WHY NOT TRY THE EXPERIMENT NOW.

We hear a great deal from the Underwood spiders about the nerve of Southern men placing before the voters of the country a Southern man and try out the folks across the Mason and Dixon's line and see if they won't vote for one of our men? They tell us the time is ripe for the South to put out a man and let the whole country pass on him.

It seems to us if the time is ripe for this experiment that in the Democratic primaries now being held in every state in the Union would have offered an excellent opportunity to have tested this question.

If the people of the Great North and West are willing to take Mr. Underwood why not have submitted him to the Democrats of the country. Why didn't they run him in the Democratic primaries? If the Democrats of these states are not ready to receive him, in the name of high heaven do you expect the Republicans to do it. The Democratic primaries would have proven the test.

If you have a craft that you are afraid to float in a small creek what's the sense in taking it out on the high seas?

The truth of it is they know that Oscar W. Underwood would not have polled a corporal's guard in any state beyond those bordering on his own. They know that he would have been knocked out of the box and his candidacy knocked into a cocked hat, therefore they didn't try him.

RANDOLPH ANDERSON ADDRESSES VOTERS

Statesman from Chatham Appeals to Voters to Stand by Underwood. A Good Size Crowd Out.

On Wednesday, following the address of Hon. Joe Hill at the noon hour of court, Hon. J. Randolph Anderson delivered an address in behalf of the candidacy of Hon. Oscar W. Underwood in his race for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency. The speaker was introduced by Col. J. J. E. Anderson.

Mr. Anderson branched off in the subject, pitching the first part of his address far above the heads of the crowd, it being more a discussion of general issues and explanation of the great principles for which the Democratic party stood. He was only preparing a foundation for what he intended to say later in behalf of the personal claims of his candidate. He stated that he was personally acquainted with both Mr. Underwood and Gov. Wilson, having been in college with them both at The University of Virginia. He gave a brief account of the stewardship of Mr. Underwood as floor leader of the Democrats in Congress, and while he made an eloquent appeal for his candidate, at no time did he vilify the name or claims of Gov. Wilson. This was so much different from the attitude of Mr. Cowan the day before that it commanded the speech of the Savannahian to the intelligence of the crowd.

Mr. Anderson made it known first of all that he was a Democrat, and while he had his personal choice he didn't intend to say anything about any Democrat that would prevent him giving them his hearty support as nominee of the party at the polls this fall.

Mr. Anderson believed that Roosevelt would beat Taft for the nomination, and thought with Roosevelt as the nominee of the Republicans Underwood would be the man the Democrats ought to put out.

Gov. Wilson was arraigned for his advocacy of the principle of the initiative and referendum. While the speaker admitted that Mr. Wilson while down this way thought it ought to be confined to the different states, so that the doctrine of state rights could be preserved, yet he favored a man who opposed these isms. He was opposed to the principle for the reason that we would then have a government of the people, instead of one based on permanent established law. He said that if we had the initiative and referendum as advocated by Woodrow Wilson that the people would have a right to go to the ballot box at any given election and by their ballots wipe off the statute books any law they happened to consider obnoxious. This would be bringing the Government too close to the people. Therefore, he appealed to the voters to support a man who was against this principle, instead of Woodrow Wilson, who was in favor of the initiative and referendum, which was dangerous, because it gave the voters the right to repeal laws at the ballot box.

Mr. Anderson had recently spent much time in New York, Boston and Washington, where he had occasion to meet a great many Republicans who thought Mr. Underwood would be an excellent man for the Democrats to nominate. He talked with delegates from Pennsylvania who had been instructed to vote for Woodrow Wilson at Baltimore, who said they would vote for Underwood. He failed to state, however, that the Democratic Convention of Pennsylvania (who had named these delegates had adopted the unit rule, and that in the primaries before the Democratic masses of Pennsylvania Mr. Underwood failed to poll a single vote. This seemed to strike the crowd as a rather peculiar circumstance, that a man who couldn't get a single vote at the hands of the common people at the polls would have delegates ready to vote for him at the convention. He believed that Mr. Underwood was the choice of the Democratic delegation from New York, though he again failed to say that Mr. Underwood didn't get a single vote in the New York Convention, and the head of the delegation to Baltimore is Senator O'Gorman, the leader of the Woodrow Wilson forces in that state.

Mr. Anderson's address was well delivered and created a strong impression. There were those present who didn't agree with his propositions, of course, but they couldn't help but admire the clean and conservative manner in which it was put, and the spirit of harmony and submission to the inevitable that seemed to lurk all the way through its discourse.

NEXT WEDNESDAY ELECTION DAY.

The candidates are now making the last lap in the county primary race, which will come to an end next Wednesday. At this time the winners cannot be selected. All of the candidates are in high hope and have assurances of success.

UNDERWOOD COMMITTEE GOES BACK ON WATSON.

Believing as they did that they had waited until all the Georgia Weeklies had gone to press for the last time before the election, the Underwood campaign committee have thrown down Mr. Thomas E. Watson and embraced the Roman Catholic vote instead.

