Heaviest Snow Storm in Last Twenty Years

The snow storm which spread a white blanket over the entire south last week was the heaviest seen here in the past twenty years. The damage to the fruit crop by the freeze which followed the snow will probably be light, on account of the fact that the trees had not budded out sufficiently to be frozen.

The damage to vegetables is confined mostly to English peas. The cabbage, onions and other crops didn't suffer as badly as peas did. There is considerable anxiety about the Irish potato crop. It is feared that the seed has rotted in the ground.

The snowfall in Statesboro was about five inches. Considerable damage was done to timber, and the telephone and telegraph companies had lots of trouble with their wires, the service of each being crippled for two or three days.

The County Wide School Tax Question.

The petitions being circulated asking for a county wide election on the free school system are beginning to bring out some agitation. We understand that the petitions have been pretty generally signed, and if that is an index to the vote on the question, it would seem that the tax would be voted for favorably at the ballot box when the people turn out to make their choice. The News is not expressing a choice in this matter, inasmuch as we live in town, where we already have these facilities, and are not affected one way or the other. But the matter will be watched with a great deal of interest as the campaign begins to wax warm.

The Governor's Selection.

The selection of Col. W. S. West, of Valdosta, by Gov. Slaton to fill the unexpired term of Senator Bacon gives pretty general satisfaction. Of course, there are stronger men in the state than Col. West, but the reasons for his appointment were based on sound logic, and the appointment is pretty generally approved.

SOUTH GEORGIAN WINS THE PLUM

Col. W. S. West of Valdosta Gets Appointment.

Atlanta, Feb. 25.—Col. W. S. West, of Valdosta, this afternoon was appointed by Governor Slaton as United States senator to succeed the late Senator A. O. Bacon. The appointment was announced shortly after 4 o'clock.

It is made for the ad interim term, or until the vacancy is filled by an election by the people, which will take place in November, when the regular congressional elections are held.

It is understood Col. West will not be a candidate for the remainder of Senator Bacon's term. The appointment would have been announced this morning but for the fact that Gov. Slaton delayed it to give audience to a number of delegations who sought him in the interest of other candidates.

Col. West has always taken a keen interest in Georgia politics. From 1892 to 1897 he served in the house of representatives from Lowndes county and in 1898 was a member of the state senate. He declined election to the house the following year, but returned to that body in 1902-04. In 1905-06, he was a member of the state senate and was elected president of that body. The Senate of that year was a noted one, and President West was widely congratulated upon its achievements. In 1908 Col. West was sent as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Denver.

Slayers of Mrs. Irby Not Given a New Trial

The three negroes convicted of the murder of Mrs. Sarah Irby, of Jefferson county, who were carried to Atlanta for trial on a charge of venue ordered by Judge Rawlings, through their attorneys, a new trial was asked for, which has been refused. Now the case goes to the supreme court and justice is again cheated out of its just dues, for the present, at least. Again we see what course the Cato and Reed matter would have taken had it not happened as it did.

Anderson in Governor's Race

It now begins to look like Hon. J. Randolph Anderson, of Savannah, would soon wear the title of "Governor" Anderson. This will be the first time that this section of the state has filled this important office in eighty years.

Mr. Anderson will go in to fill out the term of Governor Slaton who will resign to make the race for the senate. This will give Mr. Anderson a leverage on the place that will be hard to defeat.

While we have had perhaps the best governor we have had in many years, yet Mr. Anderson will make equally as good, and we predict that the people will see in him the proper man to succeed himself.

Negro Woman Found Dead

On Monday morning Edith Smith, a negro woman was found dead in her cabin near Grimsby. The woman was left sitting before the hearth when her eight children went to bed. Nothing more was known of her until next morning she was found dead stretched before the fire place. No signs of violence were found on her body, and it was deemed unnecessary to hold an inquest. It is not known whether she was the result of a

FELDER TO RUN FOR THE SENATE

Will Be a Candidate to Succeed Mr. West.

Macon, Ga., Feb. 25.—Within the next twenty-four hours the official announcement of Thomas S. Felder, attorney general of Georgia, for the office of United States senator, to fill out the unexpired term of the late Senator Bacon, will be published in the official organs of the Smith faction in Georgia.

Mr. Felder is in Washington, but wired friends here that they could go ahead and make the announcement at once. It is understood that he will start his campaign right away.

