Superintendent's Corner

There is a general tendency on the part of the patrons to allow their children to drop out of school just before it comes to a close. This should not be allowed. It causes the teachers a great deal of trouble and also has a bad effect on the children. See to it that your child sticks the term through. The last days of a term are usually the best.

The Beavers school closed last Friday with a picnic at Mr. C. B. Miles, mill pond. It was intended that they should have a fish fry, but due to high water, no fish were caught. They were successful in having a pleasant day as it was. Miss Maude Jones of Bryan county was teaching for the term just closed.

The Beaver Pond school house has just been completed. Mr. L. T. Nawsome in speaking of his school says, "We have a nice school house now. One that I am well pleased with. They have an unfinished term of three months which will be completed this spring. Miss Ophelia Strickland will probably be elected to finish the term."

Is your school house ceiled and painted? If not, why not begin to plan to have it done? The Dutch proverb—"Paint costs nothing"—is a true one. Soon your building will be black and unsightly, and besides, it will soon begin to rot. Paint will help the looks as well as protect the building. Let us begin a movement to have all of our school houses painted inside and out. Environment has much to do with the influencing of children, ideals. If he is taught to appreciate things beautiful, he will make an effort to make his ideals higher, and will strive harder to reach them. The school should be made an ideal home for the children, as they must spend about half of their early lives there.

Remember that, the Teachers Institute under Prof. Duggan will meet May 5, 7, begin to lay your plans to be here.

Miss Annie Trappell is now able to be back in school after a two weeks' vacation. There has been an epidemic of mumps in her school that caused her to have to vacate. She too, was a victim. The attendance is not now sufficient to warrant the return of the assistant teacher. Miss Ruth Harvey has been assisting in the school while he is able to return to work with Miss Trappell.

The Agents And Farmers

Agents of one kind and another keep the farmers' pockets half to death. The agents come along with some great scheme and talk nice to the clever farmer who bites like fish at a July fly. What is the result? Nine times out of ten the farmer gets it in the neck. A slick lightning rod agent coming along and tells the farmer that he needs a lightning rod on his house and will not cost him but $25, and he goes to the agent and pays him $25, and when the lightning comes the farmer finds that the agent has signed a free slave contract, and is bound by it to pay him $100 a year for the next ten years. Before you put your foot on a snake contract of any kind, go and hire a lawyer to tell you what it is.

The farmers are loaded up on all kinds of well buckets, lightning rods, chains, and such stuff, and then bite right on. A sucker seems to be born every second in every community. Don't buy or contract for what you do not need. Remember the peach and apple trees that the cove have eat up for you in the last ten years, why buy more trees for the pest and cove to eat? You can feed your cove on hay. A. O. Beware of agents who tell you that you have been deceived in a contract, and you are.

Worth of Man of Force.
There is always room for a man of force, and he, in turn, makes room for many. Society is a troop of thinkers, and the best heads among them take the best places. A feeble man can see the farms that are fenced and the houses that are built. A strong man sees the possible houses and farms. His clear eye makes estates as fast as the sun breeds clouds.—Emerson.

It is expected that between eight and ten thousand people from all over the state will attend the Candler county barbecue Saturday May 10th.

Daily Thought.
Comradeship is one of the finest facts, and one of the strongest forces in life.—Hugh Black.

Small Print Bad for Children.
Small print leads the young scholar to look too closely at his books. He is not yet familiar with the forms of the words, and his eyesight has not yet reached its full acuteness. For ages larger than those which satisfy the trained reader. To obtain these larger images he brings the book too near to his eyes, or he reads too near the book, and this is apt to be injurious.

The people at Metter are getting ready to entertain their guest at the free barbecue to be given Saturday May 10th, in the interest of the move to have created Candler county with Metter as the county seat. You should attend it, they will show you a royal time. adv

Alfalfa Reduces Temperature.
It has been learned by actual experience that alfalfa planted on the south and southwest of the home of those western farmers will reduce the temperature from 25 to 30 degrees above one of those hot, sultry days. There is a cool breeze from the alfalfa field at the time. The difference in temperature is not over 10 to 15 degrees, but it is a relief.

Three shams who represent some of the best of the state, and are bound by a contract to pay them $100 a year for the next ten years. Before you put your foot on a snake contract of any kind, go and hire a lawyer to tell you what it is.

