FOREIGNERS ARE FLEEING FROM MEXICO CITY.
Shells From Cannon of Federals and Rebels Plow Through Houses in Residence Section, Killing Many—No Zones of safety. Conditions the same

Among the buildings damaged was that of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, in the side of which a great hole was torn. Over the building during the battle, the British and American flags were flying. Most of the buildings suffering the greatest damage are owned by Mexicans, in many of which, however, Americans and other foreigners have offices.

TREES MOWN DOWN.

In some streets the overhead wires dangle from posts, the fire from one side or the other having sheared off many of the supports. In Alameda, the great wooded park in the center of the city, the trees were mowed down by the vicious fire; small twigs and limbs cover the ground in places, evidences of the heaviness of the small arm fire.

The last two days to do anything but seek places of safety. Business houses, banks and restaurants are closed, and not even a railway ticket is to be bought in the up-town offices.

The offices of the cable company have been kept open throughout the fighting, however, and this morning, when the shrapnel was beating in on all sides, and once a shell tore a gasping hole in the iron shutters over the windows, the force of Mexican operations continued without interruption of their work, receiving and sending at tables not five feet away.

Residents of Gore Court evacuated only after two shells had bored their way into the big apartment house. Dozens of buildings show great jagged holes, broken cornices and torn off corners, while hundreds bear more insignificant marks of what has been the most terrible bombardment any city in North America has ever known.

Some of the rebel shells and not a few rifle bullets reached the National Palace, but none did serious damage, but it is not believed that Diaz seriously contemplates at the present time an attack on Madero's headquarters. Madero has promised to make a combined assault.

LOOTING HAS BEGUN.

Stories of occasional robbery and looting by small mobs were reported during the day, but for the most part the criminal as well as the law-abiding element were too terrified by the incidents of this nature.

His courage was great, his confidence remarkable. Over at the arsenal Gen. Diaz calmly directed the operations. He characterized them as solely defense. He, too, was optimistic.

The number of dead and wounded cannot even be estimated, but it is large.

For two hours during the forenoon the rebel gunners rained shot and shell at the lofty structures of the city, from the roofs of which federal sharpshooters and machine gun men had attempted to rake the insurgents in the trenches and behind the barricades of the arsenal.

Shells from the heavy guns were well timed, the explosions again today by shot and shell. It was not until nine o'clock to-night that the fire in all quarters ceased.

Mexico City, Feb. 12.—Mexico's capital was torn asunder and entrenched in and around the arsenal, had held his ground against the rebels. He had done more than this. He had subjected the city to a more terrible bombardment than that of yesterday.

He had enlarged his zone of action and had sent forces against the National Palace.

But to-night Madero was heroic. Throughout the bombardment and the almost continuous rattle of machine guns and rifles, the President went about his work in the place apparently unperturbed.

He took counsel frequently with the Finance Minister, Ernesto Madero. From time to time he was in conversation with Gen. Huerta, the commander-in-chief, regarding plans of attack.

Most Drastic Bill Yet.

The Webb anti liquor bill just passed through both branches of Congress and now only awaits the signature of the President to become a law is probably the most drastic bill ever placed on the Federal statute books on the whiskey question. The following editorial from The Macon Evening News explains the scope of the bill.

"The passage of the Webb liquor bill by both the house and senate at Washington is the most drastic and effective blow, apparently, that has ever been delivered to the liquor traffic in this country.

The concurrence of both houses in the exact form of the bill and the signature of the president still remain to be consummated before it will become a law, but, in view of the overwhelming majority vote cast for the measure in both houses there can be little doubt that it will be perfected and receive the president's approval.

Even with that, the measure will have to run the ordeal of the supreme court at Washington to test its constitutionality, which without doubt, will be strenuously contested by the liquor interests.

The general tenor of the Webb bill, as passed, as stated by the press reports, is that it "would prohibit shipments of intoxicating liquors from one state to another when intended to be received or sold in violation of the law of the state to which shipment is made."

Whether the law would have the effect to confiscate shipments for personal use as well as those made to dealers whose purpose would be to sell the goods to citizens of the state is not clear and may become a question of legal construction. It may be argued for instance, that the Georgia prohibition law does not prohibit a person from having intoxicating liquors in his possession for his private use, and that the sale having been legally consummated with the state's jurisdiction, the ownership and possession of the goods become automatically effective in the person of the consignee the instant they pass the state line.

