ONE WEAK SPOT

Many Statesboro People Have a Weak Part and Too Often It's the Back

Many people have a weak spot. Too often it's a bad back. Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up day and night. Backache is often from weak kidneys. In such case a kidney medicine is needed. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. For backache and urinary ills. Statesboro people recommend the remedy. Mrs. M. G. Scarborough, Statesboro, says: "One of the family had backache and dull, nagging pains across the loins. The trouble gave the most bother while at work, because the sufferer had to stand a great deal. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended, and we got a box. They rid the patient of the pains and I have not heard any complaint since." Price, 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Scarborough recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

NEW AUTO TIRE COMPANY

Extensive Vulcanizing Plant—Largest in South

Among the new several enterprises that are springing up every day in Statesboro we now have an exclusive tire supply house and vulcanizing plant. The Averitt-Derst Tire Co. is the new concern with Mr. D. Percy Averitt of the Averitt Auto Co., (which will in no manner be affected by the deal) as the senior member and, Mr. J. W. Derst, formerly of Savannah, and who for several years has been located in Akron Ohio, among the various rubber tire manufacturers and who is endowed with all the knowledge in connection with the business. Mr. Derst will personally have supervision of the retail business and repair department. The firm will carry a large supply of the Southern Tire & Rubber Co.'s goods.

Probably the most important adjunct of this concern is their vulcanizing plant which is none other than the Bryson plant of Savannah which they have purchased, it being one of the largest in the south, having been installed in the Bryson plant in Savannah by the Akron Williams Co. and the biggest equipment of this Manufacturing Co. of tire machinery. The depot of this firm will be located on Courtland street, next door to the Zetterower stables, phone 103.

DR. BASCOM ANTHONY

At the M. E. Church Next Sunday Night 7:00 P. M.

Announcement is made that the Rev. Bascom Anthony will hold service at the M. E. church next Sunday evening; the hour of meeting has been changed to conform to the usual fall and winter period. Services will begin at seven o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to hear Dr. Anthony.

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body. In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dream sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown. To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutriment gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol, Scott & Bowers, Bloomfield, N. J.

CASE OF BUBONIC PLAGUE

Discovered in New Orleans—Only One In a Year Since the Rat Eradication Campaign

After the lapse of nearly a year a case of human plague occurred in the city of New Orleans on the 27th of August. This case was confirmed as true bubonic plague on Sept. 8th. The epidemiological investigation as to the exact source of the infection has not yet been completed but it is believed that it was probably received in the city of New Orleans. Up to date over 91,000 buildings in that city have been rat-proofed and over 435,000 rodents have been captured in traps alone. The occurrence of this case demonstrates the difficulties surrounding the eradication of the disease and indicate that had it not been for the active co-operative efforts of the United States Public Health Service and of the Departments of Health of the state of Louisiana and the city of New Orleans, the outbreak would have reached greater proportions and would have been longer continued. It also points out to other cities the necessity for ridding themselves of the rodent carriers of the disease and of thoroughly rat-proofing all of their buildings. No fear is felt that this case will be followed by an outbreak. Officers and men of the Public Health Service, well trained in the control of the disease, are on the ground and with the health authorities of the city of New Orleans are taking every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease from the city and within it.

W. P. G. HARDING ACCUSES BANKS OF CHARGING HIGH INTEREST

From 6 1-2 In N. C. to 120 In Arkansas the Range
Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 20.—Facts concerning high interest rates charged by national banks throughout the country, particularly in the South, were disclosed by W. P. G. Harding, of the federal reserve board, in a speech tonight before the Raleigh chamber of commerce. Mr. Harding was explaining the reserve board regulations granting preferential rediscount rates to notes secured by staple commodity warehouse receipts provided the maker has been charged not more than 6 per cent interest, and defending the action of Secretary McAdoo in depositing $15,000,000 in the southern federal reserve banks to aid in financing the cotton crop.

BIG CEREAL CROPS IN ALL THE WORLD

Wheat, Rye, Barley, Oats and Corn Production Estimated at Big Increase Over 1914

Washington, [Sept. 20.—Big cereal crops this year in nearly all the world's chief agricultural countries are forecast in cable reports received at the department of agriculture today from the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome.

The total 1915 production of cereals in countries included in previous reports, plus Canada Asiatic Russia, are estimated at:
Wheat, 3,134,000,000 bushels; rye, 1,088,000,000; barley, 1,089,000,000; and oats 3,449,000,000. The 1915 production of corn in Italy, Roumania, Asiatic and European Russia, Switzerland, United States and Japan is placed at 3,202,000,000 bushels.

Expressed as percentages, taking 1914 production as 100 per cent, these 1915 crops promise to be, for wheat, 122.9 per cent; rye, 116.7; barley, 118.5; oats, 125.0; and corn, 110.8.

For ten governments of Asiatic Russia the 1915 forecast is, for wheat, 144,500,000 bushels; rye, 28,000,000; barley, 18,000,000, and oats, 141,000,000. For Italy, corn in 1915 is estimated at 118,000,000 bushels, expressed as percentages of the 1914 crops, these crops for Russia and Italy are 80.2 per cent, 72.7, 82.2, 80.4, 112.5 and 6 respectively.

