BASE BALL

F. D. A. S. vs. E. D. A. S.

Game Called 3 P. M.

Friday and Saturday,

March 10 and 11th.

The First District Agricultural School and the Eleventh District Agricultural School will meet in a game of ball on each of the above named dates at the

Statesboro Ball Park

These games promise to be the hardest fought ones ever played on the Statesboro diamond, as they are two of the snappiest school teams in South Georgia. One thing that makes it interesting is the fact that they are school teams, another is that they are two of the State Agricultural teams. So come out and cheer the F. D. A. S. to victory that she might lead the other District Schools in baseball as well as other ways. If you want to see the most exciting ball games that will be played here this season, be sure to come.

HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST GOES TO SWAINSBORO.

Meeting of First District Association Promises to Be Unusually Large.

Swainsboro, Ga., March 3.—The contest will be as follows: Declaration, recitations, reading, writing, music and spelling contests, while the athletic contest will consist of 100, 200 and 400 yard dashes, and several other feats.

A number of Swainsboro citizens are offering medals.

Notice.

I gave Mr. Dan Denmark a note made the 28th of February, 1911, for $30.00, and due November 1st, 1911, for $30.00. Said note was obtained from me under false representation and I will not pay same.

BURGULAR FRACTURES SKULL OF MAN IN BED.

Sim Truluck of Crisp County Dies of Wound.

Cordele, Ga., March 8.—Thomas Truluck, who lives five miles east of Cordele, was awakened during the night by groans in his home and going to the room occupied by his son, Sim Truluck, found him unconscious, his skull being fractured, the wound indicating that he had been hit with a heavy blunt instrument. The presumption is that during the early part of the night a burglar had entered the room of Young Truluck and finding him awake struck him across the head, inflicting the wound, and then robbed the house. Young Truluck died today.

Mr. Truluck thinks that the burglar was in search of money. A fine gold watch is all that is missed. The burglar then escaped and left no clue by which to identify him.

ILLINOIS SENATORS ASKED TO RESIGN.

Two Cities Hold Meetings and Denounce Lorimer and Cullom.

Chicago, March 8.—Following the adoption of resolutions at a mass meeting in Elgin and Lincoln, Ill. last night, condemning United States Senators Lorimer and Cullom, the latter for his vote to allow Lorimer to retain his seat and demands that they resign, two other cities have issued calls for mass meetings to night.

These mass meetings will be held in Monmouth and Galena. It is planned there to demand that both Lorimer and Cullom resign.

Among those who were present were Carrie Johnson and mother from Statesboro, Mr. Pierce Glover from Spread, Ga., Mr. I. S. Smith and wife, Rev. Cobb, W. M. Walden. The guests were entertained in the afternoon by music by Miss Carrie Johnson. Everybody enjoyed the day nicely and joined in best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smith, hoping that they will give us another birthday dinner next March.

Farmer's of this section are fixing for planting.

The services at Friendship were enjoyed by all who attended Sunday.

Wonder why the parties are getting dull in this section. Boys you must keep them going.

GUESS WHO.

At Lake Forest and at Freeport, as well as at Rockford, the citizens already have denounced the senators and demanded that they resign.

Feeling against Lorimer because of the exposures of alleged bribery in his election and the action of the senate in allowing him to retain his seat is spreading all over the state. So is the feeling against Cullom, who until the vote was taken in the United States senate was perhaps the most popular man in Illinois.

A resolution in the state assembly, proposing to censure Cullom for his vote, has been held up and it is not likely it will be presented at this session at least.

"I was impressed with a speech made by Calixto Guerra, the insurgent leader in Coahuila, at the village of San Graciano, where forty-one men had been lined up to hear the reading of the proclamation.

"Come with us," he said, "and we can promise you hardships, hunger and possibly death. If we win we can promise you better conditions, a right to vote, a right to hold your head like a citizen of a republic, not to bend your back like a peon slave under an autocratic despotism."

Of the forty-one men whom he addressed, twenty-one volunteered and nineteen were accepted.