It is a known fact that Mr. Watson is the original Underwood man in Georgia; it was he who was supporting Underwood when the other big birds were floundering around looking for a roosting place. It is also a notorious fact that Mr. Watson has rendered himself unpopular with the Roman Catholic vote on account of his repeated attacks on their religion in the columns of his Weekly Jeffersonian, and the fact that he was espousing the Underwood cause made the Catholic vote in the large cities grow cold-footed towards his candidate.

The Savannah Morning News of Sunday carries a remarkable production; an interview from Mr. A. O. O'Beirne, of Savannah, who, in appealing to his brother Catholics in Savannah, assures them that he has the assurances from the Underwood people that in the event that Mr. Underwood carries Georgia that Mr. Watson will not be allowed to go as a delegate to the National Convention. The language of Mr. O'Beirne is as follows:

"Mr. Underwood's managers have given me the positive assurance that in the event Mr. Underwood carries the state in the primary Mr. Watson will not go to Baltimore as one of the delegates."

Now if this is not a slap square in the face to Mr. Watson and every friend he has in Georgia, then we confess that we don't know what slapping in the face means.

The Catholic vote is assured that Mr. Watson will be disfranchised and not allowed to go as an Underwood delegate. Now this is the most remarkable production of the entire campaign. The man who has spent the best years of his life fighting Catholicism, is now notified that he must bend his knee to the Catholic church.

There has never before been exhibited a more desperate effort to steal the state from Gov. Wilson. They don't hesitate at any methods, its anything from flooding the country counties with Steel trust money for the purpose of "giving 'em hell, and rattling the opposition," to trading off the man who started the fight and sacrificing him to his bitterest enemies.

If Underwood carries Georgia, Mike O'Beirne will go as a delegate from the State at large, while Mr. Watson will be left at home with the answer "we haven't got time to talk to you now," as was the case when he insisted on a compliance with a promise on the appointment of the Commissioner of Agriculture.

"I am assured by the Underwood managers that Mr. Watson will not be allowed to go to Baltimore." If this don't catch the Catholic vote then its a far-fetched effort spent in vain.

The Underwood managers believe that One Hundred Dollars contributed to each county will vote the country crackers and now they are making terms with the Catholic vote in the large cities, and the humiliation of Tom Watson is the price they are offering for it.

That's a big price, but they must have it and they are paying the cost. What do they care for Watson now? He has done the work for them in the country counties, and the weekly papers have all gone to press. Mr. Watson's mouth is closed until its too late for his friends to get on. It's a shrewd scheme that only the satellites of the Standard Oil and Steel Trust are capable of working off. It's a last dying effort to save themselves from overwhelming defeat which awaits them on Wednesday.

It's an awful price, but the case is desperate and the ends justify the means.

Let the result be as it may the humiliation of Mr. Watson at the hands of the Underwood Committee is the crowning infamy of the campaign.

"Take This $100 and Give 'Em Hell in Morgan Co."

Herewith is reproduced a copy of a letter that appears somewhat sensational under the eye of "pitiless publicity." Georgians will read it with acute interest.

The original was written on the stationery of Underwood headquarters in Atlanta. It was addressed to J. E. Gardner, editor of the Clarke County Courier, a weekly newspaper published at Athens. It was dropped by Mr. Gardner on the floor of the Georgia National Bank at Athens, on April 21 or 22. It was picked up by John Burch, of Athens, who still has it in his possession. Here is the letter:

ATLANTA, GA., April 20, 1912

Mr. J. E. Gardner, Athens, Ga.

DEAR SIR: we want you to give them HELL in Morgan county. I enclose you check for one hundred ($100) dollars.

I suggest that you use it for barbecue and that you get out a good crowd and rattle the opposition. Or you can use it in getting the vote out.

I leave it entirely with you.

Yours truly, (Signed) G. R. HUTCHENS.

Mr. Murch read the letter at a glance and then showed it to a number of gentlemen. Among those who saw it and read it were John Welch, B. T. O. Edwards, W. D. Beacham, R. L. Moss, Jr., and W. C. Jordan, all of Athens. A number of others saw it and read it.

I hope to be able to meet the voters face to face between this time and the primary, and state to them the principle for which I stand. I shall appreciate the support of the voter and will endeavor, if elected, to do equal justice between all parts of the county.
 W. H. SHARPE

For Solicitor of the City Court of Statesboro
 To the Citizens of Bulloch County:
 I am no politician, and am not inclined toward things political, but the encouragement I have had has been such as to induce me to become a candidate for the office of solicitor of the City Court of Statesboro for another term. In making this announcement, I wish to say I am not running in opposition to any particular candidate.
 Bulloch county is one of the most progressive counties in Georgia, and one who represents her solicitor fills an office that means much to the citizens of this county, and I find no fault with my opponents for being ambitious to represent Bulloch in this capacity. My several opponents are fighting me on account of the term I have held this office. I have been solicitor five years, and if experience is worth anything, five years' experience as a prosecuting attorney, with eleven years' practice at the bar should help me to more ably represent the interests of our county.
 From the time the old county court was created about eighteen years ago, until the present no two have served as solicitor the same length of time, and there has never been a precedent set, nor any agreement or custom made by which any one was to serve in this capacity for any particular length of time.
 If the citizens of this county are satisfied with the services I have rendered, and are willing to give their endorsement for another term, I want to assure you that I shall greatly appreciate your support in the approaching primary, and, if elected, I promise my time and best efforts to the duties of this office.
 Yours respectfully,
 FRED T. LANIER

For County Surveyor
 I take this method of announcing myself a candidate for the office of County Surveyor, subject to the Democratic Primary. If elected, I promise a faithful discharge of the duties pertaining to the office.