QUININE AND IRON—THE MOST RELIABLE PAIN AND HEAD EFFECTUAL GENERAL TONIC AT THE SAME TIME

You know what you are taking when you take GROVE'S TASTEFUL CHILL TONIC, recognized for 30 years throughout the South as the standard Malaria, Chills and Fever Remedy, and General Strengthening Tonic. It is as strong as the strongest bitter tonic, but you do not taste the bitter because the Quinine is tasteless in this form. It is a pleasant, palatable, and refreshing tonic. It is the only one that you can take with your meals. It is the only one that you can take with your meals. It is the only one that you can take with your meals.

SUPERIOR COURT IN SESSION

The Spring term of Bulloch Superior court convened on Monday morning, with Judge B. T. Rawlings presiding.

After delivering his usual able charge to the grand jury, Judge Rawlings took up the civil docket. The grand jury was organized and got down to business, with S. C. Groover as foreman, W. L. Jones clerk and W. A. Waters bailiff.

The first business of the court was the disposal of a number of divorce cases in which the prayer for a separation of nuptial ties was granted, practically without exception. The civil grand jury was kept up until yesterday morning, when the criminal docket was called. Solicitor General, R. Lee Moore, was on hand to look after the interest of the state vs. Joe Luck, charged with the murder of Ives Mercer, at a drunken negro frolic, in the upper part of the county, consumed the entire day. The jury, after being out a short time, returned a verdict of not guilty.

It is expected that the grand jury will conclude its labors some time during the day, (Friday) and adjourn. It is expected that court will run until sometime during the day tomorrow.

Calloway's Interview

In Sunday's daily papers, there appeared an interview from the Honorable N. Calloway, who has returned from a trip through the Sea Island cotton sections of Egypt.

Mr. Calloway had been tendered the position of commissioner of Indian affairs under the Wilson administration, but owing to the fact that his time is taken up with the administration of the affairs of a number of cotton mills of which he is president forced him to decline the honor.

Mr. Calloway gives out some interesting data on the Sea Island situation. He takes the position that there now is a shortage, and will always be in the supply of our Sea Island cotton. He says that Egypt cannot compete with the southern states of America in the production of the long staple cotton. Mr. Calloway's assertions that Egypt cannot compete with us reminds us of the advice a certain lawyer gave his client who was to jail, after hearing his story of injured innocence, the attorney advised, "Why they can't put you in jail on that," but the client answered, "I am already in jail, yes, the pauper labor of Egypt is already supplying the mills of this country with raw cotton in competition to American grown toe.

Of course, Mr. Calloway being in the cotton manufacturing business is anxious to buy raw cotton as cheap as he can and he cares little whether it comes from Egypt or America. It all spins alike to him and his interview given out at this time savors of an effort to influence legislation against the sea island cotton planter of Georgia, South Carolina and Florida. He is evidently trying to knock out a protective tariff on Egyptian cotton.

Palaski Wants New County.
Mr. Chas. L. Nevil was in from Palaski today, and brings the information that the citizens living in Palaski and vicinity are awakening to a movement on foot to locate a new county, with Palaski as its county seat. He states the plan is to ask for only a small slice of Bulloch, embracing that section between Little's Creek on east and Fifteen Mile Creek on the west, to the Canoochee river on the south.

Just what steps will be taken to launch the new county boom at Palaski, Mr. Nevil says has not yet been determined. When a barbecue was suggested he thought that perhaps a fish fry would be better.

After the Pool Rooms
We are informed that the Grand Jury have been taking a peep into the workings of the pool room business in Statesboro. Just whether an indictment is coming against any of them cannot be said now, but they have been on the griddle during the week.

LATER

An indictment was found against Gex. Condon for allowing minors to play.

Why He Quit Working.

Woman (tearing tramp)—"You should work, if only to see a good example to others." Tramp—"I did that once, mum, an' the poor fellow wet took the example worked so hard he died of nervous prostration."

White Wood Work.

Inside painted woodwork can be made to look like new by rubbing it with a rag dipped in whiting.
After the whiting dries it should be thoroughly rubbed with a soft cloth.
The paint is not injured, as it usually is by the application of soap and water, and the process is easy.

People Oppose Candler County.

