NEW YORK FACES PROBLEM IN ITS RIVAL GANGSTERS

Politicians and High Police Officials Blamed for Existence of This Menace to the Country's Chief City.

PUBLIC ALSO INDIFFERENT TO CRIME AND CRIMINALS

Efforts to Break Up the More Powerful Organization Have Resulted in the Formation of Smaller Bodies Just as Menacing—Writer Sees Possible Good in the Boy Scout Movement—Lawless Youngsters Mostly American Born and Come From the Tenement Districts.

NEW YORK—Rival gangsters fought a revolver battle from automobiles on primary day, September 16, in broad daylight, at the corner of first street and Broadway, just as the matinee crowds were pouring out of the theaters. The police managed to get four of the combatants, and the car which they had used in the shooting affray was found to contain lists of voters in six election districts, systematically arranged to enable repeat-

It was the gang in the service of the politician, just as in the Rosenwald murder the gang had been in the service of a high police official. The gang serves those who pay it or can protect it against the law. For $5 it will detail a "kid" to black a man's eyes, for $50 you can have a man stabbed, and "doing the big job" will cost you more than $500 or $1,000 if you are properly vouchered for to the gang leader by some one with a "big pull."

The man with the "big pull" is always a politician or a gambler, writes Henry N. Hall in the Sunday New York World. The politician's alliance with the gangster is as close today, if not as open, as when a district leader on the eve of an important election gave an interview to newspaper men with one foot on a box from which his lieutenants were distributing $500 and $1,000 bills to the boys for use the next day, or when a political leader—now one of New York's most distinguished representatives in congress—the "United States" went over to New Jersey to testify under oath that "Monk" Eastman was a reputable business man and an otherwise desirable citizen.

Difficult Problem. There is no more difficult problem in American civic life today than the elimination of the gang. There are three reasons for this. The first is that the American public is indifferent to crime. There is no place in the world where the man in the street who sees about his own business and keeps clear of the underworld is as safe in his person as he is here, and the result is that unless he himself, or some one he knows personally, is the victim of a crime, he reads about these things in the paper with an interested complacency not unlike the feelings he derives from a thrilling moving picture show. Gangs, gangsters, Black Hand crimes and bomb outrages are accepted as among the things incident to life in a big city, and it is impossible to arouse anything like public indignation over their presence.

The second reason is that the interest to which the gangs are useful—the politicians, the gamblers and those who grow rich in the underworld—are so powerful that they are able to protect those who are of service to them. It is only in exceptional cases, when public feeling is outraged by some Real gangsters upon whom the women of the streets have a right to know, to the "cop" on the corner. Afternoons in summer attending film classes when they wanted to play ball in the corner lot. That is just an invitation to the daring boy to play truant, and as the rest of "the gang" will lack the initiative to grow up into anything but law-abiding citizens any day, they are not to play with him. He goes off and gets into mischief.

Field for Boy Scouts. Only one organization really seems to be properly equipped for attracting to the streets a gang of boys, and that is the Boy Scouts. It is just the kind of thing that appeals to high spirited boys and it is doing a most wonderful work in making them into many youths who will grow up to be good and useful citizens. There is a real danger about the gangster's unwritten code and the laws of the streets.

"The shall not equal," is the first law of the gangster. The gangster's honor is to be trusted in gangdom. The first law of the Boy Scouts is "A scout's honor is to be trusted." If he breaks his honor by telling a lie he ceases to be a scout. If the gangster squeals the penalty is death. Law of the gang is to keep the secret, and this against anyone who is their enemy. And so on. A scout must be brave and daring and must obey orders without question and he is never suik. All of which things are expected of the gangster.

Mostly American-Born. A large majority of the gangsters are American-born, mostly of Irish or Italian descent. The young Jew does not make good gang material, or rather what gangs there are in or of the ghetto differ from the real "gunmen."

The young Jew who goes wrong becomes a "kid," a "dip," or pickpocket, or else he gambles and eventually with more or less success—in which case he hires gangsters to protect his profits. Here and there on the lower East side a gang of young Jews in or of the ghetto will sell their worthless tickets to the small shopkeepers, who know that refusal to "come across" with the 50 cents demanded would lead by the appearance of three or four smaller and rival organizations. It is only scattering the trouble. The gangster is a blackmailer. There is only one way to put down gangs in a city like New York, and that is to cut off their supply of recruits. The gangster is a blackmailer. There is no gang in New York today which willingly adds grown men to its ranks. The new recruits all come up from the streets. I have talked with a number of gangsters, and there is such a surprising unanimity about their boyhood days that it is not surprising to picture the upgrowth of the "gorilla."

