An American Mother's Thanksgiving

"THANKFUL" sighs the harassed house mother. "Oh, yes, I suppose I am. But it is so hard to feel properly grateful with turkeys soaring quite out of sight and the usual things that go with them almost beyond one's reach."

Suppose you stop to think—you with so great a cause for heartfelt praise—what some other women feel thankful for, women who wrote things like this from across the seas:

One in Germany whose husband was carried home to her with one leg and put above the knee writes: "But we'll do the best we can to find for him some new way to make an honest living, and oh, dear heart, how thankful am I that he is so untrained, for now I may keep him with me!"

Another one, in France, whose daughter, but lately married, lost her reason when suddenly confronted with her young husband's name among the killed, says, "Heart-lacerating as it is to hear her foolishly contented prattle about Didier, whom she constantly prepares to welcome home tomorrow, I think the good God from the bottom of my soul for the mild insanity which keeps her from realizing that Didier is dead and both her brothers missing and that I, her mother, am the most bereaved and desolate of women!"

A third wrote from her home in Folkestone, England: "And little did we think we should ever get reconciled to our dear mother's death so soon after Aunt Lucy's! How true that God knows best, for from the deepest corner of my heart I feel grateful to the Lord for taking mother and Aunt Lucy home before the soul-revolting war brought all this misery to us."

Then come, that desponding American soul! Instead of turkey and mince pies serve rice pudding, fricassees, pot roast or even lamb stew. Look around your table at your well fed, warm and well-cared brood, across at your kind and all-there good man and most devoutly thank the good God for this blessed America of ours!

"Thanks to God" Our Song of Life

"Thanks to God" may be your opening and closing song. One brief life may be a life of gratitude. Have you a home? Then be thankful for it, however humble the home may be, for roses will not bloom more beautifully and the vines will not more gracefully cling to any other home. Have you friends? Cherish every friend you possess, for really you haven't as many as you think. Have you parents now alive? Cherish with fondness their every presence, for the time is not far away when you will look for them and they will not be here. Have you a brother, a sister? Make them feel your great and human worth by thoughtfulness and kindness to them.

So, friends, let the great past sweep before our memories, have the nation bow its knee to the Almighty God and let the individual speak out his gratitude, and, after all is said, there will remain many more blessings which call for our thanks as eloquently as those we have mentioned. Some of you may have seen the Sistine Madonna at Dresden, in some respects the most wonderful picture of maternal love which exists in the whole world. For a long time the canvas was covered with a crust of impurities gathered from its years of hanging, and an artist, in making repairs, discovered a cherub face in the dark background and was led to suspect the picture had been overpainted by time and neglect. He commenced cleaning it, and as he went on cherub after cherub reappeared until it was found that this priceless Madonna was on a background made up wholly of little heavenly cherubs. So those blessings for which we should give thanks are sometimes shamefully covered by our thoughtlessness and neglect—Rev. W. A. Rupert of Pittsburgh.

First Man to Brown a Turkey.
The brooding of roasted turkeys to a uniform color throughout and the partial stuffing of the birds with truffles and an oyster and chestnut stuffing mixed with rare Madeira wine were invented by Dominick Lynch, a beau of the early decades of the last century. That stuffing was first served at a banquet given by him to Miss Kelly, a sister of Mozart's famous tenor, who came to this country to sing for the benefit of the Greeks, then rising against Turkey. Lynch always gave a turkey dinner to the celebrities of European opera and the drama who visited New York. Many of them expressed their amazement at the quality of the vizards in a new country.

We Thank Thee.
For flowers that bloom about our feet,
For tender grass, so fresh, so sweet,
For song of bird and hum of bee,
For all things fair we hear or see,
Father in heaven, we thank thee!

For blue of stream and blue of sky,
For pleasant shade of branches high,
For fragrant air and cooling breeze,
For beauty of the blooming trees,
Father in heaven, we thank thee!
— Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Reasons For Gratitude

Let us be thankful for abundant harvests, for busy days in mill and factory, for the incentives to industry and its more adequate rewards. Let us be thankful that educational standards are lifted and educational opportunity is broadened so that home and state strive together as never before for the making of an intelligent citizenship.