GERMANY WENT TO WAR BECAUSE SHE WANTED PEACE

So Says A Captured German Sergeant to Petit Journal of Paris

(From the N. Y. Herald)
Mr. Maurice Leclercq tells in the Petit Journal of some very interesting opinions on the causes of war expressed to him by a captured German sergeant. The son of a great industrial magnate in Westphalia, this non-commissioned officer, presumed to be well posted on various questions relating to the world conflict. He started by stating that the industrial and commercial classes in Germany had long wished for peace.

"Why do we want peace?" he said. "The answer is very simple. In order to get a chance to produce, trade, establish business connections and new markets all over the world. In short, in order to develop outside our own country. The peace we have before war from day to day only, a peace of the present hour, without any guarantee for the future. Such peace was good enough for us at home, but it was insufficient to secure our development outward. For us Germans, and only for us, because there are no other nations depending exclusively on foreign expansion, as we do, that peace was precarious. We had to have the kind of peace corresponding to our wants, a peace giving assurance for the future. Since we could not get it in any other way, and we were bound to have it at any price, our Emperor engaged in this general war as a means of attaining our aim after its ending. All of Germany realized the necessity of it and gave its approval of the course taken."

"What have we lost in the present war? All the fruits of our development so far attained, you say. What if? If we had continued under the conditions of that insecure peace I have alluded to for another five or ten years our loss would have been five to ten times greater in that respect, whereas the outward development we are going to build up after this war will not be menaced by any danger. Yes, we are sure of gaining what we are fighting for and it is only a pity that the war did not come a few years earlier, when neither Russia nor France was sufficiently prepared for it. We would then have had on England on our hands, and peace would have come pretty soon. But we were so lazily content to dream of gaining French friendship with out war, and to-day we are the victims of that delusion."

to be reckoned with, particularly when it comes to dealing with southern farmers. The federal reserve system still is new. On the other hand, the farmers know about the government of the United States.

"In my opinion the secretary, who was born and reared in the South and is familiar with the southern temperament, felt that, by announcing his intention to deposit government funds with southern banks to assist in moving the cotton crop simultaneously with Great Britain's declaration and contraband against cotton, he was availing himself of the psychological moment for restoring confidence. As far as cotton is concerned, the recent advance in the price of that staple seems to afford ample justification for the course pursued."

TO FIGHT BOLL WEEVIL

Enthusiastic Meeting in Macon Wednesday of Georgians Prominent Officials and Business Men.

Arousing meeting of intensely interested farmers and business men was held yesterday at the hotel Dempsey in Macon. It was called by President Haden of the Georgia state chamber of commerce who presided. The meeting was attended by dozens of very prominent men. Among those who spoke were President Ogden Persons, of the state senate, who declared:

"Resolved, That we approve the campaign on boll weevil inaugurated by the state board of entomology and urge the active co-operation of the state department of agriculture, the United States department of agriculture, the state college of agriculture, the Farmers' union and other farmers' and business organizations within the state."

Curing by "word cure" was common in the early ages. They cast out the disease spirits by exorcism. Ulysses, mythology has it, stopped a hemorrhage by words. stryke words evidently. Cato cured sprains by the same means.

ESTABLISHMENT OF FARM DEMONSTRATION WORK

A Certainty—Board Of Education and County Commissioners Practically Agree

That Bulloch county will have a farm demonstration as outlined in our issue of last week under the co-operation of the U. S. Department of agriculture and the Georgia State College of Agriculture is now practically a settled fact. Mr. J. K. Giles who was in Statesboro last week and explained the proposition, came again and met with the Bulloch county officials at the court house Tuesday. The county officials met all requirements of the government and the business of an early establishment of the station was at once entered into. The necessary funds to meet the government appropriation was assured and in anticipation of this being done Mr. Giles brought in company with him Mr. J. T. Hart the demonstrator who will be assigned to this district.

Mr. Hart will be located in his living quarters at the F. D. A. and M. college; he is a married man and his wife will join him just as soon as she can arrange their private business in connection with some extensive farming interests they have at their home. Mr. Hart is a native of Union Point, Green county. He is a graduate of a four year course at the Georgia State College and after that taught at the University of Madison two years and at Tifton two and one-half years at both of which schools he had charge of the agriculture department. He is a successful and practical farmer. Bulloch is fortunate in securing so able a man as Mr. Hart has proven himself to be in his past work of agriculture development, and his scientific knowledge will be of inestimable value to the farmers of our county at a moment when knowledge is golden.

Mr. Johnson was an able railroad man and easily one of the best known officials in the country. He ranked next to President W. A. Winburn since the recent death of Mr. T. S. Moore, general manager of the system, and was regarded as the right hand man of the Central's chief executive.

As of revolutions were advocated treating upon the weevil and better farming campaigns; the former as follows:

"Resolved, That we approve the campaign on boll weevil inaugurated by the state board of entomology and urge the active co-operation of the state department of agriculture, the United States department of agriculture, the state college of agriculture, the Farmers' union and other farmers' and business organizations within the state."

These speeches were made in no spirit of pessimism or discouragement, but solely in an earnest effort to wake up the business men of Georgia to the gravity of the situation confronting them in this campaign."