"In Coahuila there are about five hundred men under arms. It is a conservative estimate to say that there are at least 3,000 insurgents in the fighting line in Chihuahua.

"Up until now it has been the policy of the insurgents to avoid attacking fortified towns, but to win their recruits and spread their propaganda through the rural districts. The leaders have decided that their forces now are large enough to capture the cities and the bands are concentrating on several garrisoned towns.

"In every battle that the insurgents have had with the Federal soldiers, the Liberals have won. This is largely due to the fact that the soldiers are in sympathy with the Liberals. I saw a letter signed by twenty-five rurales, offering to surrender and join the fight against the government. The rurales are the best fighters in the Federal army.

"As to the resources of the revolutionists, it is claimed that 10,000 high power rifles were bought in Europe, shipped to St. Louis, and from that point sent in small lots over the border. More than half of these goods are now in Mexico."

HAS BEEN MERE SKIRMISHES

This is the Opinion of a Newspaper Man Who Has Been Closely in Touch With the Situation—Moneyed Men Are Believed to Have Aided Insurrectos in an Uprising Intended to Overthrow Diaz Government.

Atlanta, Ga., March 9.—A newspaper man who has been in the field with the Mexican insurrectos writes as follows from Marfa, Texas:

"Is Mexico in rebellion against the rule of President Porfirio Diaz, or are scattered bands of bandits to blame for the upheaval in the sister republic?"

"From my observations in the field I have concluded that the trouble in Mexico is a real uprising of the people against the Federal government, that the sympathy of the great majority of the people are with the liberals, and that men with brains and money are organizing and leading the fight with a determination to win."

"Americans and other foreigners have been treated with exaggerated consideration, and their property respected by the insurrectos."

"In the official proclamation of revolt the provisional officials declare that Francisco I. Madero was legally elected president of Mexico. They declare he was thrown into prison by Diaz, his election nullified, and the will of the people balked. Having failed to change the government by peaceful means, they have taken up arms. Everywhere that I went I found the people wildly enthusiastic for the new order and eager to volunteer."

"I was impressed with a speech made by Calixto Guerra, the insurgent leader in Coahuila, at the village of San Graciano, where forty-one men had been lined up to hear the reading of the proclamation.

"Come with us," he said, "and we can promise you hardships, hunger and possibly death. If we win we can promise you better conditions, a right to vote, a right to hold your head like a citizen of a republic, not to bend your back like a peon slave under an autocratic despotism."

TO CUT IN HALF SEA ISLAND CROP

An Agreement of Growers. Five States Represented at Waycross Meeting.

Waycross, Ga., March 9.—With three hundred and twenty-two delegates from South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi present, sea island cotton growers today decided to reduce their acreage in sea island cotton fifty per cent, as compared to last season's planting, and further agreed to hold their last season's cotton, not yet sold, until a more satisfactory price can be obtained.

This action, according to a statement of President Charles S. Barrett, will be sanctioned by the National board of the Farmers' Union.

The address of welcome was delivered by Judge T. A. Parker of the Waycross circuit, in a most happy manner. President Barrett responded, stating that the farmers were glad to be here.

R. A. N. Wilson, state lecturer for Mississippi Farmers' Union, delivered an address on co-operative methods for success in the subject on hand. He said one particular reason that Northerners were making such results on their lands in short seasons was because they paid strict attention to scientific methods.

"In the South one trouble is that we have so much politics," he said. "We are all so busy electing county and state officers and then congressmen and senators, and naturally agricultural interests have to take what time is left."

E. Cabiness of Georgia delivered an interesting address this afternoon, containing advice to the farmers, and urging co-operation. He was followed by W. A. Morris of Alabama, chairman of the National Farmers' Union board of directors. Mr. Morris showed where and how co-operative methods give best results, spoke of the influence of the unions the farmers were establishing all over the country.

The executive session following this show that sea island cotton session, resolutions asking investigation of the needs of the world with respect to sea island cotton were adopted, and President Barrett named as this committee: E. Cabiness of Georgia, R. A. N. Wilson of Mississippi, and W. A. Morris of Alabama. They are to substitute what the world future meeting.