Let us be thankful that old-fashioned virtue is given highest place in the people's thought, higher than pretentious wealth or social prestige or any public office if it be unworthy gained or held. Let us be thankful for the integrity which vice cannot by bribe corrupt, for the line courage which vice cannot intimidate.

Let us be thankful if by all the helps afforded us we have wrought worthily, and if we cannot with glad hearts look back upon our yesterdays let us be thankful that by God's help, there may be brighter tomorrows.

DAIRY WISDOM.

A neat butter package will attract a customer at once. There is no wisdom in keeping poor cows or breeding down. The man who does it is a back number.

Every up to date dairyman will raise his butter calves. These calves should be bred by a pure bred butter bull. The cream should be strained into the churn to remove every bit of curd or possible specks of dirt.

You know it's mighty easy to freeze or at least chill a lot of profit out of a dairy cow. Protect her if you want the proceeds.

Now Lookout.

When a cold hangs on as often happens, or when you have hardly gotten over one cold before you contract another, lookout for you are very liable to contract some very serious disease. This weakens the system and lowers the vitality so that you are much liable to contract chronic catarrh, pneumonia or consumption. Cure your cold while you can. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation. It is relied upon by thousands of people and never disappoints them. Try it. It only costs a quarter. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Look years younger! Try Grandma's recipe of Sage and Sulphur and nobody will know.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and keeps falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wigley's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because one can possibly tell that you dandruff your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Slightly Previous.
A colored man who had contracted a debt some years ago with one of our merchants came to town the other day and called on his old creditor.

"Didn't you 'splain to me dat if I settled up dat account you would give me a 'loavance'?" said the darky to the merchant.

"Yes, I did say so, Sam," replied the merchant. "If you are ready to settle your bill now I will make a good allowance, and the merchant waited for the colored individual to pull out his pocketbook."

"Well, sir, I hain't got de money jus' now, but I thought I'd come in and get de 'loavance.' My wife wants to get herself a shawl."—National Monthly.

Her Son Subject to Croup.
"My son Edwin is subject to croup," writes Mrs. E. O. Irwin, New Kingston, Pa. "I put in many sleepless hours at night before I learned of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mothers need not fear this disease if they keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and use it as directed. It always gave my boy relief." Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

Diabetes, Stomach Trouble, Liver, Kidney or Bladder Trouble

If you can't go to Hot Springs, do the next best thing—
Drink DeSoto Water or Hot Springs-DeSoto Lax.

Both of these waters are drunk by thousands at the spring in Hot Springs, Ark., and lose none of their great medical value by being shipped as they are everywhere.

A course of these waters in your home will do all that is claimed for them, and if your health can be restored by drinking water, DE-SOTO and DE-SOTO-LAX will do it.

Charles Frohman could see a play in anything. A Chicago journalist once wrote to him: "Dear Sir—Why couldn't a play be written round 'Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight'?" Mr. Frohman saw the thing in a flash, and wrote back: "Dear Sir—An excellent idea. Come and see me." Two days later he got a wire from Chicago: "Can't come. If used send me $500." A check was forthwith made out and sent. Meanwhile David Belasco was called in and "The Heart of Maryland" was written, and proved a marvelous success.

handicap so far has fifty-four entries and the books won't close for a long time. The Free For All races for tax collector, treasurer and sheriff appears to be the most popular having each twelve and thirteen entrants as against a bare half dozen for tax receiver and about a page score card and is carrying the announcements over on its front page and an editorial about an early primary in March.

POLITICS FLIRTING

Madam Rumor was whispering about the street this week a line of gossip to set the tongues a wagging, but just who is going to and who is not going to, that is the question. Bulloch's aspirants to the four year term have not come out as forcefully as have those of Emmanuel county where there are fifty four candidates in the field.

The candidates for sheriff and clerk have not yet picked their shells, although common gossip connects Judge S. L. Moore, Mr.

J. W. Williams and Mr. J. E. Mc-

Cowan with the office of ordinary.