SEND WARSHIP TO MEXICO

Washington, April 20.—President Taft probably will send a warship soon to the west coast of Mexico to enable Americans isolated in Sinaloa and other states to leave the disturbed districts. A state department announcement declared this action likely in view of the general anxiety for Americans in those localities.

State department officials pointed out that with the suspension of railroad communication and the interruption of telegraph service, American citizens on the West coast of Mexico, especially at Los Mochis, in Sinaloa, where there are many Americans, as well as in the vicinity of Mazatlan, are isolated. This fact, together with many reports of increased lawlessness on the west coast, is causing much anxiety to Americans in the region affected and their friends in the United States.

Many requests and expressions of anxiety have reached the state department, and in order to obtain news of the Americans in the affected localities, President Taft, it is expected, will send a vessel within a few days to afford an opportunity to leave the disturbed districts to those who may wish to do so.

The sending of an American vessel to the coast of Mexico sets a precedent in the present revolutionary disturbance, as heretofore the United States navy has refrained from cruising in Mexican waters. A British vessel, however, has landed marines on the west coast of Mexico, to enable foreigners to escape the effects of a threatened attack by rebels.

The armored cruiser Maryland is at San Diego, Cal. The gunboat Yorktown is en route north from Guatemala to San Diego. The gunboat Vicksburg is at Panama. It is like the Maryland will be the vessel selected.

NEW JERSEY

DEAR ME! RIP! WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN?

THE PEOPLE

HEY, WOODROW! DON'T YOU REMEMBER HOW YOU USED TO LOVE THE LONG SMOKE TELL ME!

Everybody has read the delightful story of Rip Van Winkle—of how old Rip went to sleep in the hills and slept for twenty years. When he went home nobody in the village, not even his wife, knew him. Cartoontist Greag here likens Gov. Woodrow Wilson to Rip Van Winkle, and calls him Rip Van Winkle because the New Jersey governor has been away from home so long on his speech-making tours. It is a matter of record that at one time Governor Wilson was "docked"—his salary was withheld because he was absent from New Jersey so long. All of these facts the cartoonist had in mind when he drew the above cartoon.

RISE IN YOUR MIGHT, GEORGIA

Mr. George B. Hurst of Moreland, Ga., issues this appeal to his fellow Georgians:

"Of course other candidates can hire Southern men to explain away Underwood's right to be nominated, but Georgia and the Southern States ought to be true to their Southern blood and send Underwood delegate to the convention, and if in the convention it is found that a Southern man cannot be nominated, then the Democrats will look after the best man. Georgia and the South ought not to be so cowardly as not to TRY to be recognized. Rally, boys, to Underwood!"

Wilson's March Through Georgia

"Two things are emphasized very strongly by Governor Woodrow Wilson's march through Georgia," says G. R. Hutchens, manager of the Underwood Georgia campaign. "First, that Mr. Wilson and his manager are making a desperate effort to stem the Underwood tidal wave. Second, that while Governor Wilson is absenting himself from the public office to which the people elected him, touring Georgia and other states, exclaiming, 'Why discuss the tariff?' Mr. Underwood is earning his salary as a congressman and working hard to give the people some relief from the burdens of the high cost of living by endeavoring to remove the tariff from the necessities of life."

Tom Watson Asks Farmers to Vote

Urges Him to Leave His Plow For a Little While on May 1st—Says Grave Issues Are at Stake.

Hon. Thomas E. Watson, than whom there is no greater friend of the farmer in Georgia, issues a call to the farmers of Georgia to make it a point to vote in the presidential primary on May 1. Many have said that they will be a light vote polled in the country, but Mr. Watson thinks that the farmers are alive to the situation, and will assert themselves on May 1. In his card he says:

"The huge bagging trust was outrageously robbing you and I showed you how to whip it—and you did whip it. The government was giving the city people free delivery of mail; and I fought for and obtained the same thing for you. A few years ago the farmer's vote was despised. It is different now. Who fought for that change harder than I? Even now I am in a desperate fight to save the country voters from being reduced to their former helplessness. I am doing my best to save YOUR COUNTY UNIT PLAN. Farmers! Listen to me. Let Woodrow Wilson alone. He's another Bill Taft. VOTE FOR UNDERWOOD!"

Cost of Living To Be Cheaper Next Year

THE WALT BEUSE.

Few people in the United States appreciate the fact that but for President Taft's veto of the Underwood Free List Bill, the cost of living would be much less than it is. No piece of legislation ever enacted in the history of the United States congress ever had a more direct bearing on the people of the United States.

Mr. Underwood, realizing that this was due to the protective tariff, insisted that the necessities of life should be put on the free list. Accordingly he prepared a bill, which he succeeded in putting through congress. Among the articles that were put on the free list were all agricultural implements, including plows, corns, farm wagons, harvesters, reapers, drills and planters, mowers, cultivators, threshing machines, cotton gins, cereals, flour, bread, timber, lumber, sewing machines, salt and other articles.