Coming into Statesboro this week from the section below the Fifteen Mile Creek in that splendid section of Bulloch that is sought to be annexed to the Candler county scheme, in which it has been asserted that 99 per cent. of the people favor the new county, we find a very large per centage of the people unalterably opposed to the new county scheme. Citizens from Palaski and that section are emphatic in their opposition to Candler county. One of the largest property owners there, who has been quoted as favoring Candler county, stated: "The more I think of it the more disgusted I get with it. I figure that for a citizen of my section to favor it would be like moving out of home and building anew—that it brings no benefits and invites untoiled hardships and exorbitant taxes." Another, perhaps the heaviest tax payer to be taken in the section below the Creek, stopped on the street and stated: "We want the movement fought to the finish. They sent over to me this week for six goats and a beef and other things for the barbecue, but if they have no barbecue until they cook my goats they will go hungry. I had rather pay the expenses of somebody to go to Atlanta to fight them." Another stated that he would "pay a hundred dollars to finance the fight to defeat Candler and win for Still-more, for the reason that Stillmore didn't take him in, stopping at the Fifteen Mile Creek, and took those who wanted a new county." Still another stated that two-thirds of those who at one time expressed themselves as favoring it now oppose it. This of course applied to the territory below the Fifteen Mile Creek. One man living a few miles above Palaski expressed himself as favoring the new county. With that exception absolutely every one we have discus-ed it with from the section referred to opposed it.

It looks like a rather poor show- ing for 99 per cent.

Brooklet May Change Line.

It is said that the promoters of the new county with Brooklet as its county seat will probably change its western boundary line running to Burkhalter road from Sharp's bridge to Middleground church, then the public road via Emmitt and the sink hole bridge.
While it is not certain that this will be done, it has been under consideration. A number of Brooklet county boosters was in town attending court this week.

Large Crowd Expected At Barbecue

It has been given out that at least five hundred are expected up from Statesboro to the barbecue to be fed and enthused. Now there is no doubt but what there are five hundred folks here who would go a long ways to be fed free, but if that class had the price of a railroad ticket to Metter and return they would go to a grocery store and buy a sack of flour or a half bushel of meal.
They would remain at home and back in the sunlight of their own household. It is really interesting to know how many people here are so hard up for a little beef and bread that they will pay their way to Metter to be fed as well as misinstructed.

Squaky Boots.

Often when one has purchased a pair of boots, one doesn't know till they are home that they squeak. However, the disagreeable noise may be stopped by taking them back to the shoemaker and asking him to spring them on each side and insert between the soles a teaspoonful of French chalk. This process costs only a trifle and answers admirably.

To Make Plants Grow.

Plants will grow more quickly if a few drops of ammonia is added once a week. The water should be lukewarm, not colder than the atmosphere, when you water your plants.

Inference Obvious.

Reggie (over on a visit)—"Do you know, old chap, I think that vulgar fellow over there insulted me?" Answer—"Friend—You think so? What did he say?" Reggie—"Why, he suggested in a very rude manner that when I die I bequeath my head to a collar-button factory."

Must Have Wealth.

"Is he rich?" "I didn't think so, but he must be." "Why?" "I heard him say the other night that he lets his wife have all the money she wants."

Decoy Duck.

After a girl has tried every other way to get a proposal and failed she takes to standing at the side door with her sleeves rolled up and an apron on.—Exchange.

Cleaning Windows.

If windows are cleaned with vinegar and water they will be brighter and stay clean longer than if cleaned with water alone. Polish in the usual way with soft linen cloth.

Voter's Qualifications.

In parts of New England during the seventeenth century voters had to reside in a "stone house of the dimensions of 20 feet by 15, with one or more brick chimneys or chimneys."

Be Honest.

Being honest is the greater part of achievement. When you know that you're doing the best within you, you can't be downed. Self-respect is an eternal life preserver—no matter how often circumstances wreck you, you're bound to float back to solid ground again. When men strive for posts of trust, they must be somewhat post-like themselves and stand steady.— Herbert Kaufman.

Oil Drilling by Hand.

Oil exists in great quantities in Siam, but the methods of securing it are exceedingly crude. The wells are not more than sixty feet deep and are dug by hand. The oil seeps up from the bottom of the well by dip-pers on long sticks of bamboo. The oil is sold to the natives who live within calling distance of the wells.

Quick Mustard Plaster.