It, of course, is understood that Sheriff Mallard is a candidate and his opposition is yet of the dark horse variety. There may be one there may be two and there may be three, so say the boys.

OUR THANKS

This Thursday, we, in common with 100,000,000 other free American peace-loving human beings, bow in reverence and humble thankfulness to an omnipotent God in appreciation of the beneficence we and our nation have enjoyed since this date a year ago. During this period we have been mute witnesses of a blot on humanity by one nation after another being drawn into the most bloody strife the world has ever recorded.

Our freedom, our peace, our prosperity—bestowed by that unseen guiding hand of Providence, and given us in such an abundance, it is then, but meet that we should kneel in solemn thought and prayer, deeply mindful of these blessings—consecrating our efforts to those higher and nobler attainments for humanity than we have been wont to do in the past.

It has been our personal lot to feel the pang of what for the moment seemed adversity; yet thru the pale of the darkened shadow and the blinding of tears there has ever been a ray of light, faith, hope and charity to succor us on our way in the material things of life, showing that in the struggle and strife, in peace or war, man's humanity to man is deeper set than the surface might indicate.

We are thankful for the many kind and encouraging words that have been spoken to us; for the expressions of sympathy in our bereavement; for the forbearance in our errors. We are thankful beyond expression to the many people who have by their liberal subscriptions contributed to the support of our efforts in the rehabilitation of this paper.

We are especially thankful to the business men of Statesboro who have responded to our solicitation in aggressive advertising; in this we have earnestly labored to give more than value received and to stamp Statesboro and her commercial men as leaders in all southeast Georgia.

We are thankful that our infinite faith in the very great and prosperous future for this community directed our steps hitherward for our last and final adieu. We are thankful that we are privileged to dedicate and pledge our untiring efforts toward the uplift of this community, morally and socially of this community, and that plans now being considered, and a year hence may be recorded facts of achievement in which we will all join in common thankfulness to the Divine Being who directs us to the accomplishment of better things, better life and a better community that is sure to come to us.

PROSPERITY AT LAST

There is no longer any doubt of the return of prosperity. Our old friend is with us again. He is not here in great chunks, with bags full of shimmering gold, and automobiles for everybody, but the old boy has brought a steady increase in the volume of business, and a relaxation in the money markets, and a renewed confidence in business circles and in the agricultural districts.

Men of all classes are loosening their purse strings, money is on a hunt of investment, employers are taking on more men, and the wheels of industry are humming at a more rapid rate than for many months past.

Merchants report increased sales and easier collections, buyers are selecting better and more expensive articles, and a spirit of relief and confidence is in evidence everywhere.

There are bright spots ahead for the future. Let's all steer for them and keep head and eyes to the front.

Don't worry over competition in business. It will stiffen your backbone, scarp the rust from your intellect, and lift you out of the rut of stagnation. Buck up, step up, and you'll get there.

A Song of Thanksgiving

By MINNA IRVING

(Copyright, 1915, by America Press Association.)

THANKSGIVING to the Lord of Hosts,
Who rules the mountain and the wave,
Who cools the cannon's burning lips
And leads to victory the brave.
From lofty peak to level plain,
From forest land to rolling sea,
In fields our willing hands have tilled,
Today we bend the grateful knee.

Thanksgiving for the bounteous gifts
That crown the happy harvest year,
The wheat all silver on the stalk,
The corn all golden in the ear.
Thanksgiving for the countless herds
That on the sunset hills increase,
And thank thee most of all, O Lord,
For all the blessed arts of peace!

A "Thank Offering" Box

A woman who has faith in Providence knew what she calls her "thank offering" box. Into this box she put the year, from one Thanksgiving to the middle of the following November, a sum of money for every accident that is escaped, calamity averted or special joy.

These offerings are not confined to her own family, but each time some member of her family looks up from some threatened woe into the box to provide the money offering of thanks to Providence.

Not the same amount is given each time and rarely large sums, for the woman is not rich, but a little little sum is realized.

This is devoted to giving some of a happy Thanksgiving day. It does not always go into regular channels. As the woman says, the poor and hospitals are usually well cared for in holiday seasons.