Watch almost any gang of small boys playing in the streets of the tenement districts. They always have a leader. It matters not what they are doing or to what mischief they are doing, there is always one who is braver, stronger, more resourceful than the rest. He will grow into a man of action. He will make a success of life if his home influences and early opportunities give him a fair chance. But if he goes wrong, he is the material of which the gangster is made. It is so easy for him to go wrong.

As he gets older he may commit some little breach of the law that other boys will take pride in as a proof of his daring. The corner saloonkeeper notices him and his shills him with others of his kind. He gets his introduction into the underworld and meets real gangsters upon whom the corner saloonkeeper notices him and his shills him with others of his kind. He gets his introduction into the underworld and meets real gangsters upon whom the corner saloonkeeper notices him and his shills him with others of his kind.

Irrepressible Conflict. All this is perfectly well known to the police, the settlement workers and all the "reformers" and many strange are the ways of those who would lead youth in the paths of righteousness. There is going on all the time in this as in every other great city a constant tussle between the forces of good and the forces of evil. The forces of good are the struggling forces of upgrowing humanity, seeking for new recruits. A great deal of perfectly good energy has been wasted in trying to get real live boys to spend their Sunday

Settle Their Own Disputes. Gangdom recognizes this state of outlaws and it always settles its own disputes. The recognized forces of law and order—the police—are never called upon to settle disputes. If a gangster falls in any way, he has been shot or stabbed, he never gives the name of his assailant. He will attend to that himself. If he dies he knows that his friends will avenge him, and often in New York hospitals when the police have been called to a fight, the police men on guard that the victor has learned the name of the man who is to pay for the gangster's death.

HORSE OUTRUNS A KANGAROO

Men Attack the Big Animals With Only Clubs For Weapons, and Kill Them.

Notwithstanding the kangaroo's popular reputation for speed, he is easily overtaken in the bush by a good horse within half a mile. A capable kangaroo does a leap, and a horse can cross between a greyhound and a mastiff, bred to course and kill—soon runs him to bay. Without dogs it is the custom to kill with a neutral knife, often accomplished by the sportsman from the back of his horse. Dismounted, however, with the kangaroo lying alertly for attack, it is a somewhat perilous venture to come to close quarters. A slip—and the sportsman finds himself all at once in a desperate situation. He is doing a most wonderful work in making them into many youths who will grow up to be good and useful citizens. There is a real danger about the gangster's unwritten code and the laws of the streets.

EXCELLENT DESIGN THAT PRESERVES NATURAL FIGURE

ONE must concede the real beauty of this costume, which appears to be built on lines almost independent of those prominent in the present mode.

The skirt is not broad at the hips (in contrast with many new ones) the short train is not a mere wisp, or trailing end, and there is plenty of room to walk in. This is one of those good designs which define the natural figure with ample drapery and can afford to be a little more expensive than the others.

White for Winter. We are to wear a great deal of white this winter. White serge, very heavy, yet supple, is to be used for coats and skirts, and quite often it will be trimmed with white fur, or again with dark, velvet evening cloaks and mantles in rich satins and tulle are always lovely, and white house dresses in the new brooches have their own appeal to the artist.

Grandmother's Collars. Grandmother's old collars, fine and sheer embroidery can be used as they are but the heavier ones of old crocheted lace may be rejuvenated by going over the design in color. Fill in the principal figure with French knots worked in colors to match the gown or in Hungarian colors. This may be done with heavy silk or cotton in washable shades.

Fashion Novelty. One of the loveliest of the season's fashions is the chiffon scarf that is combined with a fur box. The box is attached to one side of a long chiffon scarf weighted with long bead tassels. This scarf is to be drawn about the hair and neck, while the box falls artistically off the shoulders.

Jeweled Garter Fasteners. Jeweled, jeweled garter fasteners are one of the modern woman's extravagant fancies. Some of these have pendant settings dangling from the garter, and some are simply the fancy, of course—but in addition to that, do they tickle?

