BIG SALE NOW ON!

OUR BIG ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE

Opened last Saturday with large crowds of satisfied buyers. We are now filling our counters and shelves with new goods that we did not have room to display before. The sale is now on and will continue

During This and Next Week

As announced in this paper last week we will throw our entire stock of High Grade Merchandise on the market at Slaughter Prices for CASH ONLY. Those who have patronized our former Clearance Sales need no introduction to them, as we have always produced High Grade Merchandise at ridiculously Low Prices. This year we are in position to sink the knife really deeper into real values, as we are overloaded in some departments. This fact can be proven by a visit to our store during this sale. Our customers and friends are respectfully invited to come in and take advantage of this opportunity to save money. Some of the items you will find below, but there are many others on display at our store that are even more attractive. We are overstocked in merchandise and need the money is the only reason why we are able to offer our goods at these prices, and we cannot sell them at these prices only for Cash. We will take care of our charge accounts during the sale, however, at lowest charge prices.

Death of Mr. Hollingsworth

On Friday night, in the Statesboro Sanitarium, Mr. W. H. Hollingsworth died after an illness of several weeks. A week previous to his death he was brought into the sanitarium in a desperate condition, an operation to relieve a bladder trouble being necessary. The remains were interred at Lower Lotts Creek church on Saturday afternoon where the funeral was held. A large number of sorrowing friends and relatives were out to pay their respects to his memory. "Bill Hollingsworth," as he was familiarly known, had a friend in all those with whom he came in contact. He was a good neighbor, a good citizen and an honest man.

The News joins the family and friends in their regrets of his passing away.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express, in some measure at least, our heartfelt thanks for the many kindnesses shown us in our recent bereavement. May you all ever find as willing and helping hands in your hours of trial and sickness as we have extended us in our sore trial.

A. J. Deal.

Abolishing an Unnecessary Office.

It looks now as if the Legislature would give the people a chance to say whether or not they want to retain the office of county treasurer. On Wednesday passed a resolution submitting to the people a constitutional amendment abolishing the office. The vote for it was so large, 154 to 6, that it is practically certain that the senate will pass it. For a good many years the people have been asking the legislature to submit to them a constitutional amendment of this sort, but the politicians have been able by one means and another to prevent it from doing so. There is no good reason for the office. In about every county there is a bank that would be glad to take charge of the county funds and pay something for the privilege. The money that now goes to the support of the office is needed for roads or schools or other public improvements.

It is a prediction that if the legislature passes the amendment it will be carried in the election by a large majority. And it is probable that if the people look around they will find other unnecessary offices.

A. J. Deal.

CANDLER COUNTY BILL PASSES HOUSE

By an Overwhelming Majority the Measure is Passed Up for Action Before the Senate.

The people of Metter and the Candler county territory are jubilant over the fact that they have won out in their fight for a division of Bulloch county territory.

At 1:45 this afternoon we received the following telegram from Atlanta which tells its own story:

"Candler county bill passed House, one hundred and forty-nine to fourteen."

Just what the Senate will do when the matter comes up of course we don't know, but it is scarcely probable that the bill will be turned down in that body. In fact, it is almost absolutely certain to pass, and then be ratified at the polls in October.

J. W. Warren, Statesboro.

The remains of J. W. Warren, formerly of Savannah, who died Thursday in Statesboro following an operation for appendicitis, reached this city yesterday and were taken in charge by Fox & Weeks.

The body rested last night at home of his friend, H. A. Fountain, No. 511 West Thirty-ninth street. The funeral will take place this morning at Salem church, in Elingham county. The Rev. John S. Wilder, pastor of the South Side Baptist Church, will conduct the services. The body will be carried to the church in the automobile hearse of Fox & Weeks, the funeral party leaving the city at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Warren has no relatives living here. For several years he was employed in Savannah by the Central of Georgia Railway.

offices. If there are such they should be abolished. It is easy to create a public office but very difficult to get one abolished. That this is true is evident from the difficulty experienced in getting the legislature to give the people a chance to say whether or not they want the office of county treasurer abolished. — Savannah News.

Endorsing Mr. Edwards

(Bulloch Times)
"The very kindly endorsement of Congressman Edwards by 'The Bulloch Times' is but an evidence of the congressman's standing among the farmer class of Bulloch County. From the big farmer to the tenant all look upon him as their friend, and justly so, for he has never neglected them."

