Gov. Glenn's Lecture.

Ex-Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, lectured to a large and representative audience at the first Methodist church Statesboro last Friday night on the subject of "Prohibition."

The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. J. F. Singleton, after which a short but appropriate speech of introduction was made by Rev. Beacom Anthony. Gov. Glenn spoke in the interest of the Anti-Saloon League, and for about an hour and a quarter he held the undivided attention of his large audience. His address was replete with wit, humor, pathos, and the most convincing logic, and fully justified the press encomiums which have been lavished upon him as a platform orator.

This audience was fully in sympathy with the sentiments which he expressed in favor of prohibition, and at the conclusion of his speech made a generous contribution to the cause of the Anti-Saloon League, in whose interest Governor Glenn is making a canvass of the country.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good. To correct catarrh you should treat the cause by enriching your blood with the oil-ford in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.

B. R. OLLIFF ANNOUNCES His Candidacy for Another Term as Superintendent of County Schools

Mr. B. R. Olliff publishes his card in this week's issue of the News as a candidate for the office of County School Superintendent. Mr. Olliff will finish his first term of that office with the close of the four year service now nearing its end. In Mr. Olliff's regime there have been many innovations and some very marked improvements in the rural school facilities in Bulloch county; notable among these are the great agricultural department of school gardening, the Boys Corn Club, and the Girls Canning Club. The very recent prize contest of the girls recent work shown at the court house is proof enough of the true value of this department. Prof. Olliff's influence was largely instrumental in securing the present farm demonstrator, Mr. Whatley, who is now connected with Bulloch county in this work.

One feature of Mr. Olliff's service that he is particularly gratified over is his success in making it possible for Bulloch to have a rural high school service in various localities, and among many of these schools there has been added painted single desks, and where buildings have been old and weather-worn they have been painted both on the exterior and interior. Upwards of $12,000 was added to the county schools since 1913 thru the hearty co-operation of the patrons and the board with whom there has never been the slightest contention. The parents have been loyal to a unit in the uplift and advancement of the schools generally, and Prof. Olliff is especially thankful for such support as he has had in his work, and if again honored with the gift of the office will, as he has in the past, endeavor to progress to even a greater degree than has been recorded in his first term.

A Statesboro Visitor.

Mr. N. C. Cornish, president of the Sally League, was a News carrier Monday and stated that it was his first visit to the capitol of Bulloch with which he was very deeply impressed. Mr. Cornish is connected with the U. S. International Revenue Department and was here relating to his duties in that respect but he had time to talk a little base ball which he thinks will experience a far better season next year than the one just ended both for the major and minor leagues.

Ought to Paint.

I ought to have painted last year, but I hated to pay $2 a gallon. I've got to paint this year; it'll take a little more paint; I suppose I'll have to pay $2.50 a gallon; and a little more work, I suppose I'll have to do. My job would have cost last year about $50; it is going to cost this year $55.

$5 gone. I suppose it'll be the same again, if I wait again. What if I paint now? $2.50 on the job! I shan't wait; what a fool I was! DEVOTE.

WOULD BE CITY'S STAR ATTRACTION

Declares P. D. Daffin of Dale Boulevard Idea

URGES SCHEME STRONGLY

An Unbroken Avenue of Palmettos to Thunderbolt

(From the Savannah Morning News)

"My dreams of a life time are about to be realized in the consummation of a project which comprehends the transformation of Dale avenue into an unbroken boulevard of palmettos all the way to Thunderbolt."

In the foregoing manner did P. D. Daffin, "the scourge of our parks," go on record yesterday as favoring the Dale avenue boulevard idea officially advanced by County Commissioner Oliver T. Bacon. Mr. Daffin said, "You cannot quote me too strongly on the subject."

Cost of Palmettos

It is Mr. Daffin's idea to extend the two rows of palmettos now planted for about a mile from Estelle avenue all the way to Thunderbolt, the city to bear the expenses of the work and the county to bear the rest of it. The trees will cost $5 a piece, and there will be in the neighborhood of 600 to the mile.

"My idea, of course, is to extend the grass plat all the way to," said Mr. Daffin. "The scheme has already been carried out under my direction from Bull street to Waters road. The city would have to extend it to about the eastern end of Daffin Park."

Such a boulevard would be with equal certainty in this country, and probably in the world, according to Mr. Daffin. "It would attract people from everywhere," he continued. "It would be the one big attraction of Savannah. Just think of a five or six mile avenue of palms, with unbroken driveways on either side, the whole thing brilliantly illuminated."

Would Outshine Everything

"Neither Florida nor the Bermudas, homes of the palms, has anything like it. Savannah has set the pace for the other cities that are known for their beautiful thoroughfares. The majestic grandeur of such a boulevard cannot be well imagined. We should, by all means, carry the project out. It means more than anything perhaps than has yet been attempted here."

Mr. Daffin also suggests that it would be a good idea to incorporate in the scheme the planting of Japanese bushes in between the rows of palms. They would, he declares, add much to the beauty of the boulevard.

Now that Savannah is reaching out for tourist business it is particularly appropriate that such a scheme as this should be carried out, Mr. Daffin says. It would do more than anything else to attract tourists to Savannah. This city, he says, would become deservedly famous for this one thing.

GOV. HARRIS ISSUES PROCLAMATION

For a Georgia Products Dinner Day November 18th

Atlanta, Nov. 3 (Special).—Governor Nat E. Harris yesterday afternoon issued a proclamation urging the people of Georgia to observe Georgia Product Day, Thursday, November 18th, by joining in dinners of Georgia products, and by means of exhibits, parades, or other inspiring features, to stir the people to the need of upbuilding the state by raising their own foodstuffs and keeping at home the millions annually sent to other sections for products that can be raised as well, or better in Georgia. The governor's proclamation is particularly appropriate at this time when all authorities agree that much higher prices for food products will prevail during the next two or three years, on account of the European war. The proclamation is as follows:

Whereas, Nature has shown that it is possible to raise in Georgia a sufficient variety and quantity of staple articles of food necessary for the subsistence of our people; and

Whereas, It is a most worthy object to bring a knowledge of this fact to the attention of the people in order that the raising of food products in our state in larger quantities may be encouraged in every way and by all our citizens; and

Whereas, For the last two years the eighteenth day of November has been known as a day for GEORGIA PRODUCT DINNERS, and has been so celebrated by a great number of public gatherings in many parts of our state; and

Whereas, The farmers of the state have been invited to exhibit their products at the Capital City of Atlanta on November 18th, 1915, the purpose of the invitation being to further encourage the growing and marketing of food crops; and

Whereas, It is of the deepest concern for the welfare of our state to encourage these and all other movements which tend to make the people of Georgia independent in their supply of food product;

Now, Therefore, I, Nat E. Harris, governor of Georgia, by request of sundry citizens of our state, do hereby designate November 18th, 1915, as GEORGIA PRODUCTS DAY, and urge all our people to join together in Georgia products dinners, exhibits, parades, and all well intended enterprises of such character, for the upbuilding of our commonwealth.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Executive Department, this second day of November, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and fifteen, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and fortieth.