To the politically wise ones it looks like one of two things. Either Felder or Congressman Hardwick, who has semi-officially announced for the office, have broken with Senator Hoke Smith, chief of the Smith faction; or Senator Smith has pulled out entirely and told his camp followers to "go to it" and grab the office if they can, he taking no part in the race one way or the other.

With Mr. Felder in the race, Macon has two candidates for the office, John H. Cooper having announced several days ago.

Giles May Oppose Strange

According to a dispatch from Lyons in the Savannah Morning News of Sunday, it looks as if Col. Enoch J. Giles would be a candidate for judge of the superior court of the middle judicial circuit, against Judge H. B. Strange, of this city, who has already announced. Col. Giles would make a formidable candidate, either in a straight race, or with Judge Rawlings and Judge Strange both in the running. The friends of Judge Strange did not expect opposition from this source, inasmuch as Judge Strange gave Col. Giles such active support in his race for congress here in 1910. But let them all run. The more the merrier.

Family Ran Him Out of the Race

An interesting announcement appears in the last issue of the Statesboro Forest-Bird, in the case of Mr. John W. Hawks, who, in announcing his withdrawal from the race for clerk of the superior court, gives as his reasons that so many of his family connections were seeking office in the same primary, that it made it necessary for him to withdraw.

He says in part: "I had several of my friends come to me and advise me to drop out if the whole family connection were going to run. So I did not want to go against the advice of my friends. I wish to thank the many people who have given me indications of their support, and will say that if I am living I will be in the race next time, even if all my relatives run."

Hardwick to Run.

Atlanta, Feb. 24.—Congressman T. W. Hardwick, of Sandersville, was in Atlanta today, and to intimate friends he verified printed statements to the effect that he would be a candidate to succeed Senator A. O. Bacon.

Mr. Hardwick is cautious about his statement yet, but he left no room for doubt as to his intention at this time to offer for the senate to ship in the federal election this fall.

He also made the statement that he was not the candidate of any faction or group of political persons in the state, but that having a laudable ambition to fill this high office expected to make a vigorous campaign for it.

His entry will precipitate a hot congressional campaign in the Tenth. Already Carl Vinson, of Baldwin, and Bob Hardeman, of Jefferson, are candidates. Mr. Hardwick's decision will probably bring others into the field for his place in congress.

THE STATESBORO NEWS

Published at Statesboro, Ga.

J. R. MILLER, Editor and Proprietor

Entered at Statesboro post office as second class mail matter.

Thirteen Years Old.

With this issue we complete our thirteenth volume. This represents the age of The Statesboro News under its present organization and name. The paper, in fact, is 21 years old, having succeeded The Statesboro Star, which was established in 1893, the present management being the same as the one that started The Star twenty one years ago.

The policy of the paper has never changed during all these years, in that we have always tried to stand for what we believed to be right and published the news, as we found it. During its entire existence there have been at least some who have stood by it. We, perhaps, have three hundred names on our list now who were on the old Statesboro Star list twenty one years ago, and whose names have never been erased.

Twenty-one years is a long time. During this period we have seen the little old burg, with a few hovering shanties, rise into one of the prettiest little cities in the state; have seen the grand old county, whose people were allowing on their resources and allowing their opportunities to run to waste, wake up and assert themselves, have seen the backwoods of Bulloch traversed with railroads and automobile lines, and the name of what was once an almost unknown section, to where its name is on the end of every tongue, from one end of the state to the other, known as the state to the state.

A thousand men who were living here when the paper was started have departed long ago to their final reward, and several thousand more have either grown to manhood, and are now taking the reins of government in hand, while the young men of that day are fast becoming old and passing from the stage. Men who stood by and predicted the early demise of this paper at that time have long since taken up that long sleep that knows no awakening. It is conservative to say that twenty thousand people have been born in Bulloch since The Statesboro News and its predecessor came into existence.

The paper has rec'd. the ups and downs of the community, its times making interesting history. It hopes to live long with its many friends and continue to contribute its share to the uplift of its town and county.

A Mixup in Figures.

Hon. A. A. Turner, one of Bulloch's representatives in the legislature, is out in a card opposing the county-wide free tax for the school purposes proposition. Mr. Turner states that as a member of the legislature he voted for an item of taxation amounting to two hundred and twenty five thousand dollars for free schools. Our information is that the common school fund to which Mr. Turner probably refers is probably two and half million dollars.