(Meldrum Guidon)
The criticism made by our contemporary, The Savannah Telephone, of the bill introduced by Congressman Edwards affecting the qualification of the bill introduced by Mr. Edwards of Georgia, and advertised in the Savannah Morning News is not characterized with the usual spirit of fairness for which the Telephone is noted. Evidently it is based upon a want of information. The purpose and effect of the bill is to prevent the lugging of juries. No fair-minded man could condemn this meritorious purpose. The bill in fact, Doubtless Congressman Edwards is not wedded to any particular provisions or terms of his bill and if language may be added or the terms changed saving the purpose and object of the bill, no doubt it would be amended. As the bill now stands if it goes into effect there can be no more arbitrary selection of juries from one portion of the division or another as the judge sees fit. The bill is to be commended and the criticism is unfair.

The people of Georgia have a settled conviction that John M. Slaton will reflect credit on his state in the national council, and will elect him to fill the unexpired term of the lamented Bacon.

That Governor Slaton will be elected senator by an overwhelming majority is a foregone conclusion. — Oglethorpe Citizen.

Edwards a Valuable

Public Servant.
(Savannah Reflector)

The First District of Georgia has never had a more energetic, useful or valuable representative than Hon. Chas. G. Edwards has proven to be. He is on the powerful rivers and harbors committee. "A workman is known by his chips." In seven years' service the Georgia waterways have received about seven million dollars. This is a pretty good pile of chips. The lion's share of this has gone into our own harbor, which is the very life of Savannah. Every dollar spent on this harbor benefits this whole section, as Savannah is Georgia's great port and fixes and reduces freight rates for an immense territory. This vast sum of money has been spent for waterway development, and has been put in circulation in Georgia. It has helped every farmer, merchant, lawyer, doctor, laboring man; in fact, everybody in the state.

Once in a while we hear of an unimpaired Savannah man fighting Edwards. They are few and far between. People who are informed in the district know that Edwards has been busy for the whole district. A man living in Savannah is a rank ingrate to oppose Edwards, especially as Mr. Overstreet has said he wants no support in Chatham county. He has gone further and said an honest jury cannot be had in Chatham county. This is a serious and untrue charge. Savannah people who have moved here from adjoining counties ought to ask their friends in their native counties to resent slurs at the ballot box. At any rate men in Savannah who have manhood and decency will not vote for the demagogue who is trying to create class strife by the issue of 'country against the city.' We people in Savannah have but the kindest feeling for our neighbors, and we believe that is true of our neighbors toward us.

Senatorial Press Comments

The opinion of seventy-five per cent of the newspapers in the state is that Governor Slaton will win for the senate. — Augusta Chronicle

The weekly papers of the state have already defeated a certain candidate for trying to run on a "free announcement" platform. And yet, a great many people jump on Slaton for buying space. — Dublin Courier-Herald.

Every day brings Governor Slaton that much nearer the senatorial chair. — Macon County Citizen

For Judge of the Superior Court. To the Voters of the Middle Judicial Circuit: After careful consideration I have determined to become a candidate for Judge of the superior court of the Middle circuit.

To those who do not know me personally, I tenderly refer you to any or all the members of the Middle circuit bar, with whom I have practiced law for the past twenty years. A judge should be a servant of the law, and not of any politician, man or set of men, or any special interest. My only platform is respect of and obedience to the law and its fair and just administration. I shall not make a campaign on political grounds. I shall try to see or communicate with every voter in the circuit, and I now respectfully ask your fair consideration of my candidacy, and your support. I shall conduct my campaign so that, if elected, I shall be under no obligations political or otherwise, to any individual or interest. Respectfully, R. N. BARDEMAN.

F. H. Saffold, Swainsboro, Georgia.

In announcing my candidacy for Judge of the superior court of the Middle judicial circuit I earnestly solicit the support of all.

Whatever there is to be said as to my fitness and qualifications for this office I leave to others. The people control the election and should investigate each candidate thoroughly.

With much respect and sincere sympathy of my life and conduct, public, private and professional. Respectfully, F. H. SAFFOLD.

Politicians Can't Fool People About Edwards' Record

If H. J. W. Overstreet would take up more of his time telling what he will do if sent to congress and less in trying to tell what Edwards hasn't done he would stand a better chance of being elected. The people know Charles Edwards' record, and you can't fool 'em up on a lot of "boob"—Bryan County Enterprise.

To Change Term of the Solons.

(From Athens Banner)

There are many arguments in favor of the adoption of a new law just proposed to change the term of holding the sessions of the legislature from the fifty days beginning the latter part of June to an arrangement whereby the solons will gather in the capital at the capital on the first Wednesday in January, to be in session ten days—and then come back in June for just thirty days more.