U. S. HEALTH SERVICE PROVES PELLAGRA ORIGIN AND CURE

Eleven Mississippi Convicts Pardoned for Submitting Themselves to Tests

Jackson Miss. Nov. 1.—Eleven convicts at the Rankin, Mississippi state prison—seven of them serving life sentences—today were granted full pardons by Governor Brewer as a reward for submitting to prescribed tests by United States public health service authorities to determine the cause and the cure for pellagra. A twelfth member of the prison "pellagra squad" was released a few months ago because of a physical break down.

The granting of freedom to the eleven prisoners followed an official announcement by the Mississippi state board of health that experiments conducted at the convict farm under the direction of Dr. Joseph Goldberger and his assistant had demonstrated that pellagra is produced by an unbalanced ration and that Dr. Goldberger was convinced the disease could be cured if the patients were given proper food. The results of the experiment are considered by prominent physicians in this section as of exceptional importance in the prevention and treatment of the disease, which in recent years, it is declared, has been increasing the death rate in Mississippi and several other southern states.

Physicians stated that steps will be taken to introduce the diet treatment for pellagra into various sections where the disease is prevalent.

The experiment was begun February 15, 1915, with twelve prisoners, each of whom was promised a pardon if he would follow during a stated period a diet prescribed by Dr. Goldberger and four Jackson physicians showed, it was announced, that six of the prisoners in the squad have pellagra in a pronounced form and that two others show symptoms suggestive of the disease.

In issuing the pardons Governor Brewer told the prisoners they were free to leave the convict farm if they desired, but he urged them to remain several weeks and be eleven convicts granted their freedom six were serving life sentences for murder, one a life sentence for criminal assault, one had ten years yet to serve for manslaughter, two about five years each for embezzlement and one about four years for bigamy.

The "pellagra squad" was under the personal supervision of Dr. G. A. Wheeler, assistant surgeon of the United States public health service, who remained on duty constantly from the beginning of the test. The prisoners were given the usual prison fare from February 15 until April 30 after which time they were placed upon the diet prescribed by Dr. Goldberger. Up to April 23 none had shown symptoms of pellagra. Throughout the period the state authorities maintained secrecy regarding the experiment, because of the fear that relatives of the prisoners under observation might institute habeas corpus proceedings or take other legal steps to have them released from the "pellagra squad."

ANNUAL MEETING FARMERS UNION

To Be held At Douglas Nov. 10th to 11th.

After the most successful year as to membership and interest in the organization the Farmers' Union will hold its annual convention at Douglas, Georgia, their state headquarters on November 10th and 11th. Since headquarters of this organization was removed from Union City to Douglas a year ago the membership has increased to more than three times as much as was the case at that time.

For the first time the delegates attending at Douglas will be sustained by the city and county. The Office county Fair will be in session at that time and the visitors will be entertained by the Fair Association.

President Rhodes of the Tennessee Union will deliver an address as well as will other leading agriculturists of the county. National President Chas. S. Barrett, will preside over the convention, and State President, J. J. Brown, will be on hand.

Farmers throughout the county are urged to attend the convention.

EXPECTED MILTON RAWLINGS WILL GET PAROLE OR PARDON

Atlanta, Nov. 1.—Attorney John R. Cooper, of Macon, says today that the ten year's fight in behalf of Milton Rawlings has virtually concluded, and with success. Rawlings will be either pardoned or paroled during the last ten years of his sentence for the killing of the Carter children, most likely the latter.

Tendency Toward Aristocracy a Menace to Preparatory Schools

By CHARLES L. BOVARD, President Montana Wesleyan University

THE reform most needed from my viewpoint is a saner adaptation of subjects studied to the future needs of students. In place of so much mathematics for girls let the courses substitute an equivalent—even an approximate equivalent—in home science and other lines of study that will fall in line with the future prospects of the student. In this I do not for a moment underrate the value of purely cultural studies—of studies for purely mental discipline. IT IS ONLY FOR A CHANGE OF EMPHASIS, A READJUSTMENT OF PROPORTIONS IN THE PREPARATORY COURSES, THAT I PLEAD.

I would like also to avail myself of the opportunity here afforded to ask for co-operation among those in charge of preparatory schools in looking upon the tendencies toward aristocracy that are coming up constantly as a menace to our efficiency. Stylish clothes, painted and powdered faces, weekly dances, are becoming common in these schools, and it is to be feared that both parents and students are in a way to lose the perspective purposes of schools altogether.

I SHOULD SAY THAT MILITARY TRAINING WOULD ADD GREATLY TO THE DISCIPLINE AND PHYSICAL SIDE OF THE PREPARATORY SCHOOL WORK.

LITTLE INTEREST IN THE ELECTIONS

Only Local Issues Settled at Polls This Fall.

NO FORECAST OF SENTIMENT

Of Course Both Parties Will Claim That the Outcome Indicates Certain Success—Administration Interested in Fight For New Constitution in New York as Test of Root's Strength.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Little interest has been aroused in Washington over the elections this fall. Occasionally a politician gives his views, but returning congressmen show no great concern as to whether the various states go one way or another. Of course Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts has many friends, who hope to see him win the governorship of his state. Then there are others who want Augustus O. Stanley to become governor of Kentucky. But these wishes are more personal than political.

As to results forecasting the outcome next year, it is assumed that both sides will figure out prospective success. Yet the elections will be of little political significance because of local conditions. If McCall should be defeated in Massachusetts it would not mean that the state has gone over to the Democratic party, but the conditions prevailing there would account for the result. If Stanley should lose Kentucky it would be on account of the liquor question.

New York Constitution.

It is strange that the Democratic administration is much interested in the result relating to the new constitution in New York. By the way, the result of the adoption of that constitution they expect to gauge the popularity of Elihu Root. They figure that the defeat of the constitution will result in Root out of the running. It also is strange that the administration has any fear of Root, but it is a fact that the friends of President Wilson think that, next to Hughes, Root is the most formidable candidate the Republicans can name.

Not Holding the Bag.

When Secretary Daniels went aboard with his naval program and made plans to recommend large increases quite a number of persons who thought they knew the mind of the president, wagged their heads and said that "Josephus" will be left to hold the bag; his large estimates will be turned down by the president, and the secretary will bear the blame for not providing a navy." But Josephus has the laugh on all of the prophets, for his program has the approval of the president. President Wilson and other administration officials believe the country wants a big navy.

Critics of the Canal.