If it should have the effect, however, to confiscate personal supplies as well as shipments made for the purposes of illegal traffic, the measure will without doubt be a most effective one and tend to make prohibition territory as "dry as a bone." For shippers as well as common carriers will hesitate to handle goods that are liable to be seized by the federal authorities as outlawed and contraband.

In Memoriam.

On the morning of January 18, 1913, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kitching and took from them their little daughter Henrietta, who was suffering from burns, received three weeks before. All parents and kind friends could do were done, but the Lord said "come Home," and we should smile and say "her pain is all over and the Lord's will be done". Henrietta's stay on earth being only four years and two months, she was a loving obedient child, to those who knew her and loved her.

The little crib is empty now, the little clothes laid by, a father's home, a mother's joy, in death's cold arms doth lie. Go little pilgrim, to thy home on yonder peaceful shore, we miss the here, but soon will come where thou hast gone before.

There was an angel band in Heaven, not yet quite complete and the Lord took our darling Henrietta, to all the vacant seat. Sleep on Henrietta, and take 'thy rest, God called thee home and thought it best.

We had a little treasure once, it was our joy and pride, we loved it Oh! perhaps we loved too well for now it slept and died.

The little hands are folded now, a voice we loved is stilled, a place vacant in our home that never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled the bloom his love has given.

Though the body lies here, its soul is safe in heaven.

Wept not dear parents, her tolls are over.

Written by her loving aunt, Julia.

HARD FIGHTING IN MEXICO.

Mexico City, Mex. Feb. 11.—Three Americans were wounded during the fighting.

Lloyd Osborne, an author, was shot in the thigh, while watching the battle from the top of a building.

Dr. R. H. McCrosson, of Lincoln, Neb., was shot in the hand while venturing along the street. He had just arrived here.

Mark Johnson, a negro of Madison, Ill., received a bullet in the shoulder.

Mexico City, Feb. 11.—In spite of the friendly offer of Francisco de Ka Bara, the former provisional president, to act as mediator, and overthrowing the protest of the American ambassador and the diplomatic representatives of other foreign powers, President Madero today ordered an attack on Gen. Diaz and his forces, even though he knew this would entail a terrible bombardment of the capital.

The federal assault began at 10:15 o'clock in the morning and in the afternoon no material advantage had been gained by either side. It appeared, however, that the rebels who were holding slightly improved positions were conserving their fire. Many assaults against them had been repulsed.

The government was most optimistic regarding the close of the battle. Ernesto Madero said the soldiers were expected to dislodge Diaz to day, said Madero, since his position is well fortified, but we have sufficient forces and equipment to force him to retreat and cannot fail to do so.

Gen. Aureliano Blanquet is not here and is not coming probably because he is used to control the Zapatista forces, who might improve the opportunity to enter the city. We have 4,000 men and more available if necessary, with plenty of artillery.

PURGATORY "FIRES" NOT YET, BUT SOON

Word Purgatory Not in Bible, But Teaching Is There.

Saintly of Present Time Few, Yet All Must Be Saved. The Gift of God, Eternal Life, Through Jesus Christ.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—The world-renowned Pastor Russell is here. He reports one of the most interesting discourses from the text: "Some men went to judgment, some they follow after." (1 Timothy 4: 24.) He said: "Gradually, as the eyes of our understanding open to the true beauties of God's Word, we find that while the gross error of the past has been founded in the truth, the two are very different."

Wrong Views of Future Punishment. Wrong views of future punishment have divided Christians into many sects. Our forefathers were not to blame; ability to read was not common until within a century. Furthermore, for centuries the Bible was out of the hands of the people and clerical zeal tried to bring the whole world, through fear, into the Church.

Now, all thinking people repudiate the torment theories, and many are turning from the creeds, and from the Bible, the supposed foundation. The present trend is toward Higher Criticism. Evolution. In France, it is claimed, ninety-six per cent of the people have lost all faith in religion; in Germany, ninety per cent. How important that the people should learn that God has made generous provision for all through Christ, and that He will bring all to a knowledge of the truth, that every whit of sin must bear its just penalty.