MR. JOHN T. JOHNSON DIES

Was General Superintendent C. of G. Ry.—Remains Sent to Columbus

John T. Johnson, General superintendent of the Central of Georgia Railway and one of the best known railroad officials in the South, died in a local hospital in Savannah at 5:30 Tuesday.

His death was directly due to peritonitis, which developed in acute form following an operation for appendicitis Monday afternoon. Mr. Johnson left his office at 7 o'clock Saturday night apparently in the best of health. Monday morning he did not go to his office and 11 o'clock summoned his physician, who immediately removed him from his home to the hospital. Mr. Johnson was in every sense a self made man. His rise in the railroad world was rapid. Commencing as a trainman he advanced steadily until he reached the next to the highest office in one of the leading railroads of the South. He was looked upon as a railroad executive of exceptional ability. Believing in deeds rather than words, he was regarded by some as taciturn, although his intimate friends knew him as a delightful and companionable gentleman.

Mr. Johnson was 53 years old, he was born in Hannover county, Va., in December 1862. He entered railway service in 1879, being employed first as a trainman on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. From 1881 to 1886 he was a conductor on that railroad. In 1886 he became a conductor for the Central of Georgia. In 1889 he was promoted to yardmaster, which position he held until 1891, when he was again promoted, this time to trainmaster. He was a superintendent in 1898 and in 1908 holding this office from January 1, 1904 to March 27, 1908. On March 17, 1906, he was appointed general superintendent, which office he was holding at his death.

Mr. Johnson was an able railroad man and easily one of the best known officials in the country. He ranked next to President W. A. Winburn since the recent death of Mr. T. S. Moore, general manager of the system, and was regarded as the right hand man of the Central's chief executive.

Weekly Talks to Canning Club Girls
BY MISS POLLY WOOD

Dear Girls:
The canning club contest will be held in the county school superintendent's office on the 15th day of October. This makes it necessary for your exhibits, booklets, and record books to be in by Oct. 12th. It will take two or three days to arrange everything.

I would like for you to send in your record books the week before. If you have no exhibits, end your record book any way. I need these in making out my annual report. I would also like to know the number of girls that have made uniforms.

Girls, I hope you will work very hard these remaining days. I will begin work Oct. 4th. If you need my help in any way, you will find me at the office of the county school superintendent.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

F. C. Howe
On The Advantages of Free Ports

Mr. F. C. Howe, Federal Commissioner of Immigration, who is one of the best American authorities on marine commerce, is discussing the relation of free ports to the development of sea trade in part:

"Ships will go hundreds of miles out of their way to avoid ports surrounded by a tariff wall. The only way, therefore, for a country with a tariff to compete in the shipping world with a free-trade country is to establish free ports at strategic points along its coast line. Germany has done so, and in a comparatively short period has built up a carrying trade which before the war was seriously threatening England's supremacy. Hamburg, one of the three German free ports, now ranks as the second greatest seaport in the world, its total foreign commerce in 1913 being over $8,000,000 under that of New York.

"The free port would offer great opportunity for financial operations, now made possible by the recent currency act. It would stimulate international banking, and would tend to shift the financial center of the world to this country. And America, by the logic of events, has become the natural center for the world's financing, just as London became that center several centuries ago, when it shifted from the cities of the Netherlands. But the financial center will only move to this country when it becomes a clearing house of goods as well as of money. The world's trade is created by currently created wealth in transit or change so that the financial expansion is dependent upon the opening up of American ports to the clearance of the wealth of the world. A port should not operate to yield a return on the investment, but to develop the prosperity of the country." In recapitulating the advantages, Mr. Howe brings out the importance of the free port in developing our shipping and linking us with South America, Asia and Africa, and then concludes:

"The most important gain is the direct gain to America. It will cheapen commodities by bringing great quantities of goods to our doors for importation or export, as trade needs demand. It will stimulate the growth of export houses, which can hold goods for an indefinite period without payment of tariff dues (often equal to the cost of the article itself) for disposal to meet the trade demands of the world. It will uphold international credit and shift to America an increasing and ultimately a predominant share in international exchange.

"Finally, America is the natural country to be the counter of the world. Its resources face every other continent; it is the greatest of all reservoirs of raw materials and foodstuffs. In iron and steel and standardized production it is in a position to compete with the world. But international trade (and this is always overlooked) must be reciprocal. It cannot be one-sided. And credit balances cannot for any prolonged period be paid in gold. They can only be paid by exchange of wealth."

TAKES GERMANY'S BUSINESS

Her Commerce With Other Neutral
Nations Has Been Increased Greatly
Since the Beginning of the War, and Many of Her Industries Are More Prosperous Than at Any Other Time.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 22.—[Special].—The men in congress who have been interesting themselves in securing fair and free highways for the sea for our commerce are getting ready to make a vigorous onslaught upon the policy pursued by Great Britain. They will have the material and will show that Great Britain, while holding up American goods going to neutral countries and preventing the shipment of goods from neutral countries to the United States, has at the same time been largely increasing her own trade with those countries.

A statement was recently made in Washington by a man from the industry of England was more prosperous than at any previous period. Her factories are booming, and she has a market for her goods. The only drawback is the heavy war tax, but even this is offset by the increased trade.