When America gets a new toy it wants to play with it. That is why impatience is shown because the canal is closed with slides. The American people wanted a big canal, the biggest thing going, and they got it—nearly. The people who forced the canal upon this country did not stop to consider that it might become a white elephant on our hands; that it would cost millions upon millions to protect it, and in time of war it would become a source of weakness rather than strength. They wanted it, and Congress gave it to them. If it appears rather hard to break down the barrier which nature erected for our protection they should not be disappointed, nor should the army engineers, who are doing the best they can be criticized.

Agitating Tom Marshall.

Just who it is that continues the agitation against Tom Marshall for re-nomination no one can definitely say, but it is certain that the Indiana legislature is going to be pushed aside if certain politicians can accomplish their desires. The little innuendoes, press paragraphs and suggestions all go to show that many of Wilson's friends do not want Marshall on the presidential ticket.

Women Cannot Assume Equal Rights While Denied the Ballot

By SAMUEL GOMPERZ, President American Federation of Labor

WOMEN cannot assume equal rights with free men in the industrial struggle while classified with idiots and irresponsibles in political affairs. The ballot cannot be long denied them. Industrial freedom is not a sex problem; it is a human problem. Men and women work side by side, and until both have a voice in the establishment of working conditions the problem will not be settled. MEN WORKERS WILL FIND ED AGAINST THEM JUST AS LONG AS WOMEN ARE DENIED RESPONSIBILITY AS MEMBERS OF THE POLITICAL SOCIETY.

There are two tremendous movements for freedom at the present time—the labor movement and the woman suffrage movement. The Women's Trades Union League is visible proof of the ability of women to manage their own affairs.

MEN MUST JOIN THE WOMEN IN EFFORT TO SOLVE THEIR COMMON PROBLEM OR ELSE THEY WILL FIND WOMEN USED AGAINST THEM AS COMPETITORS.

May Retire Justice Lamar.

It is expected that provision will be made by legislation for the retirement of Justice Lamar as was done in the case of Justice Moody, who became incapacitated for duties on the supreme bench. Justice Lamar had a stroke of paralysis, and the talk among judges and lawyers is that he will never be able to resume the work of a supreme court justice. Rather than have the court left with eight members it is probable that courses will retire Lamar. There are so many decisions by a divided court that it is thought best to have nine members rather than to have decisions of lower courts affirmed by an evenly divided court as has sometimes happened.

Poetry and Detective Stories.

Who is it that invents all these stories about the president? One of them not long ago said that the president sat before a log fire evenings reading poetry and detective stories to Mrs. Galt and members of his household. Of course there is no denial of such tales. The White House would be kept too busy if it attempted to deny all the stories that have been put in circulation, especially since the engagement of the president was announced.

Her Son Subject to Croup.

"My son Edwin is subject to croup," writes Mrs. E. O. Irwin, New Kingston, Pa. "I put in many sleepless hours at night before I learned of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mothers need not fear this disease if they keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and use it as directed. It always gave my boy relief." Obtainable everywhere.

The Meteor Advertiser comes to our desk this week with a marked article about Judge Thomas for governor. We notice also the following.

Satliffe of the Savannah Press
wants to make it appear that Silas, of the Meteor Advertiser and the writer are trying to arouse the political bee and start him buzzing.
Wrong, Bro. Satliffe, we don't want to stir up the mess any worse than you, but since the thing has got to be said, why not have some thing-diddling—Springfield Herald.

The following Silas suggestion
don't jibe with the foregoing

JUDGE THOMAS FOR GOV-ERNOR

The newspapers of South Georgia are continually demanding that it is time for Georgia to select a Governor, but usually they fail to agree on a man to make the race.
There have been in the past few years able men in the race from South Georgia, but the South Georgia newspapers—that is the most of them—have failed to stand by their South Georgia men.
Now if you really want a South Georgia man for Governor we would suggest the name of Judge Thomas of Valdosta. He is one of South Georgia's strongest men and would soon convince the boys that he was in the race. Suppose the South Georgia newspapers have a convention and nominate the Judge and then stand by him. What do you say, brethren? Speak out.

Cattle ticks and politics
Bore deep in every skin
The in's are put out
And the out's are put in
To eradicate the sin.

The Georgia folk are "agine ter be in the pink of condition to start the new year. The Georgia Products Day Dinner Nov. 15th, Thanksgiving Gopher Nov. 25th,

mas; we'll all be overweight.

Graymont wants a public cemetery and a Board of Trade. Two very important features of any dead town that wants to come to life.

Cotton is slumping and pigs is jumping which reminds us 18th, that packing house proposition
ought to be born.

Oh! Suffragette, Oh! Suffragette,
'Twas sad we must confess;
They those men and anti's
Upset your little mess.

TO OUR READERS.

Every family in this county is now a subscriber to various magazines and newspapers. The total amount of money paid for these publications probably amounts to several thousand dollars annually.
It is money well spent, of course,
because we must have something for the family to read.

But if you can save about seven ty five per cent of this money, and still have all the papers and magazines you want, it is worth considering, is it not?

We have made arrangements whereby we can save this community hundreds of dollars by merely ordering their reading matter through our office. Our best offer is a club of four magazines with your own paper for only $1.18 a year.

You will find this big offer advertised on another page of this paper. Look up the advertisement and read all about this remarkable offer. Send us your order right in—all it, telephone it, or bring it to us, and we will fill it up at once so that you can get your magazines.

If there is anything in the advertisement you do not understand, drop in on our office sometime and let us explain all about it.
It's the best clubbing offer we have ever seen, and we are anxious to have every reader take advantage of it.

THE NEWS CONTEST

The long voting and subscription contest that has been conducted by this paper has closed and the three judges have carefully checked and counted the votes and announced
the winners. The News is especially thankful to all the contestants who have labored in their efforts to be one of the three capital prize winners, and of course, there could be but three. To those we feel grateful for their zealous work and have suggested to support you in giving your friends who gave you subscriptions, a clean and new paper and valuable advertising medium; in both respects we state with pardonable pride that we have succeeded.

The paper is now circulating all over our home county, and in addition, finding its way in many adjoining counties as well as a large foreign territory. We have in our files several letters from readers in Atlanta, Augusta, Macon, Savannah, and some Florida points all commenting on the splendid appearance of the News, and the good work our contestants were doing for us. The News is recognized now as a valuable advertising medium, not alone locally but those who desire to reach other sections than our home town, but by foreign advertisers who are devoted to reaching and covering a wide area of territory in a weekly newspaper.

To the dozen contestants who failed to get in the capital class we are equally thankful to you for your efforts, and we are, according to agreement, awarding you a commission for the amount of money turned in even to several who turned in but a single subscription and a few advertising contracts; it all helped to make a grand total and we will wish you better luck another time.

A NEWSPAPER CREED.