It is to be expected that the cost of living will be much less than it is now. The only way to get it approved is to elect Underwood president of the United States. Georgia has her preferential vote by casting a ballot for Hon. Oscar W. Underwood for president of the United States.

Wilson's Chances

Senator Mike Smith said, in his address in Atlanta, on April 6, that Woodrow Wilson will carry Pennsylvania, if nominated. Pennsylvania is the biggest Republican state in the Union. It gave Taft 400,000 majority and Roosevelt 540,000 majority. Senator Smith says Wilson will carry Georgia in the primary May 1. He is about as near right in one statement as the other. Senator Smith also says in an interview that Mr. Underwood is not running for president; that he is running for congress. Inasmuch as Mr. Underwood was nominated for congress in Alabama some weeks ago, without opposition, it is hard to understand the statement. And it is harder to understand how Mr. Wilson is going to overcome that half million Republican majority in Pennsylvania. Verily, verily, this is a line in line with many of the claims made by Mr. Wilson's friends, and causes us to have some little shadow of doubt about the sincerity of their utterances.

A GOVERNMENT TOO CLOSE TO THE PEOPLE

The opposition to the candidacy of Gov. Woodrow Wilson are charging him with being in favor of the initiative and referendum. Mr. Anderson in his address in Statesboro on Wednesday sounded the keynote of the opposition to Wilson when he said: "Wilson is not a safe leader because he is in favor of the initiative and referendum which gives the people the right to repeal any law on the statute books at any election," though Gov. Wilson was quoted as favoring the protection of state rights in the matter. The initiative and referendum was charged as being a bad thing to have because it would give the voters a chance to recall any law on the statute books and in the language of the speaker would give us a government too close to the people as against a government of fixed and unchangeable laws. Now we have never taken so much stock in this recall and initiative and referendum business but it seems to us that a candidate like Mr. Underwood who is afraid for the common people to have a chance to recall the men and bid laws, he is not the sort of a candidate that commends himself to the common people on whose shoulders the burden of this government must rest.

When a nation's honor is in peril, when an invader, foe, assaults our homes and our flag it is the common people, the boys in the shops and bowties the hands of the plow who are called on to stand for the protection of the country. But a government that gives them the right to pass at any and all times on their rights is considered too dangerous a doctrine.

It was not long ago when the Populist party were clamoring for this same doctrine under the leadership of Mr. Watson. Now we see the followers of Mr. Watson following him in the support of a man who is opposed to this policy and who stands against the right of the people to recall their bid men from office and repeal their obnoxious laws through the ballot box. Mr. Watson has lashed his followers onto the tail end of practically every issue on the face of the globe, but it has remained until this good day for him to trot them along in the wake of the Standard Oil and Steel Trust candidate. It is really amusing to see how obediently and submissively they swallow the Wall Street doctrine.

They are in the same boat with the Rockefeller and the big steel trust magnates around Birmingham and Pittsburg. They are opposed to the initiative and referendum, because the forces back of Mr. Watson's candidate are opposed to these doctrines.

The members of the New York Stock Exchange have no sympathy with a governmental policy that brings the Government "too close to the people." Neither has John D. or William Rockefeller or the Steel Trust magnates who have renominated Underwood for Congress in the Birmingham District and who are supporting him for the presidency.

A professor in the medical department of Harvard has been killed by an unclassified germ. These bacilli ought to register before they lodge in a man's system.

The chigger's no bigger than the point of a pin; but the bump that it raises itches like blazes, that's why we rub it in.

Woodrow Wilson, People's Candidate
Oscar W. Underwood the Candidate of Rockefeller.

When William Rockefeller, brother of John D. Rockefeller, and the real active directing and financial head of the Standard Oil Company, declared in favor of a Democratic nominee for the presidency, there was little surprise in political and legislative circles in Washington. That the active and militant head of the Standard Oil Company trust should express his preference for Mr. Underwood is in the nature of the very fitness of things. Mr. Rockefeller is a life-long member of the republican party, who has never voted for a democrat; but this fact does not embarrass him in the least in declaring that Mr. Underwood is his choice above all others for the presidency of the United States. Mr. Rockefeller's declaration in favor of the Alabamian was no haphazard remark, but was furnished to the Associated Press and carried by wire to its thousands of clients in every state in the union. The Associated Press telegram, which, better than anything else, reveals the true Underwood candidacy, is given herewith:

"SAVANNAH, GA., March 3.—William Rockefeller, in an interview today, stated that of the men most prominently mentioned for the presidential nomination, he favored Majority Leader Underwood, of the house of representatives. His second choice is President Taft."

"He declared that former President Roosevelt is a 'foe to good government' and a 'dangerous man.' Think of the Democratic party nominating a man put forward by the Standard Oil, which holds him up to the nation as a more desirable occupant of the White House than Taft himself!

Oil has recently advanced in price. Now, what are you going to do about it? Vote for Underwood, the choice of Rockefeller and the Standard Oil Company, or Woodrow Wilson, the people's candidate in every state in the Union?"