Sometimes a homelike gift in a strange city is given far fare for the Thanksgiving gathering she would otherwise miss; once a music lover was given a season ticket to the symphony concert; again a doctor's bill that had worried a young stenographer who had her mother to support was quietly paid.

In speaking of her pretty custom the owner of the thank offering box said: "Never had I known what thankfulness really meant until I started my box and saw the joy my thankfulness brings to others."

Such a box, besides cultivating one's sense of gratitude and making others equally grateful, affords great pleasure and interest in the spending. It illustrates as few other things do the truth of the saying that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

Teachers Inclined to Teach Students Rather Than Students

By KENYON L. BUTTERFIELD, President Massachusetts Agricultural College

I FAVOR a moderate amount of military training in the public secondary schools. I THINK THAT STUDIES FITTING DIRECTLY FOR CITIZENSHIP AND ITS PROBLEMS ARE TOO LITTLE STUDIED IN THE HIGH SCHOOLS.

I should like to see the high schools vitalize more fully that part of their teaching which is supposed to bring the pupil into contact with the problems of the personal life—such a subject, for instance, as literature. It is a difficult thing to do, but it needs doing badly.

NEEDLE SUCCESS

THE Camel of Extravagance has absolutely no chance of passing through the eye of the Needle of Success. EXTRAVAGANCE, WASTE, and waste is the NATURAL ENEMY OF SUCCESS. The person who spends his money immoderately, lavishly, recklessly, will naturally NEVER succeed. The secret of success is MODERATION, not excess. The money prodigal very rarely has a fatted calf killed for him. BE MODERATE with your money. GUARD it well.

Announcements of Candidates

FOR TREASURER
By the request of some of my best friends I hereby announce, my candidacy for Treasurer of Bulloch County, subject to the Democratic primary of 1916. And if I should be honored with the nomination it will be my highest ambition to see that the duties of the office be efficiently and faithfully performed. I would greatly appreciate the support of my fellow citizens.

Respectfully,
MALLIE DENMARK.

FOR TREASURER
I announce myself a candidate for reelection for County Treasurer subject to the Democratic primary. I will appreciate your support.

Respectfully,
J. C. JONES.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR
To the Voters of Bulloch County:
At the solicitation of a number of friends, I am announcing myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector for Bulloch County, subject to the Democratic primary of 1916.

Should my candidacy meet with your favor and I be nominated, I promise to discharge the duties of that important office for you, to the very best of my skill and knowledge, impartially, according to law. So help me God.

Respectfully,
P. R. McELVEEN.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR
To the Citizens of Bulloch County:
After continued, earnest solicitation by my friends, I hereby announce my candidacy for Tax Collector, subject to the 1916 Democratic Primary, and promise to discharge all the duties of this important office to the very best of my ability.

Thanking my friends for their loyal support in 1912 and respectfully soliciting your continued support in 1916.

W. H. RESNICK.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR
To the Voters of Bulloch County:
After careful consideration, I announce my candidacy for the office of Tax Collector of Bulloch County, subject to the rules of the approaching Democratic primary.

If the voters should see fit to elect me to this office, it will be my endeavor to give efficient and conscientious service.

I will appreciate your support.

Very respectfully,
FRED W. HOOKS.

FOR TAX RECEIVER
To the Voters of Bulloch County:
At the solicitation of my friends and after mature deliberation, I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Tax Receiver for the next ensuing year, subject to the rules and regulations of the next approaching Democratic primary, and promise, if elected, to administer the affairs of the office to the best interest of the county according to the best of my ability. I respectfully solicit the support of the voters in this important election.

Very respectfully,
HENRY J. ARIAS.

FOR CLERK SUPERIOR COURT
To the Voters of Bulloch County:
I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Clerk of Superior Court, subject to the next Democratic primary. I have been connected with the office as assistant clerk for about five years, and I feel that the experience that I have gained, together with my qualifications and fitted me for the place, which I need both from a physical and financial standpoint. I intend to conduct my campaign in a clean and fair manner.

I will greatly appreciate any vote cast for me or anything done in my behalf.

Respectfully,
DAN N. ROGGS.