Mexico.

"The revolutionists make the charge, which they say is backed by the original writers, orders received by Federal officials, that Diaz has fostered anti-American race riots and sought to fasten the blame on the 'anti-re-electionist party."

"The insurgents tell a story from what I know of the organization, the leaders and the money back of the movement, I believe that the outbreak in Mexico should be classed as a real rebellion of the Mexican people against the rule of Porfirio Diaz. I believe that the fighting that has passed has been mere skirmishing to what is to come."

"In summing up the situation, from what I know of the organization, the leaders and the money back of the movement, I believe that the outbreak in Mexico should be classed as a real rebellion of the Mexican people against the rule of Porfirio Diaz. I believe that the fighting that has passed has been mere skirmishing to what is to come."

WIRE STRETCHER BREAKS, FATALITY INJURING MAN.

Regular Accident Occurs On a Farm Near Swainsboro—The Victim Married Only a Month Ago.

Swainsboro, Ga., March 9.—Frank Covens, a well-known and prosperous young farmer of this county, who has been married only a month, was fatally injured in a peculiar accident this morning.

He was engaged in building a wire fence, and in stretching the wire the stretcher broke and an iron clamp was thrown violently against Covens, striking him behind the ear.

Covens dropped helpless in his tracks. Persons who were working near him heard a faint cry as he was struck. When they reached his side they found him helpless and feared that he was dead. Physicians from this place were summoned and rushed to the scene.

The injured man is a nephew of Sheriff Fields. He has not regained consciousness, and doctors say that he cannot recover. The young bride is prostrated over the accident.

NEGRO MAURADER KEEPS UP MIDNIGHT VISITS.

Has Recruited a Pal and a Dog, and Visits Near Vidalia.

Vidalia, Ga., March 8.—Two negroes, accompanied by a dog, entered the house of Mrs. Quincy Sellers, who lives on a farm near this place last night, and were systematically searching rooms when Lee Taylor, who is a near neighbor, and to whom she had gone for protection put them to flight.

The burglars awakened Mrs. Sellers when they broke open a trunk in a room adjacent to her bed room. Mrs. Sellers, instead of fainting, quietly slipped out of the house in her night attire and ran to the home of Lee Taylor for help.

Mr. Taylor, armed, went to the house and the intruders were leaving as he came up. Both Mrs. Sellers and Taylor are sure that the intruders were negroes, but neither could identify them. Mr. Taylor says that he could have shot a dog that accompanied them, but desisted as this would not have stopped the wholesale house breaking that has been going on in this neighborhood for the last few nights.

The burglars went through the rooms of Mrs. Sellers' home after another, breaking open trunks, bureaus, and scattering the contents of them over the house in their search for money or other valuables, but so far as can be ascertained nothing was missed. The citizens of this section are thoroughly aroused and demand that some steps be taken to stop the marauding.

On last Thursday night, several houses in Ailey, six miles west of here, were entered and on Friday, Higdon, also in the same community, was ransacked; Saturday night eleven homes in Toombs and Montgomery counties in the Vidalia section, were entered, and in two cases criminal assault was attempted. Sunday night, by reports from Lyons, a dozen or more houses were entered, but up to last night only one negro had been seen at any of these places. It seems now that if the incidents are to be connected the lone bad man has recruited a partner and added a dog to his tag. No arrests have been made in connection with any of the crimes.

ROOSEVELT WANTS HIS SKELETONS MOUNTED.

That Is the Ones He Corralled In Africa.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—Col. Roosevelt, en route from New York to Atlanta, had a short stay in Washington today while the train changed crews. He refused to discuss the movement of troops to the Mexican border or to express an opinion on the resignation of Secretary Ballinger.

"I am not discussing anything now," he replied to questions. The colonel, however, expressed regret that the specimens of animals which he brought from Africa had not been mounted.

"Those specimens which are now lying in the national museum," said the colonel, addressing newspaper men, "were brought there for the American people. They should be mounted and put on exhibition immediately and congress should be prevailed upon to make an appropriation for that purpose."