EDWARDS SOUNDS

BATTLE TOSSEN

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Holding that Georgia is too big a state to be forever split by factional differences based on the personalities of two men, Representative Edwards in a statement this afternoon sounded the battle cry to South Georgia to take care of her own. The statement reflects impatience at the apparent tendency of the state to line up behind its old leaders or their prominent followers, and calls for a new deal. There are plenty of able men in South Georgia who could be clothed with live issues and if the issues are lacking, then the fight should be geographical, it is urged.

The statement follows: "I am for a South Georgia man for the governorship and one of the senators to go. South Georgia has been somewhat recognized by the appointment of Senator West, but nothing like the people will recognize her if it is put where they can vote. Both senators ought not to come from Atlanta, nor from North Georgia. North Georgia has 'hogged up' the important places for many years. It is time the sons of South Georgia, who are as able and deserving as those from other sections of the state, were demanding what is their due. The people of Georgia will be fair about it."

"You may say for me, too, that Georgia is too good and too big a state to forever be split wide open by what some are pleased to call the Brown faction and the Smith faction. These places should be determined upon issues and geographical location, instead of political factions that have in the past been headed by two men. There are plenty of able men in South Georgia, and this fight for the governorship and the governorship ought to be South Georgia against the field. We ought to concede and grant one of the places to North Georgia, but not yield an inch on the other."

"What have we to offer our South Georgia boys? We are disfranchised, practically, by North Georgia politicians who 'cop all the good places and tell us we can wait. In recognition is not given to South Georgia, which is rapidly increasing and developing, it will start a sentiment for a division of the state. I am for that; I am for getting in behind South Georgia candidates and simply winning with them. That's all."

The friends of Mrs. G. C. Carmichael will be pleased to learn that she is now recovering from a recent illness in the Statesboro sanitarium.

METTER'S NEW POST OFFICE BUILDING

Congressman Chas. G. Edwards has introduced a bill in the lower house of congress appropriating seventy-five thousand dollars for a postoffice building at Metter, and also the same amount at Brooklet. The matter as refers to the latter city amounts simply to a compliment, but it is an asset of untold value to the people of Metter.

Of course everybody knows neither of these hills stand any more chance to be enacted into law than perhaps a hundred other bills that Mr. Edwards has introduced, the fact that the town has reached the stage where she is even remotely considered for a building of this magnitude, will be used as one of the evidences of the strides made by the town and section, and will be of vast benefit to them in their fight for the creation of Candler county.

Mr. Edwards, like the local candidates, is extremely anxious to stay on good terms with a people who have the reputation of standing shoulder to shoulder, rewarding their friends and punishing their enemies. The people of the new county section have absolute control of Bulloch county affairs, inasmuch as they hold the balance of power as between two local factions.

They have been standing together for the past several years, and they will continue to do so for some time to come at least. The men who stand up and fight them have been subjected to a two fold penalty, that of the ill will of a people who are in deadly earnest in their demands, and the infidelity of a people whom they were striving to serve. They have seen the men who are the beneficiaries of their efforts—the people who have betrayed them the worst.

In the last fight against Candler county, after laborious and strenuous canvassing, a small sum was raised to defray the expenses of the fight. This burden was borne by a limited few, the average property holder refusing to contribute a penny, one of our leading and heaviest taxpayers having ordered a man out of his place of business because he was insisting that he ought to contribute a small part of the amount raised to be expended in defraying expenses of men to Atlanta whose interest was involved. One man living in the new county territory, owning at least fifty thousand dollars worth of property that he was sure would be subjected to a higher rate of taxation, required that Statesboro pay his expenses to go to Atlanta and testify.

The conclusion of all this is the men who have been bearing the brunt of this fight are growing tired. The sensation of being shot from the front and stabbed from the back at the same time is due for a little while, but it becomes monotonous in the end. It is more congenial to do like our distinguished congressman has done, and like all others are doing, cater to the demands of the new county people, attend their barbecues, drink lemonade until folks think your legs are hollow and eat barbecue until you resemble a stuffed frog.

The men who have been on the firing line have had a pretty tough experience, but others can try their hand if they like—they'll at least be wiser, whether they are sadder or not.