Every newspaper is devoted to the policy of promoting the public welfare and to the high purpose of improving moral, social, economic and political conditions. Some may not measure up to the ideal—some may not hit it—but, at bottom, there is the determination to always be fair, patriotic, helpful and educative.

But the best creed, to which a paper has specifically committed itself, that has come within the range of the observation of The News in a long time is the guiding principle of the Indiana Times, of Indianapolis. It is worthy of reproduction—as follows:

"To be loyal to country, state and city; to be fair, courteous and honest; and to render honorable service to the public—which so loyally supports it." This is the creed of the Indiana Daily Times.

If all the newspapers consecrated their efforts along this line, and ignored personalities, political trifles, and community bickerings, their influence would be larger and farther reaching than it is now and the newspaper standard throughout the country would be considerably elevated.

A LESSON FOR GEORGIA

(From the Macon News Oct. 30th)

Georgia may study Alabama's experience with the boll weevil and profit thereby.

This year alone the weevil has cost Alabama more than eighty thousand bales of cotton, worth about four million dollars.

This fact is generally alarming
when it is considered that the loss is borne largely by seven counties.

The ginners in Alabama as far this year have aggregated 316,000 bales, over eighty thousand bales less than the production of 1914.

The weevil has already infested twenty five Georgia counties, and is spreading. These counties, too, are among the largest cotton producing counties of the state. As they are already under a quarantine,
the farmers in them have lost considerable money, both in cotton and in cotton seed. Next year, unless the weevil is successfully eradicated now by the destruction of the cotton which have been attacked, Georgia will sustain a loss greater than Alabama's, and the pest will have a hold in Georgia that will require years to shake.

Between the fifteenth of August and the first of September the weevil traveled over a hundred miles, entering twenty additional counties in Alabama, twenty-five in Georgia, and eight in Florida.
The rapid and phenomenal spread is attributed to the severe droughts in Mississippi and Alabama, which deterred the fruiting of the cotton plants and deprived the weevil of food. Another cause was the succession of high north west winds in August, abetted by the gull storm.

Concerted action by the growers, involving a heavy present personal sacrifice, is necessary to rid Georgia of the weevil. The 1915 cotton must be burned or plowed under, preferably the latter and, to make the campaign more effective, cotton culture should be abandoned for a year, at least, in the infested counties. Even the adjoining counties, not yet infested, but imperiled, must undergo the same treatment. Otherwise, and the weevil remains in Georgia. The failure of Texas farmers to adopt this plan is the reason why the weevils are still in that state—worse than ever before, in some sections.

The problem is one Georgia must face resolutely and determinedly and intelligently. It will require a high order of patriotic purpose and a sacrificing spirit on the part of many farmers, but they should unhesitatingly consider the welfare of the whole state. Indeed, it is to their own ultimate advantage to make the sacrifice now of destroying their cotton and planting exclusively other crops for a year or so.

The damage which has been done
in Alabama is sufficient to point Georgia to the proper way to salvation.

To feel strong, have good appetite and digestion, sleep soundly

Bitters, the family system tonic.

DAIRY and CREAMERY

FEED FOR DAIRY COWS.

Grain Sprinkled Over Silage Keeps Cattle From Gorging.

It seldom pays to cut hay fine for dairy cattle. Food that the cow consumes stays in the stomach a sufficient length of time to become softened and is churned about until it reaches a semiliquid state before passing on through the stomach. It is a common error to feed hay cut too fine. For this reason cutting the fodder before feeding is unnecessary. For horses that are working very hard it is some times advisable to chop the hay, but it should then be moistened to prevent danger of heaves.

Grain may be sprinkled over silage to good advantage. This keeps cows from gorging the feed and also prevents any likelihood of impaction in the stomach due to too much heavy feed being given at one time. It is not advisable to feed grain in the form of silage to dairy cattle. The added returns being practically nothing and the labor involved more than offsetting any saving. If one gives the cattle access to plenty of salt there will be no question of their drinking all the water they need. Many mix salt with the feed, but when this is done some cows may get more and others less than is desirable. A far better way is to feed it in a clean manger, so one can tell whether or not the cow cleans it up. Still better, it may be placed in a box protected from storm and left near the watering trough. The cattle soon find this and eat all they desire.

With grain high priced it behooves every feeder to study the feed control bulletin put out by his experiment station in order to ascertain the true value of the various feeding stuffs on the market.

BARLEY FOR DAIRY COWS.

Feed in Conjunction With Alfalfa It Increased Flow of Milk.

Professors True, Wolf and Voorhees of the California experiment station conducted short experiments to determine the value of barley as a supplementary feed to alfalfa, which are reported in bulletin 256. The results of the tests with barley and alfalfa show that in every instance barley increased the milk flow. In one instance the increase was 13 per cent increase was obtained and in another 16 per cent. In only one instance did the barley result in a direct profit—that is, on the milk produced.

The bulletin well states that the profit or loss in the feeding of barley cannot be wholly estimated upon the direct returns of increased milk flow, for feeding the cow early in her period of lactation often puts her in condition for milking a longer period and sustaining a higher milk flow, says Howard's Dairyman. It would seem from what we gather from this bulletin that the farmer can well afford to feed his dairy cows some barley, as it not only keeps

Dutch Belted cattle originated in Holland more than 20 years ago and were introduced into the United States about 1890. In general adaptation they are very similar to the Holstein, but are of smaller size. They are a distinctly dairy breed, but the public records made have not equaled those of the Holstein. The most notable feature of the breed is the white belt that encircles the body of the animal, which otherwise is black. The bull shown is a Dutch Belted.

them in better physical condition, but without question will produce better offspring. Barley was fed at the rate of one pound for every five pounds of milk produced, and the cows were given a very liberal allowance of alfalfa hay, almost more, it would seem, than they could consume to advantage.

The conclusion of the bulletin is as follows: "The results of the two experiments with feeding barley to cows on alfalfa reported in this bulletin show that an immediate increase in production will be secured as a result of the grain feeding, but that this increase will not, as a rule, pay for the extra cost of the ration. On account of the increased production obtained and the residual effect of the grain feeding, as well as its favorable influence on the condition of the cows and their offspring, it may be concluded, however, that the practice of feeding grain to cows on alfalfa is economically sound and may be recommended. This holds true, especially for heifers and young cows as well as for heavy producing animals which cannot be brought to a maximum production on roughage only even if this be as excellent and palatable a feed as green alfalfa or good alfalfa hay."

Time to Breed Heifers.

A heifer should be bred so that she will calve when two years old. She should be well developed by good feeding and care prior to breeding. If a heifer is allowed to go twenty months or more unborn she may prove a shy breeder.

SPLENDID SHOWINGS MADE AT FAIRS

State Department of Agriculture Highly Gratified Over County and District Exhibits

The State Department of Agriculture is deeply gratified over the splendid showings made at the county and district fairs held at various points in Georgia. Commissioner J. D. Price and other officials of the department have visited many of these fairs and found the showing made at them in practically every case better than ever before.