WOMEN FOR FEDERATION

CHILD LABOR LAW

Three state federations of women's clubs went on record in one week as favoring the federal bill to prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of child-made goods. They are the Pennsylvania,

Indiana and New Jersey Federations, representing more than 15,000 women.

The action taken by these women is the direct result of the National Child Labor Committee's

second campaign for a federal child labor law. The bill which the committee has drafted will be introduced in congress early in December and is similar in form to the Palmer-Owen bill which passed the house of representatives last year by an overwhelming majority but was defeated in the senate by the objection of Senator Overman of North Carolina. If the bill passes it will prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of goods in the production of which children under 14 have been employed in factories, or under 16 more than eight hours a day or at night, or under 16 in mines and Endorsements and offers of cooperation from organizations and offices of the National Child Labor

Committee and the committee is confident that the bill will be passed by the next congress.

Points for Mothers

Children's Clubs.
At about the age of nine or ten the rapidly developing social instinct of the child begins to assert itself. This is the beginning of secret societies. If taken in hand and properly treated this demand for social life can be made most educative.
Little girls' clubs are so easy to conduct that it must indeed be a hard-hearted mother who, having once had the plan suggested to her, could refuse to give one afternoon a week to her young daughter.
The size of the club may vary as found desirable. Five are enough to have a pleasant time together. Twelve are really all one person can handle.
The club must have a name. The children are full of ideas on this subject. Sunshine Band, Happy Hour Club, Just Bees, Flower Society and Helping Hands are a few of the names usually suggested. It may or may not be given a president or club dues.
Each individual leader will have to decide this for herself. A club badge, even if it is only a bow of the favorite color ribbon, is a source of great pleasure to little ones.
The object of the club will necessarily vary with the tastes of the children and the possibilities of the locality.
Game circles and dancing classes are always pleasant. Glee clubs are, where the leader is a capable musician, the greatest success of all. The concert which the small members give is an event which the parents never cease to talk of.

Petticoats of muslin are back again in the feminine wardrobe after an enforced retirement of several seasons' duration. They are shaped somewhat differently from their predecessors, having been influenced by the changing lines in outer apparel.
Some of the new models incline to close fitting hip flares and a flaring gown.
There are others that are only moderately wide through the hem. One recently advanced for the maintenance of the comparatively narrow petticoat is that with the revival of the very wide enter skirt, particularly as advocated for dance purposes, the need for the clinging foundation skirt is at once apparent.

FROCKS AND WRAPS FOR EVENING WEAR

Trimmed of Satin, Taffeta and Net. Dainty Chiffon Scarfs

New York, Nov. 24.—(Special to the News).—Now that winter is upon us and the season of gaieties has begun, we find ourselves scurrying about here and there, harkening in a hurry and brimming over with happy expectations of the coming festivities where we may dance away the merry hours, oblivious of time and the many perils of this little world of ours, except for the ever present question of dress.

One must not neglect footwear, slippers, stockings and the "under-mysteries" of the evening frock. Satin slippers in the delicate shade of the gown are first in favor, black patent leather with jeweled buckles, and black satin slippers come next for those a bit more practically inclined. The stockings generally match the frock in tone, or of white.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.
There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very healthy health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestine of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which is not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.
People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can't get feeling right are urged to obtain a glass of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.
Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowels pour do.

Feeding Silage To Beef Cattle

By Dr. A. M. Soule.

In fattening beef cattle economically it is not only necessary to have an abundance of concentrates which can be purchased at a reasonable cost, but a plentiful supply of a desirable form of roughage. In no section of the country is this problem of more importance than in the South. Hence, every man who expects to handle beef cattle must give attention to this subject or else his feeding operations will prove unsatisfactory from a financial point of view.
Of the various forms of roughage which can be used in the feeding of beef cattle there is nothing more desirable than silage. If grain happens to be fairly high in price, it is all the more important that the roughage part of the ration be of the most satisfactory type and made available at a reasonable cost to the land owner. Certain, there is no form of structure which can be built on a farm at so low a cost, relatively speaking, as the silo and give such wonderful storage capacity. Some may object to the building of a silo, believing that when the cost of the structure and the machinery necessary to properly fill it are taken into consideration that a dry form of roughage will prove cheaper. In this they are very much mistaken, for the harvesting, shocking, shredding and storing of corn stover or fodder as the case may be, will make a ton of feed of this character cost quite as much, if not more than a ton of silage. There is no comparison as to the palatability of the two. Moreover, the silage will keep up with pasture, and will not waste. In addition, it furnishes a ration which tends to keep the digestive system in good condition, a matter of the utmost importance where cattle are to be carried through the winter either as stockers or finished in the stall for immediate slaughter.