Secretary of War Dickinson and Surgeon Gen. Wyman of the public health and marine hospital service boarded the train here. They are also going to Atlanta to attend the Southern Commercial Congress.

APPEALS TO FARMERS TO CUT OUT SEA ISLAND.

W. W. Webb Says a Big Crop Means Danger.

Valdosta, Ga., March 8.—W. W. Webb, organizer of the Sea Island cotton growers, has written a letter to the cotton growers warning them against the danger of planting too much cotton during the coming season. He says there is danger ahead for the cotton growers, as he believes that a large amount of cotton is going to be carried over unsold from the past season.

Mr. Webb says: "Forty-five thousand bales, half of the last year's crop of sea island cotton is yet on hand and cannot be sold, even at a low price and the farmers are preparing to plant enough to make it reach 150,000 bales, making a 200,000 bale crop for 1911. Taking into consideration the present prices we could not expect the next crop to open at more than twenty cents and it might drop to nine and ten cents, thus bringing the prices below that of short cotton. Better plant short cotton. There have been more mules, fertilizer and farm implements sold in the sea island belt than ever before, which means an increased acreage of sea island cotton. Brooks, Thomas, Grady, Colquitt, Wirth, Irvin and Tift counties are going to come in with a big crop. They have not made any before."

"While I have warned every one of the danger of planting sea island cotton this year, it now seems that every available seed is going to be planted and nothing but a miserable failure will convince a majority of the farmers. Such a failure would be a calamity on our country. If we can get only a few farmers to stop and investigate for themselves and avoid danger, I believe we will have accomplished some good to the few. I have been talking and advising the farmers not to plant sea island cotton this year and the firm reply was: 'I have arranged to plant and I am going to plant.' Only a few will substitute short cotton for long. We can make as good short cotton as any people. Farmers can make more to let the cotton land grow in grass for hay than in sea island cotton."

"Now I appeal to whomsoever will, to avoid the trouble for it is bound to come this year and the conventional whereas will not change it. Don't get the idea the other fellow will not plant sea island cotton, but determine for yourself not to do so. Better make short cotton at fourteen cents than sea island at nine cents. It is up to the farmers to save themselves the coming year. If there ever was a time when farmers should make hog and hominy it is this year."

Twins Birth Sufficient Service For This Juror.

So Judge Says He Need Perform No Further Labor for County.

Knoxville, Tenn., March 8.—Birth of twins in a man's home is a legal excuse from jury service. Judge James R. Penland so ruled yesterday in the circuit court.

Bryan Ley, a resident of the seventh district, had been summoned for jury service today. He telephoned the clerk of the court asking to be excused from appearing before the judge. The clerk stated the facts to the judge on the bench and he ruled that the juror had performed sufficient service and instructed the clerk to excuse him.

SOUTH NOW HAS ALADDIN'S LAMP

Says Georgia Speaker, J. S. Davis, of Albany, Represents State.

Atlanta, March 8.—In representing Georgia in the list of speakers from the Southern states here this evening in the Southern Commercial Congress, J. S. Davis, of Albany, presented an admirable survey of conditions in this state. He declared: "One acre in the South is worth a thousand in Utopia."

Mr. Davis told of the South that was at the close of the War between the States. Then he said: "Now the South has the Aladdin's lamp of today." Of Georgia's finances, he said: "and transportation facilities. He state and national banks with capital and surplus aggregating $51,000,000, carrying deposits amounting to $165,000,000. More than half of these banks have been established within the last ten years."

Telling of the coal, gold, iron, marble, clay and other mineral wealth of Georgia Mr. Davis said: "The total annual value of Georgia's mineral resources, together with the manufactured products from these resources is estimated at more than $30,000,000."

Mr. Davis told of Georgia's wonderful potential water power and transportation facilities. He pointed out what has been done in the way of manufacturing and his illustration left the conviction that there is need for rapid improvement along this line.

The state's greatest asset, he said, is in her agricultural possibilities. He told in detail of her cotton, corn, pecans and fruits, and said:

"But it would be too tedious to enumerate the many products of Georgia that commend it to home-seekers who want ideal conditions and all their concomitants. To those in less favored lands Georgia with equable climate, its fertile soil, the great variety of its products, its healthfulness and the opportunities that hang like clusters of grapes on every hillside and in every valley must appeal with peculiar force."