With such an arrangement the fiscal year of the state could be made practically coincidental with the calendar year; the year's reports from the departments would be fresh to review and in case of emergency conditions there might be action taken at a ten days' session—but there would not be likely action unless the need were pressing. The governor's term of office could begin with the year—so with the other officers of the state and members of the legislature.

Another advantage: In ten days the inaugural could occur, the reports of the year just closed could all be in and digested; the committees could all be appointed in years when legislative committees are to be named; the organization could be complete, and the members could lay out the work—fresh from the October election at the hands of the people, and with an immediate return to their constituents, these law makers and law changers might be kept closer to the people they represent.

A development might be added to the measure: It might be required that many bills, especially in the second year of a legislature's tenure, be introduced within the ten days referred to and then allowed to soak in from January to June. The initiative and referendum would be very nearly accomplished without disturbing the principles or present methods of government by representation.

"Little Joe" in the Fight

The expected has happened and ex-Governor Joseph M. Brown has entered the race for the long term for United States senator against Hoke Smith.

That this will be the predominant race in the entire lot is conceded by all who are in touch with the situation. The outcome of this race can best be judged after the votes are counted. There are thousands of voters who are tired of the "Smith-Brown" fight but just who they will hold responsible for this one is hard to say. Smith is regarded as having the advantage in the race, but this is not altogether certain.

It is also a problem as to what effect it will have on the other races.

There have stranger things happened in Georgia than that of Joe Brown defeating Hoke Smith, but as we stated before you can't tell what the votes are counted.

Death of Mrs. Deal

On Thursday of last week, in the sanitarium in Statesboro, where she was brought for treatment, Mrs. Adam Deal died after an operation after a complication of troubles. The death was a sudden blow to the husband and family. Mrs. Deal was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Lauer, who leaves several small children. Mr. Deal and the other relatives have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their sad loss.

The U. S. Senatorship FOR AND AGAINST

JOHN M. SLATON does not stand for Everything and anything, just to catch votes. Things that sound good, but which are unobtainable. False measures that may look good on the surface but are dangerous at bottom. The demands of those who are impatient to have the world made perfect in a day. Impracticable proposals, no matter how well-intentioned. The making of promises which he knows he cannot keep. Getting into office by false means in the hope that the people will forget.

EXAMINE THE RECORD.

JOHN M. SLATON does stand for

The fundamental principles of Democracy. Progressive methods as against impracticable radicalism. The oppressed, and against the oppressor. Conservation that makes result producing progress. The supremacy of the white race and adequate means for its protection. Economy in government expenditures. An equitable distribution of taxation, placing the burdens on those most able to bear them, and who enjoy most the benefits of Government. He thinks the government should assist agriculture, the source of all wealth, as much as possible. He will fight for a rural credit system. JOHN M. SLATON stands for the practicable, the obtainable, the sensible, the logical, the sane, and the progressive in government.

MRS. EDNA GOODEE BEGINS SENTENCE AT THE STATE PRISON

(Savannah Press)

Mr. James West, state inspector for prison camps, will leave the city tonight for Milen to take charge of Mrs. Edna Perkins Goodee, sentenced to life imprisonment for the sensational double murder at Milen last year. Mr. West will carry her to Milledgeville tomorrow, where she will begin her period of life servitude at the state penitentiary as a seamstress.

The sending of the woman to Milledgeville means that all avenues for an appeal have been closed to her, and unless some pardon board or executive shows clemency she will stay in the state prison. Her only appeal in the case was a new trial which was heard before Judge Henry Hammond at Augusta. Judge Hammond did not consider the grounds sufficient, and the attorneys for Mrs. Goodee appealed to the supreme court. This body sustained Judge Hammond.

Mr. West was asked by the family of Mrs. Goodee as an appeal request to personally accompany the woman to the state prison. Mr. West had known the family for a long number of years and was friendly to it.

Since her trial and conviction Mrs. Goodee resided herself to her fate. In the little prison at Milen she had the privilege of seeing members of her family frequently and county officials were kind to her. She is growing old and with the exception of her children has little interest in life. With them near her she has stated frequently that she would be satisfied to die anywhere. It is not improper to say that she is a member of the family.

Mr. Deal was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Lauer, who leaves several small children. Mr. Deal and the other relatives have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their sad loss.

Petition for Charter

Georgia—Bulloch County.