A trained nurse says that if one forgets the exact proportion for making a mustard plaster one can be quickly made by cutting a thick slice of bread, dipping it for just a second in hot water, then spreading with white of egg, and sprinkling thickly with mustard. The egg will prevent blistering.

Lucky in Love.

The optimist had lost heavily. "Oh, well," he remarked, as he rose from the gaming table, "unlucky at cards, lucky at love." "Is that true in your case?" sneered the pessimist. "Sure," replied the optimist. "At any rate, I have never been married."—Philadelphia Record.

Novelist Plays Safe.

Dickens and Balzac, living before novelists walked in fear of libel actions, took the name of their characters from above the shop doors of London and Paris. Mr. Frankfort Morse confesses to an equally easy, but safer method. He draws the names from tombstones. Dead men read no tales.

Need Care of Home.

A Philadelphia physician who enjoys a handsome practice and excellent hospital connections told an interesting, although terrible thing.
About 90 per cent. out of every 100 babies that are sent to hospitals for bringing up die. The death rate among such unfortunate is seven times as great as with infants who have the immediate care of mothers.
Truly there is something needed in a child's life besides food, shelter and clothing.—Philadelphia Record.

Upper Burma Home of Ruby.

While certain qualities of rubies are widely distributed and found in Burma, Ceylon, Afghanistan, India, Brazil, Australia and the United States, the countries of Burma, Siam and Ceylon are beyond question commercially the more important. Just as this is true there rests but little if any doubt that Upper Burma, the Mogok section, furnishes the finest and largest supply.

Worth It.

"Prisoner at the bar," said the judge, "is there anything you wish to say before sentence is passed upon you?" "No, my lord, there is nothing I care to say; but if you'll clear away the tables and chairs for me to thrash my lawyer, you can give me a year or two extra."—Tit-bit.

Compressed Sponges.

A compressed sponge is a bit of toiletette daintiness intended specially for travelers, though it appears as well to the stay-at-home who is an ultra-hygienist. The sponge is of compressed absorbent cotton about the size of a two-and-a-half cent piece, and half an inch in thickness. Dropped into water it becomes saturated and expands to the size of a small face cloth, large enough to wipe the face free from dust and grime.

Er-Yes, He Had.

"Pardon me, Mr. Peever," said the chance acquaintance as the two helped up over the cafe bar, "but have you ever had a serious accident?"
"I've had Mr. Peever," I met my wife by accident."

Death of Mrs. Atwood.

When you consider that Bulloch Emmanuel and Tattnall are three of the largest counties in the State and that they all border on each other at a point far removed from their respective county seats it will be apparent to you that a new county should be created out of these remote corners with either Still-more, Allee or Metter as the county seat.

Each of these places is asking for a new county and three-fourths of the territory included in either of them is common to the other two.
It might be said that all three embrace practically the same territory.
Stoneval county takes in practically all of the five Militia Districts, viz: Stillmore, Cobbtown, Oak Park, Metter and 59th. Of these five the greatest majority of the voters in the Stillmore, Cobbtown, Oak Park, and 59th Dist. are strongly in favor of Stoneval county. Why? Because of the nearness to county seat and easy railroad and public highway facilities. Stoneval county also taken a part of the 1502nd and the 1503rd dist. The people living in the 1502nd Dist. who are to be affected by our new county lines are strongly in favor of Stoneval county for the above stated reasons.
Those in the 1503rd Dist. however remain neutral in the matter.
Every man in the Stillmore Dist. with the exception of fifty or a hundred living in and around Allee, are unanimously in favor of Stoneval county. It will thus be seen that about three-fourths of the people in all of the proposed new territory are backing the Stoneval county movement.

If Stoneval county is created Metter will be within nine miles of the county seat with double daily passenger service to and from Stillmore. Likewise, Allee will be within seven miles of Still-more with a good paved highway and convenient schedules.

If Stoneval county is created Stillmore and vicinity promises to finish a courthouse and jail without any cost to the people. We believe the Legislature will in this matter as in all others, be guided by the wish of the greatest number of people, and at the proper time we will be in position to show you how the greatest number stands in reference to this matter.

Did you know that only the people living in and around Metter are working for Candler county? One of Bulloch's representatives in the Metter District, and he and all of the people living in his section are strenuously opposed to Metter's movement.

We invite investigations as to the truthfulness of the above facts.

walked 15 1/2 miles to Whaploga Grove one recent Sunday to see their grand-the journey unknown to their parents, arrived exhausted, and after being fed and rested were driven home again.—

OBITUARY.