The subject of future punishment is most important. The people should know respecting the word Hell in the original Scriptures—that Hell in the Bible means the place of the dead, and that Hell in the New Testament means the same; that these words do not stand for torture, but for the state of death. Humanity are released from the grave by the death of Christ, and Hell, Hades, the realm, is destroyed during Messiah's reign—Hosea 13: 14; Isaiah 25: 8; 1 Corinthians 15: 54, 55.

Gehenna fire means the garbage-burn valley outside Jerusalem; it is symbolic of the destruction of the finally impenitent.

Purgatorial Fires of the Bible.

These are symbolic. The church is now on trial for everlasting life or everlasting death. The people's purgatorial period will be under the supervision of the Church—1 Cor. vi. 2. St. Peter tells of purgatorial fires which now are purifying the saints—1 Peter 1: 7. He refers to the purgatorial fires of the Church—1 John 13: 12; John xv. 18; Matthew 24: 24.

St. Paul says that Christ "learned obedience by the things which He suffered," and that if we suffer with Him we shall also reign with Him.

The Scriptures and Pharisees persecuted Jesus. The forewarned His followers that "a man's foes shall be they of his own household."

St. Paul points out that in the end of this Age fiery trials will come upon the Church: "The investigation by which shall try every man's work of what sort it is." Faith built with the gold, silver and precious stones of Divine Truth will come forth unscathed in the fire. Jesus declared to the Church, "Through much tribulation shall ye enter the Kingdom." These are purgatorial tribulations for which we may give thanks.

The world's Purgatory Soon to Begin. The world's purgatory will begin with a severe ordeal upon all mankind, but will continue in instructive tribulation upon all needing the same. The "fire" will be symbolic. The New Age will be ushered in by "a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation." (Daniel 12: 1.) Jesus declares that unless that trouble were checked no flesh could be saved, but because of the Elect, those days shall be shortened. The Messianic Kingdom will end the strife and anarchy.

St. Peter used symbolism in describing these troubles: The "sea" represents the restless peoples; the solid "land"—earth—represents the social structure, whose "mountains" are the Kingdoms and whose "heavens" are the ecclesiastical powers. (1 Peter 1: 7, 10, 12; Psalm 124.) The Apostle symbolically pictures the elements of Society in violent agitation, resulting in a great "flood" which will consume them. He then pictures the New Dispensation, "The new heavens" will be the Church in glory. "The new earth" will be the Society reconstituted. Who cannot see the spiritual elements of the labor element and the social element in great danger of the conflagration of fire forever?

The Lord pictures mankind as knowing and obeying the Truth. "Then will I turn unto the people a pure Message, that they may all call upon the name of the Lord, to serve Him with one consent."—Zeph. 3: 9.

ROMEAN BONES FOUND

Graveyard of Twentieth Legion Exhumed at Chester, Eng.

Bronze Coins of the Emperors Antonius, Pius and Commodus Are Found With the Remains.

London.—The extension of the infantry at Chester has led to the discovery of the graveyard used by the twentieth legion of the Romans during their occupation of that city. The Chester infantry occupies a site which is locally referred to as the "plague field." The site seems to have acquired its unsavory name from the fact that casual discoveries of human remains had led to the supposition that they were the victims of the great plague.

The Chester marching of remains in larger numbers on the site of the extension of the infantry led to an investigation by Prof. Robert Newstead, one of our most distinguished archaeologists. He has now proved conclusively that the infantry field was not used as a burying ground during the outbreak of the plague, and that the remains found there were so far unwarmed belong to the Roman period.

Four distinct types of graves have been uncovered. One is a tomb formed of local sandstone, evidently representing a burial of some importance, as the walls of the tomb are covered in plaster, and the bones of the structure originally stood out in marked contrast to the surrounding surface of the land. Another type of grave consists of a simple trench, dug in the solid clay of the ground, and in some cases the remains of the deceased were placed in the trench, and the trench was then filled with earth. A third type of grave was formed by placing rough hewn sandstone on the sides of the trench, and the remains of the deceased were placed in the trench, and the trench was then filled with earth. A fourth type of grave was formed by placing rough hewn sandstone on the sides of the trench, and the remains of the deceased were placed in the trench, and the trench was then filled with earth.