"Of the 37,564,000 acres of land in the state the improved area is only about 12,000,000 acres. In size Georgia lacks but 1,800 square miles of being as large as England and Wales. Yet England and Wales have a population of 33,000,000, while Georgia has only 2,600,000. England and Wales have an average population of 560 to the square mile, while Georgia has 45. There is room on Georgia soil for at least 10,000,000 more people that can be comfortably settled."

The Place to Buy Cheap

SOME REASONS WHY WE SELL GOODS CHEAP

Because, you don't have to pay for goods the other fellow buys on a credit and fails to pay for.

Because I don't have to pay $75.00 or $100.00 per month for a book-keeper.

Because I don't pay $2.00 a day for a man and mule to deliver goods.

Because I buy for cash and discount my bills; in some instances the discount pays the freight.

Because we don't sell anything on a credit.

Because we have one price for everybody.

Because I own my storehouse and don't have any high-price clerks.

Because I go after bargains and hunt until I find them.

I undersell other merchants on lots of things, and if you stop to think you can see why I sell cheap.

I make a study of how to buy and sell cheap. If you have not been to my store come and look at my stock, and I am sure you will be convinced that we do sell cheap

Remember,

I Don't Carry Anything for More Than $1.00

We have bought a half ton of CRACKERS and CANDY, 10c 1b. to sell for $100,000 SECURITIES STOLEN FROM BANKS.

George Bancroft, Sr., Was Touched for Big Sum While on Way to Vault.

New York, March 7.—George Bancroft, Sr., a broker, 80 years old, discovered Monday that he was robbed last Thursday afternoon of securities worth approximately $100,000 in the vestibule of the Produce Exchange Safety Deposit and Storage Company.

Last Thursday Mr. Bancroft, as has been his habit for 25 years, placed securities worth that day about $100,000 in a large envelope 10 by 14 square inches, tied with red tape, and bearing the firm's name in the corner. Alone he walked the 200 feet from his office to the Produce Exchange, thence down a flight of steps from the street level entrance to the vaults.

Just as Mr. Bancroft was about to turn the corner at the end of the corridor into the vaults a tall man came running around the corner and collided with him. The compact threw Mr. Bancroft off his feet, and in falling he dropped the envelope.

Envelope No Good.

That was the cue for an undersized young man, who had been leaning against the corridor wall. He stepped up to Mr. Bancroft, assisted him to his feet, and was solicitous to tuck under his arm an envelope. Mr. Bancroft, of course, thought it was the envelope that fell. He went on to deposit as usual. Today when Geo. Bancroft, Jr., his son, unlocked the box he found that the only envelope there contained three old newspapers. A clever substitution had been effected when the elder Bancroft was upset in the vault corridor.

The robbers, it is believed, knew on what day and hour it was the firm's custom to deposit its securities. They knew that Mr. Bancroft habitually carried them in an envelope of certain appearance, for they provided themselves in advance with so close an imitation that it deceived even the man who of all others should have best known its appearance.

The certificates, easily susceptible included 100 shares of Lehigh Valley, 320 shares of Smelters, 30 shares of New York Central, 290 shares of Brooklyn Rapid Transit, 500 Distillers securities, 60 shares of Steel, common, 10 shares of Atchison, 30 shares of American Beet Sugar, 40 shares of Amalgamated Copper and 100 shares of Missouri Pacific.

No Crooks Allowed.

So bold a robbery in daylight, in the very heart of the city's financial district, shocked the police. Years ago Inspector Byrnes had drawn a dead line across the city at Fulton street, below which he ordered that no crook or pick-pocket should go, on even an innocent errand, under pain of instant trouble with the police.

Having tried the order, the underworld ultimately obeyed, and for years the financial district was the safest place in the world for a man with large sums of money on his person. Messenger boys ran about the street, their pockets utterly stuffed with bills of large denominations.

Schedule.