Cretonne Furnishings for the Bedroom. It is best with such furnishings to dress the bed in white and to use a white dresser scarf. Or the bed will look well with a cretonne covering having red or lace spread over it, or one made of sheer fabric so that the colors in the cretonne will just show through.

Men like strong colorings, deep reds and greens, strong blue, gold and bronze. For women softer colors and rich, intricate patterns are chosen, and for young people and children sparsely scattered, familiar field flowers, of the kind they know and love, ground in a neutral color. The wall (but not necessarily in the same shade) graced with a gay pattern in flowers, or conventional design, is a factor in the background in cretonnes should be rather light, so that a room will look very cheerful even on a dark, dreary looking day.

Foundations for toilet table accessories. The cretonne is patterned to meet the needs of the toilet table. The cretonne is patterned to meet the needs of the toilet table. The cretonne is patterned to meet the needs of the toilet table.

There must be a pin cushion, a glove box and a handkerchief box. There may be other things—a little cabinet for trinkets, a whisk broom holder, a photograph frame, a candle shade, a work basket, a laundry bag, etc. But one must not overload the pretty cretonne by making too many accessories and putting them in evidence in the room.

TO CHANGE COLOR OF LACE

White May Be Made Over Into Creamy Hue, Just Now So Much in Popular Favor.

Have you ever noticed that cream colored lace is usually more expensive than white lace, even of the same pattern?

Not being able to buy any cream lace cheap, it occurred to me that there must be some way of changing white lace into cream. I asked a friend about this, and she gave me the following advice, which I have since put into practice with fine results:

Buy five or ten cents' worth of French ochre (a powder) at any paint store. Mix three parts of ordinary white talcum powder with one part of the ochre for a light cream color, or, if a darker shade of cream is desired, use more ochre. Put the mixture in a bowl and rub the lace as though washing it in the powder, a little at a time.

The white lace will become a lovely cream. But be sure and do the work in a room where the powder can easily be dusted away, as it settles over everything.

SCOTS DEMOCRATIC

Much More So Than English Brother Across Border.

Sturdy Self-Assertion of the Edinburgh Cabbie in a Bold Contrast to His Kin in London—Are Skilled in Many Trades.

Edinburgh.—One has only to cross the English border going northward to realize that Scotland is a far more democratic country than England. Who shall say why? I think the answer lies in the land's having lacked for more than three centuries a resident king. For much of that time it has had no king, and the people have been free to do as they please. The Scotch were stubbornly true to the Stuart cause, but perhaps if their royal family had been retained in this territory for three centuries a point.

We urge capitalists to build factories and encourage the Scotch to do so for education and religion. We send millions of dollars to the north and west for pork and pork products. We also pay the Scotch for the experiment stations and the actual experience of hundreds of farmers in this territory for three cents a pound.

On a farm where good pastures can be had and corn produced in abundance, the hog will be found to be a sure profit producer one year with another. Good pastures, peanuts, peas in corn, potatoes, chufas, rape, sorghum and peas and corn means plenty of cheap pork.

The first investment is small and he is the quickest money maker of the hog in good growing condition all the summer. Excellent winter and early spring pastures can be obtained by sowing hairy vetch, winter wheat, or clover seed broadcast on the Bermuda or carpet grass seed early in the fall. Oats, rye, rape or orchard grass planted in October furnish good winter pastures for hogs. Peanuts and sweet potatoes, chufas and artichokes planted in April make excellent feed for hogs in the fall and winter.

Planings of peas can be made, one of an early variety and one of a late variety, in April. Two varieties can be planted at the same time again in June and July. Very little corn is necessary.