England Supplies Germany.
It appears that England has supplanted Germany in trade with many of the neutral nations, particularly in those articles which Germany cannot manufacture when she cannot obtain such raw materials as cotton and other staples. Great Britain holds up the trade and commerce of the United States, and when our people protest we are accused of setting up the dollar at a time of great stress in foreign countries, while all the time Great Britain is looking after the pound and shilling. It appears all right for the English to make money out of the stress of war even when it is necessary to interfere with American commerce to do so. All of this will be brought out when congress meets in December.

Keeps His Hand on the Lever.
President Wilson keeps his hand on the lever all the time. He does not get more than half an hour away from the White House or state department at any time. Of course this attitude gives the impression that the president is impending, and although no one in this country believes we are going to war with Germany, yet the seriousness with which our negotiations with that country are conducted would indicate that war might come at any time.

Back in the days of the Boxer trouble in China McKinley did not give himself any such concern. He went to Canton and stayed there. Secretary Hay of the state department went to New Hampshire and stayed there. Elihu Root as secretary of war ran everything with occasional long distance telephone conversation with McKinley.

Weird Tails of Whiskers.
During the hottest time of the hot September spell in Washington a man came from France with a whisker story. He said that fashions in whiskers would be established by the war.

LANGSTON'S LOGIC

Religion

Since God created this old world and flung it into space, a thousand gods or more have claimed the homage of the race. Where Egypt rears her pyramids, and by the sluggish Nile, they worshipped almost everything from cat to crocodile. To Isis and Osiris and to Horus prayers were poured, and sacred dogs and sacred bulls and beetles were adored. In Persia Zoroaster taught the worship of the stars. In Greece and Rome they bowed the knee to Jupiter and Mars. The Celts, they had a trinity of Wodin, Friga, Thor, the first, the mighty King of Heaven, the last the god of war. The Hindoos worship Buddha, and Confucius, the Chinese, while many hundred millions unto Brahms bend the knee. And while this sad old world of ours was groping in the night, and praying to the countless gods to shed a ray of light, and dying in their ignorance and going to the tomb, no star of truth appeared to light the universal gloom. And this these nations did not have the knowledge that we claim, and knew not our Jehovah, and had heard not Jesus' name, yet every man who ever lived upon this globe of tears, of sorrow and suffering, and hopes and doubts and fears, has had a silent monitor within his inmost soul. Which warned him that of mortal life there is no end, and that the goal, and taught him that the highest aim and duty of man is to love and help and service to a fellow man in need. For religion of the highest kind—the only one that is true—in the doing unto others as you'd have them do to you.

And that Americans, having a penchant for following French fashions, would adopt the curious cut which will be made the fashion by the fighting Frenchmen. Until this comes in some diplomatic form it need not be taken seriously.

What Tumulty Did Not Say.
When Secretary Tumulty tried to call off the Jerseymen who were about to endorse Wilson for president he did not say that the president would not be a candidate for another term. Evidently the idea of the administration was to prevent political discussion at a time like this. The president is politician enough to know that so far as his claims for re-nomination are concerned that everything is going better for him than could be expected. He and Tumulty no doubt desired to let well enough alone. The less political discussion that occurs now the better for Wilson.

Revising Tariff Talk.
There is talk about the tariff, and it is claimed that now would be a good time to make a nonpolitical bill. It is pointed out that the extraordinary conditions caused by the war are sufficient to make it necessary to raise the tariff to make levies on goods which will produce more revenue. Thus it is intimated that the duty on sugar and wool might be restored as well as increases on other articles, particularly those which may flood the country after the war is over. A tariff bill without politics would be a great novelty.

Republican Candidates Shy.
Here comes a man from Ohio and says that the reason Republican candidates for the presidency are shy is because the popularity of President Wilson at this time indicates that it will be useless for any man to make the race. But about the time the delegates are to be elected there will be plenty of candidates, and their friends will be very busy.

NO JOBS FOR CIGARETTISTS.

Kansas Not to Employ Smokers or Drinking Men

Cigarette users as well as drinking men are to be barred from State employment in Kansas under the rules promulgated by the new State civil service commission.

In a preliminary statement issued some time ago it was announced that users of intoxicating liquors would be ineligible to hold State jobs, but in the completed rules issued recently is the following:

The commission may refuse to certify an application for the habitual use of intoxicating beverages or cigarettes.—Topeka (Kansas) Dispatch New York Sun.

Superintendent's Talks to Schools

On Subjects of Interest to the Teachers, Pupils and Patrons

In a few weeks the rural schools will open for the 1916 public term. It is feared that we will not be able to operate a longer term than five months. The state last year reduced our appropriation from $3.38 per pupil to $3.17, which causes quite a slump in our funds when we consider the number of pupils annually reaching the free school age in this great county of ours. We are almost alone in the matter of giving a six months term where there are a larger percent of white children than colored of school age. I do not know of another county that has been able to maintain a term of six months where this is the case except this county. About forty percent of the school population in this county is colored. In quite a number of the counties in South East Georgia, sixty percent of the school population is colored, and it is an easy matter to operate longer terms where such is the case, as the average negro school teacher is not as well prepared and consequently the salaries of the negroes are much below the salaries of the white teachers. If the Board finds that it is possible, we will go for six months as heretofore, otherwise we will have to be governed by what funds in sight.