STONE PLAN DRAWS THREAT

Housewives Arranging to Start a Produce Establishment in Order to Force a Lowering of Prices.

Kansas City, Mo.—Anonymous threats directed at the proprietors of a music store when the Housewives league of Kansas City has maintained headquarters have caused worry to the officers of the league that resulted in a decision to suspend operations until a new location is secured. The Housewives' league is trying to raise a fund of $2,000, with which to open a co-operative produce store.

That so pronounced an attack on the league would be made was not anticipated by the directors.

"We expected some criticism," said Mrs. Willard Church, president of the league, "but we did not think it would take so determined a form."

She confessed that she had committed the league was not organized to attack the grocers or any set of merchants. We wish to be fair and just, and our only reason for establishing a store is to handle produce in a better manner. The handling produce is unnecessarily expensive and cumbersome.

"Our plans will go right ahead as soon as we get a new location."

HYNOTIZED; NOW A THIEF

Young Woman Makes Strange Confession to Justice of Seattle After Arrest.

Seattle, Wash.—Asserting that she was under the hypnotic influence of a man when she committed a crime of which she is accused here, Miss Emma Williams, alias Pearl Turner, 19, of this city, confessed that she had committed twelve robberies in Vancouver, B. C., and seven in Seattle. The woman, according to the police, who told her confession, said that she was hypnotized by a man named "John," who was employed as a domestic and then influenced her to steal from her employers.

It's Worth More than it Costs You

OF COURSE you admit the value of the automobile for any one who has to go from one place to another—and wants to get there and back quickly. We all agree on that point.

The cost of the automobile is what is worrying you, maybe.

You wonder it is worth the money—to you.

Have you ever noticed that when a man buys an automobile, and after using it, either in his business or for pleasure, or for both, sells it, always buys another one?

Yes? Well, that's the answer.

Buy an automobile, find out that its price is an investment rather than an expense, and you can't do without it. You wouldn't want to.

Because you will have found that the car is worth more to you than its cost, that it has added to your capacity of doing business, that it made one hour do the work of three, that the store, the theatre, the folks ten miles away, have suddenly become your next-door neighbors, that it has given a store of health to you and your family.

Which automobile?

The Overland—because it is the best value that money can buy.

Whatever your notions are as to what an automobile should be to do just what you require, whether you value power, speed, or impressive appearance, low cost of upkeep, or the kind of durability—Overland durability—makes the possession of a car, a source of down-right satisfaction, you can't afford to consider any automobile without first investigating the new Overland.

Just come and take a look at it. Compare it with others. Let us give you a ride in the big, fully equipped Overland; it involves no obligation on your part. Then draw your own conclusions—That's all.

St. Paul, Minn.—Snatching a revolver from beneath his pillow, Dr. E. Ernst Munn crept stealthily down the stairs at his home determined to battle in the darkness with a burglar. A short struggle was followed by a heavy thud.

"I've got him, dear! Call the police!" shouted Munn to his wife.

The police found Munn holding his victim with a half-nelson.

The burglar snored aloud and when awakened and arrested on charge of intoxication, he explained that he had wandered into the wrong house.

PASTOR TO BE UNDERTAKER

Dr. Leavitt of San Francisco Says He Will Try to Dispel Some of the Gloom of Death.

San Francisco, Cal.—Rev. Dr. Bradford Leavitt, one of the best known clergymen of San Francisco, has resigned his pastorate of the First Unitarian church of this city to become an undertaker. Doctor Leavitt made this announcement, saying he had been compelled to abandon the ministry on account of weakness of the eyes, and that he was entering the undertaking profession in the hope of "dispelling its atmosphere of superstition and gloom, which we have inherited from the heartless and sometimes heathen methods and ideas of the past."

In a letter addressed to his congregation he explained in detail his reasons for the change.

"There is something barbaric in our methods of dealing with death," said Doctor Leavitt. "The Chinese are far more civilized in this. I am aware to the darkening of houses, the pulling down of blinds and the general morbid atmosphere that is affected in a house stricken by death. We know there is no cause for mourning. There is a glory in death that we cloud by abhorrent formalities, which may be easily avoided without diminishing the dignity and the solemnity of funeral rites. And above all, it is something that can be altered by very little effort."