It is the purpose of the department to do everything in its power to encourage the county fair movement and to urge every fair in the state to arrange to hold these annual exhibitions.

"The county fairs of Georgia this year are better than any I have ever seen," said Commissioner Price, in referring to his numerous trips to points in the state where these fairs have been held. "I have not only visited a great many of them, but expect to go to others—everyone I possibly can this fall."

"I have particularly noted in the fairs which I have visited the splendid display of food products made on the farm. These are not only more numerous than ever before, but are shown in greater variety than at any time in my experience."

"This is undoubtedly due largely to the campaign conducted last fall and winter for more food crops, and the effort to impress upon the farmers of Georgia the importance of living at home."

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

Grandma kept her locks dark, glossy, thick with a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandma's secret, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is as popular as ever in living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All right, grandma's secret is a product called "Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delects the ladies with Weyl's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides, beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

HOLIDAY FOR AGRICULTURE; MANY COUNTIES TO EXHIBIT

Atlanta, October. (Special.)—A general state holiday in honor of agriculture, on Thursday, November 18, will be declared by Governor N. E. Harris, who will issue his proclamation on November 5.

Two specific events prompted the governor to decide upon this proclamation, first, the Agricultural Day parade of the Georgia Harvest Festival, in which many Georgia counties will participate by entering floats representing their agricultural and other resources, and the fact that it is Georgia Products Day, on which dayners will be served in from 75 to 100 cities and towns all over the state, composed exclusively of Georgia products.

The Georgia products dinners are an institution created by the Georgia Chamber of Commerce. The Agricultural Day parade is in charge of the Atlanta Ad Men's Club, which is making of it a great state-wide event. Every county in Georgia should participate in the Agricultural Day parade. A float upon which may be shown the county's abundant products can be prepared at comparatively small cost; all agricultural products for exhibition may be shipped to Atlanta on any railroad free of cost. Georgia's counties will compete in this parade for a first prize of $1,000 in gold, and other prizes of cash and valuable agricultural implements. Appearances in this parade, which will be shown in moving pictures from one end of the United States to the other, will be worth thousands of dollars to each county in advertising. It will be seen not only by the 200,000 residents of Atlanta and Fulton county, but by more than 100,000 visitors from Georgia and all parts of the south. There will be a value in the prizes offered, far beyond their intrinsic worth.

County Committees Named
Special committees have been appointed in every Georgia county to look after county representation in this parade. There is not an enterprise in Georgia but can make a magnificent showing on this occasion with a combination of its agricultural and domestic products. Many of the counties are now preparing to ship their products to Atlanta, and have their floats built and decorated here. They are also arranging to distribute attractive literature about their advantages.

Getting the Dollar From Under the Stump
How Up to Date Farmers Are Easily and Economically Realizing on Land Hitherto Impossible of Cultivation.

ABOUT 400,000,000 acres of land included in farms throughout the United States are unimproved. Figures that such acre could be made to produce at least $25 worth of produce per year, there is approximately $10,000,000,000 production being lost annually. Quite a tidy figure. And when we take into consideration that in many cases it requires only the removal of stumps and boulders to make this land profitable, it certainly looks as though something might be done to save the waste. "Stumping with dynamite" is both an economical, quick and labor saving method as well as one that is growing in popularity daily.

The method involved in the blasting of a stump is to confine a quantity of explosive in such a manner that when exploded the expanding gases will lift the stump out of the ground. To secure best results the charge should be placed in the soil well under the base of the stump at the point where the resistance offered to the force of the explosion will be equal on all sides.

Where the soil is of a heavy clay or plastic nature a slow acting powder is preferable, such as "farm powder" or stumping powder. Where the earth is sandy or loose and is apt to permit the easy escape of gases a fast explosive, such as 40 to 60 per cent dynamite should be used. The condition of the soil with respect to moisture also has a great influence upon the amount of work that a certain quantity of powder will do. After heavy rains when the soil is saturated to the base of the stump and the subsoil is just damp is a most favorable condition.

No set rules as to the amount of powder necessary to blast a certain kind or size of stump can be given, since different conditions govern all cases. Two stumps of the same size, kind and age of cut, when one is grown on well drained soil where the roots must penetrate a great depth for water and the other is grown on soil where there is always water near the surface, will demand different treatment for extraction. The older stumps, especially if from timber free from resin, require less powder. The exact amount necessary for set conditions can, however, be readily determined with a little experimenting.

Few tools and supplies are required. A one and one-half inch wood auger with a shank about four and one-half feet long, a medium sized crowbar, a round pointed shovel and a wooden tamping stick, when used in proper fashion, fuse and caps, will serve to fill the bill.

The ancient Egyptians were noted for their crop because, as history states, they "sowed their seeds in the Nile." This does not mean that they actually cast the seed in the river. At certain seasons of the year the Nile overflows its banks, depositing on either shore a rich silt or earth that is highly conducive to bumper crops, and the wise ancient Egyptians, realizing this, planted thereby.

Water is a necessity. The tuiest brooks up to the largest rivers play an important part in the scheme of things, inasmuch as they are nature's way of their flow. Numerous irregularities cause them to meander about in apparently wasteful ways, and man's carelessness has added to these troubles by allowing driftwood and loose earth to form dams and sandbars. All of these things help to hold the flood of waters back and cause either flooding or swamps, which not only occupy land that could be more profitably used for farming, but also form breeding places for mosquitoes and other obnoxious pests. Incidentally they cause a large loss running into millions of dollars per year.

In this day of enlightenment such things are both wasteful and, one might say, criminal, especially so in view of the fact that almost instant relief may be had by a few well placed charges of dynamite. Not only will these blasts straighten out the kinks and bends and remove ledges and sand bars, but they will deepen and improve the channels as nature has really intended. Incidentally by straightening the winding course of a creek much area of tillable land can be obtained and farm operation in many instances made much easier.

Digging a Ditch in a Flash

Things move quickly nowadays. The village of yesterday is tomorrow's metropolis. Speed is a requisite, and newer methods that snare of rapidity and labor and money saving are in demand.

Ditches that once consumed many days of hand or machine labor are now being blasted out in almost the twinkling of an eye. By degrees man is learning to adopt some of nature's simple, but mighty forces. And the gullies and valleys that old Mother Earth has created by her natural upheavals and eruptions are being duplicated in a smaller way by some of the more progressive and up to date farmers.

Digging ditches with dynamite is always a newer and more improved method of trench building. The method employed in wet work is simply to punch holes from eighteen to twenty-four inches deep along the line desired to ditch and then load each hole with a charge of 50 per cent straight dynamite.

Long stretches of ditch can be loaded and fired at one time. One cap placed in a cartridge of dynamite in the middle hole of the line of charged holes and fired will do the work.