The Beaver pond school closed its summer term last Friday afternoon. Prof. Ramsey was principal, and he made quite a success of the school. They gave an ice cream supper that was an enjoyable affair and was a success in a financial way, as well. The pictures of the rural school as well as the pictures of the First district school were shown, and seemingly were enjoyed by the large crowd present. Prof. Ramsey will soon begin as principal of the Middle Ground high school, which is located near Dr. Temple's home. He will be assisted there by Miss Rosa Vonnach and Miss Daisy Averitt.

The citizens of the Middle Ground school district are making quite a nice addition to the present school building which is already one of the best in the county. They have decided to add a room a length of 88 feet which will include a music room. This will put them in shape to take care of all the essentials of an education and do it at home. The building will be modern in design and will be ample in space to take care of all available pupils in the district.

The Rimes school, that was twice destroyed by fire last year, has been rebuilt. They have built a better house than they had before. These people are determined to have a good school, and you can't keep a set of good men down.

There are only two or three schools that have not employed teachers for the coming term. The teachers of this county who have failed to get schools will have no one to blame but themselves, as notice was given two or three times to those in the county who wished to secure schools for next year to make application. If you failed to do so early, you will find it difficult to secure a school now.

We have not enough Bulloch county teachers who will teach in this county to fill all the places, and we have to get some teachers each year from out of the county, but we prefer to use our home teachers that are qualified in preference to those whom we do not know, all things being equal.

Those wanting assistant positions will confer with me a little later.

For any pain, burn, scald or bruise, apply Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—the household remedy. Two sizes: 25c and 50c; at all stores.—Adv.

About Georgia and Georgians

Items of Interest Concerning People and Things in the State

Atlanta, Sept. 22.—Members of the house of representatives who are taking an active part in the movement to revise the rules of that body, which fight is very likely to furnish the first big news item of the extra session, attach special significance to the fact that the rules committee of the house, which is the particular object of the fight, is made up mainly of representatives who come from the large cities of Georgia.

The members of the rules committee are as follows:

Speaker W. H. Burwell, of Hancock county, ex officio chairman; Representatives Blackburn of Putnam, vice chairman; Bale of Floyd; Clements of Irwin; Davidson of Putnam; Fullbright of Burke; Foss of Dougherty; Ragland of Talbot; Redwine of Fayette; Shuprine of Chatham; Wheatley of Sumpter; Wohlwend of Muscogee.

When the last seven days of the recent session expired, and the rules committee assumed command, the only chance for the prohibition anti shipping bill to come to a vote, though two-thirds of the members favored it, was for it to be put on the calendar by the rules committee. The committee refused to put the bill on the calendar, and now the legislators are planning a fight which has as its object a revision of the rules which will always insure the house the right to consider what its majority wants to consider.

Atlanta, Sept. 22.—Prosperity throughout the south was indicated by the very large attendance at the opening of Brenau College—Conservatory at Gainesville last week.

Many improvements have been made in the college building and equipment, and Brenau like other higher institutions of the south, is reflecting the fact that war or no war this section is moving steadily forward.

The new sorority houses for the Tri Delta and Alpha Delta Pi are completed, and work on the new Y. M. C. A. building is being rushed as rapidly as possible.

Twenty-five new pianos have been installed in the practice rooms. President Pearce recently made a contract for seventy-five new pianos and this is the first shipment.

Several new members of the faculty reported for duty at the opening. Among them was Professor Modesto Jacobini, who will teach the Roman language; Mortimer Wilson, head of the theoretical department of music, and Nyal McCay, the celebrated tenor, who becomes a member of the vocal department.

Atlanta, Sept. 22.—The few hundred goats in Georgia—not the slang goats, but sure enough billy goats and nanny goats—are proving so valuable as farm animals, that there is talk about using them more generally as farm animals in this state.

The goats eat weeds and other fodder that other animals disdain, and cost little to keep. They give excellent milk for the making of cheese, and when the price of beef is high young goat flesh is by no means an unpalatable substitute for lamb and mutton.

At present there are fewer goats than any other kind of live stock in Georgia, but the goat has become more popular by recent years and farmers are just beginning to realize their advantages.

Atlanta, Sept. 22.—Haynes McFadden, secretary of the Georgia Bankers Association, has been elected president of the Secretaries section of the American Bankers Association. This is a distinguished honor to a well known Georgian.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 22.—The "special" session for the legislature this fall is going to be a "regular" session as well, judging from the number of things that will probably be included in the call, and the length of time which the governor proposes to give to the assembly to deliberate on them.

The call will be issued in about a week, probably on next Wednesday, Sept. 29th, and then the opening day of the session, it is expected, will be set for November 2.

It is generally conceded at the capital that the following legislation will be included in the call.

General appropriations bill.

Deficiency in appropriations bill.

Ways and means bill—known as the special taxes or revenue bill.

Prohibition bills.

Cotton warehouse bill.

Bankers Acceptance bill, a companion measure to the cotton warehouse bill.

Juvenile courts bill.

Western & Atlantic railroad commission bill.

And possibly a state auditor's bill.

This would all seem to indicate that the special session will last at least thirty days, and that there is a possibility of its extending as long as the regular sessions and running almost into Christmas, particularly if another pitched battle is fought around the prohibition measures.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 22.—Commenting on brighter cotton prospects and on the already published fact that cotton importers in Bremen had offered him 15 cents a pound for 1,000,000 bales of cotton delivered in Germany for peaceful purposes. Senator Hose Smith has given out the following interview:

"Of course cotton cannot be shipped to Germany, but the only thing that prevents it is the illegal conduct of Great Britain.