In loving remembrance of Mrs.
J. B. Donaldson.

On the evening of April 25, 1913, the death angel came and bore away our dear friend, Mrs.
Donaldson. She had many friends, it was so sad and heartbreaking for her loved ones to stand by and realize that she was dying. We know it was hard to give her up, but she is gone never to return.
She has fought the battle here on earth and trod through life's rugged road, and we feel that she has won the prize that we all hope to win. We trust to meet her in that heavenly home. Lord help each and every one of us to bear our troubles.

Her loving voice is stilled, A place in her home is vacant Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled The boon His love had given, And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in heaven Lonely the home and sad the hour
But a brighter home than ours In heaven is now her own.
God bless you, we hope to meet you on that bright and happy shore.

POULTRY

POULTRY FOR THE BOY

Desirable to Manage Them Separately From Other Fowls.

Plan Given for the Construction of Suitable House to Accommodate Ten Hens and Male—Cock May Be Enlarged.

(By KATHERINE A. HERRINGTON)

The boy who has fowls of his own will want to manage them so as to keep them separate from the other poultry on the farm. The following plan, which is arranged to accommodate ten or twelve hens and a male, has been found very satisfactory. It may be enlarged for a greater number, always remembering that each additional fowl means from five to eight square feet more of floor space.

The coop in question is five feet wide and twelve feet long, giving a floor space of sixty square feet—five or six square feet per hen. It is six feet high at the front, and four feet at the back, and is built from cheap lumber, and covered with tarred roofing. On most farms there are odds and ends of boards enough to put up much a coop, except for the roofing. As no glass is used, the only additional expense will be for nails, hinges, a few yards of cheap cotton domestic, and a little poultry netting.

The door into the coop is put at one end of the front wall. It is not closed with a solid door, but with a frame covered with wire netting, having a curtain of muslin on the inside for use in cold weather. The upper half of the remaining part of the front is also left open and covered with netting, with inside muslin curtain. In warm weather these curtains are kept rolled up, but in cold weather they are let down over the openings. They should be large enough to cover them well, and have weights at the bottom to hold them in place. If a hen is run in, and a rather heavy slat thrust through the casing thus formed, they will stay in place very well.

The only other openings in the coop are four little square doorways, eight by ten inches in size. If the hens are very large, these may be made somewhat larger each way. One of these little doors should be in each end, and one in each lower corner of the back wall. They are closed with a sliding panel, set in a little frame, which can be raised or lowered by a wire or stout cord. Only one is, of course, to be used at a time.

In the center of the back wall, two feet above the floor, a frame of two feet wide and three feet long, carrying two roosting poles. This frame should be hinged to the wall so it can be raised out of the way when desired. Under it, a foot from the floor, make a little platform of boards to catch the droppings. Do not fasten this anywhere, as you will want to take it up to clean it. On the front corners of the roosting frame put legs a foot long, which should rest on this dropping board when the roost is lowered in place. Have both roosting poles the same height, not set so the frame will slant.

On the ceiling, directly above the roost, nail strips of inch boards so as to make a frame the same size, or a trifle larger, than the roost itself. To this nail strips of burlap sackling long enough to reach the floor, and wide enough to completely surround the coop when they are dropped in place. At the lower edges put slats to keep them in place, as on the other curtains. On cold nights this makes a snug, and yet not stuffy, sleeping place for the fowls. This will be against the front wall, in the corner farthest from the outer door. A box three feet long and a foot deep, with partition in the middle, and doors cut in the ends, makes a good nest when turned bottom side up over a nice deep bed of clean straw.

The nest boxes—two are plenty—should be placed in the darkest part of the coop. This will be against the front wall, in the corner farthest from the outer door. A box three feet long and a foot deep, with partition in the middle, and doors cut in the ends, makes a good nest when turned bottom side up over a nice deep bed of clean straw.

Metter to Have Big Barbecue

The enterprising Citizens of Metter are moving heaven and earth with a slice of Bulloch, Tattnall and Emanuel counties thrown in for good measure in their efforts to show the people that a new county with Metter as its county seat would be a good thing for the folks in that particular section. It was announced sometime ago in box car size headlines that this task had already been accomplished, but it is said that the proposition began to waver at both ends and sag in the middle and the barbecue has been selected as the proper thing to brace it up with.