Silage Valuable in Winter
Years of experience and observation tend to confirm the opinion that silage is the most valuable ration for the roughage which the farmer can utilize for winter feeding. Of course, if he can supplement it with other forms of dry roughage, more or less of which are found on every farm, there will be no objection to their use, but it can be depended on that the sole roughage with the highest degree of satisfaction, provided, of course, it is fed in a rational manner.
When beef cattle are to be finished in the stall within a period of 120 to 150 days, they should be permitted a liberal ration of silage. A 1,000-pound steer should be given at least 25 pounds, and will sometimes consume as much as 30 to 35 pounds for long periods of time. Of course, when animals are taken off grass, they should be accustomed to the ration gradually. To begin with they should receive, say 25 pounds of silage, 5 to 6 pounds of dry roughage, such as hula, cowpea hay, mixed with cotton seed meal, and two pounds of cotton seed meal. The meal should be increased one-quarter to one-half pound a week or every ten days until a ration of about seven pounds is being fed. This maximum ration of concentrates may be continued for from 30 to 60 days. In our experience this is about the largest amount of cotton seed meal which can be fed with advantage and profit to steers weighing 1,000 pounds.

Cheap and Satisfactory
A ration such as the above will be found very satisfactory. The roughage is provided out of silage and other cheap foods which either are or should be available on every farm, and even though cotton seed meal may be relatively high in price, it is still by far the cheapest concentrate available for use on southern farms. In those sections of the country where corn is the primary crop, the ration may properly consist of equal parts of corn and cotton seed meal, but with corn at $1.50 a bushel, the prevailing price in most sections of the south, it will be more advantageous from a financial point of view to depend on cotton seed meal as the primary concentrate.
The following rations should be found satisfactory for 1,000-pound cattle of fair quality:
Silage 30 to 35 pounds; cowpea hay 6 pounds; cotton seed meal 7 pounds.
Silage 30 to 35 pounds; cotton seed hula 10 to 12 pounds; cotton seed meal 7 pounds.
Silage 30 to 35 pounds; stover 6 to 8 pounds; cotton seed meal 4 to 5 pounds; corn either shelled or fed as corn meal 6 to 8 pounds.

Keep Manger Clean
Alfalfa hay can, of course, be substituted for cowpea hay, and prairie, mixed or wild hay may be fed in the place of corn stover or hula. It is important to remember that the manger should be kept clean and in a sweet condition at all times; that any surplus food should be removed; and that the ration should be increased or decreased in proportion to the appetite of the animal. An abundance of pure water and salt should also be provided. Silage can be used with advantage for the breeding herd. It should be fed ad libitum, but with a small quantity of some of the dry roughages already mentioned. It will seldom be necessary to feed more than two pounds of cotton seed meal per head per day to stock of this class. Cattle fed on a ration such as this will grow through the winter or carry their young to the time of parturition in better condition than in the absence of silage. The only precaution which is necessary to observe in this matter is to prevent the cattle receiving silage which is either moldy or rotten, but this is seldom met with where the crop has been properly put up in a suitable structure.

CANADA'S GREATEST SOLDIER

Gen. "Sam" Hughes (in uniform) is probably the most famous soldier in the Dominion of Canada. He is the minister of militia and defense, and the part Canada has played at the front is due in large measure to the manner in which he organized and maintained the militia of his country. General Hughes recently inspected the Canadian troops in France and later attended the Eldestoff celebration in Wales.

GAME BIRDS ARE SCARCE

Few Coveys Remain on Prairies Where Once There Were Many Thousands.