"TAKE THIS HUNDRED DOLLARS AND GIVE 'EM HELL."

Our readers will find reproduced on another page in this issue a copy of a letter written by the chairman of the Underwood Campaign Committee to one of the heeled in Athens, which reveals the cloven hoof to the people of the state. It is the most wanton and craven effort to corrupt the primary election on next Wednesday that has ever come to light in this state.

In olden days a contribution was raised, a barbecue was held, and the negroes were huddled like so many sheep and marched to the polls and voted in droves. In those days white men were supposed to do their own voting; but in this day the representatives of the Standard Oil interest and the Steel Trust believe that the white men of Georgia can be marched up and voted like the negroes were in days of yore.

"Take this hundred dollars and give 'em hell." This is the language of the man who is Mr. Underwood's manager in Georgia. The letter is only a sample of what has gone to every county in Georgia, which says on its face that they can take a hundred dollars to the county and vote Georgia white men. "Get up a barbecue, or use the money in getting the voters to the polls."

By this we suppose they mean to buy some beef and bread, and literally load up the farmers, and haul 'em in. "Stuff 'em and haul 'em." Then of course they'll vote!

The letter goes on and says "Rattle the opposition." Why, bless your soul, the fifty dollars of the Standard Oil and Steel Trust are being rattled in every county in this state, from the mountains to the sea. "Rattle the opposition." What could they mean except to stampee 'em? Drive in the boys and vote 'em like sheep. Of course this would rattle any opposition. And it would also rattle the consciences and self-respect of every decent citizen of the state.

"Use this money as you see fit." This would mean if they say buy a few, it might be that the beef and bread and barbecue proposition wouldn't be swallowed by all; even being hauled in might not be attractive; then "Use it as you see fit." Go out and adopt other means.

Underwood Has Relatives in Bulloch.

Rev. W. O. Darsey, who has been spending the week in Statesboro attending court, informs us that he has traced his relationship to a very close connection with that of Congressman Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, who is asking for votes for the Democratic nomination for the presidency next Wednesday.

Mr. Darsey states that his eldest brother married in the Underwood family, who were raised in Kentucky and moved to Minnesota, aside from this Mr. Darsey believes that he and the presidential candidate are closely related by blood. He says that Mr. Underwood is named for him, inasmuch as both are named "Oscar." Since this claim was set up by Mr. Darsey a great many people fancy they can see a striking resemblance between the photograph of Mr. Underwood and the features of Mr. Darsey; in fact they seem to favor each other very much, so if elected a Bulloch county citizen will have his double and near kinsman in the white house.

To the Voters of Bulloch County: It has been impossible for me to speak to all the voters in behalf of my candidacy for Tax Collector, and I wish to say to those whom I have not had the pleasure of approaching, that I will appreciate the support that may be given me in this race. If you are not acquainted with me, I would be glad for you to speak to any old citizen of our county about me. If I am elected to the office to which I now aspire, it shall be my purpose to discharge every duty in such a manner as to cause you no regret for having given me your support.

Faithfully,
M. J. BOWEN.

BACON PLANTS TREE IN CAPITOL GROUNDS

Washington.—Senator Bacon this morning stood sponsor for a tree-planting in the capitol grounds. It was the second tree planted under a system inaugurated by Elihu Wood, superintendent of the capitol, to replace the trees that have been destroyed. The first was planted on Saturday by Vice-President Sherman.

The plan that Senator Bacon planted this morning in the capitol grounds, is to plant trees around the tree.

It is the purpose of Superintendent Woods to call upon the more prominent members of the senate and house to plant trees from tree to tree to supplant those destroyed.

Speaker Clark, ex-Speaker Cannon, Senators Cullom of Illinois, Lodge of Massachusetts, and Minority Leader Martin of Virginia and others will be some of the others to be called upon to stand sponsor for the trees planted. Pecan, hickory, and chestnut trees will be some of the next planted so that the squirrels will be supplied with food.

A CARD FROM MR. SHARPE

To the Voters of Bulloch County: In announcing for the office of road commissioner of Bulloch county in our county papers, I mentioned I would endeavor to get over the county and meet the voters face to face. But owing to the extremely bad weather of the last thirty days, I have been prevented from meeting all the people; and, therefore take this method of laying before them my platform and the principles for which I stand, and plans, if elected, which I promise to put into operation.

In the outset, I am constitutionally opposed to any taxation without representation, and I hold that it is unfair to tax twelve districts in Bulloch county for road purposes, and expend the money in four districts, as the report of our last Grand Jury of October Term of 1911, disclosed.

Now I hold that the districts that have overdrawn their road fund should be required to pay back to the districts from which this money was taken, and that the convicts and road building machinery we have in hand, be a once put into the districts that have money to their credit, and kept there until they are paid in full, for every dollar collected from them; thereby returning representation by labor done on their roads for the taxation we exacted from them. Then each district in the county will have shared, and shared alike in the road funds.

I hold that if you tax a man three dollars a year for road purpose, you should return to him three hundred cents in value by labor expended on the public roads in his districts, in the same year you took these three dollars from him.