"With cotton sold in Germany at fifteen cents, it should readily bring thirteen cents a pound where it is raised. Indeed if the German and Austrian markets were opened and their demand for three million bales brought to bear upon the present crop, cotton should sell as high as it did before the war.

"It is well for those who are selling cotton to understand these facts, because eventually Great Britain should be forced to abandon the illegal order that is now interfering with the market.

"This fact should increase the present market price of cotton."

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 22.—Colonel Walter P. Andrews, of Fulton County, especially appointed by Governor Harris to represent the state of Georgia at the Pan American Roads Congress in Oakland, California, and the National Drainage Congress in San Francisco, has already left for the coast, and will be there throughout the remainder of the month.

Col. Andrews was chosen by the governor because of his keen public interest in good roads problems and good roads legislation.

Col. Andrews was the author of the state highway commission bill which occasioned favorable comment at the recent session of the legislature, and which it is believed will eventually be made into a Georgia law.

TWO GIRLS RUN A FARM

Wisconsin Lassies Are Successful Without Aid of Men

Wearing men's clothes, except for bloomers in place of trousers, two Oconto girls are operating a 67-acre farm a mile south of Brookside. They are the Misses Dolly Powell and Sadie Bundy. They are an Adamless Eden, and they are happy in it. No male help for them. They do all their own work on the farm, employing a woman, a sister of Miss Bundy, to keep house, while they go out and till the soil, do the plowing, dragging and seeding, as well as the haying and harvesting. They whistle, talk farm and stock just like men, and say they are thoroughly enjoying themselves.

"We are perfectly independent and making a good living," Miss Powell said, "we wouldn't be bothered with a man under any circumstances. He would only be in the way. We are free to do just as we please, and there is no one to boss us. The land is owned by Miss Bundy and her two sisters and myself, and we do all the work ourselves.

"It isn't hard and hot and irksome as housework, and beside there is more profit in it, and we are perfectly independent."

The farm is one of the finest in the county.

WHAT THE RAILROADS ARE DOING

And What They Will Do to Make Diversified Farming Profitable

Paper prepared by Mr. W. A. Winburn, president of Central Georgia Railway, and read at the State Wide Lumbering meeting at Tybee July 24th 1915 which in part was as follows:

"The railroads cannot make diversified farming profitable. That is the work of the farmer. What the Central Georgia is endeavoring to do is to demonstrate to the farmer that diversified farming is profitable and that in his own interest he ought to practice it. The attitude of the railroad toward the proposition should be made clear. The railroad is a business organization and is not undertaking philanthropic work. The question naturally arises, how will diversified farming and self-supporting farmers help the railroad business? Would not the interests of the railroad be better served if the Southern farmer should grow cotton exclusively, to depend entirely on commercial fertilizers, and to obtain his food supplies from Western markets? If the farmers can follow this practice, maintain the fertility of the soil and make money, the diversification of crops is certainly a mistake from the railroad standpoint.

"The management of the Central takes a different view of the matter, and believes that the farmer, to grow cotton profitably, must add plant food to his soil by an orderly and a systematic rotation of crops. We believe that a railroad can make more money serving a body of prosperous farmers, operating on fertile soil, than it can by serving a body of farmers operating as impoverished land, who pay out every cent they make for commercial fertilizer, food and other necessities. It must be obvious to every thinking man that ultimate bankruptcy stares such a set at the face. The Central depends largely on the products of agriculture for its prosperity and cannot hope to be successful unless its patrons are prosperous.

"The Central is operating about thirty demonstration farms, the purpose of bringing directly to the attention of the farmers the methods of rotation and cultivation and fertilization that are recommended by the State Agricultural Colleges, and in South-eastern Alabama, which has now been reached by the boll weevil. It employs an educated and skilled tobacco grower, who is co-operating with the farmers in that section, in an effort to substitute tobacco for cotton, at least temporarily, as a cash crop. In North-western Georgia we are endeavoring to stimulate the dairy interests and have offered to contribute financially in a substantial way to the operation of a creamery at Lafayette, Georgia. We are willing to extend the same help to similar projects elsewhere along the line, provided the conditions are found to be favorable for the successful operation of creameries.

In addition to the assistance that we are extending to the farmers situated on our line, we have also endeavored to encourage settlers, not only by the direct efforts of our own employees, but through the medium of the Southern Settlers and Development Organization. So far, however, that has been a disappointing part of the work, and it seems doubtful whether the railroads can, through their efforts alone, do very much to build up the country that way. The primary difficulties lie in the fact that the railroads of the South have no lands to offer for settlement and no surplus funds to aid in development expenses, and it has been difficult to induce private parties to offer their surplus land in small lots on suitable terms for settlement. In our opinion, if this work is to prove successful, it must be carried forward on different lines. The average young farmer looking for a new location is not able to pay for his land, build a home and barn, and purchase stock, agricultural implements and cattle, and carry himself while he is making the first crop. In order to attract desirable settlers of that class, the commercial organization in each community, the bankers, merchants, and land owners must co-operate and furnish him tools to work with on reasonable terms. The railroads can, and doubtless will, undertake to put information about opportunities of this sort into the hands of desirable settlers, but that is about as far as they can go.