VINTAGE OF 1912 ABUNDANT

Year Just Ended to Rank High in Red Letter Annals of the Trade in France and Algeria.

Paris.—The vintage of 1912 in France and Algeria, according to reports just issued, is much superior to that of 1911, both in quantity and quality. The wine of 1912 was very inferior, due to the lack of warmth during the late summer and autumn. The beginning of the present season wine growers predicted an excellent crop of grapes, and their predictions seem to have been well founded.

The vintage of 1912 amounted to 58,339,635 hectoliters. Algeria produced 6,871,181 hectoliters. Adding the stock left over from 1911 in both France and Algeria, a total of 67,670,644 hectoliters is reached. The 1911 vintage was only 55,127,730 hectoliters.

In the 48 departments of France there are only nine in which there are no vineyards. They are the Calvados, Cotes du Nord, Finistere, Manche, Nord, Orne, Pas de Calais, Seine Inférieure and the Somme. Several others, it is true, had but small crops. The department which leads all the others is the Herault, which produced 14,044,907 hectoliters. The Aude, a neighboring department, comes next, with 5,265,562 hectoliters. Thus 1912 like 1904 or 1909, is likely to become one of the red-letter years for wine.

MAN BARKS FOR 27 YEARS

Nervous Affliction Results From His Being Hit by Bat at Ball Game.

Philadelphia.—Frederick Saunders of Shamokin, Pa., was brought to the Medical-Chirurgical hospital, where he died of a nervous trouble that for twenty-seven years has caused him to bark and yelp like a dog and paw the ground with his feet. He otherwise is sane.

Saunders was stricken when seven years old. Like most boys he had a mania for baseball. One day when "Jack" Sivett, once a famous pitcher with the Boston Nationals, was playing in a game at Ashland, Pa., the ball struck him in the head. He struck Saunders on the left eye, knocking him unconscious. When he revived several minutes later he started to bark and yelp like a dog and speak with convulsive movements and never has recovered.

Saunders talks in soft tones. Suddenly, however, his voice breaks into a series of barks and yelps, his feet pawing the ground. When the attacks, which occur every few minutes, are over he continues his conversation where he was broken off.

NEW EXPLOSIVE IS TESTED

Smokers, Gunners and Men a Greater Power Than Dynamite or Cordite.

London.—Military experts who have been experimenting with the new explosive "powertite," the discovery of a young inventor of Sydney, N. S. W., predict that it will revolutionize the use of small arms and artillery in warfare.

Cheapness, greater driving force, increased penetration, no smoke, no recoil, and no danger in transportation, are among the virtues claimed for "powertite," the composition of which is, of course, a secret. Cartridges containing 30 grains of the new explosive were fired in competition with cordite cartridges, fitted with the usual service charge of 35 grains.

The "powertite" projectiles penetrated eight inches into the target, as against five inches for the cordite. Fired into sand boxes, "powertite" forced its way 15 inches, and cordite only ten. After testing its force on a sunken ship in Thayer bay, the officer in charge reported that three pounds of "powertite" was equal to ten pounds of dynamite.

The Sydney invention looks like cordite and burns with a harmless puff of flame when a match is applied. Revolver shots may be fired into it at short range without danger of explosion, and it is further claimed that it is unaffected by heat, cold, moisture or age. Exclusive use of "powertite" by the British government has been offered by the inventor, and will probably be accepted.

BIG SUM FOR REMBRANDT

John N. Willis Buys "The Praying Pilgrim" for $250,000 in Chicago.

Chicago.—Rembrandt's painting, "The Praying Pilgrim," regarded as one of the most valuable examples of his art, has been sold by a Chicago art dealer, to John N. Willis of Toledo, O., for $250,000. The picture has been taken to Toledo by Mr. Willis, who will lend it for six months to all whom it may concern.

The picture was obtained by the Chicago dealer from the private gallery of Maurice de la Serre, who had bought it for many years. There were four Rembrandts in the Kahn collection, and upon the death of their owner two years ago the picture was sold by his estate to the dealer.