How can this be done? Here is the plan: Since all the districts in the county, except the Statesboro district, are of about equal in tax-paying strength and population, I propose to give each district four weeks time of the convicts and road building machinery which we have, and work through the whole county; when we finish the Twelfth district, you see that forty-eight weeks in the year will have expired. And we have fifty-two weeks in the year, and forty-eight from fifty-two, we have a margin of time left of four weeks; a working space of twenty-four days, and if equally divided among the twelve districts in the county, each district would draw two more days time on her roads.

Now, since all the districts are about equal in population and tax-paying strength, except the Statesboro district, which is about double in population and tax-paying strength to any other in the county, and therefore upon a fair basis should draw double time from our convicts and road building machinery which we have. So I have proposed that the eleven districts surrender the two days of their time coming out of the last four weeks of the year to the Statesboro district, making twenty-two days of extra time added to Statesboro district time of four weeks and two days, which would give this district eight weeks time to four weeks time drawn by each of the other eleven districts. This plan has been mentioned by me to a great many people, in many districts of the county; and all agree that it is the only way possible to return to each district, and to each tax-payer improvements in his district to the extent of three dollars, the same year we collect the three dollars from him. I hold that the wants and needs of the man that is called upon to give up his taxation is not an accumulation of these funds until they show a credit balance in favor of his district; but that there should be returned to him and his district three hundred cents in road building and road-respaving value for the three dollars he has been required to pay. I further hold and contend that the convicts should be divided into two squads; the first squad known as the permanent roadbuilding gang, and the second squad known as the patch and repair gang, and while the permanent gang should spend four weeks of their time in a district, the patch or repair gang should consist of twelve or fifteen convicts, necessary guards one foreman, mules and scrapes, with all other necessary road building machinery, should go into a district and repair and patch the roads for a period of one week at a time and enter the adjoining district for a week, and so on, until the twelve districts of the county have been worked.

What then? Stop! No. Go right to the district where you commenced, and come over the county, and never stop this repair or patch gang, but cover the county with it four times every year. It is necessary that this patch or repair gang get to work at once; and if elected, I shall endeavor to put it in operation at once, for these seasons there are many fallen trees across the roads, which should be removed; there are many hollow bridges which are falling in and being washed away, which should be repaired. Also there are ditches filling up with sand, where permanent roads were once built, letting the water across and washing away the road-bed. There are many other places in bad condition that should have attention at once. And while these troubles are slight at a place, still they are thousands in number, and are working great injury to permanent improvements that have been made and paid for at the public expense.

I hold and contend that twelve or fifteen convicts with teams and scrapes, and other necessary implements needed in road repair, be put to work across our county, in the order of one week in a district and take the districts in geographical order, and save more square yards in road surface for the people of Bulloch county in a year than they will be able to build stationed in one or two districts, as has been the rule of the past, for this reason: They will save that much which is now going to waste.

This is not all the service and satisfaction this gang will give the tax-payer when this is put in to operation. The humblest tax-payer will be able to know something at least is being done to return to him a service for the three dollars he had to pay to the public road funds of his county. He will also be able to understand and know, when this patch or repair gang rolls out of his district into his neighbor's district to work a week, it will only be twelve weeks before it will return to him and render his district another week's work. And the same will be true of the permanent gang. The only difference being it will come to his district every twelfth month instead of every twelfth week.

I wish to go on record as in favor of all the public improvement that is possible upon an equal and fair basis to every tax-payer in the county—let him live in the Northeastern corner of the Lockhart, or the Southwest corner of the Bay, or within one hundred feet of our old historic Walnut tree, which stands in the center of Statesboro.

Upon the principles set forth above, I appeal to you for your support and your vote on May 1st; and if elected, promise to devote my time and best energies to carry out and put them into effect.

JOE HILL HALL ADDRESSES VOTERS
Statesman from Bibb Enthuses Large Audience. Gives them Plain
Dope Square from Shoulder.

On Wednesday Hon. Joe Hill Hall, candidate for governor and veteran legislator, addressed a large audience in the court house at the noon hour of the superior court. Col. Hall was introduced by Hon. R. Simmons, who paid him a fine tribute, having served with him for two years in the Georgia legislature.

The speaker last little time getting down to state issues. He stated plainly his position on the great problems that confront the taxpayers of the state, he criticized our public school system, and ridiculed the idea that anybody was getting free schools. He said that there was absolutely nothing free given out by the state unless you get in the lunatic asylum. All this free school money came out of the pockets of those who thought they were getting it free.

He paid his respects to the other two candidates for governor—said that Tom Hudson was no more fit to serve as governor than a baby. Also stated that there was no man living on Peachtree street in Atlanta who was fit to be governor, for the reason that they didn't come in contact with the people. This last was considered a heck at Hon. J. M. Slaton. He said the claim Jack Slaton had paid out over three millions of the people's money in less than thirty days, and added, "God knows where the state treasury would have been at had Jack remained in the

GOV. WILSON

Atlanta, Ga., April 24.—Notwithstanding that the Underwood campaign bought two pages of space in the latest issue of the Farmer's Union News, the members of the farmers' union, the officers of that organization and any member of it residing at its headquarters at Union City, where the News is published, all are for Governor Woodrow Wilson for president.

So reads a statement issued from the Wilson headquarters in Atlanta on Wednesday.