A single row of holes can usually be depended upon to excavate a ditch from seven to fifteen feet wide and about thirty to forty inches deep. Where larger ditches are required the holes can be made deeper and loaded heavier, or two or more lines of holes, spaced from three to four feet apart, can be used. Incidentally the holes can be made in the roughest kind of swamp or in flood muck beds, where other methods of ditching are practically impossible.

When the soil is dry or the weather is too cold to use the pigganated method of blasting described above long freezing farm or stumping powder is used in holes spaced farther apart, often in large ditches as far as four or five feet. In this case each hole must be primed with an electric cap, as the explosive shock will not propagate in dry ground.

The cheapest lineal foot of small ditch is obtained by using the electric firing method and farm or stumping powder.

Deepening the Farm For Bigger Crops
The Third Dimension of the Farm an Important Factor to Greater Crops and Bigger Dividends.

WISE farmers are beginning to realize that a farm goes farther than length and breadth. Depth is a vital factor, and incidentally this third dimension has a clearly identified influence upon the producing value of the earth's surface.

Thus "vertical farming," a newer method of agriculture, is rapidly developing. Merely to scrape the surface from a hog's hide is not enough. Deeper cutting is essential in order to reach the bacon. And experience has shown that to simply plow or turn the top soil is very often only the scratching of the surface when it comes to bumper crops.

Often the productivity of a farm is limited by the tight cap or hard pan underlying the top soil. Costly implements for tilling this upper soil and taking care of increased horizontal or surface acreage are all right in their way, but to go deeper into the farm, to increase its fertility and productivity by increasing its depth, is a matter that the practice of vertical farming accomplishes quickly and economically. Thus instead of spending out a large sum of money to convert several acres of otherwise useless subsoil into half an acre of new root feeding surface, a farmer can spend a single cartridge of explosive to convert several acres of otherwise useless subsoil into half an acre of new root feeding surface. This is a practical method for this. By breaking up the subsoil oxygen is admitted into the ground, and the pent up natural fertilizing elements of the lower soils are released and utilized. A reservoir for the storage of water is created, and a good house for the roots is produced. Good roots are essential to good plants. Men who look below the surface realize these facts. They know also that a plant produces only in proportion to the extent of its water and nourishment given its roots. Thus is the new method of vertical farming both logical and profitable.

This method of farming vertically is in itself easy, simple and labor saving. A half cartridge charge of farm powder per acre will well down into the tight subsoil at intervals of about a rod, crimped properly and fired carefully will do the work quickly and economically. Subsoil blasting, however, can be done successfully only when the subsoil is dry.

Few tools are required for the work. A one and one-half inch wood auger with a shank about four and one-half feet long, a medium sized crowbar, a round pointed shovel and a wooden tamping stick, when used in proper fashion, fuse and caps, will serve to fill the bill.

One of the newer methods of road building that is fast winning the endorsement of the better vetted contractor is that of employing dynamite for reducing the heavy work.

Grading through hard ground or rock, for instance, is tedious and requires time and labor. The use of dynamite for blasting such material is a welcome relief. Both rock and hard clay may be loosened in the cut by well placed charges of explosive if holes are drilled into the ground a little way up the bank and loaded. Careful spacing and loading for electrically fired blasts will result in the work quickly and economically. Subsoil blasting, however, can be done successfully only when the subsoil is dry.

Incidentally the holes can be made in the roughest kind of swamp or in flood muck beds, where other methods of ditching are practically impossible.

When the soil is dry or the weather is too cold to use the pigganated method of blasting described above long freezing farm or stumping powder is used in holes spaced farther apart, often in large ditches as far as four or five feet. In this case each hole must be primed with an electric cap, as the explosive shock will not propagate in dry ground.

TWO-THIRDS of these lots have already been sold and the Company has decided to sell at the above low prices and easy terms in order to close out quickly.

No lots in Dale Terrace, owned, or will be sold to colored people. Every lot high and dry and well drained. No low, swampy land in this subdivision. They are located on Dale Avenue and proposed boulevard to Tybee, for which bonds to the amount of $375,000.00 have been authorized by Chatham County.

In most cities, the finest palatial residences and highest priced homes are located on the principal boulevards. On that account, this property promises great increase in value.

Anybody who knows anything about real estate, knows that the largest profits have been made in lots on the edge of a growing city like Savannah.

THE average depth of lots in the city of Savannah is 100 feet. The average depth of Dale Terrace lots is 150 feet, making them fifty per cent larger than the average.