To the Superior Court of said County: The petition of W. H. Riggs, William James, George W. Jones, J. J. Powell, J. H. German, Rudy Walker, O. R. Riggs, S. J. Riggs, H. C. Jones, A. W. Livingston, A. R. Pope, A. E. Edwards, R. C. Barnes, T. W. Riggs, G. Blanshaw, R. E. Butler and J. Powell, all of said state and county, respectfully shew:

1. Petitioners desire, for themselves, their associates and successors, to become incorporated under the name of "Industrial Fair Association," for a term of ten years, with the privilege of renewal at the end of that time.

2. The principal office and place of business of said corporation will be in Statesboro, said county and state.

3. The capital stock of said corporation is to be five hundred dollars, divided into shares of par value of ten dollars each. Petitioners desire the privilege of increasing said capital stock from time to time to an amount not exceeding twenty-five hundred dollars in the aggregate.

4. Of the proposed capital stock more than ten per cent has been actually paid in.

5. The object of the proposed corporation is pecuniary gain to itself and its shareholders, and petitioners propose to carry on the business of holding and conducting fairs in said county and elsewhere in said state, annually, or oftener if so desired, making exhibits of agricultural and industrial products, teaching, promoting and conducting races, operating midway performances and attractions, charging admission fees to its fairs and exhibitions, leasing sites for holding its fairs, making all necessary contracts with exhibitors, county and municipal authorities, companies and others, and doing whatever other acts and exercising whatever other functions, rights and powers that may be necessary and incident to the business of such fair association.

Wherefore, petitioners pray to be made a body corporate under the name aforesaid, entitled to the rights, powers, privileges and immunities and subject to the liabilities fixed by law.

This June 10th, 1914.

BRANNEN & BOOTH,

Attorneys for Petitioners.

Edwards' Visit Home

Congressman Edwards said when he came home to make an active campaign for re-election to congress that he could be away without "jeopardizing the interests of his constituents at this particular time."

Since he has been home the Lever cotton bill, for the regulation of cotton exchanges—probably the most important bill to the farmers that will be considered for many years—has come up for consideration in the house, and a substitute was adopted changing the bill enacted by the senate. The house passed a bill changing the law which heretofore prohibited Confederate soldiers from collecting claims or accounts against the government.

We wonder if Mr. Edwards thinks his constituents are not interested in these two measures. If there ever was a time when the farmers needed their representative in congress it was when this cotton exchange bill was under consideration.—Sylvania Telephone. adv.

Edwards—Savannah

Congressman Edwards, in addition to introducing a bill that will give Savannah control of the juries in the United States court, has offered another measure, that the judge shall reside in the city of Savannah. It looks like Mr. Edwards wants Savannah to own the court, "look, stock and barrel."—Milen News. adv.

Overstreet's Qualifications

The News is supporting Hon. J. W. Overstreet for congress, feeling sure that he is one of the best in the district, and fully capable of holding the position to which he aspires. An upright man, a able lawyer, and knowing the needs of the farming class, his candidacy should appeal to the country people throughout the First District. The talk of Mr. Overstreet trying to prejudice the country people against the city is all trash.—Emingham County News. adv.

Death of John Q. Hendricks

On Saturday morning at his home, near Portal, Mr. John Q. Hendricks, one of Bulloch's best citizens, died from a stroke of paralysis. While the deceased had not been enjoying the best of health, yet his death was a severe shock to the family and friends. His remains were interred in the family burial grounds on Sunday where a large number of mourning relatives and friends met to pay their last respects to his memory.

Mr. Hendricks was one of those good, substantial, quiet, unassuming citizens who will be missed in the home and in the community. He reared a large family, nine sons surviving him. He was one of the solid farmers of that section, where he lived all of his life, and where he was held in the highest esteem.

Experience Teaches

Old Billy Smart, at work in the ditch: "I'm young and stout and earn plenty of money. I want to dance and I don't kick on paying the fiddler. I believe in having a good time today. Tomorrow can take care of itself."

The gray-haired laborer at his desk smiled sadly as he replied: "I thought the same way myself when I was of your age. That's why I am pecking away now when I am all played out. If I had only had sense enough to have started a bank account and stayed with it I wouldn't have to work now. Hop to it, lad. Nothing out experience will teach you."

Committee Fixes Rules, Etc.

It's a Runaway for Edwards

The congressional executive committee met in Savannah on Friday and fixed the rules governing the primary to elect a congressman from this district. The county unit vote was adopted, except in the case of a dead lock, then the popular vote is to control. Notwithstanding the fact that the Edwards men predominated the committee almost unanimously, there was no effort to do away with the county unit. This could have been done, and Chatham's six or seven thousand majority would have wiped out every other vote in the district. But Mr. Edwards insisted on the county unit. He is satisfied the people of the country counties prefer that, and he is willing to submit his case to them.