We can no longer raise cotton to buy pork. We must raise cheap crops—peanuts, cow peas, sorghum, artichokes, red clover, rape and so on for hogs to graze. No man has ever been able to give a sensible reason for growing cotton to grow for bacon and corn crops to raise hogs. No man has ever been able to give a sensible reason for feeding corn to hogs. It is time to killing time instead of raising hogs on pasture grasses and cheap

In the Cowgate, Edinburgh. London cabbies are still a race to themselves, and far more at ease in the presence of their "betters" than most others of the English working classes. And the Edinburgh cabbie, who has the reputation of being a "bobby" in the eyes of the native newbies, it is thus through all grades of Scottish working folk, except, perhaps, those who directly minister to the immediate needs of the public, such as waiters, and they often seem to be other Scotchmen. The Scotch seem to be especially skilled in certain trades. They are excellent masons, for example, and for many years they have gone back and forth between Scotland and New York plying their trade at the high American wages when business is brisk. Men like strong colorings, deep reds and greens, strong blue, gold and bronze. For women softer colors and rich, intricate patterns are chosen, and for young people and children sparsely scattered, familiar field flowers, of the kind they know and love, ground in a neutral color. The wall (but not necessarily in the same shade) graced with a gay pattern in flowers, or conventional design, is a factor in the background in cretonnes should be rather light, so that a room will look very cheerful even on a dark, dreary looking day.

There must be a pin cushion, a glove box and a handkerchief box. There may be other things—a little cabinet for trinkets, a whisk broom holder, a photograph frame, a candle shade, a work basket, a laundry bag, etc. But one must not overload the pretty cretonne by making too many accessories and putting them in evidence in the room.

Cretonne Furnishings for the Bedroom. It is best with such furnishings to dress the bed in white and to use a white dresser scarf. Or the bed will look well with a cretonne covering having red or lace spread over it, or one made of sheer fabric so that the colors in the cretonne will just show through.

DIVERSIFICATION ON SOUTHERN FARMS

More Money Spent for Pork Than for Religion and Education.

Factories of Great Need

Hogs Are Essential to Manufacture Cheap Leguminous Crops That We Must Grow to Increase Productiveness of Our Soils.

(By O. H. ALPHORD.) We spend more money for pork than we do for education and religion. We send millions of dollars to the north and west for pork and pork products. We also pay the Scotch for the experiment stations and the actual experience of hundreds of farmers in this territory for three cents a pound.

On a farm where good pastures can be had and corn produced in abundance, the hog will be found to be a sure profit producer one year with another. Good pastures, peanuts, peas in corn, potatoes, chufas, rape, sorghum and peas and corn means plenty of cheap pork.

The first investment is small and he is the quickest money maker of the hog in good growing condition all the summer. Excellent winter and early spring pastures can be obtained by sowing hairy vetch, winter wheat, or clover seed broadcast on the Bermuda or carpet grass seed early in the fall. Oats, rye, rape or orchard grass planted in October furnish good winter pastures for hogs. Peanuts and sweet potatoes, chufas and artichokes planted in April make excellent feed for hogs in the fall and winter.

Planings of peas can be made, one of an early

FINE SHOWING BY A NEGRO

We are informed on good authority that Fred Lewis, a negro tenant, who has been farming a part of the Inman farm at Clifton, made a clear profit of twenty-five hundred dollars on the farm during the year 1913, the amount being invested in a Burke county farm, which Lewis had purchased.

Just how much more he cleared in the way of provisions etc. cannot be stated, but if he made as much as five hundred dollars additional the spectacle of a Bulloch county negro tenant becoming a subject to the Federal Income Tax would present itself.

Lewis probably stuck pretty close to the farm. He did not take much time loafing around town, like lots of negroes and white men do. He did not ride in automobiles, neither did he sport a red wheel buggy. His clothes were not hand tailored, and his cigar and whiskey bills were probably very small. We presume he made himself scarce on excursion trains, if he devoured many watermelons he produced them himself.

This negro probably never heard of Booker Washington, and cares very little about Abraham Lincoln is dead or alive. He was not noticed in the recent emancipation parade in Statesboro on the 1st day of the year. He was probably parading between a half of play handles, pulling the bell line over a mule. When nightfall came he went to bed and was fresh and ready for his work next day, instead of spending a large portion of the night at "the lodge, or fore day club." The result is he is paying for a home while others of his race are walking up and down the public roads, or loafing around the railroad stations.

Agricultural School
Opens for New Year

The First District Agricultural School opened for the new year last week—Thursday. Students have been coming in on almost every train for two weeks. It is a regular thing to see Prof. Dickens meeting trains and receiving bright boys and girls.

Though the students have come rather slow as to time, yet it is true that the dormitories are pretty well filled, besides, a number of Bulloch county students who go from home. In fact, the student body is very fine. Many more are still to come. When all are in, it is likely that there will be more students than ever in the history of the school.