Just what relation the new county barbecue will have to the old time political barbecue cannot now be stated. In the olden days when enthusiasm began to waver in the fortunes of a political faction or party, the barbecue was the haven to which the desperate politicians flew in order to save the day.

The barbecue was worked to a great success in carolling the negroes and sorry element of white folks into the fold, it was a great vote catcher and was intended solely for the turpentine and saw mill negroes and the weak minded white people.

Just what relation the new county barbecue will bear to the old time political roundup is awaited with unabated interest. It may be that the new county barbecue is intended to feed and refresh the brain of the highly intelligent and broaden the views of the best folks and large property owners or it may be that it is intended to stuff with beef and bread will see things in clearer vision than before. It may be that at this particular season when the times are rather tight and square meals going some what at a premium that the barbecue will do the work.

It may be that when those Cobb town bulies are brought over and fed well, they will forget about those long deep snail which would have to be plowed through coming to court at Metter. It may be that when the Tattnall county boys get their bellies full of barbecue and beer and lots of lightbread there will be less danger in fording the seven runs of the Big Can succowen when their hides are tight with moonshine bread they will float across and there will appear no need of bonds for bridges.

It may be when the Emanuel county crowd who are said to be clamoring to come in will be further enthused when they eat barbecue beef and lightbread and last out not less than three crackers below the fifteen mile creek will lubbe the enthusiasm when they fill up.

Why, when we come to think over it it looks as if the barbecue was going to be a great success, it will no doubt draw to Metter on that day all the hungry legions who want to be fed and instructed as to how to vote and otherwise conduct themselves.

It is believed that the barbecue will be a wonderful success, there is no reason why it should not be, it worked well in the old days.

It is said that the nearest way to a man's heart is through his stomach, and our friends at Metter recognizing this fact have seized old rather than by both means, not depending upon any chasoon and are going to feed and insure the weak and wavering on the occasion of their mammoth new county barbecue.

What Are We Coming To Boys?

Mr. Editor: Last May during the Confederate Veterans' Reunion at Macon, Ga., the veterans of the North sent an invitation to join them in a reunion at Gettysburg next July. The invitation was refused at first, but next day some of the old boys reconsidered the matter and accepted the invitation. Now this reunion is to be held at Gettysburg, where our army was defeated to some extent. Now, if the Yankee vets want to meet the southern vets in reunion, why don't they propose to meet at Manassas or Chancellorsville, or some other battlefield where our men defeated them, when they had two to our one? No, they don't want to meet us where they got whipped. As for myself, I don't want to meet them anywhere in that capacity, especially where they can exult over us in rehearsing the incidents of the battle which resulted in our defeat. Let the northern veterans have their own reunion and we have ours, but let us not humiliate ourselves. Let us retain our southern manhood and southern patriotism; but sometimes I fear southern patriotism is dying to some extent.

Sometimes this is shown in politics. Some few years ago at a political convention the southern delegation helped to nominate a western Yankee for president, while the band played "Marching Through Georgia," in commemoration of Sherman and his hostile gang, who pillaged and burned the homes of helpless women and children, whose husbands, brothers and sons were at the front fighting with an endeavor to save their homes from the ravages of a relentless foe. And when ex-president Taft comes south some of our southern people pay him greater homage than they would Jesus Christ were He to appear in the flesh, while he laughs in his sleeves to how simple they are.

One of the most distinguishing things I have ever read of was the great demonstrations some of our southern people made some few years ago at the gathering to celebrate the birth day of Lincoln, the arch enemy of the south and of southern rights. Eulogies have been written and spoken in his behalf, and he has been held up before our southern youth as a perfect model, to be admired, etc. Yes, he has been held up as one having "compassion for humanity in general." But we old folks know that he waged a cruel war against the southern people, who were fighting for what they knew to be right. He endorsed every action of his armies in laying waste the homes of helpless women and children, and while prisoners on both sides were languishing in prison, he refused to exchange because he had the world to recruit from, while the south had only her brave sons to do her fighting. Not much comparison shown here.

Some time ago I picked up a child's U. S. history in which Lincoln's life and character were held up as perfect models, while Jeff Davis, the great southern patriot, was mentioned only incidentally. Southern people should never allow such stuff to enter their schools or their homes. The good Lord knows that I hold no malice against any man or set of men, either dead or living, but I maintain that we should foster southern pride and manhood. I am fearful that it won't be very long before our old soldiers will be forgotten as rebels and traitors and their monuments hipped at.