"Among all members and officers of the farmers' union living at Union City, Ga., not one is in favor of the nomination of Congressman Underwood for president.

"Not one is opposed to the nomination of Gov. Woodrow Wilson.

"In all of Union City, taking the population as a whole there are not more than half a dozen voters who oppose the nomination of Governor Wilson. None of that number is connected in any way with the farmers' union. The two pages of space which the Underwood campaign managers, equipped with what seems to be unlimited funds, bought and paid for in the recent issue of the Union News do not reflect in any wise the sentiment of that publication or of the leading members and officers of the farmers' union in Union City.

"The two pages were sold to the Underwood campaign managers just as they would have been sold to any advertiser at so much per page. The sale of them could not well have been refused."

CARLOAD JUST RECEIVED OF
E. M. F. "30" and Flanders "20"

WILL GIVE YOU SATISFACTION

We know these cars and will prove what they can do for you.

The purchase of an automobile today need be no gamble. You can be sure, absolutely sure of quality; sure of service; sure of square treatment after you buy.

Consider the Flanders "20." Thousands of men say it is the best buy on the market. Some of them are in this town. Their word means something. Then, why not give us a chance to tell you, too, why it is so good. We can interest you.

The big argument for any car doesn't lie in pictures or flowery words. No! You get the real test out on the country roads when a driver sends his car through mud and sand or up steep hills.

Automobiles are like men. Only a real test proves them. And, believe us, the man who sits behind a Flanders "20" motor is going to tell you: "There's a real car. It has the goods. I have driven it and I know."

Flanders "20" is a great car because the design is simple and strong, and because the materials in it are what they ought to be.

During the past year stock Flanders "20's" have:

- 1st—Broken World's Speed Records 1-20 miles
- 2nd—Won in record-breaking time the most important hill climbs in the country.
- 3rd—Proved by service in the hands of owners by victories in numerous Reliability Runs, by the Glidden Tour Pathfinding and by 1,280 miles pioneering between Seattle, Wash., and Hazelton, B. C., that the Flanders "20" has unequalled durability.

If you are determined to spend $1,500 to $5,000 for a car, go ahead; we wish you luck. But if you want a car of quality second to none at price, of speed, handsome appearance and tire endurance, get a Flanders "20" or an E. M. They are splendid cars. You will be proud.

And if you buy a car, you will find it amply guaranteed and will give you the best of treatment. Let us talk this over with!

LAST ATTEMPT TO SAVE ROHESON

Poston.—A final attempt to save the life of the Rev. V. T. Richeson, convicted of the murder of Avis Linnell, a choir singer, will be made tomorrow, when the ex-pastor's counsel, William A. Morse and John L. Lee, will personally plead the murderer's case before Governor Ross. The attorneys hope to persuade Governor Ross to refer the petition for the commutation of the minister's death sentence to the governor's parole board.

Since public indignation manifested in the conviction of the minister for murder in the first degree has somewhat abated, quietude to collect the sympathy of Governor Ross, and the members of his council, in the expatriation of the minister. It is known to be a foe to capital punishment and in many quarters it is held that he will grant the request of the attorneys, making possible Richeson's escape of the electric chair.

In the cell of the accused prisoner today, the close approach of the final fight to save his life made little impression. Richeson, tall, gaunt and plainly showing the effects of his long incarceration, spent his time in reading the Bible or pacing his cell, seemingly oblivious to his surroundings. He was in consultation with his attorneys for some hours, but after the consultation the legal men refused to make any statement, other than that they hoped to have their client's sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

SUCCESS OF SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

The entertainment given by the primary grades of the Statesboro Public Schools on Thursday night at the school auditorium, was a great success and was pronounced by all to be superior to anything of its kind ever presented heretofore by the school.

Only small children took part in these exercises, and in many instances they were nothing more than mere tots, but they carried out their parts in a manner that would have done credit to pupils much older. Every child had his part thoroughly memorized and there was not a hitch from beginning to end although in some instances, children from the second and third grades were required to recite parts of several hundred words. Also another feature which was noticeable was that the children had been drilled to where they carried out their parts naturally and not mechanically, as is usually the case.

Everyone present enjoyed the exercises to the fullest extent, and not only were the seats all filled but every inch of standing room was occupied. An entertainment like this could not be presented after the most efficient and patient work on the part of the teachers in charge. Over 180 children took part; and yet they were so thoroughly drilled and organized that there was not a break of any kind from beginning to end; and the teachers who were in charge are to be congratulated.

This is the first of a series of entertainments to be given by the pupils of the school in connection with the Compendium Exercises, and others will follow; the dates of which will be announced later.

DOCKET WAS STOLEN FROM COURT HOUSE.

On Thursday night while the officers of the court had gone to supper, some one entered the court house and stole the docket. The book was not missed until next morning, as the matters engaging the attention of the court after supper did not call for the use of this record. Friday morning it was found in a blacksmith shop back of the Blitch block, and was restored to its proper place in the court house. The book had not been tampered with as far as could be ascertained, and why any one should have carried it away is a mystery. The officers of the court have no clue as to the identity of the guilty parties.