Augusta, Ga., March 8.—The State Agricultural College exhibition train was wrecked this afternoon between Wrens and Matthews, the engineer and fireman being injured.

The party traveling on the train arrived here tonight a little the worse for being in the woods, but none of them are injured. The fireman and engineer were slightly injured in jumping from the engine when it was derailed, but otherwise there were no personal injuries.

The engine, tender and first car on the train were turned on their side by the track, where they are still. The other cars did not leave the rails. Except those cars off the track the balance of the train was brought to Augusta.

The Georgia railroad tonight began making up a special train for Prof. Soule's use and he has been notified by that road that he can proceed on the train's itinerary tomorrow morning as though nothing had happened.

Some of the exhibits were damaged, but investigation shows that it was not to any appreciable extent.

DRY WEATHER GETTING SERIOUS.
The farmers are feeling pretty blue over the weather situation. There has been no rain in this section in several weeks, and the farmers are fearful they will not be able to proceed much further with their farm work unless rain comes in a short time.

NEW PHONE DIRECTORY.
That the Statesboro Telephone Company is alive in developing the town and county is evidenced by its new directory, now being distributed among its subscribers—which is neat, attractive and instructive. It is also different in many respects from the ordinary directory. Its city subscribers are listed separate from the rural line subscribers, the city subscribers being listed in the front of the book, followed by the rural subscribers, with a notch at the top of the front side which opens the directory to the city subscribers, and the lower notch opens to the rural line subscribers. This makes it very convenient for the subscribers to turn to either city or rural subscribers as desired. The ringing code for rural lines is an entirely new feature in telephone usage—the calling party not only gives the operator the ring, but the line on which the called subscriber is located, and by its use the service will be much improved. Besides the above advantages the manager has printed a number of rules and suggestions which if observed will also add materially in giving good service.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.
The entire eastern portion of the city suffered quite a hair-raising experience last night about eight o'clock, when the rattling of wheels and the clump of horses' hoofs mingled with the cries of women rang out on the calm atmosphere that prevailed at that hour. Adding to the intensity of the occasion was the cry that there was a "dead baby" in the road. The runaway team had dodged an automobile and had thrown one of the occupants of the buggy out as the curve was made, and laying limp and lifeless as he was "a dead baby." Citizens pulled on their night shirts and pedestrians ran to the rescue of "the baby," and when a thorough investigation was made "the baby," which was found not to be dead, but a little the worse for wear, and tear-washed about one hundred and sixty pounds and was aged about thirty-five years or something thereabouts.

The horse ran on, the other occupant of the buggy pulling one line and screaming at the top of his voice: "Stop the horse," etc. The one who had dismounted, the "dead baby" was discovered, is reported to have been hollering at the top of his voice to the horse to "go ahead." The horse was finally reigned up in the hotel shed, where a merry dance was going on, and the "dead baby" was conveyed to his home, a house only about a block away. Examination for wounds failed to reveal any serious injuries except the ailment mentioned above.

FIGHT ON COCA COLA IS WAXING WARM

Government Witnesses Present Interesting Testimony Concerning the Drink. Stuart Starts Telling. The Methodist Evangelist Is Excused Before He Gets Very Far.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 16.—Caffeine, a poisonous drug, is sold to the Coca-Cola Company, of Atlanta, in tins of five, ten and twenty-five pounds, and shipped direct to the main factory in Atlanta and to branches of the company elsewhere in the country by the Shaffer Alkaloid Works, of New Jersey, according to Hugo Dubois, secretary of the company acting as selling agents for the Shaffer concern, whose deposition was read this morning in the trial of Coca-Cola in Federal court here. The caffeine is shipped by the selling agents of the Shaffer works. It is paid for by the Coca-Cola Company and shipments are made frequently.

"Merchandise No. 5," which the Coca-Cola people claim is a compound extract of coca and caffeine, is purchased from the Shaffer works in barrels of 47 gallons capacity and shipped to the Coca-Cola plants.