The picture was painted in 1631 and is two and a half feet wide and three feet high. It depicts a pilgrim kneeling bareheaded with clasped hands and upraised features, lit by a deep spiritual vision. The hat of the pilgrim lies on a rude table at his side and his staff is dimly apparent in the background. A deep golden brown color predominates.

DISHOP-APOSTLES

A COSTLY MISTAKE.

Pope Now Sees Error—Directing Faith Back to Apostles.

All Followers of Christ Repudiating Apostolic Succession, New Have Proper Basis For Harmony and Union Through Untrammeled Bible Study.

St. Louis, Oct. 29.—We repeat one of the most striking discourses here today from the text, "Have not I chosen you Twelve?" (John vi. 70). The speaker declared that shortly after the Apostles died Satan got great power in the Church, and that the two instruments of Satan to introduce false doctrines.

(1) By the Second Century the ministers began to be recognized as separate from the congregations, and instead of being elected their servants, they established themselves as a clerical class and began to lord it over the household of faith, themselves appointing the ministers over the congregations, instead of their being chosen by election, as in the days of the Apostles.

(2) At the same time the chief ones of the clergy, having the title of bishops, were claimed to be the successors of the Apostles, with the same right to teach and to be considered infallible messengers of Christ. The doctrine of Apostolic Succession was formulated, and the church out that formula lost its place amongst the Twelve, the eleven met and chose one to fill his place.

The speaker drew attention to the fact that the eleven Apostles, in electing Matthias to their number in the place of Judas, did it without divine authority and without election. The one they chose the Lord ignored, and we hear nothing further of him. In his own due time the Lord brought forth the one He purposed should take the place of Judas—St. Paul.

Jesus assured these Twelve that they should "sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel." In the "Times of Restoration" and "Regeneration" (Matthew xix. 28; Acts ii. 43-47). These Twelve were pictured in the Apocalypse as ruling over the twelve tribes of Israel, on the throne of the symbolic Woman, who represented the Church of Christ. As the Twelve are pictured in the Apocalypse as ruling over the twelve tribes of Israel, which portray the Church beyond the veil in heavenly glory, as twelve foundation stones—Revelation xxi. 14, "and the names of the Twelve shall be written on the stones."

Faith in Pseudo-Apostles.

Of these Twelve alone Jesus said, "Whosoever things ye bind on earth shall be bound in Heaven, and whatsoever things ye shall declare loose on earth shall be loose in Heaven," so carefully would the Great Head supervise the words of those who were His mouthpieces to the Church.

With St. Paul we can then agree that the word of God is sufficient, that the man of God may be thoroughly furnished. (1 Timothy iii. 15-17).

The Emperor Constantine, a convert to Christianity, noted that the teachings of the Apostles, with the exception of the doctrine of the Trinity, were contradictory. Although not baptized, he recognized that if these teachers were divinely guided their testimony would be harmonious.

Constantine, in A. D. 325, convened the Council of Nice called an "Apostolic Council," because the bishops were thought to be living apostles. Although Emperor Constantine professed transportation free, only about one-third of the bishops attended—500. For days, wars, and months of debate prevailed; and finally the Emperor gave the decision respecting the wording of the Creed. And that Nicene Creed was promulgated as the Christian Faith; and the edict went forth that all who would not accept it should be banished. This uniformity of Faith was effected by a worldly price.

For twelve centuries after this, Apostolic Succession continued, operating through "Apostolic Councils" and creeds. Is it any wonder that in all those twelve centuries the Truth itself was buried under a mass of superstition, error, false doctrine?

Bible the Torch of Progress.

For four centuries the Bible has been coming back to the people. I testify liberty has been enlightening the world. Ignorance, superstition, persecution have been willed away. We all live in a day of knowledge, to persecute others!

But, alas! for the past fifty centuries the Bible is on a pedestal, styled "Holy Scripture," rapidly undermining faith in it. The present Pope, realizing this, has banned Higher Criticism, Catholic institutions and has an order that the faith of all ecclesiastics and teachers be such. He sees, too, that faith in the Bible is a good thing, and that to preserve religion the masses must be directed by words of Jesus, the Twelve and the Prophets, as the only authority on religion. We see his course and rejoice in it.