In the meantime we would like to see our congressman hand not only his bills for Metter and Brooklet, but the one for Statesboro. We understand there are no barriers in the way of the Statesboro bill. The city has met all the requirements, the patronage of the office is within the requirements, and we are entitled to this building, and we are sure we will get it after awhile. Our information is, however, that Uncle Sam don't throw away his cash on chasing rainbows, or just

Congressional Race Sleeping

It looks like things are getting awfully tame in the First District—a race that bid fair at one time to be the liveliest in the whole bunch. While it would be expected that in a county like Bulloch, where the early county primary was occupying the center of attraction, that the congressional race would be sidetracked somewhat, yet the same conditions seem to exist elsewhere in the district. Is it that the folks regard one candidate as good as the other, or is it that they are just taking a rest before the storm that will break on us a little later on? We will wait and see.

CERTAIN TO BE OPPOSITION TO RECEIVER

It now appears certain that there will be opposition to Receiver of Tax District congressman J. D. McElven, notwithstanding that this is his first term. The opposition will be either by M. D. Olliff or D. C. Banks, or may be both of them. The friends of the receiver answer the first term argument by the fact that Mr. McElven ran against former Receiver T. A. Wilson when he was serving his first term.

Will Edwards Stand for the Senate?

A lengthy interview was published in The Savannah Morning News of Sunday, on the authority of Congressman Chas. G. Edwards, on the South Georgia idea, pointing out strongly that South Georgia ought not only to have the governorship after a lapse of some eighty or ninety years, but that section is entitled to one of the places in the United States senate. The argument given is strong, and the doctrines we all know to be true.

It is a known fact among those who have been close to the First District congressman for many years, that he has been entertaining an idea of going into state politics (either the governorship or some other office) wherein the people of the entire state would take a hand.

While the governorship has appealed to him more effectively than the senate, yet, with Mr. Anderson from Savannah in the race for governor, Mr. Edwards would hardly enter the race at this time.

Therefore, cherishing an ambition to rise higher, as he probably does, it would not be surprising to see Mr. Edwards enter the race for the senate. That may not be. We will wait and see.

Progressive Losses

In the West Henry Vollmer, the Democratic candidate for congress in the second Iowa district, was won by a plurality variously estimated from 1,600 to 2,000, but Iowa is normally a republican state, the division between the republican party and the third party having carried it for Wilson in 1912 and the chief significance in the return is to be found in the marked evidence of republican gains and "progressive" losses.

In this district, in 1912, the combined Taft and Roosevelt vote was 21,900, which was about the normal republican vote, and Wilson polled 700 fewer votes than were cast for the democratic candidate for congress in 1908, thus indicating that it was republican division, and that alone, that gave the state to the democrats.

It is now evident that many of the bolting republicans are returning to their old allegiance. That the republicans are united and the third party is weakening is indicated, not only by the report from Iowa, but from California and other sections of the west. Taken by itself, this is a good sign, for "Progressive" radicalism is more dangerous than even Republican standpatism.

The democratic party represents a desirable mean between these two extremes, and insofar as democratic success depends on the division between the republican and the radical third party, the country's best interest demands that that division remain permanent. Although the republicans are gaining and the bolting movers are losing, there is every prospect that for some time to come the division will be sufficiently marked to give the democrats their opportunity. Such a prospect will be welcomed by all intelligent observers who have the country's true interests at heart.—Macon Telegraph.

CORN CLUB WORK WORTH MILLIONS

South Eastern New Era of Agricultural Production, Declares H. G. Hastings.

Atlanta, Ga.—(Special).—That the Boy's Corn Club movement means a great deal more to the South than the average citizen has ever dreamed, is the conclusion presented in an interesting interview by H. G. Hastings of Atlanta, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and manager of the Georgia State Corn Show, which is presented annually in the state capitol building.

"We are facing," says Mr. Hastings, "an era of agricultural production such as the world has never before witnessed. Every year since the first corn club was organized, the movement has seen more than remarkable growth. One year's record has become insignificant when that of the next year doubled it; and by that time that many more boys have gone into the work and have vastly increased results not only by their own efforts, but through inspiration to fathers, brothers and neighbors until millions of dollars have already been added to corn production in the South."