A deposition of Edward H. Corey, a Philadelphia street car conductor, read this morning, told of how he had been a victim of the Coca-Cola habit for seven years, drinking it in large quantities, and how he was subject to delirium in his sleep. He was treated in a Philadelphia hospital for extreme nervousness. When Dr. George R. Stuart, of Cleveland, Tenn., a Methodist minister and teacher, who travels over the United States constantly, was giving his observations of the use of Coca-Cola, the defense objected on the ground that he was not a medical expert. A tilt occurred between opposing counsel and Dr. Stuart was excused rather than be made the subject of an embarrassing situation.

Draws on Nerve Forces.
Dr. E. E. LeRoy, vice president of the Tennessee state board of health, former state bacteriologist and now a practicing physician of Memphis, declared that from his observation Coca-Cola forces the body to utilize more energy than it normally does and draws this excess of energy from the reserve force of the human system, thereby decreasing that reserve force. Assistant Attorney General Miller propounded a hypothetical question describing insanitary conditions testified to by others as seen in the Coca-Cola factory at Atlanta, to which Dr. LeRoy answered that a syphilis compounded under such conditions was "certain to contain germs."

Upon cross-examination, he declared that the germs themselves would live but a short time in a solution with as great a per cent of sugar as Coca-Cola contains, but the spores or "germ seed" would retain their life indefinitely, as would vegetable or garden seed.

Dr. J. T. Seavey, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., state superintendent of the asylum for the insane of Alabama, told of many cases where he had observed people suffering from nervous disorders who were addicted to the Coca-Cola habit. Young Especially Affected.
Dr. James A. Witherspoon, of Vanderbilt University medical

ENGINEER STOPS TRAIN BEFORE BURNING TRESTLE

Ludowici, Ga., March 16.—Bearing down upon the longest and highest trestle on the Georgia Coast and Piedmont railway, at Doctor's Creek, the regular passenger train was stopped within 50 feet of the structure yesterday afternoon, the engineer discovering the trestle ablaze from end to end.

With airbrakes applied in "emergency," passengers were hurried pell mell from their seats. When they discovered that they had been saved by a miracle, they voted the engineer their thanks for his bravery.

This is the third time within as many months that this trestle has been destroyed by fire. Detectives have been ordered to the scene. Trains will be operated to the burned structure, where transfers will be made.

college, Nashville, a student of nervous diseases, declared that caffeine in the proportion used in coca-cola would affect the heart and digestive organs. He declared young people are especially affected by excessive coca-cola drinking. In appearance, he said, victims of the coca-cola habit in extreme cases resemble morphine users. He declared it a habit forming drink and causes impairment of the faculties of the resistance of disease. He told of treating three patients for the excessive use of coca-cola, one of whom was in a hospital for a month.

Dr. Kohler, who was on the stand when the adjournment came Wednesday afternoon, completed his testimony in a short time this morning, going more into detail on some of the points brought out Wednesday.

At noon court took a brief recess.

Kehler Declares Caffeine to Be Cause of Poisoning.
Chattanooga, Tenn., March 16.—That caffeine has poisoned people and caused deaths was the statement on the witness stand yesterday afternoon by Dr. L. F. Kohler, one of the corps of experts down here from Washington to testify for the government in the case against Coca-Cola.

Not only has it poisoned people and caused their deaths, but, declared Dr. Kohler, it made one patient's heart so hard that it was impossible to cut it with a knife. It was at this point of Dr. Kohler's testimony Judge Sanford took occasion to issue a rebuke from the bench to witnesses present in the court room who had been in the habit of making remarks to one another concerning testimony being given on the stand. All during the trial the several experts secured by the Coca-Cola Company have been sitting together near counsel for the company and they have been listening intently to the statements made by the experts testifying for the government. Frequently one or two would visibly indicate their disagreement with a witness on the stand and there would be significant smiles and looks.

Dr. Kohler referred to several cases of caffeine poisoning and told how patients who had been given the drug were affected. The severe cross examination of Attorney J. B. Sizor for the Coca-Cola Company failed to break down his testimony. Dr. Kohler was still on the stand when court adjourned at 2 o'clock and took the stand again this morning to complete his testimony.