I tried many remedies, but Foley's Honey and Air Compound was the only medicine which served me. I recommend it as a positive cure for bronchitis, coughs and throat troubles." W. H. Ellis & Co.

W. W. Nossmith, Route No. 2, Statesboro, Ga., wants others to know what Foley's Honey and Air Compound has done for him. He says "I have used Foley's Honey and Air Compound for years, and can recommend it to all who need an infallible remedy for coughs and colds. I have used it in my family, and it never fails to cure." W. H. Ellis & Co.

INCREASING PROPERTY VALUES. Depend on improvements. Electric wiring adds more to the value of a house than any other improvement, and costs less.

A wired house sells better, rents better and makes a more comfortable home for occupants. In building a new house today you would have it wired for cellular to garage. Then why not wire your old house for electricity? The cost is not excessive and can hardly be considered an expense. It is a permanent investment. The work is done quickly and neatly done by W. G. Branson, contractor. You can save an old house with a new wiring the interior or even having the walls.

Have your old fans cleaned and fixed for summer, and if you want a new fan or sewing machine motor, or ice cream freezer or cooker or boiler or smoothing iron, drop me a card and I'll call and show you the latest ones. Why not have a fan when you can run a twelve inch fan 90 minutes for one cent. Have your place of business kept cool and well lighted.

Did you ever stop to think that a place well lighted was where people that had money went to do their trading? It is only the people who haven't any money who go to dark places where they want something to stick to their fingers while the clerks are waiting something else. This don't include everybody but as a rule leads in that direction. Stop and think! And by so doing you help yourself, help the city, help the electricians, help your customers, and by so doing we are all helped and nothing lost. Leave the Electric Wiring Alone. Why is it that a man who would call in a carpenter to hang a door, who would summon a plumber to put a new valve in a faucet, will not hesitate to repair the electric wiring?

It is a fact that most of the accidents resulting from electric wiring never have occurred had the wiring remained just as it was installed by the electrician. Houses are wired by competent electricians who take every precaution to guard against any leakage of current any place where the electricity can reach the wires and cause trouble. This wiring is always finally inspected by the insurance authorities and if it is left just as it installed there is not the slightest danger of accidental "shocks," "shorts" or fires from crossed wires.

The wires from the street are always led directly to the fuse box, amply protected by porcelain insulators. The house wires are connected to the main wires by fuses. A fuse is a small porcelain plug made to screw into a socket. Inside the fuse is a small lead wire, protected with a covering of mica. A fuse is inserted in every home lighting system, so as to give plenty to enough electricity to supply all the lights in that house and not enough to fuse the wires inside an start a fire. If lightning strikes the wires outside the house or if something goes wrong with a transformer the fuse simply blows out and thus protects the house.

The amateur plumber is not even in danger of drowning and the very worst he can do is to start a flood. The embryo carpenter can build his cob-houses with out four of fire calamities, and then the current shoots and starts a merry blaze. Others have strung wires along beams fastening them with nails, and improvised other dangerous contrivances jeopardizing their homes.

Whenever there is new wiring to install, those to be extended, changes to be made, the work should be trusted to a man experienced in electrical matters. It is any metallic substance, such as a piece of copper wire or even a hairpin, so as to prevent the fuse from blowing out. People who have had their fuse blow out and cut off their lights do this to avoid a further inconvenience. Then there is the other class of president who is never satisfied with the wiring as originally installed. He wants many changes and instead of calling in a competent electrician, he sets about to do the work himself. The result is anything but satisfactory and frequently leads to disaster. Instances are on record where thin insulated wires have been strung inside the walls and ceilings without any other protection in time the insulation chafes, and then the current shoots and starts a merry blaze. Others have strung wires along beams fastening them with nails, and improvised other dangerous contrivances jeopardizing their homes.

GOES TO HIS REWARD. Phil Burns, an old and respected colored man was found Sunday morning by a passerby, lying in a branch, near where he was living near Eureka. He is supposed to have been dead since Saturday. His fiddle was lying by his side when found. Phil was well known as he has many occasions furnished music with his fiddle for crowds who would gather to hear him play. He was a regular visitor to Statesboro and would be counted on to be here on gathering days with his fiddle. He was harmless and his death marked the passing of a good old negro who had reached a ripe old age.

RESIGNED AS FERTILIZER INSPECTOR. Owing to the fact that our newspaper work takes up our entire time, the editor of the News has tendered his resignation as fertilizer inspector, a position held by him for the past several years. The following letter from the Commissioner of Agriculture explains itself: Department of Agriculture, Atlanta, Ga., April 25th, 1912. Mr. J. R. Miller, Statesboro, Ga.

Dear Mr. Miller: I am just in receipt of your letter of recent date, and note you tender your resignation as fertilizer inspector, effective May 1st. I regret very much that you see fit to resign this office, as you have made us an excellent inspector and it is a pleasure to have such men as you are connected with the Department. With best wishes and assuring you that I shall always be glad to serve you when possible, I remain, Very truly yours, T. G. HUDSON, Commissioner of Agriculture.

For Representative. I take this method of announcing myself a candidate for Representative, subject to the Democratic primary, and if elected promise to faithfully serve you. Your support will be appreciated. A. A. TURNER.