Mr. Mason in Town
a Few Hours Tuesday

Mr. Mason, one of the main forces which make the Savannah Press, and a son in law of the distinguished editor, Hon. P. A. Stovall, spent Tuesday in the city. After attending some business in town, he was the guest of Prof. Dickens and the high school on the hill. Mr. Mason has just returned from New York, where he went to meet Mrs. Mason on her way home from Switzerland, where she has been visiting her distinguished parents, Minister and Mrs. Stovall. Mr. Mason says that our friend, Stovall, is quite happy, as he represents Uncle Sam at the court of Switzerland. He also expressed himself as greatly pleased with the agricultural school, after spending a few hours there. "Simply put, what that man and his faculty are doing out there," said Mr. Mason.

Getting Mixed on School Books.

Prof. B. R. Olliff, county school superintendent, informs us that the schools are getting into a pickle over the question of a supply of school books. The last legislature made a new contract, changing the books in the common schools, and the failure of the publishers who have contracted to furnish them to have them on hand is causing them an embarrassing situation. The books put out under the old contracts have been withdrawn from sale, and the new ones have not been put on sale yet. So it looks like we are going to have to get along with what old books we have on hand for a while yet.

Prof. Olliff is feeling good over the school outlook. He says that we are to get $7,000 more this year than we did last year from the state, but he is not certain when we will get it. The state seems to be short of sufficient funds to pay off the common schools and the confederate veterans both, and it is a question which one Governor Stanton will put on the waiting list.

There are 77 white schools, and 55 colored ones now in operation in Bulloch county.

Congressman Edwards to Return to Washington

A letter from Hon. Charles G. Edwards informs us that he will return to Washington the latter part of this week to assume the duties before him as the representative of the First Georgia district. Bulloch Stands Fourth in Production of Cotton

For a long time, Bulloch county has held the fifth place in the production of cotton among the counties of the state.

The government ginners' report, coming out Dec. 13th, places Bulloch in the fourth place, only Burke, Laurens and Jackson counties running ahead of us. Up to that time over 39,000 bales had been ginned in Bulloch.

In our opinion, it will be only a few years when this county will rank first, for the reason that in the counties like Burke and Jackson, especially practically all the

What Fertilizers Will go upon Your Land This Year?

Of course you are going to put back into your soil those elements that you last crop took out, but what brand will you use this year. There is as much difference in plant foods as there is in pigs or corn. 250 lbs. of plant food in one form may be worth 450 lbs. in another. For the value of plant food depends upon its form. Analysis alone is not a safe guide in buying fertilizer.

You want fertilizer that will supply the Nitrogen, Phosphoric Acid, Potash in forms available to the plant. You want them supplied throughout growth, so that the plant will not lack food when it needs it. You need

"AA" Brand Fertilizers

Which contains Nitrogen in several forms, feeds the plant throughout growth. We employ some sources of Nitrogen that cannot be washed away.

The Phosphoric Acid is available to the plant at all times.

We use the kind of potash salts best fitted to different crops.

In real value to the plant these fertilizers are as superior to dry mixed fertilizers as bread is superior to wheat.

The mixing of fertilizers is a task for experts.

The grease must be rendered out, for grease is no fertilizer. Besides, it makes the goods sticky, undrillable, and some times makes them burn.

In the chemical manufacturing of fertilizers, there is a great deal of waste. The chemical waste, under no chemical which discharges into deep holding from 100 to 400 tons apiece. There they rot at a high degree of heat.

By this process plant foods that have been insoluble become soluble, and so available to the plant.

House mixed or "dry mixed" goods cannot equal these, because they are only crude ingredients mixed together.

Whoever "AA" Brand Fertilizers are used some reports of bigger crops. Try them this year. Write us for interesting information and the name of our nearest dealer.

On Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock the shrieking of whistles from a passing locomotive and the wild cry of the firemen at the power house, together with the ringing of the bell in the court house tower awakened the people of Statesboro. The dwelling occupied by Mr. J. J. Chandler and family was in a light blaze. The fire department arrived on the scene in short order and did some fine work saving a portion of the burning building, but the trouble was the entire structure was ablaze when the alarm was turned in. Mr. Chandler was the only occupant of the house at the time. He was aroused in a front room by some of the early arrivals. He emerged from it with his overcoat and shoes on, seemingly not having undressed for the night. Mrs. Chandler and the children having left for Waynesboro the afternoon before, where they were moving. The furniture was all packed ready for shipment, part of which was saved. Mr. Chandler carried seven hundred dollars insurance on the furniture. The building was owned by Mr. S. F. Olliff and was only partially insured. It was built twenty-five years ago, and removed a few years ago. At the time it was built only the very best material was used. Mr. Olliff building the house for his own home. The flames ate their way stubbornly under two streams of water and only turned loose when literally flooded with water.

The origin of the fire seems to be a mystery. Night Policeman Bahr says he passed the building ten minutes before it was seen in a light blaze and no sign of fire was visible. The fact that the blaze burst out from almost every portion of the house at almost the same time cannot be accounted for by the firemen who fought the flames.

The fight to save this home at such an hour in a biting cold morning shows the necessity for better equipment for the firemen, they

The undersigned have leased the upper floor of the J. G. Brannen building over the Singer Sewing Machine office, north of the court house, and will move into the same in the next few days, where we will be better prepared to serve our clients and friends. Respectfully, Brannen & Booth.

If you see a fellow approaching you with a smile all over his face, don't think that he is a candidate for some office, for the chances are that you will be slandering him to accuse him of such motives. He is probably a fellow who is anxious to book your order for your fertilizers for the coming season. Nearly all of the big factories have representatives on the job here and they are fighting hard for the Bulloch county business. While the prices will all be about the same, as usual, but the rivalry is here just the same.

Having moved my stock of goods to the store formerly occupied by Messrs. Chandler Bros. on East Main street. I take this method of asking my old friends and customers, and the public generally to give us a call. A full line of staple and fancy groceries, fresh meats, etc., always in stock. His prices are right and he asks the farmers of Bulloch county to call on him and get his prices and terms before they buy elsewhere. He will be in a position to benefit the farmers by seeing him before buying.

Mr. F. D. Olliff will not be with J. W. Wilson this season. Though he has representatives in almost every section of the county he will appreciate if the farmers will either call on them or see him or write him at Statesboro, Ga. Remember that J. W. On December 3d, 4th and 5th Buick Motor Cars Dominated and Won the 500-Mile New York Reliability Run—conducted by the Motor Dealers Contest Association.

BUICK

Cars Won the New York Trophy And the only Perfect Scores made by any Cars.

THE $1,985 BUICK SIX made the only perfect score made by six-cylinder car. THE $1,050 BUICK, the lowest priced touring car in the run, made the only other perfect score, defeating all Sixes and Fours of other Makes. THE $1,285 BUICK RUNABOUT, made the shortest brake stops (both service and emergency). THE $950 BUICK RUNABOUT made the greatest mileage per gallon gasoline (average 19 miles per gallon for entire run). The Five Buick cars entered in the run averaged 15.77 miles per gallon for the entire 2,575 miles covered. All Five Buick Cars made perfect road scores, perfect brake, clutch and gear set tests. Buick Cars won both the large and small car classes.

An Official Run Under Rigid Rules. A Wonderful Showing, Says Mail.

Remember, this was an official run. Cars were sealed; observers of other makes of competing cars were with the drivers whenever they were near the cars. Penalties were given for inoperative starters, tire blowouts, burned-out electric bulbs, loose nuts etc. Steering gear play, spring sag, battery tests, body rattle and defects of any kind prevented cars from perfect scores. The New York Evening Mail said in part: "Two Buicks capture Reliability Run Test with perfect scores. It was the most strenuous test from the standpoint of a technical examination to which automobiles have ever been subjected in this country. Everything was sealed up tight so that there was no chance for adjustment or repairs without the knowledge of the observers or the technical committee. The entrants showed real worthy courage and confidence in their cars to submit them to such a test. Altogether, the cars made a wonderful showing."

What the Run Proved.

The run was only another official demonstration of the correct design, good material and careful workmanship and economy of Buick Cars. Buick cars are feared by every entrant in every contest in which they participate.

Phenomenal Demand for Buick Cars.

Our business is the largest in our history. We have been behind in filling orders all the Fall. We are building 3,000 Buicks for 1914. There will not be enough Buicks to supply the demand. If you wish to own and run one of these popular cars a demonstration now and an order placed will assure you of satisfactory date of delivery.