Can you Sell a Piano or Bring in a Piano Prospect who will Buy

As you know we have a large music department and sell Pianos. We are selling at present three standard grade Pianos, The Conway—the Lexington Player Piano and the Hallett & Davis Piano. We are going to include these in the contest and will make special cash prices on this account.

Please Read Carefully and see what this means to you.

A CONWAY HIGH GRADE PIANO, delivered with stool and scarf free for only $800.00 cash. This is a wonderful value as there is not a better Piano for the money than the CONWAY—it will give service—is built to withstand all kinds of climatic conditions and the longer used the better the tone. If you can sell one of these Pianos or bring a prospect who will buy from you will receive for this 600,000 Votes $400.00 Hallett & Davis Piano we will sell for $325.00 in the contest. This is $75.00 discount for cash and an instrument that we need say little about—it is known the world over for its beautiful tone and active design. If you can sell one of these Pianos or bring a prospect that will buy you will receive 650,000 votes.

$500.00 Lexington Player Piano delivered with bench, stool and scarf and one dozen music rolls we place the value on this Player at $600.00 as this is the usual price for it the cash price now will be 450.00. This brings a musical instrument into the home that every member of the family can play. If you can sell one of these players or bring in a prospect who will buy you will receive 900,000 votes.

These prizes are for cash sale. We have based the vote offer on these pianos on basis of double yearly subscriptions for the News. For instance the vote regular scale for 1 year subscription is 1000 votes. If a piano is sold through a contestant for $800.00 the contestant will be entitled to 600 times the 1000 votes.

We hold this offer as listed above open until further notice in case pianos are all sold out or anyone of the above pianos are sold out that special instrument will be withdrawn. Everyone interested in the piano offer should come in at once and talk the matter over with the Campaign Manager and learn all about the offer and more about the pianos and the piano player which we sell.

PLENTY OF PROOF

From People You Know—
From Statesboro Citizens

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Statesboro, of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it:

Mrs. J. G. Mitchell, College St., Statesboro, says: "For many years I was a constant sufferer from kidney trouble. I had about all the symptoms that accompany that complaint. Dropsical swellings caused me a lot of misery and the kidney secretions were unnatural. I had pains in my back and my bladder was affected. Don's Kidney Pills brought good results. I have taken them off and on since and they have never failed to act just as represented."

SHERIFF MALLARD

Has Recently Made Some Important Catches

Bulloch County's Sheriff has recently been doing a little quiet work away from home that has resulted in placing behind the bars several escaped prisoners. Will Bird and Ezra Green who were bond jumpers under indictment for misdemeanor were caught at Willie, Ga. On another trip the Sheriff was making he ran across the negro woman Minnie Nichols who has been scouting around from justice since last January, she was grabbed up in Vidalia. Two Savannah celebrities Kid Shine and Henry Cretmore (whose name is quite in keeping with the charge he was indicted under) cheating and swindling—were captured at Savannah. The Bulloch officers are gaining quite some notoriety abroad as sleuths who get their men when they go after them.

THE ROUNDTREE HOTEL

Completing Alterations and Addition Recently Begun

Judge Rountree has about completed the addition that was started some weeks ago. A new hall way is now an entrance from the main lower floor porch to the new addition. Some twelve new sleeping rooms have been built and four large and commodious sample rooms for the convenience of traveling commercial men have become part of the popular hotel.

How much am I worth with my "reputable waiting"? How much if I paint? Will my house be worth more or less if I paint?

It costs $2 a gallon Devco—I wouldn't paint anywhere—and $3 or $4 more for putting it on. That's $50 or $60 a 10-gallon job.

A Mogul Oil Tractor for $675

You can now buy an International Harvester All-Purpose Farm Tractor with 8-H. P. at the Draw Bar and 16 on the Belt

THIS new Mogul 8-16 tractor has power to plow, seed and disk, taking the place of mules for this work.

It will run reapers and binders to harvest the grain; will run a threshing machine 16-H. P. oil engine will run; thresh the grain, bale the straw, haul both to the barn, and disk the stubble into peas. This, too, at a season when heat affects the horses most, and at the busy season on the farm when the horses are needed so badly to cultivate other crops.

This light tractor can be used with a public threshing machine from place to place and thresh after you get there. It's better than a portable engine to run saws, cutters, shredders, balers, feed grinders, wood saws, etc., because the tractor will draw the machine to be operated. High in quality and low in price. Weighs a little over 5,000 pounds.

Any farmer can buy this tractor for $675.00 cash f. o. b. Chicago.

EXTRA SESSION TO CON-VENE ON NOV. 3

Soft Drink Fight to Be As Conspicuous As Real Prohibition Fight

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 27.—Governor Harris has issued his proclamation convoking an extraordinary session of the general assembly, on Wednesday, November 3, and statements published here today to the contrary notwithstanding; the proclamation is not so worded that it will "be impossible to get an action on the soft drink tax bill." It is known that it has been the governor's desire all along that nothing be brought into the extraordinary session which would be material for a filibuster, or would string the session out unnecessarily long, but, as he himself is known to have said, it is not his desire that the legislature shall be bound by technicalities.