The congressional convention will be held at Milen on September 10th. The committee were the guests of Congressman Edwards at a 5th dinner at Thunderbolt. Messrs. Brooks Simmons and J. R. Miller, the two committeemen from Bulloch, were on hand to represent this county.

Helped pass law providing for the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people.

Has advocated and helped to pass laws that will regulate the trusts and monopolies of the country.

Will help regulate the illegal tactics of cotton exchanges and "future trading" a long line that will mean better prices and conditions to our cotton farmers and to the country.

Secured a monument to General Sherman and Stewart, at Midway Cemetery in Liberty county, constructed at a cost of $10,000.

Secured a public building site at Statesboro, upon which a handsome public building has been authorized by law, and will soon be erected at a cost of $40,000.

Secured a public building site for Waynesboro, upon which a handsome public building will be erected.

Secured experimental city free delivery service for Sylvania.

Has secured free city delivery service for Statesboro and Waynesboro.

Has helped distribute the latest, best and most improved cotton and other seed. Plow seed have been sent to the humblest farm home as well as to the town and village homes.

Gave up his practice to devote his whole time and energy to the duties of the office which he has been honored. At all times his show the same kindness and courtesy to the poorest and humblest citizen of the district that he has shown to the richest and most prominent men.

Urged United States Treasury to put out Fifty Million Dollars with which to move the wheat and cotton crops last fall—which gave our farmers better prices and prevented "Wall Street" from robbing our folks out of millions in interest.

He is in thorough accord with the present great Democratic administration.

Favored and helped pass the income tax law that places the burden of taxation upon the shoulders of the rich and powerful, thereby relieving the masses from many heavy burdens that should be borne by those who are more able to bear them.

Believes in the rule of the people. Has always stood with the masses, which is shown by his record.

Has stood for economy, in order that taxes might be held down to the lowest possible point.

Has opposed all unwise appropriations and had legislation.

Has helped to save millions of dollars each year by opposing appropriations that were without merit.

Opposed Union (Yankee) pensions by his vote and by a speech on the floor of the House.

Opposed the Alaskan railroad bill, because it meant a bond issue which the taxpayers would have to pay, amounting to thirty-five million dollars.

Opposed the movement that was started to reduce Southern representation in Congress.

Opposed the infamous SHIP SUBSIDY and helped to defeat it in the House, which saved millions to the people that would have otherwise gone to the ship trust. "Subsidies are not in accordance with the principles of Jeffersonian Democracy of 'equal rights to all and special privileges to none.'"

Secured drainage surveys of McIntosh, Liberty, Bryan, Effingham, Burke and Chatham counties. Agitated the question of drainage until a state drainage law was enacted.

Secured soil surveys of Bulloch, Tattnall and Chatham counties.

Has sent every farmer in the district literature on the boll weevil and on other important subjects which are of interest to Georgia farmers.

Has taken a deep interest in the sorb club and other work that has tended to help the farming interests of South Georgia.—Savannah Morning News.

It's a Runaway for Edwards

A party who has just traveled over seven counties of the First congressional district stated to us over the phone a day or two ago that while he could not afford to be quoted, or have his name mixed in the congressional race in any manner, that while he was going to vote for Overstreet that it was plain as the nose on a man's face that Edwards was going to win. Edwards was among the counties visited, that he found stacks of Edwards men in Screven, that he was informed Saturday afternoon at Rocky Ford, in Screven county, that there were but three Overstreet supporters in the town of Rocky Ford.

We have it from other reliable sources that Edwards will get large majorities in four militia districts in Bulloch county, viz: Rocky Ford, Dover, Oliver and Mill Haven districts. Mr. Edwards' friends in Screven have been calling for him to come there and make a fight for the county, but so far he has refrained from going into his opponent's home county, but if the calls continue it may be his duty to do so.

Overstreet and Good Roads

There is too much money being appropriated by congress for worthless rivers and streams. Waterway improvement is good, but we are not in favor of trying to make a river out of a ditch. We believe that the entire country would be better off if some of these appropriations were made towards the building of good roads, and one of the main planks in Overstreet's platform advocates this change. He doesn't promise to get a turnpike from Savannah to Augusta, but he says if elected he will work for better roads "in every county in the district." This alone should commend him to the people.—Emingham County News. adv.