"And yet this is but a forecast of what is to come. There are now being organized as an outgrowth of the corn club work, Three and Four-Crop Clubs. The boys will plant oats and cowpeas on their former corn acre, thus diversifying their crops and renewing the soil, while a new acre will be taken for corn cultivation. In some sections cotton has been added to the list, on a third acre, and the four-Crop Club boys have already gone to work."

"Another outgrowth of the corn club is the Pig Club. Southern boys have learned the truth of the story of the unsuccessful farmer who sent to a more prosperous neighbor to buy a hog. The neighbor sold him the hog, but with it presented him a sack of corn. 'You have got the hog under your arm,' he told the farmer, 'but I want you to remember that the hog is in the sack.'"

What Will the Harvest Be?

You only bank or spend the earnings from your farm. The important question then is "What Will the Harvest Be?" Will you get a bale to the acre, or a bale to two acres? It's the extra hundred pounds of cotton to the acre and the extra ten bushels of corn, at the same labor and fertilizer expense that makes the bank balance grow and provides the needed comforts of life.

Free : Fertilizer

One more boll per stalk treated will pay your Fertilizer bill. The loss of the extra boll doubles the cost to you. Are you getting free fertilizer or paying double? This is a very vital question to you because you reap the benefit and stand the loss, not the Fertilizer agent that sells you.

HERE IS THE PROOF:

"I will get 2 to 2½ bales to the acre this year. I used B. & S. Special Sea Island Fertilizer at the rate of 800 pounds to the acre, putting in 500 pounds when I planted and 300 pounds when the cotton was about 15 inches high. It is the FINEST GUANO I ever used, and I will use no other brand as long as I can get your B. & S. Special Sea Island Fertilizer. I will give you the names of some of the men that saw the cotton growing. Yours truly,

A. J. YOUNGBLOOD, Swainsboro, Ga.

We, the undersigned, have seen the cotton growing on the farm of A. J. Youngblood, 6 miles south of Swainsboro, in Emanuel County, Georgia, and must say, it is the BEST we EVER SAW IN THE COTTON BELT OF GEORGIA.

You want the splendid benefit others are getting. Enjoy them this year. See our agent in your neighborhood.

If you are going to plant corn this spring, either to fill your own corn crib or to enter the corn club contest, the corn to plant is Hastings' Prolific.

Hastings' Prolific won the Georgia record with 214 bushels to one acre; the Mississippi record with 225 bushels; the Arkansas record with 172 3/4; the Florida record, 129 1/4. Hastings' Prolific has won five-sixths of the corn club prizes in Georgia. It has the highest yield per acre records in every Southern state, three years out of four.

This corn produces a grain and the size of the finest quality. It is the corn that it will pay you best to plant year in and year out. ### Campaign on Against Sis Cow.

That we are going to have a pretty spirited campaign in the election of the 18th when the question will be submitted as to whether the cows will be allowed to roam at large on the streets, is now very apparent.

A meeting called at the instance of the Civic League was held in the court house on Friday night. There was a good sized crowd out and the question of superintending the cows before the people was freely discussed by a number of those present. Dr. A. J. Moorey presided and a number of addresses were made, all of which bore on the same line, viz: that the time had come when it was necessary to keep the cows and other live stock from roaming at large on the streets of the city.

It was pointed out that in a city like our own where there are hundreds of open sewers and cesspools all around the city, it is a disgrace to have the cows and other live stock roaming at large on the streets of the city. It was also pointed out that the cows are a nuisance to the people and that they are a danger to the children. It was also pointed out that the cows are a nuisance to the people and that they are a danger to the children.

seemed that the meeting was practically of one accord.

But it is a known fact that there is still another element who believe that when they are compelled to keep their old milk cows off the streets; that their constitutional liberties are being assailed, and they are going to assert themselves.

The ladies of the city who compose the civic league are appealing to the voters to stand by them and vote the cows off the streets. The politicians who are asking for votes in the county primary are afraid to touch the question with a ten-foot pole. Just what the result will be will be told when the votes are counted.

BOX SUPPER

BULLDOCH OIL MILL BURNS LEASE TRACT FOR AGRICULTURAL FAIR

Early Sunday Morning Fire Destroys Machinery Section of Oil Mill.

On Sunday morning about six o'clock residents of the southern section of the city were interrupted in their regular Sunday morning snooze by the rapid firing of shot guns.