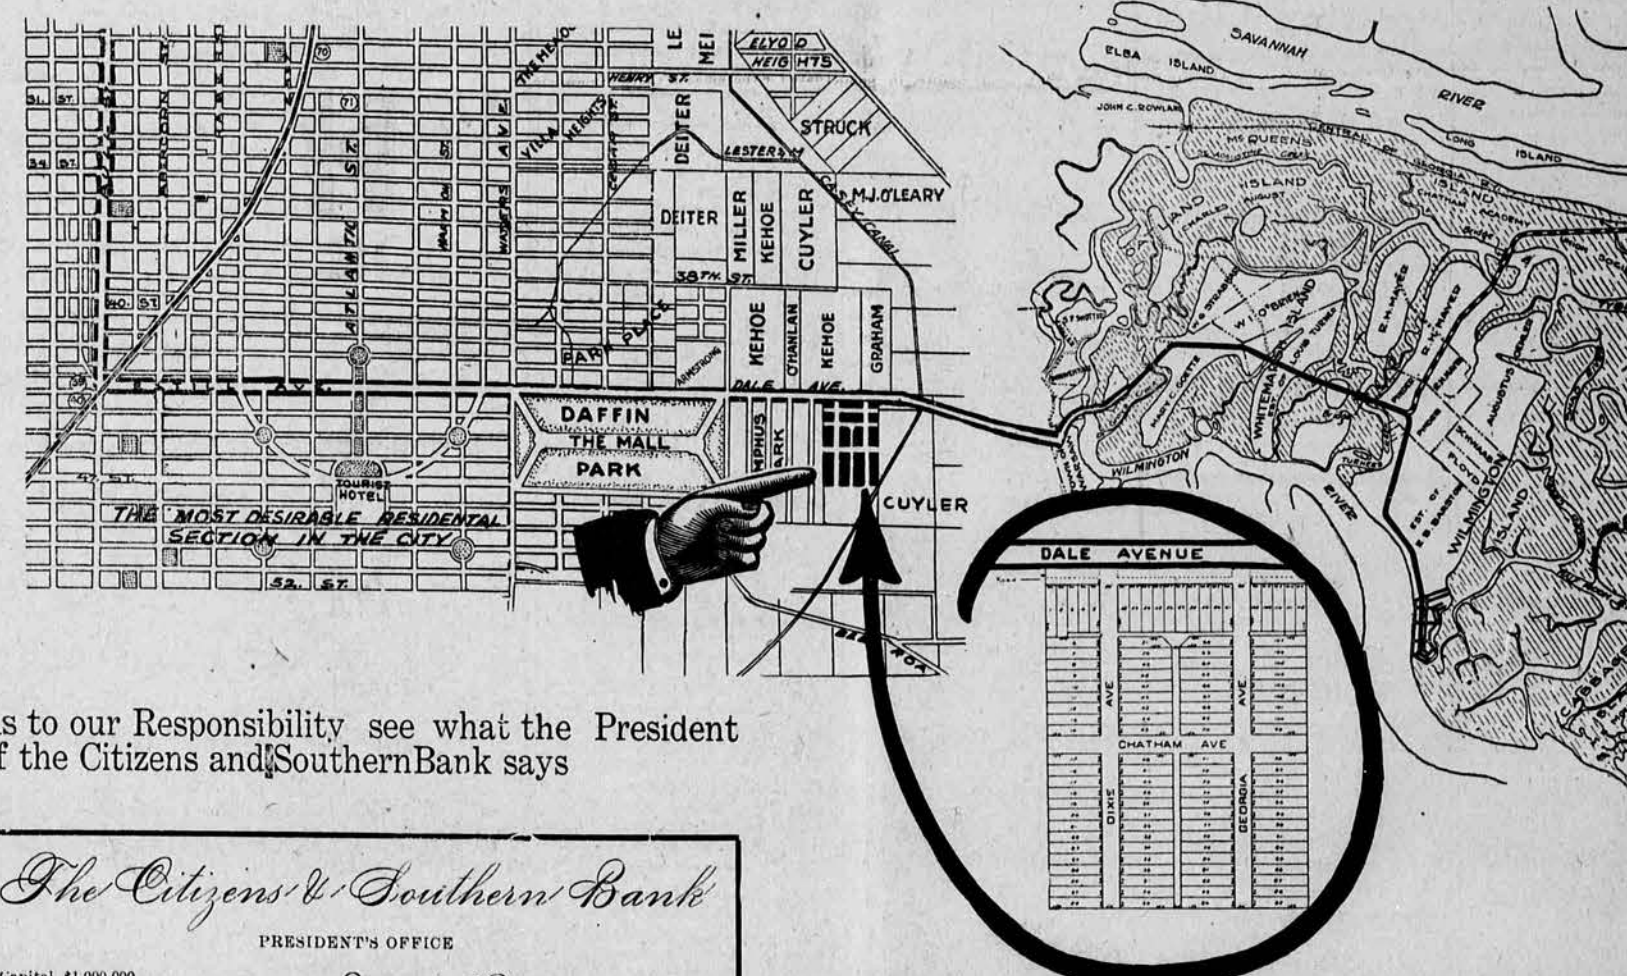

This is your opportunity. Investigate and act at once. You may not get this chance again. Remember that real estate is the safest investment in the world. These lots cannot run away or be stolen over night, nor can they burn up or down.

As an evidence of square dealing, we will make you this proposition: If, after purchasing one or more lots, and looking at it within thirty days from date of sale, you should not be satisfied, we will cancel contract of sale and refund all money paid for on account of same.

This subdivision is only four hundred yards from Daffin Park, the largest city park—of about eighty acres.

In going to and from Dale Terrace, you pass through the choicest residential section of the city.

Double-Crossing the Clerk

(From the Legal Docket)

Incensed you will find a clipping which I think is worthy of a place in the Docket. It seems the spelling of the witness' name in plain English bothered the clerk of the court.

M. L. HAYKISS

"Sell your name!" said the court clerk, sharply. The witness began: "O double T, I double U, E, double L, double A, double N, double D."

"Wait!" ordered the clerk; "begin again!" The witness repeated, "O double T, I double U, E, double L, double A, double N, double D."

"Your honor," roared the clerk, "beg that this man be committed for contempt of court."

"What is your name?" asked the judge.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes any one look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated daily by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have turned tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, salivary complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

DRILLING FOR OIL AND GAS AT NATCHITOCHES

U. S. Geological Survey Gives Information to Drillers in Natchitoches Region

The phenomenal success of the oil drillers in the Caddo and Red river fields of northwestern Louisiana has encouraged their most sanguine hopes and has greatly stimulated wild catting in many other regions of the state. One of these regions includes Natchitoches. Here six wells have been drilled since 1910, and although no producing well has been completed two wells encountered gas under sufficient pressure to cause "blow-outs," and from one or more of the remaining four wells a showing of oil was reported. This experience has caused so great a demand for information that the Geological Survey has issued an advanced statement to aid the drillers in making a thorough test of the possibility of getting oil and gas in the region. The statement, which follows, though it embodies some of the general conclusions reached by the geologist in charge of the work, George G. Watson, is both preliminary and incomplete, being made before the investigation is finished.

Natchitoches is near the southeastern edge of the broad Sabine uplift, a structural feature that has caused the accumulation of great quantities of oil and gas in Caddo, De Soto, and Red River parishes. In the vicinity of the town the geologic horizons that supply oil and gas may be reached by deep wells, though it is uncertain whether they will be found productive. The shallow gas of northwestern Louisiana (Natchitoches sand) may have been reached in the first well of the Natchitoches Oil and Gas Co. (Freeman No. 1) at a depth of about 1700 feet. The sands that supply oil in De Soto and Red River parishes should be reached at a depth of about 3,300 feet, and the deep sand that supplies so large a volume of gas in De Soto parish should be reached at about 3,500 feet.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a rich food for the blood, and free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.

MOVEMENT ON FOOT FOR PACKING PLANT

PROPOSITION WILL BE THOROUGHLY DISCUSSED GEORGIA PRODUCTS DAY

Public Meeting Likely to Be Called

In connection with the Board of Trade meeting Monday night arranging for Georgia Products Day and the Barbecue some real enthusiastic discussion was indulged in regarding the promotion of a packing plant for Bulloch county, commonly acknowledged to be the commercial necessity of the hour. A good bit of quiet missionary work has been done by the Board of Trade in this direction for some time and it is drawing to a head with fair prospects that it will develop into a reality in the near future.

Great Opportunity.

There is no better opportunity open for this industry than right here in Bulloch county and the counties surrounding us. Geographically, we are admirably located and could command a most convenient trade both on incoming and outgoing shipment. Extensive grazing ranges surround us on all sides.

Boll Weevil Coming.

The boll weevil is here, there is no use trying to hide the fact from our eyes, and as stated by one of our citizens, Col. G. S. Johnston, who said in an interview this week, "The weevil will come upon us so stealthily that we will wake one day to find it so completely in our throats that bankruptcy will stare us in the face unless there is united and decisive action taken and right now combat the pest, and to offset the destruction by industry of a substantial nature in other directions."