B. W. Darsey.

If you have been opposing Metter's move for a new county just out it out and attend the barbecue there on Saturday, May 10th. With all of our opposition they are going to win out, so let us lay down the fight and help them get it. Candler county will sound good anyway, and the move will not hurt anybody,—ad

LEGISLATURE MUST PASS ON COUNTIES STILLMORE-MITTER FIGHT

Atlanta, April 26.—The new county movement is rapidly taking shape and application will be made to the legislature this summer for the creation of something like half dozen new counties.

These movements are all being worked up well in advance of the legislative session. Headquarters have been organized, committees appointed and hard work is being done at every possible point to create sentiment in favor of these new divisions.

One of the movements which has assumed definite shape and has behind it some of the strongest influences is that which proposes to create the new county of Stillmore out of portions of Emanuel and Tattnall, with Stillmore as the county site.

Stillmore is one of the most progressive towns in Southeast Georgia, and its people have long desired that it should be a county of its own. They have gone at it this time more thoroughly in earnest than ever before. They have organized a working force with Hon. T. J. Kent as president, Dr. R. E. Graham, vice president, Dr. J. R. Warner, secretary, and Hon. W. J. Evans, treasurer. Committees have also been appointed to deal with every possible phase of the case.

Several mass meetings have been held in Stillmore and rural districts to be affected by the proposed new county. Contributions of all amounts, from five cents up, are being received from nearly every section of the new territory to aid in defraying the expenses of advertising. Stillmore is situated practically in the center of the proposed new county territory, has three railroads, each of which has a double daily passenger service, and is well equipped for a new county site.

But Stillmore is going to have the right of her life with the equally enterprising town of Metter, located in the western portion of Bulloch county. The people Metter are trying to create the new county of Candler, to be named in honor of the late Gov. Allen D. Candler, and to be composed of portions of Bulloch, Tattnall and Emanuel counties. It is understood that they have an equally strong organization, and the fight is on between these two as to which shall be the site of the new county, to be formed in this section.

The Metter movement is backed by some of the strongest politicians in the state, who are determined to see it go through successfully, if there is a possibility of getting any new counties at the coming session of the legislature. The fight is already on, though quietly, and an immense amount of work is being done to secure favorable sentiment among the members of the legislature.

Stillmore and Metter are only about twelve miles apart, and of course only one of them can hope to secure the site of a new county. This is the only section of the state where the same territory is being fought for by conflicting interests, and this probably will be the most interesting new county fight before the legislature this summer.

The presentments will appear in full in our next issue.

The Central of Georgia will put on several extra coaches to carry the people to the Candler county barbecue at Metter, Saturday, May 10th. Get yourself ready and enjoy the day with your neighbors at Metter, for they will soon be citizens of Candler county. They are sure to win out this year for they way things look now,—ad

When you witness the wonderful enthusiasm of 10,000 for Candler county you will see that Metter is the only town in all of this section that stands a ghost of a show for a new county. They are fighting to win, and from the way things look you can just count on the legislature creating Candler county, with Metter the county site. We had just as well join in with them,—ad

It also recommends that the salary of the Superintendent of Schools of Bulloch County be reduced from $1400.00 to $1000.00 per annum and his traveling expense account be reduced from $400.00 to $200.00 per year. It also takes away from him the $100.00 allowed for clerk hire.

The Central of Georgia will put on several extra coaches to carry the people to the Candler county barbecue at Metter, Saturday, May 10th. Get yourself ready and enjoy the day with your neighbors at Metter, for they will soon be citizens of Candler county. They are sure to win out this year for they way things look now,—ad

When you witness the wonderful enthusiasm of 10,000 for Candler county you will see that Metter is the only town in all of this section that stands a ghost of a show for a new county. They are fighting to win, and from the way things look you can just count on the legislature creating Candler county, with Metter the county site. We had just as well join in with them,—ad

Double Header Carries Large Crowd From Statesboro. Big Dinner and Speeches Enthus New County Folks.