NEGROES ARE TO

HANG, SENTENCED

Convicted of Brutal Murder of Mrs. Seth Irby.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 12.—Judge Ben Hill Monday afternoon imposed the death penalty upon three negroes, Robert Paschall and George and William Hart, convicted of the brutal murder of Mrs. Seth Irby, of Jefferson county. Judge Hill characterized the crime as one of the most atrocious and cold-blooded in all his experience on the bench. The negroes will be hanged in the Fulton county jail February 6th, between the hours of 10 and 2 o'clock. The trial began at 9 o'clock Monday. Some time was consumed in selecting a jury. The only witnesses for the defense were the negroes themselves, who made statements to the court denying any part in the crime. The jury went out at 3:15, returning with the verdict of guilty twenty minutes later. Jailer Plunkett, of Augusta, where the prisoners were sequestered for some time, and Bailiff Whittle, of the Jefferson county superior court, were two of the principal witnesses for the prosecution. Fear of a lynching by the infuriated residents of Jefferson county led to a spectacular cross country trip by automobile in which the three prisoners, none of them over 20 years of age, were safely taken to Augusta. Feeling was so high there that it later was decided to hold the trial in Atlanta. County officials on the witness stand told of obtaining confessions from each of the defendants after their arrest. George Hart was said to have broken down first and related a story of revolting brutality. He confessed, it was testified, that after attacking the woman, they killed her by crushing in her skull with an axe. An attempt was made by the defense to discredit the alleged confessions, by showing that they had been obtained improperly. Representing the three negroes, by appointment, were W. L. Phillips, J. R. Phillips, Frank Hardeman, R. G. Price and Judge Atkinson. The state was represented by Solicitor R. Lee Moore, of Bulloch county; Solicitor Dorsey and State Representative Robert N. Hardeman.

Going After Russian Consul

A case in which a shotgun and two old saws have figured lately is liable to become an international issue. Three men, subjects of the czar of Russia, viz: Stauch and Peter Sadowskie, and one other whose name we did not learn, employed Mr. A. L. McCorkle to move their effects to the camp of Mr. H. R. Williams, near Register. They failed to pay the bill and Mr. McCorkle swore out a laborer's lien and seized the gun and the two saws.

In turn, the Russians swore out warrants against McCorkle and the levying constable charging them with burglary. They were given trial here this week and acquitted. Now, the next turn is the Russians have gone to Savannah to appeal to the Russian consul stationed at that point to interfere for them.

There is an old story about two nations going to war about an old bucket; but we presume this case of the old shot gun and two saws will hardly assume such menacing proportions.

More Attention Should be Paid to Live Stock.

Editor News:

As the fairs of the county and state were a success I want some one to formulate a plan by which there will be more success.

I don't want to place the burden on Mr. Franklin to furnish to the next fair all the horse stock, or nearly so, and I don't want our sister county, Tattnall, to have the burden and to be altogether the leader in farm stock, when I know Bulloch has got as much backbone along the line of business men and farmers as she. The business men and bankers of Tattnall have caused a change in work stock of Tattnall, to a great extent, from mules to Percheron brood mares.

Now, Mr. Editor, you know, and all thinking men know, that the boll weevil is practically here—fifty miles of the Georgia line and traveling at the rate of 50 to 125 miles a year. We must have mares to raise stock to pull heavy machinery and prepare for the weevil and high priced stock which is now upon us. It seems to me that the bankers, business men and farmers who are able are going to help I want some or all of the above men to make a start, and hurrah for those who will.

I am writing this for a little rush and will take one or two of the first car load of brood mares that will land for the purpose of which I am talking. I believe Statesboro can cause the plan to be accomplished.

The 4th district is going to do her part, I think, for we have men here yet, just such as Statesboro is built up with. Have you ever thought, Mr. Editor, that Statesboro is largely made up of a large number of men from the old 4th.

Mr. Editor, I hope you will excuse me for side-tracking, for Statesboro has good and influential men raised there and came from elsewhere.