During a visit to Moultrie recently Col. Johnston made a hurried inspection of the Moultrie packing plant and was most favorably impressed and fully believes that Bulloch could more than duplicate the signal success they have had over in Colquitt. Col. Johnston says that which most appealed to him "was the perfect confidence displayed by the entire community regarding their enterprise. Every citizen is imbued with its success. The farmer, his son and his daughter—they are all stockholders in the enterprise and they are now preparing to increase the capital stock $50,000. While en route to Moultrie I met several men from different parts of the country going to inspect the plant so famous is it becoming. Like all such industries there is not a particle of waste permitted. The by-products are numerous. The citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch county are abundantly able to subscribe to such an industry and carry it to a conclusion and marvelous success. Our future financial stability depends upon something of this magnitude and now is the time to begin."

CONGRESS TO BE ASKED TO INCREASE U. S. MARINE CORPS

New York, Nov. 10.—Because every man of their less than ten thousand is absolutely needed at his post at home or abroad, the United States Marine Corps will be represented at this year's military show at Madison Square Garden.

The army and navy will be represented as usual, but the little Marine Corps, which is neither of these, and yet both, cannot afford to send even a squad to the 1915 tournament.

The "soldiers of the sea," 9021 strong by law, form the first line of the national mobile defense, and the navy yards of the United States have been almost stripped of marines to furnish the landing forces for ships, the expeditionary forces for Haiti, the legation guards at Peking, China, and Managua, Nicaragua; as well as manning the permanent frontier defense posts at Guantanamo, Cuba; the Philippines, Guam and the Hawaiian Islands.

Congress, at its next session, will be asked to increase the Marine Corps by 1500 officers and men and it is believed that the request has strong backing in the ranks of the security leagues who wish to see the first line of defense strengthened so as to insure an adequate number of marines at home in case of necessity.

Have Feelers Out.

High officials in the administration have their feelers out nearly all the time. They are carefully feeling to see if the marriage of the president will have any political effect. That is one of the questions asked of travelers and other political observers who have had an opportunity to hear people talk and get the drift of public opinion. The general verdict is that some women all over the country disapprove of the marriage and that the men do not care. And administrative officials smile for the men do the voting—in the most important states.

Fifteen Hour Reputation.

William V. Allen of Nebraska, who has been out of the senate fourteen years, came to Washington and was at once remembered as the man who made a fifteen hour speech on one occasion. That is one way to erect a monument. Allen was with those Democrats, silver Republicans and Populists who were opposing the repeal of the silver purchase act. He was inclined to Democratic policies then, although elected as a Populist.

When he spoke of Wilson's popularity, he remarked that "we've got to have a considerable amount of support in order to carry Nebraska for the Democrats in 1916."

Just as Easy.

Democratic leaders in the senate have assured President Wilson that cloture will be adopted at once or at least within a short time after the senate assemblies. Those who understand the senate expect to see cloture along many months before it is adopted, and perhaps then it will go overboard.

How Will It Affect Suffrage?

The position which President Wilson has taken on the subject of woman suffrage may have an important bearing on the action of the house this winter. In the last congress the Democratic members of the committee on judiciary were much opposed to woman suffrage and succeeded in delaying a vote until late in the session. That committee will have power to hold back a vote in the new congress, but the Democratic members might be influenced by the position of the president. The president has said he is for suffrage by states.

Got a Rise Every Time.

A shrewd man appeared before the joint commission on district affairs recently and got a rise out of every member. As he proceeded with his argument he occasionally would turn aside and mentioned something that had taken place in the state of a member—something in which that member had interested himself, and the witness would praise that action highly. In turn he held Clinton of West Virginia, Works of California, Sanbury of Delaware, Cooper of Wisconsin, Gard of Ohio and Rainey of Illinois out of their pockets that the witness was correct in his statements.

Georgia Chamber of Commerce

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 10th, 1915

Statesboro Board of Trade,
Mr. Thomas D. Van Osten, Sect'y., Statesboro, Ga.,

My Dear Mr. Van Osten:

Let me congratulate your Board of Trade and the people of Statesboro and Bulloch county on the forthcoming Georgia Products dinner.

These dinners have almost invariably awakened a renewed and keener interest in the production of food supplies and a spirit on the part of the consumer to give preference in the buying of home products. This sentiment is the greatest thing in Georgia. We send away too much money for things which we could produce at home on a larger scale, if our people would take a greater interest in it.

If your dinner becomes the inspiration of a packing house at Statesboro, it will be one of the greatest days in the history of Southeast Georgia.

Yours very truly,
C. J. HADEN, President.

PLANNING TO BUILD AMERICAN SHIPS

Creation of Merchant Marine Is Object of Congress.

TREATIES ARE AN OBSTACLE

Proposition to Grant a 10 Per Cent Discrimination in Favor of American Ships Likely to Be Brought Forward When Congress Convenes—Treaties Disregarded Since War Started.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 10.—[Special.]—Many years ago when such men as Mahan, William R. Payne and Serrano E. Payne were struggling for a ship subsidy bill men of the more practical type, like Stephen B. Elkins, said: "The country will not stand for a subsidy. What should be done is to grant a 10 per cent rebate on duties for all goods carried in American ships to this country."

"Oh, but all our treaties with the favored nation clause stand in the way," replied Frye, who was so long on the foreign relations committee that he had become imbued with the idea of sacredness concerning a treaty.

"Then abrogate the treaties," retorted the practical Elkins. "A treaty can be abrogated. The power that made it can give notice of its intention to terminate it."

But Frye looked at him pityingly, as if he felt sorry for him and probably deplored the idea of a practical business man in the senate.

May Be Brought Forward.

It is possible that the proposition to grant a 10 per cent discrimination in favor of American ships will be brought forward in opposition to the ship purchase bill during the coming session of congress. It should meet with more favor now than ever before. The sacredness of a treaty will not be so impressive as it was before the European war. The "scrap of paper" idea gains ground. We have definite treaties with Great Britain, and yet American shipping has been seized, goods confiscated and treaty and neutral rights of Americans absolutely disregarded. There is no reason why treaties should be allowed to stand in the way of building up American shipping interests. Away with the "favored nation clause," which has yet served for half a century to destroy the American merchant marine, say many advocates of the plan.

It is hoped that the occasion will be productive of action toward the promotion of a market for diversified products. With the gathering of Bulloch's leading farmers will afford every opportunity to discuss the matter with those locally who are interested in the building of a large warehouse.

It is anticipated that there will be such a large crowd in attendance that for one's own convenience it has been decided to make the affair a basket picnic in addition to the barbecue, those feeling so disposed will bring baskets and greatly help the committee who have but a few days to complete the arrangements. Don't stand on ceremony of waiting for a personal invitation but just come along. We need this touching of elbows to waken us in our knowledge and views, so come.