Metter was the center of attraction today, a crowd estimated at from two to four thousand people gathered to listen to the new county dope handed out by Col. W. J. Willis, of Cairo, Ga., a former resident of Metter, and a son in law of Mr. J. T. Trappnell, was the principal orator of the day. Col. Willis held the distinction of being the "prominent Georgian" who was billed to speak. The other speaker was Eld F. H. Sills, Metter. The Central of Georgia Railway brought a crowd of one hundred and eighty from Stillmore and surrounding country, as soon as the train stopped at Metter a crowd of young ladies made themselves busy pinning Candler county badges on the visitors from the section where they were supposed to be opposed. The central train, passing here at ten o'clock carried up a train of eight cars with two engines pulling it, one hundred and eighty five tickets were sold at this place and there was already a delegation of about fifty aboard from Milled and intermediate points, Statesboro crowd was made up largely of people who had gathered here from different sections of the county about thirty coming in from Port and other points on the Savannah and Statesboro railway.

The crowds came into Metter by private conveyances from all that section of country tributary to the place, and new county sentiment seemed to run high. A barbecue and basket dinner was served those who went up from Statesboro report a pleasant trip.

In the make up of the crowd there were all sorts of folks—people who went for divers purposes, for instance, there went the fellow who was in good faith—who had heard something about this new county business, but was not certain of his ground—he wanted real instruction. There was also along the fellow who stood with his mouth open and took everything in, got converted as soon as he got away, and when the barbecue began to eat him he laid back into the same old spirit of indifference. There was also the hypocrite, who while enjoying the hospitality of the new county folks witnessed with them, and as soon as he turned his back on them said they were a set of fools and didn't need any new county. Then there was the fellow who went up to be present so that he would be seen so that he could pay his trade against a little better, wore their badge and sat on their platform and sanctioned all that was said and done, and as soon as he got out of sight of Metter, tore off the badge and poked it at the bunch. Then there were the politicians, some expecting to run for congress, some for judge of the superior court, some for sheriff, some for county clerk, in fact every office on the face of the earth. Of course all these fellows witnessed strong in the faith while at the barbecue, but a different spirit crept over their dreams as soon as they got out of Metter. There was a great drifting crowd who went just because somebody else was going—went to fill up on barbecued goats and stand around and spit tobacco

Sam Smith Convicted for Selling Whiskey
On Monday afternoon a jury after being out 2 minutes brought in a verdict of guilty in the case of the State vs S. A. Smith, the Statesboro restaurant keeper, who was charged with retailing booze. Three witnesses testified that they had obtained through Smith Jefferson Club whiskey, for which they delivered up one and a quarter dollars per quart for same. Smith went on the stand and made a statement to the effect that he had acted as the agent of the buyers, and had obtained the whiskey from Jim Love, a negro who had a few months ago, and another negro who wore a derby hat and drove a blind gray mule around at night. Smith stated that he had been able to secure whiskey in Statesboro whenever he wanted it since the time he was eighteen years old, but he could not recall the name of the negro who wore the stiff hat and drove the blind gray mule. The jury evidently believed Smith guilty, and returned a verdict of guilty in a remarkably short time. Judge Hawkins imposed a fine of $500 and cost or twelve months on the chain gang. The fine was reduced to $400, to include cost. We understand that Smith has made a motion for a new trial.

Dwelling Burned
On last Friday the dwelling of Mr. A. H. Joiner was destroyed by fire. Mr. Joiner was in Statesboro attending court when the news of the fire reached him. The building was a new one and was insured for $1,500. A piano and other furniture was destroyed.

O. M. Warren Acquitted.
After having been on trial from Saturday morning until Monday afternoon, the jury in the case of the State vs O. M. Warren, charged with embezzling the funds of the defunct Citizens Bank of Pulaski, returned a verdict of not guilty.

The jury remained out until about nine o'clock, and the impression reached the outside that a mistrial was possible, but it was not so. The trial was being consumed in the examination of the records, which had been submitted to them, a verdict of acquittal being reached on the first ballot.

The feature of the case was the collapse of the expert auditor's report on which the state leaned largely. Mr. D. F. McCoy, who had checked Warren twenty-thousand dollars short, was unable to sustain the items in his report under the rigid cross examination of Judge Hines, one of the counsel for the defense. That the bank was wrecked was not denied by anyone, but the question as to who did the wrecking was the issue. Warren charged that the directors had wrecked it by borrowing its funds to hold cotton with. The directors went on the stand and stoutly denied the truth of this charge.