Now, I am in favor of the farmers and other people who will make this change in stock which will keep the county from being stuck with small and probably sorry stock that's being shipped in and retailed out by the wholesale. I don't think I will make a mistake right here to quote a little of the Progressive Farmer, written by Mr. Charles A. Whittle, of Athens, Ga., "As a result of the two meetings of the farmers, an order for two car loads of Percheron mares was placed with the college of agriculture which had offered to go to the market and select good types and see that the farmers were not imposed upon either in quality of horses or prices. The college offered to do this without charge."

Two worthy stallions were brought into Tattnall with these mares. Mr. Whittle says that Georgia pays out about $1,000,000 a month for work stock, a loss for which there is no good reason. Mr. Editor, I will send a copy of this to both papers, and if you will publish it and help urge the cause I am sure you will do much good. Let each person who will want a mare or who are willing to urge the cause, send you a card for or against the plan and publish his name so the people will know what is wanted, and other steps will be taken.

Yours very truly, B. O. McELVERN.

NO MORE FREE PASSES ON ROADS

State Railroad Commission Decided Against Them.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 15.—The last of the free passes in Georgia went out of existence Thursday, following a decision by the state railroad commission, based on an opinion from Judge Hines, the attorney for the commission.

When the law abolishing free passes went into effect there were certain old contracts outstanding by which it was deemed that the officers and directors of the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company had the right to ride free over the Georgia railroad.

Under the terms of that contract they have been riding free when they wished ever since. But recently the question came up in the railroad commission, and after a careful and exhaustive study of the law on the subject the attorney decided that the rights of the officers and directors under the old contract was contrary to the law against free passes. It will therefore cease by order of the commission.

As a corollary of the above, the Death of Henry Murphy.

On Monday afternoon, after an illness of several weeks, at the home of his son, Col. J. M. Murphy near Eureka, Mr. Henry Murphy breathed his last. The deceased was 87 years old at the time of his death, and it was age infirmities that was largely responsible for his end. The remains were interred in the cemetery at Macon, Ga., on Tuesday afternoon. A large number of sorrowing friends and relatives were out to pay their respects to his memory.

With the passing of Mr. Murphy another one of Bulloch's older citizens has answered the roll call.

In this issue appears the announcement of Mr. John T. Jones, who enters the race for sheriff. Mr. Jones has served as deputy sheriff for the past three years, and if elected will make a good officer.

Taken From Train, Dies Shortly Afterward

On Tuesday morning Mr. Rowan Durden boarded the train at his home town, Covena, in Emanuel county, to accompany his son, T. F. Durden, a young man twenty-six years old, to Savannah to undergo an operation for appendicitis. Before they got far from home the young man began to grow worse and by the time the train reached Statesboro he was carried to the Statesboro Sanitarium where medical aid was quickly summoned, but the case was too far gone and death followed in a short time afterwards. It was a particularly sad death. The remains were prepared for burial here and shipped back on the afternoon train to his home in Covena.

W. C. T. U. Will Rally.

On Thursday afternoon, at three o'clock, The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold a prohibition rally at the Methodist church, and again at 7:30 in the evening. The entire day has been set aside as a day of fasting and prayer throughout the country.

Speakers of local prominence are on the program, some of whom have always been on the other side.

Notice.

Feeling, as I do, deeply appreciative of the kind and liberal patronage extended me during the year which has recently come to a close, I take this method of thanking my friends and customers for the same. I will be again on my usual rounds, with the same high class line of Watkins Goods, and will be glad to serve my customers and friends as before, guaranteeing them the best goods for the money at all times. Respectfully, P. H. PRISTON, The Watkins Man.

LIME YOUR LANDS.

Fully 75 per cent. of Southern soils lack Lime, and when once your soil becomes sour, acid and fertilizer, sick, fertilizers avail little. Until you correct the cause, you can never secure the full effects from your fertilizers.

Piedmont Portland Agricultural Lime is an alkali, the opposite of an acid; thus it sweetens acid soils. When you apply phosphoric acids and potash, a large portion of these elements revert or go back to insoluble compounds. In this dormant state they are worthless. Piedmont Portland Agricultural Lime, because of its ingredients, sets free these elements imprisoned in your soil, insures the plant receiving its food. It binds together light sand lands, opens up stiff, and regulates the consistency of your soil; it dissolves vegetable matter, making humus.

You whose soils are lacking in Lime—and all do—those who do without it, pay the cost many times over without getting the benefits that they should have from their crops.