Sabetha, Kan.—Thirty years ago the prairies of Nebraska county were populated with coveys of quail and flocks of prairie chickens. Professional hunters came from the river cities and killed them for market.
These destroyers counted it a poor day's work of 200 birds. They were drawn when killed and shipped daily.

On the city markets the chickens brought $2 a dozen and the quail $1. The chickens have been exterminated from the country and a farmer who possesses a covey of quail these days considers them so valuable as insect destroyers that he prosecutes hunters who even scare the birds.

In those days the quail in the month of September gathered in droves and migrated. They were very tame and quiet when in numbers. They walked or ran as a rule, so that the weakest were not lost. Bird lovers in those days tried to protect the young, but the professional hunters slaughtered them even with clubs.

HEIR SCORNS SMALL FORTUNE

Another Case of Mysterious Disappearance Is Solved—Becomes Hermit in Oregon.

Danville, Ind.—Another case of mysterious disappearance has just been solved by the finding of Elias McDaniel, heir to an estate here, who dropped out of existence more than twenty-five years ago, so far as this community knew. McDaniel was located in the West by Levi Brown, administrator of the McDaniel estate, after a long search. The man had turned hermit and trapper and was found living in a lone cabin in a forest near Portland, Ore.
When told that his father and mother were both dead and that he was heir to about $7,000 worth of property, he evinced no feeling whatever, but flatly refused to return and take possession.
He was finally persuaded to go into town and sign papers giving Mr. Brown authority to sell the property and send him the proceeds. No one has ever been able to fathom the cause of the estrangement between father and son.

THREE GOOD HEARTY EATERS

One Puts Away Case of Beer, Another Absorbs 27 Bananas and Third Surrounds Huge Melon.

Clio, Mich.—If restaurants and soft drink counters here should display placards with the business drawing slogans: "All you can eat for a quarter" or "All you can drink for a nickel" they would soon be forced to go into bankruptcy, as this village has four men who are likely candidates for statewide fame in competitive eating contests.

One demonstrated to strangers that he had a storage tank in his physical system, which he could draw a case of beer with ease inside of an hour, and for their enlightenment he taxed the strangers $50 as a bet.

added to the soil even when the tops of the plants are removed for hay.
On account of the root development of this plant large quantities of valuable matter are added to the soil when a field of sweet clover is plowed. The root system alone has been estimated to be about twenty tons of green weight per acre for a good growth of sweet clover. In some parts of the country it has been used in a small way as a green manure crop, the second year's growth being plowed under. By turning under a crop of sweet clover, or only the stubble, marked gains are obtained in the following crop.
It takes two years for it to produce a full crop. Ordinarily some trouble is experienced in getting stock to eat sweet clover at first, on account of its bitter taste, but after they have been accustomed to eating it no trouble is experienced. A high percentage of digestible protein is contained in the hay.

SWEET CLOVER.

Once Despised Weed Is Now Valued For Hay and Soil Building.

Sweet clover, which is so common along roadsides and in waste places in many parts of the country, is rapidly gaining in favor as a cultivated crop. This is due to its value for soil improvement, for pastures and for hay. There are three species of sweet clover commonly found in the United States: The biennial yellow flowered species and the biennial white flowered species are valuable over a wide area, while the annual yellow flowered species is of little economic importance except in the south. The biennial white flowered variety is commonest.

One of the most notable features of sweet clover is its root system. During the first season of growth the roots often reach a diameter of one-half inch at the crown of the plant. On account of the fleshy character of the roots a large quantity of vegetable matter is

COTTON MARKET

Cotton Manufacturing Savannah Market Saturday Nov. 29. Good Middling..... 11 1/2 Low Middling..... 10 1/2 Ordinary..... 9 1/2

Statesboro Market Tuesday Nov. 25. Good Middling..... 11 1/2 Low Middling..... 10 1/2 Ordinary..... 9 1/2

During the three-quarter-century period from 1849 to 1915 the consumption of cotton in United States increased from 236,525 to 6,009,267 bales, or about twenty-fold.

