade is meant to convey to the public that the dollar will go farther and have a greater purchasing power on that special day than at any other time. That our merchants generally will offer such substantial reductions in their goods and wares that attendance upon the event will be well worth one's time and money, aside from the educational feature and the knowledge to be derived from the talk of these public speakers.

The Statesboro newspapers are giving the event prominent publicity, and reducing the advertising rates to the merchants so that they may prominently display their announcements in keeping with the reductions in prices they will make; in short, it is to be, and is destined to become, a semi-annual get-together day, when you will learn what your neighbor is doing and will tell him what you are doing, and, withal, have the opportunity to listen to valuable advice as given by the best speakers that may be obtained who are familiar with the needs of the hour as the Board of Trade are pleased to state that they have succeeded in obtaining the presence of Hon. C. J. Haden, president of the Georgia Chamber of commerce, of Atlanta. Mr. Haden, as president of the Chamber of Commerce, secured a $25,000 donation from the Harvester Company of America to be applied to the GEORGIA DIVERSIFIED FARMING CAMPAIGN that is being promoted by the Chamber of Commerce with some forty speakers who will attend upwards of 3,000 meetings throughout Georgia. With Mr. Haden will come Hon. J. D. Price, commissioner of agriculture of the state of Georgia. Mr. Price is one of the best informed men on the subject of diversified farming that there is in the entire south.

The Board of Trade will dispense free lemonade and provide band concerts thru the day. You will profit in more ways than one by visiting Statesboro on Oct. 8th.

A Historic Wonder.

Some time ago Jones attended a fashionable reception in a big New England town and, not having met all of the people present, the most prominent ones were pointed out to him by a friend.

"The young lady beside the palm reader," said the friend, indicating a statuesque blond, "is Miss Smith. She has great histrionic ability. As a matter of fact, at amateur theatricals she is simply a wonder."

"You don't really mean it?" responded Jones, gazing at the fair charmer.

"Yes," smiled the friend, "she can make the most painful tragedy a source of genuine amusement."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

MIDLAND RAILROAD

Station and Superintendents
Office in Jaekel Hotel

The Midland railroad will maintain their uptown office in Statesboro in rooms now being prepared in the east end of the hotel Jaekel. Very commodious quarters are well toward the finishing touch and these will house the local agent, Mr. Sam Moore who will operate the ticket office and local business from this point in these official quarters. Mr. C. E. Clark the superintendent will also have his personal office in the rear of the ticket office. The Midland train time schedule in effect between Statesboro and Stevens Crossing is published on another page of this issue.

Statesboro High School
Opening

The fall and winter term of the Statesboro High School opened most auspiciously Monday September 6th. There were upwards of a hundred or more pupils than were in attendance last season. A delightful music program was rendered under the direction of Mrs. Quattlebaum. Rev. Mr. Harden offered a reading and prayer.

A most interesting and particularly valuable talk was given the students by Mr. G. S. Johnston, chairman of the school board. Others who addressed the assembly were C. A. M. Deal and former superintendent, J. L. Renfro and Representative Fred Lanier.

Col. Johnston introduced the new principal, Mr. B. B. Earle, who talked interestingly on the home and school and dwelt especially on the necessity of co-operation between the faculty and student. The outlook is particularly bright for a successful term of the Statesboro High School which has already gained an enviable reputation throughout south-east Georgia.

The amount of coal taken from the ground in July last in Rhodesia went ahead of all previous records.

WHAT'S THE REASON?

Many Statesboro People in Poor Health Without Knowing the Cause

There are scores of people who drag out a miserable existence without realizing the cause of their suffering. Day after day they are racked with backache and headache; suffer from nervousness, dizziness, weakness, languor and depression. Perhaps the kidneys have fallen behind in their work of filtering the blood and that may be the root of the trouble. Look to your kidneys, assist them in their work—give them the help they need. You can use no more highly recommended remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills—endorsed by people all over the country and by your neighbors in Statesboro.

Mrs. G. H. Mock, 48 N. Main st., Statesboro, says: "Whenever my back gives out and I am feeling run down from kidney trouble, I use Doan's Kidney Pills with fine results. My work is made easier after using this medicine. Another of the family has used Doan's Kidney Pills with fine results. We recommend them highly."

Price, 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mock had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