That portion of the call which covers the inclusion of the prohibition issue is so worded that it applies to any measures which will amend the existing act or acts prohibiting the sale of alcoholic liquors, therefore, it is held in official circles that the Stark soft drink bill would not be inclusive under that feature of the call nor is it taken that such was the intention. At the same time that portion of the call which provides for legislation on appropriations is sufficiently broad to include—in fact, to practically necessitate—that attention be given to matters providing for the state's revenues, and under that soft drink bill is administrable. It is known, too, that it is the intention of Judge Stark to introduce and pass the bill in that connection, and that he has taken the position that its provisions will furnish the state an avenue for revenue.

Atlanta, Sept. 27.—Governor Harris, in announcing today the date on which he will direct that the extra session of the legislature convene, has changed his mind from the original intention. Some days ago he made the statement that he would direct that the session convene on the first business day in November, which would be Monday, Nov. 1. Today the definite announcement was made by the governor that, in issuing his proclamation, he would call the session to meet on Wednesday, November 3.

Atlanta Sept. 27.—The statement published this morning from Judge W. W. Starke, of Commerce, chairman of the house temperance committee, that he intends to urge to passage his soft drink tax bill has already served to indicate quite clearly that the soft drink fight is going to be pretty nearly as conspicuous in the legislature when it meets in November as the prohibition fight.

The question was raised today of whether or not, under the general call, Judge Stark would have the right to introduce his bill. On a study of the question, it is found that he will have that right, particularly in view of the fact that it pertains to revenues, and local bills related to general subjects may be introduced for the specific purpose of revising county revenues in the event of the near by tax being eliminated by passage of a prohibition bill.

POSTOFFICE FORCE BUSY WITH CATALOGUES

Fourteen Truck Loads are Handled and Dispatched in a Day.

Eight men under the supervision of Assistant Postmaster Greene, including clerks and laborers, were kept busy from 9 o'clock yesterday morning until 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon unloading and dispatching 20,000 catalogues shipped here for mailing by a big New York mail order house.

The catalogues arrived Saturday afternoon from New York. The shipment made up an entire box car load. The catalogues were removed from the car in the Central of Georgia Railway yards, hauled in fourteen doubleteam truck loads to the Central and Union depots and there mailed to points throughout Georgia, South Carolina and Florida. The entire shipment of catalogues weighed about 58,000 pounds and the postage amounted to over $1,400.—Savannah Morning News.

understood that whatever action the legislature may take at the extra session, an understanding exists whereby the state's revenues for the year 1916 will not be changed. What these conditions are is not known, but it is taken that the effect of the bill which the legislature will pass is not going to bear on the state treasury until after next year. Whether that plan will go through, when the entire membership of the legislature gets into a fight over the question is another matter. It is true that one desire is to pass the prohibition bill and make it become effective January 1, 1917; another is to make it effective April 1, on which an effort to compromise until July 1 has been made. Under the latter information it is now taken that there is quite probably some tentative agreement that the bill will not be made effective until Jan. 1, 1917. No definite information is obtainable on that however, at this time.

On the score of Judge Stark's proposed soft drink tax, though, it is pretty clear now that a far more stubborn fight will be made to defeat the bill than was made when it was introduced at the regular session, and at the same time Judge Stark is more earnestly determined than at that time to pass it.

NEW LOCAL OPTION BILL

Another element which enters into the situation is the definite information today that a new local option bill will be introduced simultaneously with the prohibition bills, and a strong fight will be made on the floor of the house to have that adopted as a substitute for all the suggested prohibition bills. The terms of this bill have not been announced, but it is understood that it is so drawn that it will give Georgia "ironclad prohibition" if the people vote for it at the next general election, while, if they do not vote for that, it will give the counties separately the option of voting on the sale of beer and the operation of restricted clubs if they desire.

In the course of the week it is likely that a great deal more will develop of the several plans that have been talked of, since much of what is intended has been held back until after the governor shall have issued his official proclamation convoking the extra session and outlining its business.

By the fumigating of incoming vessels in the port of New York, it is estimated that 50,000 rats are killed annually.

Macon, Ga., Sept. 29.—Fully 300 representative farmers and business men of the state attended the annual meeting of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce here today and heard reports on a year's work and a discussion of plans for the future advancement of the State.

Charles J. Haden, who will be one of the guests of honor at Statesboro Saturday, Oct. 9th, Statesboro's Dollar Day, was unanimously elected president of the chamber for another year.

Other officers chosen were the following: E. Y. Clarke, Quitman, first vice president; E. W. Stetson, Macon, second vice president; Crawford Wheatley, Americus, third vice president; R. D. Maddox, Atlanta, fourth vice president.

Georgia Mayors to Meet

Mayor Bridges Smith is calling a meeting of the Mayors of all the towns of Georgia to have a conference with him at Macon after they have witnessed a run of the Georgia motion picture film, in order that they may decide on details of the perfecting of the film and having the proper representation of all Georgia towns in the film. This meeting is called not at the instance of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, but on the initiative of Mayor Bridges Smith, of Macon, who became greatly interested in the film even before the inspection run before the tremendous audience which became so enthused over it as a meeting in Atlanta on the 10th. The coming of the Mayors will no doubt bring many others along at the same time from the various towns of Georgia.