The greatest cotton-manufacturing state is Massachusetts, which consumed 1,282,039 bales during the year; North Carolina, with a consumption of 910,154 bales, stood second; South Carolina, with 811,564 bales, third; and Georgia, with 659,853 bales, fourth.

The manufacture of cotton in the south had been carried on for many years, but only in a small way prior to the decade 1870-1880, when the industry in that section began to grow rapidly. During that decade and in each of the two succeeding ones the consumption of cotton in these states nearly tripled, and during the past 15 years it has more than doubled.

During the quarter century from 1890 to 1915 the consumption in the cotton growing states increased by nearly 500 per cent, while the increase in the New England states was only 46 per cent and that in the United States as a whole was less than 140 per cent. Since 1912 the annual consumption in the cotton growing states has amounted to more than one half of the total for the United States, and in 1915 these states consumed 3,026,960 bales (exclusive of linters), compared with 2,570,393 bales manufactured in all other states.

During the five-year period 1911-1912 the consumption in Georgia increased by 38.9 per cent, and in North Carolina by 31.4 per cent. The greatest actual increase was that reported from North Carolina, 212,695 bales.

MR. J. L. ZETTEROWER For Clerk of Superior Court

We carry in this issue the announcement of Mr. J. L. Zetterower as a candidate for the office of clerk of superior court of Bulloch county. Mr. Zetterower enjoys an extensive acquaintance in the county thru his long association in the mercantile business in which he was significantly successful. He is an exceedingly popular young man and now engaged in farming. Mr. Zetterower is particularly qualified to fill the office of clerk in a high class manner and no doubt will make a strong run in the race.

ONE WEAK POINT

Many Statesboro People Have a Weak Part and Too Often It's The Back

Many people have a weak spot. Too often it's a bad back. Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up, day and night. Backache is often from weak kidneys.

In such case a kidney medicine is needed. Doan's Kidney Pills are the weak kidneys. For backache and urinary ills. Statesboro people recommend the remedy.

Mrs. M. G. Seaborn, Statesboro, says: "One of the family had backache and dull aching pains across the loins. The trouble gave the most bother while at work, because the sufferer had to stand a great deal. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended and we got a box. They rid the patient of the pains and I have not heard any complaint since."

Price, 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Seaborn recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

THOMAS E. WATSON ON TRIAL

Jury Selected and Testimony Begun

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 27.—The jurors before whom Thomas E. Watson is being tried are: T. O. Gunn, Crawfordville; U. R. Jenkins, Wrightsville; Stephen F. Harrold, Mitchell; John P. Hall, Augusta; J. A. Crawford, Martinez; E. G. Dent, Waynesboro; B. R. Tanner, Sandersville; C. E. Brown, Tennesse; J. S. Skinner, near Augusta; J. S. Caye, Wrightsville; J. Skinner, near Augusta; Philip S. North, Augusta.

The task of selecting a jury before which to try the case of the United States vs. Thomas E. Watson, charged with sending obscene matter through the mails, consumed several hours yesterday, and followed the court's action in overwhelming the Watson demurrer. As each name was called the statutory questions were asked and in most cases the juror was put on trial by either the government attorneys or counsel for the defense, and questions were propounded which were calculated to exclude every scintilla of doubt concerning the jurors competency to pass on the evidence.

Three panels, comprising thirty-six jurors, were exhausted, with only eleven jurors in the box, and it was necessary for the court to have the marshal summons several talesmen. Four responded to the summons, the first one of whom, Philip S. North was accepted by the defense, notwithstanding the strenuous effort of the district attorney to disqualify him on the ground that he had been summoned as a traverse juror at the term of court in 1913 when the previous Watson case had been set for trial, but was quashed.

The six strikes allowed the government were exhausted before the eighth jurors had been sent to the box. The defense at that time still had four of its possible ten strikes. When the last juror took his seat in the box one strike was still to the defense's credit.

There was present a larger attendance than could get into the court room and the keenest of interest was manifested.

Progress had been made at the hour of adjournment yesterday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock. A demurrer by the defense to the indictment had been over ruled, the jury had been selected and the introduction of testimony had been begun.