This proved to have been the work of Col. R. Lee Moore who, on seeing the flames eating out the vitals of the Bulloch Oil Mill, decided he would sound some sort of alarm.

In a comparatively short time citizens and members of the fire department arrived, plenty of hose and plenty of men to handle it were at hand, but there was one essential missing, and that was water. The nozzles of the hose were poked into the windows of the brick building where the fire was eating up valuable machinery, in vain. A stream of water was coming that wouldn't have been sufficient to have coped with the flames had a hen house been ablaze.

A train of cars loaded with fertilizers had just been placed on the side track opposite the oil mill and the blaze set several of these alight. Fortunately the railroad company had a hose engine under steam which was rushed down to the mill and the cars were drawn away from the flames with several of them ablaze.

The fire started somewhere in the machinery room where the cotton seed is pressed into pulp, and where the rollers are located. The room containing the large engine was saved, with a hand hose manned by volunteer citizens who reached the scene early.

Parties who gave the alarm stated that they could obtain no response from the power house when it was called over the phone. Things down there seemed to have been dead or asleep. The flames, however, were confined to the brick structure, and the damage was practically covered with insurance.

OPPOSITION TO COURT HOUSE TAX

There is a well seated sentiment running all through the county to the effect that the expenditure for court house improvement purposes to be followed by a tax levy to cover the same is ill advised and unwarranted. The majority of the people fail to see the great crying need for this improvement at this time. They have failed to see why it is that any one of our officials have not ample room in which to transact the business of the county, and the time has run so long since the court room has been overcrowded that it is doubtful if any one could recall the occasion.

Some of the largest property owners in Statesboro take the position that patching on the old building means throwing money away; that we ought to put up with it until we outgrow it, and then build one that will meet the requirements of the people for many years to come. The contract has been awarded, however, and the building will be constructed.

Hardwick Announces

Sunday's papers carried the formal announcement of Congressman Thomas W. Hardwick, of the Tenth District, as a candidate for the United States senate. Mr. Hardwick is a man of acknowledged ability, and will make a strong case. Other developments will be given.

47 Acres Near Savannah, Farmer Hughes to Begin Work at Once.

Forty-seven acres of the Poplar Grove tract, situated near the intersection of the Isle of Hope car line and Waters road, have been leased for five years by the First Georgia District Fair Association, and work will begin Monday in the preparation of the soil for cultivation. The products will be placed on exhibition at the agricultural fair which will be held in Savannah next fall.

This announcement was made in Savannah yesterday morning by James R. Miller, of Statesboro, general manager of the fair association. "We have just signed a lease on this property for five years," said Mr. Miller. "We consider it ideal in every respect for our purpose. The ground is fertile, and the location is easily accessible both from county paved roads and the Savannah Electric Company's line."

The tract is all cleared. It has been under cultivation by negro squatters. It is a part of the estate owned by Mr. DeRenne. We propose treating the land highly with the best of fertilizer and intensifying the cultivation. Already we have made a contract with H. B. Hughes to superintend the farming operations. He is an expert and should produce the most excellent results.

Mr. Miller says laborers will start next Monday clearing off the land. Men have already been employed and two mules have been secured for the purpose. Everything in the way of truck that can be raised on Chatham county soil will be cultivated on the tract, and efforts will be made to raise the very finest quality of the products. The products will be placed on exhibition next fall, but not in competition with the farmers from other counties.

Mr. Miller says the products raised on the Chatham county tract will be prepared in the most attractive style for exhibition purposes. Some of them will be canned. None of these articles will be entered in the prize competition for the reason that they will be raised under the supervision of the management of the fair association.

The date for the first district fair has been set for Nov. 18-23. It will be held in buildings that are soon to be erected on the ground that has just been leased near Savannah. The fair association is a member of the Georgia Association of Fairs.

Mr. Miller says the railroads have arranged to grant reduced rates to Savannah for the fair.

Morgan Olmiff Loses Garage by Fire.

Sunday night about 10 o'clock the fire whistle tore loose and everybody got on to see where the fire was. Quite a crowd rushed down to Mr. Morgan Olmiff's, on South Main street, to either assist in saving property or rubber neck while the fire raged. The fire was eating up the machinery and the automobile house together with the auto, and the smoke house near by, with its contents, were destroyed. Mr. Olmiff's large barn caught and the roof and one side were burned, but the fire was gotten under control before the building was destroyed.
